5 And the spirit of the Lord fel vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israël, this haue ye said, and I know that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Manie haue ye murdered in this citie, & ye haue filled the stretes thereof with the flaine.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue laied in the middes of it, they are the ^c flesh, and this [citie] is the caldron, but I wil bring you forth of the middes of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sworde, and I wil bring a sworde vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I wil bring you out of the middes thereof, and deliuer you into the ^d hands of strangers, and wil execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shal fall by the sworde, [and] I wil iudge you in the border of ^e Israël, and ye shal know that I am the Lord.

11 This [citie] shal not be your caldron, neither shal ye be the flesh in the middes thereof, [but] I wil iudge you in the border of Israël.

12 And ye shal knowe that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the maner of the heathen, that are rounde about you.

13 ¶ And when I propheciēd, Pelatiáh the sonne of ^f Benaiáh dyed: then fel I downe vpon my face and cryed with a loude voice, and said, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then vtterlie destroye all the remnant of Israël?

14 Againē the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

THE worde of the Lord also came vn-

1 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the mid-des of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to se, and se not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, γ prepare thy stuffe to go into captiuitie and go for-the by daie in their sight: and thou shalt lasse from thy place to another place in their sight: if it be possible that they maie cōsider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth the thy stuffe by daie in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go forth at euen in their sight, as they that go forth into captiuitie.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon [thy] shulders, [and] carie it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou se not the earth: for I haue set thee [as] a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth the my stuffe by day, as γ stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hād, and brought it forth in the darke, [and] I bare it vpon [my] shulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hathe not the house of Israel, γ rebellious house, said vnto thee,
What doest thou?

10 [But] saie thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This burden [cōcerneth] the chief in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Saie, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shal it be done vnto them: they shal go into bondage [and] captiuitie.

12 And the chiefest that is among them, shal beare vpon his shulder in the darke & shal go forth: they shal digge through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shal couer his face that he se not the grounde with [his] eyes.

13 My net also wil I spread vpon γ him, and he shal be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Babel to the land of the Cal-deans, yet shal he not se it, though he shal dye there.

14 And I wil scatter toward euerie winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I wil drawe out the sworde after them.

15 And they shal knowe that I am γ Lord, when I shal scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I wil leaue a little nombre of them from the sworde, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the hea-

¶ CHAP. XIII.

^a The wordes of the Lord against false prophetes, which teache the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophecie against the Prophetes of^a Israel, that prophecie, and say thou vnto them, that prophecie out of their^b owne hearts, Heare the wordes of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Wo vnto the foolish prophetes^c that followe their owne spirit, and haue sene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophetes are like^d foxes in the waste places.

5 Ye haue not risen vp in the gappes, nether made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battel in the day of the Lord,

6 They haue sene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made [others] to hope that they wolde confirme the worde [of their prophecie.]

7 Haue ye not sene a vaine vision? & haue ye not spoken a lying diuination?^d ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie & haue sene lies: therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shal be vpon^e the Prophetes that se vanitie, & deuine lies: they shal not be in the assemblie of my people, nether shal they be written in the^f writing of the house of Israel, nether shal they entre into the lād of Israel: & ye shal knowe that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, ^fPeace, & there was no peace: and one buylt vp a^g wall, and beholde, the others daubed it with vntempered [morter,]

11 Say vnto them which dawbe it with vntempered [morter,] that it shal fall: [for] there shal come a great showre, and I wil send haile stones, [which] shal cause it to fall, & a stormie winde shal breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shal it not be said vnto you, Where is the dawbing wherewith ye haue dawbed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I wil cause a stormie winde to breake forth in^h my wrath, and a great shoure shalbe in mine angre, and hail stones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So wil I destroye the wall that ye haue dawbed with vntempered [morter,] and bring it downe to the ground, soⁱ the fundatiō thereof shalbe discouered, & it shal fall, & ye shal be consumed in the middes thereof, & ye shal knowe^j that I am the Lord.

15 Thus wil I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, & vpon them that haue dawbed it with^k vntempered [morter,] & will say vnto you, The wall is no more, nether the dawbers thereof,

16 [To wit,] the Prophetes of Israel, which prophecie vpon Ierusalem, and se visions of peace for it, and there is no peace saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against^l the daughters of thy people, which prophecie out of their owne heart: and prophecie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Wo vnto the [women] that sowe pillowes vnder all arme holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: wil ye hunt the soules of my people, and wil ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And wil ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barlie, and for picces of bread to slay the soules of them that shulde not dye, and to giue life to the soules that shulde not liue, in lying to my people, that heare [your] lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil [haue to do] with your pillowes: wherewith ye hunt the soules to make them to flie, & I wil teare them from your armes, & wil let the soules go, [scilicet] the soules, ye hunt to make them to flie.

21 Your vailes also wil I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, & they shal be no more in your handes to be hunted, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

22 Because with [your] lyes ye haue made the heart of the righteous sad, whome I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he shulde not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life.

23 Therefore ye shal se no more vanitie, nor diuine diuinations: for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdrawe your selues, & turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, & putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and cometh to a Prophete, for to inquire of him for me, I ^þ Lord wil answer him ^þ for my selfe,

8 And I wil set my face against that man, and wil make him an example and pro- uerbe, and I wil cut him off from the middes of my people, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be^f deceiued, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceiued that Prophet, and I wil stretche out mine hand vpon him, and wil destroy him from the middes of my people of Israel.

10 And they shal beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him that asketh.

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, nether be polluted any more wth all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, & I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land sinneth against me by comitting a trespass, then will I stretche out mine hand vpon it, & will breake the staffe of the bread therof, and will send famine vpon it, & I wil destroy man and beast for the of it.

14 Thogh these thre menⁱ Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they shulde deliuer [bur] their owne soules by their^k righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beasts into the land, and they spoile it, so that it be desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts,

16 [Thogh] these thre meⁿ were in the middes thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shal saue nether sonnes nor daughters: they onely shalbe deliuered, but the land shalbe waste.

17 Or [if] I bring a sworde vpon this land, and say, Sworde, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it,

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tre is cast into the fyre, so Ierusalēm shalbe burnt.

3 Shal wood be taken thereof to do any worke? or wil men take a pyn of it to hāg any vessel thereon?

4 Beholde, it is cast in the fyre to be consumed: the fyre consumeth bothe the ends of it, and the middes of it is burnt. Is it mete for [any] worke?

5 Beholde, when it was whole, it was mete for no worke: how muche lesse shal it be mete for any worke, when the fyre hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree, [that is] among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fyre to be consumed, so wil I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalēm.

The Prophet declareth the benefites of God toward Ierusalēm. 15 Their vnkindnes. 46 He iustifieth the wickednes of other people in comparison of the finnes of Ierusalēm. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fel. 60 Mercie is promised to the repentant.

1 A Gaine, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalēm to knowe her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalēm, Thine habitation & thy kinred is of the land * of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy natiuitie when thou wast borne, thy naue was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften [thee]: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swadeled in cloutes.

5 None eye pitied thee to doo any of these vnto thee, for to haue cōpassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy persone in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I sawe thee polluted in thine owne blood, & I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiplie, as f bud of the field, and thou hast increased, and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: [thy] breasts are facioned, thine heere is growen, where as thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, beholde, thy time [was as] the time of loue, and I spred my skirtes ouer thee, and couered * thy filthines: yea, I sware vnto thee, and entred into a couenant with * thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with f water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also with broidred worke, and shod thee with badgers skinne: & I girded thee about with fine linen, & I couered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put brasselets vpon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontelet vpon thy face, & earrings in thine eares, and a beautiful crowne vpon thine head.

13 I sanctified thee with mine holy Spirit. h Hereby he sheweth how he used his Church, engirded it and gaue it power and dominion to reigne.

13 Thus

a VWhich bringeth forth no fruite, no more then the other trees of the forest do: meaning, that if Ierusalēm, which bare the name of his Church, did not bring forth fruite, it should be vterly destroyed.

b Thogh they escape one danger, yet another shal take them.

a Thou boastest to be of the sede of Abraham, but thou art degenerate, and followest the abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children do the manners of their fathers. Isa. 1, 4. & 57, 3.
b When I first broght thee out of Egypt, and planted thee in this land to be my Church.
c Being thus in thy filthines & forsaken of all men, I toke thee and gaue thee life: whereby I ment that before God wash his Church, and giue life, there is nothing, but filthines and death.

d These wordes, as blood, pollution, nakednes and filthines are oft times repeated, to beate downe their pride, and to cause them to consider what they were before God receiued them to mercie, fauored them and couered their shame. e That thou shouldest be a chaste wife vnto me and that I shoulde mainteine thee and endue thee with all graces.
f I washed away thy sinnes.
g I sanctified thee with mine holy Spirit. h Hereby he sheweth how he used his Church, engirded it and gaue it power and dominion to reigne.

13 Thus was thou deckt with golde and siluer, & thy raiment was of fine linen, and silke, & broydered worke: thou didest eat fine floure, and hony & oyle, & thou wast very beautiful, and thou didest growe vp into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spred among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfite through my[†] beautie which I had set vp on thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didest[†] trust in thine owne beautie, and plaied the harlot, because of thy renome, and hast powred out[†] thy fornications on euery one that passed by, [thy desire] was to him.

16 And thou didest take thy garments, & decke thine hie places wth diuers colours, & plaied the harlot thereupon: the like things shal not come, nether hathe anie done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels [made] of my golde & of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, &[†] made[†] to thy self images of men, and didest commit whoredome with them,

18 And toke thy broidered garments, and couered them: & thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meat also, which I gaue thee, [as] fine floure, oyle and hony, [where with] I fed thee, thou hast eu^e set it before them for a swete sauour: thus it was, saith the Lord God, 20 Moreouer thou hast taken thy sonn^es & thy daughters, whome thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to^o be deuoured: is [this] thy whoredome a smale matter?

21 That thou hast slayne my children, & deliuered them to cause them to passe [through fyre] for them?

22 And in all thine abominations & whoredomes y[†] hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, [and] wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also buylt vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery strete.

25 Thou hast buylt thine hie place at euery[†] corner of the way, & hast made thy beautie to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy fete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome, 26 Thou hast also committed fornication with[†] Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast encreased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Beholde, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, & wil diminish thine ordinarie, and deliuer thee vnto the will of the that hate thee, [even] to the daughters of the Philistims; which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast inflatible: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreouer multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith, 30 How weake is thine heart, saith[†] Lord God, seing thou doest all these things, [even] y[†] worke of a presumptuous whorish woman.

31 In that thou buyldest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery strete, & hast not bene as an harlot[†] that despiseth a rewarde,

32 But [as] a wife that plaith the harlot, [and] taketh others for her hous band.

33 They giue giftes to all [other] whores, but thou giuest giftes vnto all thy louers, & rewardest them, that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from [other] women in thy fornications, nether [the like] fornication [shalbe] after thee: for in that y[†] giuest a rewarde, & no rewarde is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, o harlot, heare the worde of the Lord,

36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy shame was powred out, and thy filthines discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children; which thou didest offre vnto them,

37 Beholde, therefore I wil gather all[†] thy louers, with whome thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I wil eu^en gather them rounde about against thee, and wil discover thy filthines vnto them that they may see all thy filthines.

38 And I wil iudge thee [after] the maner of them that are[†] harlots, and of the that shed blood, & I wil giue thee the blood of wrath and ielousie.

39 I wil also giue thee into their hands, & they shal destroy thine hie place, and shal breake downe thine hie places: they shal stripp^e thee also out of thy clothes, and shal take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shal also bring vp a companie against thee, and they shal slay thee with

The vices of Sodóm.

2. King. 25. 9

I wil utterly destroy thee & so my ielously shal cease.

I haue punished thy fautes, but thou wouldest not repent.

As were the Canaanites & the Hittites & others your predecessors, so are you their successors. That is, of Samaria and Sodóm.

That is, her cities.

Ebr. thy sister younger then thou. But done farre worse.

He alledgeth these foure vices, pride, excellence, idleness, and contempt of the poore, as foure principal causes of such an abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished. Ge. 19. 24. VVhich worshipped the calves in Bethel and Dan. Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee Sodóm & Samaria were iust. This he speaketh in comparison, saying, that he wouldest restore Ierusalem when Sodóm shulde be restored, that is, neuer: and this is ment of the greatest parts of the Iewes.

41 And they shal burne vp thine houses with fyre, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: & I will cause thee to cease fro playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shal depart fro thee, and I wil cease and be no more angrie.

43 Because thou hast not remembred the daies of thy youth, but hast prouoked me wth all these thigs, beholde, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpon thine head, saith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Beholde all that vse prouerbes, shal vse [this] prouerbe against thee, saying, As [is] the mother, so [is] her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast of her housband & her children & thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsoke their housbands & their childre: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations, but as it had bene a very litle thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy waies.

48 As I liue saith the Lord God, Sodóm thy sister hath not done, [neither] she nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodóm, Pride, fulnes of bread, and aboundance of ydilnes was in her, and in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and nedie.

50 But they were haucie, and committed abomination before me: therefore I toke them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceded them in thine abominations, & hast iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy finnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they [which] are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore wil I bring againe their captuitie with the captiuitie of Sodóm and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria and her daughters: euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them.

54 That thou maist beare thine owne shame, and maist be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodóm, & her daughters shal returne to their former state: Samaria also & her daughters shal returne to their former state, when thou and thy daughters shal returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodóm was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pryde.

57 Before thy wickednes was discovered as in that same tyme of the reproch of the daughters of Arám, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about her which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne [therefore] thy wickednes & thine abominatiõ, saith Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the othe, in breacking the couenant.

60 Neuertheles, I wil remember my couenant [made] with thee in the daies of thy youth, and I wil confirme vnto thee an euerlasting couenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receaue thy sisters, [bothe] thy elder & thy yonger, & I wil giue the vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

63 That thou maist remember, and be ashamed, and neuer open thy mouthe any more: because of thy shame whē I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

The parable of the two egles.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vn to me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, put forth a parable and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great egle with great wings, [and] long wings, [and] ful of sethers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, & toke the hieft branch of the cedre,

4 And brake of the toppe of his twigge, [and] caryed it into the land of marchants

That is, Nabuchad-negar, who had great power, riches & many countreys vnder him, shal come to Ierusalem and take away Iecooniah the King, as ver. 12. b Meaning, to Babylon.

5 He toke also of the ^cseede of the land, & planted it in a frutefull ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it [as] a willow tre.

6 And it budded vp, and was ^alike a spreading vine of ^elowe stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the rootes thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth the branches, and shot forth the buds.

7 There was also ^fanother great egle with great wings and many fethers, and beholde, this vine did turne her rootes toward it, & spread forth the her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soile by great waters, that it shulde bring forth the branches, and beare frute, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shal it prosper? shal ^hhe not pul vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the frute thereof, and cause them to drye? all the leaues of her bud shal wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it vp by the rootes thereof.

10 Beholde, it was planted, but shal it prosper? shal it not be dryed vp, and wither? ⁱwhen the Eastwinde shal touche it, it shal wither in the threnches, where it grewe.

11 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Knowe ye not, what these things [meane?] tel them, Beholde, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken ^kthe King thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken [one] of the Kings seede, and made a couenant with him, and hath taken ^lan othe of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, & not lift it self vp, [but] kepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shal he prosper? shal he escape, that doeth suche things? or shal he breake the couenat, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shal dye in the middes of Babel, in the place of the King, that hath made him King, whose othe he despised, and whose couenant [made] with him, he brake.

17 Neither shal Pharaoh with [his] mightie hoste, and great multitude of people, mainteine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and buylded ramparts to destroy many persones.

18 For he hath despised the othe, & broken the couenant (yet so, he had giuen ^mhis hand) because he hath done all these things, he shal not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I wil surely bring mine othe that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 ⁿAnd I wil spread my net vpon him, & he shal be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Babel, and wil entre into iudgement with him there for his trespas that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his hoste, shal fall by the sworde, & they that remaine, shal be scattered toward all windes: and ye shal knowe that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil also take of the toppe ⁿof this hie cedre, and wil set it, and cut of the ^otoppe of the tendre plante thereof, and I wil plant it vpon an hie mountaine and great.

23 [Euen] in the hie mountaine of Israel wil I plant it: & it shal bring forth the boughs and beare frute, and be an excellent cedre, and vnder it shal remaine all birdes, & euerie ^pfoule shal dwell in the shadowe of the branches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the field shal knowe that I the Lord haue brought downe the hie tre, & exalted the lowe tre, that I haue dryed vp the grene tre, and made the drye tre to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it.

14 ¶ But if he beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, and feareth, neither doeth such like,

15 That hath he not eaten upon the mountaines, neither hath he lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, nor hath he defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath he oppressed any, nor hath he withholden the pledge, neither hath he spoiled by violence, [but] hath he giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath he covered the naked with a garment,

17 [Neither] hath he withdrawn his hand from the afflicted, nor receiued vsurie nor increase, [but] hath he executed my iudgements, [and] hath he walked in my statutes, he shall not dye in the iniquitie of his father, [but] he shall surely liue.

18 His father, because he cruelly oppressed and spoiled his brother by violence, and hath he not done good among his people, so, even he dyeth in his iniquitie.

19 Yet saye ye, Wherefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquitie of the father? because the sonne hath executed iudgement and iustice, [&] hath he kept all my statutes, and done them, he shall surely liue.

20 * The same soule that sinneth, shall dye: the sonne shall not beare the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, [but] the righteousness of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednes of the wicked shall be vpon himself.

21 But if the wicked wil returne from all his sinnes that he hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely liue, [&] shall not dye.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, [but] in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 ¶ Haue I anie desire that the wicked should dye, saith the Lord God? ¶ or shall he not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne awaie from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, [and] do according to all the abominations, that the wicked man doeth, shall he liue? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: [but] in his transgression that he hath committed, & in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he dye.

25 Yet ye saie, The waie of the Lord is not equal: heare now, o house of Israel. Is not my waie equal? [or] are not your wayes vnequal?

26 [For] when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen dye for the same, he shall [euen] dye for his iniquitie, that he hath done.

27 Againe when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that, which is lawful and right, he shall saue his soule aliue.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely liue, [and] shall not dye.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The waie of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? [or] are not your wayes vnequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, o house of Israel, euerie one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne [therefore] & cause [others] to turne awaie fro all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, and make you a new heart & a new spirit: for why wil ye dye, o house of Israel?

1 The captiuitie of the Kings of Iudah signified by the Lyons whelpes, and by the lion. 10 The prosperitie of the citie of Ierusalem that is past, and the miserie thereof that is present.

1 Thou also, take vp a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And saie, Wherefore lay thy mother [as] a lionesse among the lions: she nourished her yonge ones among the Lyons whelpes,

3 And she brought vp one of her whelpes [and] it became a lion, and it learned to catch e the praie, [and] it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, [&] he was taken in their nettes, and thei brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when she sawe, that she had waited and her hope was lost, she toke another of her whelpes, and made him a lion.

6 Which went among the lions, [&] became a lion, and learned to catche the praie, [and] he deuoured men.

7 And he knewe their wedowes, and he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euerie side of the countreis and laid their nettes for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And thei put him in prison [&] in chaines, and brought him to the King of Babel, [&] they put him in holdes, that his voice shulde no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy mother [is] like a vine in thy blood, platted by the waters: she brought forth the frute and branches by the abundant waters,

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, & she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked vp in wrath: she was cast downe to the ground, and the East winde dried vp her frute: [her branches] were broken, and withered: [as for] the rod of her strength, the fyre consumed it.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness in a drye and thirstie ground.

14 And fyre is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her frute, so that she hath no strong rod [to be] a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation and

3 The Lord denieth that he wil answer them when they pray because of their vnkindenes. 33 He promisseth that his people shal returne from captiuitie. 46 By the forest that shulde be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

1 And in the seventh yere in the fifth [moneth,] the tenth [day] of the moneth, came certeine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and sate before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to inquire of me: as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I wil not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man: wilt thou iudge [them:] cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lift vp myne hand vnto the seide of the house of Iakob, and made my self knowne vnto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift vp mine hand vnto them, and said, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the daie that I lift vp myne hand vnto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, flowing with milke and honie, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then said I vnto them, Let euerie man cast awaie the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: [for] I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and wolde not heare me: [for] none cast awaie the abominations of their eyes, nether did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: the I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, [&] to accomplish my wrath against them in the middes of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it shuld not be polluted before the heathen, among whome they were, and in whose sight I made my self knowne vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Now I caryed them out of the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, which if a man do, he shal liue in them.

a Of the captiuitie of Ieconiah.

b This declarereth the great lenitie and patience of God, & calleth sinners to repentance before he condemne them.

c I sware that I wolde be their God, which manner of othe was obserued from all antiquitie, where they vnto lift vp their hands toward the heauen, acknowledging God to be author of truth, and the defender thereof, and also the iudge of the heart, wishing that he shulde take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knewe to be truth.

d God had forbidden them to make mention of the idoles, Exo. 23, 13. psal. 115, 4.

e VVhich thing declarereth the wickednes of mans heart which iudge Gods seruice by their eyes & outward senses.

f God hadauer this respect to his glorie, & he wolde not haue his Name euil spoken of among the Gentiles for the punishment that his people deserved, in confidence whereof the godlie were praised, as Exod. 12, 12. nom. 14, 13.

that they might knowe [†] I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man do, he shall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out myne indignation vpon them* in the wilderness to consume them.

14 But I had respect to [§] my Name, that it shulde not be polluted before the heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheles, I lift vp myne hand vnto them in the wilderness that I wolde not bring them into the land, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant aboue all lands, 16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my ^h Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuertheles, mine eye spared them, that I wolde not destroye them, nether wolde I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, nether obserue their manners nor defile your selues wth their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and kepe my iudgements and do them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall be a signe betwene me and you, that ye may know that I am [†] Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the childre rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to do the, wth if a man do, he shall liue in the, [but] they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, [&] to accomplish my wrath agst them in the wilderness.

22 Neuertheles I withdrewe mine had & had respect to my Name that it shuld not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp myne hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I wolde scatter them among the heathen, & disperse the through the countreies, 24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes & had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after ^k their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I^l gaue them also statutes that were not good, & iudgements, wherein they shulden not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne

giftes in [†] they caused to passe by [the fyre] all that [first] openeth the wombe, that I might destroy the, to the end that they might knowe that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had [before] grievously transgressed against me.

28 [¶] For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp myne hand to giue it, then they sawe euerie hie hill, & all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prouocation: there also they made their twete fauour, & powred out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I said vnto them, What is the hie place wherunto ye go? And the name thereof was called ^o Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the maner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your giftes, & make your sonnes to passe through the fyre, you pollute your selues with al your idoles vnto this day: shall I answer you wh^e I am asked, o house of Israel? as I liue saith the Lord God, ^p I wil not answer you when I am asked.

32 Nether shall that be done that cometh into your minde: for ye say, We wil be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreies, and serue wood, and ^q stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I wil surely rule you with a mightie hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in [my] wrath powred out, 34 And wil bring you from the people, and wil gather you out of the countreies, wherein ye are scattred, with a mightie hand, and with a stretched out arme & in [my] wrath powred out.

35 And I wil bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there wil I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so wil I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I wil cause you to passe vnder the rod, and wil bring you into the bonde of the couenant.

n I considered those things, & counted them as abominable which they thought had bene excellent, & to haue declared most zeale, Luc. 16, 15. for that which God required as most excellent, that gaue they to their idoles.

n Not onely in the wilderness, when I brought them out of Egypt, but I placed them in this land: which declareth how prompt man's heart is in idolatrie, seeing that by no admonitions he can be drawn backe.

o VWhich signifieth, an hie place, declaring that they wanted them felues of their idolatrie, and were not ashamed thereof, though God had commanded them expressly, that they shulde haue no altar lifted vp on his staires, Exod. 20, 26. [†] Ebr. in the way.

40 For in mine holie mountaine [euen] in y^e hie mountaine of Israël, saith the Lord God, there shal all the house of Israël, and all in the land, serue me: there wil I accept them, and there wil I require your offrings and the first frutes of your oblations, w^{ch} all your holie things.

41 I wil accept your swete sauour, when I bring you from the people, & gather you out of the countreis, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shal knowe, that I am the Lord, when I shal bring you into the land of Israël, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there ye shal remember your wayes, and all your workes, wherein ye haue bene defiled, and ye^e shal iudge your selues worthy to be cut of, for all your euils, that ye haue committed.

44 And ye shal knowe, that I am the Lord, when I haue respect vnto you for my Names sake, [&] not after your wicked waies, nor according to your corrupt workes, o ye house of Israël, saith the Lord God.

45 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

46 Sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of Temán, & droppe [thy worde] toward^e the South, and prophecie toward the forest of the field of the South,

47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the worde of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil kindle a fyre in thee, and it shal deuoure all the y^e grene wood in thee, and all the drye wood: the continual flame shal not be quenched, & euerie face from the South to the North shal be burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shal se, that I the Lord haue kindled it, & it shal not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, thei say of me, Doeth not he speake^r parables?

3 He threatneth the sworde, and destruction, to Ierusalem. 18 He sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 18 He is commanded to prophecie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to destroy Nebuchad-nazzar.

1 The worde of the Lord came to me a gaine, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, & droppe [thy worde] toward the holy places, and prophecie against the land of Israël,

3 And say to the land of Israël, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I [come] agaist thee, & wil drawe my sworde out of his sheath, & cut of from thee [bothe] the^b righteous and the wicked.

4 Seing then that I wil cut of from thee [bothe] the righteous and wicked, therefore shal my sworde go out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the^c North,

5 That all flesh may knowe y^e I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, [and] it shal not returne anie more.

6 Mourn therefore, thou sonne of man, [as] in the paine off [thy] d^e reines, & mourne bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? then answer, Because^e of the brute: for it cometh, and euerie heart shal melt, and all hands shal be weake, and all mindes shal faint, and all knees shal fall away [as] water: beholde, it cometh, & shal be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophecie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: say, A sworde, a sworde bothe sharpe, and fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter [and] it is fourbished that it may^f glitter: how shal we reioyce? [for] it contemneth the^g rod of my sone, [as] h^h all [other] trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbished, that he may handle it: this sworde is sharpe, and is fourbished, that he may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Crye, and howle, sonne of man: for this shal come to my people, [and] it shal come vnto all the princes of Israël: the terrours of the sworde shal be vpon my people.

13 Smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

minatio w his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hathe euery man forced his owne sister, [euen] his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken giftes to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgott me, saith the Lord God.

13 Beholde, therefore I haue smitten mine hands vpon thy couetousnes, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the middes of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the dayes that I shal haue to do with thee: I the Lord haue spoken it, and wil do it.

15 And I wil scatter thee among the heathē, and disperse thee in the countreis, and wil cause thy filthines to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thy self in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt knowe, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vn to me as droffe: all they are brasse, & tynne, and yron, and lead in the middes of the founnace: they are [euen] the droffe of siluer.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as droffe, behold, therefore I wil gather you in the middes of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and lead, and tynne into the middes of the founnace, to blowe the fyre vpon it to melt it, so wil I gather you in mine angre and in my wrath, and wil put you [there] and melt you.

21 I wil gather you, I say, and blowe the fyre of my wrath vpon you, and you shal be melted in the middes thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the middes of the founnace, so shal ye be melted in the middes thereof, and ye shal knowe, that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art filand, that is vncleane, [and] not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 [There is] a conspiracie of her Prophetes in the middes thereof like a roaring lion, rauening the pray: they haue deuoured soules: they haue taken the ryches & precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the middes thereof.

26 Her Priestes haue broken my Law, and haue defiled mine holie things: they haue put no difference betwene the holy and prophane, nether discerned betwene the vncleane, and the cleane, & haue hid their eyes from my Sabbaths, & I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in the middes thereof are like wolues, rauening the prairie to shed blood, [and] to destroye soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her Prophetes haue dawbeded with vntempered [morter,] seing vanities and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the nedye: yea they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that shulde make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I shulde not destroye it, but I founde none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre of my wrath: their owne waies haue I rendred vpon their heads, saith the Lord God.

¶ CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

¶ The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, & there they bruised the teates of their virginities.

4 And the names of them [were] Aholah, the elder, and Aholibah her sister: & they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus [were] their names. Samaria [is] Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she was set on fyre by her louers, [to wit,] with the Assyrians [her] neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blew silk, [bothe] captaines and princes: they were all pleasant yong men, [and] horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, [euen] with all them that were the chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whome she doted, [and] defiled her selfe with all their idoles, o They haue neglected my seruice.

p They which shulde haue reproued them, flattered them in their vices & couered their doings with lies Chap. 13, 10.

q VWhich wolde shewe him selfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice, Isai. 59, 16 & 63, 5. & also pray vnto me to withhold my plagues, Psal. 106, 23.

a Meaning, Israel & Iudah, & came bothe out of one familie. b They became idolaters after the manner of Egyptians.

c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in her self, meaning Samaria which was the royal citie of Israel, and Aholibah signifieth my mansion in her, where by is meant Ierusalem where Gods Temple was.

d Ebr. vnder me d when the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters & forsoke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

e The holy Ghost
voucheth these termes which seeme strange to chaste eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatrie to be abhorred that none shoulde abide to heare the name thereof mentioned.

f Meaning, the Assyrians.

g This declara-reth that no wordes are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore y holy Ghost here compareth the
to those which in their raging loue and filthy lusts dote vpon
the images and paintings of the after whome
they lust.

8 Nether left she her fornications, [learned] of the Egyptians: for in her youth they laye with her, and they bruised the breastes of her virginie, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hāds of her louers [euen] into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whome she doted.

10 These discouered her shame: they toke away her sonnes and her daughters and flewe her with the sworde, and she had an [euil] name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah sawe this, she marred her self with inordinate loue, more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, [both] captaines & princes clothed with diuers futes, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were al pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, [and] that they were bothe after one sorte,

14 And that she encreased her fornications for when she sawe men & painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads (loking alike princes after the maner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuitie)

16 Assone, I say, as she sawe them, she do-ted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted wth them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discouered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsoke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she encreased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, & whose yssue [is like] the yssue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickednes of thy youth, whē thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the pappes of thy youth [are thus.]

22 Therefore, o Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil raise vp thy lo-uers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I wil bring them against thee on euerie side,

23 [To wit,] the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, Pekéd, and Shoáh, and Kóa, [&] all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines and princes: all they were valiant and renou-med, riding vpon horses.

24 Euen these shal come against thee with charettes, waggens, and wheles, & with a multitude of people, which shal set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet roun-de aboute: and I wil leaue the punishmēt vnto them, and they shal iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I wil lay myne indignation vpon thee, & they shal deale cruelly with thee:
they shal cut of thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shal fall by the sworde:
they shal carie away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shalbe deuou-red by the fyre.

26 They shal also strippe thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire jewels.

27 Thus wil I make thy wickednes to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil deliuer thee into the hand of them, whome thou hatest: [euen] into the hāds of them from whome thine heart is separred.

29 And they shal handle thee dispitifully, and shal take away all thy labour, & shal leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shalbe discouered, bothe thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I wil do these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, [and] because thou art polluted wth their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore wil I giue her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cuppe, deepe & large:
thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision, because it contineth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkennes and sorowe, [euen] with the cuppe of destruction, & desolation, with the cuppe of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and wring it out [to the dregges,] and thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, and teare thine owne breastes: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God,

ses, and reason.

Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreouer vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholáh & Aholibáh? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, and blood is in their hands, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whome they bare vnto me, to passe [by the fyre] to be their °meat.

38 Moreouer thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my sanctuarie in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sab-baths, 39 For when they had slaine their childre to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuarie to defile it: & lo, thus haue they done in the middes of mine house.

40 And how much more [is it] that they sent for me to come from farre, vnto who me a messenger was sent? and lo, they came for whome thou didest wash thy selfe, and painted thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments.

41 And farest vpon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, wherevpon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, [was] wth her: and with the men to make the companie great were brought men of Sabá from the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her, that was olde in adulteries, Now shal she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And they went in vnto her as they go to a commune harlot: so went they to Aholáh and Aholibáh the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shal iudge them, after the maner of harlottes, and after the maner of murtherers: for they are harlottes, and blood [is] in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I wil bring a multitude vnto them, and will giue them vnto the tumulte, and to the spoyle.

47 And the multitude shal stone them with stones, and cut them with their swordes: they shal slay their sonnes, and their daughters, and burne vp their houses with fyre.

48 Thus wil I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your wickednes. 49 And they shal lay your wickednes vpon you, and ye shal beare the finnes of your idoles, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot: 16 The parable of Ezekiel's wife being dead.

1 A Gaine in the ninth yere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth [day] of the moneth came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man write thee the name of the day, [euē] of this same day: [for] the King of Babel set him self against Ierusalē this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also powre water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, [euē] euery good piece, [as] the thigh and the shulder, [and] fil it with the chief bones.

5 Take one of the best shepe, and burne also the bones vnder it, [and] make it boyle wel, and seeth the bones of it therein,

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Wo to the bloodie citie, [euē] to the pot, whose skome is therein, & whose skome is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece: let no lote fall vpon it.

7 For her bloodie is in the middes of her: she set it vpon an high rocke, [and] powdered it not vpon the grounde to couer it with dust,

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: [euē] I haue set her blood vpon an high rocke that I shoulde not be couered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Wo to the bloodie citie, for I wil make the burning great.

10 Heape on muche wood: kindle the fyre, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, & let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it emptie vpon the coles thereof, that the brasie, of it may be hot, and may burne, & that the filthines of it may be molten in it, and that the skome of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied her self with lies, & her great skome went not out of her: [therefore] her skome [shalbe consumed] with fyre.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shal come to passe, & I wil do it: I wil not go backe, nether wil I spare, nether wil I repent according to thy wayes, & according to thy workes shal they iudge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Also the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, beholde, I take away fro thee the pleasure of thine eyes w^a plague: yet shalt thou nether mourne nor wepe, nether shalt thy reares runne downe.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, [and] binde the tyre of thine heate vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy fete, [and] couer not thy lippes, & eat nor the bread of men.

18 So I spake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wyfe dyed: and I did in the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what these things meane toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, 21 Speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil pollute my Sanctuarie, [euen] the pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, & your hearts desyre, & your sonnes, & your daughters whome ye haue left, shal fall by the sword.

22 And ye shal do as I haue done: ye shal not couer your lippes, nether shal ye eat the bread of men.

23 And your tyre [shal be] vpon your heads, and your shoes vpon your fete: ye shal not mourne nor wepe, but ye shal pine a way for your iniquities, and mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is vnto you a signe: according to all that he hath done, ye shal do: and whe this cometh, ye shal knowe that I am the Lord God.

25 Also thou sonne of man, shal it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioye of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, and the desire of their heart, their sonnes and their daughters, speake, and be no more domme, & thou shalt be a signe vnto them, and they shal knowe that I am the Lord.

1 The worde of the Lord against Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Ierusalem. 2 Against Moab & Seir, Idum, and the Philistims.

1 The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophecie against them.

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the worde of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saydest, ^a Ha, ha, against my Sanctuarie, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Iudah when they went into captiuitie,

4 Beholde, therefore I wil deliuer thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shal set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shal eat thy frute, and they shall drinke thy milke.

5 And I wil make ^a Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a shepecote, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the hands and stamped with the fete, & reioyced in heart with all thy despyte against the land of Israel,

7 Beholde, therefore I wil stretche out mine had vpon thee, & wil deliuer thee to be spoiled of ^b heathē, & I wil roote thee out fro the people, & I wil cause thee to be destroyed out of ^c countreis [and] I wil destroye thee, & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Beholde, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholde, I wil open the side of Moab, [euen] of the cities of his cities, [I say], in his frontiers with the pleasant country, Beth-ieshimoth, Baal-meon, & Kariathaim.

10 [I wil call] the men of the East against the Ammonites, and wil giue them in possession, so that the Ammonites shal no more be remembred among the nations.

11 And I wil execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shal knowe that I am the Lord.

14 And I wil execute my vengeance vpon Edóm by the hand of my people Israël, & they shal do in Edóm according to myne angre, and according to myne indignation, and they shal knowe my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged them selues with a despiteful heart, to destroye it for the olde hatred, 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde I wil stretch out myne hand vpon the Philistims, and I wil cut of the Cherethims, and destroye the remnant of the sea coast.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 He prophesieth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen because it reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. 15 The wounding and astonishment of the marchants for the destruction of Tyrus.

1 ANd in the eleuenth yere, in the first [daie] of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Ierusalem, Aha, the gate of the people is broke: it is turned vnto me: [for] seeing she is desolate, I shalbe replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, o Tyrus, & I wil bring vpon manie nations against thee, as the sea mounteth vp with his waves.

4 And they shal destroye the walles of Tyrus, & breake downe her towres: I wil also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the toppe of a rocke,

5 Thou shalt be for a spreading of nettes in the middes of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shalbe a spoyle to the nations:

6 And her daughters which are in the fildes shalbe slayne by the sworde, & they shal knowe that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, beholde, I wil bring vpon Tyrus Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, a King of Kings from the North, with horses and with charrets, and with horsemen, with a multitude & much people.

8 He shal slaie with the sworde thy daughters in the field, and he shal make a forte against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shal set engines of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shal cover thee, for their multitude: thy walles shal shake at the noyce of the horsemen, and of the wheles, and of the charrets, when he shal enter into thy gates as into the entrie of a citie that is broken downe.

11 With his houses of his horses shal he tread downe all thy stretes: he shal slay thy people by the sworde, and the pillars of thy strength shal fall downe to the grounde.

12 And they shal robbe thy riches and spoyle thy marchandise, and they shal breake downe thy walles, and destroye thy pleasant houses, and they shal cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the middes of the water.

13 Thus wil I cause the sounde of thy songs to cease, and the sounde of thine harpes shal no more be heard.

14 I wil laie thee like the toppe of a rocke: thou shalt be for a spreading of nettes: thou shalt be buylt no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, shal not the yles tremble at the sounde of thy fall? and at the crye of the wounded, when they shalbe slaine and murdered in the middes of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shal come downe from their thrones: they shal laye away their robes, & put of their broyded garments, and shal clothe them selues with astonishment: they shal sit vpon the grounde, and be astonished at euery moment, and be amased at thee.

17 And they shal take vp a lamentation for thee, & saie to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of the sea men, the renowned citie which was strong in the sea, [bothe] she and her inhabitants which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shal the yles be astonished in the daie of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shalbe troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, When I shal make thee a desolate cite, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shal bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shal couer thee,

⁴ Thy borders are in the [†] middes of the sea, [and] thy buylders haue made thee of perfite beautie.

⁵ They haue made all thy [ship] bordes of fyrr trees of ^b Shenir: they haue brought cedres from Lebanón, to make mastes for thee.

⁸ The inhabitants of Zidón, and Aruád were thy mariners, o Tyrus: thy wise men that were in thee, they were thy [†] pilotes.

¹² They of Tarshish [were] thy marchants for the multitude of all riches, for siluer, y-ron, tynne, and lead, [which] they brought to thy faires.

¹³ Thei of Iauan, Tubál & Meshéché were thy marchants, & concerning the liues of men, and they brought vessels of brasce for thy marchandise.

¹⁴ They of the house of ^h Togarmáh brought to thy faires horses, and horsemen, & mules.

²⁰ Thei of Dedán [were] thy marchants in precious clothes for the charets.

²¹ Thei of Arabia, and all the princes of Kedár [†] occupied with thee, in lambes, & rams & goats: in these were thei thy marchants.

²³ Thei of Harám and Cannéh and Edén, the marchants of Shebá, Ashúr [&] Chilmád were thy marchants.

²⁴ These were thy marchants in all sort [of things], in raiment of blewe silke, and of broydrd worke, and in coffers for the riche apparel, which were bounde wth [†] cordes: chaines also [were] among thy marchandise.

²⁵ The shippes of Tarshish were [†] thy chief in thy marchandise, and thou wast replenished & made very glorious in the middes of the sea.

²⁶ Thy [†] robbers haue brought thee into great waters: the ^l East winde hath broke thee in the middes of the sea.

¶ CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The worde of God against the King of Tyrus for his pride. 21 The worde of the Lord against Zidon. 25 The Lord promitteth that he wil gather together the children of Israel.

1 The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say vnto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thine heart is exalted, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in the middes of the sea, yet thou art but a man and not God, & though thou didest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

3 Beholde, thou art wiser then Daniel: there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee riches, & hast gotten golde and silver into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom [and] be thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, & thine heart is lifted vp because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou didest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

7 Beholde, therefore I wil bring strangers vpon thee, [euē] the terrible nations: & they shal drawe their swordes against the beautie of thy wisdom, and they shal defile thy brightnes.

8 They shal cast the edowne to the pit, and thou shalt dye the death of them, that are slaine in the middes of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say [then] before him, that slaieth thee, I am a god? but thou shalt be a man, & no God, in the hands of him that slaieth thee.

10 Thou shalt dye the death of the vncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 Moreover the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the King of Tyrus, and say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, [and] art full of wisdom and perfite in beautie.

13 Thou hast bene in Eden the garden of God: euerie precious stone [was] in thy garment, the rubie, the topaze, & the diamond, the chrysolite, the onix, & the iasper, the saphir, the emeraude, and the carbuncle, and golde: the workmanship of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed Cherub, that couereth, and I haue set thee [in honour]: thou wast vpon the holy mountaine of God: thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fyre.

15 Thou wast perfite in thy wayes fro the day that thou wast created, til iniquitie was founde in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy marchandise, thei haue filled the middes of thee w^h crueltye, & thou hast sinned: therefore I wil cast thee as prophane out of my mountaine of God: & I wil destroy thee, & couering Cherub fro the middes of the stones of fyre.

17 Thine heart was lifted vp because of thy beautie, [and] thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightnes: I wil cast thee to the grounde: I wil lay thee before Kings that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defyled thy sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, [and] by the iniquitie of thy marchandise: therefore wil I bring forth a fyre from the ¶ CHAP. XXIX.

He prophetic against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promiseth that he wil restore Egypt after fourtie yeres. 18 Egypt is the rewarde of King Nebuchadnezzar for the labour, which he toke against Tyrus.

IN the ^a tenth yere, & [in] the tenth moneth, in the twelfth [day] of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the King of Egypt, & prophetic against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speake, & say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I [come] against thee, Pharaoh King of Egypt, the great ^b dragon, that lyeth in the middes of his riuers, which hath said, The riuer is myne, & I haue made it for my self.

4 But I wil put ^chookes in thy chawes, & I wil cause the fish of thy riuers to sticke vnto thy scales, & I wil drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, and al the fish of thy riuers shal sticke vnto thy scales.

5 And I wil leaue thee in the wildernes, [bothe] thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field: thou shalt not be broght together, nor gathered: [for] I haue giuen thee for meat to the beastes of the field, and to the foules of the heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall knowe that I am the Lord, because they haue bene a staffe of ^dreed to the house of Israël.

7 When they toke holde of thee with their hand, thou didest breake, & rent all their shulder: and when they leane vpon thee, thou brakest and madest al their loynes to stand ^evpright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil bring a sworde vpon thee, & destroy man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shalbe desolate, and waste, and they shal knowe that I am the Lord: because he hath said, ^fThe riuer is mine, and I haue made it.

10 Beholde, therefore I [come] vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, and I wil make the land of Egypt vtterly waste and desolate from the towre of Seuenéh, euen vnto the borders of the [†]blacke Mores.

11 No foote of man shal passe by it, nor foote of beast shal passe by it, nether shal it be inhabited fourtie yeres.

12 And I wil make the land of Egypt desolate in the middes of the countreis, that are desolate, and her cities shalbe desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourtie yeres: and I wil scatter the Egyptians among the nationis, and wil disperse them through the countreis.

13 Yet thus saith the Lord God, ^{*} At the end of fourtie yeres, wil I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scatted.

14 And I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and wil cause them to returne into the land of Pathrós, into the land of their habitation, and they shalbe there a ^gsmall kingdome.

15 It shalbe the smallest of the kingdomes, nether shal it exalt it self any more aboute the nationis: for I wil diminish them, that they shal no more rule the nationis.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil giue the land of Egypt vnto Nebuchad-nezzâr the King of Babel, and he shal take her multitude, and spoyle her spoyle, and take her pray, and it shalbe the wages for his armie.

20 I haue giuen him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he serued against it, because they wrought for me.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

1 The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, propheticie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Houle [and crye,] Wo [be] vnto this day:

3 For the day is nere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudie day, [and] it shalbe the time of the heathen.

4 And the sworde shal come vpon Egypt, and feare shalbe in Ethiopia, when the slaine shal fall in Egypt, when they shal take away her multitude, and [when] her fundation shalbe broken downe.

5 Ethiopia, and Phut, and Lud, and all the commune people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shal fall with them by the sworde.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that mainteine Egypt, shal fall, and the pryde of her power shal come downe: from the towre of Scuenéh shal they fall by the sworde, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shalbe desolate in the middes of the countreis that are desolate, and her cities shalbe in the middes of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shal knowe that I am the Lord when I haue set a fyre in Egypt, [and when] all her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shal their messengers go forthe from me in shippes, to make the careless Mores afraid, and feare shal come vpon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchad-nezzâr King of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, [euen] the terrible nations shalbe brought to destroye the land: and they shal drawe their swordes against Egypt, and fil the land with the slaine.

12 And I wil make the riuers drye, & sel the land into the hands of the wicked, and I wil make the land waste, and al that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil also destroye the idoles, and I wil cause their idoles to cease out of the land of Egypt, and I wil send a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I wil make Pathrós desolate, & wil set fyre in the Zóan, and I wil execute iudgement in No.

15 And I wil powte my wrath vpon the Sin, [which is] the strength of Egypt: and I wil destroye the multitude of the No.

16 And I wil set fyre in Egypt: Sin shal haue great sorowe, and No shalbe destroyed, and Noph shal haue sorowes dailey.

17 The yong men of the Auen, & the Phibés, shal fall by the sworde: & these [cities] shal go into captiuitie.

18 At Tehaphnehes the day shal restraine [his light,] when I shal breake there the barres of Egypt: and when the pompe of her power shal cease in her, the cloude shal couer her, and her daughters shal go into captiuitie.

19 Thus wil I execute iudgements in Egypt, and they shal knowe that I am the Lord.

20 And in the eleventh yere, in the first [moneth, and] in the seventh [day] of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh King of Egypt: and lo, it shal not be bounde vp to be healed, neither shal they put a roole to bind it, and [so] make it strong, to holde the sworde.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I [come] against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and wil breake his arme, that was strong, but is broken, and I wil cause the sworde to fall out of his hand.

23 And I wil scatter the Egyptians among the nations, & wil disperie them through the countreis.

¶ CHAP. XXXI.

1 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaoh with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He prophesieth a like destruction to them bothe.

1 And in the eleuenth yere, in the third moneth, & in the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake vnto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whome art thou like in thy greatnes?

3 Beholde, Asshur [was like] a cedre in Lebanon with faire branches, & with thick shadowing boughes, & shot vp verie hie, and his top was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters nourished him, and the depe exalted him on hie with her riuers running rounde aboute his plants, and sent out her litle riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboute all the trees of the field, & his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which [the depe] sent out.

6 All the foules of the heaven made their nests in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their yong, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Thus was he faite in his greatnes, & in the length of his branches: for his roote was nere great waters.

8 The cedres in the garden of God cold not hide him: no fire tree was like his branches, and the cheffennut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God,

Because he is lift vp on high, & hath shot vp his toppe among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height, 11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: he shal handle him, [for] I haue cast him away for his wickednes.

12 And the strangers haue destroyed him, [euene] the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaines, and in the valleyes his branches are fallen, & his boughes are broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, and haue forsaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine shal all the foules of the heaven remaine, and all the beasts of the field shal be vpon his branches,

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shal be exalted by their height, neither shal shote vp their toppe among the thicke boughes, neither shal their leaues stand vp in their height, whiche drinke so muche water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether partes of the earth in the middes of the children of men, among them that go downe to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the daye when he went downe to hel, I caused the depe to mourne, & I covered the depe for him, and I did restraine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hel, with them that descend into the pit, & all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: [euene] all that are nourished with waters, shal be comforted in the nether partes of the earth.

17 They also went downe to hel with him vnto them that be slaine with the sword, and his arme, [and] they that dwelt vnder his shadowe in the middes of the heathen.

18 To whome art thou thus like in glorie and in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden vnto the nether partes of the earth: thou shalt slepe in the middes of the vncircumcised, with them that be slayned by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

¶ CHAP. XXXII.

That is, of Nebuchadnezzar, who afterward was the monarche and onely ruler of the world.

Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians, by the Babylonians.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, * I wil therefore spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, & they shal make thee come vp into my net.

4 Then I wil leave thee vpon the land, [&] I wil cast thee vpon the open field, & I wil cause all the foules of the heauē to remaine vpon thee, and I wil fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

5 And I wil laye thy flesh vpon the mountaines, & fill the valleyes with thyne height.

6 I wil also water with thy blood the land, wherein thou swimdest, [euen] to the mountaines, and the riuers shalbe full of thee.

9 I wil also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shal bring thy destruction among the nations; [&] vpon the countreis which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I wil make many people amazed at thee, and their Kings shalbe astonished with feare for thee, when I shal make my sworde to glitter against their faces, and they shalbe afraid at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sworde of the King of Babel shal come vpon thee.

12 By the swordes of the mightie wil I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shalbe terrible nations, and they shal destroye the pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shalbe consumed.

13 I wil destroye also all the beasts thereof from the great watersides, nether shal the fote of man trouble them any more, nor the houses of beast trouble them.

14 Then wil I make their waters depe, & cause their riuers to runne lyke oyle, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shal make the land of Egypt desolate, and the countrey with all that is

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 The office of the gouernours and ministers. 14. He strengtheneth them that dispaire, and boldeneth the with the promes of mercie. 30. The words of the Lord against the mockers of the Prophet.

A Gainē, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Or, of his coasts.

He sheweth that the people oughte haue continually gouernours and teachers which may haue a care ouer them, & so warne them euer of the dangers which are at hand.

2 Sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and say vnto them, Whē I bring the sworde vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man [†] from among them and make him their ^a watchman,

3 If when he seeth the sworde come vpon the land, he blowe the trumpet & warne the people,

4 Then he that heareth the sounge of the trumpet, and wil not be warned, if the sworde come, and take him away, his blood shalbe vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sounge of the trūpet, and wolde not be admonished: [therefore] his blood shalbe vpon him: but he that receiueh warning, shal saue his life.

6 But if the watchman se the sworde come, and blowe not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sworde come, and take any persone from among them, he is taken away for his ^b iniquitie, but his blood wil I require at the watchmans hand.

7 * So thou, o sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchmā vnto the house of Israël: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my ^c mouth, and admonish thei from me.

8 Whē I shal say vnto the wicked, Owleked mā thou shalt dye the death, if thou doest not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shal dye for his iniquitie, but his blood wil I ^a require at thine hand.

9 Neuertheles, if thou warne the wicked of his waye, to turne from it, if he do not turne from his way, he shal dye for his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, o thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israël, Thus ye speake and say, If our transgressions and our sinnes [be] vpon vs, and we are consumed because of them, ^a how shulde we then liue?

11 Say vnto them, as I liue, saith the Lord God, I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way and liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why wil ye dye, o ye house of Israël?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, say vnto the children of thy people, The righteousnes of the righteous shal not deliuer him in the day of his transgression, nor ^h wickednes of the wicked [shal cause] him to fall therein, in the day that he returneth frō his wickednes, nether shal the righteous liue for [his righteousnes] in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shal say vnto the righteous, he shal surely liue, if he trust to his owne righteousnes, and commit iniquitie, all his righteousnes shalbe no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shal dye for the same.

14 Againe when I shal say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt dye the death, if he turne from his sinne, & do that which is lawful and ^b right, 15 [To wit] if the wicked restore the pledge, [and] giue againe that he had robbed, [and] walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he shal surely liue, [and] not dye.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed, shalbe mentioned vnto him: [because] he hath done that, which is lawful & right, he shal surely liue.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickednes, and do that which is lawful, and right, he shal liue thereby.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israël, I wil iudge you euerie one after his waies.

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus saith^p Lord God, As I liue, so surely they that are in^p desolate places, shal fall by the sword: and him that is in the opē field, wil I giue vnto the beastes to be deuoured: & they that be in the fortes and in the caues, shal dye of the pestilence.

28 For I wil lay the land desolate and waste, and the^{*} pompe of her strength shal cease: and the mountaines of Israël shal be desolate, and none shal passe through.

29 Thé shal they knowe that I am^p Lord, when I haue laid the lād desolate & waste, because of all their abominations^p they haue committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the childre of thy people that^p talke of thee by the walles & in the dores of houses, & speake one to another, euerie one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heate what is the worde that cometh from the Lord.

3 Ye eat the^b fat, and ye clothe you with the woll: ye kil them that are fed, but ye fede not the shepe.

4 The^c weake haue ye not strengthened: the sicke haue ye not healed, nether haue ye bounde vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, nether haue ye foght that which was lost, but w^c crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them,

6 My shepe wandred through all the mountaines, and vpon euerie hye hill: yea, my flocke was scattred through all the earth, and none did seke or serche [after them.]

7 Therefore ye shepherdes, heare the worde of the Lord.

8 As I liue, saith the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoiled, & my shepe were deuoured of al the beasts of^p field, hauing no shepherd, nether did my shepherdes seke my shepe, but the shepherdes fed them selues, and fed not my shepe,

2 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, eue the hie places of the worlde are ours in possession,

3 Therefore prophetic, and saie, Thus saith the Lord God, Because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on euery syde, that ye might be a possession vnto the residue of the heathen, and ye are come vnto the lippes & tongues: [of men,] and vnto the reproche of the people,

4 Therefore ye mountaines of Israel, heare the worde of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hilles, to the riuers, and to the valleys, and to the waste, [and] desolate places, & to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoiled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about,

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fyre of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen and against all Idumea, which haue taken my land for their possession, wth the ioye of all [their] heart, [and] with despitefull mindes to cast it out for a praye.

23 And I wil sanctifie my great Name, w^{ch} was polluted among the heathen, among whome you haue polluted it, & the heathen shal knowe that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shal be sanctified in you before their eyes.

24 For I wil take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreis, and wil bring you into your owne land.

25 Then wil I poure cleane water vpon you, and ye shal be cleane: [yea,] from all your filthines, & from all your idoles wil I cleanse you.

26 * A new heart wil I also giue you, and a new spirit wil I put within you, and I wil take away the stonie heart out of your bodye, and I wil giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I wil put my Spirit within you, & cause you to walke in my statutes, and ye shal kepe my iudgements and do them.

28 And ye shal dwel in the lād, that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shal be my people and I wil be your God.

29 I wil also deliuer you from all your filthines, and I wil cal for^e corne, and wil increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 For I wil multiplie the frute of the trees, and the encrease of the field, that ye shal beare no more the reproche of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shal ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your dedes that were not good, & shal iudge your selues worthis to haue bene destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Be it known vnto you that I do not this for your sakes, saith the Lord God: [therefore] o ye house of Israël, be ashamed, and confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shal haue cleansed you from all your iniquities, I wil cause [you] to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shal be builded.

34 And the desolate land shal be tilled, where as it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste & desolate and ruinous cities were strong, [&] were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen that are left round about you, shal knowe that I the Lord buyld the ruinous places, [&] plant the desolate places: I the Lord haue spoken it, and wil do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil yet for this be sought of the house of Israël, to performe it vnto them: I wil encrease them with men like a flocke.

38 As the holie flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemne feastes, so shal the desolate cities be filled with flockes of men, and they shal knowe, that I am the Lord.

¶ CHAP. XXXVII.

1 He prophesieth the bringing againe of the people, being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the vnion of the ten tribes with the two.

1 THE hand of the Lord was vpon me, & caryed me out in the Spirit of the Lord, and set me downe in the middes of the field, which was full of bones.

2 And he led me round about by them, & behold, there [were] very maine in the open field, and lo, [they were] verie drye.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, o Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said vnto me, Prophecie vpon these bones and say vnto them, O ye drye bones, heare the worde of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God vnto these bones, Beholde, I wil cause breath to entre into you, and ye shal liue.

6 And I wil lay sinewes vpon you, & make flesh growe vpon you, & couer you wth skin, & put breath in you, that ye may liue, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

p Yeshai comes to true repentance, and thinke your selues unworthie to be of the number of Gods creatures for your ingratitude against him.

q He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the soyle or plentifulnes of the earth that a nie country is riche, and abundant, but only to Gods mercies, as his plagues, and curses declare when he maketh it barren.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I wil send a fyre on Magóg, and among them that dwell safely in the cyles, and they shal knowe, that I am the Lord.

7 So wil I make myne holy Name knowē in the middes of my people Israël, and I wil not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name anie more, and the heathen shal knowe that I am the Lord, the holie one of Israël.

8 Beholde, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And thei that dwell in the cities of Israël, shal go forthe, and shal burne, and set fyre vpon the weapons, and on shields, & bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, & vpon the stauces [in their] hands, and vpon the speares, and they shal burne them with fyre seuen yerres.

10 So that they shal bring no wood out of the field, nether cut downe [any] out of the forests: for they shal burne the weapons with fyre, and they shal robbe those, that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, saith the Lord God.

11 And at that same tyme wil I giue vnto Gog a place there for buryal in Israël, [euē] the valley whereby men go toward the East part of the Sea: and it shal cause the that passe by, to stop their noses: and there shal they burye Gog with all his multitude: and they shal call it the valley of Hamón Gog.

12 And seuen moneth long shal the house of Israël be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shal bury them, and they shal haue a name when I shal be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shal chuse out men to go continually through the land with them that traual, to burye those that remaine vpon the ground, and cleanse it: they shal reach to the end of seuen moneths.

15 And the traualers that passe through the land, if [any] see a mans bone, the shal he set vp a signe by it, til the buryers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamón Gog.

16 And also the name of the citie [shal be] Hamónah: thus shal they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speake vnto euery feathered fowle, and to all the beastes of the field, Assemble your selues, and come, gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israël, that ye may eat flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Ye shal eat the flesh of the valiant, and drinke blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambes, and of the goates, [and] of bullockes, [euē] of all fat beasts of Bashán.

19 And ye shal eat fat til you be full, and drinke blood, til ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shal be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I wil set my glorie among the heathen, and all the heathen shal see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hand, which I haue layed vpon them.

22 So the house of Israël shal knowe, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forthe.

23 And the heathen shal knowe, that the house of Israël went into captiuitie for their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fel they all by the sworde.

24 According to their vncleannes, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now wil I bring againe the captiuitie of Iakób, and haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israël, and wil be Ielous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they haue borne their shame and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered the out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shal they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered the vnto their owne land, and haue left none of them any more there:

43 And within [were] borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and vpon the tables [lay] the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate [were] chambers of the fingers in the inwarde court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, [and] one [was] at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

7 And it was large and went round mounting vpwarde to the chambers: for $\frac{1}{2}$ staire of the house [was] mounting vpward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vpwarde: so they went vp from the lowest [chambre] to the hiest by the middes.

8 I saw also the house hie round about: the foundations of the chambers [were] a full rede of six great cubites.

9 The thickenes of the wall which was for the chamber without, [was] five cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betwene the chambers was $\frac{1}{2}$ wydenes of twentie cubites round about the House on euerie side.

11 And the dores of the chambers [were] towarde the place that remained, one dore towarde the North, & another dore towarde the South, & the breadth of $\frac{1}{2}$ place that remained, [was] five cubites round about.

12 Now the buyldig that was before the separate place towarde the West corner, [was] seuentie cubites broad, and the wall of the buylding was five cubites thicke, round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundreth cubites long, & the separate place and the buylding with the walles thereof [were] an hundreth cubites long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of $\frac{1}{2}$ house and of the separate place toward $\frac{1}{2}$ East, [was] an hundreth cubites.

15 And he measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place which was behinde it, and the chambers on $\frac{1}{2}$ one side & on the other side an hundreth cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The postes and the narrowe windowes, and the chambers round about, on thre sides ouer against the postes, filed with [ceder] wood round about, and from $\frac{1}{2}$ ground vp to the windowes, and the windowes were filed.

20 From the ground vnto aboute the dore [were] Cherubims & palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The postes of the Temple were squared, [&] thus to loke vnto [was] the similitude [&] forme of the Sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood [was] thre cubites hie, and the length thereof two cubites, & the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof [were] of woods. And he said vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two dores.

24 And the dores had two wickets, [euē] two turning wickets, two wickets for one dore, & two wickets for an other dore.

25 And vpon the dores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles, & [there were] thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porche without.

26 And [there were] narrowe windowes and palme trees on the one side, & on the other side, by the sides of the porche, & [vpon] the sides of the house, and thicke planks.

6 For they were in thre rowes, but had not pillers as the pillers of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middelmost, [euē] from the grounde.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambres, toward the vtter court on the fore front of the chambres [was] fifetie cubites long.

8 For the length of the chambres [¶] were in the vtter court, [was] fifetie cubites: & lo, before the Temple [were] an hundredth cubites.

9 And vnder these chambres [was] the entrie, on the East side, as one goeth in to them from the outwarde court.

10 The chambres [were] in the thicknes of the wall of the court toward the East, ouer against the separate place, and ouer against the buylding.

11 And the way before them [was] after the maner of the chambres, which were toward the North as long as thei, [euē] as broad as thei: and all their entries were like, bothe according to their facions, & according to their dores.

12 And according to the dores of [¶] chābres that were toward the South, [was] a dore in the corner of the waie, [euē] the waie directly before the wall toward the East, as one entreth.

13 Then said he vnto me, The North chābres [euē] the South chambres which are before the separate place, thei be holy chambres, wherein the Priests that approche vnto the Lord, shal eat the moste holie things: there shal thei laie the moste holy things, and the meat offering: & the sinoffring, and the trespass offering: for the place [is] holy.

14 When the Priests entre therein, they shal not go out of the holie place into [¶] vtter court, but there they shal lay their garmēt̄s wherein thei minister: for they are holie, [euē] shal put on other garmēt̄s, and so shal approche to those things, w̄ are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of mesuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, & measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side w̄ the measuring rod, fūe hundredth redes, [euē] with the measuring rede round about.

17 He measured [also] the North side, fūe hundredth redes, [euē] with the measuring rede round about.

18 And he measured the South side fūe hundredth redes with the measuring rede.

19 He turned about [also] to the West side, [euē] measured fūe hundredth redes with the measuring rede.

20 He measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall rounde about, fūe hundredth [redes] long, and fūe hundredth broad, to make a separation betwene the Sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

2 Of this there shalbe for the Sanctuarie five hundred [in length] with five hundred [in breadth], all square rounde about, and fiftie cubites rounde about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twentie thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shalbe the Sanctuarie, [and] the moste holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shalbe the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuarie, which came nere to serue the Lord: & it shalbe a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuarie.

5 And [in] the five and twentie thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shal the Levites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Also ye shal appoint the possession of the citie, five thousand broad, and five and twentie thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion: it shalbe for the whole house of Israel.

7 And [a portion shalbe] for the prince on the one side, & on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, & of the possession of the citie, [euén] before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie from the West corner Westward, & from the East corner Eastward, and the length [shalbe] by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shalbe his possession in Israel: and my princes shal no more oppresse my people, [and] the rest of the land shal thei giue to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it suffice you, o princes of Israel: leaue of crueltie and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Ye shal haue iust balances, and a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shal be equal: a Bath shal containe the tenth parte of an Homér, and an Ephah the tenth parte of an Homér: the equalitie thereof shalbe after the Homér.

12 * And the shekel [shalbe] twentie gerahs, [and] twentie shekels, & five & twentie shekels and fiftene shekels shalbe your Manéh.

13 ¶ This is the oblation that ye shal offer, the sixt parte of an Ephah of an Homér of wheat, and ye shal giue the sixt parte of an Ephah of an Homér of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, [euén] of the Bath of oyle, [ye shal offer] the tenth parte of a Bath out of the Cor [ten Baths [are] an Homér: for ten Baths [fill] an Homér]

15 And one lambe of two hundred shepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offering, & for a burnt offering & for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shal [giue] this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shalbe the princes parte to giue burnt offerings, and meat offerings, & drink offerings in the solemne feastes and in the new moones, & in the Sabbaths, [and] in all the hie feasts of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offering, and the meat of fring, and the burnt offering, & the peace offerings to make reconciliatiō for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first [moneth] in the first [day] of the moneth thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuarie.

19 And the Priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the posts of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, & vpon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou do the seventh [day] of the moneth, for euerie one that hath erred, & for him that is deceaued: so shal you reconcile the house.

2 And the prince shal entre by the waye of ^fporche of that gate without, & shal stand by the post of the gate, & the Priests shal make his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shal worship at the threshold of the gate: after, he shal go forth, but the gate shal not be shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shal worship at the entrie of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the newe moones.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shal offre vnto the Lord on the Sabbath daye, [shalbe] six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offering [shalbe] an Epháh for a ram: and the meat offering for the lambes^a a gift of his hand, & an Hin of oyle to an Epháh.

6 And in ^f day of the new moone [it shalbe] a yong bullocke without blemish, & six lambes and a ram: they shalbe without blemish.

7 And he shal prepare a meat offering, [euen] an Epháh for a bullocke, and an Epháh for a ram, and for the lambes^b according as his hand shal bring, & an Hin of oyle to an Epháh.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities the meat offering shalbe an Epháh to a bullocke, and an Epháh to a ram, and to the lambs, the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Epháh.

12 Now when the prince shal make a free burnt offering or peace offerings frely vnto the Lord, one shal then open him the gate that turneth toward the East, & he shal make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after, he shal go forth, and when he is gone forth, one shal shute the gate.

13 Thou shalt daylie make a burnt offering vnto ^f Lord of a lambe of one yere without blemish: thou shalt do it euerie morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it euerie morning, the sixt parte of an Epháh, and the third parte of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with ^f fyne floure: [this] meat offering shalbe continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lord.

1 The vision of the water: that came out of the Temple.
2 The coasts of the land of promise, & the deuotion thereof by tribes.

Afterward he brought me vnto the doore of the house: and beholde, waters yssued out from vnder the thresholde of the house Eastwarde : for the forefront of the house [stode] toward the East, & the waters ran downe frō vnder the right side of the House, at the South side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out toward the North gate, and led me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate, by the way that turneth Eastwarde: & beholde, there came forth the waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth the Eastwarde, he measured a thousand cubites, and he brought me through the waters: the waters [were] to the ancles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters [were] to the knees: again he measured a thousand, & brought me through: the waters [were] to the loynes.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, [& it was] a 6 riuier, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, [&] the waters did flowe, [as] a riuier that colde not be passed ouer.

DANIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great providence of God, and his singular mercie toward his Church are moste lively here set forth, who neuer leaueh his destitute, but now in their greatest miseries and afflictions giueth them Prophetes, as Ezeiel, and Daniel, whome he adorned with suche graces of his holy spirit, that Daniel aboue all other had moste special reuelations of suche things as shulde come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuitie, to the last end of the worlde, & to the generall resurrection, as of the foure Monarches and empires of all the worlde, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians, and Romaines. Also of the certeine nombre of the times euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices shulde cease, because he shulde be the accomplishment thereof: moreouer he sheweth Christs office & the cause of his death which was by his sacrifice to take away sinnes, and to bring euerlasting life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he wyl still leaue this exercise to his Church vntil the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

The captiuitie of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh. 4 The King chuseth certeine yong men of the Iewes to learne his lawe. 5 They haue the Kings ordinarie appointed, 6 But they abstaine from it.

IN the third yere of the reigne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, came Nebuchad-nezzár, King of Babel vnto Ierusalem, & beleiged it. 2 And the Lord gaue Iehoiakim King of Iudáh into his hand, with parte of the vessels of the house of God, which he caried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, & he brought the vessels into his gods treasure.

3 And the King spake vnto Ashpenáz the master of his Eunuches, that he shulde bring [certeine] of the children of Ifraél, of the Kings seide, and of the princes:

4 Childre in whome was no blemish, but wel fauoured, and instruct in all wisdom, and wel sene in knowledge, and able to vtter knowledge, and suche as were able to stand in the Kings palace, and whome they might teache the learning, and the tongue of the Caldéans.

5 And the King appointed them prouision euerie daie of a portion of the Kings meat, and of the wine, which he dranke, so the Iewes might be better kept in subiectiõ, fearing otherwise to procure hurte to these noble men. f The King required three things, that they shulde be of noble byrth, that they shulde be witty & learned, & that they shulde be of a strong & comelie nature: & they might do him better seruice: this he did for his owne commoditie: therefore it is not to praise his liberalitie: yet in this he is worthy praise. g he esteemed learning, & knewe that it was a necessarie meane to gouerne by. g That they might forget their owne religiõ, & costrel facions, to serue him & better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought. Daniel did learne any knowledge & was not godlie: in all pokes he refused & abused of things & supersticiõ, in so muche that he wolde not eat the meat & the King appointed him but was content to learne & knowlege of natural things. h That by their good intentionment they might learne to forget the mediocritie of their owne people.

His purpose was to kepe the as hostages, & that he might shewe him self victorious, and also by their good intreatie and learning of his religiõ, they might fauour rather him than the Iewes and so to be able to serue him as gouerners in their land: moreouer by this meane

1 To the intent that I this time they might both learne the manners of the Caldeans & also their tongue & as well to serve at the table as in other offices.

2 That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Iewes gave their children names, which might ever put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great temptation and a signe of seruitude which they were not able to resist.

3 Nor that he thought anier religion to be in the meat or drinke (for afterwards he did eat) but because the King shoulde not entice him by this sweet poison to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meat and drinke he might daylie remembre of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shewe how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, & at length called him to be a Prophet.

4 He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore here in he representeth the which are of no religion: for neither he wolde condene theirs nor mainteine his owne.

nourishing the three yere, that at the end thereof, they might stand before the King.

6 Now among these (were certeine) of the children of Iudáh, Daniél, Hananiáh, Mishael and Azariáh.

7 Vnto whome the chief of the Eunuches gaue [other] names: for he called Daniél, Beltesházar, & Hananiáh, Shadrách, & Mishael, Mesáh, and Azariáh, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniél had determined in his heart, that he wolde not defile him self with the portion of the Kings meat, nor with the wine which he drake: therefore he required the chief of the Eunuches that he might not defile him self.

9 (Now God had brought Daniél into fauour, and tender loue with the chief of the Eunuches)

10 And the chief of the Eunuches said vnto Daniél, ¶ I feare my Lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drinke: therefore if he se your faces worse lyking then the [other] children, which are of your sorte, then shal you make me lose mine head vnto the King.

11 Then said Daniél to Melzar, whome the chief of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniél, Hananiáh, Mishael, and Azariáh, 12 Proue thy seruants, I beseeche thee, ten daies, and let them giue vs pulse to eat, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eat of the porcion of the Kings meat: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten daies.

15 And at the end of ten daies, their countenances appeared fairer, & in better lyking then all the childrens, which did eat the portion of the Kings meat.

16 Thus Melzar toke awaie the portiõ of their meat, and the wine that they shoulde drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning, & wisdom: also he gaue Daniél vnderstanding of all visions & dreames.

¶ Not that it was a thing abominable to eat dentic meates and to drinke wine, as bothe before and after they did, but if they shoulde haue hereby bene wonne to the King and haue refused their owne religion, that meat and drinke had bene accursed. 7 This bare feeding and that of Moles when he fled from the court of Egypt, declareth that we must liue in such sobriety as God doeth call vs vnto, being he will make it more profitable vnto vs, than all dentic: for his blissing onely sufficeth. 8 Ebr. faster in Refie. 9 Meaning in the liberall sciences, & naturall knowledge, and nor in the magicall artes which are forbidden, Deu. 18, 11. 10 So that he onely was a prophet and none of the other: for by dreames and visions God appeared to his Prophetes, Nomb. 12, 6.

18 Now when the time was expired, that the King had appointed to bring the in, the chief of the Eunuches brought the before Nebuchad-nezzár.

19 And the King communed with them: & among them all was founde none like Daniél, Hananiáh, Mishael, and Azariáh: therefore stode they before the King.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, [and] vnderstanding that the King enquired of them, he founde them ten times better then all the enchanters [&] astrologians, that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniél was vnto the first yere of King Cyrus.

¶ CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzár. 2 The King commandeth all the wise men of Babylon to be slaine because they coulde not interpret his dreame. 3 Daniel requesteth time to solute the questio. 4 Daniel is brought vnto the King & sheweth him his dreame & the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the everlasting kingdome of Christ.

1 And in the second yere of the reign of Nebuchad-nezzár, Nebuchad-nezzár dreamed dreames where his spirit was troubled, & his slepe was vnto him.

2 Then the King commanded to call the inchanters, & the astrologians and the soothsayers, & the Caldeans for to shewe the King his dreames: so they came and stode before the King.

3 And the King said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, & my spirit was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in the Aramites language, O King, liue for euer: shewe thy seruants thy dreame, and we shal shewe the interpretation.

5 [And] the King answered and said to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me. If ye wil not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye shalbe drawen in pieces, and your houses shalbe made a iakes.

6 But if ye declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shal receiue of me giftes and rewardes, & great honour: therefore shewe me the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and said, Let the King shewe his seruants the dreame, & we wil declare the interpretation thereof.

8 [Then] the King answered, & said, I knowe certainly that yet wolde gaine I time because ye se the thing is gone from me.

more eloquent, and therefore the learned vsed to speake it: as the Iewish writers do to this day. 9 This is a iuste reward of their arrogancie (which wanted of them selues that they had the knowledge of all things) that they shoulde be prouen fooles and that to their perpetual shame & confusion. 10 Here in appeared their ignorance that not withstanding their brags, yet were they not able to tel the dreame, except he entred the into the matter, & therefore they wolde pretende knowledge where was but mere ignorance & so as deluders of the people they were worthy to dye. 11 Ebr. red me the time.

Of the three yeres above mentioned ver. 5.

¶ That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet so long as the common wealth lasted.

a The farther the sonne was to the called by this Name, so this is meant of the sonne, who he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort with his father.

b Not that he had many dreames, but because many matters were contained in this dreame.

c Because it was so rare and strange a dream that he had not had like.

d He was so heavy w sleep that he began to sleepe againe. Some read, and his slepe was broken fro him. For all these astrologers and soothsayers called them selues by this name of honour as though all the wisdom and knowledge of the country depended vpon them, so that all other countrie were void of it. 11 That is in Syriac tongue differed not much from Caldeans, but it seemed to be 9 But if yewil not declare me the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before me, til þ time be chāged, therefore tel me the dreame, that I maie knowe, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 [Then] the Caldeans answered before the King, and said, There is no man vpon earth that can declare þ Kings matter: yea, there is nether King nor Prince nor Lord that asked suche things at an inchanter or astrologian or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the King requireth, & there is none other that can declare it before the King, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the King was angrie and in great furie, and commāded to destroye all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slaine: and thei sought Daniēl & his felowes to put to death.

14 The Daniēl answered with counsell & wisdom to Ariōch the Kings chief steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel, 15 [Yea,] he answered & said vnto Ariōch the Kings captaine, Why is the sentēce so hastie from the King? Then Ariōch declared the thing to Daniēl.

16 So Daniēl went and desired the King þ he wold giue him leasure & that he wolde shewe the King the interpretation thereof.

17 ¶ Then Daniēl went to his house and shewed the matter to Hananiāh, Mishael, and Azariāh his companions, 18 That thei shulde beseeche the God of heauen for grace in this secret, that Daniēl & his felowes shulde not perish with þ rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret reueiled vnto Daniēl in a vision by night: therefore Daniēl praised the God of heauē, 20 And Daniēl answered & said, *The Name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And he changeth the tūmes and seasōs: he taketh away Kings: he setteth vp Kings: he giueth wisdom vnto the wise, & vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He discovereth the depe & secret things, he knoweth what is in the darknes, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee & praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, & hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the Kings matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniēl wēt vnto Ariōch, whome the King had ordeined to destroy the wise men of Babel: he went and said thus vnto him, Destroye not the wise men of Babel, [but] bring me before the King, and I will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

25 Then Ariōch broght Daniēl before the King in all haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudāh that were broght captiues, that will declare vnto the King the interpretation.

26 Then answered the King, and said vnto Daniēl, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shew me the dreame, which I haue sene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniēl answered in the presence of the King, and said, The secret which the King hath demanded, can nether the wise, the astrologians, the inchanters, [nor] the soothsayers declare vnto the King, 28 But there is a God in heauen that reueileth secrets, and sheweth the King Nebuchad-nezzar what shalbe in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things, which thou hast sene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O King, when þ wast in thy bed, thoughtes came into thy minde, what shulde come to passe hereafter, & he that reueileth secrets, telleth thee, what shall come.

30 As for me, this secret is not shewed me for anie wisdom that I haue, more then any other liuing, but onely to shewe the King the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O King, thou sawest, and behold, there [was] a great image: this great image whose glorie was so excellent, stood before thee, & the forme thereof [was] terrible.

32 This images head was of fyne & golde, his breast and his armes of siluer, his bellie and his thighs of brasse, 33 His legges of yron, [&] his fete [were] parte of yron, and parte of clay.

34 Thou beheldst it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his fete, that were of yron and clay, and brake them to peeces.

¶ This stone which shalde successefully rule al the worlde till Christ led the stone, come him selfe and destroye the last, and this was to assure the Jewes that their afflictions shulde not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they shulde patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which shulde be at the end of this fourth monarchie.

m Meaning, power to interpret it.

n VWhereby appeared that many were slaine, as vers. 13. and the rest at Daniēls offer were preferred on condition: not that Daniēl fauoured there wicked profession, but that he had respect to equitie, because that the King proceeded according to his wicked affection, and not considering if there science was lawfull or no.

o He affirmeth that man by reason and arte is not able to attain to the cause of Gods secrets but the vnderstanding onely thereof must come of God, whereby he smiteth the King with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, which might be the more apt to recite þ hye mysteries, that shal be reuelled.

p Because he had said þ God onely must reueile the signification of this dreame, & King might haue asked, why Daniēl did enterprise to interpret it, and therefore he sheweth, that he was but Gods minister, & had no giftes, but such as God had giue him to set forth his glorie. q By Golde, siluer, brasse, and yron are meant þ Caldean, Persian, Macedonian & Romaine Kingdomes, which is here called the stone, because he came him selfe and destroye the last, and this was to assure the Jewes that their afflictions shulde not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they shulde patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which shulde be at the end of this fourth monarchie.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the brasle, the siluer & the golde broken al together, and became like the chaffe of the sommer floores, & the winde caryed them away, that no place was founde for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and we wil declare before the King the interpretatiō therof.

37 ¶ O King, thou art a King of Kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, and strength & glorie.

38 And in all [places] where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and foules of the heauen hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler ouer them all: thou art this head of golde.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdome, inferiour to thee, [of siluer], & another third kingdome [shalbe] of brasle, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strōg as yron: for as yron breaketh in pieces, & subdueth all things, and as yron bruseth all these things, [so] shall it breake in pieces and bruse all.

41 Where as thou sawest the fete & toes, parte of potters clay, and parte of yron: the kingdome shall be deuided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the yron, as thou sawest the yron mixt with the claye, [and] earth.

42 And [as] the toes of the fete [were] parte of yron, & parte of clay, [so] shall the kingdome be partely strōg, & partely broken.

43 And where as thou sawest yron mixt with clay, & earth, they shall mingle them selues with the sede of men: but they shall not ioine one with another, as yron can not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these Kings, shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shall neuer be destroyed: and this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, & destroy all the kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Where as thou sawest, that the stone was cut of the mountaine without hands, and that it brake in pieces the yron, the brasle, & clay, the siluer & the gold: [so] the

¶ That is, the Romaine empire shall subdue all these other afore named, & after Alexander were deuided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians, & Egyptians. x They shall haue ciuill warres and continuall discord among themselves. y They shall by marriages and affinites thinke to make them selues stronge yet shall they neuer be ioined in hearts.

z His purpose is to shewe, that al the kingdomes of the world are transitorye, & that the kingdome of Christ shall onely remaine for euer. a Meaning Christ who was sent of God & not set vp by mā, whose kingdome at the beginning shall be small and without beautie to mā's iudgement, but shall at length growe & fill the whole earth. b He calleth a great mountaine, arret.

31. And this kingdome is not onely referred to a persone of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, & to euery member thereof that be eternal: for the Spirit dwelleth in them, & liueth eternall. Rom. 8. 10.

great God hath shewed the King, what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame [is] true, and the interpretation thereof [is] sure.

46 ¶ Then the King Nebuchad-nezzār fell vpon his face, and bowed him self vnto Daniēl, and commanded that thei shulde offer meat offerings, and swete odoures vnto him.

47 [Also] the King answered vnto Daniēl, and said, [I knowe] of a trueth that youre God is a God of gods, & the Lord of Kings, and the reueiler of secrets, seing thou couldest open this secret.

48 So the King made Daniēl a great man, and gaue him manie and great giftes. He made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, and chief of the rulers [and] aboue all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniēl made request to the King, and beset Shadrah, Meshah, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniēl [sate] in the gate of the King.

¶ The Prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by his meanes he might relieue his poore brethren which were grievously oppressed in their captiuitie, and also he receiued the, lest he should offend this cruel King, which willingly gaue them. e He did not this for their priuate profit, but for the whole Church which was then in affliction, might haue some releafe and ease, by this benefite. f Meaning, that either he was a iudge, or that he had the whole authoritie, so that none wolde be admitted to the Kings presence, but by him.

¶ CHAP. III.

1 The King setteth vp a golden image. 3 Certaine are executed because they despised the Kings commandment, & are put into a burning ouen. 25. By beleefe in God they are deliuered from the fyre. 26 Nebuchad-nezzār confesseth the power of God after the sight of the miracle.

1 Nebuchad-nezzār the King made an image of golde, whose height [was] threescore cubites, [and] the breadth thereof six cubites: he set it vp in the plaine of Durá, in the prouince of Babel,

2 Then Nebuchad-nezzār the King sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellors, the officers, & all the gouerners of the prouinces, that they shulde come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchad-nezzār the King had set vp.

3 So the Nobles, princes, and dukes, the iudges, the receiuers, the counsellors, the officers, and all the gouerners of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedication of the image, that Nebuchad-nezzār

¶ after the dreame, and as may appeare the King feared lest the Iewes by their religion, shulde haue altered the state of his commune wealth, and therefore he ment to bring al to one kinde of religion, and so rather sought his owne quietnes, then Gods glorie.

b Shewing, that the idole is not knowne for an idole so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customes are recited, and vied, and the consent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god. c This was sufficient w the wicked at all times to approue their religion, if the Kings autoritie were alledged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the meane season what Gods worde did permit.

b Though this humbling of the King seemed to deserue commendation, yet because he ioynd Gods honour with the prophets, it is to be reprobued, and Daniēl herein erred if he suffered it: but his credible that Daniēl admonished him of his fault & did not suffice it.

c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh Exo. 9. 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared some after ward.

d Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by his meanes he might relieue his poore brethren which were grievously oppressed in their captiuitie, and also he receiued the, lest he should offend this cruel King, which willingly gaue them.

a Vnder pretence of religion, and holines in making an image to his idole Bel, he sought his owne ambition and vaine glorie: & this declareth, that he was not touched with true feare of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion as the wicked, when they are overcome with the greatnes of his workes.

The Greke interpreters write, that this was done 18 yeres after the Iewes by their religion, shulde haue altered the state of his commune wealth, and therefore he ment to bring al to one kinde of religion, and so rather sought his owne quietnes, then Gods glorie.

zár the King had set vp, & they stode before the image, which Nebuchad-nezzár had set vp.

4 Then an herald cryed aloud, Be it known to you, o people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalteries, dulcimer, and all instruments of musick, ye fall downe and worship the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzár the King hath set vp.

6 And whosoever falleth not downe and worshippeth, shall the same houre be cast into the middes of an hote fyrie fornace.

7 Therefore as sone as all the people heard the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and all instruments of musick, all the people, nations, & languages fell downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzár the King had set vp.

8 ¶ By reason whereof at that same tyme came men of the Caldeans, & grieuously accused the Iewes.

9 [For] they spake and said to the King Nebuchad-nezzár, O King, liue for ever:

10 Thou, o King, hast made a decre, that euerie man that shal heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpes, sackbut, psalterie, and dulcimer, & all instruments of musick, shall fall downe and worship the golden image.

11 And whosoever falleth not downe, & worshippeth, that he shulde be cast into the middes of an hote fyrie fornace.

12 There are certeine Iewes whome thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel, Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó: these men, o King, haue not regarded thy commandment, nether wil they serue thy gods, nor worship thy golden image, that thou hast set vp.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzár in [his] angre and wrath commanded that they shuld bring Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó: so these men were brought before the King.

14 [And] Nebuchad-nezzár spake, & said vnto them, What disordre wil not you, Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó serue my god, nor worship the golden image, that I haue set vp?

15 ¶ Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and dulcimer, & all instruments of musicke, to fall downe, & worship the image, which I haue made: for if ye worship it not, ye shalbe cast immediatly into the middes of an hote fyrie fornace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of myne hands?

16 Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó answered and said to the King, O Nebuchad-nezzár, we are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 Beholde, our God whome we serue, is able to deliuer vs frome the hote fyrie fornace, and he wil deliuer vs out of thine hand, o King.

18 But if not, be it knowen to thee, o King, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set vp.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nezzár full of rage, and the forme of his visage was changed against Shadrách, Meshách, & Abednegó: [therefore] he charged and commanded that they shuld heate the fornace at once seven times more then it was wonte to be heat.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to binde Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó, [&] to cast them into the hote fyrie fornace.

21 So these men were bounde in their coats, their hose, and their clokes, with their [other] garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fyrie fornace.

22 Therefore, because the Kings commandement was straite, that the fornace shulde be exceeding hote, the flame of the fyre slewe those men that brought forth Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó.

23 And these thre men Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó fel downe bounde into the middes of the hote fyrie fornace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzár the King was astonied & rose vp in haste, [&] spake, and said vnto his counsellors, Did not we cast thre men bounde into the middes of the fyre? Who answered and said vnto the King, It is true, o King.

25 [And] he answered, and said, Lo, I se foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fyre, and they haue no hurt, and the forme of the fourth is like the sonne of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchad-nezzár came nere to the mouth of the hote fyrie fornace, [&] spake & said, Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó, the seruants of the hie God, go forthe & come [hether]: so Shadrách, Meshách, and Abednegó came forthe of the middes of the fyre.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, & the Kings counsellors came together to se these men, because the fyre had no power over their bodies: for not an heere of their head was burnt, nether was

g For they shulde haue done in iuriesto God, if they shulde haue doubted in this holie cause and therefore they say, that they are resolyed to dye for Gods cause. h They ground on two principles, first in the power and providence of God over them, and secondly on their cause. Was Gods glorie, and the testifying of his true religion, & their blood: and so make open confession, that they wil not so muche as our wardly confesse to idolatrie. i This declarereth that the more, that they rages, & the more wit they shewe their selues in inuenting strange and cruell punishmets, the more is God glorified by his seruants. h. he giveth patience & constancie: to abide the crueltie of their punishment: for ether he deliuereth them from death or els for this life giveth them a better. k For the Angels were called the sonnes of God, because of their excellencie: therefore the King called this Angel, whome he called to comfort his in these great troubles, the sonne of God.

28 [Wherefore] Nebuchad-nezzár spake & said, ^m Blessed [be] ^f God of Shadrách Meshách and Abednegó, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the Kings cōmandement, & yelded their bodies rather then they wolde serue or worship anie god, saue their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decre, that every people, nation, & language, which speake any ⁿ blasphemie against ^f God of Shadrách, Meshách and Abednegó, shal be drawn in pieces, and their houses shal be made a iakes, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sorte.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrách, Meshách and Abednegó in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzár King vnto al people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the ^o worlde, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thoght it good to declare the signes & wonders, that the hie God hath wrought towarde me.

33 How great are his signes, & how mightie are his wonders! ^p his kingdome [is] an euerlasting kingdome, and his dominion [is] from generation to generation.

CHAP. III.

Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proude King he shulde become as a beast. 33 After he confesseth the power of God and is restored to his former dignitie.

1 Nebuchad-nezzár being at ^a rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace, 2 Sawe a ^b dreame, which made me afraid, and the thoghtes vpon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decre, that thei shulde bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the enchanters, the Astrologians, the Caldeans and the soothsayers, to whome I tolde the dreame, but ^c they colde not shewe me the interpretation thereof:

5 Til at the last Daniél came before me, (whose name [was] ^d Belteshazzár, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him) & before him I tolde the dreame, [saying,]

6 O Belteshazzár, ^e chief of the enchanters, because I knowe, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tel me the visions of my dreame, that I haue sene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus [were] the visions of mine head in my bed. And beholde, I sawe a tre in the middes of the earth, and the height thereof [was] great:

8 A great tre & strong, and the height thereof reached vnto heauen, and the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof [were] faire, & the fruite thereof muche, and in it was meat for all: it made a shadowe vnder it for the beastes of the field, and the fowles of the heauen dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I sawe in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and beholde, a ^g watche man and an holy one came downe from heauen,

11 And cryed aloud, and said thus, Hewe downe the tre, & breake of his branches: shake of his leaues, & scattre his fruite, that the beastes may flee from vnder it, and the fowles from his branches.

12 Neuertheles leaue the stumpe of his rootes in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasse [binde it] among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, & let his portion [be] with the beastes among the grasse of the field.

13 ^h Let his heart be changed from mans [nature,] & let a beastes heart be giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 ⁱ The sentence [is] according to the decre of the watchemen, and according to ^j wordes of the holy ones: the demande [was answered,] to the intent that liuing men may knowe, that the moste high hath the power ouer the kingdome of men, and giureth it to whome soeuer he wil, and appointeth ouer it the moste abiection among men.

15 This is the dreame, [that] I King Nebuchad-nezzár haue sene: therefore thou, O Belteshazzár, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wisemen of my kingdome are not able to shewe me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods [is] in thee.

16 ^k Then Daniél (whose name [was] Belteshazzár) held his ^l peace by the space of one houre, and his thoghts troubled him, [and] the King spake and said, Belteshazzár, let nether the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Beldenoſce Gods iudgements for ^f zeale they bare to his glory, and on the other parte to haue cōpaſſiō vpon mā, & also to cōsider that they shuld be subiect to Gods iudgements, if he did not regarde them with pietie.

f By the tre, is signified the dignitie of a King, whome God adoeineth to be a defence for all kinde of men, & whose state is profitable for mankind.

g Meaning, the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor sleepeth, but is ever ready to Gods wil and is not infect with corruption but is ever holy: & in that that he cōmandeth to cut downe this tre, he knewe it shulde not be cut downe by mā but by God.

h Herby he meaneth ^j Nebuchad-nezzar shulde not onely for a time lose his kingdō, but be like a beast. i God hath decreed this iudgement and the whole armie of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they desire the executiō of his decre against all them that lift vp thē selues against God.

k He was troubled for ^l great iudgement of God which he sawe ordaind against ^f King: & so the Prophetes vsed on the one part to denoſce Gods iudgements for ^f zeale they bare to his glory, and on the other parte to haue cōpaſſiō vpon mā, & also to cōsider that they shuld be subiect to Gods iudgements, if he did not regarde them with pietie.

m He was moved by ^f greatness of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And herewe se that miracles are not sufficient to conuert mā to God but that doctrine must chiefly be adioyned, w^{ch} out the which there can be no faith.

n In this heathen King moved by Gods Spirit, wolde not be blasphemie vnpunished, but made a Law & set a punishment to suche transgressors, w^{ch} more ought all they that profess religion, take order that suche impietie reigne not, lest according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

o Meaning, so faire as his dominion extended.

q Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proude King he shulde become as a beast. 33 After he confesseth the power of God and is restored to his former dignitie.

r There was no trouble that might cause me to dreame and therefore it came onely of God.

s This was another dreame besides that which he sawe of the foure empires: for Daniel both declared what that dreame was, and what it meant: and herby onely expoundeth the dreame.

t In that that he sent abroad to others whose ignorance in time past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was ever ready at hand, to declare the nature of the vngodly, & neuer seke to the seruantes of God, but for venge neceſſitie, and the they spare no flatterings. d This no doute was a greates grief to Daniél not onely to haue his name chāged, but to be called by ^f name of a vile idole, & Nebuchad-nezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God. e Which also was a great grief to the Prophet to be nombred among the soothsayers & men whose practises were wicked & contrary to Gods words.

rethazar answered and said, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mightie, whose hieght reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through all the worlde,

18 Whose leaues [were] faire, & the fruite thereof muche, and in it was meat for all, vnder the which the beasts of the field dwelt, and vpon whose branches f foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, o King, yart great and mightie: for thy greatnes is growe, & reacheth vnto heauen, & thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

20 Where as the King sawe a watchman and an holy one that came downe from heauen, and said, Hewe downe the tree & destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a bande of yron and brasse [binde it] among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with dewe of heauen, & let his portion be with the beasts of the field, til seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, o King, and it is the decre of the moste high, which is come vnto my lord the King,

22 That they shal driue thee from me, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beasts of the field: they shal make thee to eat grasse as the oxen, & they shal were thee with the dewe of heauen: & seuen times shal passe ouer thee, til thou knowe, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, & giueth it to whome soeuer he wil.

23 Where as they said, that one shulde leaue the stumpe of the tree rootes, thy kingdome shal remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt knowe, that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, o King, let my counsel be acceptable vnto thee, and breake of thy sinnes by righte busnes, & thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore: lo, let there be an healing of thine errour.

25 All these things shal come vpon King Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 At the end of twelue moneths, he walked in the royal palace of Babel.

27 [And] the King spake and said, Is not this great Babel, that I haue buylt for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

28 While word was in the Kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, saying, O King Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee, 29 And they shal driue thee from men, and thy dwelling [shalbe] with the beasts of the field: they shal make thee to eat grasse, as the oxen, & seuen times shal passe ouer thee, vntil thou knowest, that the moste high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whome soeuer he wil.

30 The very same houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, & he was driuen from men, and did eat grasse as the oxen, & his bodie was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his heeres were growen as egles [feathers,] and his nailes lyke birds [clawes.]

31 And at the end of [these] dayes, I Nebuchad-nezzar liue vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thanks vnto the moste high, and I praised and honored him that liueth for euer, whose power [is] an euermolting power, and his kingdome [is] from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his wil he worketh in the armie of heauen, & in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, What dost thou?

33 At the same time was mine vnderstanding restored vnto me, and I [returned] to the honour of my kingdome: my glorie and my beautie was restored vnto me, & my counsellours and my princes fought vnto me, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glorie was augmented toward me.

34 Now [therefore] I Nebuchad-nezzar praise and extoll and magnifie the King of heauen, whose workes are all truth: & his wayes iudgement, & those that walke in pride, he is able to abase.

liuerance, but also confesseth his fault, that God may only be man's shame, and that he may be exalted, and man cast downe.

CHAP. VI.

1 Belshazzar King of Babylon saw a light writing on the wall. 2 The forthtellers called of the King, cannot expound the writing: 3 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it so. 4 The King is humbled, and acknowledgeth the Kingdome.

1 King Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and drank wine before the thousand.

Howe God iudged against the King, for the dishonour of his Church, and how the prophesie of Ieremias was fulfilled, that they shulde be deliuered after seuen years. 2 The Kings of the east parties their vnto the King, and desired that they shulde be their companions, and now to shewe his power, and how like he shulde be to the King, which then he had fled Babylon, he made a solemn banquet and the King and his companions which were here by drinking wine, they were checked are not dissolute, and negligent when their destruction is at hand.

e Meaning his grand father.

1. [And] Belshazzar while he tasted wine, commanded to bring him the golden and silver vessels, which his father Nebuchadnezzar brought from the Temple in Jerusalem, that the King and his princes, his wife, and his concubines might drinke therein.

2. Then were brought the golden vessels, & were take out of the Temple of the Lords house at Jerusalem, and the King and his princes, his wives, and his concubines drinke in them.

3. They dronke wine & praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brasse, of yron, of wood and of stone.

4. At the same houre appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer against the candlesticke vpon the plaister of the wall of the Kings palace, & the King sawe the palme of the hand that wrote.

5. Then the Kings countenance was changed, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the jointes of his loines were loosed, and his knees smote one against the other.

6. Wherefore the king cryed loud, & they should bring the astrologians, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the King spake, and said to the wise men of Babel, Whosoever can read this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and [shall have] a chaine of golde aboute his necke, & shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

7. Then came all the Kings wise men, but they coulde neither read the writing, nor shewe the King the interpretation.

8. Then was King Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonished.

9. [Now the] Quene by reason of the talke of the King, and his princes, came into the banquet house, and the Quene spake, and said, O King live for ever, leenot thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

10. There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the Spirit of the holie gods, and in the dayes of thy fathers light and vnderstanding & wisdom like the wisdom of the gods was found in him: whome the King Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the King, [I say,] thy father, made chief of the enchanters, astrologians, Chaldeans, [and] soothsayers.

11. Because a more excellent spirit, & knowledge, and vnderstanding [for] he did expounde the dreames, and declare hard sentences, and dissolued doubts were founde in him, reueren Daniel, whome the King named Belshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

12. Then was Daniel brought before the King, [and] the King spake, and said vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, whome my father the King brought out of Iewrie?

13. Now I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the holie gods [is] in thee, and that light and vnderstanding and excellēt wisdom is found in thee.

14. Now therefore wisemen, [and] astrologians haue bene brought before me, & they shulde read this writing, and shewe me the interpretation thereof: but they coulde not declare the interpretation of the thing.

15. Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, & dissolue doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and shewe me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, & [shall have] a chaine of golde aboute the necke, & shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

16. Then Daniel answered, and said before the King, Kepethy rewards to thy self, & giue thy giftes to another: yet I wil reade the writing vnto the King and shewe him the interpretation.

17. O King, [heare] thou, The moste high God gaue vnto Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdome, and maiestie and honour and glorie.

18. And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations, & languages tribled, and feared before him: he put to death whome he wolde, he smote whome he wolde: whome he wolde he set vp, & whome he wolde he put downe.

19. But when his heart was puffed vp, and his minde hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kinglie throne, and they toke his honour from him.

20. And he was driuen from the sonnes of men, & his heart was made like beasts, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses: they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his bodie was wet with the dewe of the heaven, til he knewe that the moste high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointeth ouer it, whome he pleaseth.

21. And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things,

22. But hast lifted thy self vp against the Lord of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his House before thee, & thou and thy princes, thy wives & thy concubines haue k For the interpreters thought the Angels had power as Gods, and therefore had them in estimation as they had Gods, thinking they spirit of prophecy, and vnderstanding came of them.

l Before he read the writing, he declared to the King his great ingratitude toward God, who coulde not be moued to giue him the glorie, considering his wonderful workes toward his grand father, and to sheweth that he deserveth not sinne of mortallitee, but of malice.

l Read: Chapter 5, and this declareth, & bothe this name was odious vnto him, and also that he did not see the spirit in practice, because he was not among the when all were called.

a In contempt of true God they praised their idoles, not that their thought that the gods of silver were gods, but that there was a certaine vertue, & power in them to do the good which is al the opinion of idolaters.

e That it might be the better scene, & f So he that before contemned God, was moued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgements.

g Thus the wicked in their troubles like manie scenes, who drawe them from God, because they take not to him who is the onely comfort in all affliction.

h To wit his grand mother Nebuchadnezzars wife, which for her age was not before at feasts, but called thither when the word of these strange newes was brought.

i Read: Chapter 5, and this declareth, & bothe this name was odious vnto him, and also that he did not see the spirit in practice, because he was not among the when all were called.

haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of siluer and golde, of brasie, yron, wood & stone, which neither se, neither heare nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and all thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the palme of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writig. 25 And this is the writing that he hath writen, MENE, MENE, TEHEL VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath nombred thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEHEL, thou art weyed in the balace, and art founde to light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is diuided, & giuen to the Medes, and Persians.

29 Then at the commandement of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him that he shulde be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belshazzar King of the Caldeans slaine.

31 And Darius of the Medes toke Kingdome, being threescore & two yere olde.

CHAP. VI.

1 Daniel is made ruler ouer the gouernours. 2 An aske against Daniel. 3 He is put in a denne of lyons by commandement of the King. 4 He is deliuered by faith in God. 5 Daniels accusers are put vnto the lyons. 6 Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

1 It pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome an hundredth and twentie gouernours, which shulde be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 And ouer these, thre rulers (of whome Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them, & the King shulde haue no damage.

3 Now this Daniel was preferred aboue the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the King thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they coulde find none occasion nor faulte for he was so faithful that there was no blame nor faulte founde in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, and said thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for cuer.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdome the officers and gouernours, the counsellors, and dukes haue consulted together to make a decre for the King and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of anie god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O King, he shall be cast into the denne of lyons.

8 Now, O King, confirme the decre, & seale the writing, that it be not changed according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore King Darius sealed the writing and the decre.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel vnderstode that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Ierusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees thre times a day, and prayed and praised his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and founde Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came, and spake vnto the King concerning the Kings decree, Hast thou not sealed the decre, that euery man that shall make request to anie god or man within thirtie dayes, saue to thee, O King, shall be cast into the denne of lyons? The King answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said vnto the King, This Daniel which is of the childre of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decre, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition thre times a day.

14 When the King heard these wordes, he was sore displeased with him selfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and he laboured til the suning went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the King, and said vnto the King, Vnderstand O King, that the law of the Medes and the Persians is, y no decre nor statute, which the King confirmeth, may be altered.

16 ¶ Then the King commanded, and they broght Daniel, and cast him into the denne of lyons. Now the King spake and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alwayes trustest, turne he wil deliuer thee.

17 And a stone was broght, and layed vpon the mouth of the denne, and the King sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be chaged, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the King went vnto his palace, & remained fasting, nether were the instruments of musicke broght before him, & his slepe went from him.

19 ¶ Then the King arose early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the denne of lyons.

20 And when he came to the denne, he cryed wth a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the King spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God (whome thou alwaie seruest) able to deliuer thee from the lyons?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the King, O King, I live for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angel & hath shut the lyons mouthes, that they haue not hurt me: for my iustice was founde out before him: and vnto thee, o King, I haue done no hurte.

23 Then was the King exceding glad for him, and comanded that they shuld take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was broght out of the denne, and no maner of hurte was founde vpon him, because he beleued in his God.

24 And by the comendement of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were broght, and were cast into the denne of lyons, [euen] they, their children, and their wiues, and the lyons had the masterye of them, and brake all their bones a pieces, or euer they came at the grounde of the denne.

25 ¶ Afterwarde King Darus wrote, Vnto all people, nations and langages, y^e dwell in all the worlde, Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decre that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome shal not perishe, and his dominion [shal be] euerlasting.

27 He rescueth and deliuereth, & he worketh signes and wonders in heauen & in earths who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the lyons.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darus & in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

¶ While persia was that Darus did worship God aright, or was conuerted, for then he woulde haue destroyed all superstition & idolatry, & honor only God the chief place, but also haue set him vp, & caused him to be honored according to his word: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, wherunto he was compelled by this wonderfull miracle, which hath not onely life in him self, but is the onely fountaine of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

CHAP. VII.

A vision of foure beastes is shewed vnto Daniel. The ten hornes of the fourthe beast. 21 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

IN the first yere of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel sawe a dreame, & there [were] visions in his head, vpon his bed: then he wrote the dreame, [and] declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I sawe in my vision by night, and behold, the foure windes of heauē stroue vpon the great sea.

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea one diuers from another.

4 The first [was] as a lion, and had egle wings: I behelde, til the wings thereof were plucked of, and it was lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon [his] fete as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And beholde, another beast [which was] the seconde, was like a beare and stode vpon the one side: and he had thre ribbes in his mouth betwene his teeth, & they said thus vnto him, Arise [and] deuoure muche flesh.

6 After this I behelde, and lo, there [was] another like a leopard, which had vpon his backe foure wings of a foule: y^e beast had also foure heads, and dominion was giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in the visions by night, and beholde, the fourth beast [was] fearful & terrible & very strong. It had great iron teeth: it deuoured and brake in pieces and stamped the residue vnder his fete: and it was vnlike to the beasts y^e were before it: for it had ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little horne, before whome there were thre

For Augustus toke from the Senate the libertie of choosing the deputies to send into the provinces, and toke the gouernement of certaine countreis to himself.

of the

of the first hornes pluckt away: & behold, in this horne [were] eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouthe speaking presumptuous things.

9 I behelde, till the thrones were set vp, and the Ancient of daies did sit, whose garment was white as snow, & the heere of his head like the pure wolfe: his throne [was like] the fyrie flame, [&] his wheelles [as] burning fyre.

10 A fyrie streame yssued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministred vnto him, and ten thousand thousands stode before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then I behelde, because of the voyce of the presumptuous wordes, which the horne spake: I behelde, euen till the beast was slaine, & his bodie destroyed and giuen to the burning fyre.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certeine time and season.

13 As I behelde in visions by night, behold, a one like the sone of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and approached vnto the Ancient of daies, & they brought him before him.

14 And he gaue him dominion, & honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages shulde serue him: his dominion [is] an euermlasting dominion, which shal neuer be taken away: and his kingdome shal neuer be destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my bodie, and the visions of mine head made me afraied.

16 Therefore I came vnto one of them that stode by, and asked him the trueth of all this: so he tolde me, & shewed me the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beastes which are foure, [are] foure Kings, which shall arise out of the earth,

18 And they shal take the kingdome of the Saintes of the moste high, and possesse the kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I wolde [knowe] the trueth of the fourth beast, which was so vnlike to all the others, very feareful, whose teeth were of yron, & his nailes of bras: [w]e decreued, brake in peeces, and shaped the residue vnder his fete.

20 Also to [knowe] of the ten hornes that were in his head, & of the other which came vp, before whome thre fell, and of the horne that had eyes, & of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose name was more stout then his felowes.

21 I behelde, & the same horne made battel against the Saintes, yea and preuailed against them,

22 Vntill the Ancient of daies came, & iudgement was giuen to the Saintes of the most high: and the time approached, that the Saintes possessed the kingdome.

23 Then he said, The fourth beast shal be the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shal be vnlike to all the kingdomes, and shal deuoure the whole earth, & shal treade it downe and breake it in peeces.

24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome [are] ten Kings that shal rise: & another shal rise after them, & he shal be vnlike to the first, and he shal subdue thre Kings.

25 And shal speake wordes against the moste high, and shal consume the Saintes of the most high, and thinke that he maie change times and lawes, and they shal be giuen into his hand, vntill a time, and times, and the deuiding of time.

26 But the iudgement shal sit, and they shal take away his dominion, to consume and destroye it vnto the end.

27 And the kingdome, and dominion, & the greatnes of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen shal be giuen to the holic people of the most high, whose kingdome [is] an euermlasting kingdome, and all power shal serue and obey him.

28 Euen this is the end of the matter, I worde and send through out all their dominion to destroye it.

These Emperours shal not consider that they haue their power of God but thinke it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and mans, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavianus, Tyberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus &c.

God shal suffer them thus to rage against his Saintes for a long time, which is meant by the time, and times, but at length he will awayne these troubles and shorten the times for his electes sake, Mat. 24. 29. which is here meant by the diuiding of time.

God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroye this litle horne, that it shall neuer rise vp againe.

He sheweth wherefore the beast shulde be destroyed, so wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnes, which though they do not fully inioye here, yet they haue it in hope and by the preaching of the Gospel enioye the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes, vnder the heauen: and therefore he here speaketh of the beginning of Christs kingdome in this worlde, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head.

That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen this out of this worlde, that they shulde loke vp to the heauens, whereon all their hope dependeth.

For the other three monarchies were gouerned by a King, and the Romaine empire by Consul, the Romans charged these gouernours yearly, & the other monarchies retained this for terme of life: also the Romans were the strongest of all the other, & were neuer quiet among themselves.

I Read ver. 7.

This is ment of the fourth beast, which was more terrible then the other.

Meaning the Romaine Emperours who warre most cruel against the Church of God bothe of the Jewes and Gentiles.

Till God shewed his power in the perise of Christ, and by the preaching of the Gospel gaue vnto his sonnerest, and so obtained a famous name in the worlde, and were called the Church of God or the kingdome of God.

Read the exposition hereof, ver. 8.

That is, shal make wicked decrees, and proclamations, against Gods

all that did professe it. These Emperours shal not consider that they haue their power of God but thinke it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and mans, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavianus, Tyberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus &c.

God shal suffer them thus to rage against his Saintes for a long time, which is meant by the time, and times, but at length he will awayne these troubles and shorten the times for his electes sake, Mat. 24. 29. which is here meant by the diuiding of time.

These Romane Emperours were the first used a certaine humane and gentill, and were content that others as the Consul and Senate shuld haue the name of dignitie, so that they might haue the power, and therefor in election and counsels would behaue themselves as did the Senators against their enemies and that that wolde fight them, they were fiercer and cruel, which were ment by the word mouth, meaning the place where God & his Angels shuld come to judge these monarchies, & beginne at the first coming of Christ. This is ment of the first coming of Christ, which was before all times, & here described in mans nature able to compare some portion of his glory. This is, an infinite number of Angels, which were ready to serue his commandment: This is ment of the first coming of Christ, when as he will that God was ready to receiue his Gospel. Meaning that the nation of the Jews shuld be saved by the coming of Christ, and the people of the world should be saved by the coming of Christ when he should come againe.

u Thogh he had manie motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seve out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God reuiled, and kept it in memorie and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

¶ CHAP. VIII.

A vision of a bartel betwene a ramme and a goat. 20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

IN the thirde yere of the reigne of King Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto me, [euen] vnto me Daniel, after that [which] appeared vnto me at the first.

2 And I sawe in a vision, & when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the prouince^b of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuier of Vlai.

3 Then I looked vp and sawe, and beholde, there stode before the riuier a^c ramme, which had two hornes: and these two hornes [were] hie: but one was^d hier then another, & the hiest came vp last.

4 I sawe the ram pushing against the West and against the North, and against the South: so that no^e beastes might stande before him, nor colde deliuer out of his hand, but he did what he list, and became great.

5 And as I considered, beholde, f a goat came from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goat [had] an^g horne that appeared betwene his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ram that had the two hornes, whome I had sene standing by the riuier, and ranne vnto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I sawe him come vnto the ramme, and being moued against him, he^h smote the ramme, and brake his two hornes: & there was no power inⁱ ramme to stand against him, but he cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, & there was none that colde deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therefore the goat waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest, his great^j horne was broken: and for it came vp foure that^k appeared toward the foure windes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth^l a litle horne, which waxed very great rowarde the^m South, and toward theⁿ East, and toward the^o pleasant [land.] 10 Yea, it grew vp vnto the^p hoste of heauen, & it cast downe [some] of the hoste, and of the starres to the ground, & trode vpon them, 11 And extolled him self against the^q prince of the hoste from whome the^r daylie [sacrifice] was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuarie was cast downe. 12 And^s a time shalbe given [him] ouer the daylie [sacrifice] for the iniquitie: and it shal^t cast downe the truth to^u ground, and thus shal it do, and prosper. 13 Then I heard one of the^v Sainctes speaking, and one of the Sainctes spake vnto a certeine one, saying, How long [shal endure] the vision of the daylie [sacrifice] & the iniquitie of the^w desolation to tread bothe the Sanctuarie and the^x yamic vnderfote? 14 And^y he answered me, Vnto the^z evening [and] the morning, two thousand & thre hundred, then shal the Sanctuarie be clenfed. 15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

11 And extolled him self against the^q prince of the hoste from whome the^r daylie [sacrifice] was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuarie was cast downe. 12 And^s a time shalbe given [him] ouer the daylie [sacrifice] for the iniquitie: and it shal^t cast downe the truth to^u ground, and thus shal it do, and prosper. 13 Then I heard one of the^v Sainctes speaking, and one of the Sainctes spake vnto a certeine one, saying, How long [shal endure] the vision of the daylie [sacrifice] & the iniquitie of the^w desolation to tread bothe the Sanctuarie and the^x yamic vnderfote? 14 And^y he answered me, Vnto the^z evening [and] the morning, two thousand & thre hundred, then shal the Sanctuarie be clenfed. 15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

12 And^s a time shalbe given [him] ouer the daylie [sacrifice] for the iniquitie: and it shal^t cast downe the truth to^u ground, and thus shal it do, and prosper. 13 Then I heard one of the^v Sainctes speaking, and one of the Sainctes spake vnto a certeine one, saying, How long [shal endure] the vision of the daylie [sacrifice] & the iniquitie of the^w desolation to tread bothe the Sanctuarie and the^x yamic vnderfote? 14 And^y he answered me, Vnto the^z evening [and] the morning, two thousand & thre hundred, then shal the Sanctuarie be clenfed. 15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

13 Then I heard one of the^v Sainctes speaking, and one of the Sainctes spake vnto a certeine one, saying, How long [shal endure] the vision of the daylie [sacrifice] & the iniquitie of the^w desolation to tread bothe the Sanctuarie and the^x yamic vnderfote? 14 And^y he answered me, Vnto the^z evening [and] the morning, two thousand & thre hundred, then shal the Sanctuarie be clenfed. 15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

14 And^y he answered me, Vnto the^z evening [and] the morning, two thousand & thre hundred, then shal the Sanctuarie be clenfed. 15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had sene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde there stode before me^a like the similitude of a man. 16 And I heard a mans voyce betweene [the bankes] of Vlai, which called and said, Gabriél, make this man to vnderstand the vision. 17 So he came where I stode: and when he came, I was afraied, and fel vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, sonne of man: for^b in the last time [shal be] the vision. 18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a slepe [fel] on my face to^c ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place. 19 And he said, Beholde, I wil shewe thee what shal be in the last^d wrath: for in the end of the time appointed [it shal come.] 20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, [are] the Kings of the Medes and Persians. 21 And the goat [is] the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King. 22 And that that is broken, & foure stode vp for it, [are] foure kingdomes, which shal stand vp^e of that nation, but not^f in his strength.

10. For we haue not obeyed the^h voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which he had laid before vs by the ministerie of his seruants the Prophetes.

11. Yea, all Israël haue transgressed thy Lawe, and are turned backe, and haue not heard thy voice: therefore theⁱ curse is powred vpon vs, & the othe that is written in the Lawe of Moses the seruant of God, because we haue sinned against him.

12. And he hath confirmed his wordes, which he spake against vs, & against our iudges that iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13. All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turne from our iniquities and vnderstand thy truth.

14. Therefore hath the Lord^j made readie the plague, & brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes, which he doeth: for we wold not heare his voyce.

15. * And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, & hast gotten thee renoume, as [appeareth] this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly,

16. O Lord, according to all thy^k righteousnes, I beseeche thee, let thine angre & thy wrath be turned away from thy citie Ierusalem thine holy Mountaine: for because of our sinnes, & for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem & thy people [are] a reproche to all [that are] about vs.

17. Now therefore, O our God, heare^l prayer of thy seruāt, & his supplications, and cause thy face to^m shine vpon thy Sanctuarie, that lyeth waste for theⁿ Lords sake.

18. O my God, encline thine care and heare, open thine eyes, and beholde our desolation.

¶ CHAP. X.

¶ There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen, 11 VVhich sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

1 IN the^a third yere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reueiled vnto Daniél (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the worde [was] true, but the time appointed [was] b long, & he vnderstode the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

2 At the same time, I Daniél was in heau-nes for thre weekes of daies.

3 I eat no plesant bread, nether came flesh nor wine in my mouth, nether did I anoint my self at all, til thre weekes of daies were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure & twentieth day of the first moneth, as I^d was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddékel,

5 And I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there [was] a man^e clothed in linen, whose loynes were girded with fine golde of^f Vphaz.

6 His bodie also [was] like the Chrysolite, and his face (to loke vpon) like the lightening, & his eyes as lampes of fyre and his armes & his fete [were] like in colour to polished brasse, & the voyce of his wor-des [was] like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniél alone sawe the vision : for f men that were w^h me, sawe not the vision, but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid them selues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great vision, & the^g turned in me into corruption, & I retained no power

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I slept on my face: & my face [was] toward the grounde.

10 And beholde, an hand^h touched me, which set me vpon my knees and vpon
the palmes of myne hands.

11 And he said vnto me, O Daniél, a man greatly beloued, vnderstand the wordes that I speake vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this worde vnto me, I stode trembling.

13 But the prince of the kingdome of Persia withstode me one and twentie dayes: but lo, Michaél one of the chief princes, came to help me, & I remained there by the Kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to shewe thee what shal come to thy people in the latter dayes: for yet the vision [is] for [manie] daies.

15 And when he spake these wordes vnto me, I set my face toward the grounde, & helde my tongue.

16 And beholde, one like the similitude of the sonnes of man touched my lippes: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said vnto him that stode before me, O my Lord, by the vision my sorowes are returned vpon me, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For how can the seruāt of this my Lord talke with my Lord [being] suche one? for as for me, straight way there remained no strength in me, nether is there breth left in me.

18 Then there came againe, and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man, greatly beloued, feare not: peace [be] vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken vnto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my Lord speake: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? but now wil I returne to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shal come.

21 But I will shewe thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of trueth: & there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michaél your Prince.

CHAP. XI.

A prophetic of the kingdomes, which shulde be enemies to the church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Grece, 5 Of Egypt, 23 Of Syria, 36 And of the Romanes.

1 Also, in the first yere of Darius of the Medes, [euen] I stode to incourage and to strengthen him.

2 And now wil I shewe thee the truth. Behold, there shal stand vp yet foure Kings in Persia, & the fourth shalbe farre richer than they all: and by his strength, [and] by his Cambyses that now reigned, was the first, the seconde Darius the sonne of Hytaspes, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God and stode against them.

riches he shal stirre vp all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a mightie King shall stand vp, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stand vp, his kingdome shalbe broken, and shalbe deuised toward the foure windes of heauen: and not to his posteritie, nor according to his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdome shalbe pluckt vp, euen [to be] for others besides those.

5 And the King of the South shalbe mightie, and [one] of his princes, and shal preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion [shalbe] a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeres they shalbe ioyned together: for the Kings daughter of the South shal come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retaine the power of the arme, neither shall he continue, nor his arme: but she shalbe deliuered [to death], and they that brought her, & he that begate her, & he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the budde of her rootes shall one stand vp in his stead, which shall come with an armie, and shal entre into the forteresse of the King of the North, and do with them [as he list], and shal preuaile,

8 And shal also carye captiues into Egypt their gods with their molten images, [and] with their precious vessels of silver and of golde, and he shal continue mo yeres then the King of the North.

9 So the King of the South shal come into [his] kingdome, and shal returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shalbe stirred vp, and shal assemble a mightie great armie: and [one] shal come, and ouerflowe and passe through: then shal he returne, and be stirred vp at his forteresse.

11 And the King of the South shalbe angrie, and shal come forth, and fight with him, [euen] with the King of the North:

for he shulde haue bothe Asia and Syria. n That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemus Philadelphus shalbe giuen in mariage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinitie that Syria and Egypt shulde haue a continual peace together. o That force and strength shal not continue for some after Berenice & her yong sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake. p Nether Ptolemus, nor Antiochus. q Some read, seed, meaning the child begotten of Berenice. r Some read, she that begate her, & thereby vnderstand her sures, which brought her vp: so that all thei that were occasion of this mariage, were destroyed. s Meaning Ptolemus Evergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus shulde succede in the kingdome being of that same stocke that Berenice was. t To reuenge his fifters death against Antiochus Calinicus King of Syria. u For this Ptolemus reigned six & fortie yeres. x Meaning Seleucus & Antiochus great, the sonnes of Calinicus shal make warre against Ptolemus Philopater & sonne of Philadelphus. y For his elder brother Seleucus dyed, or was slaine while the warres were preparing. z That is, Philopater when he shal see Antiochus to take great damage from him in Syria, & also ready to invade Egypt.

Daniel.

The Kings dissemble.

a For Antiochus had six thousand horse men and threescore thousand footmen.

b After the death of Ptolemy Philopater, who left Ptolemy Epiphanes his heire.

c For not only Antiochus came against him, but also Philip King of Macedonia, & these two brought great power vnto them.

d For vnder Olaus which falsly alledged that place of Isa.

29. 19. certayne of the Jewes retired with him into Egypt to fulfill this propheticke: also the Angel sheweth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the providence and counsel of God.

e The Egyptians were not able to resist Stopas Antiochus captaine.

f He sheweth that he shal not onelie afflict the Egyptians, but also the Jewes, & shal enter into their country, whereof he admonisheth the before, & they may knowe & all these things come by Gods providence.

g This was the seconde battell that Antiochus fought against Ptolemy Epiphanes.

h To wit, a bewtiful woman, which was Cleopatra Antiochus daughter. i For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdome of Egypt.

k She shal not agree to his wicked counsell, but shal leaue her house bard, as her duetie requireth, and not seke his destruction. l That is, towards Asia, Grecia & those yles which are in the sea called Mediterranean: for the Jewes called all countreys yles & were deuised fro them by sea. m For where as Antiochus was wont to contemne the Romaines, & put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Attilius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight & caused his shame to turne on his owne head. n By his wicked life & obeying of foolish counsel.

o For feare of the Romaines he shal flee to his holdes. p For when vnder the pretence of pouertie he wolde haue robbed the temple of Iupiter Dodonensis, the coheremen slue him. q That is, Seleucus shal succede his father Antiochus.

r Nor by foraine enemies or battell, but by treason. s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought, was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, & was of a vile, cruel and a flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers for he shal set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shal be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shal be proude, and their heart shal be lift vp: for he shal cast downe thousands: but he shal not [still] preuaile.

13 For the King of the North shal returne, and shal set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shal come forth (after certeine yeres) with a mightie armie, & great riches.

14 And at the same time there shal manie stand vp against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of thy people shal exalt them selues to establish the vision, but they shal fall.

15 So the King of the North shal come, & cast vp a mounte, and take the strong citie: and the armes of the South shal not resist, nether his chosen people, nether [shal] there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that shal come, shal do vnto him as he list, and none shal stand against him: and he shal stand in the pleins land, which by his hand shal be consumed.

17 Againe he shal set his face to enter vnto the power of his whole kingdome, & his confederates with him: thus shal he do, & he shal giue him the daughter of womē, to destroye her: but she shal not stande for his side, nether be for him.

18 After this shal he turne his face vnto the yles, & shal take many, but a prince shal cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that he shal cause his owne shame to turne vpon himself.

19 For he shal turne his face towards the fortres of his owne land: but he shal be ouerthrowen & fall, & be no more founde.

20 Then shal stand vp in his place in the glorie of the kingdome, one that shal raise taxes: but after fewe dayes he shal be destroyed, nether in wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shal stand vp a vile personne to whome they shal not giue the honour of the kingdome: but he shal come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdome by flatteries.

22 And the times shal be ouerthrowen vnto a flood before him, and shal be broken: & also the prince of the covenant.

13 And after the league [made] with him, he shal worke disceitfully: for he shal come vp, and ouercome with a small people.

24 He shal entre into the quiet and plentiful province, & he shal do that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shal deuide among them the pray and the spoyle, & the substance, yea, & he shal forecast his deuises against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also he shal stirre vp his power and his courage against the King of the South with a great armie, and the King of the South shal be stirred vp to battell with a very great and mightie armie: but he shal not stand: for they shal forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that fede of the portion of his meat, shal destroy him: & his armie shal ouerflowe: and many shal fall, and be slaine.

27 And bothe these Kings hearts [shal be] to do mischief, and they shal talke of disceite at one table: but it shal not auail: for yet the end [shal be] at the time appointed.

28 Then shal he returne into his land with great subtiltie: for his heart shal be against the holie covenant: so shal he do and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed he shal returne, and come toward the South: but the last shal not be as the first.

30 For the shippes of Chittim shal come against him: therefore he shal be sorie and returne, and fight against the holie covenant: so shal he do, he shal euen returne and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holie covenant.

31 And armes shal stand on his parte, and they shal pollute the Sanctuary of strength, and shal take away the dailie [sacrifice], & they shal set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the covenant, shal he cause to sinne by flatteries.

they can not do what they list the selues. g VVhich he shal take of the Jewes in spoiling Ierusalem & the Temple, & this is told the before to moue the to patience, knowing all things are done by Gods providence. h That is, the Romaine power shal come against him: for P. Popilius ambassador appointed him to depart in Romaines name, to vnting he obeyed although with grief, & to reuenge his rage he came against the people of God the seconde time. i VVith the Jewes which shal forsake the covenant of the Lord: for first he was called against the Jewes by Iason the high Priest, & this seconde time by Menelaus. k A great faction of the wicked Jewes shal holde with Antiochus. l So called, because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set vp in the Temple the image of Iupiter Olympius, and so began to corrupt the pure seruice of God. m Meaning such as bare the name of Jewes: but in dede were nothing lesse: for they folde their soules, and betrayed their brethren for gaine.

t He sheweth that great foraine powers shal come to help the young sonne of Seleucus against his vnkle Antiochus, and yet shal be ouerthrowen.

u Meaning Ptolemy Philopater sonne, who was this childes counger maiorie and is here called the prince of the covenant, because he was the chief, and all other followed his condite.

HOSEA.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtil counsel of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in fteede of his true seruice commanded by his worde worshipped him according to their fantasies and traditions of men, giuing them selues to moste vile idolatrie and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophetes to call them to repentance: but they grewe euer worse and worse, and still abused Gods benefites. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Malah and Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne them of their ingratitude: and where as they thought them selues to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adulterie: and therefore sheweth them that God wold take away there kingdome, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuentie yeres, though they remained still in their vices and wickednes, and derided the Prophetes, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they should nether be discouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter them selues by the sweetness of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principal partes of the Law, which are the promises of saluation, and the doctrine of life: for the first parte he directeth the faithful to Messiah, by whome onely they shuld haue true deliuerance: and for the seconde, he vseth threatnings & reproaches to bring them from there wicked maners and vices, and this is the chief scope of all the Prophetes, ether by Gods promises to allure them to be godlie, als by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Law containe these two pointes, yet the Prophetes moreover note peculiarly both the time of Gods iudgements and the manner.

CHAP. I.

The time wherein Hosea prophesied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

He worde of the Lord that came vnto Hosea the sonne of Beeri, in the daies of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah, & in the dayes of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash King of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said vnto Hosea, Go, take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredome, [departing] from the Lord.

3 So he went, & toke Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived & bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Call his name Israel: for yet a litle, and I wil visite the blood of Israel vpon the house of Iehū, and will cause to cease the kingdome of the house of Israel.

5 And at that day wil I also breake the bow of Israel in the walley of Israel.

6 She conceived yet againe, and bare a daughter, & [God] said vnto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I wil no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel: but I wil utterly take them away.

7 Yet I wil haue mercie vpon the house of Iudah, and wil saue them by the Lord their God, and wil not saue them by bow nor by sworde, nor by battel, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had wained Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a sonne.

9 Then said [God], Call his name I Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people: therefore wil I not be yours.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shalbe as the sand of the sea, which can not be measured nor tolde: and in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shal be said vnto the [Ye are] the sonnes of the living God.

restored them miraculously by means of Cyrus, Ezr. 1. 1. That is, not my people. Because they thought God could not haue bene true in his promise, except he had preserved the, he declareth, though they were destroyed yet the true Israelites, & are the sonnes of the promise shuld be without number, which stand both of the Iewes and the Gentiles, Rom. 9. 26.

f I wil be re-ved vpon Ieha for the blood he shed in Israel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did the for his owne ambition, and not for the glorie of God, as I end declared: for he buylt vpon that idolatrie, which he had destroyed. VVhen the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shal take vengeance, and destroy all their policies & force. That is, not obtaining mercie: whereby he signifyeth, that Gods fauour was departed from them. For the Israelites neuer returned, after they were taken captiues by the Assyrians. For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by means of Cyrus, Ezr. 1. 1. That is, not my people. Because they thought God could not haue bene true in his promise, except he had preserved the, he declareth, though they were destroyed yet the true Israelites, & are the sonnes of the promise shuld be without number, which stand both of the Iewes and the Gentiles, Rom. 9. 26.

a Called also Azariah, who being a lepre was deposed from the kingdome. b So that it may be gathered by the reigns of these foure Kings, that he preached about thre score yeres. c That is, one that of long time hath accustommed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he sawe this in a vision, or els was commanded by God to serue vnder this parable or figure the idolatrie of the Synagoge, and of the people her children. d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim clusters of figges, declaring, that they were all corrupt like rotten figges. e Meaning, that they shulde be no more called Israelites, of the which name they boasted, because Israel did preuaile with God: but they were as bastards, and therefore shulde be called Israelites, that is, scattered people, alluding to Israel which was the chief cite of the ten tribes vnder Ahab where shed so much blood. 2. King. 10. 3.

11 Then shall the children of Iudah, & the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint them selves one head, & they shall come vp out of the land: for great [is] the day of Iztrel.

At the time of Christ, who shal be the head bothe of the Iewes & Gens. The calamitie and destruction of Iztrel shal be so great, that to them shall be as a miracle.

CHAP. II.

The people is called to repentance. § He sheweth their idolatrie and threatneth th. m except they repent.

1 Say vnto your brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah.

2 Plead with your mother: plead [w] her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, and her adulteries from betwene her breasts,

3 Left I strippe her naked, and set her as in the day that she was borne, and make her as a wildernes, & leaue her like a drye land, and slaye her for thirst.

4 And I wil haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornications.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I wil go after my flouers that giue me my bread and my water, my woll and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore beholde, I wil stoppe ^h thy way with thornes, & make an hedge, that she shal not finde her pathes.

7 Though she followe after her louers, yet shal she not come at them: though she seke them, yet shal she not finde [them:] then shal she say, I wil go and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now she did not knowe that I ^k gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and golde, [which] they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore wil I returne, and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and wil recover my woll and my flaxe [lent,] to couer her shame.

10 And now wil I discouer her ⁿ lewdnes in the sight of her louers, and no man shal deliuer her out of mine hand.

11 I wil also cause her myrth to cease, her feast dayes, her newe moones, & her Sabbathes, and all her sollemne feastis.

12 And I wil destroy her vines and her figtrees, whereof she hath said, These are and also sheweth the vse and profit of Gods rods. k This sheweth that idolaters defraude God of his honour when they attribute his benefits to their Idoles. l Signifying that God wil take away his benefits when man by his ingratitude doeth abuse them. m That is, his seruice, ceremonies and instruments whereby the worshipped her idoles, my rewardes that my louers haue giuen me: and I wil make them as a forest, & the wilde beasts shal eat them.

13 And I wil visit vpon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked her self with hir ^o earings and her iewels, and she followed her louers and forgate me, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore, beholde, I wil allure her, & bring her into the wildernes, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 And I wil giue her her vineyardes from thence, and the valley of Achor for the dore of hope, and she shal sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came vp out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me ⁱ Ishi, and shalt call me no more ^r Baali.

17 For I wil take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shal be no more remembred by their names.

18 And in that day wil I make a couenant for them with the wilde beasts, and with the foule of the heauen, and with that ^f creepeth vpon the earth: and I wil breake the bowe, and the sworde and the battell out of the earth, and wil make them to slepe safely.

19 And I wil marie the vnto me for euer: yea, I wil marie thee vnto me in righteousness, and in iudgement, and in mercie & in compassion.

20 I wil euen marie thee vnto me in faithfulness, and thou shalt knowe the Lord.

21 And in that day I wil heare, saith the Lord, I wil [euen] heare ^h the heauens, & they shal heare the earth, 22 And the earth shal heare the corne, & the wine, and the oyle, and they shal heare Iztrel.

23 And I wil sowe her vnto me in the earth, and I wil haue mercie vpon her, that was not pitied, and I wil say to them which were not my people, ^t Thou art my people. And they shal say, [Thou art] my God.

z This shal the heade desire raine for the earth which shall be for the vse of man. z Rom. 9. 15. 1 pet. 3. 10.

CHAP. III.

The Iewes shal be cast off for their idolatrie. § Afterwarde they shal returne to the Lord.

Then said the Lord to me, ^a Go yet, and loue a womā (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Iztrel: yet they looked to other gods, and ^b loued the wine bottels.

a Herein the Prophet representeth the personne of God, which loued his Church so fore he called her, and did not withdraw the same when she gave her self to idoles. b That is, saue them selves wholly to pleasures, & could not take vp, as they that are given to discipline.

a Yet I loved her and payed a small portion for her, lest she perceiuing the greatness of my loue, shulde haue abused me and not bene vnder theie: for siftened pieces of silver were but half the price of a slave, Exod. 21, 32.

d I will trie thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no.

e Meaning, not only all the time of their captivity, but also vnto Christ. f That is, they shulde neither haue policie nor religion, and their idoles also wherein they put their confidence, shulde be destroyed. g This is ment of Christs kingdome, which was promised vnto Dauid to be eternal. Psal. 72, 38.

So I bought her to me for fiftene [pieces] of siluer, and for an homer of barlie & an halfe [homer] of barlie.

8 And I said vnto her, Thou shalt abide with me marie dayes: Thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt be to none [other] man, and I wil be to vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall remaine many dayes without a King, and without a prince, and without an offering, & without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 Afterwarde shall the children of Israel conuert, and seke the Lord their God, & Dauid their King, & shall feare the Lord, and his goodnes in the latter dayes.

CHAP. III.

A complaint against the people, and the Priests of Israel.

a Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he censureth them before the judgement seat of God, against whome they chiefly offended. Isa. 7, 12. zechia. 13, 10.

b In euery place appeareth a liberie to most heinous vices, so that one followeth in the neck of another.

c As though he wolde say, that they were in vaine to rebuke them, for no man can abide it: yea, they will speake against the Prophet and Priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

d Ye shall perishe altogether: yea, because he wolde not obey, and this other because he wolde not admonish. e That is, the Synagogue wherein thou boatest.

f That is, the Priests shal be eat of, because that for lacke of knowledge, they are not able to execute their charge, & instruct others.

g The more I was beneficiall vnto them. i To wit, the Priests like to eat the peoples offerings and flatter them in their sinnes.

1 H Eare the worde of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hateth a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there [is] no truth, nor mercie, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring they breake out, & blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, & crie one that dwelleth therein, shall be cut of, with the beasts in the field, and with the foules of the heauen, & also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people [are] as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, & the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroye thy mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee, & thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: [therefore] will I change their glorie into shame.

8 They eat vp the sinnes of my people, & lift vp their mindes in their iniquitie.

9 And there shall be like people, like Priests: for I will visite their wayes vpon them, & rewarde them their dedes.

10 For they shall eat, & not haue ynough:

Deu. 33, 3. malachi. 3, 7.

g Meaning, the whole body of the people which were vnto with hearing the word of God.

i To wit, the Priests like to eat the peoples offerings and flatter them in their sinnes.

k Signifying, that as they haue sinned together, so shall they be punished together.

they shall commit adulterie, and shall not increase, because they haue left of to take hede to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, & wine, and newe wine take away [their] heart.

12 My people aske counsel at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornications hath caused [them] to erre, and they haue gone a whoring vnder their God.

13 They sacrifice vpon the toppes of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hilles vnder the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elme, because the shadowe thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be harlottes, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not visite your daughters when they are harlottes, nor your spouses when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlottes, & sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

15 Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Iudah sinne: come not ye vnto Gilgal, nether go ye vp to Beth-auen, nor sweare, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an vnruled heifer, Now the Lord will fede thee as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim [is] ioyned to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennes stinketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue [to say] with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bounde them vp in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

f For albeit the Lord had honored this place in time past by his presence, yet, because it was abused by their idolatrie, he wold not that his people should reuerse thereto. g He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there: signifying that no place is holie where God is not purely worshipped. h God will so disperse them that they shall not remaine in any certaine place.

i They are so impudent in receiving bribes, that they will commandement to bring them vnto them. y To carye them suddenly away.

CHAP. V.

1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is vaine.

1 O Ye Priests, heare this, and hearken ye, o house of Israel, and giue ye eare o house of the King: for iudgement [is] towarde you, because you haue bene a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread vpon Taber.

2 Yet they were profounde, to decline to slaughter, though I haue bene a rebuke of them al.

3 I knowe Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: notwithstanding they seemed to be giuen altogether to holiness, and to sacrifices, which howe he calleth slaughter in contempt.

c Though I admonished them continually by my Prophets. d They beuiled themselves not only to hellessnes but also Ephraim, because this King Ieroboam came of that tribe.

l Shewing that their wickednes shal be punished on all sides: for though they thinke by multitude of holines to haue their children, yet they shall be caused of their hope.

m In giuing selues to pleasures, the become like brutes.

n Their holines is by calling the people now for holines, that they be not for the fight for holines of riches and stickers.

o They are carried away with a rage.

p Because they take away Gods honore and giue it to idoles, therefore he will giue the vp to their desires, that they shall discontinue their owne benedict.

q I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment, but let you ranne headlong to your owne damnation.

r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and willett the to learne by their example to returne in time.

s For albeit the Lord had honored this place in time past by his presence, yet, because it was abused by their idolatrie, he wold not that his people should reuerse thereto.

t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there: signifying that no place is holie where God is not purely worshipped.

u God will so disperse them that they shall not remaine in any certaine place.

v They are so impudent in receiving bribes, that they will commandement to bring them vnto them.

y To carye them suddenly away.

z The Priests and princes, called the people in their sinnes as the fowles did the birds, in these two high mountaines.

aa Though I admonished them continually by my Prophets.

ab They beuiled themselves not only to hellessnes but also Ephraim, because this King Ieroboam came of that tribe.

from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, [and] Israel is defiled.

4 They will not give their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the middes of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face: therefore shal Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquitie: Iudah also shal fall with them.

6 They shal go with their sheepe, and with their bullockes to seke the Lord: but they shal not finde him: [for] he hath withdrawen him self from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord for they haue begotten strange children: now shal a moneth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blowe ye the trumpet in Gibeah, [and] the shauime in Ramah: crye out at Beth-auen, after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shalbe desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel haue I caused to knowe the truth.

10 The princes of Iudah were like the that remoued bondes: [therefore] wil I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, [and] broken in iudgement, because he willingly walked after the commandement.

12 Therefore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iudah as a rottenness.

13 When Ephraim sawe his sickenes, and Iudah his wounde, then went Ephraim vnto Asshur, and sent vnto King Iareb: yet colde he not heale you, nor cure you of your wounde.

14 For I wil be vnto Ephraim as a lyon, & as a lyons whelp to the house of Iudah: I [euen] I wil spoyle, and go away: I wil take away, and none shal rescue in.

15 I wil go, [and] returne to my place, til they acknowledge their faute, and seke me in their affliction: they wil seke me diligently.

CHAP. VI.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednes of the priests.

Come, and let vs returne to the Lord for he hath spoyled, and he wil heale vs: he hath wounded vs, & he wil binde vs vp.

After two dayes wil he raine vs, [and] in the third day he wil raise vs vp, and we shal liue in his sight.

Then shal we haue knowledge, & endeuour our selues to knowe the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning,

& he shal come vnto vs as the raine, [and] as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shal I do vnto thee? & Iudah, how shal I entreat thee? for your goodnes [is] as a morning cloude, and as the morning dewe it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe by the Prophets, I haue slaine them by the wordes of my mouth: and thy iudgements [were as] the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercie, and not sacrifice, & the knowledge of God more then burnt offrings.

7 But they like men haue transgressed the couenant: there haue they trespassed against me.

8 Gilead [is] a citie of them that worke iniquitie, [and is] polluted with blood.

9 And as theues waite for a man, [so] the companie of Priests murder in the way by consent: for they worke mischief.

10 I haue sene vilenie in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim: Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, Iudah hath set a plant for thee, whiles I wolde returne the captiuitie of my people.

12 That is, like light an deuoke perfumes. 13 Which was the Priests dwelt, and which shuld haue bene best instructed in my wordes.

14 That is, doeth iniquitie in idolatrie and hath taken grasse of thy trees.

6 For thei haue made readie their heart like an ouen whiles they lye in waite: their baker slepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fyre.

The destruction of Iudah and Israel, because of their dolatry.

S [Et] the trumpet to thy mouth: [the shal come] as an eple agaiſt the House of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my couenant, and trespassed agaiſt my Law.

2 Israel shal crye vnto me, My God, we knowe thee:

3 Israel hathe cast of the thing that is good:
the enemy shal pursue him.

4 They haue set vp a King, but not by me:
they haue made princes, and I knewe it not: of their silver and their golde haue they made the idoles: therefore shal they be destroyed.

5 Thy calfe, o Samaria, hathe cast thee of:
mine anger is kindeled against them: how long wil they be without innocencie!

6 For it came cuen from Israel: the worke man made it, therefore it is not God: but by them selues, and of their fashion in the wildernes.

the calfe of Samaria shalbe [broken] in pieces.

7 For they haue sowne the winde, & they shal reape the whirlwinde: it hath no stalke: the budde shal bring forth no meale: if so be it bring forth, the strangers shal deuoure it.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shal they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone vp to Asshur: [thei are as] a wilde asse alone by him self: Ephraim hathe hyred louers.

10 Yet thogh they haue hyred among the nations, now wil I gather them, and they shal sorowe a litle, for the burden of the King, [and] the princes,

11 Because Ephraim hathe made manie altars to sinne, his altars [shalbe] to sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my Law: [but] they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offrings, and eat it: [but] the Lord accepteth them not: now wil he remeber their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes: thei shal returne to Egypt.

14 For Israel hathe forgotten his maker, & buyldeth temples, and Iudah hathe en-creased strong cities: but I wil send a fyre vpon his cities, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof.

but Ephraim wil returne to Egypt, & they wil eat vncleane things in Asshur.

4 They shal not offer wine to the Lord, nether shal their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: [but they shalbe] vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shal be polluted: for their bread for their soules shal not come into the House of the IOEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Joel first rebuketh them of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaine still obstinate. Secondly he threateth greater plagues, because they grewe dailie to a more hardnes of heart, and rebelled against God notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceede from the heart because they had grievously offended God. And so doing, he promitteth, that God wil be merciful, and not forget his covenant that he made with their fathers: but wil send his Christ, who shal gather the scattered shepe, and restore them to life, and libertie, though they seemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

A prophesie against the Iewes. 2 He exhorteth the people to prayer, and fasting for the miserie that was at hand.

HE worde of ^f Lord thaⁱ came to Ioel ^f sonne of Pethuel. Heare ye this, o^e Elders, & hearken ye all inhabitants of ^f land, whether ^b such a thing hath bene in your dayes, or yet in the dayes of your fathers.

3 Tell you your children of it, and let your children [shewe] to their children, & their children to another generation.

4 That which is left of the palmer worme, hathe the grasshopper eaten, and the residue of the grasshopper hathe the canker worme eaten, and the residue of the canker worme hathe the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake ye^e drunkardes, and wepe, and houle all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it shalbe pulled from your mouth.

6 Yea, ^a a nation cometh vpon my^e land, mightie, & without nomber, whose teeth [are like] the teeth of a lyon, and he hathe the iawes of a great lyon.

7 He maketh my vine waste, and pillesh of ^f barke of my figtre: he maketh it bare, and casteth it downe: the branches thereof are made white.

8 Mourn like a virgine girded with sackcloth for the hous^e band of^e her youth.

9 The meat offering, and the drinke offering is^e cut of from the House of the Lord: the Priests the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The field is wasted: the land mourneth: for the corne is destroyed: the new wine is dried vp, [and] the oyle is decayed.

11 Be ye ashamed, o^e hus^e bande me^e: houle, o^e ye vine dressers, for the wheat, and for the barley, because the haruest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figtre is decayed: the pomegranate tre and the palme tre, and the aple tre, [euen] all the trees of the field are withered: surelie the ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 ^b Girde your selues and lament, ye Priests: houle ye ministers of the altar: come, [and] lye all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering, and the drinke offering is taken away from the House of your God.

a Signifying, ^f Princes, the Priests, & the gouernours.

b He calleth ^f Iewes to ^f consideration of Gods iudgements, who had now plagued the fruites of the ground for the space of foure yere^e was for their sinnes, and to call them to repentance.

c Meaning that the occasion of their excess & drunkennes was taken away.

d This was another plague wherewith God had punished them, when he stirred vp ^f Assyrians against them.

e Mourn grieuouly as a woman which hath the lost her husband, to whom she hath bene married in her youth.

f The tokens of Gods wrath did appeare in his Temple in so much, as Gods seruice was left of.

g All comforte and substance for nourishment is taken away.

h He sheweth that ^f onely meanes to auoid Gods wrath, & to haue all things restored is vnfeined repentance.

14 Sanctifie you a fast: call a solemne assemblie: gather the Elders, [and] all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the Lord your God, and crye vnto the Lord, 15 Alas: for the day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and it cometh as a destruction from the Almighty.

16 Is not the meat cut of before oure eyes? [and] ioye, and gladnes from the House of our God?

17 The sede is rotten vnder their cloddes: the garners are destroyed: the barnes are broken downe, for the corne is withered.

18 How did the beastes mourne? the herdes of cattel pine away, because they haue no pasture, and the flockes of shepe are destroyed.

19 O Lord, to thee will I crye: for the fyre hathe deuoured the pastures of the wildernesses, and the flame hathe burnt vp all the trees of the field.

20 The beastes of the field crye also vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dried vp, and the^e fyre hathe deuoured the pastures of the wildernesses.

CHAP. II.

He prophesieth of the coming and crueltie of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert.

18 The loue of God towards his people.

1 ^B Lowe^e the trumpet in Zion, & shout in mine holie Mountaine: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the daie of the Lord is come: for it [is] at hand.

2 A^e daie of darknes, and of blacknes, a daie of cloudes, & obscuritie, as the morning spreade vpon the mountaines, [so is] therea^e great people, and a mightie: there was none like it from the beginning, nether shall be anie more after it, vnto the yeres of manie generations.

3 A fyre deuoureth before him, and behinde him a flame burneth vp: the land [is] as the garden of^e Eden before him, and behinde him a desolate wilderness, so that nothing shal escape him.

4 The beholding of him [is] like the sight of horses, and like the horse men, so shal they runne.

5 Like the noyce of charets in the toppes of the mountaines shal they leape, like the noyce of a flame of fyre that deuoureth ^f stubble, [and] as a mightie people prepared to the battel.

6 Before his face shal the people tremble: all faces^e shal gather blacknes.

7 They shal runne like strong men, and go vp to vp to the wall like men of warre, and eu-erie man shal go forwarde in his waies, & thei shal not stay in their paths.

8 Nether shal one thrust another, [but] eu-erie one shal walke in his path: & when thei fall vpon the sword, they shal not be wounded.

9 Thei shal runne to and fro in the citie:
they shal runne vpon the wall: they shal clime vp vpon the houses, [&] enter in at the windowes like the thief.

10 The earth shal tremble before him, the heauens shal shake, the sunne & the moone shal be darke, and the starres shal with-drawe their shining,

11 And the Lord shal utter his voyce before his hoste: for his hoste is very great:
for he is strong that doeth his worke: for the daie of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it!

12 Therefore also now the Lord faith, Turne you vnto me with all your heart, & with fasting, and with weping, and with mourning,

13 And rent your heart, and not your clothes: and turne vnto the Lord your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slowe to angre, and of great kindenes, and repenteth him of the euil.

14 Who knoweth, if he wil returne and repent and leaue a blessing behinde him, [eu]en a meat offering, and a drinke offering vnto the Lord your God?

15 Blowe the trumpet in Zión, sanctifie a fast, call a solemne assemblie.

16 Gather the people: sanctifie the cõgre-gation: gather the Elders: assemble the children, and those that sucke the breasts: let the bridegrome go forth of his chabre, and the bride out of her bride chambre.

17 Let the Priests, the ministers of the Lord wepe betwene the porche & the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and giue not thine heritage into re-proche, the heathen shuld rule ouer thee.

* Wherefore shulde they say among the people, Where is there God?

18 Then wil the Lord be ielouse ouer his land, and spare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord wil answer and say vnto his people, Beholde, I will send you corne, and wine, and oyle, & you shal be satisfied therewith: and I wil no more make you a reproche among the heathen,

20 But I wil reioyce farre off from you the Northen [armie,] and I will driue him into a land baren and desolate, with his face toward the East sea, and his end to the vtmost sea, and his stinke shal come vp, & his corruption shal ascend, because he ha-the exalted him self to do [this.]

21 Feare not, O land, [but] be glad and re-ioyce: for the Lord wil do great things.

22 Be not afraied, ye beastes of the field:
for the pastures of the wildernes are grene: for the tre beareth her frute: the figre and the vine do giue their force.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zión, & re-ioyce in the Lord your God: for he hath giuen you the raine of righteousness, & he wil cause to come downe for you the raine, [eu]en the first raine and the latter raine in the first moneth.]

24 And the barnes shal be ful of wheat, & the presses shal abounde with wine and oyle.

25 And I wil render you the yeres that grasshopper hath eaten, the canker wor-me, and the caterpillar, & the palmer wor-me, my great hoste whiche I sent among you.

26 So you shal eat and be satisfied & praise the Name of the Lord your God, that hath delt mercifully with you: & my people shal neuer be ashamed.

27 Ye shal also knowe, that I am in the mid-des of Israél, & that I am the Lord your God and none other, and my people shal neuer be ashamed.

28 And afterwarde wil I powre out my Spirit vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shal propheticie: your olde men shal dreame dreames, [&] your yong men shal se visions.

29 And also vpon the seruants, and vpon the maides in those daies wil I powre my Spirit.

30 And I wil shewe wonders in the hea-uens and in the earth: blood, and fyre, & pillers of smoke.

31 The sunne shal be turned into darknes, and the moone into blood, before great and terrible daie of the Lord come.

32 But whosoever shal call on the Name of the Lord, shal be saued: for in mount Zión, and in Ierusalem shal be deliueran-ce, as the Lord hath said, & in the remnant, whome the Lord shal cal.

b It appeareth that healludeith to that great victorie of Iehoshaphat, when as God without mans helpe destroyed the enemies, 2. Kin. 20. 26. also he hath respect to this worde, Iehoshaphat, & signifieth pleading or iudgement, because God wolde iudge the enemies of his Church as he did there.

c That which the enemy gaue for the sale of my people, he bestowed it vpon harlots and drinke.

d He taketh cause of his Church in had against the enemy, as though his iniurie were done to him selfe.

e Hauel done you wrong, & ye wil render me the like?

f For afterward God sold them by Nebuchadnezzar, & Alexander, & great, for the loue he bare to his people, and thereby they were comforted as though the price had bene theirs.

g When I shal execute my iudgements against mine enemies, I wil chuse euery one to be ready & prepare their weapons to destroy one another, for my Churches sake.

h Thus he encourageth his enemies when their wickedness is full to destroy another, which he calleth the day of God's judgement.

i God sheweth his against his troubles, when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shal be liuered.

k The strangers shal no more destroy the Church: which if they do, the people will by their finnes make the breach for the same.

l He promisseth to his Church abundance of graces, as Ezek. 47. 1. shal flowe with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shal runne with waters, and a fountaine shal come forth of the House of the Lord, and shal watter the valley of Shittim.

m Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe a desolate wilderness, for the iniuries of the children of Iudah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

n But Iudah shal dwell for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

o For I wil cleanse their blood, that I haue not cleansed, & the Lord wil dwell in Zion.

2 I wil also gather all nations, and wil bring them downe into the^b vallei of Iehoshaphat, and wil plead with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Israel, whome they haue scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue cast lottes for my people, and haue giuen the child, for the harlot, and sold the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 Yea, & what haue you to do with me, O Tyrs & Zidon and all the coastes of Palestina: wil ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly [&] speedely, I wil render your recompense vpon your head:

5 For ye haue take my siluer and my gold, and haue caryed into your temples my goodlie [&] pleasant things.

6 The children also of Iudah and the children of Ierusalem haue you sold vnto the Grecians, that ye might send them farre from their border.

7 Beholde, I wil raise them out of the place where ye haue solde them, and wil render your rewarde vpon your owne head,

8 And I wil sel your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Iudah, and they shal sell the to the Sabeens, to a people farre of: for the Lord him selfe haue spoken it.

9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, wake vp the mightie men: let all the men of warre drawe nere [&] come vp.

10 Break your plowshares into swordes, & your sickles into speares: let the weak saye, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen and gather your selues together round about: there shal the Lord cast downe ne thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, & come vp to the vallei of Iehoshaphat: for there wil I sit to iudge all the heathen rounde about.

13 Put in your^b sickles, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you downe, for the wine presse is full: yea, the wine presses runne ouer, for their wickednes is great.

14 O multitude, O multitude, [come] into the vallei of threshing: for the daie of the Lord [is] nere in the vallei of threshing.

15 The sunne and moone shalbe darkened and the starres shal withdrawe their light.

16 The Lord also shal roare out of Zion, and vtter his voice from Ierusalem, and the heauens, and the earth shal shake, but the Lord wil be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shal ye knowe that I am the Lord your God, dwelling in Zion mine holie Mountaine: then shal Ierusalem be holie, and there shal no strangers go thorow her anie more.

18 And in that daie shal the mountaines droppe downe new wine, and the hilles shal flowe with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shal runne with waters, and a fountaine shal come forth of the House of the Lord, and shal watter the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe a desolate wilderness, for the iniuries of the children of Iudah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Iudah shal dwell for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I wil cleanse their blood, that I haue not cleansed, & the Lord wil dwell in Zion.

AMOS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AMONG many other Prophets that God raised vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednes and idolatrie, he stirred vp Amos, who was an herdman or shepherd of a poore towne, and gaue him bothe knowledge and constancie to reprove all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had liued as they were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their finnes wil punish them, that they coulde looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by vnfeigned repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godlie with hope of the coming of the Messiah, by whom they shoulde haue perfite deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

The time of the prophetic of Amos, 3. The words of the Lord against Damascus. 6 The Philistines, Tyrus, Idumea and Ammon.

These words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Terebinth, he sawe vpon Israel, in the dayes of Vzziah King of Iudah, & in the dayes of Jeroboam the sonne of Ioab King of Israel, two yere before the earth quake.

2 And he said, The Lord shal roare from Zión, and vter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherds shal perish, and the top of Carmel shal wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, & for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they haue threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of yron.

4 Therefore wil I send a fyre into the house of Hazael, and it shal deuoure the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I wil breake also the barres of Damascus and cut of the inhabitant of Biceath-auen and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth-eden, and the people of Aram shal go into captiuitie vnto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they caryed away prisoners the whole captiuitie to shute them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore wil I send a fyre vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I wil cut of the inhabitant fro Ashdod, & him that holdeth the scepter from Ashkelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shal perish, saith the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembered the brotherlie covenant.

10 Therefore wil I send a fyre vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sworde, and did cast of alpietie and his anger spoyled him euermore, and his wrath watched him alway.

12 Therefore wil I send a fyre vpon Teman, & it shal deuoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they haue ript vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore wil I kindle a fyre in the wall of Rabbah, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battel, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their King shal go into captiuitie, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

Against Moab, Iudah, and Israel.

Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because it burne the bones of the King of Edom into lime.

2 Therefore wil I send a fyre vpon Moab, & it shal deuoure the palaces of Keriöch, & Moab shal dye with tumult, with shouting, & with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I wil cut of the iudge out of middes thereof, & I wil slaie all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, for three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Law of the Lord, and haue not kept his commandements, and their lies caused them to erre: after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore wil I send a fyre vpon Iudah, and it shal deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, & for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they sold the righteous for siluer, and the poore for shoes.

7 They gape ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the waies of the meke: & a maid and his father will go in to a maid to dishonour his holie Name.

8 And they lie downe vpon clothes laid to pledge by euery altar: and they drinke the wine of the condemned in the House of their God.

Thinking by these ceremonies, that by and being in euery altar, they may excuse all their sinnes. They spoyle others, and offer them vnto God, thinking they will dispense with them, when he is made partaker of their iniquitie.

h The destruction of their enemies: and his mercie towards them shal haue caused their hearts to melt for lone toward him.

h Ye contemned my benefices and abused my graces and craftily went about to stop the mouthes of my Prophetes.

h You haue rewarded me wth your finnes, Isa. 1. 14.

h None shalbe delivered by any meanes.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite, before the, whose height was like the height of the cedres, and he was strong as the oke, notwithstanding I destroyed his frute from aboute, and his roote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt & led you fourtie yeres thorow the wilderness, to possesse the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophetes, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not euen thus, o ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But ye gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophetes, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Beholde, I am pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is ful of sheaues.

14 Therefore the slight shal perish from the swift, and the strong shal not strengthen his force, nether shal the mightie saue his life.

15 Nor he that handleth the bowe, shal stand, and he that is swift of fote, shal not escape, nether shal he that rideth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

CHAP. III.

h He reproveth the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11. For the which God wil punish them.

HEARE this worde that the Lord pronounceth against you, o children of Israel, (euen) against the whole familie w^{ch} I brought vp fro the land of Egypt, sayig.

You onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities,

Can two walke together except they be agreed?

Will a lion roare in the forest, when he hath no pray: or wil a lions whelp crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fowler is: or wil he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

Or shal a trumpet be blown in the citie, and the people be not afraied: or shal there be cuil in a citie, and the Lord haue the not done it?

Surely the Lord God wil do no thing, but he reueileth his secrets vnto his seruants the Prophetes.

The lion hath roared: who wil not be afraid?

Doeth anle aduenticome without Gods iudgement? h God dealeth not with the Israelites as he doeth with other people: for he euen warneth them before of the plagues by his Prophetes.

afraied: the Lord God hath spoken: who can but prophetic?

9 Proclame in the palaces at Ashdod, & in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria: so beholde the great tumultes in the middes thereof, and the oppressed in the middes thereof.

10 For they knowe not to do right, saith the Lord: they store vp violence, and robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersarie (shal come) euen round about the countrei, and shal bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoiled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepherde raket^h out of the mouth of the lion two legges, or a picce of an eare: so shal the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus, [as in] a couche.

13 Heare, and testifie in the house of Iakob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes.

14 Surely in the day that I shal visite the transgressions of Israel vpon him, I wil also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the hornes of the altar shal be broken of, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of yuorie shal perish, and the great houses shal be consumed saith the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

Against the gouernours of Samaria.

HEARE this worde, ye kine of Bashan that are in the mountaine of Samaria: which oppresse the poore, [and] destroy the nedie, and they say to their masters, Bring, and let vs drinke.

2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that so, the dayes shal come vpon you, that he wil take you away with thornes, & your posteritie with fishe hokes.

3 And ye shal go out at the breaches euertie [kewe] forwarde: & ye shal cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to Beth-el, & transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, [and] your riches after thre yeres.

5 And after a thanks giuing of leaue, publish [and] proclame the fre offerings: for

He speaketh this in contempt of them which resorted to these places, thinking that their great deuotion and good intention had bene sufficient to haue bounde God vnto them. Read Deut. 14. 22. f As Lea. 7. 12.

i Because the people murmured against the Prophetes, he threateth that Gods Spirit moued them so to speake as they did. k He calleth strangers as the Philistines, and Egyptians to be witnesses of Gods iudgements against Israelites for their crueltie & oppression. l The frute of their crokin and theft appeareth by their great riches. m VVhen the lion hath faciate his hags, the shepherde findeth a legge or a tip of an eare to shewe if the shepe hath bene worried. n VVhere they thought to haue had a sure hold, and to haue bene in safety.

a Thus he calleth the princes and gouernours, which being overwhelmed by the great abundance of Gods benefices, forget to God, & therefore he calleth them by the name of beasts & not of men. b They incourage such as haue autoritie ouer the people, to powle them, so they may haue profit by it.

c He alludeth to fishers which catche fish by hokes and cast nets.

d He speaketh this in contempt of them which resorted to these places, thinking that their great deuotion and good intention had bene sufficient to haue bounde God vnto them. Read Deut. 14. 22. f As Lea. 7. 12.

1 This liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 Therefore haue I giuen your clenness of teeth in all your cities, and scarcents of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there [were] yet thre moneths to the harvest, and I caused it to raine vpon one cite, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another cite: one peece was gained vpon, and the peece whercupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two [or] thre cities waded vnto one cite to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting, & mildew: your great gardens & your vineyardes, & your fig trees, and your oliue trees did the palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the maner of Egypt: your yong men haue I slayned with the sword, and haue taken away your horses: and I haue made the stincke of your tents to come vp euen into your hostels: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 I haue ouerthrowen you, as God ouerthrowe Sodóm and Gomorah: & ye were as a fyre brade pluckt out of the burnig: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore, thus wil I do vnto thee, O Israel: and because I wil do this vnto thee, prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountaines: & createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkenes, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes [is] his Name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuitie of Israel.

1 Here ye this worde, which I lift vp vpon you, (euen) a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The virgin Israel is fallen, & shal no more rise: she is left vpon her land, & there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lord God: The cite which went out by a thousand, shal leaue an hundred, and that which wet for she by an hundred, shal leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seke ye me, and ye shal liue.

5 But seke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and go not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shal go into captiuitie, and Beth-el shal come to naught.

6 Seke the Lord, and ye shal liue, lest he breake out like a fyre in the house of Joseph, and deuoure it, & there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 They turned iudgement to wormewood, and leaue of righteousness in the earth.

8 He maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord [is] his Name.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie: and the destroyer shal come against the fortresse.

10 They haue hated him, that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorre him that speaketh vp rightly.

11 For as much then as your treading [is] vpon the poore, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye haue buyt houses of hewen stone, but ye shal not dwel in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shal not drinke wine of them.

12 For I knowe your manifold transgressions, & your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the prudent shal kepe silence in that time, for it is an euil time.

14 Seke good and not euil, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hostes shal be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euil, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hostes wil be mercifull vnto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning [shal be] in all stretes: and they shal say in all the hie waies, Alas, alas: and they shal call the house-bandmas to lamentation, & such as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines [shal be] lamentation: for I wil passe through thee saith the Lord.

18 Wo vnto you, that desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to do with the day of the Lord? [is] darkenes and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lyon, and a beate met him, or went into the house, & leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shal not the day of the Lord be darke.

In these places they worshipped new idoles, which were set up for the true honor of God: therefore he saith, that these idoles shall be destroyed: and he saith, that the day of the Lord shall be darkenes and not light.

He describeth the power of God, who can destroy the world, and he can turne the day into night, and he can make the day darke as night.

The fate of the people is described, who have hated him that rebuked in the gate, and they have bought houses of hewen stone, but they shall not dwell in them.

God will punish them, and they shall be afflicted in that time, for it is an euil time.

God will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Joseph, if they will seek good and not euil, and if they will hate the euil, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate.

The day of the Lord shall be a day of mourning, and all the hie waies shall be filled with lamentation.

The day of the Lord shall be a day of darkness, and not light, as if a man did flee from a Lyon, and a beate met him, or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

The day of the Lord shall be a day of darkness, and not light.

nes, and not light: euen darkenes and no light in it.

21 I hate [and] abhorre your feast daies, and I wil not smel in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, I wil not accept them: neither wil I regarde $\frac{1}{2}$ peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs (for I wil not heare $\frac{1}{2}$ melody of thy viols)

24 And let iudgement runne downe as water, and righteousness as a mightie river.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness fortie yeres, & house of Israel.

26 But you haue borne a Siccuth your King and Chiun your images, [and] the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

27 Therefore wil I cause you to go into captiuitie beyonde Damascus, saith the Lord, whose Name [is] the God of hostes.

Against the princes of Israel lining in pleasures.

VVnto them that are at ease in Zion and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations: & the house of Israel came to them.

2 Go you vnto Calneh, and se: and from thence go you to Hamath the great: then go downe to Gath of the Philistims: be they better then these kingdoms, or the border of their land greater then your border.

3 Ye that put farre away the euill day, and approche to the seat of iniquitie.

4 They lie vpon beddes of yuorie, and stretch them selues vpon their beddes, & eat the lambes of the flocke, & the calves out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sounde of the viole: they inuent to them selues instruments of musicke like David.

6 They drinke wine in bowls, and anoint them selues with the chief ointments, but no man is sorry for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shal they go captiue with the first that go captiue, and the lotowe of them that stretched them selues, is at hand.

8 The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Iakob, and hate his palaces: therefore wil I deliuer vp the citie with all that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shal dye.

10 And his vncl^e shal take him vp & burie him to carye out the bones out of the house and shal say vnto him, that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any there? And he shal say, None. Then shal he say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the Name of the Lord.

11 For beholde, the Lord commandeth, & he wil smite the great house with breaches and the litle houses with clefts.

12 Shal horses runne vpon the rocker, or wil one plowe [there] with oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into gall, & the fruite of righteousness into wormewood.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought: ye say, Haue not we gotten vs horses by our owne strength?

14 But beholde, I wil raise vp against you a nation, house of Israel, saith the Lord God of hostes: and they shal afflict you, from the entring in of Hamath vnto the riuier of the wilderness.

God with certaine visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel. 10 The false accusation of Amos. 12 His craftie counsel.

THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and beholde, he formed a greshoppers in the beginning of the shutting vp of the latter groeth, and lo, [it was] in the latter groeth after the Kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I said, O Lord God, spare, I beseeche thee: who shal raise vp Iakob, for he is small.

3 [So] the Lord repented for this, It shal not be saith the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and beholde, the Lord God called to iudgement by fyre, and it deuoured the great depe, and did eat vp a parte.

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseeche thee: who shal raise vp Iakob, for he is small.

6 [So] the Lord repented for this. This also shal not be, saith the Lord God.

7 ¶ Thus

¶ Thus againe he shewed me, & beholde, the Lord stode vpon a wall made by line with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord said vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Beholde, I will set a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hie places of Iſhák shall be defolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sworde.

10 ¶ Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam King of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middes of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shall dye by the sworde, and Israel shall be led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amaziah said vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Iudáh, and there eat [thy] bread & propheticke there.

13 But propheticke no more at Beth-el: for it is the Kings chappel, and it is the Kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no Prophet, nether was I a Prophetes sonne, but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lord toke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto me, Go propheticke vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the worde of the Lord. Thou saist, Propheticke not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Iſhák.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sworde, and thy land shall be deuied by line: and thou shalt dye in a polluted lãd, and Israel shall surely go into captiuitie forth of this land.

& 25, as this day he doeth against them that persecute his Gospel.

¶ Against the rulers of Israel. ¶ The Lord sweareth.

11 The famine of the worde of God.

¶ Thus saith the Lord God shewed vnto me, and beholde a basket of summer fruite.

12 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruite. Then said the Lord vnto me, The end is come vnto my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

¶ And the songs of the Temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God:

many dead bodyes [shall be] in euerie place: they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swallow vp the poore, that ye may make the nedie of the land to faile,

5 Saying, When will the new moneth be gone, that we may sell corne: and the Sabbath, that we may set forth the wheat, & make the Ephraim smile, and the shekel great, and falsifie the weights by deceit?

6 That we may bye the poore for siluer, & the nedie for shoes: yea, and sel the refuse of the wheat?

7 The Lord hath sworne by the excellencie of Iakob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and euerie one mourne, that dwelleth therein: and it shall rise vp wholly as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord God, I will euen cause the sunne to go downe at noone: & I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loines, and belldnes vpon euerie head: and I will make it as the murning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come saith the Lord God that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water; but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, & from the North euen vnto the east shall they runne to and fro to seke the worde of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgines & the yong men perish for thirst.

OBADIAH

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Edumeans, which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alway to the Israelites, which came of Iacob, & therefore did not only vex them continually with fondry kinds of crucitie, but also stirred vp others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did moote triumphe against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised vp his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuche as God had now determined to destroy their adversaries, which did so fore vex them, and so send them such as shulde deliuer them, and stir vp the kingdomes of Mesuah, which he had promised.

IONAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

VVhen Ionah had long prophesied in Israel and had little profited, God gaue him expresse charge to go, and denounce his iudgements against Ninueh the chief cite of the Assyrians, because he had appointed, that the which were of the heathen shulde conuert by the mightie power of his worde, & that within thre dayes preaching, that Israel might se how horribly they had prouoked Gods wrath, which for the space of so many yerres, had not conuerted to ¹ Lord for so many Prophetes & so diligens preaching. He prophesied vnder Ioah, and Ieroboam, as 1 King 14. 25

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cryed euerie man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the ship, into the sea to lighten it of them: but Ionah was gone downe & into the sides of the ship, and he laie downe, and was fast a slepe.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said vnto him, What meanest thou, o sleper? Arise, call vpon thy God, if so be that God wil thinke vpon vs, & we perish not.

7 And they said euerie one to his fellowe, Come, and let vs cast lottes, that we may knowe, for whose cause this euil [is] vpon ys. So they cast lottes, and the lot fel vpon Ionah.

8 Then said they vnto him, Tel vs for whose cause this euil [is] vpon vs: what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? which is thy countrey? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Ebrew, & I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drye land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knewe, that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had tolde them)

11 Then said they vnto him, What shal we do vnto thee, that the sea maie be calme vnto vs? (for the sea wrought and was troublous)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shal the sea be calme vnto you: for I knowe that for my sake this great tempest [is] vpon you.

13 Neuertheles, the men fowed to bring it to the land, but they colde not: for the sea wrought, & was troublous against the.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lord, & said, We beseech thee, o Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, & lay not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou o Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they toke vpon Ionah, and cast him into the sea, & the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, & offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made vowes.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallowe vpon Ionah: and Ionah was in the belly of the fish thre dayes, and thre nightes.

CHAP. III.

Jonah is in the fish bellie. 3 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

1 Then Ionah praied vnto the Lord his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lord, and he hearde me: out of the belly of hel cryed I, [and] thou heardest my voyce,

3 For thou haddest cast me into the bottome in the middes of the sea, & the floods compassed me about: all thy surges, and all thy waues passed over me.

4 Then I said, I am cast away out of thy sight: yet I wil loke againe towarde thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed me about vnto the soule: the depth closed me rounde about, and the wedes were wrapt about mine head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines: the earth with her barrres was about me for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my life from the pit, o Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came vnto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that waite vpon lying vanities, forsake their owne mercie.

9 But I wil sacrifice vnto thee with the voice of thanksgiving, and wil pay that that I haue vowed: saluation [is] of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionah vpon the drye land.

They that depend vpon any thing saue on God alone. 10: If They refuse their owne felicitie and that goodnes which they shulde receiue of God.

CHAP. III.

Jonah is sent againe to Nineueh. 5 The repentance of the King of Nineueh.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Ionah the seconde time, saying,

2 Arise go vnto Nineueh that great citie, & preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Ionah arose and went to Nineueh according to the worde of the Lord: now Nineueh was a great and excellent citie of thre dayes iourney.

4 And Ionah began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fortie daies, & Nineueh shal be overthrown.

5 So the people of Nineueh beleued God, and proclaimed a fast, & put on sackcloth from the greatest of them euen vnto the least of them.

6 For

As one y. wolde haue cast of this case and so lieth by sking rest and quietnes.

As they had called on their idoles, which declareth that idolaters haue no stay nor certaintie, but in their troubles seke they can not tel to whom.

Which declared that the matter was in extremities, and doute, which thing was Gods motion in them for the tryal of the cause: and this may not be done both in matters of great importance.

This declarereth that the very wicked in their necessities flee vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a certaine feare to shed mans blood, where as they knowe no manifest signe of wickednes. They were touched with a certaine repentance at their life past, & began to worship the true God by whose name they haue them selues so wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare & not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods worde. Thus the Lord would chastise his Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, & hereby also confirmed him of his fauour & support in this his charge, which was layd vpon him.

This is a great declaration of Gods mercie that he receiue him againe and sendeth him forth as his Prophet which had before shewed, so great infirmities. Read Chap. 3. He was forward one day in the citie, and preached, and so he continued till the end of the daye was come. He was forward one day in the citie, and preached, and so he continued till the end of the daye was come. ^k These were cities whereby the ennemie shulde passe as he came to Iudah. ^l He shal not departe before he haue overcome you, and so you shal pay for his tarying. ^m For Rabshakeh had shute vp Ierusalem, that they wolde not send to succour the. ⁿ To flee away: for Saneherib laid siege first to the cite, and remained therein whē he sent his capitaines, and armie against Ierusalem. ^o Thou first receivest the idolatrie of Ieroboam, and so didest infect Ierusalem. ^p Thou shalt bribe the Philistims thy neighbours, but they shal deceiue thee, as wel as thal of Ierusalem. ^q He prophesieth against his owne cite, and because it signified an heritage, he saith that God wolde send an heire to possesse it. ^r For so they thought them selues for the strength of their cite.

maria: and which are the hie^e places of Iudāh: Is not Ierusalem?

6 Therefore I wil make Samaria as an heape of the field, [and] for the planting of a vineyarde, and I wil cause the stones thereof to tumble downe into the valley, and I wil discouer the fundations thereof.

7 And all the grauen images thereof shalbe broken, and all^e the giftes thereof shalbe burnt with the fyre, and all the idoles thereof wil I destroy: for she gathered it of the hyre of an harlot, and they shal returne to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore wil I mourne and howle: I wil go without clothes, and naked: I wil make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are grievous: for it is come into Iudāh: [the ennemie] is come vnto the gate of my people, vnto Ierusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at^h Gath, nether wepe ye: for the house ofⁱ Aphrah roule thy self in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at^r Shaphir, go together naked with shame: she that dwelleth at Zaanān, shal not come forth in^s mourning of Beth-ēzel: [the ennemie] shal receive of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited for good, but euil came from the Lord vnto the^m gate of Ierusalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the charet to the [beastes]^o of price: she^o is the beginning of the sinne to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou giue presents to Moresheth^r Gath: the houses of Achzib [shalbe] as a lie to the King of Israel.

15 Yet wil I bring an sheire vnto thee, o inhabitant of Maresah, he shal come vnto Adullam, t^e the glorie of Israel.

16 Make the belde: and shauē thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy beldenes as the eggle, for they are gone into captiuitie from thee.

^o Thou first receivest the idolatrie of Ieroboam, and so didest infect Ierusalem. ^p Thou shalt bribe the Philistims thy neighbours, but they shal deceiue thee, as wel as thal of Ierusalem. ^q He prophesieth against his owne cite, and because it signified an heritage, he saith that God wolde send an heire to possesse it. ^r For so they thought them selues for the strength of their cite.

Threatnings against the wanton and deintie people: 6 They wolde teache the Prophetes to pteche.

VO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, & worke wickednes vpon their beddes: whē the morning is light thei practise it because their hand hathe power.

and according to their power hurteth other.

2 And they couet fields, and take them by violence, and houses, and take the away: so they oppresse a man & his house, [euen] man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, against this familie haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shal not plucke your neckes, & ye shal not go [so] proudly, for this time is euil.

4 In that day shal they take vp a parable against you, and lament with a dolful lamentation, & say, ^b We be vterly wasted: he hathe changed the portiō of my people: how hathe he taken it away to restore it vnto me? he hathe diuided our fieldes,

5 Therefore thou shalt haue none that shal cast a cord by lot in^e the Congregation of the Lord.

6^d They that prophcyed, Prophecie ye not, ^e Thei shal not prophecie to the, nether shal they take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Iakob, is the Spirit of the Lord shortened? are these his workes? are not my wordes good vnto him^s that walketh vprightly?

8 But he that was^h yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side, [as] against an ennemie: they spoyle theⁱ beautiful garment from them that passe by peaceably, as thogh they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye cast out from their pleasant houses, [and] from their children haue ye taken away^k my glory continually.

10 Arise and departe, for this is not [your] rest: because it is polluted, it shal destroy [you,] euen with a fore destruction.

11^m If a man walke in the Spirit, & wolde lie falsely, [saying,] I wil prophecie vnto thee, of wine, and of strong drinke, he shal euen be the Prophet of this people.

12 I wil surely gather^o thee wholly, o Iakob: I wil surely gather^r remnant of Israel: I wil put them together as the shepe of Bozrah, [euen] as the flocke in the middes of their fold: [the cities] shalbe ful of brute of the men.

13 The^r breake vp shal come vp before them: they shal breake out, and passe by the gate, and go out by it, and their King shal go before them, & the Lord [shalbe] vpon their heads.

ⁿ He sheweth what Prophetes they delin in, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, and speak of their common shies. ^o To destroy the. ^p The enemies shal breake their gates, and walles, and lead them into Caldea. ^q To drine them forward, and to helpe their enemies.

CHAP. III.

Against the tyrannie of princes & falsse prophetes. 1 And ^b Thus the serues Iamam and say that there is no hope of restitucion: being their possession are added among the enemies.

^c Ye shal haue no more to divide, as you had in times past, and as you used to measure the in the lubile.

^d Thus the people warne the Prophetes that they speake to them no more: for they can abide their threatnings.

^e God saith, they shal not prophecie, nor receive no more of their riches nor names. ^f Are these your workes according to his Law?

^g Do not the godlie find my wordes comfortable? ^h That is, afore time.

ⁱ The poore can haue no commodity by this, but they poyle them as thogh they were enemies.

^k That is, their substance and living, which is Gods blessing, and as it were parte of his glorie.

^l Ierusalem shal not be your sauergarde, but he cause of your destruction.

^m That is, shewe him self.

ⁿ He sheweth what Prophetes they delin in, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, and speak of their common shies. ^o To destroy the. ^p The enemies shal breake their gates, and walles, and lead them into Caldea. ^q To drine them forward, and to helpe their enemies.

ANd I said, Heare, I pray you, o heads of Iakob, and ye princes of the house of Irael: shulde ye not knowe iudgement?

[B]ut they hate the good, and loue the euill: they plucke of their skinnies from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eat also the flesh of my people, and flay of their skinnies from them, & they breake their bones, and chop the in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within a caldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but he wil not heare them: he wil euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophetes that deceiue my people, and bite them with their teeth, and crye peace, but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him,

6 Therefore night shall be vnto you for a vision, and darkenes [shall be] vnto you for a diuination, and the sunne shall go downe ouer the Prophetes, and the day shall be darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall al couer their lippes, for they haue none answer of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement and of strength to declare vnto Iakob his transgression, and to Irael his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Iakob, and princes of the house of Irael: they abhorre iudgement, & peruert all equitie.

10 They buyld vp Zión with blood, and Ierusalem with iniquitie.

11 The heads thereof iudge for rewardes, and the Priests thereof teache for hyre, & the Prophetes thereof prophetic for money: yet wil they leane vpon the Lord, & say, Is not the Lord among vs? no euil can come vpon vs.

12 Therefore shall Zión for your sake be plowed [as] a field, and Ierusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of the forest.

13 Howing how God bore him gifts, habilites, and knowledge to discern betwene good and euil, and also confluence to reuerence the house of the people, and not to flatter them. 14 They will say, that they are the people of God, and abuse his Name to cloke their hypocrisie.

CHAP. III.

Of the kingdomes of Christ and felicitie of his Church.

But in the last dayes it shall come to passe that the mountaine of the House of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and it shall be exalted above the hilles, and people shall flowe vnto it.

2 Yea, many nations shall come and say, Come, and let vs go vp to the Mountaine of the Lord, and to the House of the God of Iakob, and he will teache vs his waies, & we wil walke in his paths: for the Law shall go forth of Zión, and the worde of the Lord from Ierusalem.

3 And he shall iudge among many people, & rebuke mightie nations, a farre off, & they shall breake their swordes into mattocks, and their speares into sicthes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.

4 But they shall sit euery man vnder his vine, and vnder his fig tree, and none shall make them afraied: for the mouth of the Lord of hostes hath spoken it.

5 For all people walke & euery one in the name of his god, and we wil walke in the Name of the Lord our God, for euer and euer.

6 At the same day, saith the Lord, will I gather her that halted, and I wil gather her that is cast out, and her that I haue afflicted.

7 And I wil make her that halted a remnant, & her that was cast farre off, a mightie nation: and the Lord shall reigne ouer the in Mount Zión, from hence sothe euer for euer.

8 And thou, o towre of the flocke, & strong holde of the daughter Zión, vnto thee shall it come, euen the first dominion [and] kingdome shall come to the daughter Ierusalem.

9 Now why dost thou crye out w lamencation? [is] there no King in thee? is thy counseller perished? for sorowe hath taken thee, as a woman in trauail.

10 Sorow and mourne, o daughter Zión, like a woman in trauail: for now shalt thou go forth of the citie, & dwel in a field, & shalt go into Babel, [but] there shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lord shall redeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zión shall be condemned and oure eye shall loke, vpon Zión.

12 In the same season he sheweth that they shalde endure great troubles, and temptation: which they shalde seeke rather to haue King, than to haue Christ.

1 VVhen Christ shall come, and the Temple shall be destroyed.

2 Read Ila. 12. 2, 3.

3 He sheweth that there is no true Church, but where as people are taught by Gods pure worde.

4 By his corrections & threatenings he will bring the people into subjection, which are in the corners of the world.

5 They shall be like from all nations, & shall be as one people, & shall be called by the name of the Lord our God, for euer and euer.

6 At the same day, saith the Lord, will I gather her that halted, and I wil gather her that is cast out, and her that I haue afflicted.

7 And I wil make her that halted a remnant, & her that was cast farre off, a mightie nation: and the Lord shall reigne ouer the in Mount Zión, from hence sothe euer for euer.

12 In the same season he sheweth that they shalde endure great troubles, and temptation: which they shalde seeke rather to haue King, than to haue Christ.

1 I wil cause Irael, which is now as one lame and halting, and so, almost destroyed, shall liue againe and growe into a great people.

2 Meaning Ierusalem, where the Lord's Rock was gathered, and so, almost destroyed, shall liue againe and growe into a great people.

3 The flourishing state of the Kingdome, as it was vnder David and Solomon, which was accomplished to the Church by the coming of Christ.

4 In the same season he sheweth that they shalde endure great troubles, and temptation: which they shalde seeke rather to haue King, than to haue Christ.

CHAP. V.

1 The destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The excellencie of Bethleem.

Now assemble thy garisons, o daughter of garisons: he hath layed siege against vs: they shal smite the iudge of Israel with a rodde vpon the cheke.

And thou Beth-leem Ephrathah art blisse to be among the thousands of Iudah, yet out of thee shal he come forth vnto me, that shal be the ruler in Israel: whose goings forth [haue bene] from the beginning [and] from euerlasting.

I therefore wil he giue them vp, vntil the time that she which shal beare, shal trauail: then the remnant of their brethren shal returne vnto the children of Israel.

And he shal stand, & fede in the strength of the Lord, [and] in the maistie of the Name of the Lord his God, and they shal dwell still: for now shal he be magnified vnto the endes of the worlde.

And he shal be [our] peace whē Asshur shal come into our land: when he shal tread in our palaces, then shal we raise against him seven shepherdes, & eight principal men.

And they shal destroye Asshur with the sworde, & the land of Nimrod with their swordes: thus shal he deliuer [vs] from Asshur, when he commeth into our land, & when he shal tread within our borders.

And the remnant of Iacob shal be among manie people, as a dewe from the Lord, [and] as the shewres vpon the grasse, that waiteth not for man, nor hopeth in the fornes of Adam.

8 And the remnant of Iacob shal be among the Gentiles in the middes of many people, as the lyons among the beasts of the forest, [and] as the lyons when he goeth thorowe, treadeth downe and teareth in pieces, and none can deliuer.

9 Thine hand shal be lift vp vpon thine aduersaries, and all thine enemies shal be cut off.

10 And it shal come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I wil cut of thine horses out of the middes of thee, and I wil destroye thy charrets.

11 And I wil cut of the cities of thy land, and overthrowe all thy strong holdes.

12 And I wil cut of thine inchanters out of thine hand: and thou shalt haue no more sorbayers.

13 Thine idoles also wil I cut of, & thine images out of the middes of thee: & thou shalt no more worship the worke of thine hands.

14 And I wil plucke vp thy groues out of the middes of thee: so wil I destroy thine enemies.

15 And I wil execute a vengeance in [my] wrath and indignation vpon the heathen, in which they haue not heard.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the dumme creatures to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkinde. 6 VVhat manner of sacrifices do please God.

Hearken ye now what the Lord saith, Arise thou, [and] contend [before] the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare ye, o mountaines, the Lords quarrel, & ye mightie fundations of the earth: for the Lord hathe a quarel against his people, & he wil pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieved thee? testifye against me.

4 Surely I brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, & redemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him from Shittim vnto Gilgal, that ye may knowe the righteousnes of the Lord.

6 Wherewith shal I come before the Lord, [and] bowe my selfe before the hie God? Shal I come before him w burnt offrings, [and] with calves of a yere olde?

7 Wil the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or w ten thousand riuers of oyle?

shal I giue my first borne for my transgression, [euē] the frute of my bodie for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, o man, what is good, & what the Lord requireth of thee: surely to do iustly, and to loue mercy, and to humble thy selfe, to walke with thy God.

9 The Lords voyce cryeth vnto the^b citie, and the man of wisdom shal se thy name: Heare the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet treasures of wickednes in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is abominable?

11 Shal I iustifie the wicked balances, and the bagge of deceitfull weights?

12 For the riche men thereof are full of crueltye, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and their tongue [is] deceitfull in their mouth.

13 Therefore also wil I make thee sicke in smiting thee, [and] in making [thee] desolate because of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eat and not be satisfied, and thy casting downe [shalbe] in the middes of thee, & thou shalt take holde, but shalt not deliuer: and that which thou deliuerest, wil I giue vp to the sworde.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalt tread the oliues, but thou shalt not a noint thee with oyle, and [make] swete wine, but shalt not drinke wine.

16 For statutes of Omri are kept, and all the maner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I shulde make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shal beare the reproche of my people.

17 And the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri and Ahab his sonne: and to excuse your doings, you alledge the Kings authority by his statutes, and also wisdom and policie in so doing, but you shal not escape punishment, but as I haue shewed you great fauour, & taken you for my people, so shal your plagues be accordingly, Luk. 12. 47.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 4 The wickednes of those times. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

VO is me, for I am as a sower of the vineyard: there [is] no cluster to eat: my soule desired the first ripe frutes.

2 The good mā is perished out of the earth and there is none righteous among men: they all lie in waite for blood: euery man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the euil of [their] hands, the prince asked, and the iudge [iudgeth] for a rewarde: therefore the great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so they wrappe it vp.

4 The best of them [is] as a brier, and the most righteous of them [is] sharper than a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen [and] the visitation commeth: then shal be their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, nether put ye confidence in a counsellor: kepe the dores of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne reuileth the father: the daughter riseth vp against her mother: the daughter in law against her mother in law [and] a mans enemies [are] the men of his owne house.

7 Therefore I wil loke vnto the Lord: I wil waite for God my Sauour: my God wil heare me.

8 Reioyce not against me, o mine enemies: though I fall, I shal arise: when I shal sit in darkenes, the Lord [shalbe] a light vnto me.

9 I wil beare the wrathe of the Lord because I haue sinned against him, vntill he pleade my cause, & execute iudgement for me: [then] wil he bring me forth to the light, [and] I shal se his righteousnes.

10 Then shet that is mine enemy, shal loke vpon it, and shame shal couer her, which said vnto me, Where is thy Lord thy God? Mine eyes shal beholde her: now shal she be troden downe as the myre of the stretes.

11 [This is] the day, that thy walles shal be buylt: this day shal driue farre away the decree.

12 In this day also they shal come vnto thee from Asshur, & [from] the strong cities, and from the strong holdes euē vnto the riuer, and from sea to sea, & [from] mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land shal be desolate because of them that dwell therein, [and] for the frutes of their inuentions.

14 Fede thy people with thy rod, & flocks of thine heritage (which dwel solitarie in the wood) [as] in the middes of Carmel: let them fede in Bashan and Gilead as in old time.

15 According to the dayes of thy coming out of the land of Egypt, wil I shewe vnto thee meraculous things.

16 The nations shal se, and be confounded for all their power: they shal laye their hand vpon their mouth: their eares shal be deafe.

17 They shal be as dunces men, and dare bragge no more: they shal be astonished and afraid, to heare such speake lest they should be destroyed.

d These men are among the rulers and conspire with one consent to do euil.

e They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among men, are but thornes & briars to prick.

THE ARGUMENT.

As they of Nineveh shewed them selues prompt and ready to receiue the wordes of God at Ionahs preaching, and so returned to the Lord by repentance, so after a certaine time rather giuing them selues to worldlie meanes to increase their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begonne, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vomite, and prouoked Gods iust iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineveh was destroyed, and Merodach-baladam King of Babel (or as some thinke Nebuchadnezzar) enjoyed the empyre of the Assyrians. But because God hathe a continual care of his Church, he stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort the godlie, shewing that the destruction of their enemies shoulde be for their consolation. And as it semeth, he prophesied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasse his sonne, as the lewes write.

THe destroyer is come before thy face: kepe thy munition, loke to thy way: make [thy] loynes strong: encrease [thy] strength mightely.

2 For the Lord hathe turned away the glorie of Iakob, as the glorie of Israel: for the emptiers haue emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mightie men is made red: the valiant men are in skarlet: the charrets [shalbe as] in the fyre [&] flames in the day of his preparation, & the firre trees shal tremble.

4 The charrets shal rage in the stretes: they shal runne to & fro in the hie wayes: they shal seme like lampes: they shal shote like the lightning.

5 He shal remember his strong men: they shal stumble as they go: they shal make haste to the walles thereof, and y defense shalbe prepared.

6 The gates of the riuers shalbe opened, & the palace shal melt.

7 And Huzzab [the Quene] shalbe led away captiue, & her maides shal leade [her] as with the voyce of doves, smiting vpon their breasts.

8 But Nineueh is of olde like a poole of water: yet they shal flee away. Stand, stand, [shal they crye:] but none shal loke backe.

9 Spoyle ye the siluer, spoyle the golde: for there is none ende of the store, [and] glorie of all the pleasant vessels.

10 She is emptie and voyde and waste, & the hearth melteth, & the knees smite together, and sorow is in all loines, and the faces of them all gather blackenes.

HABACCVK.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet complaineth vnto God considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godlie, which indure all kind of affliction and crueltie, & yet can see none end. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans shulde come and take the away captiues, so that they coulde loke for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbornnes and rebellion against the Lord. And lest the godlie shulde despair, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this that God wil punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie shal be at right: wherefore he exhorteth the faithful to patience by his owne example, and sheweth them a forme of prayer, wherewith they shulde comfort them selues.

CHAP. I.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

He burde, which Habakkuk the Prophet did se.

O Lord, how long shal I crye, and thou wilt not heare! [euē] cry out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not helpe! Why doest thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde forwre for spoylig, and violence [are] before me: & there are that raise vp strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is dissolved; and iudgement doeth neuer go forth: for the wicked doeth compassie about the righteous: therefore wrong iudgement procedeth.

5 Beholde among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder, [&] marueil: for I wil worke a worke in your dayes: ye wil not beleue it, thogh it be tolde you.

6 For lo, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shal go vpon the breadth of the land to possesse dwelling places, [that] are not theirs.

7 Thei are terrible & feareful: their iudgement and their dignitie shal procede of them selues.

8 Their horses also are swifter the leopards, and are more fierce then the wolves in the evening: & their horsemen are many: & their horsemen shal come from farre: thei shal sic as eagle hastig to meat.

9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces [shal be] as Eastwinde, & they shal gather the captiuitie, & as the sand.

a The Prophet complaineth vnto God and bewaileth that among the leues is left none equitie nor brotherlie love: but in stead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, contentio and strife.

b To suppress him if any shulde shewe him selfe zealous of Gods cause.

c Because the iudges which shulde redresse the excesses are as full of rest.

d As in times past you wolde not beleue Gods worde, so shal ye not now beleue the strange plagues which are at hand.

e They them selues shal be your iudges in this cause & none shal haue authoritie ouer them to controule them.

f For the leues most feared this winde, because it destroyed the frutes.

g They shal be so many in number.

10 And they shal mocke the Kings, and the princes [shal be] a scorn vnto them: they shal deride every strong holde: for they shal gather dust, and take it.

11 Then shal they take a courage, & transgresse & do wickedly [imputing] this their power vnto their god.

12 Art not thou of olde, o Lord my God myne holy one: we shal not dye: O Lord thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and o God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 [Thou art] of pure eyes, and canst not se euil: thou cast not beholde wickednes: wherefore doest thou loke vpon the transgressors, [&] holdest thy tongue whē the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous then he?

14 And makest men as the fish of the sea, [&] as the creeping things, that haue no ruler ouer them.

15 Thei take vp all with the angle: thei catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, whereof they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore thei sacrifice vnto their net and burne incense vnto their yarne, because by them their portiō [is] fat & their meat plenteous.

17 Shal thei therefore stretch forth their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

2 And the Lord answered me, & said, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne that readeth it.

3 For the vision [is] yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shal speake, & not lie: though it tarie, waite: for it shal surely come: [&] shal not stay.

4 Beholde, he that listeth vp him self, his minde is not vpright in him, but the iust shal liue by his faith.

5 Yea, in dede the proude man [is] as he that transgresseth by wine: therefore shal he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hel, & is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

6 Shal not all these take vp a parable agāst him; and a taunting prouerbe agāst him, and say, Ho, he that increaseth [that which is] not his: how long? and he that laderth him selfe with thicke claye?

7 Shal they not rise vp suddenly, that shal bite thee: and awake, that shal stirre thee: and thou shalt be their pray?

8 Because thou hast spoyled manie natiōs, all the remnant of the people shal spoile thee: because of mens blood, and for the wrong [done] in the land, in the citie, & vnto all that dwell therein.

9 Ho, he that coueteth an euil couetousnes to his house, that he may set his nest on hie to escape from the power of euil.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying manie people, and hast sinned agāst thine owne soule.

11 For the stone shal crye out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shal answer it.

12 Wo vnto him that buyldeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Beholde, is it not of the Lord of hostes that the people shal labour in the very fyre: the people shal euen weary them selues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth shal be filled with the knowledge of the glorie of the Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Wo vnto him that giueth his neighbour drinke: thou ioynest thine heate, and makest him drunken also: that thou maist see their privities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glorie: drinke thou also, and be made naked: the cuppe of the Lords right hand shal be turned vnto thee, and shameful spuing [shall be] for thy glorie.

17 For the crueltie of Lebanon shal couer thee: so shal the spoile of the beastes, which he made them afraide, because of mens blood, and for the wrong [done] in the land, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profiteth the image, for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it trust therein, when he maketh dūme idoles.

19 Wo vnto him that saith to the wood, Awake, [and] to the dūme stone, Rise vp: it shal teache thee: beholde it is laide ouer with golde and siluer, and there [is] no breath in it.

20 But the Lord [is] in his holie Temple: let all the earth kepe silence before him.

1 A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the ignorances.

2 O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, [and] was afraide: O Lord, reuiue thy worke in the middes of the people, in the middes of the yerres make it known: in wrathe remember mercie.

3 God commeth from Teman, and the holie one from mount Paran, Selah. His glorie couereth the heauens and the earth is full of his praise,

4 And [his] brightnes was as the light: he had hornes [coming] out of his hands, & there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coles went forthe before his fete.

6 He stode and measured the earth: he behelde and dissolued the nations and the euerlasting mountaines were broken, [&] the ancient hilles did bowe: his waies [are] euerlasting.

7 For [his] iniquitie I sawe the tentes of Cushan, [and] the curtaynes of the land of Midian did tremble.

¶ VVhen this is meant a power, that was loyned with his brightnes, which was hid to the rest of the worlde, but was reuelled in mount Sinay to his people, Psal. 31, 19. Signifying that God hath wonderfull meanes, and euermore a mercifull power when he wold deliuer his Church.

The iniquitie of this King of Syria in waging thy people was made manifest by thy iudgement, of thy Church, Iudg. 3, 10. and also of the Midianites, which destroyed themselves, Iudg. 7, 22.

¶ The Prophet instructed his people to pray to God not onely for their great finnes, but also for such as they had committed of ignorance. Thus people were afraied when they heard Gods threatnings, & praised. That is, the state of thy Church which is now ready to perish before it cometh to halfe a perfect age, & shal be vnder Christ. Teman and Paran were neere Sinai where the Law was giuen: whereby signified that his deliuerance was as present now as it was then. VVhen this is meant a power, that was loyned with his brightnes, which was hid to the rest of the worlde, but was reuelled in mount Sinay to his people, Psal. 31, 19. Signifying that God hath wonderfull meanes, and euermore a mercifull power when he wold deliuer his Church. The iniquitie of this King of Syria in waging thy people was made manifest by thy iudgement, of thy Church, Iudg. 3, 10. and also of the Midianites, which destroyed themselves, Iudg. 7, 22.

B Meaning, God was not angry with the waters, but by this means he wolde destroye his enemies and deliver his Church. And so doo all the elements as instruments of destruction of thine enemies. That is, thy power. For he had not onely made a covenant wth Abraham, but renewed it with his posteritie. m Read nom. 20, 11. n He alludeth to the readie and sordid, w^{ch} gaue passage to Gods people, & shewed signes of their obedience, as it were by lifting up of their hands. o Appareth was directed by the weapons of thy people, that fought in thy cause, as though it durst not go for 8 Was the Lord angrie against the riuers: or was thine angrie against the floods: or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didest ride vpon thine horses, thy charrettes brought saluation. 9 Thy bowe was manifestely reueiled, [&] the othes of the tribes [were] a sure worde, Selah. Thou didest cleaue the earth with riuers. 10 The mountaines sawe thee, and they trembled: the streame of the water* passed by: the dep made a noyce, and lift vp his hand on hie. 11 The sunne [and] moone stode still in [their] habitation: at the light of thine arrowes they went, [and] at the bright shining of thy speares. 12 Thou trodest downe the land in angrie, [and] didest thresh the heathen in displeasure. 13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, [cuen] for saluation with thine Anointed: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discou-

redst the fundatiōs vnto the necke, Selah. 14 Thou didest strike thorowe with his owne stauces the heads of his villages: they came out as a whirle winde to scatter me: their reioycing [was] as to deuoure the poore secretly. 15 Thou didest walke in the sea with thine horses vpon the heape of great waters. 16 When I heard, my bellie trembled: my lippes shoke at the voyce: rottenes entred into my bones, and I trembled in my self: that I might rest in the day of trouble: for when he commeth vnto the people, he shal destroye them. 17 For the figre shal not florish, neither shal frute [be] in the vines: the labourer of the oliue shal faile, and the fieldes shal yelde no meat: the shepe shal be cut of fro^e fold, & there shal be no bullocke in stalls. 18 But I wil reioyce in the Lord: I wil ioy in the God of my saluation. 19 The Lord God [is] my strength: he wil make my fete like hindes [fete], and he wil make me to walke vpoⁿ my hie places. To the chief finger on Neginothai. the faithful, though they be neuer so great afflictions prepared. 2 The chief finger vpoⁿ the instrumēt of musicke shal haue occasion to praise God for this great deliuerance of his Church.

r From the top to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies. f God destroyed his enemies bothe great & small w^{ch} owne weapons though they were neuer so great against his Church. He returned to that which he spake in the 2 ver. & sheweth how he was afraid of Gods iudgements. u He sheweth the faithful neuer haue rest, except they fele before the weight of Gods iudgements. x That is, the enemy: but the godlie shal be quiet, knowing that all things shal turne to good vnto this. y He declareth wherein standeth the comfort and ioy of the faithful.

ZEPHANIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

Sing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, he denounceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their countrey shulde be utterly destroyed, and they caried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull he prophesied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians and others, to assure them that God had a continual care ouer them. And as the wicked shulde be punished for their sinnes and transgressions: so he exhorteth the godlie to patience, and to trust to finde mercie by reason of the promises of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietlie to abide til God shewe them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they shulde be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

L Heworde of the Lord, which came vnto Zephaniāh the sonne of Cushi, the sonne of Gedaliāh, the sonne of Anariāh, the sonne of Hizkiāh, in the dayes of Iosiāh, the sonne of Amōn King of Iudāh. 2 I wil surely destroye all things from of the land, saith the Lord. 3 I wil destroy man and beast: I wil destroy the foules of the heauen, and the fish of the sea, and ruines [shal be] to the wicked, and I wil cut of man from of the land, saith the Lord. 4 I wil also stretche out mine hand vpon Iudāh, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ie-rusalēm, and I wil cut of the remnant of Bāal from this place, and the names of the Chemarims with the Priests. 5 And them that worship the hoste of heauen vpon the house toppes, & them that worship and swear by the Lord, and by Malchām, 6 And them that are turned backe from the Lord, and those that haue not fought the Lord, nor inquired for him. 7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, [&] hath sanctified his ghestes. 8 And it shal be in the day of the Lords sacrifice, that I wil visite the princes and the Kings children, & all suche as are clothed with strange apparel. yet wil swear by idoles and serue them: which halting is here condemned. Ezek. 20, 39, 2. king. 17, 33. d Meaning, courtesours which did imitate strange apparel of other nations to winne their fauour thereby, and to appeare glorious in the eyes of all other, read Eze. 23, 14. 9 In the

That is, those lined with gold & silver, and gaudy apparell, which they becom like to the heathen.

9 In the same day also will I visite all those that dance vpon the thresholde so proudly, which fill their masters houses by crueltye and deceit.

10 And in that day saith the Lord, there [shalbe] a noyce, [and] crye from the fifth gate, and an howling from the second gate and a great destruction from the hilles.

11 Howe ye inhabitants of the lowe place: for the companie of the marchants is destroyed: all they that bare siluer, are cut of.

12 And at that time will I searche Ierusalem with lightes, and visit the men that are frosh in their dregges, & say in their hearts, The Lord wil nether do good nor do euil.

13 Therefore their goods shalbe spoyled, & their houses waste: they shal also buyld houses, but not inhabit them, & they shal plant vineyardes, but not drinke the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the Lord [is] nere: it is nere, and hasteth greatly, [euen] the voyce of the day of the Lord: the strong man shal crye there bitterly.

15 That day [is] a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauines, a day of destruction and desolation, a day of obscuritie & darkenes, a day of cloudes and blackenes.

16 A day of the trumpet and alarme against the strong cities, and against the hie towres.

17 And I wil bring distres vpon men, that they shal walke like blind men, because they haue sinned against the Lord, & their blood shal be powred out as dust, & their flesh as the dongue.

18 Nether their siluer nor their golde shal be able to deliuer them in the day of the Lords wrath, but the whole land shal be deuoured by the fyre of his ielousie: for he shal make euen a speedie riddance of all them that dwel in the land.

CHAP. II.

He moueth to returne to God, & Prophecyng destruction against the Philistims, Moabites and others.

1 Gather your selues, euen gather you O nation not worthie to be loued,

2 Before the decre come forth, [& ye be] as chaffe that passeth in a day, [and] before the fierce wrath of the Lord come vpon you, [and] before the day of the Lords angre come vpon you.

3 Seke ye the Lord all the meke of the earth, which haue wrought his iudgements: seke righteousnes, seke lowlines, if so be that ye may be hid in the day of the Lords wrath.

4 For Azzah shalbe forsaken, and Ashkelon desolate: they shal driue out Ashdod at the noone day, and Ekron shalbe rooted vp.

5 Wo vnto the inhabitants of the sea coast the nation of the Cherethims, the worde of the Lord [is] against you: O Canaan, land of the Philistims, I wil euen destroye thee without an inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shalbe dwellings, and cotages for shepherds and shepe foldes.

7 And [that] coast shal be for the remnant of the house of Iudah, to fede thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shal they lodge toward night: for the Lord their God shal visite them, and turne away their captiuitie.

8 I haue heard the reproche of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they vpbraided my people, and magnified them selues against their borders.

9 Therefore, as I liue, saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, surely Moab shalbe as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorah, [euen] the breeding of nettles and salt pittes, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my folke shal spoyle them, & the remnant of my people shal possesse them.

10 This shal they haue for their pride because they haue reproched and magnified them selues against the Lord of hostes people.

11 The Lord [wil be] terrible vnto them: for he wil consume all the gods of the earth, and euerie man shal worshipping him from his place, [euen] all the yles of the heathen.

12 Ye Morians also shalbe slaine by my sworde with them.

13 And he wil stretche out his hand against the North, and destroye Ashur, and will make Nineueh desolat, [and] waste like a wildernes.

14 And flockes shal lye in the middes of her, and al the beastes of the nations, and the pelicane, and the owle shal abide in the vpper postes of it: the voyce [of birdes] shal sing in the windowes, [and] desolations [shalbe] vpon the postes: for the cedres are vncovered.

15 This is the reioycing citie that dwelleth careles, that said in her heart, I am, and there [is] none besides me: how is she made waste, and the lodging of the beastes euerie one that passeth by her, shal hiss & wagge his hand.

CHAP. III.

c He comforteth the faithfull in that, & God wolde change his punishments from the Philistims their enemies and other nations.

d That is, Gallilee: by these nations he meaneth the people that dwell nere to the Iewes & in head of the ship were their enemies: therefore he calleth them Canaanites whom the Lord appointed to be slaine.

e He sheweth why God wolde destroy their enemies, because their contrary might be a resting place for his Church.

f These nations presumed to take from Iewes that country which the Lord had giuen them.

g VVhen he shal deliuer his people and destroy their enemies and idoles, his glorie shal shine through out all the world.

h Read Isa. 34. 11. Or, hedgehogge.

c The wicked thus boasted & God was ever among them, but the Prophet answereth that that can not excuse their wickednes: for God wil not beare with their finnes: yet that, he did patiently abide & sent his Prophetes continually to call them to repentance, but he profited nothing.

d By the destruction of other nations he sheweth that the Jewes shulde haue learned to feare God.

e They were most earnest & ready to do wickedly.

4 Her prophetes are light [and] wicked persones: her priests haue polluted the Sanctuary: they haue wrested the Law.

5 The iust Lord [is] in the middes thereof: he wil do none iniquitie: euery morning doeth he bring his iudgement to light, he faileth not: but the wicked wil not learne to be ashamed.

6 I haue cut of the nations: their towres are desolate: I haue made their streates waste, that none shal passe by: their cities are destroyed without man [and] without inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt feare me: thou wilt receiue instruction: so their dwelling shulde not be destroyed how so euer I visited them, but they rose early [and] corrupted all their workes.

8 Therefore waite ye vpon me, saith the Lord, vntil the daye that I rise vp to the pray: for I am determined to gather the nations, and that I wil assemble the kingdoms to powre vpon them mine indignation, [eu]en all my fierce wrath: for all the earth shalbe deuoured with the fyre of my ielousie.

12 Then wil I leaue in the middes of thee an humble and poore people: & they shal trust in the Name of the Lord.

13 The remnant of Israel shal do none iniquitie, nor speake lies: netheir shal a deceitful tongue be founde in their mouth: for they shal be fed, and lye downe, and none shal make them afraid.

14 Reioyce o daughter Zión: be ye ioyful, o Israel: be glad & reioyce with al thine heart, o daughter Ierusalem.

15 The Lord hath taken away thy iudgements: he hath cast out thine enemies: the King of Israel, [eu]en the Lord [is] in the middes of thee: thou shalt see no more euil.

16 In that day it shalbe said to Ierusalem, Feare thou not, o Zión: let not thine hands be faint.

17 The Lord thy God in the middes of thee [is] mightie: he wil saue, he wil reioyce ouer thee with ioye: he wil quiet him self in his loue: he wil reioyce ouer thee with ioye.

18 After a certaine time wil I gather the afflicted that were of thee, [and] them that bare the reproche for it.

19 Beholde, at that time I wil bruse al that afflict thee, and I wil saue her that halteth, and gather her that was cast out, and I wil get them praise and fame in all the lands of their shame.

20 At that time wil I bring you againe, & then wil I gather you: for I wil giue you a name and a praise among al people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, saith the Lord.

i For they haue full remission of their finnes: and the hypocrites which boasted of the Temple which was also thy pride in thy past, shal be taken from thee.

k That is, the punishment of thy sinne. l As the Assyrians, Caldeans, Egyptians, and other nations. m To defende thee, as by thy finnes thou hast put him away, and left thy self naked, as Ezek. 32, 25.

q As among the Assyrians & Caldeans which did mocke the and put them to shame.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

Vhen the time of the fouentie yeres captiuitie prophesied by Ieremiah, was expired, God raised vp Haggai, Zephaniah and Malachi to comforte the Jewes and exhorta them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spiritual Temple, and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie shode in Christ. And because that all were giuen to their owne pleasures and commodities, he declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent then among them, was a iuste rewarde of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they wil returne to the Lord, with the promes of greater felicitie, forasmuche as the Lord wil finish the worke that he hath begunne, and send Christ whome he had promised, and by whome they shulde attaine to perfection and glorie.

CHAP. I.
The time of the prophetic of Haggai. An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

IN the seconde yere of King Darius, in the sixt moneth, the first day of the mo-neth, came the worde of the Lord (by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come, that the Lords House shulde be buylded.

3 Then came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for your selues to dwel in your diled houses, and this house lye waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne waies in your hearts.

6 Ye haue sown much, & bring in litle:
ye eat, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Go vp to the mountaine, & bring wood and builde this House, and I wil be fauo-rable in it, and I wil be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo, [it came] to litle: and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it. And why, saith the Lord of hostes? Because of mine House that is waste and ye runne euerie man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heaven ouer you stayed itself from dewe, and the earth staied her frute.

11 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the come, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon [all] that the ground bringeth forth: bothe vpon men and vpon cattel, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest with all the remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Zerubbabel, sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, & the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the House of the Lord of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth that the glorie of the seconde Temple shal excede the first.

IN the foure and twentieth day of the sixt moneth, in the second yere of King Darius,

2 In the seventh moneth, in the one and twentieth [day] of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, & to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, & to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you, that sawe this House in her first glorie, & how do you se it now? It is not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good courage, & Zerubba-bel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, & Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and do it: for I am with yow, saith the Lord of ho-
stes,

6 [According] to the worde that I coven-ted with you, whe ye came out of Egypt:
so my Spirit shal remaine among you:
feare ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Yet a litle while, and I wil shake the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and the drye land:

8 And I wil moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shal come, and I wil fill this House with glorie, saith the Lord of hostes,

9 The silver [is] mine, and the golde [is] mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 The glorie of this last House shal be greater then the first, saith the Lord of hostes:
and in this place wil I giue peace, saith of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Aske now the Priests (concerning) the Law, and say,

13 If one beare holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touche the bread, or the porage, or the wine, or oyle, or any meat, shal it be holy: And the Priests answered and said, No.

14 The said Haggai, If a polluted persone touche any of these, shal it be vncleane? And the Priests answered, and said, It shal be vncleane.

15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the workes of their hands, and that which they of set here is vncleane.

16 And now, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this day, and afore, [euē] afore a stone was laid vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord.

17 Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie [measures,] there were but ten: whe one came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie [vessels] out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mil dewe, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you [turned] not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider, I pray you, in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth [moneth, euē] from the day that the fundation of the Lords Temple was laid: consider it in your mindes.

20 Is the seed yet in the baine: as yet the vines, and the figge tree, and the pomgrate, & oliue ne hath not brought forth from this day will I blesse [you.]

21 And againe the worde of the Lord came vnto Haggai in the foure and twentieth [day] of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudāh, and say, I wil shake the heauens and the earth,

23 And I wil ouerthrowe the throne of kingdomes, and I wil destroye the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I wil ouerthrowe the charrets, & those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shal come downe, euēie one by the sword of his brother.

24 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, o Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

thing was accomplished in Christ.

ZECHARIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN VVO Moneths after that Haggai had begonne to prophesie, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to helpe him in the labour, & to confirme the same doctrine. First therefore he putteth the in remembrance, for what cause God had so fore punished their fathers: and yet comforteth them, if they wil repent vnfaignedly, and not abuse this great benefite of God in their deliuerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the faithfull shoulde haue from death and sinne by Christ: But because they still remained in their wickednes and coldenes to set forthe Gods glorie, & were not yet made better by their long banishment, he rebuketh them most sharply: yet for the comfort of the repentant, he euermixeth the promes of grace, that they might by this moanes be prepared to receiue Christ, in whome all shoulde be sanctified, so the Lord.

CHAP. I.

He exhorteth the people to returne to the Lord, and to shewe the wickednes of their fathers. 16 He signifieth the restitution of Ierusalem and the Temple.

IN the eight moneth of the secounde yere of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto Zechariah, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo, Prophet, saying,

The Lord hath bene sore displeased w your fathers.

Therefore say thou vnto the, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Turne ye vnto me,

7 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the eleuent moneth, w^{ch} is the moneth^h Shebat, in the seconde yere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

8 I sawe by night, and beholde^k a man riding vpon a red horse, & he stode among the mirre trees, that were in a bottome, & behinde him were there red horses speckeled and white.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with me, said vnto me, I wil shewe thee what these be.

10 And the man that stode among the mirre trees, answered and said, These are they whome the Lord hath sent to go through the worlde.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord, that stode among the mirre trees, & said, We haue gone thorowe the worlde: and beholde, all the worlde sitteth still, & is at rest.

12 Then the^m Angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnmmerciful to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whome thou hast bene displeased now these there score & ten yeres?

13 And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with me, with good wordes [and] comfortable wordes.

14 So the Angel that communed with me, said vnto me, Crye thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I am^a ielouse ouer Ierusalem and Zion with a great zeale.

15 And am grealy angrie against the careles heathen: for I was angrie but^a a litle, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I wil returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercie: mine house shal be buylded in it, saith the Lord of hostes, & a line shal be stretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Crye yet, & speake, Thus saith^f Lord of hostes, My cities shal yet^a be broken w^{ch} plentie: the Lord shal yet cofoite Zion, and shal yet chuse Ierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp myne eyes and sawe, and beholde, foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered,

These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Israel, and Ierusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed me foure^c carpers.

21 Then said I, What come these to doe?

And he answered, and said, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the land of Iudah, to scattre it.

CHAP. II.

The restoring of Ierusalem and Iudah.

I Lift vp myne eyes againe and looked, and beholde, a^a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, To measure Ierusalem, that I may se what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof,

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with me, went forthe: and another Angel went out to mete him,

4 And said vnto him, Runne, speake to this^b yong man, and say, Ierusalem shal be inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men and cattel therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, wil be vnto her a wall of^d fyre round about, and wil^e be^f glorie in the middes of her.

6 Ho, ho, [come^f forthe,] & flee from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I haue scattered you into the foure^g windes of the heauen, saith the Lord.

7^h Saue thy selfe, o Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After [this] glorie hathe he sent me vnto the nations, which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the^k apple of his eye.

9 For beholde, I wil lift vp mine handⁱ vpon them: and^m they shal be a spoyle to those that serued them, and ye shal knowe that the Lord of hostes hatheⁿ sent me.

10 Reioyce, and be glad, o daughter Zion, for lo, I come & wil dwell in the middes of ferred their owne priuate commodities to the benefites of God promised in his Church.

g As it was Iudas scattered you, so haue I power to restore you.

h By fleeing from Babylon and coming to the Church.

i Seeing that God hathe begonne to shewe his gracie among you by duly uering you, he continueth the same still towards you, and therefore sendeth me his Angel, and his Christ to defend you from your enemies, that they shal not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home.

k Years so deare vnto God, that he can no more suffer your enemies to hurt you, than a man can abide to be thrust in the eye, Psal. 17, 8.

l Vpon the heathen your enemies.

m They shal be your seruantes as you haue bene theirs.

n This must necessarily be vnderstand of Christ, who being God equal with his father, was sent as he was Mediator to dwell in his Church, and to gouerne therein.

f These carpers or smithes are Gods instruments, w^{ch} with their mallets & hammers breake these hard & strong hornes, which wolde overthrow the Church, and declare that none enemies horne is so strong, but God hathe an hammer, breake it in pieces.

a That is, the Angel who was Christ: for in respect of his office he is sometimes called an Angel, but in respect of his eternal essence, in God and so called.

b Meaning himself Zechariah.

c Signifying spiritual Ierusalem and Church vnder Christ which shal be extended by Gospel through all the worldes and shal neede no materiall walles, nor trust in any worldly strength, but shal be lastingly preferred & dwell in peace among all their enemies.

d To defend my Church, to fere the enemies, and to destroye them if they approache nere.

e In me they shal haue their ful felicitie and glorie.

f He calleth to them, which partly for feare and partly for their owne ease remained still in captiuitie, and so preferred thee, faith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 And the Lord shall inherit Iudah his portion in the holy land, and shall chuse Ierusalem againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

CHAP. III.

A prophetic of Christ and of his kingdom.

1 And he shewed me Iehoshua the hie Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reprove thee, o Satan: euen the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reprove thee. Is not this a brand taken out of the fyre?

3 Now Iehoshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And vnto him he said, Beholde, I haue caused thine iniquitie to departe from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a faire diademe vpon his head. So they set a faire diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments: and the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iehoshua, saying,

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my waies, and kepe my watche, thou shalt also iudge mine House, and shalt also kepe my courtes, and I will giue thee place among these that stand by.

7 Heare now, o Iehoshua the hie Priest, thou and thy fellowes that sit before thee: for they are monstrous persones: but beholde, I will bring forth the true Branche my seruant.

8 Heare now, o Iehoshua the hie Priest, thou and thy fellowes that sit before thee: for they are monstrous persones: but beholde, I will bring forth the true Branche my seruant.

9 For lo the stone that I haue laid before Iehoshua: vpon one stone shall be seuen eyes: beholde, I will cut out the grauing thereof, faith the Lord of hostes, and I will take away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, faith the Lord of hostes, shall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the fig tree.

9 For lo the stone that I haue laid before Iehoshua: vpon one stone shall be seuen eyes: beholde, I will cut out the grauing thereof, faith the Lord of hostes, and I will take away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, faith the Lord of hostes, shall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the fig tree.

Chap. 4. 10. o I will make it perfit in all pointes, as a thing wrought by the hand of God. p Though I haue punished this land for a time, yet I will now be pacified, and visite their iniquities no more: q Ye shall then haue peace and quietnes, that is, in the kingdom of Christ, Isa. 2. 2. initial

CHAP. IIII.

The vision of the golden candellsticke, and the exposition thereof.

1 And the Angel that talked with me, came againe & waked me, as a man that is raised out of his slepe,

2 And said vnto me, What seest thou? And I said, I haue looked, and beholde, a candellsticke all of golde with a bowle vpon the tope of it, and his seuen lampes therein, & seuen pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the tope thereof.

3 And two olive trees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered, and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me answered and said vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake vnto me, saying, This is the worde of the Lord vnto Zerubbabel, saying, Nether by an armie nor strength, but by my Spirit, faith the Lord of hostes.

7 Who art thou, o great mountaines before Zerubbabel: thou shalt be a plaine, & he shall bring forth the heade stone thereof, with showtings, saying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel haue laid the fundatiō of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the small things? but they shall reioyce, and respect of them, & would haue hindered Zerubbabel who represented Christ whom the enemies daily labour to let in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vaine. f Though the enemies thinke so, yet this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the hieft stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godlie shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace, and fauour toward the Temple. g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building, and preservation of my spiritual Temple. h Signifying that all were discouraged at the small & poore beginning of the Temple.

n He sheweth that the ministers can be buydes, when God layeth the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of grace, both in his nature & in his office, so that he is able to give grace to others, and to be a light to the world.

That is, the vision of the golden candellsticke, and the exposition thereof.

a VVhich was euer in the middes of the Temple, signifying that the grace of Gods Spirit should shine therein most abundantly, in all perfection.

b VVhich was euer in the middes of the Temple, signifying that the grace of Gods Spirit should shine therein most abundantly, in all perfection.

c VVhich was euer in the middes of the Temple, signifying that the grace of Gods Spirit should shine therein most abundantly, in all perfection.

d He sheweth that Gods power is sufficient to preserve his Church, though he be not man's helpe thereunto.

e He compareth the power of the aduersaries to a great mountain, who thought the lawes nothing in respect of them, & would haue hindered Zerubbabel who represented Christ whom the enemies daily labour to let in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vaine.

f Though the enemies thinke so, yet this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the hieft stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godlie shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace, and fauour toward the Temple. g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building, and preservation of my spiritual Temple. h Signifying that all were discouraged at the small & poore beginning of the Temple.

a He praied to Christ the Mediator for the state of his Church.

b VVhich declareth that the faithful haue not onely warre with flesh & blood, but with Satan himselfe and the spiritual wickednes, Eph. 6. 12.

c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediator of his Church that he wolde rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth him selfe to be the continual preferer of his Church.

d Meaning, Iehoshua was wonderfully preferred in captivity, and now Satan sought to afflict him when he was doing his office. e In respect of the glorious garments, and precious stones that the Priests did weare before the captiuitie: and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifyeth that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church. f He sheweth of what apparel he speaketh, which is when our filthy sinners are taken away and we are clothed with Gods mercies, which is meant of the spiritual restitution.

g The Prophet praith that besides the raiment the Priest might also haue type for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Priesthode might be perfected: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest & King: & hence all such are condemned who can content themselves with any meane reformation in religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obtaineth it.

h That is, heane rule & gouernement in my Church as thy predecessors haue had. i VVhereby he meaneth to haue the whole charge & ministerie of the Church. k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithful: signifying that all godlie should willingly receive him. l Because they folowe my worde, they are condemned in the world, & esteemed as monsters, Isa. 53. 12. m That is, Christ, who did so humble him self, that not onely he became the seruant of God, but also the seruant of men: & therefore in him they should haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Isa. 53. 12. n 12. 13. 14.

shal se the stone of iunne in the hand of Zerubbabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which go thorowe the whole worlde.

9 Then answered I, and said vnto him, What are these two oliue trees vpon the right and vpon the left side thereof?

10 And I spake moreouer, and said vnto him, What be these two oliue branches, which thorowe the two golden pipes emptye themselves into the golde?

11 And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

12 Then said he, These are the two oliue branches, that stande with the ruler of the whole earth.

13 Which were euer greene and full of oyle, so that still they poure forth the oyle into the lampes: signifying, that God wil continually maintaine and preserue his Church, and indue it still with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

1 The vision of the flying boke signifying the curse of the-ues, and such as abuse the Name of God. 6 By the vision of the measure is signified the bringig of Iudahs afflictions into Babylon.

1 Then I turned me, and lift vp mine eyes and looked, and beholde, a flying booke.

2 And he said vnto me, what seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying boke: the length thereof [is] twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof ten cubites.

3 Then said he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for euerie one that stealeth, shalbe cut off [as wel] on this side, as on that: and euerie one that sweareth, shalbe cut off [as wel] on this side, as on that.

4 I wil bring it forth, saith the Lord of hostes, and it shal enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him, that falsly sweareth by my Name: & it shal remaine in the middes of his house, and shal consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and said vnto me, Lift vp now thine eyes, and se what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreouer, This is the sight of them, through al the earth.

7 And beholde, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the middes of the Ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickednes: and he cast it into the middes of the Ephah, & he cast the weight of lead vpon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I vp myne eyes, and looked: & beholde, there came out two women, & the winde [was] in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a storke) and they lift up the Ephah betwene the earth and the heauen.

10 Then I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, Whether do these beare the Ephah?

11 And he said vnto me, To buyld it in house in the land of Shinar, & it shal be established & set there vpon her owne place.

CHAP. VI.

By the foure charettes he describeth the foure monarchies.

2 In the first charet [were] red horses, & in the second charet blacke horses,

3 And in the third charet white horses, & in the fourth charet, horses of diuers colours, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and said vnto me, These are foure spirits of the heauē which go forth, from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the land of the North, and the white went out after them, & they of diuers colours went forth toward the South country.

7 And the reddish went out, & required to go, and passe through the worlde: and he said, Go passe through the worlde. So they went throwout the worlde.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that go toward the North country, haue pacified my spirit in the North country.

9 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the capiuitie, [euē] of Heldai, & of Tobiah, & Iedaiab, which are come from Babel, and come thou the

Thus saith the Lord, I wil returne vnto Zion, and wil dwell in the middes of Ieru salem, and Ierusalem shal be called a ^b citie of truth, and the Mountaine of the Lord of hostes, the holie Mountaine.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, There shal yet olde men and olde women dwel in the stretes of Ierusalem, and euerie man with his staffe in his hand for very age.

5 And the stretes of the citie shalbe ful of boyes and girles, playing in the stretes thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Thogh it be vnpossible in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, shulde it therefore be vnpossible in my sight saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil deliuer my people from the East countrey, and from the West countrey.

8 And I wil bring them, & they shal dwell in the middes of Ierusalem, and they shal be my people, and I wil be their God in trueth and in righteounesse.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Let your hands be strong, ye that heare in these dayes these wordes by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the fundation of the House of the Lord of hostes was laide, that the Temple might be buylded.

10 For before these daies there was no hier for man nor anie hier for beast, nether was there anie peace to him that went our or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, euerie one against his neyghbour.

11 But now I wil not [intreate] the residue of this people as afore time, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seder [shalbe] prosperous: the vine shal giue her frute, & the ground shal giue her increase, and the heauens shal giue their dewe, & I wil cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shal come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, o house of Iudah and house of Israel, so wil I deliuer you, & ye shalbe a blessing: feare not, [but] let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, As I thought to punish you: when your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and repented not,

15 So againe haue I determined in these dayes to do wel vnto Ierusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shal do. Speake ye euery man the trueth vnto his neyghbour: execute iudgement truly and vprightly in your gates, 17 And let none of you imagine euil in your hearts against his neyghbour, & loue no false othe: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourthe [moneth], and the fast of the fift, and the fast of the seuenth, & the fast of the tenth, shalbe to the house of Iudah ioye and gladnes, and prosperous hie feastes: therefore loue the trueth and peace:

20 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, That there shal yet come people, and the inhabitants of great cities.

21 And they that dwell in one citie, shal go to another, saying, Vp, let vs go and pray before the Lord, and seke the Lord of hostes: I wil go also.

22 Yea, great people and mightie nations shal come to seke the Lord of hostes in Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In those dayes shal ten men take holde out of all langages of the nations, [euen] take holde of the skirt of him that is a Iewe, and say, We wil go with you: for we haue heard, that God is with you.

4 Beholde, the Lord wil spoile her, and he wil smite her power in the sea, & she shal be deuoured with syre.

5 Ashkelon shal se it, and feare, and Azzah also shalbe verie sorrowful, and Ekron: for her countenance shalbe ashamed, and the King shal perish fro Azzah, & Ashkelon shal not be inhabited.

6 And the stranger shal dwell in Ashdod, and I wil cut of the pride of the Philistims.

7 And I wil take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth in of the sea, that compasseth them round about, yet they shal not escape Gods iudgements. 8 Meaning, that all shulde be destroyed but a remnant that shalde remaine as strangers. 9 He promyseth to deliuer the land when he shal take vengeance on their enemies for their belchie, and vngodlyness to them.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfulls committed to Christ. 7 A grievous vision against Ierusalem and Iudah.

1 Open thy dores, O Lebanon, and the fyre shal deuoure thy cedres.

2 Howle, O fyre trees: for the cedre is fallen, because all þe mightie are destroyed: howle ye, O oaks of Balsan, for the defended forest is cut downe.

3 There [is] the voyce of the howling of the shepherds: for their glorie is destroyed: the voyce of the roaring of lyons whelpes, for the pride of Iorden is destroyed.

4 Thus saith the Lord my God, Fede the shepe of the slaughter.

5 They that possesse them, slaye them, and sinne not: and they that sell them, say, Blessed [be] the Lord: for I am riche, & their owne shepherds spare them not.

6 Surely I wil no more spare those that dwell in the land, saith the Lord: but lo,

I wil deliuer the men euerie one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his King: and they shal smite the land, and out of their hands I wil not deliuer [them].

7 For I fed the shepe of slaughter, euen the poore of the flocke, and I toke vnto me two staures: the one I called, Beautie, and the other I called, Bandes, and I fed the shepe.

8 Three shepherdes also I cut of in one moneth, and my soule lothed them, and their soule abhorred me.

11 That is, the sinners remnant, whome he theghs to shewe mercie vnto. God sheweth his great benefites vnto his people to conuince them of greater ingratitude, which woulde ne be ruled by his moste beautiful order of gouernement, nether contynge in the bandes of brotherlie vnite, and therefore he breaketh bothe the one and the other. Some read, for Bandes destroyers, but in the 14. vers. the first reading is confirmed.

12 VVhereby he sheweth his care and diligence, that he woulde suffer them to haue no euil rulers, because they shoulde consider his great loue. Meaning the people, because they woulde not acknowledge these great benefites of God.

9 Then said I, I wil not fede you: that that dyeth, let it dye: & that that perissheth, let it perissh: and let the remnant eat, euerie one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I toke my staffe, [euen] Beautie, & brake it, that I might disanull my couenat, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the poore of the shepe that waited vpon me, knewe that it was the worde of the Lord.

12 And I said vnto them, If ye thinke it good, giue [me] my wages, and if no, leaue of: so they weighed for my wages thirtie [pieces] of siluer.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, [euen] the Bandes, that I might dissolue the brotherhode betwene Iudah and Israel.

15 And the Lord said vnto me, Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepheard.

16 For lo, I wil raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shal not loke for the thing, is lost, nor seke the tender lambes, nor heale that that is hurt, nor fede that that standeth vp: but he shal eat the flesh of the fat, and reare their clawes in pieces.

the plague of God shal take away bothe thy strength & iudgement.

Of the destruction & buylding againe of Ierusalem.

1 The burde of the worde of the Lord vpon Israel, saith the Lord, which spread the heavens, and layed the fundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Beholde I wil make Ierusalem a cuppe of poyson vnto all the people round about: & also with Iudah wil he be, in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that day wil I make Ierusalem an heauie stone for all people: all that lift it vp, shalbe torne, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I wil smite euery horse with stonishment, & his rider with madnes, and I wil open mine eyes vpon the house of Iudah, and wil smite euery horse of the people with blindenes.

5 And the princes of Iudāh shal say in their hearts, The inhabitants of Ierusalem [shalbe] my strength in the Lord of hostes their God.

6 In that day wil I make the princes of Iudāh like coles of fyre among the wood, and like a fyre brande in the sheafe, and they shal deuoure all the people rounde about on the right hand, and on the left: and Ierusalem shalbe inhabited againe in her owne place, [euē] in Ierusalem.

7 The Lord also shal preserue the tentes of Iudāh, [as] afore time: therefore the glorie of the house of Dauid shal not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ierusalem against Iudāh.

8 In that day shal the Lord defende the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and he that is feble among them, in that daye shalbe as Dauid: and the house of Dauid [shalbe] as gods [house, &] as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day wil I seke to destroye all the nations that come against Ierusalem.

10 And I wil powre vpon the house of Dauid, & vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem the Spirit of grace and of compassion, & they shal loke vpon me, whome they haue perced, and they shal lament for him, as one mourneth for [his] onelie sonne, & he sorie for him as one is sorie for [his] firstborne.

11 In that day shal there be a great mourning in Ierusalem: as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shal bewaile euery familie a parte, the familie of the house of Dauid a parte, and their wiues a parte: the familie of the house of Mathan a parte, & their wiues a parte:

13 The familie of the house of Levi a parte, and their wiues a parte: the familie of Shemei a parte, and their wiues a parte:

14 All the families that remaine, euery familie a parte, and their wiues a parte.

CHAP. XIII.

Of the fountaine of grace. 1. Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie. 2. The seals of the godlie against false prophetes.

IN that day there shalbe a fountaine opened to the house of Dauid, & to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, for sinne & for vncleannes.

2 And in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I wil cut of the names of the idoles out of the land: and they shal no more be remembered: and I wil cause the prophetes, and the vncleane spirits to departe out of the land.

3 And when anie shal yet prophecie, his father & his mother that begate him, shal say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue: for thou speakest lies in the Name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begate him, shal thrust him through, when he prophecieth.

4 And in that daye shal the Prophetes be ashamed euery one of his vision, when he hath prophecied: nether shal they weare a rough garment to deceiue.

5 But he shal say, I am no Prophet: I am an housband man: for man taught me to be an herdman from my youth vp.

6 And one shal say vnto him, What are these woundes in thine hands? Then he shal answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 Arise, o sworde, vpon my shepherd, & vpon the man, [that is] my fellow, saith the Lord of hostes: smite the shepherd, & the shepe shalbe scattered: and I wil turne mine hand vpon the litle ones.

8 And in all the land, saith the Lord, two partes therein shalbe cut of, [and] dye: but the third shalbe left therein.

9 And I wil bring that third parte thorow the fyre, and wil fine them as the siluer is fined, and wil trye them as golde is tryed: they shal cal on my Name, & I wil heare them: I wil say, It is my people, and they shal say, The Lord [is] my God.

more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they wolde so punish their children, that became false prophetes, that the markes and signes shoulde remaine for euer. The Prophet warneth the Iewes, before this great comfort shoulde come vnder Christ, there shoulde be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their gouernours and pastours shoulde be destroyed, and the people shoulde be as scattered shepe: and the Evangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Mat. 26. 31. k The greatest part shal haue no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shal inioye them shal be tryed with great afflictions, so that it shalbe knowne that onely Gods power and his mercies do preserue them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the doctrine that shal procede out of the Church, and of the restauration thereof.

1 Beholde, the day of the Lord cometh. Band thy spoyle shalbe deuided in the middes of thee.

2 For I wil gather all nations against Ierusalem to battel, and the cite shalbe taken, and the house spoyled, and the women defiled, and halfe of the cite shal goe into captivity, and halfe of the cite shal be destroyed, so that they might knowe that they were warned of the day of the Lord.

2 Euerie captaine, that hath many vnder him afore, shal now thinke that the small power of Ierusalem shalbe sufficient to defende them against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.

4 The people which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, shalbe no lesse preserued by my power, than if they were vnder their Kings, which is ment by the house of Dauid, or in their defended cities.

6 They shal haue the feeling of my grace by faith, & knowe that I haue compassion on the.

8 That is, whome they haue continually vexed with their obstinacie, & grieued my Spirit, Ion. 19. 31, where it is referred to Christs bodie, which he refferred to the spirit of God.

9 They shal turne to God by true repentance, whome before they had so grievously offended by their ingratitude.

11 They shal lament and repent exceedingly for their offences against God.

12 Which was the name of a towne and place nere to Megiddon where Ioliah was slayne, 2. Chro. 35. 22.

14 That is, in all places where the Iewes shal remaine. 1 Signifying that this mourning or repentance shoulde not be a vaine ceremonie: but euery one touched with his owne grief shal lament. 2 Under these certaine families he conceineth all the tribes, and sheweth that bothe the Kings and the Priests had by their sinnes perced Christ. 3 Called also Simeon.

To wit, which were elect by grace and preserued from the commune destruction.

a He sheweth what shalbe the fruite of their penitence, to wit remission of sinnes by the blood of Christ, which shalbe a continual running fountaine, and purgeth them from all vncleannes. b He prometheth that God wil also purge them from all superstition, so that their religion shalbe pure.

c Meaning, false prophetes and teachers who are the corrupters of all religion, whome the Prophet here calleth vncleane spirits. d That is, whome they shal prophecie lies and mak God what is the author of truth, a cloke thereunto.

e He sheweth what zeale the godlie shal haue vnder the blood of Christ, Deu. 13. 6. f God shal make them ashamed of their errors and lies, by bringing them to repentance, and they shal no more weare Prophetes apparell to make their doctrine seeme more holy. g They shal confesse their former ignorance, and be conuicted to labour for their liuing.

h Herest sheweth the great power and friendship more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they wolde so punish their children, that became false prophetes, that the markes and signes shoulde remaine for euer. into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shal not be cut of from the citie.

3 Then shal the Lord go forthe, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battel.

4 And his fete shal stand in that day vpon the mount of oliues, which is before Ierusalem on the East side, and the mount of oliues shal cleaue in the middes thereof towarde the East and towarde the West there shal be a very great valley, & halfe of the mountaine shal remoue towarde the North, and halfe of the mountaine towarde the South.

5 And ye shal flee vnto the valley of the mountaines: for the valley of the mountaines shal reache vnto Azal: yea, ye shal flee like as ye fled from the earthquake in the dayes of Vziah King of Iudah: and the Lord my God shal come and all the Saintes with thee.

6 And in that day shal there be no cleare light but darke.

7 And there shalbe a day. (it is known to the Lord) neither day nor night, but about the euening time it shalbe light.

8 And in that day shal there waters of life go out from Ierusalem, halfe of them towarde the East sea, & halfe of them towarde the vttermoſt ſea, [and] shalbe bothe in ſomer and winter.

9 And the Lord shalbe King ouer all the earth: in that day shal there be one Lord, and his Name shalbe one.

10 All the land shalbe turned as a plaine from Geba to Rimmón, toward the South of Ierusalem, and it shalbe lifted vp, and inhabited in her place: from Beniamins gate vnto the place of the first gate, vnto the corner gate, and from the towre of Haniél, vnto the Kings wine preſſes.

11 And men shal dwel in it, and there shalbe no more deſtruction, but Ierusalem shalbe ſafely inhabited.

12 And this shalbe the plague, wherewith the Lord wil ſmite all people, that haue fought against Ierusalem: their fleſh ſhal conſume away, though they ſtand vpon their fete, and their eyes ſhal conſume in their holes, and their tongue ſhal conſume in their mouth.

13 But in that day a great tumult of the Lord ſhalbe among them, and euery one ſhal take the hand of his neighbour, and his hand ſhal liſe vpon his neighbour.

19 This ſhalbe the puniſhment of Egypt, and the puniſhment of all the nations that come not vp to kepe the feaſt of Tabernacles.

20 In that day ſhal there be [written] vpon the bridles of the horſes. The holynes vnto the Lord: & the pottes in the Lords Houſe, ſhalbe like the bowles before the altar.

21 Yea, euery pot in Ierusalem and Iudah ſhalbe holy vnto the Lord of hoſtes, and all they that ſacrifice, ſhal come and take of them and ſeeth therein: and in that day there ſhalbe no more the Canaanite in the Houſe of the Lord of hoſtes.

MALACHI.

THE ARGUMENT.

This Prophet was one of the three, which God raiſed vp for the comfort of his Church after the captiuitie, and after him there was no more vntil Iohn Baptiſt was ſent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they ſhulde with more ſeruent deſires loke for the coming of the Meſſiah. He confirmeth the ſame doctrine, that the two former do, but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their couetouſneſſe, and for that they ſerued God after their owne fantaſies, and not according to the preſcript of his worde. He alſo noteth certaine peculiar finnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and manie wiues, ſacrificing againſt God, impaciencie, and ſuch like. Notwithſtanding the comfort of the godlie he declareth that God wolde not forget his promes made vnto their fathers, but wolde ſend Chriſt his meſſenger, in whom the covenant ſhulde be accompliſhed, whoſe coming ſhulde be terrible to the wicked, and bring all conſolation and ioy vnto the godlie.

6 The law of truth was in his mouth, & there was no iniquitie founde in his lippes: he walked with me in peace and equitie, and did turne manie away from iniquitie.

7 For the Priestess lippes shulde preserve knowledge, and they shulde seke the lawe at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hostes.

8 But ye are gone out of the way: ye have caused manie to fall by the Lawe: ye have broke the couenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people; because ye kepe not my wayes, but haue bene partial in the Lawe.

10 Haue we not all one father? hath not one God made vs? why do we transgresse euerie one against his brother, and breake the couenant of our fathers?

11 Iudah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Ierusalem: for Iudah hath defiled the holynes of the Lord, which he loued, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord wil cut of the man that doeth this: [bothe] the master and the seruāt out of the tabernacle of Iaakob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 And this haue ye done againe, and couered the altar of the Lord with teares, w weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, nether receiued acceptably at your hands.

14 Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witnes betwene thee and thy wife of thy youth, against whome thou hast transgressed: yet is she thy cōpaniō, and the wife of thy cōuenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he abundance of spirit: & wherefore one? because he sought a godlie seed: therefore kepe your selues in your spirit, and let none trespass against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest [her,] put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore kepe your selues in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearyed the Lord with your wordes: yet ye say, Wherein haue we wearied him? When ye say, Euerie one that doeth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them. Or where is the God of iudgement?

Of the messenger of the Lord, Iohne Baptist, & of Christ.

Beholde, I will send my messenger, & he shal prepare the way before me, and the Lord whome ye seek, shal suddenly come to his Temple: euen the messenger of the couenant whome ye desire: beholde, he shal come, saith the Lord of hostes.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shal endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fyre and like fullers sope.

3 And he shal sit downe to trye & fine the siluer: he shal cut fine the sonnes of Leui, and purifie them as golde and siluer, that they may bring offerings vnto the Lord in righteousness.

4 Then shal the offerings of Iudah and Ierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, as in olde time and in the yeres afore.

5 And I wil come nere to you to iudgement, and I wil be a swifte witnes against the falsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, & against those that wrongfully kepe backe the hirelings wages, [and vex] the widdowe, and the fatherles, and oppresse the stranger; & feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and ye sonnes of men, ye are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept [them]: returne vnto me, & I wil returne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes: but ye said, Wherein shal we returne?

8 Wilt a man spoyle [his] gods? yet haue ye spoyled me: but ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye haue spoyled me, euen this whole nation.

APOCRYPHA.

THE ARGUMENT.

These booke that follow in order after the Prophetes vnto the Newe Testament, are called Apocrypha, that is, booke, were not receiued by a commune consent to be red and expounded publicly in the Church, neither yet setued to proue any point of Christiane religion, save in as much as they had the consent of other Scriptures called Canonical to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as booke proceeding from godlie men, were receiued to be red for the advancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, and for the instruction of godlie maners: which booke declare that at all times God had an especial care of his Church and left them not utterly destitute of teachers and meanes to confirme them in the hope of the promised Messiah, and also witnesse that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his prouidence, who had bothe so threatened by his Prophetes, and so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enemies, and for the tryal of his children.

CHAP. I.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passouer. 7 Offring for the Priests and for the people. 11 The order of the Levites. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 25 His death and the occasion thereof, and the lamentation for him. 34 Ioachaz appointed King. 53 The destruction of Ierusalem.

And Iosias kept the Passouer to his Lord in Ierusalem, and offered the Passouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth, And appointed the Priests in order according to their daylie courses, being clothed with long garmets in the Temple of the Lord. And he spake to the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they shulde sanctifie themselves to the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lord in the House, which Salomon the sonne of King David had buylt. And said, Ye shal no more beate the Arke vpon your shulders: now therefore serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families and tribes, After the writing of David King of Israel, and according to the maiestie of Salomon his sonne, and stand in the Temple (according to the ordre of the dignitie of your fathers the Levites) which were appointed before your brethren the children of Israel. Offer in ordre the Passouer, and make readie the sacrifices for your brethren, kepe the Passouer after the Lords commandement given to Moyses. And Iosias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousand lambes and kiddes with thre thousand calues. These were given of the Kings possessions according to the promes, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Levites.

Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias & Syelus the gouernours of the Temple, to Priests for the Passouer two thousand shepe, and thre hundred calues.

Furthermore, Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Chielus, and Ioram captaines gaue to the Levites for the Passouer five thousand shepe and seven hundred calues.

And when these things were done, the Priests and the Levites stode in ordre, hauing vnleauened bread according to tribes,

And after the ordre of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moyses: and thus [they did] in the morning.

And they roasted the Passouer with fire as appertained, and they sod their offrings with perfumes in caldrons and pottes,

And set it before all them that were of the people, and afterward they prepared for them selues, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

For the Priests offered the fatte vnto the evening, and the Levites did make ready for them selues, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

And the holy singers, the sonnes of Asaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinances of David, [to wit] Asaph, and Azarias, and Eddimus, which was of the Kings appointment.

And the porters were at euerie gate, [so that] it was not lawfull that anye shulde passe his ordinarie watch: for their brethren the Levites made ready for them.

And in that day those things which appertained to sacrifice of the Lord, were accomplished, that they might offer the Passouer,

And offered sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel, which were present at that time, kept the Passeouer and the feast of vnleauened bread seuen daies.

20 And there was not such a Passeouer kept in Israel since the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 And all the Kings of Israel did not offere suche a Passeouer, as did Iosias, and the Priestes, and the Leuites, and the Iewes, and all Israel, which were founde to remaine in Ierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Iosias was this Passeouer kept.

23 The workes of Iosias were vpriight before his Lord with a heart full of godlines.

24 And concerning the things which came to passe in his time, they are writen before, [to wit,] of those that sinned and did wickedly against the Lord aboue euerie nation and kingdome, and grieued him with ffensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord stode vp against Israel.

* 2. Chr. 33, 20

25 ¶ Now after all these actes of Iosias it came to passe that when Pharao King of Egypt came to moue warre at Carchamis vpon Euphrates, Iosias went out against him.

26 But the King of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, o King of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee: but my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, and the Lord hasteneth me forward: departe from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 But Iosias wolde not turne backe his chariot from him, but prepared him self to fight with him, not regarding the wordes of Ieremias the Prophet by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But he set him self in battel array against him in the field of Megiddo, and the princes came downe to King Iosias.

30 And the King said to his seruants, Conuaye me out of the battel, for I am very weak. And by and by his seruants brought him out of the battel.

31 So he gate vp on his seconde chariot, & being come againe to Ierusalem he changed his life, and was buryed in his fathers graue.

32 And in all Iudea was Iosias bewailed, yea, Ieremias the Prophet did lament for Iosias, and the gouernours and their wiues did lament him vnto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kinred of Israel to be done continually.

33 But these things are writen in the boke of the stories of the Kings of Iudea, and euerie one of the actes that Iosias did, and his glorie, & his knowledge in the Lawe of the Lord, and the things which he did before, and the things now [rehearsed] are registred in the boke of the Kings of Israel and Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation take Iochaz the sonne of Iosias, and made him King in steade of his father Iosias, when he was thre and twentie yere olde.

1. King. 13, 1
2. Chro. 36, 1

35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem thre moneths: for the King of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Ierusalem.

36 He taxed also the people of an hundredth talents of siluer, and one talent of gold.

37 And the King of Egypt made Ioachim his brother King of Iudea and Ierusalem.

38 And he bounde Iochaz and his gouernours: but when he had taken Zaraces his brother, he led him away into Egypt.

39 Twentie and fve yere olde was Ioachim when he reigned in Iudea and Ierusalem, and he did euil in the sight of the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him came vp Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, who when he had boude him with a chaine of brasse, led him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor toke of the holie vessels of the Lord, and caryed them away, & set them in his temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation, and his reproche are writen in the Chronicles of the Kings.

43 And Ioachim his sonne reigned for him: and when he was made King, he was eigh tene yere olde.

44 And he reigned thre moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and he did euil in the sight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yere after Nabuchodonosor sent and brought him to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And he made Sedecias King of Iudea and Ierusalem when he was one and twentie yere olde, and he reigned eleuen yeres.

47 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, nether did he feare the wordes spoken by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

1. Jer. 38, 1

For after that he was sworne to King Nabuchodonosor, he forswore him self by the Name of the Lord, and fel away, and hardened his necke and his heart, and transgressed the Lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

49 Also the gouerners of the people, and the Priestes comitted many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the

the Lord, which was sanctified in Ierusalem.

50 Neuertheles the God of their Fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because he spared them and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But thei derided his messengers, and in the day, that the Lord spake [vnto them,] thei mocked his Prophetes.

52 So that he, being moued to angre against his people for their great wickednes, commanded the Kings of the Chaldeans to inuade them.

53 These killed their yong men with the sworde rounde about their holie Temple, nether did they spare yong man, nor maiden, nether olde man, nor childe among them.

54 But he deliuered the all into their hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord, bothe great and smale, with the vessels of the Ark of God: and they toke, and caryed away the Kings treasures into Babylon.

55 And thei set fyre in the House of the Lord, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem, and burnt their towres with fyre.

56 They consumed also all the precious things thereof, and broght them to nought, and those that were left by the sworde, he caryed away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruants to him & to his children til the Persians reigned, to fulfil the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias, 58 And that the land might enioye her Sabbaths all the time, that it was desolate, til seuentie yeres were accomplished.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 20 He sent the holy vessels. 13 The number of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their boylding, and the Kings letters for the same.

1 IN the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus King of the Persians, to fulfil the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias,

2 The Lord raised vp the spirit of Cyrus King of the Persians, and he made proclamation through out all his kingdome, euen by expresse letters,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel euen moste high Lord, hath made me King ouer the whole worlde.

4 And he hath commanded me to buylde him an House in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea.

5 If there beanie therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euē his Lord be with him, & let him go vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and buylde the House of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwel leth in Ierusalem.

6 All they then that dwel in the places rounde about, those, [I say,] that are in his place, let them helpe him with golde and siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses and cattel, and other things, which shalbe broght, according to the vowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then arose the chief of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and al whose minde the Lord had moued to go vp, & buylde an House to the Lord in Ierusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and golde, horses, and cattel, and with diuers vowes of many, whose mindes were stirred vp.

10 Also King Cyrus broght out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caryed out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

11 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had broght them out, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer,

12 By whome they were giuen to Abassar the gouernour of Iudea,

13 Whereof this was the number: a thousand golden cuppes, and a thousand siluer cuppes, basens of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twentie viales, of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousand foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer, which thei caryed away, were fise thousand, foure hundred, thre score and nine.

15 They were broght by Sanabassar with them of the captiuitie of Babylon to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ But in the time of Artaxerxes King of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beelthimus, & Semellius the secretarie, & others which were ioyned to these, dwelling in Samaria and in others places, wrote vnto him this epistle here following against them, that dwelt in Iudea, and Ierusalem, TO THE KING ARTAXERXES OVR LORD,

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsel, and the iudges which are in Coelosyria and Phoenice.

18 Be it now therefore knowen to our Lord the King, that the Iewes which came vp from you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, of King Iofias.

39 Twentie and fve yere olde was Ioachim when he reigned in Iudea and Ierusalem, and he did euil in the sight of the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him came vp Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, who when he had boude him with a chaine of brasce, led him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor toke of the holie vessels of the Lord, and caryed them away, & set them in his temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation, and his reproche are written in the Chronicles of the Kings.

43 And Ioachim his sonne reigned for him: and when he was made King, he was eigh tene yere olde.

44 And he reigned thre moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and he did euil in the sight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yere after Nabuchodonosor sent and broght him to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And he made Sedecias King of Iudca and Ierusalem when he was one and twentie yere olde, and he reigned eleuen yeres.

47 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, nether did he feare the wordes spoken by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

For after that he was sworne to King Nabuchodonosor, he forswore him self by the Name of the Lord, and fel away, and hardened his necke and his heart, and transgressed the Lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

48 Also the gouerners of the people, and the Priestes comitted many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the

the Lord, which was sanctified in Ierusalem.

50 Neuertheles the God of their Fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because he spared them and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But thei derided his messengers, and in the day, that the Lord spake [vnto them,] thei mocked his Prophetes.

52 So that he, being moued to angre against his people for their great wickednes, commanded the Kings of the Chaldeans to inuade them.

53 These killed their yong men with the sworde rounde about their holie Temple, nether did they spare yong man, nor maiden, nether olde man, nor childe among them.

54 But he deliuered the all into their hãds, and all the holy vessels of the Lord, bothe great and smale, with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they toke, and caryed away the Kings treasures into Babylon.

55 And thei set fyre in the House of the Lord and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem, and burnt their towres with fyre.

56 They consumed also all the precious things thereof, and broght them to nought, and those that were left by the sworde, he caryed away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruants to him & to his children, til the Persians reigned, to fulfil the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias, 58 And that the land might enioye her Sabbaths all the time, that it was desolate, til seuentie yeres were accomplished.

¶ CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 20 He sent the holy vessels. 13 The number of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their buylding, and the King letters for the same.

1 IN the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus King of the Persians, to fulfil the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias,

2 The Lord raised vp the spirit of Cyrus King of the Persians, and he made proclamation through out all his kingdome, euen by expresse letters,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel euen moste high Lord, hath made me King ouer the whole worlde.

4 And he hath commanded me to buylde him an House in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea,

5 If there beanie therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euē his Lord be with him, & let him go vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and buylde the House of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwel leth in Ierusalem.

6 All they then that dwel in the places rounde about, those, [I say,] that are in his place, let them helpe him with golde and siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses and cattel, and other things, which shalbe broght, according to the vowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then arose the chief of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and al whose minde the Lord had moued to go vp, & buylde an House to the Lord in Ierusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and golde, horses, and cattel, and with diuers vowes of many, whose mindes were stirred vp.

10 Also King Cyrus broght out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caryed out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

11 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had broght them out, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer,

12 By whome they were giuen to Abassar the gouernour of Iudea,

13 Whereof this was the number: a thousand golden cuppes, and a thousand siluer cuppes, basens of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twentie viales, of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousand foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde and siluer, which thei caryed away, were siue thousand, foure hundred, thre score and nine.

15 They were broght by Sanabassar with them of the captiuitie of Babylon to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ But in the time of Artaxerxes King of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethimus, & Semellius the secretarie, & others which were ioyned to these, dwelling in Samaria and in others places, wrote vnto him this epistle here following against them, that dwelt in Iudea, and Ierusalem, TO THE KING ARTAXERXES OVR LORD,

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsel, and the iudges which are in Coelosyria and Phoenice.

18 Be it now therefore knowen to our Lord the King, that the Iewes which came vp from you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, that rebellious and wicked citie, & buylde he market place s, and make vp the walles thereof, and laye the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therefore if this citie be buylt, and the walles be finished, they wil not onely not indure to paye tribute, but wil also resist Kings.

20 And because the things, perteyning to the Temple, go forward, we thocht it not mete to passe ouer suche a thing.

21 But to declare it to our Lord the King, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be fought out in the booke of thy fathers,

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt knowe that this citie did alwaies rebel, and did trouble bothe Kings and cities.

23 And that the Iewes are rebellious, raising alwaies warres therein: for the which cause also this citie was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, o Lord the King, we declare it, that if this citie be buylt and the walles thereof repared, you shal haue no more passage into Coelosyria, nor Phoenice.

25 ¶ Then the King wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, and to Beelsethmus, and to Semellius the secretaire, and to the rest of those that were ioyned with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syria and Phoenice, these things that followe.

26 I haue red the epistle, which ye sent to me: therefore I commanded, that it shulde be fought out, and it was founde, that this citie hath alwaies practised against Kings.

27 And that the men thereof were giuen to rebellion and warres, and how that mightie Kings and fierce haue reigned in Ierusalem, which toke tribute of Coelosyria and Phoenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to buylde vp the citie, and that it be taken hede that no more be done.

29 And that those wicked things, which shulde molest the King, go not forward.

30 Then when Rathumus, & Semellius the secretaire and the rest, which were ioyned with them, had red the things, which King Artaxerxes had written, they moued their tents with speed to Ierusalem with horses and men in aray.

31 And began to let them which buylt, so that the buylding of the Temple in Ierusalem ceased vnto the seconde yere of the reigne of Darius King of the Persians.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The thre wise sentences.

1 NOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast to all his subiects and to all those of his owne house, and to all the princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to al the gouernours and captaines, and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia of an hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, & were satisfied, they departed, and King Darius went into his chamber, and slept, til he wakened againe.

4 ¶ In the meane time thre yong men of the garde, keepers of the Kings bodie, said one to another,

5 Let euerie one of vs speake a sentence, [&] he that shal overcome, & whose sentence shal appeare wiser then the others, Darius the King shal giue him great gifts, and great things in token of victorie.

6 As to weare purple and to drinke in golde, and to slepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of golde, an head tyre of fine linc, and a chaine about his necke.

7 And he shal sit next to Darius for his wisdom, and shal be called Darius counsellor.

8 Then euerie man wrote his sentence and sealed it, and put it vnder the pillowe of King Darius.

9 And said, when the King rose, thei wolde giue him the writing, and whose sentence the King and the thre princes of Persia shulde iudge to be wisest, to him shulde the victorie be giuen, as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The King is strongest.

12 The other wrote, women are strongest, but trueth ouercometh all things.

13 ¶ And when the King rose, they toke the writings and gaue them to him, and he red them.

14 And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouernours and the captaines, and lieutenants, and the counsellors.

¶ And late him downe in the counsell, and the writing was red before them.

16 Then he said, Call the yong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he said vnto them, Declare vnto vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoken of the strength of wine.

18 And said on this maner, O ye men, how strong strong is wine: it deceiueth all men that drinke it.

19 It maketh the minde of the King and of the fatherles bothe one, of the bonde man and of the fre man, of the poore man and of the riche man.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioye and gladnes, so that one remembreth no maner of sorow, nor det.

21 It maketh euery heart riche, so that one remembreth nether King nor gouernour, and causeth to speake all things by talents.

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no minde to loue either friends or brethron, and a litle after they drawe out swordes.

23 But when they are from the wine, they do not remember what they haue done.

24 O ye men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to do such things? And he helde his peace when he had thus spoken.

CHAP. III.

Of the strength of a King. 13 Of the strength of women.

34 Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approued,

47 And his petition granted.

Then the seconde which had spoke of the strength of the King, began to say,

2 O ye men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by land and by sea, and ouer all things which are in them?

3 But the King is yet greater: for he ruleth all things, & is lord of them, so that they do all things which he commadeth them.

4 If he bid the make warre one against another, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go and breake downe mountaines and walles and towres,

5 They kil and are killed, and do not passe the commandement of the King: if they ouercome, they bring all to the King, as wel the spoyle as all other things.

6 And those also which go not to warre & battel, but til the earth: [for] when they haue sowne it againe, thei reape it, and bring it to the King, and compell one another to paye tribute to the King.

7 Yet he is [but] one man: if he bid, Kil, they kil: if he say, Spare, they spare.

8 [If] he bid, Smite, they smite: [if] he bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: [if] he bid, Buylde, they buylde.

9 [If] he bid, Cut of: they cut of: [if] he bid, Plante, they plante.

10 So all the people and all his armies obey one mā: in the meane while he sitteth downe, he eateth, and drinketh, and slepeth.

11 For these kepe him rounde about: nether can any one go and do his owne busines, nether are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O ye men, how shulde not the King be strongest, seing he is thus obiect? So he helde his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the thirde which had spoken of women and of the trueth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speake.

14 O ye men, nether the mightie King, nor many mā, nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them or hath the dominion ouer the? are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the King & all the people which beare rule by sea & by land.

16 Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments & make men honorable, nether can men be without women.

18 And if thei haue gathered together gold & siluer, or any goodlie thing, do they not loue a faire and beautiful woman?

19 Do they not leaue all those things & giue the selues wholly vnto her, & gaze, and gaze vpon her, & all men desire her more then gold, or siluer, or any precious thing?

20 A man leaueth his owne father which hath nourished him, and his owne countrey, and is ioyned with his wife.

21 And for the woman he iopardeth his life, and nether remembreth father nor mother nor countrey.

22 Therefore by this ye may knowe that the womē beare rule ouer you: do ye not labour and trauail, and giue and bring all to the women?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sworde and goeth for he to kil and to steale, and to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers,

24 And he seeth a lion and goeth in darkness, and when he hath stollen, rauished and spoiled, he bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother.

26 Yea, many haue runne mad for womē, and haue bene seruants for them.

27 Many also haue perished and haue erred and sinned for women.

28 Now therefore do you not beleue me: is not the King great in his power: do not all regions feare to touche him?

29 [Yet] I sawe him and Apame, the Kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Bartacus, sitting on a right had of the king.

30 And she toke the crowne of the Kings head, and put it vpon her owne, and stroke the King with her left hand.

31 Yet in the meane season the King gaped and gazed on her: & if she laughed at him, he laughed, and if she were angrie with him, he did flatter her that he might be reconciled with him.

 32 How then, O ye men, are not women more strong, seeing they do thus?
 33 ¶ Then the King and the princes looked one upon another, and he began to speake of the trueth.
 34 O ye men, are not women stronger: great is the earth, and the heauen is hie, and the sonne is swift in his course: for he turneth rounde about heauen in one day, and runneth againe into his owne place.
 35 Is not he great that maketh these things: therefore the trueth is greater and stronger then all.
 36 All the earth calleth for trueth, and the heauen blesteth it: and all things are shaken & tremble, nether is there any vniust thing with it.
 37 The wine [is] wicked, the King [is] wicked, women [are] wicked, & all the childre of men are wicked, & al their wicked workes are suche, and there is no trueth in the, and they perish in their iniquitie.
 38 But trueth doeth abide, and is strong for euer, and liueth and reigneth for euer and euer.
 39 With her there is no receiuing of perlos nor difference: but she doeth the things which are iuste, and absteineth from vniust and wicked things, and al men fauour her workes.
 40 Nether is there any vniust thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength and the kingdome and the power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.
 41 So he ceased to speake, and then all the people cryed and said then, Trueth is great and strongest.
 42 ¶ Then the King said vnto him, Aske what thou wilt besides, which is appointed, & we wil giue it thee, because thou art founder of the wisest, and thou shalt haue libertie to sit by me, and shalt be called my cousin.
 43 ¶ Then he said to the King, Remembre the vowe that thou hast vowed to buylde Ierusalem, in the day that thou tokest the kingdome, 44 And to send againe all the vessels which were taken out of Ierusalem, which Cyrus set a parte when he made a vowe to cur of Babylon, and vowed to send them thither.
 45 Thou also hast vowed to buylde the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt when Iudaea was destroyed by the Chaldeans.
 46 And now, O Lord the King, this is that which I desire and require of thee, & this is the magnificence, which I require of thee: I require therefore that thou woldest accomplish thy vowe which thou hast vowed with thine owne mouth to do to I King of heauen.

 47 Then King Darius rising vp, kissed him, and wrote him letters to all the stewardes and lieutenants, and captaines, and gouernours, that they shulde bring on the waye [bothe] him, and all that were with him, which went vp to buylde Ierusalem.
 48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenants in Coelosyria and Phoenice, and to them that were in Libanus, that they shulde bring cedre wood from Libanus to Ierusalem, and buylde the citie with him.
 49 And he wrote for all the Iewes, which went vp out of his kingdome vnto Iudaea, concerning their libertie, that no prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor steward shulde enter into their dores,
 50 And that al the region which they kept, shulde paye no tribute, and that the Idumeans shulde let go the villages of the Iewes which they helde,
 51 And that euerie yere there shulde be giuen for the buylde of the Temple twentie talents vntill it were buylt, 52 And to mainteine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euerie day (as they had a commandement to offer seuentene) other ten talents euerie yere.
 53 And that all they which went from Babylon to buylde the citie, shulde haue libertie, as wel they as their posteritie, and al the Priests that went away.
 54 He wrote also touching the charges and the Priests garment, wherein they shulde minister.
 55 And he wrote that they shulde giue the Leuites their charges vntill the House were finished, and Ierusalem buylt.
 56 Also he wrote that they shulde giue pensions & wages to them that kept the citie.
 57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had set aparte out of Babylon, and whatsoever Cyrus had commaded to do, he also commanded to do it, and to send to Ierusalem.
 58 And when the yong man was gone forth, he list vp his face to heauen towards Ierusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, 59 Saying, Of thee is the victorie, & of thee is wisdom, & of thee is glorie, and I [am] thy seruant.
 60 Blessed be thou which hast giuen me wisdom: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O Lord of our fathers.
 61 ¶ So he toke the letters and went out & came to Babylon & telled all his brethren.
 62 And they blessed the God of their fathers because he had giuen them freedom and libertie,

CHAP. V.

1 The number of them that returne from the captiuitie. 43 Their vowes and sacrifices. 54 The Temple is begun to be buylt. 66 Their enemies wolde craftely ioyne with them.

1 After these things, the chief of the houses of their fathers were chosen after their tribes, and their wiues, and their sonnes, & their daughters, & their seruantes, and their maides, and their cattel.

2 And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, til they were restored to Ierusalem in safetie, and with musical instruments, with tabrets and flutes.

3 And all their brethren plaied: thus he caused them to go vp together with them.

4 ¶ And these are the names of the men that went vp after their families, by their tribes, [and] after the order of their dignitie.

5 The Priests. The sonnes of Phinees, the sonne of Aarō, Iesus [sonne] of Iosedec, [sonne] of Saraias, and Ioachim the [sonne] of Zorobabel, the [sonne] of Salathiel of the house of Dauid, of the kinred of Phares, of the tribe of Iuda.

the commandement giuen vnto them by Cyrus King of Persia.

56 And in the second yere and second moneth came into the Temple of God in Ierusalem Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and their brethren, and the Priests & Leuites, and all they that came out of captiuitie into Ierusalem,

Ezra 4, 14.

57 And *layed the fundation of the House of God in the first day of the second moneth of the second yere after their returne into Iudea and Ierusalem.

58 And they appointed the Leuites from twentie yere olde ouer the workes of the Lord, and Iesus and his sonne, and his brethren, and his brother Cadmiel, and the sonnes of Madiabon with the sonnes of Ioda, the sonne of Heliadun, with their sonnes, and brethren, [euen] all the Leuites with one accorde did followe after the worke, calling vpon the workes in the House of God: thus the workemen buylt the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stode clothed with their long garments with musick [instruments] and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbales, 60 Singing & blessing the Lord, according to the ordinance of Dauid King of Israel.

61 And they sung with loud voice songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercie and glorie [is] for euer in all Israel.

62 Then al the people blew trumpets, and cryed with loud voice, praising the Lord for the raising vp of the House of the Lord,

63 Also some of the Priests and Leuites, and chief men, [to wit,] the Ancients, which had sene the former House, 64 Came [to se] the buylding of this with weping and great crying, and manie with trumpets & loy [crying] with loude voice.

65 So that the people coulde not heare the trumpets, because of the weping of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets, so that they were heard far of.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Iuda & Benjamin heard it, they came to know what noise of trumpets it was,

67 And they knewe that they of the captiuitie buylt the Temple to the Lord God of Israel.

68 Wherefore they coming to Zorobabel, and Iesus, & the chief of the families, said vnto them, Let vs buyld also with you, 69 For we obey your Lord, as you do, and sacrifice vnto him since the dayes of Tachbareth King of the Assyrians, which brought vs hether.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Iesus, & the chief of the families of Israel said to them, It doeth not apperteyne to vs, and to you to buyld an House to the Lord our God.

71 For we alone wil buylde it to the Lord God of Israel, as it becometh vs, [and] as *Cyrus the King of the Persians bad vs.

Ezra 4, 14

72 Howbeit the people of the land made them sluggish that were in Iudea, and letted them to buyld the worke, and by their ambushments and seditions and conspiracies hindred the finishing of the buylding, 73 All the time of King Cyrus life: so that they were let from the buylding two yere, vntil the reigne of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The buylding of the Temple. 3 Sisinnes wolde let them. 7 His epistle to Darius. 23 The Kings answer to the contrarie.

1 BVt* in the second yere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Addo, the Prophetes, prophesied to the Iewes, euen vnto them that were in Iudea and Ierusalem, in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, which they [called] the Lord.

neh. 1.

2 Then Zorobabel sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec stode vp, and began to buylde the House of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem, the Prophetes of the Lord being with the, & helping the.

3 In that time Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria, and Phoenice, and Sathrabouzanes with his companions came vnto them,

4 And said vnto them, By whose commandement buyld you this House & this buylding, and enterprise all these other things, and who are the buylders that enterprise suche things?

5 But the Ancients of the Iewes had grace of the Lord after that he had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted to buyld, vntil it was signified vnto Darius of these matters, and an answer was receiued.

7 The copie of the epistle, which he did write and send to Darius, SISINNES gouernour of Syria and of Phoenice, and Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, presidents in Syria and Phenicé, salute King Darius.

8 It may please the King our master plainly to vnderstand, that when we came to the countrey of Iudea, & entred into the cite of Ierusalem, we found in the cite of Ierusalem the Ancients of the Iewes that were of the captiuitie,

9 Buylding an House to the Lord, great &

newe, of hewen stones, and of great price, & the timber all ready laid vpon the walles.

10 And these workes are done with great speede, yea, and the worke hath good successe in their hands, so that it wil be finished with all glorie and diligence.

11 Then we asked their Ancients, saying, By whose commandement buyld you this House, and lay the fundation of these workes?

12 We asked them these things to the intent to notifie them to thee, and to write to thee the men that gouerned it: therefore we demanded the names of the gouernours in writing.

13 But they answered, saying, We are the seruants of the Lord, which hath created the heauen and the earth:

*1. King. 6. 3.

14 And* this House was buylt vp many yeres ago by a King of Israel great & strong, and was finished.

*2. King. 24. 1

15 But when our fathers, prouoking [God] to wrath, sinned against the Lord of Israel, [which is] in heauen, *he deliuered the into the hands of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon of the Chaldeans, 16 [Who] brake downe the House [and] burnt it, and caryed the people captiue to Babylon.

17 But in the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus ouer the countrey of Babylon, King Cyrus wrote that this House shulde be buylt vp.

18 And the holie vessels of golde and of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had caryed out of the House at Ierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne Temple, Cyrus the King toke out of the Temple at Babylon, and they were giuen to Zorobabel, and to Sanabassar ruler.

† Or, Shafhabassar.

19 And a commandement was giuen vnto him, that he shulde cary away those vessels, and put them in the Temple at Ierusalem, and that this Temple of the Lord shulde be buylt in this place.

20 The same Sanabassar being come herher, layed the fundations of the House of the Lord at Ierusalem, and since that time til now, it is in buylding, [and] is not finished.

21 Now therefore if it please the King, let it be sought vp in the Kings libraries concerning Cyrus.

22 And if it be found that the buylding of the House of the Lord at Ierusalem hath bene done by the consent of King Cyrus, and if it seme good to the lord our King, let him make vs answer concerning these things.

23 Then King Darius commanded to search in the Kings libraries, that were in Babylon, and there was founde in Ecbatane, which is a towne in the region of Media, a place where suche things were layed vp for memorie.

24 In the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus, King Cyrus commaded the House of the Lord at Ierusalem to be buylded, where thei did sacrifice with the continuall fyre.

25 Of the which the height [shulde be] of threescore cubites, the breadth of threescore cubites with thre rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of newe wood of that countrey, and that the costs shulde be payed out of the house of King Cyrus.

26 And that the holie vessels of the House of the Lord, aswel those of golde as of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had caryed out of the house in Ierusalem, and broght into Babylon, shulde be restored to the House, which is in Ierusalem, and set in the place where they were [afore.]

27 Also he commanded that Sisinnes, gouernour of Syria and Phoenice, and Sathabouzan, and their companions, and those which were constitute captaines in Syria and Phoenice, shulde take hede to refraine from that place, and to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord, and gouernour of Iudea, and the Elders of the Iewes to buyld that House of the Lord in that place.

28 And I also haue commanded to buyld it cleane vp againe, and that they be diligent to helpe them of the captiuitie of the Iewes, til the House of the Lord be finished.

29 And that some parte of the tribute of Coelosyria & Phoenice shulde be diligently giuen to these men for sacrifice vnto the Lord, and to Zorobabel the gouernour, for bulles, rams and lambes:

30 Also corne, and salte, and wine, and oile continually euerie yere without faile, as the Priests which are in Ierusalem shal testifie to be spent euerie day.

31 That offerings may be made to the high God for the King, and his children, and that they may pray for their liues.

32 Furthermore he commanded that who-soeuer shulde transgresse anie thing afore spoken or written, or derogate anie thing thereof, that a tree shulde be taken out of his possession, and he be hanged thereon, and that his goods shulde be the Kings.

33 And therefore let the Lord whose Name is there called vpon, destroye euerie King and nation, which stretcheth out his hand to hinder or do euil to that House of se of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

34 *I Darius the King haue ordeined that it shulde be diligently executed according to these things.

¶ CHAP. VII.

1 Sifinnes and his companions follow the Kings commandement and helpe the Iewes to buyld the Temple. 5 The time that it was buyld. 10 Thei kepe the Passeouer.

1 THen Sifinnes the gouernour of Cœlosyria and Phœnice, and Sathrabouzanēs, & their companions, obeying King Darius commandements, 2 Assisted diligently the holie workes, working with the Ancients and gouernours of the Sanctuarie.

3 And the holie workes prospered by Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophetes which prophesied.

4 So they finished all things by the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes King of the Persians.

5 Thus the holie House was finished in the thre and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the sixt yere of Darius King of the Persians.

6 ¶ And the children of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, [and] had anie charge, did according to the things [writē] in the booke of Moses.

7 And they offred for the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, an hundreth bulles, two hundreth rams, foure hūdreth lambes

8 [And] twelue goates for the sinne of al Israel, according to the number of the chief of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priests, and the Leuites stode according to their kinreds clothed with long robes in the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moses, and also the porters in euerie gate.

10 And the children of Israel offred the Passeouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth [day] of the first moneth, after that the Priests and Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offred the Passeouer, for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves, 13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eat, [euen] all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes, reioycing before the Lord,

15 Because he had turned the cōunsel of the King of the Assyrians towards them to strengthen their hands in the workes of the Lord God of Israel.

¶ CHAP. VIII.

1 Esdras cometh from Babylon to Ierusalem. 10 The copie of the commission giuen by Artaxerxes. 19 Esdras giueth thanks to the Lord. 32 The number of the heads of the people that came with him. 76 His prayer and confession.

1 ANd after these things when Artaxerxes King of the Persians reigned, Esdras [the sonne] of I Saraias, [the sonne] of Ezerias, [the sonne] of Helcias, [the sonne] of Salum,

2 [The sonne] of Sadoc, [the sonne] of Achitob, [the sonne] of Amarias, [the sonne] of Ezias, [the sonne] of Memeroth, [the sonne] of Zariais, [the sonne] of Isaias, [the sonne] of Boccas, [the sonne] of Abisum, [the sonne] of Phinees, [the sonne] of Eleazar, [the sonne] of Aarō was the hie Priest.

3 This Esdras went out of Babylon, & was a scribe wel taught in the Law of Moyses, giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 Also the King gaue him [great] honour, [and] he founde grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 With him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, and of the holy singers, and of the porters, and of the ministers of the Temple vnto Ierusalem,

6 In the seuēth yere of the reigne of Artaxerxes, and in the fift moneth: this was the seuēth yere of the King (for thei went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Ierusalem according as the Lord gaue them speede in their iourney)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge, so that he wolde let nothing passe that was in the Law of the Lord, and in the cōmandements, and he taught all Israel all the ordinances and iudgements.

9 So the commission written by King Artaxerxes was giuen to Esdras the Priest & reader of the Law of the Lord: the copie thereof followeth.

10 King Artaxerxes to Esdras the Priest, & reader of the Law of the Lord, Salutation.

11 Forasmuche as I consider things with pite, I haue commanded that they that wil and desire of the nation of the Iewes, and of the Priests and Leuites, which are in our kingdome, shulde go with thee vnto Israel.

good to me and my seuen friends the counsellors,

13 That they may visite the things that are in Iudea and Ierusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Law of the Lord,

14 And cary the gifts to the Lord of Israel in Ierusalem, which I and my friends haue vowed: also all the golde and siluer, which shal be founde in the countrey of Babylon [appertaining] to the Lord in Ierusalem,

15 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lord their God that it might be brought to Ierusalem, as wel siluer as golde, for bulles, and rams, and lambes, and things thereunto pertaining,

16 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Ierusalem,

17 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren wil do with the golde or siluer, accomplish it according to the wil of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Ierusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Ierusalem.

19 And what other things soeuer thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the Kings treasure.

20 And I also King Artaxerxes haue commanded the treasurers of Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the Priest & reader of the Law of the hiest God, shal send for, they shulde giue it him with all speede, euen to [the some of] an hundredth talents of siluer, 21 And likewise vnto an hundredth cores of corne, and an hundredth pieces of wine, & other things in abundance.

22 Let all things be done to the hiest God according to the Law of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the king dome of the King and of his sonnes.

23 Also to you it is commanded, that of none of the Priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters or ministers of the Temple, or of the workemen of this Temple, no tribute nor taxe be taken, nor that any haue power to taxe them in any thing.

24 Thou also, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordeine iudges and gouernours, that they may iudge in all Syria & Phenice all those which are wel instructed in the Law of thy God, and teache those, which are not instructed,

25 And let all those which shal transgresse the Law of God and the King, be diligently punished, ether with death or other punishment, ether with penaltie of money, or banishment.

26 ¶ The Esdras the scribe said, Blessed be the onelie Lord God of my fathers, which hath put this in the heart of the King to glorifie his House which is in Ierusalem, 27 And hath honoured me before ¶ King and the counsellors, and all his friends and gouernours.

28 ¶ Therefore I was encouraged by the helpe of the Lord my God, and gathered men of Israel to go vp with me.

45 With charge to bidde Daddeus and his brethren, and the treasurers that were there, to send to vs the, which shulde offer sacrifice in the House of our Lord.

46 And they broght vnto vs by the mightie hand of our Lord learned men of the sonnes of Moli, [the sonne] of Levi, [the sonne] of Israel, [to wit,] †Cisebebran & his sonnes, and his brethren being eightene.

47 And Asebia, and †Annon, and Osaian his brethren of the sonnes of †Canaaneus with their sonnes, twentie persones.

48 And of the ministers of the Temple, which Dauid gaue, and those which were rulers ouer the worke of the Leuites, [to wit,] ministers of the Temple, two hundred and twentie, of whome all the names were registred.

49 ¶ And * there I proclaimed a fast for the yong men before the Lord to aske of him a good iourney bothe for vs, and for the that were with vs, for our children, & for our cattel.

50 For I was ashamed to aske the King footemen, or horsemen, or condict for sauegarde against our enemies, 51 Because we had said to the King, that the power of our Lord shulde be with them that fought him to direct them in all things.

52 Wherefore we prayed our Lord againe, according to these things, whome we founde fauourable.

53 Then I chose from among the chief of the tribes and of the Priests, twelue men [to wit,] †Esebias and Assanias, and with them ten of their brethren.

54 And I weighed them the siluer and the golde, and the holy vessels of the House of our Lord, which the King and his counsellers, and [his] princes, and all Israel had giuen.

55 And I weighed them sex hundred and fifty talents of siluer, and siluer vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of golde, 56 And twentie golden basens, & twelue vessels of brasse, of fine brasse shining like golde.

57 And I said to them, You are also holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the golde, and the siluer is a vowe to the Lord of our fathers.

58 Watch and kepe [them,] til that you giue them to the heads of the families of the Priests, and Leuites, and captaines of the families of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the House of our God.

59 So the Priests & Leuites toke the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, and caryed them to Ierusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

60 And we departed fro the flood Thera, in the twelue [day] of the first moneth, and came to Ierusalem according to the mightie power of our Lord with vs: and the Lord deliuered vs from the beginnig of our iourney from all enemies. So we came to Ierusalem.

61 And thre dayes being past there, in the fourth day the siluer that was weighed, and the golde was deliuered in the House of our Lord to †Marmoth the Priest & sonne of Iouri, 62 And with him to Eleazar the [sonne] of Phinees: and there were with them, Iosabad [the sonne] of Iesus, and †Moeth [sonne] of Sabbanus, Leuites: all [was deliuered them] by number and weight.

63 And all the weight of them was writen that same houre.

64 Afterwards those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lord God of Israel, [euen] twelue bulles for all Israel, rams foure score and sixtene, 65 Lambs thre score and twelue, twelue goates for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

66 And they presented the commandments of the King to the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phoenice who honored the people, & the Temple of God.

67 ¶ When these things were done, the gouernours came to me, saying, The people of Israel, the princes and the Priests, and the Leuites haue not separated [from them] the strange people of the land, 68 Nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, [to wit,] of the Canaanites, and Chetites, and Pheresites, and Iebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumeans.

69 For they haue dwelt with their daughters, bothe they and their sonnes, and the holy sede is mixed with the strange people of the land, and the gouernours and rulers haue bene partakers of this wickednes from the beginnig of the thing.

70 And asone as I had said these thigs, I rent my clothes, and the my garment, and I pulled the heere of mine head, and of my bearde, and sat me downe sorrowful, and verie sad.

the worde of the Lord God of Israel, came to me whiles I wepte for the iniquitie, but I fate verie sad til the euenig sacrifice.
72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes torne, and the holy gairment, and bowed my knees and stretched forth [mine] hands to the Lord, 73 And said, *O Lord, I am ashamed, and confounded before thy face.
74 For our sinnes are increased aboute our heades, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.
75 Yea, euen from the time of our fathers we are in great sinne vnto this day.
76 For our sinnes therefore, & our fathers we with our brethren, with our Kings & Priests haue bene giue vp to the Kings of the earth, to the sworde and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.
77 And now how great hathe thy mercie bene, O Lord, that [there] shulde be left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holines!
78 And that thou shuldest reueale to vs a light in the House of the Lord our God, and giue vs meat in the time of our seruitude!

81 And now, O Lord, what shal we say, hauing these things? for we haue transgressed thy commandemets, which thou hast giuen by the hands of thy seruants & Prophetes, saying,
82 *Because the lād, which ye go to in heritage, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the land, which haue filled it with their filthines,
83 Therefore now ye shal not ioyne [their] daughters with your sonnes, nether giue your daughters to their sonnes,
84 Nether shal you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that ye may be made strong, and eat the good things of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.
85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked workes, and for our great sinnes: yet, Lord, thou hast forborne our sinnes, 86 And hast giuen vs suche a roote: [but] we againe haue turned backe to transgresse thy Law, [and] to mixe [vs] with the vn-clennes of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angrie with vs to destroye vs, so that thou shuldest nether leaue vs roote nor scede nor name?
88 [But,] O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left, [euen] vnto this day.
89 Beholde, we are now before thee with our iniquities, nether can we indure before thee for these things.
90 ¶ And *as Esdras prayed and confessed and wept, and laye vpon the ground before the Temple, a verie great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem of men and women, and yong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.
91 Then Iechonias the sonne of ¶ Icel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out said, O Esdras, we haue sinned against the Lord God: we haue taken in mariage strange women of the nations of the land.
92 And now all Israel is douteful: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lord, to put away all our wiues, & are strangers, with their children.
93 If it seme good to thee, and to all them that obey the Law of the Lord, rise vp [and] put it in execution.
94 For to thee doeth it apperteine, and we are with thee to make thee strong.
95 Then Esdras arose, [and] made all the chief of the families of the Priests & Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they wolde do thus: and they sware.
¶ CHAP. IX.
7 After Esdras had red the law for the strange wiues, 10 They promise to put them away.
1 Then *Esdras rose from the court of the Temple, [and] went to the chamber of Ioannan [the sonne] of Eliasib,
2 And being lodged there, he did eat no bread nor dranke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.
3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea and Ierusalem to all them, that were of the captiuitie, that they shulde be gathered to Ierusalem,
4 And that all they which shulde not mete there within two or thre dayes, accordig to the ordinance of the Elders, which beare rule, shulde haue their cattel confiscated to the Temple, & he cast out from among them of the captiuitie.
5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda & Benjamin, came together within thre dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth and twentieth [day] of the moneth.

place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

7 Then Esdras arose and said to them, Ye haue sinned: for ye haue married strange wiues: so that ye haue augmented the finnes of Israel.

8 Now therefore confesse and glorifie the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And do his wil, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cryed out and said with a loude voyce, We wil do so as thou hast said.

11 But because the multitude [is] great, and the time is winter, so that we can not stand without, and the worke is not of one day nor of two, seing that manie of vs haue sinned in this matter,

12 Let the chief men of the multitude and all they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarie:

13 And let the Priests and iudges come out of all places at the day appointed, til they haue appeased the wrath of the Lord against vs for this matter.

14 Then Ionathas Afaels [sonne] and Eze-cias [sonne] of the Can were appointed concerning these things, and Mosollam & Sabbateus did helpe them.

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

16 Esdras the Priest also chose him certaine men, chief of their families, all by name: and they sate together in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine this matter.

17 And they made an end of the things pertaining to them that had married strange wiues in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And there were founde of the Priests, which had married strange wiues, 19 Of the sonnes of Iesus, the [sonne] of Iosedec, & of [his] brethren, Mathelas, and Eleazar, and Ioribus, and Ionadan.

20 Who also gaue their hands to cast out their wiues, and offered a ram for [their] reconciliation in their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samcius, & Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Phaifu, Ellionas, Massias, Esmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Talfas.

23 And of the Leuites, Iorabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calias, and Patheus, and Ooudas, and Ionas.

24 Of the holie singers, Eliazurus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Tolbanes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phorus, Hiermas, and Eddias, & Melchias, & Maelus, and Eleazar, and Asibias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Matthanias, Zacharias, and Hierielas, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Elisimus, Othonias, Iarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardetus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Ioannes, and Ananias, and Iosabad, and Ematheas.

30 Of the sonnes of Mani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Iedaia, Isabus, Isafael, and Ieremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, Moosias, Laccunus, and Naidus, and Matthanias, and Sefschel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, & Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Chosamite.

33 And of the sonnes of Asom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Bannaias, Eliphalat, & Manasses, and Semei.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Ieremias, Momdis, Omairus, Inel, Mamai, and Pacias, and Amos, Carabasion and Euasibus, and Mammatanaius, Elisafis, Vamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanas, & of the sonnes of Ozoras, Sefis, Esril, Azailus, Samatas, Sambis, Isophus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.

36 All these married strange wiues, & put them away with their children.

37 And the Priests and the Leuites dwelt in Ierusalem, and in the countrey, the first day of the seventh moneth, and the children of Israel in their owne houses.

38 ¶ Then all the multitude assembled together with one consent into the broad place before the gate of the Temple towards the East.

39 And spake to Esdras the Priest, and reader, that he shulde bring the Law of Moyses, which had bene giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

40 Then brought Esdras the chief Priest the Law to all the multitude, bothe man and woman, and to all the Priests, that they might heare the Law the first day of the seventh moneth.

41 And he red in the first broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude hearkened to the Law.

4 But what shal I now do vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: go ye, o my children, and aske mercie of the Lord.

5 And thee, o father, I call for a witnes for the mother of these children, which wolpe not kepe my couenant, 32 Embrace thy children, vntil I come and shewe mercie vnto the: for my fountaines runne ouer, and my grace shal not faile.

33 I Esdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Horeb, that I shulde go vnto them of Israel, but when I came to the, thei cast me of, and despised the commandement of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, o ye heathen, that heare and vnderstand, Wait for your shepherd, who shal giue you euerlasting rest: for he is nere at hand, that shal come in the end of the worlde.

35 Be ready to the rewarde of the kingdome: for the euerlasting light shal shine vpon you for euermore.

36 Fle the shadowe of this worlde: receiue the ioye of your glorie: I testifie my Sauiour openly.

37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him that hath called you to the heauenlie kingdome.

38 Arise, and stand vp, and beholde the number of those that are sealed for the feast of the Lord, 39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, o Sion, and shut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whome thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseeche the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue bene called fro the beginning, may be sanctified.

42 *I Esdras sawe vpon mount Sion a great people whome I colde not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

43 And in the middes of them there was a yong man hier in stature then them all, & vpon euery one of their heades he set crownes, and was hier then the others, which I muche marueiled at:

44 So I asked the Angel, and said, Who are these, my lord?

45 Who answered, and said vnto me, These be they, that haue put of the mortal clothing, and haue put on the immortal, and haue confessed the Name of God: now are they crowned, & receiue the palmes.

46 Then said I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it, that setteth crownes on them, & giueth them the palmes in their hands?

47 And

47 And he answered & said vnto me, It is the Sone of God, whome they haue confessed in the worlde. Then began I greatly to commend them, that had stand so strongly for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angel said vnto me, Go thy way, and tel my people, what, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seene.

¶ CHAP. III.

4 The wonderful worker, which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Esdras marueileth that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

IN the thirtieth yere after the fall of the citie, as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came vp to mine heart,

2 Because I sawe the desolation of Sion, & the wealth of the that dwelt at Babylon.

3 So my spirit was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearful wordes to the moste High, and said,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginning whe thou alone plantedst the earth, and gauest comendement vnto the people,

5 *And a body vnto Adam, without soule, who was also the workmanship of thine hands, & hast breathed in him the breath of life, so that he liued before thee,

6 And leddest him into Paradise, whiche thy right hand had planted, or euer the earth brought forth.

7 Euen then thou gauest him commandement to loue thy way: but he transgressed it, and immediatly thou appointedst death to him and his generation, of whome came nations, tribes, people and kindreds out of number.

8 *And euerie people walked after their owne wil, and did wonderful things before thee, and despised thy commandements.

9 *But at the time appointed thou broghest the flood vpon those that dwelt in the worlde and destroyedst them,

10 So that by the flood, that came to euerie one of them, which came by death vnto Adam,

11 Yet thou leftest one, [euen] *Noe, with his housholde, of whome came all righteous men.

12 And when they dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiplie, and the number of the children, people and many nations were increased, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Now when they liued wickedly before thee, *thou didest chose thee a man from among them, whose name was *Abraham.

14 Whome thou louedst, and vnto whome onely thou shewedst thy wil;

15 And madest an euerlasting couenāt wth him, promising him that thou woldest neuer forsake his sēde.

16 *And vnto him thou gauest Isahac, *vnto Isahac also thou gauest Iacob and Esau, *and didest chose Iacob, and cast off Esau, and so Iacob became a great multitude.

17 And when thou leddest his sēde out of Egypt, *thou broghest them vp to mount Sina;

18 And enclinedst the heauens and bowedst downe the earth, and didest moue the ground, and cause the depths to shake, & didest astonish the worlde.

19 And thy glorie went thorowe foure gates of fyre, with earthquakes, winde and colde, that thou mightest giue the Lawe vnto the sēde of Iacob, and that which the generation of Israel shulde diligently obserue.

20 Yet tokest thou not away from them the wicked heart, that thy Law might bring forth the frute in them.

21 For *Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was ouercome and vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weaknes ioyned with the Lawe in the hearts of the people, wth the wickednes of the foote: so that the good departed away, and the euil abode stil.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeres were broght to an end, *till thou didest raise thee vp a seruant called Dauid, 24 *Whome thou commandedst to buyld a citie vnto thy Name, to call vpon thee therein with incense and sacrifice.

25 When this was done many yeres, the inhabitants forsoke thee,

26 Following the wayes of Adam and all his generation: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But do they that dwel at Babylon any better, that they shulde haue the dominion of Sion?

29 For when I came thether, & sawe their wicked dedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yere that I se many trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I sawe, how thou sufferedst them that sinne, and sparedst the wicked doers, where as thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preserued thine enemies, & thou hast not shewed it.

31 I can not perceiue how this cometh to pass.

cob?

33 And yet their rewarde appeareth not, & their labour hath no frute: for I haue gone here and there thorow out the heathen, and I se them flourish, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde, and no mention of thee shal be founde but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hathe so kept thy commandements?

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hathe kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

¶ CHAP. III.

^a The Angel reproveth Esdras, because he seemed to entre into the profounde iudgements of God.

1 ANd the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Vriel, answered,

2 And said, Thine heart hathe taken to muche vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehend the waies of the Hiest.

3 Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, & said, I am sent to shewe thee thre waies, and to set forthe thre similitudes before thee,

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one,
I wil shewe thee also the way, that thou desirest to se, and I wil shewe thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he vnto me, Go thy way: weigh me the weight of the fyre, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the daye that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man is borne, that can do that, which thou requirest me, concerning these things?

7 And he said vnto me, If I shulde aske thee how depe dwellings are in the mid-des of the sea, or how great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or how great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or which are the borders of Paradise,

8 Peraduenture thou woldest say vnto me,
I neuer went downe to the depe, nor yet to the hell, nether did I euer clime vp to heauen.

9 But now haue I asked thee but of fyre &

winde, and of the day, whereby thou hast passed, and from the which things thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me none answer of them.

10 He said moreover vnto me, Thine owne things, and suche as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:

11 How shulde thy vessel then be able to comprehend the wayes of the Hiest, and now outwardly in the corrupt worlde, to vnderstand the corruption, that is euident in my sight?

12 Then said I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we shulde liue in wickednes, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

13 And he answered me, & said, ^a I came to a forest in the plaine where the trees helde
a counsel,

14 And said, Come, let vs go fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that we may make vs more woods.

15 Likewise the floodes of the sea toke cousel and said, Come, let vs go vp and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get another countrey for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was vaine:
for the fyre came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the sand stode vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge betwene these two, whome woldest thou iustifie, or whome woldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verely it is a foolish purpose, that thei bothe haue deuised:
for the grounde is appointed for ^b wood, and the sea hathe his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen a right iudgemēt: but why iudgest thou not thy self also?

21 For like as the grounde is appointed for the wood, and the sea for his floods, so ^c they that dwell vpon earth, can vnder-stand nothing, but that ^d is vpon earth:
and they that are in the heauens, the things that are about the height of the heauens.

22 Then answered I, & said, I beseeche thee,
o lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to inquire of thine hie things, but of suche as we daiely medle withall, [namely] wherefore Israel is made a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people, whome thou hast loued, is giuen ouer to wicked nations, & why the Law of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect:

^b 2. chro. 2, 14.

^d 1. cor. 2, 14.

24. Why we are tossed to and fro through the worlde as the grethoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not thought worthy to obtaine mercie.

25. But what wil he do to his Name, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question.

26. Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt maruel: for the worlde hasteth fast to passe away,

27. And can not cōprehend the things, that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this worlde is ful of vnrighteousnes and weakenes.

28. But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29. If the euil now that is sown, be not turned vp side downe, & if the place where the euil is sown, passe not away, then can not the thing come, that is sown with good.

30. For the corne of euil, sede hath bene sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how muche vngodlines hath he brought vp vnto this time, and how muche shal he bring forth vntil the haruest comes.

31. Ponder with thy self, how muche frute of wickednes the corne of euil sede bringeth forth.

32. And when the stalkes shal be cut downe, which are without number, how great an haruest must be prepared.

33. Then I answered, and said, How and when shal these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeres fewe and euil?

34. And he answered me, saying, Hastenot to be aboute the moste High: for thou laborest in vaine to be aboute him, though thou indeuer neuer so muche.

35. Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shal I thus hope? and when cometh the frute of my barne and our wages?

36. And vpon this Ieremiel the Archangel answered, and said, When the number of y^e sedes is filled in you: for he hath weighed the worlde in the balance.

37. The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, and they shal not be moued or shaken, til the measure thereof be fulfilled.

38. Then answered I, and said, O lord, lord, we are all euen full of sinne,

39. And for our sake paradiſe the haruest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwel vpon earth.

40. So he answered me, and said, Go, and aske a woman with childe, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may kepe the birth any longer within her.

41. Then said I, No, lord, she can not. And he said vnto me, In the graue the places of soules are like the wombe.

42. For as she that is with childe hasteth to escape the neceſſitie of the trauail, so do these places hast to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43. That which thou desirest to se, shal be shewed thee from the beginning.

44. Then answered I, and said, If I haue founde grace in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be mete therefore,

45. Shewe me whether there be more to come then is past, or more things past, the are to come.

46. What is past, I knowe, but what is to come, I knowe not.

47. And he said vnto me, Stand on y^e right side, and I wil expounde thee this by example.

48. So I stode, and beholde, a hote burning ouen passed before me: and when the flame was gone by, I looked, and beholde, the smoke had the vpper hand.

49. After this there passed before me a waterie cloude, and sent downe muche raine with a storme: and when the stormie raine was past, the droppes came after.

50. Then said he vnto me, Consider with thy self, as the raine is more the the droppes, and as fyre exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hand, and the droppes & the smoke were muche.

51. Then I prayed, and said, Maye I liue, thinkest thou vntil that time, of what shal come to passe in those dayes?

52. He answered me, and said, Of the tokens whereof thou askest me, I can tell thee a pater: but I am not sent to shewe thee of thy life: for I do not knowe it.

CHAP. V.

1. In the latter times truth shal be hid. 2. Vnrighteousnes and all wickednes shal reigne in the worlde. 3. Israel is rejected, & God deliuereth them. 4. God doeth all things in season.

1. NEuertheles concerning the tokens, beholde the times shal come, that they which dwel vpon earth, shal be taken in a great nobber, & the way of the truth shal be hid, & the land shal be baren fro faith.

2. And iniquitie shal be increased more the thou hast seene now, or hast heard in time past.

3. And it shal come to passe, that one set in fote, and thou shalt se the land desolate, which now reigneth.

4 Yea, if God grante thee to liue, thou shalt se after the third trumpeter, that the sunne shal suddenly shine againe in the night, & the moone thre times a day.

5 Blood shal drop out of the wood, and the stone shal giue his voyce, and the people shalbe moued.

6 And he shal rule, of whome they hope not that dwell vpon earth, and the foules shal change place.

7 And the sea of Sodom shal cast out fish, and make a noyse in the night, which many shal not knowe, but they shal all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shalbe a confusio in many places, and the fyre shal oft breake forthe, and the wilde beasts shal change their places, and menstruous women shal beare monstres.

9 And salt waters shalbe founde in the sweete, and all friēds shal fight one against another: then shal wit hide it self, and vnderstanding departe into his secret chamber.

10 It shalbe sought of many, and yet not be founde: then shal vnrighteousnes and voluptuousnes haue the vpper hand vpon earth.

11 One land also shal aske another, and saye, Is righteous iustice gone thorowe thee? And it shal say, No.

12 At the same time shal men hope, but not obtaine: they shal labour, but their enterprises shal not prosper.

13 To shew thee suche tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe & wepe as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things then these.

14 ¶ Then I awaked, and a fearefulness wet thorow all my body, and my minde was feeble and faint.

15 But the Angel that was come to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my fete.

16 And in the seconde night, Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, saying, Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenance so heauie?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Vp then and eat, and forsake vs not, as the shepherd that leaueh his flocke in the hands of the cruel wolues.

19 Then said I vnto him, Go thy wayes from me, and come not nere me: & when he hard it, he went from me.

20 And I fasted seuen dayes, mourning & weping, as Vriel the Angel had commanded me.

21 And after seuen dayes the thoghts of mine heart were very grieuous vnto me againe.

22 And I had a desire to reason againe, & I beganne to talke with the moste High againe.

23 And said, O Lord, Lord: of euerie forest of the earth, and of all the trees thereof thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyarde.

24 And of all lands of the worlde thou hast chosen thee one pit, and of all the flours of the [grounde] thou hast chosen thee one lillie.

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one riuer, and of all buylded cities thou hast sanctified Sion vnto thy selfe.

26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one doue, and of all the cartel that are made, thou hast appointed thee one shepe.

27 And among all the multitude of people thou hast gotten thee one people, & vnto this people whome thou louedst, thou gauest a Law, that is proued of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou giue this one [people] ouer vnto many? and vpon one roote thou hast set others, and hast scatted thine onely [people] among many.

29 They treade them downe, which haue withstand thy promises, and beleue not thy testimonies.

30 And if thou didest so muche hate thy people, they shulde haue bene punished with thine owne hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these wordes, the Angel that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me.

32 And said vnto me, Heare me, and I will teache thee, and hearken that I may instruct thee further.

33 And I said, Speake on, my lord. Then said he vnto me, Thou art sore vexed and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou the better, then he doeth that made them?

34 And I said, No, lord: but of very sorow haue I spoken: for my reines paine me euerie houre, while I labour to comprehend the way of the moste High, & to seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he said vnto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, lord, wherefore was I borne? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue? so had I not sene the trouble of Iacob, and the grief of the stocke of Israel.

36 And he said vnto me, Number vnto me the things that are not yet come, or gather ther me the droppes, that are scattered, or make me the withered floures grene againe.

37 Open me the places that are closed, & bring me forth the windes, that are shut vp therein: shewe me the image of a voyce, and then wil I declare thee the thing, that thou askest and laborest to knowe.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who can knowe these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 But I that am ignorant, how can I speake of these things, whereof thou askest me?

40 Then said he vnto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things, that I haue spoke of, so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, nor the least benefite, that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 Then I said, Beholde, O Lord, the last things are present vnto thee, & what shal they do that haue bene before me, or we that be now, or they that shal come after vs?

42 And he said vnto me, I wil compare my iudgement vnto a ring: as there is no slacknes of the last, so is there no swiftnes of the first.

43 Then I answered, and said, Coldest thou not make at once those that haue bene, those that are now, and those that shal come, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the soner?

44 Then answered he me, The creature, said he, can not preuent the Creator, neither can the worlde holde them at once, that shalbe created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast taught thy seruant, that thou, which giuest strength [to all,] hast giuen life at once to all the worke created by thee, and hast sustained it, so might it now also containe all men at once.

46 And he said vnto me, Aske thou wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, Why must thou haue time before thou bringest forth? require her to bring forth the child at once.

47 And I said, Surely she can not, but by distance of time.

48 Then said he vnto me, So haue I deuised the number of the earth by times where seed is sown vpon it.

49 For as a yong child begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordeined the time which I haue created.

50 ¶ I asked againe, and said, Seing thou hast now shewed me the way, I wil procede to speake before thee: for our mother, whome thou hast tolde me is yong, draweth she nere vnto age?

51 He answered me, & said, Aske a woman that traueileth, and she wil tel thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they (whome thou hast now brought forth) like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shal answer thee, Some were borne in the floure of youth, others were borne in the time of age, when the wombe failed.

54 Consider now thy self, how that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you,

55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseeche thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant, by whome doest thou gouerne thy workmanship?

¶ CHAP. VI.

God hath foreseene all things in his secret counsell and is author thereof, and hath created them for his children. The felicitie of the age to come.

1 AND he said vnto me, In the beginning when the rounde worlde was made, and before the borders of the worlde were set, and before the windes blew one against another,

2 Before the voyce of thunders sounded, before the bright lightening did shine forth, before the foundations of Paradise were laide:

3 Before the faire floures did appeare, before the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered:

4 Before the heights of the aire were lifted vp, before the measures of the heauens were named, before the chimneis in Siō were hote:

5 Before the present yeres were sought out, and before the affectiōs of them that now sinne, were turned away, and they that haue laid vp the treasure of faith, were sealed,

6 Then did I purpose these things & they were made by me alone, and by none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shalbe the diuision of times? or when shalbe the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of him, Iacobs hand helde first the helpe of Esau.

* Gene. 25, 26.

II. Esdras.

9 For Esau is the end of this worlde, and Iacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heele and the hand. Other thing, Esdras, aske thou not.

11 ¶ I answered them, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseeche thee, make an end to shewe thy seruant thy tokes, whereof thou shewedst me parte the last night.

13 So he answered me, and said, Stand vp vpon thy fete, and here a mightie sounding voyce.

14 There shal come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest, shal not be moued.

15 And therefore when he speaketh, be not afraied: for of þe end shal be the worde, and of the fundation of the earth shal it be vnderstand.

16 Therefore while one speaketh of them, it trembleth & is moued: for it knoweth, that it must be changed at the end.

17 And when I had heard it, I stode vp vpon my fete, and hearkened, and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the founde of it was like the sounde of manie waters:

18 And it said: Beholde, the daies come, & I wil come and inquire of them & dwell vpon the earth,

19 And when I beginne to inquire of the, who by their vnrighteousnes haue hurt others, and when the affliction of Sion shal be fulfilled,

20 And the worlde that shal vanish away, shal be seled, then wil I shewe these signes: the booke shal be opened before the heauen, and they shal se it altogether.

21 And the children of a yere olde shal speake with their voyces: the womē with childe shal bring forth the vntimelie childre of thre or foure moneths olde, and they shal liue that are raised vp.

22 Then suddenly shal the sowne places appere as the vnsowne, and the ful store houses shal suddenly be founde emptie.

23 And the trumpet shal sounde, and all they that heare it shal be suddenly afraied.

24 At that time shal friends fight with friends, as with enemies, and the earth shal feare with them: the springs of the welles shal stand stil, and in thre houres they shal not renne.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shal be saued and se my saluation, and the end of your worlde.

26 And the men that are receiued, shal se it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shal be changed, and turned to another meaning.

27 For euil shal be put out, and disceate shal be quenched,

28 But faith shal flourish: corruption shal be ouercome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without frute, shal come forth.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde I looked a litle vpon him before whome I stode.

30 And these wordes said he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen dayes more, I wil tel thee more things, & greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the Highest: surely the mightie hath sene thy righteous dealing: he hath sene also thy chastitie, whiche thou hast kept since thy youth.

33 Therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not,

34 And haste not in the vaine consideration of the first times, nor make haste to the latter times.

35 And after this I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the thre weekes, which he had appointed me.

36 And in the eight night was mine heart vexed within me againe, and I began to speake before the moste High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fyre, & my soule was in distresse.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest expressly in the first creation (euen the first day) and commandedst * that the heauen and the earth shulde be made, and the worke followed thy worde.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknes was on euery side with silence: there was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a bright light to come forth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.

41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauenlie ayre, and commandedst it, that, going betwene, it shulde make a diuision betwene the watters, that the one parte might remaine aboue, and the other beneth.

42 Vpon the third day thou commandedst, that þe waters shulde be gathered together in the

in the seventh parte of the earth: six partes didest thou drye, and kept them to the intent that of these there shulde be that shulde serue thee, being sowed of God and tilled.

43 As sone as thy worde went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediatly great and innumerable frute did spring vp, and manie diuerse pleasures for the taste, and floures of vnchangeable colour, and odours of a moste wonderful smell: & these things were created the third day.

45 *Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the moone, and the order of the starres,

46 And gauest them a charge, to do seruice euen vnto man that was for to be made.

47 And vpon the fift day thou saidest vnto the seventh parte * where the waters were gathered, that it shulde bring forth the beasts, [as] foules and fishes: and it was so.

48 For the dome waters and without life brought forth the liuing things at the commandement of God that the nations might praise thy wonderous workes.

49 Then didest thou prepare two liuing things: the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leviathan.

50 Thou didest separate the one from the other: for the seventh parte, where the water was gathered, colde not holde them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one parte, which was dryed vp the third day, that he shulde dwell in the same parte wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leviathan thou gauest the seventh parte, that is wett, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the sixt day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that before thee it shulde bring forth the beasts, cattel and creeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whome thou madest Lord ouer all the workes which thou hast created, of him come we all, and the people also, whome thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spokē before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the worlde for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing before thee, but be like vnto spile, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, beholde these heathē which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begonne to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whome thou hast called the first borne, the onely begotten, and thy seruant lottē) are giuen into their hands.

59 If the worlde then be created for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritaunce thereof in possession? or how long shal we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 11 God aduertiseth all in time. 28 The coming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement, 43 After the which all corruption shal cease. 48 All fell in Adam. 59 The true life, 62 The mercies and goodnes of God.

1 AND when I had made an end of these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had bene sent downe to me the nights afore:

2 And he said vnto me, Vp, Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on, my God. Then said he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great,

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the riuers,

5 Who colde go into the sea to loke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thorowe the narowe, how colde he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is buylded and set vpon a broad field, and is ful of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fyre at the right hand, and a deepe water at the lefte,

8 And there is but one path betwixt them, euen betwene the fyre and the water, so that there colde but one man go there.

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritaunce, if he neuer went thorowe the peril before it, how colde he receaue his inheritaunce?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he, So is the portion of Israel,

11 Surely for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe,

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrowe, ful of sorowe and trauail. they are but fewe and euil, and full of perils, and very peineful.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and brought immortal frute.

14 If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these strait and brittle things, they can not attaine to those things that

- 21 And the children of a yere olde shal speake with their voyces: the womē with childe shal bring forth the vntimelie childre of thre or foure moneths olde, and they shal liue that are raised vp.
- 22 Then suddenly shal the sowne places appeare as the vn-sowne, and the ful store houses shal suddenly be founde emptie.
- 23 And the trumpet shal sounde, and all they that heare it shal be suddenly afraied.
- 24 At that time shal friends fight with friends, as with enemies, and the earth shal feare with them: the springs of the welles shal stand stil, and in thre houres they shal not renne.
- 25 Whosoever remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shal be saued and se my saluation, and the end of your worlde.
- 26 And the men that are receiued, shal se in: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shal be changed, and turned to another meaning.
- 27 For euil shal be put out, and disceate shal be quenched.
- 28 But faith shal flourish: corruption shal be ouercome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without frute, shal come forth.
- 29 And when he talked with me, beholde I looked a litle vpon him before whome I stode.
- 30 And these wordes said he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night to come.
- 31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen dayes more, I wil tel thee more things, & greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.
- 32 For thy voyce is heard before the Highest: surely the mightie hath sene thy righteous dealing: he hath sene also thy chastitie, whiche thou hast kept since thy youth.
- 33 Therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not,
- 34 And haste not in the vaine consideration of the first times, nor make haste to the latter times.
- 35 And after this I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the thre weekes, which he had appointed me.
- 36 And in the eight night was mine heart vexed within me againe, and I began to speake before the moste High.
- 37 For my spirit was greatly set on fyre, & my soule was in distresse.
- 38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest expressly in the first creation (euen the first day) and commandedst * that the heauen and the earth shulde be made, and the worke followed thy worde.
- 39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknes was on euery side with silence: there was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.
- 40 Then commandedst thou a bright light to come forth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.
- 41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauenlie ayre, and commandedst it, that, going betwene, it shulde make a diuision betwene the watters, that the one parte might remaine aboue, and the other beneth.
- 42 Vpon the third day thou commandedst, that þe waters shulde be gathered together in the

in the seventh parte of the earth: six partes didest thou drye, and kept them to the intent that of these there shulde be that shulde serue thee, being sowne of God and tilled.

43 As sone as thy worde went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediatly great and innumerable frute did spring vp, and manie diuerse pleasures for the taste, and floures of vnchangeable colour, and odours of a moste wonderful smel: & these things were created the third day.

45 *Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the moone, and the order of the starres,

46 And gauest them a charge, to do seruice euen vnto man that was for to be made.

47 And vpon the fift day thou saidest vnto the seventh parte * where the waters were gathered, that it shulde bring forth the beasts, [as] foules and fishes: and it was so.

48 For the dōme waters and without life brought forth the liuing things at the commandement of God that the nations might praise thy wonderous workes.

49 Then didest thou prepare two liuing things: the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leuiathan.

50 Thou didest separate the one from the other: for the seventh parte, where the water was gathered, colde not holde them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one parte, which was dryed vp the third day, that he shulde dwell in the same parte wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seventh parte, that is wett, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the sixt day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that before thee it shulde bring forth the beasts, cattel and creeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whome thou madest Lord ouer all the workes which thou hast created, of him come we all, and the people also, whome thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spokē before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the worlde for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing before thee, but be like vnto spittle, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, beholde these heathē which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begonne to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whome thou hast called the first borne, the onely begotten, and thy feruent lover) are giuen into their hands.

59 If the worlde then be created for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritaunce thereof in possession? or how long shal we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 1. God aduertiseth all in tyme. 2. The coming and death of Christ. 3. The resurrection and last iudgement. 4. After the which all corruption shal cease. 5. All fell in Adam. 6. The true life. 7. The mercies and goodnes of God.

1 And when I had made an end of these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had bene sent downe to me the nights afore:

2 And he said vnto me, Vp, Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on, my God. Then said he vnto me, The seas is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great,

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the riuers,

5 Who colde go into the sea to loke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thorowe the narowe, how colde he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is buylded and set vpon a broad field, and is ful of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fyre at the right hand, and a deepe water at the lefte,

8 And there is but one path betwixt them, euen betwene the fyre and the water, so that there colde but one man go there.

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritaunce, if he neuer went thorowe the peril before it, how colde he receaue his inheritaunce?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he, So is the portion of Israel,

11 Surely for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrowe, ful of sorowe and trauail: they are but fewe and euil, and full of perils, and very peineful.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and brought immortal frute.

14 If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these strait and brittle things, they can not attaine to those things that

II. Esdras.

 15 Why then disquietest thou thy self, seing thou art corruptible: and why art thou moued, seing thou art mortal?
 16 And why hast thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?
 17 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, *seing thou hast ordeined in thy Law, that the righteous shulde inherite these things, and that the vngodlie shulde perish.
 18 Shulde the righteous suffer straitnes in hoping for large things: yet thei that haue liued vngodly and suffered straitnes, shal not see the large things.
 19 Then he said vnto me, There is no iudge more iuste then God, and there is none more wise then the moste High.
 20 For manie perish in this life, because they despise the Law of God that is appointed.
 21 For God hathe diligently admonished suche as came, so oft as they came, what they shulde do to haue life, and what they shulde obserue, to auoide punishment.
 22 Neuertheles, they were not obcdent vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things, 23 And deceiued them selues by their wicked dedes, & denied the power of the moste High, and regarded not his waies.
 24 But they despised his Law, and refused his promises: they haue vnfaithfully broken his ordinances, and haue not performed his workes.
 25 And therefore, Esdras, vnto the emptie are emptie things, and to the full full things.
 26 Beholde, the time shal come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shal come to passe, and the bride shal appeare, and she shal come forthe, & be sene, that now is vnder the earth.
 27 And whosoeuer shal escape these euils, he shal see my wonders.
 28 For my sonne Iesus shal appeare with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shal reioyce within foure hundreth yeres.
 29 After these same yeres shal my sonne Christ dye, and all men that haue life.
 30 And the worlde shalbe turned into the olde silence for seuen dayes, as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shal remaine.
 31 But after seuen dayes, the worlde that is yet a slepe, shalbe raised vp: and that shal dye, that is corrupt.
 32 Then the earth, shal restore those, that haue slept in her, and so shal the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shal deliuer the soules that were committed vnto them.

 33 And the most High shal appeare vpon the seate of iudgement, and miseries shal vanish away; and long suffering shal haue an end.
 34 Iustice onely shal continue: the trueth shal remaine, and faith shalbe strong.
 35 The worke shal followe, and the rewarde shalbe shewed: the good dedes shalbe off force, and vnrighteousnes shal beare no more rule.
 36 Then said I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, * & Moyfes for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness, 37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Achaz, and Samuel,
 38 And * David for the destruction, * and Salomon for them that came into the Sanctuary, 39 * And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue, 40 * And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuerse others for manie:
 41 Euen so now, seing vice is increased, & wickednes abundeth, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodlie, wherefore shal not the same effect followe also now?
 42 Then he answered me, & said, This present life is not the end: oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weakes.
 43 But the day of iudgement shal be the end of this worlde, and the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein al corruption shal cease.
 44 Intemperantie shal passe away: infidelitie shalbe cut of, righteousness shal growe vp, and the veritie shal spring vp.
 45 Then shal no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.
 46 I answered then, and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that he shulde not haue sinned.
 47 For what profit is it for men in this present life to be in heauines, and after death to feare punishment?
 48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * for in that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redundeth vnto vs that come of thee.
 49 For what profit is it vnto vs, if there be promised an immortal life, when we do the workes that bring death?
 50 And that an euerlasting hope shulde be promised promised vs, seing that we bitide oursel-ues to deadlie vanities?

51 And that there shulde be appointed vs dwellings of health and safetie, if we haue liued wickedly?

52 And that the glorie of the moste High shulde be kept to defend them which haueled a patient life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?

53 And that an eternal Paradise shulde be shewed, whose frute remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safetie and health, if we will not enter into it?

54 (For we haue bene conuerfant in vnpleasant places)

55 And that the faces of them, which haue abstained, shulde shine more then starres, if our faces be blacker then darkenes?

56 For while we liued, we did not remember when we did vnrighteously, that we shulde suffer after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the maner of the battel, which man, that is borne in the earth, shal fight,

58 That if he be ouercome, he shulde suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victo-rie, he shulde receaue the thing that I said.

59 For this is the life, whereof Moyse spake vnto the people, while he liued, saying,
*Chuse thee life that thou maist liue.

60 Neuertheles, they beleued him not, nether the Prophetes after him, nor me also which haue said vnto them,

61 That heauines shulde not so be to their destruction, as ioye shulde come vnto the,
to whome saluation is perswaded.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the moste High is called merciful, in that he hathe mercie vpon them, which are not yet come to that worlde,

63 And that he hathe pitie on those that walke in his Law,

64 And that he is pacient: for he long suffreteth those that haue sinned, as his creatures,

65 And that he is liberall: for he wil giue as muche as nedeth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he ouercometh in mercie those that are present, and that are past, and them which are to come,

67 For if he were not abundant in his mercies, the worlde colde not continue, nor thei that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes that they, which haue done euil, might be relieued from their wickednes, the ten thousand parte of men shulde not remaine aliue.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaueth not those that he healed with his worde, and toke away the multitude of sinnes,

70 There shulde peraduenture be verie fewe left in an vnnumerable multitude.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The number of the godlie is finite. 6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayer for him and for his people. 39 The promises of saluation to the iuste. 55 The destruction of the vniust.

1 ANd he answered me, saying, The most High made this worlde for manie, but the worlde to come for fewe.

2 I wil tel thee a similitude, o Esdras. As whē thou askest the earth, it shal say vnto thee, that it giueth muche earthlie matter to make pottes, but litle dust that golde cometh of, so is it with the worke of this worlde.

3 *There be manie created, but fewe shal be saued.

4 Then answered I, and said, Then swalowe vp the wit, o my soule, and deuoure vnderstanding,

5 For thou hast promised to heare, and thou wilt prophecie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant, that we may intreat thee, that thou maist giue sede vnto our heart, and prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come frute of it, whereby euerie one which is corrupt, may liue, who can set him self for man?

7 For thou art alone, & we all are one wor-kemanhip of thine hands, as thou hast said.

8 For when the bodie is facioned now in the wombe, and thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is preserued by fyre and water, & the worke, created by thee, doeth suffer nine moneths the creature, which is facioned in it.

9 But the thing that containeth, and that which is contained, shal bothe be preferued, and when time is come, the wombe being preserued, deliuereth the things that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast comanded the members, euen the breasts, to giue milke vnto the frute appointed to the breasts,

11 That the thing, which is created, may be nourished for a time, til thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnes, nurturest it in thy Law, and reformest it with thy iudgement.

13 Thou slayest it as thy creature, & giuest
it life as thy worke.

14 Seing then that thou destroyest him, which with so great labours is facioned,

it is an easie thing to appoint by thy commandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preserved.

15 Now therefore, o Lord, I wil speake (as touching men in general thou shalt rather provide) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am sorie,

16 And for thine inheritance for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whome I am woful, and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved:

17 For them wil I pray before thee, as wel for my self, as for them: for I see our fautes that dwelt in the land.

18 ¶ But I haue heard the sudden comming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstand my wordes, which I wil speake before thee. The beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before he was taken vp.

20 O Lord, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

21 Whose throne is inestimable, & his glorie incomprehensible, before whome the hoste of the Angels stand with trembling,

22 Whose keeping is turned in winde and fyre, whose worde is true, and sayings sted fast, whose commandement is strong, and gouernement terrible,

23 Whose loke dryeth vp the depths, and wrath maketh þe mountaines to melt away as the thing beareth witnes.

24 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, and receiue into thine cares the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I liue, I wil speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I wil answer.

26 Loke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then thy faithful seruants.

27 Haue not respect vnto the wicked dedes of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy wil.

29 Let it not be thy wil to destroye them, which haue liued like beasts, but loke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy Law.

30 Take not displeasure with them, which appaare worse then beasts, but loue them, that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glorie.

31 For we & our fathers haue all the same sicknes: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called merciful.

32 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called merciful towards vs which haue no workes of righteousness.

33 For the righteous, which haue laid vp manie good workes, let them receiue the rewarde of their owne dedes.

34 But what is man, that thou shuldest take displeasure at him? or what is this mortal generation, that thou shuldest be so grieved towards it?

35 * For verely, there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath done wickedly, nor anie that doeth cōfesse thee, which hath not done amisse.

36 For in this, o Lord, thy righteousness & thy goodnes shalbe praised, if thou be merciful vnto them, which haue not the substance of good workes.

37 ¶ Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy wordes it shalbe.

38 For I wil not verely consider the workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

39 * But * I wil reioyce in the wayes of the righteous, and I wil remember the pilgrimage, the saluation and the rewarde that they shal haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shal it come to passe.

41 For as the housbād man soweth muche fede vpon the grounde, & planteth many trees, and yet alway the thing that is sown, cometh not vp in time, nether yet doeth all that is planted, take roote: so nether shal thei all that are brought into the worlde, be sauēd.

42 I answered then and said, If I haue founde grace, let me speake.

43 Like as the housband mans fede perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not raine in due season, or if it be destroyed with to muche raine,

44 So perisheth man, which is created with thine hands, & thou art called his patern, because he is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and lickened him vnto the housbandmans fede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, o Lord, but spare thy people and haue mercie vpon thine inheritance: for thou wilt be merciful vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and said, The things present are for the present, and the things to come for suche as be to come.

47 For thou art farre of that thou shuldest loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times drawn nere vnto thee and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.

48 In this also thou art maruelous before the Higheft.

49 In that thou hast humbled thy self, as it becometh thee, and hast not iudged thy self worthie to boast thy self greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries & calamities remaine for them that shal liue in the latter time, because thei shal walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy self, and seke out the glorie for suche as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened: the tre of life is planted: the time to come is prepared, plenteousnes made ready: the cite is buylded, and rest is prepared, perfite goodnes and absolute wisdom.

53 The roote of euil is sealed vp from you: the weakenes and moth is destroyed from you, and into hell fleeth corruption to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 Therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when thei had libertie, thei despised the most High: they contemned his Law, and forsoke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,

58 *Saying in their heart, that there was no God, though they knewe that they shulde dye.

59 For as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made readie for you: so is thirst and peine prepared for the: for God wolde not that man shulde perish:

60 But they, after that they were created, haue defiled the Name of him that made them, & are vnthankful vnto him, which prepared life for them.

61 Therefore my iudgement is now at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all me, but vnto thee, and to a fewe like thee: then I answered, and said,

63 Beholde now, O Lord: thou hast shewed me the many wonders, which thou art determined to do in the last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed me,

¶ CHAP. IX.

5 All things in this worlde haue a beginning and an end. 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good. 29 The lesser ingratitude. 36 Therefore they perish. 38 The vision of a woman lamenting.

HE answered me then, & said, Measure the time with it self, & when thou seeest that one parte of the tokens come to passe, which I haue tolde thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the time wherein the moste High wil begin to visite the worlde which he made.

3 Therefore whē there shalbe sene an* earth quake in the worlde, and an vproare of the people,

4 Then shalt thou vnderstand that the moste High spake of those things, from the daies that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest,

6 So the times also of the most High haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and end in effect and miracles.

7 And euerie one that shal escape safe, and shalbe deliuered by his workes, and by the faith wherein ye haue beleued,

8 Shalbe preserued from the said perils, & shal see my saluation in my land, and within my borders: for I haue kept me holy from the worlde.

9 Then shal they haue pitie of them selues, which now haue abused my waies: & thei that haue cast them out despitefully, shal dwell in peines.

10 For suche as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me,

11 But haue abhorred my Law, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet leasure of amendment, and wolde not vnderstand, but despised it,

12 They must be taught it after death by peine.

13 And therefore be thou no more careful to knowe how the vngodlie shalbe punished, but inquire how the righteous shalbe saued, and whose the worlde is, and for whome it is, and when.

14 Then answered I, and said,

15 I haue afore said that which I say now, & wil speake it hereafter, that there be many mo of them which perish, then of the that shalbe* saued,

16 As the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, As the field is, so is also the worlde: as the floures be, so are the colours also: suche as the workemā is, suche is the worke: and as the housbādman is, so is his housbandrie: for it was the time of the worlde.

18 Surely when I prepared this worlde, which was not yet made for them to dwell in: that now liue, no man spake against me:

19 For then euerie one obeyed, but now the maners of them that are created in this worlde, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual sedit, & by a Law, whereout thei can not rid them selues.

20 So I considered the worlde, & beholde, there was peril, because of the deuises, that were sprung vp into it.

21 Yet when I sawe it, I spared it greatly, and haue kept me one grape of the cluster, and a plant out of a great people.

22 Let therefore þis multitude perish, which are borne in vaine: and let my grape be kept, and my plant, which I haue dressed with great labour.

23 ¶ Neuertheles, if thou wilt cease seuen daies mo (but thou shalt not fast in them,

24 But shalt go into a faire field, where no house is buylded, & shalt eat onely of the floures of the field, and eat no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the floures onely,

25 And pray vnto the moste High continually) then wil I come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my waye, as he had commanded me, into the field, which is called Ardath, and there I sate among the floures, & did eat of the herbes of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen dayes, as I sate vpon the grasse, and mine heart was vexed within me, as afore,

28 I opened my mouth, and began to talke before the moste High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou woldest shewe thy self vnto vs, *thou declaredst thy self vnto our fathers in the wildernes, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a baren place, when they came out of Egypt,

30 And expressly spakest vnto the, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou sede of Iacob, 31 For beholde, I sowe my Law in you, that it may bring forth the frute in you, and that ye may be honored by it for euer.

32 But our fathers, which receiued the Law, kept it not, nether obserued thine ordinances, nether did the frute of the Law appeare, nether colde it, for it was thine.

33 *For they that receiued it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And lo, it is a custome when the ground receiueth sede, or the sea a ship, or a vessel meat and drinke, if that perish wherein a thing is sown, or wherein any thing is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is sown, or is put therein, and the things that are receiued, must perish: so the things that are receiued, do not remaine with vs: but in vs it cometh not so to passe.

36 For we that haue receiued the Law, perish in sinne, and our heart also which receiued it.

37 But the Law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 ¶ And when I spake these things in mine heart, I looked about me, & vpon the right side, *I sawe a woman, which mourned sore, and lamented with a loude voyce, and was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughts, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her,

40 And said vnto her, wherefore wepest thou? why art thou so sorry in minde?

41 And she said vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewaile my self, and increase sorowe: for I am sore vexed in my minde, and brought verie lowe.

42 Then I said vnto her, What aileth thee? tel me.

43 And she said vnto me, I thy seruant haue bene baren, & haue had no childe, hauing an housband thirtie yeres.

44 And euerie houre, and euerie day these thirtie yeres I pray to the moste High day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeres God heard me thine handmaid, and looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine housband also, and all they of my countrey, and we gaue great honour vnto the Almightye.

46 And I nourished him with great trauail.

47 So when he grewe vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feast.

¶ CHAP. X.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

1 BVt when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then we all ouerthrewe the lights, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: so I rested vntil the seconde day at night.

3 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I shulde be quiet, the I rose vp by night, and fled, & am come into this field as thou seest,

4 And am not purposed to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and nether to eat nor drinke, but continually to mourne & fast, vntil I dye.

5 Then left I my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angerly, and said,

6 Thou foolish woman aboue all other, seest thou not our heauines, & what cometh vnto vs?

7 For Sion our mother is all woful and is sore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

8 Seing we be all now in heauines, & make our mone (for we be all sorowful) art thou forie for one sonne?

9 Demande the earth, and she shal tel thee that & 24, 3.

deut. 4, 12.

*Exod. 32, 18.

that it is she which ought to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.

10 For frō the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shal come, and beholde, they walke almoste all into destruction, & the multitude of them shalbe destroyed.

11 Who shulde then rather mourne, she that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou which art sorie but for one?

12 But if thou woldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue lost the frute of my wōbe, which I broght forth with heaumes, and bare with sorowes, 13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude returneth into her as it came)

14 Then say I vnto thee, As thou hast borne with trauail, so the earth also from the beginning giueh her frute vnto man, euē to him that labored her.

15 Now therefore withholde thy sorow in thy self, and beare constantly that v̄ cometh vnto thee.

16 For if thou allowest Gods purpose, and receiuest his counsel in time, thou shalt be commended therein.

17 Go thy way then into the citie to thine housband.

18 ¶ Then she said vnto me, I wil not, I wil not go into the citie, but here wil I dye.

19 So I cōtinued to speake more with her, and said,

20 Do not so, but be counseled: for how many fallies hath Sion? Be of good comfort because of the sorowe of Ierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our Sanctuarie is layed waste: our Altar is broken downe: our Temple is destroyed.

22 Our psalterion fainteth, and the song ceaseth, and our mirth is vanished away, and the light of our candlestick is quenched, and the Arke of our couenant is takē away, and our holy things are defiled, and the Name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almoste dishonored, and our children are put to shame, & our Priests are burnt, & our Leuites are carryed into captiuitie, and our virgines are defiled, and our wiues rauished, and our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, and our yong men are broght in bōdage, and our strong men are become weake,

23 And, which is the greatest of all, Sion ꝑ seale hath lost her worship: for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake of thy great heaumes, and put away the multitude of sorowes, ꝑ the Almighty may be merciful vnto thee, and that the moste High may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And whē I was talking with her, her face and beaurie shined suddenly, and her countenance was bright, so that I was afrayed of her, & mused what it might be.

26 And beholde, immediatly she cast out a great voyce, very feareful, so that ꝑ earth shoke at the noyce of the woman.

27 And I loked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie buylded, and a place was shewed from the grounde and fundation. Then was I afrayed, & cryed with a loude voyce, and said, 28 Where is Vriel the Angel* which came to me at the first: for he hath caused me to come into manie and depe considerations, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, beholde, he came vnto me, and loked vpō me.

30 And lo, I laye as one dead, & mine vnderstanding was altered, and he toke me by the right hand and comforted me, & set me vpon my feete, and said vnto me,

31 What aileth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed? and the vnderstanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou sorie?

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done* according vnto thy wordes: I went into the field, and there haue I sene things, and se that I am not able to expresse.

33 Then said he vnto me, Stand vp manly, and I wil giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake vnto me, my lord, & forsake me not, lest I dye through rashnes.

35 For I haue sene that I knewe not, and heare that I do not knowe.

36 Or is mine vnderstanding disceiued, or doeth my minde, being hautie, erre?

37 Now therefore I beseeche thee that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 Thē he answered me, and said, Heare me, & I wil informe thee, & tel thee wherefore ꝑ art afrayed: for the moste High hath reueiled many secret things vnto thee.

39 He hath sene thy good purpose, that thou art sorie continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 This therefore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a litle while ago.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganne st to comfort her.

II. Esdras.

42 But now seest thou the likenes of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie buylded.

43 And where as she tolde thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution,

44 This woman which thou sawest, she is Sion: & where as she tolde thee (euen she which thou seest now as a citie buylded)

45 And as touching that she said vnto thee, that she was baren thirtie yeres, this was concerning that, there was euen thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering offred in her.

46 But after thirtie yeres, Salomon buylt the citie, and offred offerings: then bare the baren a sonne.

47 And where as she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem.

48 But where as she tolde thee that her sonne, as his chance was, dyed when she came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.

49 And when thou sawest her like one & mourned for her sonne, thou beganest to comfort her: of these things which haue chaced these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the moste High seeth, that & art forie in thy minde, and because thou suffrest with all thine heart for her, he shewed thee the clerenes of her glorie, & the fairenes of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bad thee remaine in the field where no house was buylt.

52 For I knewe that the moste High wolde shewe these things vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no fundatiō nor buylding is.

54 For the worke of mans buylding can not stand in that place where the citie of the moste High shulde be shewed.

55 And therefore feare not, nether let thine heart be affrayed, but go in, and se the beautie and greatnes of the buylding as muche as & art able to se with thine eyes.

56 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue manie, and art called with the moste High among the fewe.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remaine here,

59 And the moste High shal shewe thee visions of high things, which the moste High wil do vnto them that dwel vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, as he had commanded me.

¶ CHAP. XI.

5 The vision of an egle coming forth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a lyon coming out of the forest.

1 Then sawe I a dreame, and beholde, there came vp from the sea an egle, which had twelue feathered wings and thre heads.

2 And I sawe and beholde, she spred her wings ouer all the earth, and al the windes of the ayre blew on her, and gathered them selues.

3 And I behelde, & out of her feathers grew out other contrarie feathers, and they became litle feathers and finale.

4 But her heades remained stil, & the head in the middes was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the egle flew with his feathers, and reigned vpon earth, & ouer them that dwelt therein.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I sawe also that the egle stode vp vpon her clawes, & spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not all together: slepe euerie one in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let & heads be preferred for the last.

10 Neuertheles, I sawe that the voice was not out of her heads, but from the middes of her bodie.

11 Then I nombred her contrarie feathers, and beholde, there were eight of them.

12 And I loked, and beholde vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stode vp, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, the end of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a voyce vnto it, and said,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shal none after thee attaine vnto thy time, nether to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third and reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all the others one after another, so that euerie one reigned, & then appeared no more,

20 Then I loked, and beholde in processe of time the feathers that followed, stode vp on the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, & beholde, the twelve feathers appeared nomore, nor the two wings.

23 And there was no more vpon the egles body, but two heads that rested, and six wings.

24 Then sawe I also that two wings deuidded them selues from the six, and remained vnder the head, that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, & beholde, the vnderwings thought to set vp them selues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second were soner gone then the first.

28 Then I behelde, and lo, the two that remained, thought also in them selues to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, which was in the middes: for that was greater then the two.

30 And the I sawe, that the two heads were ioyned therewith.

31 And beholde, the head was turned with them, that were with it, and did eat vp the two vnderwings that wolde haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth, with much labour, and it had the gouernace of the worlde, more then all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, & beholde, the head that was in the middes, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I behelde, and lo the head vpon the right side deuoured that was vpon the left side.

36 ¶ Then I heard a voyce which said vnto me, Loke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 So I sawe, and beholde as it were a lyon that roareth, renning hastily out of the wood: and I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the egles, and spake, and said,

38 Heare thou, I wil talke with thee, & the moste High shal say vnto thee,

39 Art not thou that that of the foure beasts remainest, whome I made to reigne in my worlde, that by them the end of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, and hath overcome all the beasts that were past, and hath power ouer the worlde with great fearefulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with moste wicked oppressio, and that dwelleth so long time in all the worlde with disceite?

41 For thou hast not iudged the earth w^r truth.

42 Seing thou hast troubled me, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued lyers, & destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth the frute, & hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme,

43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come vp vnto the moste High, and thy pride vnto the Mightie.

44 The moste High also hath looked vnto the proude times, and beholde, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou egles, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, & thy wicked claws, nor all thy vaine body, 46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and come againe, as one deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

¶ CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former visions.

1 ANd when the lion spake these wordes to the egles, I sawe,

2 And beholde, the head that had the vpper hand, appeared no more, nether did the foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set vp them selues to reigne, whose kingdome was smale and full of vproares.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole bodie of the egles was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awaked out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and fro the great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done vnto me in that thou searchest out the waies of the moste High.

5 Lo, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therefore now I wil beseeche the moste High that he wil comfort me vnto the end.

7 And I said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in dede be come vp before thy face,

Dan-7,7

 8 Comfort me, and shewe me thy seruant the interpretation and difference of this horrible sight, that thou maist perfectly comforte my soule,
 9 Seing thou hast iudged me worthie to shewe me the last times.
 10 ¶ Then he said vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision, 11 The egle, whome thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the *kingdome which was sene in the vision of thy brother Daniel,
 12 But it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.
 13 Beholde, the dayes come, that there shal rise vp a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shal be feared aboue all kingdomes that were before it.
 14 In it shal twelue Kings reigne one after another, 15 Whereof the seconde shal beginne to reigne and shal haue more time then the twelue.
 16 And this do the twelue wings signifie, which thou sawest.
 17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not go out fro the heads, but from the middes of the body thereof, this is the interpretation,
 18 That after the time of that kingdome there shal arise great strife, and it shal be in danger to fall, but it shal not then fall, but shal be restored againe to his beginning.
 19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, & thou sawest hang vnto her wings, this is the interpretation, 20 In him shal arise eight Kings, whose time shal be but smale, and their yerres swift, and two of them shal perish.
 21 But when the midde time cometh, there shal be foure kept a time, whiles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shal be kept vnto the end.
 22 And where as thou sawest thre heads resting, this is the interpretation,
 23 In his last dayes shal the moste High raise vp thre kingdomes, and shal call againe many things into them, and they shal haue the dominion of the earth,
 24 And of those that dwel therein, with muche grief aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the egle.
 25 For thei shal accomplish his wickednes, and shal finish his last end.
 26 And where as thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth & one of them shal dye vpon his bed, and yet with peine.

27 For the two that remaine, the sworde shal deuoure them.
 28 For the sworde of the one shal deuoure the other: but at the last, shal he fall by the sworde him selfe.
 29 And where as thou sawest two vnderwings, that went of towarde the head, & was on the right side, this is the interpretation,
 30 These are they whome the most High hath preferred for their end, whose kingdome is litle, and full of trouble as thou sawest.
 31 And the lyon whome thou sawest rising vp out of the wood and roaring, and speaking vnto the egle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnes, with all the wordes that thou hast heard, 32 This is the winde which the most High hath kept for them, and for their wickednes vnto the end, & he shal reprove them, and cast before them their spoiles.
 33 For he shal set them aliue in the iudgement, and shall rebuke them and correct them.
 34 For he wil deliuer the residue of my people by affliction, which are preferred vpon my borders, and he shal make them ioyful, vntil the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.
 35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, & these are the interpretations.
 36 Thou onely hast bene mete to knowe this secret of the moste High.
 37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast sene, in a booke, and hide them,
 38 And teache them the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and kepe these secrets.
 39 But waite thou here yet seuen daies mo, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the moste High to declare vnto thee: and with that he went his way.
 40 And when all the people perceiued & the seuen dayes were past, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together, from the least vnto the moste, and came vnto me, and spake vnto me, saying,
 41 What haue we offended thee? or what euil haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest in this place?
 42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauē or shippe preferred from the tempest.
 43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs, sufficient?
 44 If thou then forsake vs, how muche better

ter had it bene for vs, that we had bene burnt also as Sion was burnt:

45 For we are no better then they that dyed there: and they wept with a loude voyce. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Iacob.

47 For the moste High hathe you in remembrance, and the Almighty hathe not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed fro you, but am come into this place to praye for the desolation of Sion, that I might seke mercie for the low estate of your Sanctuarie.

49 And now go your way home euerie man, and after these daies wil I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, as I commanded them:

51 But I remained stil in the field seuen daies, as he had commanded me, and did eat onely of the floures of the field, & had my meat of the herbes in those daies.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

The vision of a winde coming forth of the sea, 3 VWhich became a man. 5 His properie and power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.

1 ANd after the seuen daies I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde fro the sea, and it moued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a mightie man with the thousands of heauē: and when he turned his countenance to loke, al the things trembled that were sene vnder him.

4 And whē the voyce wēt out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voyce, as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fyre.

5 After these things I sawe, and beholde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of nōber, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out from the sea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, he graued him self a great mountaine, and flew vp vpon it.

7 But I wolde haue sene the countrey or place whereout the hil was grauen, and I colde not.

8 I sawe after these things, and beholde, all they which came to fight against him, were fore afraied, and yet they durst fight.

9 Neuertheles, when he sawe the fiercenes of the multitude that came, he lifed not vp his hand: for he helde no sworde nor any instrument of warre,

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blaste of fyre, and out of his lippes the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were al mixt together, [scuen] this blast of fyre, the winde of the flame, and the great storme, and fell with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp all, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing sene, but onely dust, and smel of smoke. When I sawe this, I was afraied.

12 ¶ Afterwarde sawe I the same mā come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, some with ioyfull countenance, and some with sad: some of them were bound, and some broght of them that were offred: & I was sicke thorowe great feare, and awaked, and said, 14 Thou hast shewed thy seruāt these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthie to receiue my praier.

15 Shewe me now therefore the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding, wo vnto them that shal be left in those daies, and inuche more wo vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauines.

18 Now vnderstand I the things that are laid vp in the latter daies, which shal come bothe vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier, that he that is in danger, shulde fall into these, and forese the things to come hereafter, then to passe away as a cloude out of the worlde.

21 ¶ Then answered he me, and said, The interpretation of the vision wil I shewe thee, and I wil open to thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Where as thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that shal beare the danger in that time, he shal kepe him self. They that be fallen into danger, are suche as haue workes and faith towarde the moste Mightie.

24 Knowe therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 These are the meanings of the vision, Where as thou sawest a man comming

II. Efdras.

vp from the middes of the sea, 26 The same is he whome the most High hathe kept a great season, who by his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature, and he shal order them that are left behinde.

27 ¶ And where as thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast with fyre and storme,

28 And that he nether helde sworde nor weapon, but that by his fiercenes he destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fight against him, this is ¶ interpretation;

29 Beholde, the daies come that the moste High wil beginne to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:

30 And he shal astonish the hearts of them that dwell vpon the earth:

31 And one shal prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, & place against place, * and nation against nation, and realme against realme.

*Mat. 24, 7.

32 When this cometh to passe, then shal ¶ tokens come, that I shewed thee before, and then shal my Sonne be reueiled, who-me thou sawest go vp as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voice, euerie man shal in their owne land leaue the battel that they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered as one, as they that be willing to come, and to fight against him.

35 But he shal stand vpon the toppe of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shal come, and shalbe shewed to all, being prepared and buylded, as thou sawest the hil grauen forthe without any hands.

37 And this my Sonne shal rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations, whiche for their wicked life are fallen into the tēpest,

38 And into torments like to flame, where by they shalbe tormented: and without any labour wil he destroy them, euen by ¶ Law, which is compared vnto the fyre.

39 And where as thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto hi,

*2. King. 17, 3.

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away captiues out of their owne lād,

Salmanasar the King of the Assyrians to-ke captiue, and caryed them beyonde the land.

41 But they toke his counsel to them sel-ues, that they wolde leaue the multitude of the heathen, & go forthe into a further countrie, where neuer mankinde dwelt,

42 That they might there kepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne

land.

43 And they entred in at the narowe passages of the riuer Euphrates!

44 For the moste High then shewed them signes, * and stayed the springs of the flood til they were passed ouer.

*Exod. 14, 21.

45 For thorow the countrie there was a great iourney, euen of a yere and an hal-fe, & the same region is called † Arareth.

† Or, Ararath.

46 Then dwelt they there vntil the latter time: and when they come forthe againe,

47 The most High shal holde stil ¶ springs of the riuer againe, that they may go tho-row: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable:

48 But thei that be left behinde of thy people, are those that be founde within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shal defend the people ¶ remaine,

50 And then shal he shewe great wōders vnto them.

51 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, shewe me this, wherefore haue I sene the man coming vp from the middes of the sea?

52 And he said vnto me, As thou canst nether seke out, nor knowe these things, ¶ are in the deepe of the sea, so can no man vpon earth se my Sonne, or those that be with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the drea-me which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne Law, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, & sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewardes with the moste High: and after thre other dayes I wil speake other things vnto thee, and wil declare thee great and wonderous things.

57 Then went I forthe vnto the field, glorifying and praising the moste High for the wonders which he did in time,

58 Which he gouerneth, and suche things as come in their seasons: and there I sate thre dayes.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

3 How God appeared to Moyses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 15 The latter times worse the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

1 Vpon the thirde day I sate vnder an oke, and beholde, there came forthe a voyce vnto me out of the bush, & said, Efdras,

Esdraſ, Eſdraſe

- 2 And I ſaid, Heare am I, Lord, & ſtoode vpon my fete.
- 3 Then ſaid he vnto me, * In the buſh I receiued my ſelf, and ſpake vnto Moyſes, when my people ſerued in Egypt:
- 4 And I ſent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and broght him vpon the mount Sinai, and I helde him with me a long ſeaſon,
- 5 And I tolde him many wonders, & ſhewed him the ſecrets of the times and the end, and commanded him, ſaying,
- 6 Theſe wordes ſhalt thou declare, & theſe ſhalt thou hide.
- 7 And now I ſay vnto thee, that thou lay vpon in thine heart the ſignes that I haue ſhewed, and the dreames that thou haſt ſene, & the interpretations which thou haſt heard.
- 8 For thou ſhalt be taken away from all, & thou ſhalt remaine hence forth with my counſel, & with ſuche as be like thee, vntil the times be ended.
- 9 For the worlde hath loſt his youth, and the times beginne to waxe olde.
- 10 For the worlde is deuided into twelue partes, & ten partes of it are gone alreadie and halfe of the tenth parte.
- 11 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth parte.
- 12 Therefore ſet thine houſe in order, and reforme thy people, and comfort ſuche of them as be in trouble, and now renounce the corruption.
- 13 Let go from thee mortal thoughts: caſt away from thee the burdens of men, & put of now the weake nature,
- 14 And ſet aſide thy moſte grievous thoughts, & haſte thee to departe fro theſe times.
- 15 For greater euils then thoſe, which thou haſt ſene now, ſhal thei commit.
- 16 For the weaker that the worlde is by reaſon of age, the more ſhal the euils be increaſed vpon them that dwell therein.
- 17 For the trueth is fled farre away, and lies are at hand: for now haſteth the viſion to come, that thou haſt ſene.
- 18 ¶ Then answered I, and ſaid before thee,
- 19 Beholde, O Lord, I wil go as thou haſt commanded me, and reforme the people, which are preſent: but they that ſhal be borne afterwarde, who ſhal admoniſh them?
- 20 Thus the worlde is ſet in darkenes, and they that dwell therein, are without light.
- 21 For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that ſhalbe done.
- 22 But if I haue founde grace before thee, ſend the holie Goſt into me, & I wil write all that hath bene done in the worlde ſince the beginning, which was written in thy Law, that men may finde the path, & that thei which wil liue in the latter daies, may liue.

- 23 And he answered me, ſaying, Go, & gather the people, and ſay vnto them, that thei ſeke thee not for fortie dayes,
- 24 But prepare thee many boxe tables, and take with thee theſe five, Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Aſiel, which are readie to write ſwiftly,
- 25 And come hether, & I wil light a candel of vnderſtanding in thine heart, which ſhal not be put out til the things be performed which thou ſhalt beginne to write.
- 26 And the ſhalt thou declare ſome things openly vnto the perſite men, and ſome things ſhalt thou ſhewe ſecretly vnto the wiſe: to morowe this houre ſhalt thou beginne to write.
- 27 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and ſaid,
- 28 Heare theſe wordes, O Iſrael,
- 29 * Our fathers at the beginning were ſtrangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,
- 30 And receiued the Law of life, * which they kept not, which ye alſo haue tranſgreſſed after them.
- 31 Then was the land, euen the land of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers and ye alſo haue done vnrighteouſly, and haue not kept the wayes which the moſte High commanded you.
- 32 And for ſo muche as he is a righteous Iudge, he toke from you in time the thing that he had giuen you.
- 33 And now are ye here, and your brethre among you.
- 34 Therefore if ſo be that ye wil ſubdue your owne vnderſtanding, and reforme your heart, ye ſhal be kept alieue, and after death ſhal ye obtaine mercie.
- 35 For after death ſhal the iudgement come, when we ſhal liue againe: and the ſhal the names of the righteous be maniſeſt, and the workes of the vngodlie ſhal be declared.
- 36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor ſeke me theſe fortie daies.
- 37 So I toke the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.
- 38 The next daye, beholde, a voyce called me, ſaying, Eſdraſ, * open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.
- 39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached me a full cuppe, which was full as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fyre.

40 And I toke it and dranke, and when I had dronke it, mine heart had vnderstanding, and wisdome grewe in my brest: for my spirit was strengthened in memorie, 41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The moste High gaue vnderstanding vnto the fise men, that they wrote the hie things of the night, which they vnderstande not.

43 But in the night they did eat bread, but I spake by day, and helde not my tongue by night.

44 In fortie daies, they wrote two hundredreth and foure booke.

45 And when the fortie dayes were fulfilled, the moste High spake, saying, The first that thou hast writen, publish openly, that the worthie and vnworthie may read it:

46 But kepe the seuentie last, that thou maiest giue them to the wise among thy people.

47 For in them is the veine of vnderstanding, and the fountaine of wisdome, and the riuer of knowledge: and I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 The prophetic of Esdras is certaine. 5 The evils that shal come on the worlde. 9 The Lord wil aduenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shal lament. 16 Sedition, 20 And punishment vpon the Kings of the earth. 24 Cursed are they that sinne. 29 Troubles and warres vpon the whole earth. 33 God is the reuenger of his elect.

1 Beholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophetic, which I wil put in thy mouth, saith the Lord:

2 And cause them to be writen in a lettre: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not the vnfaithfulnes of the speakers trouble thee, that spake against thee.

4 For euery vnfaithfull shal dye in his vnfaithfulnes,

5 Beholde, saith the Lord, I wil bring plagues vpon all the worlde, the worde, a mine, death and destruction:

6 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, and their wicked workes are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, saith the Lord, I wil holde my tongue no more for their wickednes, (they do vngodlie) nether wil I suffer the in the things, that they do wickedly.

8 Beholde, * the innocent and righteous blood cryeth vnto me, and the soules of the iust cry continually.

9 I wil surely auenge them, saith the Lord, and receiue vnto me all y^e innocent blood from among them.

10 Beholde, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I wil not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt,

11 But I wil bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and wil destroe all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shal mourne, and the fundacions thereof shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shal bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the grounde shal mourne: for their sedes shal faile through the blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

14 Wo to the worlde, & to them that dwel therein.

15 For the sworde and their destruction draweth nere, and one people shal stand vp to fight against another with swordes in their hands.

16 For there shalbe sedition among men, and one shal inuade another: they shal not regarde their King, and the princes shal measure their doings by their power.

17 A man shal desire to go into a citie, and shal not be able.

18 Because of their pride the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shalbe afraied, and men shal feare.

19 A man shal haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shal destroye their houses with the sworde, & their goods shalbe spoyled for lacke of bread, and because of great trouble.

20 Beholde, saith God, I call together all the Kings of the earth to reuerence me, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, and from Libanus, to turne vpon the, & to repay the things, that they haue done to them.

21 As they do yet this day vnto my chosen, so wil I do also, and recompense them in their bosome: thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right had shal not spare the sinners, nether shal the sworde cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fyre is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the fundacions of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe, that is kindled.

24 Wo to them that sinne, and kepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I wil not spare them: departe, o childre, from the power: defile not my Sanctuarie.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that

- sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.
- 27 For now are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remaine in them: for God wil not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.
- 28 Beholde, an horrible vision cometh fro the East,
- 29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shal come out with manie charers, and the multitude of them shalbe caryed as the winde vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.
- 30 Euen the Carmanians raging in wrath, shal go forthe as the bores of the forest, and shal come with great power, and stand against them in battel, and shal destroye a portion of the land of the Assyrians.
- 31 But after this shal the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remember their nature, and shal turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.
- 32 Then these shalbe troubled, and kepe silence by their power, and shal flee.
- 33 From the land of the Assyrians shal the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their hoste shalbe feare & dread, and strife among their Kings.
- 34 Beholde cloudes from the East, & from the North vnto the South, and they are verie horrible to loke vpon, ful of wrath and storme,
- 35 They shal smite one vpon another: and they shal smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre, and the blood shalbe from the sworde vnto the bellie,
- 36 And the dongue of mā vnto the Camels litter.
- 37 And there shalbe great fearefulness, and trembling vpon earth, and thei that se the wrath, shalbe afraied, and a trembling shal come vpon them.
- 38 And then there shal come great stormes from the South, and from the North, and parte from the West.
- 39 And from the East shal windes arise, & shal open it with the cloude, which he raised vp in wrath, and the starre, raised to feare the East and West winde, shalbe destroyed.
- 40 And the great, and mightie cloudes shal be lift vp, ful of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraied, and them that dwell therein, & that they may powre out ouer euerie hie place, and lifted vp, an horrible constellation,
- 41 As fyre and hayle, and flying swordes, and many watters, that all fieldes may be full, and all riuers with the abundance of great waters.
- 42 And they shal breake downe the cities and walles, and mountaines, and hilles, & the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and their corne.
- 43 And they shal go with a streight course vnto Babylon, and make it afraied.
- 44 They shal come to her, and besiege her, and shal powre forthe the constellation, & all the wrath against her: then shal the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shal bewaile her.
- 45 And thei that remaine vnder her, shal do seruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.
- 46 ¶ And thou Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glorie of her persone,
- 47 Wo vnto thee, o wretch, because thou hast made thy self like vnto her, and hast dect thy daughters in whoredome, that they might please and glorie in thy louers, which haue alway desired to comit whore dome with thee.
- 48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her workes, and in her inuentions: therefore saith God,
- 49 I wil send plagues vpon thee, wedowed, pouertie, and famine, and the sworde, and pestilence, to waste thine houses with destruction and death.
- 50 And the glorie of thy power shalbe dried vp, as a floure when the heat riseth, that is sent vpon thee.
- 51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and the louers shal not be able to receiue thee.
- 52 Wolde I thus hate thee, saith ꝑ Lord,
- 53 If thou hadest not alway slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and said ouer their death, when thou wast drōken,
- 54 Set forthe the beautie of thy countenance.
- 55 The rewarde of thy whoredome shalbe in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receaue a rewarde.
- 56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so wil God do vnto thee, & wil deliuer thee vnto the plague.
- 57 And thy children shal dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sworde, and thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thy men shal fall by the sworde in the field.
- 58 And they that be in the mountaines shal dye of hunger, and eat their owne flesh, & drinke their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.

52 And thou, as vnhappy, shalt come thorowe the sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shal cast downe the slaine citie, and shal roote out one parte of thy land, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt be to them as stubble, and they shalbe to thee as fyre.

62 And they shal destroy thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountaines: all thy woods and all thy fruteful trees shal they burne with fyre.

63 Thy children shal they carye away captiue, and shal spoile thy substance, and marre the beautie of thy face.

¶ CHAP. XVI.

¹ Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt, and Syria. 18. 38 Of the euils that shal come vpon the worlde, with admonition how to gouerne them selues in afflictions. 54 To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit them selues to the Lord, 55 VVhose mightie prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

VO to thee, Babylon and Asia: wo to thee, Egypt and Syria.

2 Gird your selues with sacke & heereclothe, and moune your children, and beforie: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sworde is sent vnto you, and who wil turne it backe? a fyre is sent among you, & who wil quenche it?

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, and who can driue them away?

5 May any man driue away an hungrie lion in the wood? or quenche the fyre in stubble whē it hath once begonne to burne? may one turne againe the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer?

6 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and who can driue them away? the fyre is gone forth, in his wrath, and who can quenche it?

7 He shal cast lightnings, & who shal not feare? he shal thunder, and who shal not be afraied?

8 The Lord shal threaten, & who shal not vterly be broken in pieces at his presence? the earth quaketh and the foundation thereof: the sea riseth vp with waues from the depe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord and the glorie of his power.

9 For strong is his right hand, that bendeth the bowe: his arrowes that he shooteth, are sharpe, and shal not misse, when they beginne to be shot into the ends of the worlde.

10 Beholde, the plagues are sent & shal not turne againe; til they come vpon earth.

11 The fyre is kindled, and shal not be put out til it consume the foundations of the earth.

12 As an arrow which is shot of a mightie archer, returneth not backward, so the plagues that shalbe sent vpon earth, shal not turne againe.

13 Wo is me, wo is me: who wil deliuer me in those daies?

14 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning: the beginning of famine, and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shal feare: the beginning of euils, and all shal tremble. What shal I do in these things, when the plagues come?

15 Beholde, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment.

16 But for all these things they wil not turne from their wickednes, nor be alway mindeful of the scourges.

17 Beholde, vitales shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thinke them selues to be in good case: but then shal the euils bud for the vpon earth, euen the sworde, the famine and great confusion.

18 For many of them that dwel vpon earth, shal perish with famine, and the other that escape the famine, shal the sworde destroy.

19 And the dead shalbe cast out as dongue, and there shalbe no man to comforte the: for the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

20 There shalbe no mā left to til the earth, and to sowe it: the trees shal giue frute, but who shal gather them?

21 The grapes shalbe ripe, but who shal treade them? for all places shalbe desolate, so that one mā shal desire to se another, or to heare his voyce.

22 For of one citie there shalbe ten left, and two of the field, which shal hide them selues in the thicke woods, and in the cleftes of rockes.

23 As when there remaine thre or foure oliues in the place where oliues growe, or among other trees,

24 Or as whē a vineyarde is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorowe the vineyarde:

25 So in those daies there shalbe thre or foure left by them that searche their houses with the sworde.

26 And the earth shalbe left waste, and the fields thereof shal waxe olde, and her waies and all her paths shal growe full of thornes,

- thornes, because no man shal trauail therethrough.
- 27 The virgines shal mourne, hauing no bridegromes: the women shal make lamentation, hauing no housbands: their daughters shal mourne hauing no helpers.
- 28 In the warres shal their bridegromes be destroyed, and their housbands shal perish with famine.
- 29 But ye seruants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.
- 30 Beholde the worde of the Lord, receaue it: beleeue not the gods of whome the Lord speaketh: beholde the plagues drawe nere, and are not slacke.
- 31 As a trauailing womā which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth her sonne, when the houre of birth is come, two or thre houres afore the peines come vpon her bodie, and when the childe cometh to the birth, they tarie not a whit,
- 32 So shal not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shal mourne, and sorowes shal come vpon it on euery side.
- 33 O my people, heare my worde: make you ready to the battel, & in the troubles be euen as strangers vpon earth.
- 34 He that selleth, let him be as he that flecth his way: and he that byeth, as one that wil lose:
- 35 Who so occupieth marchandise, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shal not dwell therein:
- 36 He that soweth, as one that shal not reape: he that cutteth the vine, as he that shal not gather the grapes:
- 37 They that mary, as they that shal get no children, and they that mary not, so as the widdowes.
- 38 Therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.
- 39 For strangers shal reape their frutes, and spoile their goods, and ouerthrowe their houses, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and famine shal they get their children.
- 40 And they that occupie their marchandise with couetousnes, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persones,
- 41 So muche more wil I be angrie against them for their sinnes, saith the Lord.
- 42 As a whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman,
- 43 So shal righteousnes hate iniquitie, whē she decketh her self, & shal accuse her openly, when he shal come that shal bridle the autor of all sinne vpon earth.
- 44 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof: for or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousnes shal reigne among you.
- 45 Let not the sinner say, that he hathe not sinned: for coles of fyre shal burne vpon his head, which saith, I haue not sinned before the Lord God and his glorie.
- 46 Beholde, the Lord^{*} knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginatiōs, their thoghtes and their hearts.
- 47 ^{*}For assone as he said, Let the earth be made, it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was created.
- 48 By his worde were the starres established, and he^{*} knoweth the number of them.
- 49 He seatcheth the depth, and the treasures thereof: he hathe measured the sea, and what it containeth.
- 50 He hath shut the sea in the middes of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.
- 51 He spreadeth out the heauē like a vawte: vpon the waters hath he founde it.
- 52 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and poles vpon the toppes of the mountaines, to powre out floods from the hie rockes to water the earth.
- 53 He made man, and put his heart in the middes of the bodie, & gaue him breath, life and vnderstanding.
- 54 And the Spirit of the almightie God, which made all things, and hath searched all the hid things in the secrets of the earth,
- 55 He knoweth your inuentions, and what ye imagine in your heart when ye sinne & wolde hide your sinnes.
- 56 Therefore hath the Lord searched and sought out all your workes, and wil put you all to shame.
- 57 And when your sinnes are broght forth before men, ye shalbe confounded, and your owne sinnes shal stand as your accusers in that day.
- 58 What wil ye do, or how wil ye hide your sinnes before God and his Angels?
- 59 Beholde, God him selfe is the iudge: feare him: cease from your sinnes, and forget your iniquities, and medle no more from hence forth with them: so shal God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.
- 60 For beholde, the heate of a great multitude is kindled against you, and they shal take away certeine of you, and shal slay you for meat to the idoles.
- 61 And they that consent vnto them shal be had in derision and in-reproche, and troden vnder fote:

62 For in euerie place and cities that are nere, there shalbe great insurrectiō against those that feare the Lord.

63 They shalbe like mad men: they shal spare none: they shal spoyle, and waste such as yet feare the Lord.

64 For they then shal waste and spoile their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

65 Then shal the tryal of my chosen appeare, as the golde is tryed by the fyre.

66 Heare, o ye my beloued, saith the Lord: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I wil deliuer you from them: be not ye afraied: doute not, for God is your captaine.

67 Who so kepeth my commandemēt and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your sinnes weigh you downe, and let not your iniquities lift them selues vp.

68 Wo vnto them that are bounde with their sinnes, and couered with their iniquities, as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, wherby no man may trauiail: it is shut vp, and is appointed to be deuoured with fyre.

TOBIT:

CHAP. I.

1 Tobits parentage. 3 His godlynes. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and prosperitie. 23 He fleeth, and his goods are confiscate, 25 And after restored.

Tobias being captiue amongst the Assyrians, did not leaue way of trueth.

1 He booke of the wordes of Tobit sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananeel, the sonne of Aduel, the sonne of Gabael, of the sede of Asael & of the tribe of Nephthalim,

2 Who in the time of Enemessar King of the Assyrians was ledde away captiue out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that citie, which is called properly Nephthalim, in Galilee aboue Aser.

† Or, Salmanassar. * 2. Kings 17, 3.

Tobias was merciful.

3 I Tobit haue walked all my life long in the way of trueth and iustice, and I did manie things liberally to the brethren, which were of my nation, and came with me to Ninieue into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine owne countrei in the land of Israel, being but yong, all the tribe of Nephthalim my father fell from the house of Ierusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes shulde sacrifice there, where the Temple of the tabernacle of the most High was consecrated, and buyt vp for all ages.

He fledde from idoles. * Exod. 22, 29. deut. 12, 6.

5 * Now all the tribes which fell fro God, yea, and my father Nephthalims house offred to the heifar called Baal.

6 But I (as it was ordeined to all Israel by an euerlasting decree) went alone often to Ierusalem, bringing the first frutes, and the tenth of beasts, with that which was first shorne, & offred them at the altar to the Priests the children of Aaron.

7 The first tenth parte I gaue to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, which ministred in Ierusalem: the other tenth parte I solde, and came and bestowed it euerie yere at Ierusalem.

8 The thirde tenth parte I gaue vnto them to whome it was mete, as Debora my fathers mother had commāded me: for my father left me as a pupil.

9 ¶ Furthermore when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine owne kinred, and of her I begate Tobias.

10 ¶ But when I was ledde captiue to Ninieue, all my brethren, and these which were of my kinred did eate of the bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept my self from eating, because I remembered God with all mine heart.

12 Therefore the most High gaue me grace and fauour before Enemessar, so that I was his puruoyer.

13 ¶ And I went into Media, and I deliuered ten talents of siluer to Gabael the brother of Gabrias in the land of Media.

14 But when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his stead: whose state because it was troubled, I colde not go into Media.

15 ¶ But in the time of Enemessar, I gaue many almes to my brethren, and gaue my bread to them which were hongrie,

16 And my clothes to the naked: and if I sawe any of my kinred dead, or cast about the the walles of Ninine, I buryed him.

18 And if the King Sennacherib had slaine any, when he* was come and fled from Iudea, I buryed the priuely (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not founde when they were sought for of the King.

19 Therefore when a certeine Niniuite had accused me to the King, because I did bury them, I hid my self: and because I knewe that I was sought to be slaine, I withdrew my self for feare.

20 Then all my goods were spoyled, nether was there any thing left me besides my wife Anna and my sonne Tobias.

21 Nevertheless* within fife and fiftie daies two of his sonnes killed him, and they fled into the mountaines of Ararath, [and] Sarchedonus his sonne reigned in his stead, who appointed ouer his fathers accomptes and ouer all his domestical affaires Achiacharus my brother Anaels sonne.

22 And when Achiacharus had made a request for me, I came againe to Niniue: now Achiacharus was cupbearer and keeper of the signet, & steward, and ouersawe the accomptes: so Sarchedonus appointed him next vnto him, and he was my brothers sonne.

1 Tobit calleth the faithful to his table. 3 He leaneth the feaste to bury the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 13 His wife laboreth for her liuing. 16 She reproacheth him bitterly.

1 Now when I was come home againe, and my wife Anna was restored vnto me with my sonne Tobias, in the feast of Pentecoste, which is the holy [feast] of the seuen wekes, there was a great dinner prepared me, in the which I sate downe to eat.

2 And when I sawe abundance of meat, I said to my sonne, Go, and bring what poore man soeuer thou shalt finde of our brethren which doeth remember God, and lo I wil tary for thee.

3 But he came againe, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market place.

4 Then before I had tasted anie meat, I start vp, and broght him into mine house vntil the going downe of the sunne.

5 Then I returned and washed, and ate my meat in heavines,

6 Remembring that prophecie of* Amos, which had said, Your solemne feastes shall be turned into mourning, and your ioyes into wailing.

7 Therefore I wept, and after the going downe of the sunne I went and made a graue, and buryed him.

8 But my neighbours mocked me, & said, Doeth he not feare to dye for this cause, who* fled away, and yet, lo, he buryeth the dead againe?

9 The same night also when I returned fro the buryal, and slept at the wall of mine house because I was polluted, and hauing my face vncovered,

10 And I knewe not that sparowes were in the wall, and as mine eyes were open, the sparowes cast downe warme dongue into mine eyes, and a whitenes came in mine eyes, and I went to the phisicians who helped me not. Moreouer Achiatharus did nourish me, vntil I went into Elimais.

11 And my wife Anna did take womens workes to do.

12 And when she had sent them home to the owners, thei payed the wages, & gaue a kid.

13 Which when it was at mine house, and began to bleat, I said vnto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stollen? render it to the owners: *for it is not lawful to eat anie thing that is stollen.

14 But she said, It was giuen for a gifte more then the wages: but I did not beleue, and bade her to render it to the owners, & I did blush, because of her. Furthermore she said, *Where are thine almes, and thy righteousness? beholde, they all now appeare in thee.

2 O Lord, thou art iust, and al thy workes, and all thy wayes are mercie and truth, and thou iudget truely and iustely for euer.

3 Remember me and loke on me, nether punish me according to my sinnes or mine ignorances, or my fathers, which haue sinned before thee:

thy commandements, nether haue walked in trueth before thee.

6 Now therefore deale with me as semeth best vnto thee, and command my spirit to be raken from me, that I may be dissolued, and become earth: for it is better for me to dye then to liue, because I haue heard false reproches, and am verie sorowful: commande therefore that I may be dissolued out of this distresse, [and go] into the euerlasting place: turne not thy face away from me.

7 ¶ It came to passe the same day that in Ecbatane a citie of Media Sarra the daughter of Raguel was also reproched by her fathers maides.

8 Because she had bene maryed to seuen houbands, whome Asmodeus the euil spirit had killed, before that they had lien with her. Doest thou not knowe, said they, that thou hast strangled thine houbands? thou hast had now seuen houbands, nether wast thou named after any of them.

9 Wherefore doest thou † beat vs for the: if they be dead go thy wayes hence to them, that we may neuer se of thee ether sonne or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was verie sorowful, so that she thought to haue strangled her self. And she said, I am the onely daughter of my father, and if I do this, I shal sclander him, and shal bring his age to the graue with sorowe.

11 Then she prayed towarde the windowe & said, Blessed art thou, o Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious Name is blessed, and honorable for euer: let all thy workes praise thee for euer.

12 And now, o Lord, I set mine eyes & my face toward thee, 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more anie reproche.

14 Thou knowest, o Lord, that I am pure from all sinne with man,

15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie: I am the onely daughter of my father, nether hath he anie mā child to be his heire, nether anie † nere kinsman or childe borne of him, to whome I may kepe my selfe for a wife: my seuen [houbands] are now dead, and why shulde I liue? But if it please not thee that I shulde dye, commande to loke on me, and to pitie me that I do no more heare reproche.

16 So the prayers of them bothe were heard before the maiestie of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heale them

bothe, [that is,] to take away the whitenes of Tobits eyes, and to giue Sarra the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the sonne of Tobit, and to binde Asmodeus the euil spirit, because she belonged to Tobias by right. The selfe same time came Tobit home, and entred into his house, and Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobit to his sonne.

1 IN that day Tobit remembred * the filuer, which he had deliuered to Gabael in Rages [a citie] of Media.

2 And said with him self, I haue wished for death: wherefore do I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonish him before I dye?

3 And when he had called him, he said, My sonne, after that I am dead, bury me, & despise not thy mother, but honour her all the dayes of thy life, & do that which shall please her, and anger her not.

4 Remember, my sonne, how manie dangers she susteined when thou wast in her wombe, and when she dyeth, burye her by me in the same graue.

5 My sonne, set our Lord God alwayes before thine eyes, and let not thy wil be set to sinne or to transgresse the commandements of God.

6 Do vprightly all thy life long, and followe not the wayes of vnrighteousnes: for if thou deale truly, thy doings shal prosperously succede to thee, and to all them which liue iustely.

7 Giue * almes of thy substance: and when thou giuest almes, let not thine eye be enuious, nether turne thy face from anie poore, lest † God turne his face fro thee.

8 * Giue almes according to thy substance: if thou haue but a lide, be not afraide to giue a litle almes:

9 For thou layest vp a good store for thy self against the day of necessitie,

10 * Because that almes doeth deliuer from death, and suffreth not to come into darknes.

11 For almes is a good gift before the moste High to all them which vse it.

12 Beware of all * whoredome, my sonne, and chiefly take a wife of the fede of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife which is not of thy fathers stocke: for we are the children of the Prophetes. Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob are our fathers from the beginning. Remember my sonne that they maryed wiues of their owne kinred, and were blessed in their children children and their sede shal inherite the land.

13 Now therefore, my sonne, loue thy brethren, and despise not in thine heart the sonnes and daughters of thy people in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction, and much trouble, & in fiercenes is scarcetie, and great pouertie: for fiercenenes is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the *wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, varie with thee, but giue him it out of hand: for if thou serue God, he wil also paye thee: be circumspect, my sonne, in all things that thou doest, and be wel instructed in all thy cōuersation.

15 *Do that to no man which thou hatest: drinke not wine to make the drunken, neither let drunkenness go with thee in thy iourney.

16 *Giue of thy bread to the hungrie, and of thy garments to them that are naked, and *of all thine abundance giue almes, and let not thine eye be inuious, when thou giuest almes.

17 Powre out thy bread on the buryal of the iuste, but giue nothing to the wicked.

18 Aske counsell alway of the wise, & despise not any counsell that is profitable.

19 Blesse thy Lord God alway, and desire of him that thy wayes may be made straight, and that all thy purposes, & counsells may prosper: for euerie nation hath not counsell: but the Lord giueth all good things, and he humbleth whome he wil, as he wil: now therefore, my sonne, remember my commandements, neither let them at any time be put out of thy minde, 20 *Furthermore I signifie this to thee, that I deliuered ten talents to Gabael the sonne of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

21 And feare not, my sonne, for asmuche as we are made poore: for thou hast many things, if thou feare God, and flee from sinne, and do that thing which is acceptable vnto him.

CHAP. V.

5 Tobias sent to Rages. 5 He meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

1 Tobias then answered & said, Father, I wil do all things which thou hast commanded me.

2 But how can I receiue the siluer, seeing I knowe him not?

3 Then he gaue him the hand writing, & said vnto him, Seke thee a mā, which may go with thee, whiles I yet liue, and I wil giue him wages, and go and receiue the money.

4 Therefore when he was gone to seke a man, he founde Raphael the Angel.

5 But he knewe not, and said vnto him, May I go with thee into the land of Media? and knowest thou those places wel?

6 To whome the Angel said, I wil go with thee: for I haue remained with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias said to him, Telle for me, til I tell my father.

8 Thē he said vnto him, Go, and tarry not: so he went in & said to his father, Beholde, I haue founde one, which wil go with me. Then he said, Call him vnto me, that I may knowe of what tribe he is, and whether he be faithfull to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, & they saluted one another.

10 Thē Tobit said vnto him, Brother, shewe me of what tribe & familie thou art.

11 To whome he said, Dost thou seke a stocke or familie, or an hyred man to go with thy sonne? Then Tobit said vnto him, I wolde knowe thy kinred and thy name.

12 Then he said, I am of the kinred of Azarias and Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

13 Then Tobit said, † Thou art wel come: be not now angrie with me, because I haue enquired to knowe thy kinred, and thy familie: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stocke: for I knewe Ananias and Ionathas, sonnes of that great Samaias: for we went together to Ierusalem to worship, and offered the first borne, and the tenths of the frutes, and they were not deceiued with the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.

14 But tel me, what wages shal I giue thee? [wilt thou] a grote a day and things necessarie, as to mine owne sonne?

15 Yea, moreouer if ye retorne safe, I wil adde some thing to the wages.

16 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy self for the iourney, and go you on Gods Name. And when his sonne had prepared all things for the iourney, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God which dwelleth in heauen, prosper your iourney, and the Angel of God kepe you companie. So they went forthe bothe and departed, and the dogge of the yong man with them.

to minister vnto vs;

18 Wolde to God we had not laid money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.

19 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, doeth suffice vs.

20 Then said Tobit, Be not careful, my sister: he shal returne in safetie, and thine eyes shal se him.

21 For the good Angel doeth kepe him company, and his journey shal be prosperous, and he shal returne safe.

22 Then she made an end of weping.

CHAP. VI.

Tobias deliuered from the fish. 8 Raphael sheweth him certeyn medicines. 10 He conducteth him toward Sarra.

1 AND as they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Tygris, and there abode.

2 And when the yong man went to wash him self, a fish leaped out of the riuer, and wolde haue deuoured him.

3 Then the Angel said vnto him, Take the fish. And the yong man toke the fish, and drewe it to land.

4 To whome the Angel said, Cut the fish, and take the heart, and the liuer, and the gall, and put them vp surely.

5 So the yong man did as the Angel commanded him: and when they had rosted the fish, they ate it: then they bothe went on their way, til they came to Ecbatane.

6 Then the yong man said to the Angel, Brother Azarias, what auileth the heart, and the liuer, and the gall of the fish?

7 And he said vnto him, Touching the heart and the liuer, if a deuil or an euil spirit trouble any, we must make a perfume of this before the man or the woman, & he shal be no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, anoint a man that hath whitenes in his eyes, and he shal be healed.

9 And when they were come nere to Raguel,

10 The Angel said to the yong man, Brother, to day shal we lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin: he also hath one onely daughter named Sarra: I wil speake for her that she may be giuen thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doeth the right of her pertaine, seeing thou alone art remnant of his kindred.

12 And the maid is faire and wise: now therefore heare me, & I wil speake to her father, that we may make the mariage when we are returned from Rages: for I knowe that Raguel can not marie her to another according to the Law of Moyses: els he shulde deferue death, because the right doeth rather appertine to thee then to any other man.

13 Then the yong man answered the Angel, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this maid hath bene giuen to seuen men, who all dyed in the mariage chamber:

14 And I am the onely begotten sonne of my father, and I am afayed, lest I go into her, and dye as the other: for a wicked spirit loueth her, which hurteth no body, but those which come into her: wherefore I also feare lest I dye, and bring my fathers & my mothers life because of me to the graue with sorrowe: for they haue no other sonne to burye them.

15 Then the Angel said vnto him, Doe thou not remember the precepts which thy father gaue thee, that thou shuldest marie a wife of thine owne kinred? wherefore heare me, o my brother: for she shal be thy wife: nether be thou careful of the euil spirit: for this same night shal she be giuen thee in mariage.

16 And when thou shalt go into thy bed, thou shalt take of the hote coles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liuer of the fish,

17 Which if the spirit do smell, he wil flee away, and neuer come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise vp bothe of you, and pray to God which is merciful, who wil haue pitie on you, and saue you: feare not, for she is appointed vnto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt kepe her, and she shal go with thee: moreouer I suppose that she shal beare thee children: now when Tobias had heard these things, he loued her, and his heart was effectually ioyned to her.

CHAP. VII.

Tobias marryeth Sarra Raguels daughter.

1 AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel: and Sarra met them, and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this yong man to Tobit my cousin?

3 And Raguel asked, Whence are you, my brethren? To whome they said, that they were of the tribe of Nephtalim, and of the captiues that dwelt at Ninieue.

4 Then he said to them, Do ye knowe Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We knowe him. Then said he, is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is bothe aliue, and in good health. And Tobias said, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped, and kissed him, & wept,

7 And blessed him, & said vnto him, Thou art the sonne of a good and honest man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blinde, he was sorowful and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, and Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover they receiued them with a readie minde, and after that they had killed a ram of the flocke, they set muche meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, put for the those things whereof thou spakest in the waye, that this busines may be dispatched.

9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel, and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat, and drinke and make merry.

10 For it is mete that thou shuldest marie my daughter: neuertheles, I wil declare vnto thee the trueth.

11 I haue giuen my daughter in mariage to seuen men, who dyed that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheles, be thou of a good courage and merry. But Tobias said, I wil eat nothing here, vntil ye bring her hether, and betrothe her to me.

12 Raguel said then, Marie her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, and she is thine. God which is merciful, make this prosperous to you in all good things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sarra, and she came to her father, and he toke her by the hand, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the Law of Moyses, & lead her away to thy father: and he blessed them,

14 And called his wife Edna, and he toke a booke and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eate.

16 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, and said vnto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which, when she had done, as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: then [Sarra] wept and her mother wiped away her daughters teares,

18 And said vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lord of heauen & earth giue thee ioye for this thy sorrowe: be of good comfort, my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driueth away the euil spirit. 4. He prayeth to God with his wife. 11. Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. 16. Raguel blesteth the Lord.

1 And when they had soupped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

2 And as he went, he remembred the wordes of Raphael, & toke colles for perfumes, and put the heart and liuer of the fish thereupon, and made a perfume.

3 The which smel when the euil spirit had smelled, he fled into the fytmost partes of Egypt, whome the Angel bounde.

4 And after that they were bothe shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God wolde haue pitie on vs.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name for euer: let the heauens blese thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him Eve his wife for an helpe, and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast said, It is not good, that a man shulde be alone: let vs make vnto him an aide like vnto him selfe.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornication, but vprightly: therefore grant me mercie, that we may become aged together.

8 And she said with him, Amen.

9 So they slept bothe that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue,

10 Saying, Is not he dead also?

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He said to his wife Edna, Send one of the maides, and let them se whether he be aliue: if not, that I may bury him, & none knowe it.

13 So the maid opened the dore, and went in, and founde them bothe a slepe,

14 And came forth, and tolde them that he was aliue.

15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthie to be praised with all pure and holy praise: therefore let thy Saintes praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect praise thee for euer.

16 Thou art to be praised, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyful, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast delt with vs according to great mercie.

17 Thou art to be praised because thou hast had mercie of two that were the onely begotten children of their fathers: graunte them mercie, O Lord, [and] finish

20 For Raguel had said vnto him by an othe, that he shulde not departe before that the fourtene dayes of the mariage were expired, Raphael leadeth Gabael to Tobias mariage.

1 Then Tobias called Raphael, and said vnto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a seruāt and two camels, and go to Rages of the Medes to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shal not departe

4 But my father counteth the dayes: and if I tary long, he wil be verie forie.

5 So Raphael wēt out and came to Gabael, and gaue him the hand wryting, who brought forth the bagges which were sealed vp, and gaue them to him.

Tobit and his wife thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sarra.

1 Now Tobit his father counted euery day, and when the daies of the iournay were expired, and they came not,

2 Tobit said, Are they not mocked? or is not Gabael dead, and there is no man to giue him the money?

3 Therefore he was very sory.

4 Then his wife said to him, My sonne is dead, seing he tarieth: and she began to bewaile him, and said,

5 Now I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit said, Holde thy peace: be not careful, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Holde thy peace, and deceiue me not: my sonne is dead: and she wēt out euerie day by the waye, which they went, neither did she eat meat on the day time, & did consume whole nights in bewailing her sonne Tobias vntill the fourtene dayes of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworne, that he shulde tary there. Then Tobias said to Raguel,

Let me go: for my father and my mother loke no more to se me.

8 But his father in law said vnto him, Tary with me, and I wil send to thy father, and they shal declare him thine affaires.

9 But Tobias said, No, but let me go to my father.

10 Then Raguel arose, and gaue him Sarra his wife, & halfe his goods, as seruāts, and cattel, and money,

11 And he blessed them, & sent them away, saying, The God of heauē make you, my children, to prosper before I dye.

12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law which are now thy parēts, that I may heare good reporte of thee: and he kissed them. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heauen restore thee, my dere brother, and grante that I may se thy children of my daughter Sarra, that I may reioyce before the Lord. Beholde now, I committe to thee my daughter as a pledge: do not intreat her euil.

CHAP. XI.

The returne of Tobias to his father. 9 How he was received. 10 His father hath his sight restored and praiseth the Lord.

1 After these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had giuen him a prosperous iournay, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way til he drew nere to Niniue.

2 Then Raphael said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou didest leaue thy father.

3 Let vs haste before thy wife, and prepare the house,

4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dogge followed them.

5 Now Anna sat in the way loking for her sonne,

6 Whome when she sawe coming, she said to his father, Beholde, thy sonne cometh, and the man that went with him.

7 Then said Raphael, I knowe, Tobias, that thy father shal receiue his sight.

8 Therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shal rubbe and make the whitenes to fall away, & shal se thee.

9 Then Anna ranne forth, and fell on the necke of her sonne, and said vnto him, Seing I haue sene thee, my sonne, from hence forth I am content to dye: & they wepte bothe.

10 Tobit also went forth towards the doore, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto him,

11 And

Raguel giueth halfe of his goods towards the mariage of his daughter to Tobias.

Tobits care for his sonne.

The Angel goeth on Tobias message.

The father and mother are in heauines for Tobias tarying.

Chap. 9, 29.

Raguel giueth Tobias, and his wife leaue to departe.

Sarra is instructed by her parents.

The Angels counsel to Tobias.

11 And toke holde of his father and sprinkled of the gail on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to pricke, he rubbed them.

13 And the whitenes piled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he sawe his sonne, he fel vpon his necke,

14 And he wept and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord, and blessed be thy Name for ever, and blessed be all thine holic Angels.

15 For thou hast scourged me, and hast had pitie on me: [for] beholde, I se my sonne Tobias: and his sonne being glad went in, & tolde his father the great things that had come to passe in Media.

16 Then Tobit went out to mete his daughter in lawe, reioycing and praising God to the gate of Ninive: and they which sawe him go, marveiled, because he had receiued his sight.

17 But Tobit testified before them all that God had had pitie on him. And when he came nere to Sarra his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee vnto vs, and [blessed be] thy father: and there was great ioye among all his brethren which were at Nineue.

18 And Achiacharus and Nasbas his brothers sonne came.

19 And Tobias mariage was kept seuen dayes with great ioye.

CHAP. XII.

2 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raphael had done him. 5 The which he wolde recompense.

11 15. Raphael declareth that he is an Angel sent of God.

1 Then Tobit called his sonne Tobias, and said vnto him, Prouide, my sonne, wages for the man, which went with thee, and thou must giue him more.

2 And he said vnto him, O father, it shal not grieue me to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.

3 For he hath brought me againe to thee in safetie, and hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, & hath likewise healed thee.

4 Then the olde man said, It is due vnto him.

5 So he called the Angel, & said vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, and go away in safetie.

6 But he toke them bothe a parte, and said vnto them, Praise God, and confesse him, and giue him the glorie, and praise him for the things which he hath done vnto you before all them that liue. It is good to praise God, and to exalte his Name, and to shewe forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not wearie to confesse him.

7 It is good to kepe close the secrets of a King, but it is honorable to reueile the workes of God: do that which is good, & no euil shal touche you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and almes, & righteousnes. A litle with righteousnes is better then much with vrighteousnes: it is better to giue almes then to laye vp golde, 9 For almes doeth deliuer from death, and doeth purge all sinne. Those which exercise almes and righteousnes, shalbe filled with life.

10 But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.

11 Surely I wil kepe close nothing fro you: neuertheles, I laid it was good to kepe close the secret of a King, but that it was honorable to reueile the workes of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didest pray, and Sarra thy daughter in lawe, I did bring to memorie your prayer before the holic one: & when thou didest burye the dead, I was with thee likewise.

13 And when thou wast not grieved to rise vp, and leaue thy dinet to burye the dead, thy good dede was not hid from me: but I was with thee.

14 And now God hath sent me to heale thee, and Sarra thy daughter in law.

15 I am Raphael one of the seue holic Angels, which present the prayers of the Saintes, and which go forth before his holie maiestie.

16 Then they were bothe troubled, & fell vpon their face: for they feared.

17 But he said vnto them, Feare not, for it shal go wel with you: praise God therefore.

18 For I came not of mine owne pleasure, but by the good wil of your God: wherefore praise him in all ages.

19 *All these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but I did nether eat nor drinke, but you sawe it in vision.

20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I go vp to him that sent me: but write all things which are done, in a booke.

21 And when they rose, they sawe him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great & wonderful workes of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

Then Tobit wrote a prayer of reioycing, and said, Blessed be God that liueth for euer, and [blessed be] his kingdome.
2 For he doeth scourge, and hath pitie: he leadeth to hel, and bringeth vp, nether is there anie that can auoide his hand.
3 Confesse him before the Gētiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered you among them.
4 There declare his greatnes, and extoll him before all the liuing: for he is our Lord and our God and our father for e-uer.
5 He hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and wil haue mercie againe, & wil gather vs out of all nations, among whome we are scattered.
6 If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, and deale vprightly before him, then wil he turne vnto you, and wil not hide his face from you, but ye shal se what he wil do with you therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of righteoufnes, and extoll the euerlasting King. I wil confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, and wil declare his power and greatnes to a sinful nation. O ye sinners, turne and do iustice before him: who can tel if he wil receiue you to mercie, and haue pitie on you?
7 I wil extoll my God, and my sonne [shal praise] the King of heauen, and shal reioyce in his greatnes.
8 Let all men speake, and let all praise him for his righteousnes.
9 O Ierusalem the holie citie, he wil scourge thee for thy childrens workes, but he wil haue pitie againe on the sones of righteous men.
10 Giue praise to the Lord duely, and praise the euerlasting King, that his tabernacle may be buylded in thee againe with ioye:
and let him make ioyful there in thee those that are captiues, and loue in thee for euer those that be miserable.
11 Manie nations shal come from farre to the Name of the Lord God, with giftes in their hands, [euen] giftes to the King of heauen: all generations shal praise thee, & giue signes of ioye.
12 Curled are all they, which hate thee: but blessed are they for euer which loue thee.
13 Reioyce, and be glad for the children of the iuste: for they shal be gathered, & shal blesse the Lord of the iuste.
14 Blessed are they which loue thee: for thei shal reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue bene sorowful for al thy scour ges: for they shal reioyce for thee, when they shal se all thy glorie, and shal reioyce for euer.

15 Let my soule blesse God the great King.
16 For Ierusalem shal be buylt vp with sapphires, & emeraudes, and thy walles with precious stones, and thy towres, and thy bulwarkes with pure golde.
17 And the streetes of Ierusalem shal be paued with beral, and carbuncle, and stones off Ophir.
18 And al her streetes shal say, ¶ Halleluiah, and they shal praise [him,] saying, Blessed be God which hath extolled it for euer.

† Or, praise ye
the Lord.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

4 Lesson of Tobit to his sonne. 5 He prophecieth the destruction of Ninieue. 7 And the restoring of Ierusalem and the Temple. 13 The death of Tobit, and his wife. 16 Tobias age and death.

SO Tobit made an end of praising
God.

2 And he was eight and fiftie yere olde, when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yere, and he gaue almes, and he continued to feare the Lord God,
and to praise him.

3 And when he was verie aged, he called his sonne, and six of his sonnes sonnes, and said to him, My sonne, take thy children (for beholde, I am aged, and am ready to departe out of this life)

4 Go into Media, my sonne, for I beleue that those things which Ionas the Prophet spake of Ninieue, that it shal be destroyed, [and] for a time peace shal rather be in Media, and that our brethren shal be scattered in the earth from that good land, and Ieru-salem shal be desolate, and the House of God in it shal be burned, & shal be desolate for a time.

5 Yet againe God* wil haue pitie on them, and bring them againe into the lād where they shal buylde a Temple, but not like to the first, vntil the times of that age be fulfilled, which being finished, they shal returne from euerie place out of captiuitie, and buylde vp Ierusalem gloriously, & the House of God shal be buylt in it for euer with a glorious buylding, as the Prophetes haue spoken thereof.

* Ezra 3, 1.
& 6, 14.

6 And all nations shal turne, and feare the Lord God truely, and shal bury their idoles.

7 So shal all nations praise the Lord, and his people shal confesse God, and the Lord shal exalte his people, and all those which loue the Lord in trueth and iustice, shal reioyce, and those also which shewe mercie to our brethren.

8 And now, my sonne, departe out of Ninieue.

nine, because that those things which the Prophet Ionas spake, shal surely come to passe.

9 But kepe thou the Law, and the com-mandements, and shewe thy self merciful and iust, that it may go wel with thee.

10 And burye me honestly, & thy mother with me: but tarie no longer at Ninie:
Remember, my sonne, how a man handled Achiacharus that broght him vp, how out of light he broghthim into darkenes, and how he rewarded him againe: yet Achiacharus was saued, but the other had his reward: for he went downe into dar-kenes. Manasses gaue almes, and escaped the snare of death, which they had set for him, but Aman fell into the snare and perished.

11 Wherefore now, my sonne confider what almes doeth, and how righteousness doeth deliuer. When he had said these things, the gaue vp the gost in the bed, being an hundreth and eight and fiftie yere olde, and he buryed him honorably.

12 And when Anna was dead he buryed her with his father: but Tobias wet with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Ra-guel his father in lawe.

13 Where he became olde with honour, & he buryed his father and mother in lawe honorably, and he inherited their substance and Tobits his father.

14 And he dyed at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundreth and seuen & twentie yere olde.

15 But before he dyed, he heard of the destruction of Ninie, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus, and before his death, he reioyced for Ninie.

† Or, his soule failed him in the bed.

IVDETH.

CHAP. I.

3 The buylding of Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad and ouercame him. 11 He threateth them that wolde not helpe him.

IN the twelfth yere of the reigne of Nabu-chodonosor, who reigned in Ninie great citie (in the dayes of Arphaxad, which reigned ouer
the Medes in Echa-

tane,

2 And buylt in Ecbatane the walles round about, of hewen stone, thre cubites broad, and six cubites long, and made the height of the wall seuentie cubites, and the breadth thereof fiftie cubites,

3 And made the towres thereof in the gates of it of an hundreth cubites, and the breadth thereof in the fundatiō threscore cubites,

4 And made the gates thereof, euen gates that were lifted vp on hie, seuentie cubi-tes, & the breadth of them fortie cubites, for the going forth of his mightie armies,
and for the setting in aray of his fote mē,

5 Euen in those dayes, King Nabuchodo-nosor made warre with King Arphaxad in the great field, which is the field in the coa-stes of Ragau.

6 Then came vnto him all they that dwelt in the mountaines, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tygris, and Hydaspes, &

the countrey of Arioch & King of the Elymeans, and very manie nations assembled them selues to the battel of the son-nes of Chelod.

7 And Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwelt in Persia, & to all that dwelt in the West, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt vpon the sea coast,

8 And to the people that are in Carmel, & Galaad, and the hier Galile, and the great field of Esdrelam,

9 And to all that were in Samaria, and the cities thereof, and beyonde Iorden vnto Ierusalem, and Betane and Chellus, and Cades, and the riuer of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gess, 10 Vnto one come to Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, and to one come to the mountaines of Ethiopiz.

11 But all the inhabitants of this countrey did not passe for the commandement of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, neither wolde they come with him to the battel, for they did not feare him: yea, he was before them as one mā: therefore thei sent away his ambassadours from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angrie with all this countrey, and sware by his throne and kingdome that he wol-de surely be auenged vpon all those coa-stes.

ites of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, and that he wolde slay with the sworde all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Iudea, & all that were in Egypt, if one come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battel aray with his power against King Arphaxad in the sequententh yere, and he prevailed in his battel for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horse men, and all his chariots.

14 And he wanne his cities, and came vnto Ecbatane, and toke the towres, & spoiled the stretes thereof, and turned the beautie thereof into shame.

15 He toke also Arphaxad in the mountaynes of Ragau, & smore him through with his dartes, and destroyed him vterly that daye.

16 So he returned afterwarde to Niuiue, bothe he and all his companie with a verie great multitude of men of warre, and there he passed the time, and banketed, bothe he and his armie, an hundreth and twentie dayes.

CHAP. II.

3 Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people shulde be brought in subiection, 6 And to destroy those that disobeyed him. 15 The preparation of Olofernes armie. 23 The conquest of his enemies.

1 AND in the eighteenth yere, the twentieth [day] of the first moneth, there was talke in the house of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, that he shulde achenge him selfe on all the earth, as he had spoken.

2 So he called vnto him all his officers and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, & set before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to destroe all flesh, that had not obeyed the commandement of his mouth.

4 And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor King of Assyrians called Olofernes his chief captaine, and which was next vnto him, and said vnto him,

5 Thus saith the great King, the lord of the whole earth, Beholde, thou shalt go forthe from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their owne strength, of footmen an hundreth and twentie thousand, & the number of horses with their riders, twelue thousand,

6 And thou shalt go against all the West countrey, because they disobeyed my commandement.

7 And thou shalt declare vnto them, that they prepare forme the land and the water: for I wil go forthe in my wrath against them, and wil couer the whole face of the earth with the fete of mine armie, and I wil giue them as a spoyle vnto them.

8 So that their wounded shall fill their valleys, and their rivers, and the flood shall ouerflowe, being filled with their dead.

9 And I wil bring their captiuitie to the vniuersall partes of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt departe hence, and take vp for me all their countrey: and if they yelde vnto thee, thou shalt reserue them for me vntil the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but put the to death, and spoyle them wheresoeuer thou goest.

12 For as I liue, and the power of my kingdom, whatsoeuer I haue spoken, that wil I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou hede that thou transgresse not any of the commandements of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I haue commanded thee, and differre not to do them.

14 Then Olofernes went forthe from the presence of his lord, and called all the gouernours, and captaines, and officers of the armie of Assur,

15 And he mustred the chosen men for the battel, as his lord had commanded him, vnto an hundreth & twentie thousand, & twelue thousand archers on horse backe.

16 And he set them in aray according to the maner of setting a great armie in aray.

17 And he toke camels & asses for their burdens, a very great number, and shepe, and oxen, and goates without number for their provision,

18 And vitaille for euery man of the armie, and very muche golde and siluer out of the Kings house.

19 Then he went forthe and all his power, to go before in the viage of King Nabuchodonosor, and to couer all the face of the earth Westwarde, with their charets, and horsemen, and chosen foremen.

20 A great multitude also of sundrie sortes came with them like grasshoppers, and like the grauel of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forthe of Niuiue three daies iornay toward the countrey of Beteleth, and pitched from Beteleth nere the mountaine which is at the left hand of the vpper Cilicia.

22 Then he toke all his armie, his foremen and horsemen, and charets, and went from thence into the mountaynes, 23 And he destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of Ismael, which were towards the wilderness, at the South of the Chelians.

24 Then he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, & destroyed all the hie cities that were upon the river of Arbonai, until one come to the sea.

25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and destroyed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were towards the South and over against Arabia.

26 He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burnt up their tabernacles, and spoiled their lodges.

27 Then he went downe into the country of Damascus, in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and the herdes: he robbed their cities, and spoiled their country, & smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore feare and trembling fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea coast, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Iemnaan: & they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

¶ CHAP. III.

The people subiect to Olofernes. 1 He destroyed their gods that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

1 SO they sent ambassadours to him with messages of peace, saying,

2 Beholde, we are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great King: we lie downe before thee: vse vs as shalbe good in thy sight.

3 Beholde, our houses and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks, and our herdes, and all our lodges and tabernacles lie before thy face: vse them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Beholde, even our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take them, as seemeth good to thee.

5 So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this manner.

6 Then came he downe towards the sea coast, bothe he and his armie, and set garrisons in the hie cities, and took out of the chosen men for the warre.

7 So they and all the country rounde about receiued them, with crownes, with dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was iniointed him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations shulde worshippe Nabuchodonosor onely, and that all tongues and tribes shulde call vpon him as God.

9 Also he came against Esdraelon, nere vnto Iudea, ouer against the great strait of Iudea,

10 And he pitched betwene Geba, and a citie of the Scythians; and there he taried a moneth, that he might assemble all the baggage of his armie.

¶ CHAP. IIII.

The Israelites were affrayed and defended their country. 6 Ioachim the Priest writeth to Bethulia, that they shulde fortifie them selues. 9 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled them selues before him.

1 NOW the children of Israel that dwelt in Iudea, heard all that Olofernes the chief captaine of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and how he had spoiled all their temples, and broght them to nought.

2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Ierusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captiuitie, and of late all the people was assembled in Iudea, and the vessels and the altar of the House had bene sanctified because of the pollution.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoro, and Belmen, and Iericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem,

5 And took all the toppes of the hie mountaines, and walled the villages that were in them, and put in vitailles for the prouision of warre: for their fieldes were of late reaped.

6 Also Ioachim the hie Priest which was in those daies in Ierusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia and Betomestham, which is ouer against Esdraelon towards the open country, nere to Dothaim,

7 Exhorting them to keepe the passages of the mountaines: for by them there was an entrie into Iudea, & it was easie to let thie that wolde come vp, because the passage was strait for two men at the moste.

8 And the children of Israel did as Ioachim the hie Priest had commanded them with the Ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Ierusalem.

9 Then cryed euerie man of Israel to God with great seruencie, and their soules with great affection.

10 Bothe they, and their wiues, & their children, and their cattel, and euerie stranger, and hireling, and their bought seruants put sackcloth vpon their loynes.

11 Thus euerie man and woman, and the children, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell before the Temple, and sprinkled ashes vpon their heades, and spred out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar, 12 And cryed to the God of Israel, all with one consent moste earnestly, that he wolde not giue their children for a pray, and their wiues for a spoyle, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuarie to pollution and reproche, and vnto derision to the heathen.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many daies in all Iudea and Ierusalem before the Sanctuarie of the Lord almighty.

14 And Ioachim the hie Priest, and all the Priests that stode before the Lord, and ministred vnto the Lord, had their loynes gird with sackcloth, and offred the continual burnt offering, with praier and the fre giftes of the people,

15 And had ashes on their mytres, & cryed vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, & that he wolde loke vpon all the house of Israel.

CHAP. V.

Achior the Ammonite dooth declare to Olofernes of the manner of the Israelites.

1 Then was it declared to Olofernes the chief captaine of the armie of Assur, that the childre of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut the passages of the mountaines, and had walled all the toppes of the hie hills, and had laied impediments in the champion country.

2 Wherewith he was very angrie, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon, and all the gouernours of the sea coast,

3 And he said vnto the, Shewe me, o ye sonnes of Chanaan, who is this people that dwelleth in the mountaines: and what are the cities that they inhabite? and what is the multitude of their armie: and wherein is their strength and their power? & what King or captaine is raised among them ouer their armie?

4 And why haue they determined not to come to mee me, more then all the inhabitants of the West?

5 Then said Achior the captaine of all the sonnes of Ammon, Let my lord heare the worde of the mouth of his seruant, and I will declare vnto thee the truth concerning this people, that dwell in these mountaines, nere where thou remainest: & there shal no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people come of the stocke of the Chaldeans.

7 And they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they wolde not followe the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.

8 But they went out of the way of their ancestres and worshipped the God of heauē, the God whome they knewe: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, & sojourned there many daies.

9 Then their God commanded them to departe fro the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan, where they dwelt, and were increased with golde and siluer, and with very much cattle.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they wet downe into Egypt, and dwelt there til they returned, and became there a great multitude, so that one colde not number their linage.

11 Therefore the King of Egypt rose vp against them, and vsed deceit against them, and broght them lowe with laboring in bricke, and made them slaues.

12 Then they cryed vnto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And God dryed the red Sea in their presence.

14 And broght them into mount Sina and Cades barne, and cast forth the all that dwelt in the wildernes.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Efebon, and passing ouer Iordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanites & the Phierisites, and the Jebusites, and them of Sichem, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that country many daies.

17 And whiles thei sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hated iniquitie, was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderful sorte, & were led captiues into a land that was not theirs: and the Temple of their God was cast to the ground and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But now they are turned to their God, & are come vp fro the scattering wherein thei were scattered, and haue possessed Ierusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines which were desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and gouernour, if there be any faute in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shalbe their ruine, and let vs go vp, and we shal ouercome them.

21 But if there be none iniquitie in this people, let my lord passe by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproche before all the worlde.

22 ¶ And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people, standing rounde about the tente, murmured: and the chief men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side and in Moab, spake that he shulde kill him.

23 For, say they, we feare not to mere the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that haue no strength nor power against a mighty armie.

24 Let vs therefore go vp, o lord Olofernes, and they shal be meat for thy whole armie.

¶ CHAP. VI.

*Olofernes blasphemeth God, whome Achior confessed. 14
Achior is deliuered into the hands of them of Bethulia.
15 The Bethulians crye vnto the Lord.*

1 AND when the tumulte of the men that were about the counsel, was ceased, Olofernes, the chief captaine of the armie of Assur, said vnto Achior before all the people of the strangers, & before all the children of Moab, & of them that were hired of Ephraim,

2 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to day, and hast said that the people of Ierusalem is able to fight, * because their God wil defend them: and who is god but Nabuchodonosor?

3 How wil send his power, and wil destroye them from the face of the earth, & their God shal not deliuer them: but we his seruants wil destroye them as one man: for they are not able to susteine the power of our horses.

4 For we wil tread them vnder fete with them, and their mountaines shalbe drunken with their blood, and their fields shal be filled with their dead bodies, & their forestepes shal not be able to stand before vs: but they shal vterly perish.

5 The King Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth, hath said, euen he hath said, None of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

6 And thou Achior an hireling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken these wordes in the day of thine iniquitie, thou shalt se my face no more from this day vntil I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then shal the yron of mine armie, & the multitude of them that serue me, passe through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slaine, when I shal put them to flight.

8 And my seruants shal cary thee into the mountaines, and they shal leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou shalt not perish, til thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou persuaide thy selfe in thy minde, that they shal not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I haue spoken it, & none of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

10 Then commanded Olofernes them concerning Achior, that thei shulde bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his seruants toke him, and brought him out of the campe into the plaine: & thei went out from the middes of the plaine into the mountaines, and came vnto the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the citie sawe thei from the toppe of the mountaine, they toke their armour, and went forth of the citie vnto the toppe of the mountaine, euen all the throwers with slings, & kept them from comming vp, by casting stones against them.

13 But they went priuely vnder the hill, & bounde Achior, and left him lying at the fote of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 Then the Israelites came downe from their citie, and stode about him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, & presented him to the gouernours of their citie,

15 Which were in those dayes, Ozias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, & Chabris the sonne of Gothoniell, and Charmis the sonne of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the Ancients of the citie, and all their youth ranne together, and their women to the assemblie: and they set Achior in the middes of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered & declared vnto thei the wordes of the counsel of Olofernes, and all the wordes that he had spoken in the middes of the princes of Assur, and whatsoeuer Olofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell downe and worshiped God, and cryed vnto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heauen, beholde their pride, and haue mercie on the basenes of our people, and beholde this day the face of those that are sanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achior, & praised him greatly.

21 And Ozias toke out of the assemblie into his house, and made a feast to the Elders, and they called on the God of Israel all that night for helpe.

CHAP. VII.

¹ Olofernes doeth bessege Bethulia. ² The counsel of the Idumeans and other against the Israelites. ³ The Bethulians murmure against their gouernours for lacke of water.

THE next day, Olofernes commaded all his armie & all his people, which were come to take his parte, that thei shulde remoue their camps against Bethulia, and that they shulde take all the straites of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men remoued their camps in that daye, and the armie of the men of warre was an hundred & seuentie thousand footemen, & twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage and other men that were afote among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the plaine nere vnto Bethulia, by the fountaine, and thei spread abroad toward Dothaim vnto Belbaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto Ciarné, which is ouer against Esdracelom.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they sawe the multitude, were greatly troubled, and said euerie one to his neighbour, Now wil they shut vp all the whole earth, for nether the hie mountaines nor the valles, nor the hilles are able to abide this burden.

5 Then euerie one toke his weapōs of warre, and burning fyres in their rowres, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the seconde day, Olofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel, which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages vp to their citie, and came to the fountaines of their waters, and toke them and set garisons of men of warre ouer them, and remoued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the gouernours of the people of Moab, and all the captaynes of the sea coast, and said,

9 Let our captaine now heare a worde, lest an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come vp to the toppes of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battel aray, and there shal not so muche as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remaine in thy campe, and kepe all the men of thine armie, and let thy men kepe still the water of the countrey, that cometh forth at the fote of the mountaine.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water thereof: so shal thirst kill the, and they shal giue vp their citie: and we and our people wil go vp to the toppes of the mountaines that are nere, & wil campe vpon them, and watche that none go out of the citie:

14 So they and their wiues, and their children shalbe consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, thei shalbe ouerthrowen in the stretes where thei dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euil reward, because thei rebelled & obeyed not thy persone peaceably.

16 And these wordes pleased Olofernes, & all his soldiers, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, and with them fise thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and toke the waters, and the fountaines of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went vp with the children of Ammon, & camped in the mountaines ouer against Dothaim, & thei sent some of the selues towarde the South, and towarde the East, ouer against Rebel, which is nere vnto Chusi, that is vpon the riuier Mochmur: and the rest of the armie of the Assyrians camped in the field, and couered the whole land: for their tents & their baggage were pitched in a wonderful great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord their God, because their heart failed: for all their enemies had compassed them about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the companie of Assur remained about them, bothe their footemen, chariots and horsemen, foure and thirtie dayes: so that euē at the places of their waters failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisternes were emptie, and they had not water ynough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swoned, and their their wiues & yong men failed for thirst, and fell downe in the stretes of the cite, and by the passages of the gates, & there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the cite, bothe yong men and women, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, and said before all the Elders, 24 The Lord iudge betwene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that ye haue not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we haue no helper: but God hath sold vs into their hands, that we shulde be throwen downe before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, & deliuer the whole cite for a spoile to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie:

27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoile vnto the, then to dye for thirst: for we wil be his seruants that we may liue, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wiues, nor our children to dye.

28 We take to witnes against you the heauen and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to our sinnes and the sinnes of our fathers, that he lay not these things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great crye of all with one consent in the middes of the assemblee, and they cryed vnto the Lord with a loude voyce.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs waite yet fye dayes, in the which space the Lord our God may turne his mercie toward vs: for he wil not forsake vs in the end.

31 And if these dayes passe, & there come not helpe vnto vs, I wil do according to your worde.

32 So he separated the people, euerie one vnto their charge, and they went vnto f walles and rowres of their cite, and sent their wiues and their children into their houses, and they were very lowe brought in the cite.

CHAP. VIII.

The parentage, life and conuersation of Iudeth. 11 She rebuketh the faintnes of the gouernours. 12 She sheweth that they shulde not tempt God, but waite vpon him for succour. 33 Her enterprise against the enemies.

NOW at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Ox, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Oziel, the sonne of Elcia; the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Acito, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Eliab, the sonne of Nathanael, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Salafadai, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her stocke, and kined, who dyed in the barely harvest.

3 For as he was diligent ouer them that bounde sheaves in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and dyed in the cite of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field betwene Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Iudeth was in her house a widowe thre yeres and foure moneths.

5 And she made her a rente vpon her house, and put on sackcloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhede, saue the day before the Sabbath and the Sabbaths, and the day before the newemoones, and in the feastes & solemne dayes of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodlie countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her golde & siluer, and men seruants, and maide seruants, and cattel, and possessions, where she remained.

8 And there was none that colde bring an euil reporte of her: for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the euil wordes of the people against the gouernour, because they fainted for lacke of waers (for Iudeth had heard all the wordes that Ozias had spoken vnto them, and that he had sworne vnto them to deliuer the cite vnto the Assyrians within fye dayes)

10 Then she sent her maide that had the gouernement of al things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis the Ancients of the cite.

11 And they came vnto her, and she said vnto them, Heare me, o ye gouernours of the inhabitats of Bethulia: for your wordes that ye haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this othe which ye made and pronounced betwene God and you, and haue promised to deliuer the cite to the enemies, vnto the which within these dayes the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you that haue tempted God this day, and set your selues in place of God among the children of men?

13 So now you seke the Lord almightie, but you shal neuer knowe any thing.

Chap. 7, 35.

14 For you can not finde out the depth of the heart of man, nether can ye perceiue the things that he thinketh: then how can you searche out God, that hath made all these things, and knowe his minde, or comprehend his purpose: Nay, my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he wil not helpe vs within these five daies, he hath power to defend vs while he wil, euen euery day, or to destroye vs before our enemies.

16 Do not you therefore binde the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man that he may be threatned, nether as the sonne of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs wait for saluation of him, and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he wil heare our voyce if it please him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, nether is there any now in these dayes, nether tribe, nor familie, nor people, nor citie among vs, which worship the gods made with hands, as hath bene afore time.

*Iud. 3, 11. &
4, 1. & 6, 1.

19 For the which cause our fathers were giuen to the sworde, and for a spoile, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we knowe none other God: therefore we trust that he wil not despise vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Nether when we shal be taken, shal Iudaea be so famous: for our Sanctuarie shal be spoiled, and he wil require the prophanation thereof at our mouth.

22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the countrey, and the desolation of our inheritance wil he turne vpon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoeuer we shal be in bondage, and we shal be an offence and reproche to all them that possesse vs.

23 For our seruitude shal not be directed by fauour, but the Lord our God shal turne it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuarie, and the House, & the altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreover, let vs giue thanks to the Lord our God, which tryeth vs euen as he did our fathers.

*Gene. 12, 31.

*Gene. 28, 7.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and all that he did to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria when he kept the shepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried vs as he did the to the examination of their hearts, nether doeth he take vengeance on vs, but the Lord punisheth for instruction them that come nere to him.

28 ¶ Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that is able to resist thy wordes.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdom is knowne, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knowne thy wisdom: for the deuise of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirstie, and compelled vs to do vnto them, as we haue spoken, and haue brought vs to an othe, & we may not transgresse.

31 Therefore now pray for vs, because thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may send vs raine to fill our cisternes, and that we may faint no more.

32 Then said Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, and I wil do a thing, which shal be declared in all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shal stand this night in the gate, & I wil go forth with mine handmaid: and within the dayes that ye haue promised to deliuer the citie to our enemies, the Lord wil visite Israel by mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine acte: for I wil not declare it vnto you, til the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias & the princes vnto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, & went to their wardes.

¶ CHAP. IX.

Iudeth humbleth her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people. 7 Against the pride of the Assyrians. 11 God is the helpe of the humble.

¶ Then Iudeth fel vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, and put of the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed. And about the time that the incense of that euening was offered in Ierusalem in the House of the Lord, Iudeth cryed with a loude voyce, and said,

O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whome thou gauest a sworde to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the maide, and defiled her, and discovered the thigh with shame, and polluted the wombe to reproche (for thou hadest commanded that it shulde not so be,

3 Yet thei did things for the which thou gauest their princes to the slaughter, for they were deceiued and washed their beds with blood) and hast stricken the seruants with

with the gouernours, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

4 And hast giuen their wiues for a pray & their daughters to be captiues, and all their spoiles for a bootie to the children that thou louedst: whiche were moued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for aide, O God, O my God, heare me also a widdowe.

5 For thou hast wrought the things afore, & these, and the things that shalbe after, & thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

6 For the things which thou doest purpose, are present, and say, Beholde, we are here: for all thy wayes are ready, and thy iudgements are foreknowen.

7 Beholde, the Assyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue exalted themselves with horses and horsemen: they glorie in the strength of their souldiers: they trust in shield, speare, and bowe, and sling, and do not knowe that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8 Breake thou their strength by thy power, and breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to defile thy Sanctuarie, & to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast downe with weapons the hornes of the altar.

9 Beholde their pride, and send thy wrath vpon their heades: giue into mine hand which am a widow, the strength that I haue conceiued.

10 *Smite by the deceit of my lippes the seruant with the prince, and the prince with the seruant: abbate their height by the hand of a woman.

11 *For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lord, art the helpe of the humble and litle ones, the defender of the weake, and the protector of them that are forsaken, & the Sauour of them that are without hope.

12 Surely, surely [thou art] the God of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lord of heauen and earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer,

13 And graunt me wordes and craft, and a wounde, and a stroke against them that enterprise cruel things against thy couenant, and against thine holy House, and against the toppes of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shewe euidently among all thy people, and al the tribes, that they may knowe that thou art the God of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

¶ CHAP. X.

1 Iudeth decketh her self and goeth forth of the cite. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians and brought to Olofernes.

NOW after she had ceased to crye vnto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these wordes,

2 She rose where she had fallen downe, & called her maide, & went downe into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath daies and in the feast daies,

3 And putting away the sackcloth wherewith she was clad, & putting of the garmentes of her widowhede, she washed her body with water, and anointed it with much ointment, and dressed the heere of her head, and put attire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnes, wherewith she was cled during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she put slippers on her fete, and put on bracelets, and sleeves, and rings, and earrings, and all her ornaments, and she decked her selfe brauely, to allure the eyes of all men that shulde see her.

5 Then she gaue her maide a bottel of wine, and a pot of oyle, and filled a scrippe with floure, and with drye figges, and with fine bread: so she lapped vp all these things together and layed them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the cite of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the ancients of the cite, Charbris and Charmis.

7 And when they sawe her that her face was changed, and that her garment was changed, they marueiled greatly at her wonderful beautie, and said vnto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glorie of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said vnto them, Commande the gates of the cite to be opened vnto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things which you haue spoken to me. So they commanded the yong men to open vnto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she and her maide with her, and the men of the cite looked after her, vntil she was gone downe the mountaine, and til she had passed the valley, and colde see her no more.

11 Thus they went streight forth in the valley, and the first watche of the Assyrians met her,

12 And toke her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whether goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for they shalbe giuen you to be consumed.

13 And I am come before Olofernes, the chief captaine of your armie, to declare hi true things, and I wil shewe before him the way whereby he shal go and winne all the mountaines, without losing the body or lyfe of any of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her wordes, and behelde her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,

15 Thou hast saued thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come downe to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tente, and some of vs shal conduct thee vntil they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not affraied in thine heart, but shewe vn to him according as thou hast to say, and he wil intreat thee wel.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, and prepared a charet for her and her maide, and broght her to the tent of Olofernes.

18 Then there was a running to and fro, throughout the campe: for her comming was bruted among the tentes: and they came and stode rounde about her: for she stode without the tent of Olofernes vntil they had declared vnto him concerning her.

19 And thei marueiled at her beautie, and wondered at the children of Israel because of her, & euerie one said vnto his neighbour, Who wolde despise this people, & haue among them suche women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left: for if they shulde remaine, thei might deceiue the whole earth.

20 Then Olofernes garde went out, and all his seruantes, and they broght her into the tente.

21 Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie, which was wouen with purple and golde and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, & he came forth vnto the entrie of his tent, & they caried lamps of siluer before him.

23 And when Iudeth was come before him, and his seruantes, they all marueiled at the beautie of her countenance, and she fel downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruants toke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

Olofernes comforteth Iudeth: 1 And affecteth the cause of her comming. 3 She deceiueth him by her faire wordes.

1 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that wolde serue Nabuchodonosor the King of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountaines, had not despised me, I wolde not haue lifted vp my speare against the: but they haue procured these things to them selues.

3 But now tel me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegarde: be of good comfort, thou shalt liue from this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shal hurt thee, but intreat thee wel, as they do the seruants of King Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Iudeth said vnto him, Receiue the wordes of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaide to speake in thy presence, and I wil declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt followe the wordes of thine hadmaide, God wil bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, & my lord shal not faile of his purpose.

7 As Nabuchodonosor King of all the earth liueth, and as his power is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persones, not onely men shal be made subiect to him by thee, but also the beastes of the fields, and the cattel, and the foules of the heauen shal liue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we haue heard of thy wisdom and of thy prudent spirit, and it is declared through the whole earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdome, and of a wonderful knowledge, and in feats of war re marueilous.

9 Now * as concerning the matter which Achior did speake in thy counsel, we haue head his wordes: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, o lord and gouernour, reiect not his worde, but set it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, nether can the sworde preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 Now therefore, lest my lord shulde be frustrate, and voide of his purpose, & that death may fall vpon them, and that they may may be taken in their sinne whiles they prouoke their God to angre, [which is] so oft times as they do that which is not be-sewing,

12 (For because their vittrailes faile, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattel, and haue purposed to consume all things that God had forbidden them to eat by his Lawes:

13 Yea, they haue purposed to consume the first frutes of the wheat, and the tithes of the wine, and of the oile which they had reserued and sanctified for the Priests that serue in Ierusalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawful for anie of the people to touche with their hands.

14 Moreouer they haue sent to Ierusalem, because they also that dwel there, haue done the like, suche as shulde bring them licence from the Senate)

15 Now when they shal bring them worde, they wil do it, and they shal be giuen thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth shal wonder, and whosoever shal heare it.

17 For thy seruant feareth God, and worshipeth the God of heaven day & night, and now let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy seruant go out in the night into the valley, and I wil pray vnto God, that he may reuile vnto me when they shal commit their sinnes,

18 And I wil come and shewe it vnto thee: then thou shalt go forth with al thine armie, & there shalbe none of them that shal resist thee.

19 And I wil lead thee through the middes of Iudea, vntil thou come before Ierusalem, and I wil set thy throne in the middes thereof, and thou shalt driue them as shepe that haue no shepherd, and a dogge shal not barcke with his mouthe against thee: for these things haue bene spokē vnto me, and declared vnto me according to my foreknowledge, and I am sent to shewe thee.

20 ¶ Then her wordes pleased Olofernes, and all his seruants, and they maruiled at her wisdom, and said, 21 There is not suche a woman in all the worlde, bothe for beautie of face, and wisdom of wordes.

22 Likewise Olofernes said vnto her, God hath done this, to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction vpon them that despise my lord.

23 And now thou art bothe beautiful in thy countenance, and wittie in thy wordes: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shalbe my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of Natchodonosor, and shalt be renoumed throughout the whole earth.

¶ CHAP. XII.

1 Iudeth wolde not pollute her self with the meat of the Gentiles. 2 She maketh her request that she might go out by night to pray. 3 Olofernes taugeth her to come to the banquet.

1 Then he commanded to bring her in where his treasures were layed, and bade that they shulde prepare for her of his owne meates, and that she shulde drinke of his owne wine.

2 But Iudeth said, I may not eat of them, lest there shulde be an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue broght.

3 Then Olofernes said vnto her, If the things that thou hast, shulde faile, how shulde we giue thee the like? for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then said Iudeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handmaide shal not spend those things that I haue, before the Lord worke by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Olofernes broght her into the tent, and she slept vntil midnight, and rose at the morning watche,

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying. Let my lord commande that thine handmaide may go forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his garde that they shuld not stay her: thus she abode in the campe thre dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her self in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that he wolde direct her waye to the exaltation of the children of her people.

9 So she returned, & remained pure in the tent, vntil she ate her meat at euening.

10 ¶ And in the fourthe day, Olofernes made a feast to his owne seruants onely, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then he said he to Bagoas the eunuche who had charge ouer all that he had, Go and persuaide this Hebrew woman, which is with thee, that she come vnto vs, and eat and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a shame for vs, if we shulde let suche a woman alone, and not talke with her, and if we do not allure her, she wil mocke vs.

13 Then was Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, & came to her, & said Let not this faire maide make difficultie to go in to my lord, & to be honored in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs joyfully, and to be intreated as one of the daughters of the children of Assur, which remaine in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Iudeth vnto him, Who am I now, that I shulde gaine say my lord? Surely whatsoeuer pleaseth him, I wil do speedily, and it shalbe my ioye vnto the day of my death.

15 So she arose and trimmed her with garments, and with all the ornaments of women, and her maide went, and spred for her skinner on the grounde,ouer against Olofernes, which she had receiued of Bagoas for her daily vse, that she might sit & eat vpon them.

16 Now when Iudeth came & sate downe, Olofernes heart was rauished with her, & his spirit was moued, and he desired greatly her companie: for he had waited for the time to deceiue her from the day that he had sene her.

17 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Drinke now, and be mery with vs.

18 So Iudeth said, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then she toke, & ate & drake before him the things, that her maide had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioyced because of her, and dranke muche more wine then he had drunken at anie time in one day since he was borne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iudeth praierh for Iherich. & She smiteth of Olofernes pee.
ho. 10. She serueth to Bethulia & reioyeth her people.

1 Now when the euening was come, his seruants made hast to departe, & Bagoas shut his tent without, & dismissed those that were present, from the presence of his lord, & they went to their beddes: for they were all wearie, because the feast had bene long.

2 And Iudeth was left alone in the tent, & Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bed: for he was filled with wine.

3 Now Iudeth had commanded her maide to stand without her chamber, and to waite for her coming forth as she did daily: for she said, she wolde go forth to her prayers: and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth of her presence, & none was left in the chamber, nether liue nor great: the Iudeth standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, beholde at this present the workes of mine hands for the exaltation of Ierusalem.

5 For now is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

6 Then she came to the post of the bed which was at Olofernes head, and toke downe his fauchin from thence,

7 And approached to the bed, & toke holde of the heere of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

8 And she smote twice vpon his necke with all her might, and she toke away his head from him,

9 And roled his bodie downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canope from the pillars, and anone after she went forth, & gaue Olofernes head to her maide,

10 And she put it in her scrippe of moine, so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and pressing through the tents, went about by that valley, and went vp the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 ¶ Then said Iudeth a farre of to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shewe his power yet in Ierusalem, and his force against his enemies, as he hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, thei made haste to go downe to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.

13 And thei ranne all together bothe small and great: for it was aboute their expectation, that she shulde come. So they opened the gate and receiued her, and made a fyre for a light, and stode rounde about them twaine.

14 Then she said to them with a loude voyce, Praise God, praise God: for he hath not taken away his mercie from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she toke the head out of the scrippe & shewed it, and said vnto them, Beholde the head of Olofernes, the chief captaine of the armie of Assur, and beholde the canope, wherein he did lie in his drunkennes, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liueth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceiued him to his destruction, & he hath not committed sinne with me by anie pollution or vilenie.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshiped God, and said with one accorde, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the moste chie God aboue all the women of the earth, and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting of of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 Surely this thine hope shal neuer departe out of the heartes of men: for they shal remember the power of God for euer.

20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetual praiſe, and visite thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking in the straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1 Judeth causeth to hang vpon the head of Olofernes. 2 Achior telleth himselfe to the people of God. 3 The Israelites go out against the Assyrians.

1 Then said Iudeth vnto them, Heere I me also, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it vpon the hiest place of your walles.

2 And so sone as the morning shal appeare, and the sonne shal come forth vpon the earth, take you euerie one his weapons, & go for the euene valiant man out of the citie, and feryou a captaine ouer them, as though you wolde go downe into the field, towarde the watche of the Assyrians, but go not downe.

3 Then they shal take their armour, & shal go into their campe, and raise vp the captaines of the armie of Assur, and they shal runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shal not finde him: then feare shal fall vpon the, and they shal flee before your face.

4 So you and all that inhabite the coastes of Israel, shal pursue them, & ouerthrowe them as they go.

5 But before you do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see, and knowe him that dispised the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as to death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias, and when he was come and sawe the head of Olofernes in a certaine mans hand in the assemblie of the people, he fel downe on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had taken him vp, he fel at Iudeths fete, & reuerenced her, & said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which, hearing thy name, shal be astonished.

8 Now therefore tel me all the things, that thou hast done in these dayes. Then Iudeth declared vnto him in the middes of the people all that she had done from the day that she went forth, vntil that houre she spake vnto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people reioyced with a great voyce, and made a noyce of gladnes through their citie.

10 And Achior, seeing all things that God had done for Israel, beleued in God vnfainedly, and circumcised the foreskin of his flesh, and was ioyned vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

11 ¶ As sone as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, & euerie man toke his weapons, and they went forth by bandes vnto the straites of the mountaine.

12 But when the Assyrians sawe them, they sent to their captaines, which went to the gouterours and chief captaines, and to all their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent and said to him, I had the charge of all his things, Waken our lord: for the sclaues haue bene bolde to come downe against vs to batrel, that they may be destroyed for euer.

14 Then went in Bagoas, & knocked at the dore of the tent: for he thought that he had slepe with Iudeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the chamber, and founde him cast vpon the floor, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cryed with a loude voyce, with weping and mourning, & a mightie crye, and rent his garments.

17 After, he went into the tent of Iudeth where she fled to remaine, and founde her not: then he leaped out to the people and cryed,

18 These sclaues haue committed wickednes: one woman of the Hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the house of King Nabuchodonosor: for beholde, Olofernes lieth vpon the ground without an head.

19 When the captaines of the Assyrians armie heard these wordes, they rent their coates, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry and a verie great noyce throughout the campe.

¶ CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are affraid and flee. 2 The Israelites pursue them. 3 Ioachim the hie priest cometh to Bethulia to see Iudith and to praise God for her.

1 And when thei that were in the tents, heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.

2 And feare and trembling fel vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour: but altogether amased, they fled by everie way of the plaine and of the mountaines.

3 They also that had camped in the mountaines rounde about Bethulia, were put to flight: the children of Israel, every one that was a warriour among them, rushed out vpon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Bethomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coastes of Israel, suche as shulde declare vnto them the things that were done, and that all shulde rushe forth vpon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fel vpon them together vnto Choba: likewise also thei that came from Ierusalem & from all the mountaines: for men had tolde the what things were done in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Galaad and in Galile chased them with a great slaughter vntil they came to Damascus and to the coastes thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fel vpon the campe of Assur and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the rest & the villages & the cities that were in the mountaines & in the plaine, had a great bootie: for the abundance was verie great.

8 Then Ioachim the hie Priest, and the Ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Ierusalem, came to confirme the Benefits that God had shewed to Israel, and to se Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, thei blessed her with one accorde, & said vnto her, Thou art the exaltation of Ierusalem: thou art the great glorie of Israel: thou art the great reioycing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, & God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the almightie Lord for evermore: and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the campe the space of thirtie daies, and thei gave vnto Iudeth Olofernes rent, and all his siluer, and beddes, and basins, and all his stuffe, and she toke it and laied it on her mules, and made readie her charrets, and laied them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to se her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her, and she toke branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with olives, and her that was with her, and she went before the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour, with crownes and with songs in their mouthe.

CHAP. XVI.

Iudeth prayeth God with a song: 1. Her continuance, life and death, 2. Her continence, life and death, 3. All Israel lamenteth her.

1 Then Iudeth began this confession in all Israel, and all the people sang this song with a loude voyce.

2 And Iudeth said, Beginne vnto my God with tymbrels: sing to my Lord withymbales: tune vnto him a psalme: exalt his praise, and call vpon his Name.

3 For God breaketh the battels, and pitched his campe in the middes of the people, and deliuered me out of the hand of the persecuters.

4 Assur came from the mountaines forthe of the North: he came with thousands in his armie, whose multitude hathe shot vp the rivers and their horsemen haue covered the valles.

5 He said that he wolde burne vp my borders & kill my yong men with the sworde, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a pray, and my virgines a spoyle.

6 But the almightie Lord hathe brought the to naught by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mightie did not fall by the yong men, neither did the sonnes of Titan smite him, nor the hie gyants invade him, but Iudeth the daughter of Merari did discomfite him by the beautie of her countenance.

8 For she put of the garment of her widowhede, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bounde vpon her heete in a coife, and toke a linen garment to deceiue him.

9 Her slippers tauished his eyes: her beautie toke his minde prisoner, and the faulchion passed through his necke.

10 The Persians were astonished at her boldenes, and the Medes were troubled with her hardines.

11 But mine afflicted reioyced, & my feble ones shewted: then they feared, thei lifted vp their voyce and turned backe.

12 The children of maides perced them, and and wounded them as they fled away like children: they perished by the battell of the Lord.

13 I wil sing vnto the Lord a song and praise, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, maruelous, and inuincible in power.

14 Let all thy creatures serue thee: * for thou hast spoken and they were made, thou hast sent thy Spirit, and he made the vp: and there is none that can resist thy voyce.

15 For the mountaines leape vp from their foundations with the waters: the rockes melt at thy presence like waxe: yet thou art merciful to them that feare thee.

16 For all sacrifice is to litle for a sweete sa- uour, & all the fat is to litle for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17 Wo to the nations that rise vp against my kinred: the Lord almightie will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in sending fyre and wormes vpon their flesh, and they shal fele them and wepe for euer.

18 After, when they went vnto Ierusalem, they worshipped the Lord, and as- sone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their fre offerings, and their gifts.

19 Iudeth also offered all the stufte of Olo-fernes, which the people had giuen her, and gaue the canopie which she had take of his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20 So the people reioyced in Ierusalem by the Sanctuarie, for the space of thre moneths, and Iudeth remained with them.

21 After this time, euerie one returned to his owne inheritance, and Iudeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne possession, and was for her time honorable in all the countrey.

22 And many desired her, but none had her companie all the dayes of her life after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to this people.

23 But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed olde in her husbands house, being an hundreth and five yere olde, and made her maid fre: so she dyed in Bethulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Manasses.

24 And the house of Israel lamented her seuen dayes, and before she dyed, she did distribute her goods to all the that were nerest of kinred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nerest of her kinred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel anie more afraied in the dayes of Iudeth, nor a long time after her death.

Which follow the tenth chapter.

4 WHEN Mardocheus said, God hath done these things.

5 For I remember a dreame, which I saw concerning these matters, and there was nothing thereof

6 A litle fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the sunne, and as much water, this flood was Esther whom the King married, and made Queene.

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the people are they that are assembled to destroye the name of the Iewes,

9 And my people is Israel, which cryed to God, and are saued: for the Lord hath saued his people, and the Lord hath deliuered vs from all these euils, and God hath wrought signes, and great wonders, which haue not bene done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lottes, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lottes came before God for all nations, at the houre and time appointed, and in the day of iudgement.

12 So God remembered his owne people, and iustified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those dayes shalbe vnto the in the moneth Adar the fortenth and fiftenth day of the same moneth, with an assemblie and ioye, and with gladnes before God, according to the generations for euer among his people.

CHAP. XI.

IN the fourth yere of the reigne of Ptolomeus and Cleopatra Dositheus, who said he was a Priest and Leuite, and Ptolomeus his sonne, that broght the former letters of Phurrai, which thei said Lysimachus the sonne of Ptolomeus, which was at Ierusalem, interpreted,

2 In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first day of the moneth Nisan, Mardocheus the sone of Iarus, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis of the tribe of Benjamin had a dreame,

3 A Iewe dwelling in the cite of Susis, a noble man, that bare office in the Kings court.

4 He was also one of the captiuitie which Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon broght from Ierusalem with Iechonias.

5 And this was his dreame, Beholde a noice of a tempest, with thunders and earth quakes, and uproare in the land.

6 Beholde two great dragons came forth ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crye was great, whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkenes & obscuritie, and trouble, and anguish: yea, aduersitie, and great affliction was vpon the earth.

9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amased, and being ready to dye, cryed vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litte wel grewe into a great riuer, and flowed ouer with great waters.

11 The light and the sunne rose vp, and the lowlie were exalted, and deuoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardocheus had sene this dreame, he awoke, and rose vp, and thought in his heart vntil the night, what God wolde do, and so he desired to know all the matter.

CHAP. XII.

AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus in the Kings court with Bagathis, and Thari, the Kings eunuches & keepers of the palace.

2 But when he heard their purpose, and their imaginations, he perceiued that they went about to lay their hands vpon the King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the King thereof.

3 Then caused the King to examine the two eunuches with torments, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

4 This the King caused to be put in the Chronicles. Mardocheus also wrote the same thing.

5 So the King comaded that Mardocheus shulde remaine in the court, and for the aduertisement, he gaue him a rewarde.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honour and reputation with the King, went about to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuches of the King that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes.
2 The prayer of Mardocheus.

THe copie of the letters was this, The great King Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and gouernours that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopla in an hundred and seven & twentie prouinces.

2 When I was made lord ouer manie people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I wolde not exalte myself by the reason of my power, but purposed with equitie alway and gentelnes to gouerne my subiects, and wholly to set the in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely go thorow on euerie side, & to renew peacc againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellers how these things might be broght to passe, one that was conuersant with vs, of excellent wisdom, and constant in good wil, and shewed him self to be of sure fidelitie, which had the seconde place in the kingdome, euen Aman,

4 Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was scattered abroad a rebellious people, that had Lawes contrarie to all people, and haue alway dispised the commandments of Kings, and so that this general empire, that we haue begonne, can not be gouerned without offence.

5 Seing now we perceiue, that this people alone are altogether contrarie vnto euerie man; vsing strange and other maner of lawes, and hauing an euil opinion of our doings, and go about to stabliss wicked matters, matters, that our kingdome shulde not come to good estate,

6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined ouer the affaires, & is as our seconde father) shal all with their wiues and childre be destroyed and rooted out with the sworde of their enemies without all mercie, and that none be spared the fortieth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yere.

7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thruste downe into the hell, to the intent that after this time our affaires may be without troubles, & wel gouerned in all pointes.

8 Then Mardocheus thoght vpon all the workes of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King almighty (for all things are in thy power) and if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no man that can withstand thee:

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and all the wonderous things vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things; and thou knowest, Lord, that it was nether of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glorie, that I did not bowe downe to proude Aman.

13 For I wolde haue bene content with good wil for the saluation of Israel, to haue kist the sole of his fete.

14 But I did it, because I wolde not preferre the honour of a man aboue the glorie of God, and wolde not worship any but onely thee, my Lord, and this haue I not done of pryde.

15 And therefore, O Lord God and King, haue mercie vpon thy people: for they imagine how they may bring vs to naught, yea, they wolde destroye the inheritance, that hath bene thine from the beginning.

16 Dispise not the portio, which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne self.

17 Heare my prayer, and be merciful vnto thy portio: turne our sorowe into ioye, that we may laue, O Lord, and praise thy Name: shut not the mouthes of the that praise thee.

18 All Israel in like maner cryed most earnestly vnto the Lord, because that death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, and her people.

1 QUENE Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Lord,

2 And laide away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of sighing, and mourning. In stead of precious ointment, she scatered ashes, and dongue vpon her head: and she humbled her body greatly with fasting; and all the places of her ioye filled she with the heete that she plucke of.

3 And she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou onely art our King: helpe me desolate woman, we haue no helper but thee.

4 For my danger is at hand.

5 From my youth vp I haue heard in the kinred of my father, that thou, O Lord, tokest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from their predecessours for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast performed that which thou didest promise them.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into hands of our enemies.

7 Because we worshipped their gods, O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheles, it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captiuitie, but they haue stroken hands with their idoles.

9 That thei wil abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined, & destroy thine inheritance, to shut vp the mouthes of them that praise thee, and to quench the glorie of thy Temple, & of thine altar,

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power of the idoles, and to magnifie a fleshie King for euer.

11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie: but turne their deuise vpon them selues, and make him an example, that hath begonne the same against vs.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shewe thyself vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and strengthen me, O King of gods, and Lord of all power.

13 Giue me an eloquent speache in my mouth before the Lion: turne his heart to hate our enemy, to destroye him, and all speche as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thine hand, and helpe me that am solitarie, which haue no defence but onely thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord: thou cccc. iiii.

knowest that I hate the glorie of the vn-righteous, & that I abhorre the bed of the vncircumcised, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie: for I hate this token of my preeminence, which I beare vpon mine head, what time as I must shew my self, and that I abhorre it as a monstrous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my self.

17 And that I thinke hand maide haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure in the Kings feast, nor drunke the wine of the offerings.

18 And that I thinke hand maide haue no ioyefence the day that I was brought he-ther, vntil this day, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God above all, heare the voyce of them, that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

CHAP. XV.

1 Mardochais mouth Esther go in to the King and make intercession for her people. 9 And she performeth his request.

Mardochais also bade Esther to go in vnto the King, and praye for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember, saith he, the daies of thy lowe estate, how thou wast nourished vnder mine hand: for Aman which is next vnto the King, hath giuen sentence of death against vs.

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the King, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the thirde daye when she had ended her prayer, she laid away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.

5 And decke her selfe goodly, after that she had called vpon God, which is the beholder and fauour of all things, and toke two handmaidens with her.

6 Vpon the one she leane her self, as one that was tender.

7 And she other followed her, & bare the traîne of her vesture.

8 The shyn of her beautie made her face ruse coloured, and her face was chearful and amiable, but her heart was sorowful for great feare.

9 Then she went in thorow all the doores, vntil she came before the King, and the King sate vpon his royall throne, & was clothed in his goodlie maye, all glittering with golde and precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 Then he lift vp his face, that shone with maiestie, and looked fiercely vpon her: therefore the Quene fel downe, and was pale & faint, and leane her self vpon the head of the maide, that went with her.

11 Neuertheles, God turned the Kings minde that he was gentle, who being careful, leaped out of his throne, and toke her in his armes, till she came to her self againe:
and comforted her with louing wordes,
and said,

12 Esther, what is the matter: I am thy brother, be of good cheare.

13 Thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the commons, and not thee. Come nere.

14 And so he helde vp his golden sceptre, and laid it vpon her necke,

15 And kissed her, and said, Talke with me.

16 Then said she, I sawe thee, O lord, as an Angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie.

17 For wonderful art thou, O lord, and thy face is full of grace.

18 And as she was thus speaking vnto him,
she fel downe againe for faintnes.

19 Then the King was troubled, and all his seruants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

The copie of the letters of King Artaxerxes, whereby herenoketh thos which he first sent forthe.

The great King Artaxerxes, which re-igneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers that haue the charge of our affaires, Salutation.

2 There be many that through the goodnes of Princes and honour giue vnto the,
become very proude,

3 And in deuoure not onely to hurt our subjects, but not content to liue in wealth, do also imagine destruction against those that do them good,

4 And take not onely all thankfulness away from men, but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindful of benefites, they thinke to escape the vengeance of God, that seeth all things, and is contra-rie to euill.

5 And oft times manie, which be set in office, and vnto whome their friends causes are committed, by valne intisements do wrappé them in calamities, that can not be remedied: for they make them partakers of innocent blood.

6 And disceinfully abuse the simplicitie, & gentlenes of princes with lying tales.

7 This may be proued not onely by olde histories, but also by those things that are before our eyes, and are wickedly committed of suche pestilences as are not worthie to beare

Iosep. Antiq.

to beare rule.

8 Therefore we must take hede hereafter, that we may make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what change so euer shal come.

9 And discern the things that are before our eyes, to withstand them with gentlenes.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the sonne of Amadathus, being in dede a stranger fro the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnes, was receiued of vs.

11 And hath he proued the friendship that we beare toward all nations, so that he was called our father, and was honored of euerie man, as the next persone vnto the King.

12 But he coulde not vse him selfe soberly in this great dignitie, but went about to depriue vs of the kingdome, & of our life.

13 With manifolde disceite also hath he desired to destroye Mardocheus our preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the partaker of our kingdome with all her nation.

14 For his minde was (when he had take them out of the way) to lay waite for vs, and by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that the Iewes (whiche were accused of this moste wicked man that they might be destroyed) are no euil doers, but vse moste iust Lawes.

16 And that they be the childre of moste high and almightie and euer liuing God, by whome the kingdome hath bene preserued vnto vs, and our progenitours in verie good ordre.

17 Wherefore ye shal do wel, if ye do not put in execution those letters, that Ananias the sonne of Amadathus did write vnto you.

18 For he that inuented them, hangeth at Shilis before the gates with all his familie, and God (whiche hath all things in his power) hath speclly rewarded him after his deseruing.

19 Therefore ye shal publishe the copie of this letter in all places, that the Iewes may frely liue after the Lawes.

20 And ye shal charge them, that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar they may be aduenged of them, which in the time of their trouble wolde haue oppressed them.

21 For almightie God hath turned to ioy the day, wherein the chosen people shulde haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among other solemne dayes ye shal kepe this day with all gladnes.

23 That bothe now and in time to come this day may be a remembrance of deliuerance for vs and all suche as loue the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 Therefore all ciues and countries that do not this, shal horribly be destroyed with sworde and fyre, and shal not onely not be inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beastes and foules for euer.

THE WISDOME OF Salomon.

CHAP. I.

1 How we ought to searcke and enquire after God: 2 Who be those that finde him. 3 The holy Ghost. 4 VVhe ought to flee from backebiting & murmuring. 5 VVhe need of death cometh. 6 Righteousnes and vnrightheousnes.

1 Whe *righteousnes, ye that be iudges of the earth: thinke reuerently of $\frac{1}{2}$ Lord, and seke him in simplicitie of heart.

2 *For he wil be founde of them that tempt him nor, & appeareth vnto suche as be not vnfaithful vnto him.

3 For wicked thoughts separate from God: and [his] power when it is tryed, repro- ueth the vnwise.

4 Because wisdom can not enter into a wicked heart, nor dwel in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 For the holy * Spirit of discipline fleeth from disceit, and withdraweth him selfe from the thoughts that are without vnder- standing, and is rebuked when wickednes cometh.

6 For the Spirit of wisdom * is louing, & wil not absolue him, that blasphemeth wth his lippes: for God is a witnes of his rei- nes, and a true beholder of his heart, Wisdome of Salomon.

and an hearer of the tongue.

7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth all the worlde, and the same that mainteineth all things, hath knowledge of every voyce.

8 Therefore he that speaketh vnrighteous things can not be hid: nether shal the iudgement of reproche let him escape.

9 For inquisition shal be made for every thoughtes of the vngodly, and the sounde of his wordes shal come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.

10 For the care of ielousie heareth all things, and the noyce of his doings shal not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which profiteth nothing, and refraine your tongue from slander: for there is no worde so secret, that shal go for noight, and the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth his soule.

12 Seke not death in the error of your life: destroye not your selues thorow the workes of your owne hands.

13 For God hath not made death, nether hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing.

14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being: and the generations of the worlde are preserved, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, and the kingdome of hell is not vpon earth.

15 For righteousness is immortal, but vnrighteousnes bringeth death.

16 And the vngodly call it vnto them both with hands and wordes: and while they thinke to haue a friend of it, they come to naught: for they are confederate with it: therefore are they worthie to be partakers thereof.

CHAP. II.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsel against the faithful.

1 For [the vngodly] say, as they falsly imagine with them selues, * Our life is shorte and tedious: and in the death of a man there is no recouerie, nether was any knowen that hath returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduenture, & we shal be hereafter as thogh we had neuer bene: for the breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the wordes as a spark raised out of our heart.

3 Which being extinguished, the body is turned into ashes, and the spirit vanisheth as the soft aire.

4 Our life shal passe away as the trace of a cloude, & come to noight as the mist that is driuen away with the beames of the sunne, and cast downe with the heat thereof. Our name also shal be forgotten in time, and no man shal haue our workes in remembrance.

5 * For our time is as a shadowe that passeth away, and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man cometh againe.

6 * Come therefore, and let vs enioye the pleasures that are present, & let vs cheerfully vie the creatures as in youth.

7 Let vs fill our selues with collic wine & ointments, and let not the floure of life passe by vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose budde afore they be withered.

9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnes: let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portow, and this is our lote.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore that is righteous: let vs not spare the widowe, nor reuerence the white heeres of the aged, that haue liued many yeres.

11 Let our strength be the lawe of vnrighteousnes: for the thing that is feble is reprobated as vnprofitable.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous: for he is not for our profite, and he is contrarie to our doings: he checketh vs for offending against the Lawe, and blameth vs as transgressours of discipline.

13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God: and he calleth him self the sonne of the Lord.

14 He is made to reprove our thoughts.

15 If grieueth vs also to loke vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of another facion.

16 He counteth vs as bastardes, and he withdraweth him self from our wayes as from filthines: he commendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his father.

17 Let vs se [then] if his wordes be true: let vs proue what end he shal haue.

18 For if the righteous man be the sonne of God, he wil helpe him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs examine him with rebukes and torments, that we may knowe his mekenes and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him vnto a shameful death: for he shal be preserved as he him self saith.

21 Suche things do they imagine, and go astray: for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 And they do not vnderstand the mysteries of God, nether hope for the rewarde of righteousness, nor can discern the honour of the soules that are fauleles.

¶ CHAP. III.

1 The conuersation and assurance of the righteous. 7 The rewarde of the faithful. 11 VWho are miserable.

1 BVt the *soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment shal touche them.

2 *In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to dye, & their end was thought grieuous, 3 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.

4 And thought they suffer paine before me, yet is * their hope ful of immortalitie.

5 They are punished, but in fewe things, yet in many things shal they be wel rewarded: * for God proueth them, & findeth them mete for him selfe.

6 He tryeth them as the golde in the for- nace, and receiue them as a perfit frute offering.

7 *And in the time of their visiō they shal shine, and runne through as the sparkes among the stubble.

8 They * shal iudge the nations, & haue dominion ouer the people, & their Lord shal reigne for euer.

9 They that trust in him, shal vnderstand the truth, and the faithful shal remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercie is among his Saintes, & he regardeth his elect.

10 * But the vngodly shalbe punished according to their imaginations: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

11 Who so despiseth wisdom and discipline, is miserable, & their hope is vaine, and their labours are foolish, and their workes vnprofitable.

12 Their wines are vndiscrete, and their children wicked: their offering is cursed.

13 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndefiled, and knoweth not the sinfull bed: * she shal haue frute in the visitation of the soules.

14 And the eunuche, which with his hāds hathe not wrought iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shal be giuen the special gift of faith, and an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.

15 For glorious is the frute of good labours, and the roote of wisdom shal neuer fade away.

16 But the children of adulterers shal not be partakers of the holy things, and the seed of the wicked bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And thogh they liue long, yet shal they be nothing regarded, and their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they dye hastily, they haue no hope, nether comfort in the day of tryal.

19 For horrible is the end of the wicked generation.

¶ CHAP. IIII.

Of vertue and the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithful.

1 Better is barrennes with vertue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: for it is known with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example thereat, and if it go away, yet they desire it: it is alway crowned and triumpheth, & winneth the battell and the vndefiled rewarde.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly which abunde in children, is vnprofitable: and the bastard plants shal take no depe roote, nor lay any fast fundation.

4 For thogh they budde forth in the brāches for a time, * yet they shal be shaken with the winde: for they stand not fast, & thorowe the vehemencie of the winde they shalbe rooted out.

5 For the vnperfit branches shalbe broken, and their frute shalbe vnprofitable & sower to eat, and mete for nothing.

6 For all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, shalbe witnes of the wickednes against their parents when they be asked.

7 But thogh the righteous be preuented with death, yet shal he be in rest.

8 For the honorable age is not that which is of long time, nether that which is measured by the number of yeres.

9 But wisdom is the graye heere, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.

10 * He pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that where as he liued among sinners, he translated him.

11 He was takē away, lest wickednes shulde altar his vnderstanding, or deceit beguile his minde.

12 For wickednes by bewitching obscureth the things that are good, & the vnstedfastnes of concupiscence peruerteth the simple minde.

13 Thogh he was sone dead, yet fulfilled he muche time.

14 For his soule pleased God: therefore hastened he to take him away from wickednes.

15 Yet the people se & vnderstand it not, & consider no suche things in their hearts, how that grace and mercie is vpon his Saintes, and his prouidence ouer the elect.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, con-demneth the vngodly which are liuing:
and the youth that is sone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they sie the end of the wise, but thei vnderstand not what [God] hath de-uised for him, and wherefore the Lord ha-the preferred him in safetie.

18 They sie him and despise him, but the Lord wil laugh them to scorne,

19 So that they shal fal hereafter without honour, & shal haue a shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shal he burste the and cast them dow-re, and shake them from the fundations, so that they shalbe vtterly wasted, & they shalbe in sorowe, and their memorial shal perish.

20 So they being afrayed, shal remember their sinnes, & their owne wickednes shal come before them to conuince them.

¶ CHAP. V.

1 The constātnes of the righteous before their persecuters.
14 The hope of the vnfaithful is vaine. 15 The blessed-nes of the saints and godly.

1 Then shal the righteous stand in great boldenes before the face of suche as haue tormented him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they se him, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, and shalbe amased for his wonderful deliuerance,

3 And shal change their mindes, and figh for grief of minde, and say within them selues, This is he whome we sometime had in derision, and in a parable of re-proche.

4 *We foolēs thought his life madnes, and his end without honour.

5 How is he counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the Saintes!

6 Therefore we haue erred from the way of trueth, and the light of righteousnes hathe not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednes and destruction, & we haue gone through dangerous wayes: but we haue not knowen the way of the Lord.

8 What hath pride profited vs? or what profite hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are * passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, & trace thereof can not be founde, nether

the path of it in the floods:

11 Or as * a birde that fleeth thorowe in the aire, and no man can se any token of her passage, but onely heare the noise of her wings, beating the light winde, parting the aire thorowe the vehemencie of her going, & fleeth on shaking her wings, where as afterwarde no token of her way can be founde:

12 Or as when an arrowe is shote at a marke, it parteth the aire, which immediatly commeth together againe, so that a man can not knowe where it went thorowe.

13 Euē so we, as sone as we were borne, we beganne to drawe to our end, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednes.

14 For * the hope of the vngodly is like dust that is blowen away with the winde, and like a thinne some that is scattered abroad with the storme, and as the smoke which is disperfed with the winde, & as the remembrance of him passeth, that tarieth but for a day.

15 But the righteous shal liue for euer:
their rewarde also is with the Lord, and the moste High hath care of them.

16 Therefore shal they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautiful crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shal he couer them, and with his arme shal he defend them.

17 He shal take his ielousie for armour, & shal arme the creatures to be reuenged of the enemies.

18 He shal put on righteousnes for a brest-plate, and take true iudgement in stead of an helmet.

19 He wil take holines for an inuincible shield.

20 He wil sharpen his fierce wrath for a sworde, and the worlde shal fight with him against the vnwise.

21 Then shal the thunder boltes go streight out of the lightnings, and shal flee to the marke as out of the bent bowe of the clouds, and out of his angre that throw-eth stones, shal thicke haile be cast, & the water of the sea shal be wrothe against them, and the floods shal mightely ouerflowe,

22 And a mightie winde shal stand vp against them, and like a storme shal scatter them abroad. Thus iniquitie shal bring all the earth to a wildernes, and wickednes shal ouerthrowe the thrones of the mightie.

Iam. 1, 10.

HEare therefore, o ye Kings, and vnderstand: learne, ye that be iudges of the ends of the earth.

2 Giue care, ye that rule the multitudes & glorie in the multitude of people.

3 For the rule* is giuen you of the Lord, and power by the moste High, which wil trye your workes, and seache out your imaginations.

4 Because that ye being officers of his kingdome haue not iudged aright, nor kept the Law, nor walked after the wil of God,

5 Horribly and sodenly wil he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shal they haue that beare rule.

6 For he that is most lowe, is worthie mercie, but the mightie shalbe mightely tormented.

7 For he that is Lord ouer all, wil spare no *persone, nether shal he feare any greatnes: for he hath made the small & great, and careth for all a like.

8 But for the mightie abideth the forer tryal.

9 Vnto you therefore, o tyrants, do I speake, that ye may learne wisdome, and not go amisse.

10 For they that kepe holynes holily, shalbe holy, and they that are learned there, shal finde a defence.

11 Wherefore set your delite vpon my wordes and desire them, and ye shalbe instructed.

12 Wisdome shineth and neuer fadeth away, and is easely sene of them that loue her, and founde of suche as seke her,

13 She preuenteth the that desire her, that she may first shewe her self vnto them.

14 Whoso awaketh vnto her betimes, shal haue no great trauail: for he shal finde her sitting at his dores.

15 To thinke vpon her then is perfite vnderstanding: and who so watcheth for her, shalbe sone without care.

16 For she goeth about, seking such as are mete for her, and sheweth her self cherefully vnto them in the wayes, and meteth them in euerie thoght.

17 For the moste true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is loue:

18 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: & the keeping of the lawes is the assurance of immortalitie:

19 And immortalitie maketh vs nere vnto God.

20 Therefore the desire of wisdome lea-deth to the kingdome:

21 If your delite be then in thrones, and scepters, o Kings of the people, honour wisdome, that ye may reigne for euer.

22 Now I wil tel you what wisdome is, & whence it cometh, and wil not hide the mysteries from you, but wil seke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, & wil not kepe backe the trueth.

23 Nether wil I haue to do with consumig enuie: for suche a man shal not be partaker of wisdome.

24 But the multitude of the wise is the preservation of the worlde, and a wise King is the staye of the people.

25 Be therefore instructed by my wordes, and ye shal haue profite.

¶ CHAP. VII.

VWisdome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

I My self am also mortal, and a man like all other, and am come of him that was first made of the earth.

2 And in my mothers wombe was I facioned to be flesh in ten moneths: I was* brought together into blood of the sede of man, and by the pleasure that cometh w slepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receiued the commune aire, and fel vpon the earth, w is of like nature, crying and weping at the first as all other do.

4 I was nourished in swadling clothes, and with cares.

5 For there is no King that had any other beginning of birth.

6 All* men then haue one entrance vnto life, and a like going out.

7 Wherefore I prayed, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called and the Spirit of wisdome came vnto me.

8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 *Nether did I compare precious stones vnto her: for all golde is but a litle grauel in respect of her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her.

10 I loued her aboue health and beautie, & purposed to take her for my light: for her light can not be quenched.

11 All* good things therefore came to me together with her, and innumerable riches thorow her hands.

12 So I was glad in all: for wisdome was & autor thereof, and I knewe not that she was the mother of these things.

13 And I learned vnfeanedly, & communicated without enuie, and I do not hide her riches.

14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men, ffif. j.

which whoſo uſe, become partakers of þe loue of God, and are accepted for the giſtes of knowledge.

15 God hath granted me to ſpeake according to my minde, and to iudge worthely of the things, that are giuen me: for he is the leader vnto wiſdome, and the director of the wiſe.

16 For in his hand are bothe we and our wordes, and all wiſdome, and the knowledge of the workes.

17 For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, ſo that I knowe how the worlde was made, and the powers of the elements,

18 The beginning and the end, and the middes of the times: how the times alter, and the change of the ſeaſons,

19 The courſe of the yere, the ſituation of the ſtarres,

20 The nature of liuing things, and the furiousnes of the beaſts, the power of the windes, and the imaginations of men, the diuerſities of plants, and the vertues of rootes.

21 And all things bothe ſecret and knowe do I knowe: for wiſdome the worker of all things, hath taught me it.

22 For in her is the ſpirit of vnderſtanding, which is holy, the onely begotten, manifolde, ſubtil, moucable, cleare, vndefiled, euident, not hurtful, louing the good, ſharpe, which can not be letted, doing good,

23 Courteous, ſtable, ſure, without care, hauing all power, circūſpect in all things, and paſſing through all, intellectual, pure and ſubtil ſpirits.

24 For wiſdome is nimbler then all nimble things: ſhe goeth thorowe and attaineth to all things, becauſe of her purenes.

25 For ſhe is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence that floweth from the glorie of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.

26 For ſhe is the brightnes of the euerlaſting light, the vndefiled mirrour of the maieſtie of God, and the image of his goodnes.

27 And being one, ſhe can do all things, and remaining in her ſelf, renueth all, and according to the ages ſhe entreteth into þe holy ſoules, and maketh them the friends of God and Prophetes.

28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with wiſdome,

29 For ſhe is more beautiful then the ſunne, and is aboue all the order of the ſtarres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For night cometh vpon it, but wickednes can not overcome wiſdome.

CHAP. VIII.

The effects of wiſdome.

1 She alſo reacheth from one end to another mightely, and comely doeth ſhe order all things.

2 I haue loued her, and ſought her from my youth: I deſired to marie her, ſuche loue had I vnto her beautie.

3 In that ſhe is conuerſant with God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things loueth her.

4 For ſhe is the ſcholemaſtres of þe knowledge of God, and the choſer out of his workes.

5 If riches be a poſſeſſion to be deſired in this life, what is richer then wiſdome, that worketh all things?

6 For if prudencie worketh, what is it among all things, that worketh better then ſhe?

7 If a man loue righteousnes, her labours are vertuous: for ſhe teacheth ſobernes & prudencie, righteousnes and ſtrength, which are the moſte profitable things that men can haue in this life.

8 If a man deſire great experience, ſhe can tell the things that are paſt, and diſcerne things to come: ſhe knoweth the ſubtilties of wordes, and the ſolutions of darke ſentences: ſhe foreſeeth the ſignes and wonders, or euer they come to paſſe, & the ſucces of ſeaſons and times.

9 Therefore I purpoſed to take her vnto my companie, knowing that ſhe wolde counſel me good things, & comforte me in cares and griefs.

10 For her ſake ſhal I haue glorie among the multitude and honour among the Elders, thogh I be yong.

11 I ſhal be founde of ſharpe iudgement, ſo that I ſhal be marueilous in the ſight of great men.

12 When I holde my tongue, they ſhal abide my leaſure: when I ſpeake, they ſhal heare diligently, & if I talke muche, they ſhal lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 [Moreouer,] by her I ſhal obtaine immortallitie, and leaue an euerlaſting memorial among them that come after me.

14 I ſhal gouerne the people, and the nations ſhal be ſubdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants ſhal be afraid when they heare me: among the multitude I ſhal be counted good, and mightie in battel.

16 When I come home, I ſhal reſt with her: for her companie hath no bitternes, and and her felowshippe hathe no tediousnes, but mirthe and ioye.

17 [Now] when I considered these things by my self, and pondered them in mine heart, how that to be ioyned vnto wis-dome is immortalitie.

18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, and glorie by communing with her, I went about, seeking how I might take her vnto me.

19 For I was a wittie childe, and was of a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vndefiled bodie.

21 Neuertheles, when I perceiued that I colde not enioye her, except God gaue her (and that was a point of wisdom also, to knowe whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

CHAP. IX.

A prayer of Salomon to obtaine wisdom.

1 O God of fathers, and Lord of mercie, which hast made all things with thy worde,

2 And ordeined māthorow thy wisdom, that he shulde haue * dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And gouerne the worlde according to equitie and righteousness, and execute iudgement with an vpright heart,

4 Giue * me that wisdom, which sitteth by thy throne, and put me not out frō among thy children.

5 For I thy * seruant, & sonne of thine hādmaide am a feble persone, and of a shorte time, and yet lesse in the vnderstanding of iudgement and the lawes.

6 And though a man be neuer so perfit among the children of men, yet if thy wis-dome be not with him, he shal be nothing regarded.

7 * Thou hast chosen me to be a King of thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to buylde a temple vpon thine holy Mount, and an altar in the citie, wherein thou dwellest, a likenes of thine holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And thy * wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was whē thou madest the worlde, and which kne-we what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

10 Send her out of thine holy heauens, and send her from the throne of thy maiestie that she may be with me, & labour, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, and she shal lead me soberly in my workes, and preserue me by her glorie.

12 So shal my workes be acceptable, and then shal I gouerne thy people righteously, and be mete for my fathers throne.

13 For * what man is he that can knowe counsel of God? or who can thinke what the wil of God is?

14 For the thoughts of mortal men are fearful, and our foresafts are vncertaine.

15 Because a corruptible bodie is heauie
vnto the soule, & the earthly man is keppeth downe the minde that is ful of cares.

16 And hardly can we discern the things that are vpon earth, & with great labour finde we out the things which are before vs: who can then seke out the things that are in heauen?

17 Who can know thy counsel, except thou giue him wisdom, and send thine holy Spirit from aboue?

18 For so the wayes of them which are vpon earth, are reformed, & me are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, & are preserued thorow wisdom.

CHAP. X.

The deliuerance of the righteous and destruction of the enemies cometh thorow wisdom.

1 She preserued the first father of the worlde, that was formed, and kept him when he was created alone, and brought him out of his offence,

2 And * gaue him power to rule all things,

3 * But the vnrighteous in his wrath departed from her, and perished by killing his brother in his furie.

4 For whose cause the * earth was ouer-flowen, but wisdom preserued it againe, gouerning the iust man by a liule wood.

5 Moreover, * when the nations were ioyn-ed in their malicious confederacies, she knewe the righteous, and preserued him saufteles vnto God, & kept him sure, because she loued him tenderly as a sonne.

6 She preserued the righteous, * when the vngodly perished, when she fled from the fyre that fel downe vpon the fiue cities.

7 Of whose wickednes the waste land that smoketh, yet giueth testimonie, and the trees that beare frute that neuer cometh to ripenes: and for a remembrance of the vnfaithful soule, there standeth a pillar of salte.

left behinde them vnto men a memorial of their foolishnes, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they can not lie hid.

9 But wisdom deliuered them, that serued her.

10 When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, she led him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holie things, made him riche in his labours, and made his penes profitable.

11 Against the courtesies of such as defrauded him, she stode by him and made him riche.

12 She saued him from the enemies, and defended him from them that laye in wait, and she gaue him the price in a mightie battle, that he might knowe that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

13 When the righteous was solde, she forsooke him not, bin deliuered him from sinners: she went downe with him into the dongeon,

14 And failed him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him: and them that had accused him, she declared to be liars, and gaue him perpetual glorie.

15 She deliuered the righteous people and faultes sode from the nations that oppressed them.

16 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stode by him in wonders and signes against the terrible Kings.

17 She gaue the Saints the rewarde of their labours, and led them forth in a marvellous way: and by day time she was a shadow vnto them, and a light of flames in the night.

18 She brought the thorow the red sea, and caryed them through the great waters.

19 But she drowned their enemies, and brought them out of the botome of the deeps.

20 So the righteous toke the spoile of the vngodlie, and praised thine holy Name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious had with one accord.

21 For wisdom openeth the mouth of the domine, and maketh the tongues of babes eloquent.

CHAP. XI.

The miracles done for Isach. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 21 The great power and mercie of God.

1 He prospered their workes in the hards of thine holy Propheet.

2 They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in places where there lay no way.

3 They stode against their enemies, & were aduenged of their aduersaries.

4 When they were thirsty, they called vpon thee, and water was giuen them out of the flint rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by the things whereby their enemies were punished, by the same were the [Israelites] helped in their neede.

6 For in steade of a fountaine of running water, the [enemies] were troubled at the corrupt blood, which was to rebuke the commandement of the killing of the children, [but] thou gauest vnto thine owne abundance of water vnlooked for,

7 Declaring by the thirst that was at that time how thou hadest punished thine aduersaries.

8 For when they were tryed and chastised with mercie, they knewe how the vngodlie were iudged and punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but thou hast condemned the other as a righteous King, when thou didest examine them.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their grief was double with mourning, and the remembrance of things past.

11 For when they perceived that through their torments good came vnto them, they felt the Lord.

12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wondered at him, whome afore they had cast out, denied and derided: for they had another thirst then the iust.

13 Because of the foolish denyes of their wickednes wherewith they were deceiued, and worshipped serpents, that had not the vie of reason, & vile beasts, thou didst a multitude of vnreasonable beasts vpon them for a vengeance, that they might knowe, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shal he be punished.

14 For vnto thine almightie hand, that made the worlde of naught, it was not vnpossible to send among them a multitude of beasts, or fierce Lyons, 15 Or furious beasts newly created, and vnknown, which shulde breathe out blastes of fyre, and cast out smoke as a tempest, or shoute horrible sparkes like lightnings out of their eyes.

16 Which might not onely destroye them with hurting, but also to kill them with their horrible sight.

18 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who can withstand the power of thine arme!

19 For as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the worlde before thee, & as a droppe of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast mercie vpon all: for thou hast power of all things, and makest as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they shulde amende.

21 For thou louest all the things that are, & hatest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou woldest haue created nothing that thou hadest hated.

22 And how might any thing endure, if it were not thy wil? or how colde anie thing be preserued, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, which art the louer of soules.

CHAP. XII.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The workes of God are vnreprouable. 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

1 For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore thou chastnest them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance of þ things wherein they haue offended, that leauing wickednes they may beleue in thee, O Lord.

3 *As for those olde inhabitants of the holy land, thou didest hate them.

4 For they committed abominable workes, as sorceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their owne childre without mercie, and eating of the bowels of mans flesh in banqueting, where the raging Priests [shew] abominable blood.

6 And the rulers were the chief murderers of the iustes, destitute of all helpe, whome thou woldest destroy by þ hands of our fathers,

7 That the land which thou louest aboue all other, might be a mete dwelling for the children of God.

8 *Neuertheles, thou sparedst them also, as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thine hoste, euen hornettes to destroy them by litle and litle,

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vn godly vnto the righteous in battel, or with cruel beafts, or with one rough worde to destroye them together.

10 But in punishing them by litle & litle, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing wel, that it was an vnrighteous nation and wicked of nature, & that their thought colde neuer be altered.

11 For it was a cursed sede from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou feared any man.

12 For whō dare say, * What hast thou done? or who dare stand against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whome thou hast made? or who dare stand against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, *that carest for all things, that thou maist declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.

14 There dare nether King nor tyrant in thy sight require accounts of them whome thou hast punished.

15 For somuche then as thou art righteous thy self, thou orderest al things righteously, *thinking it not agreable to thy power to cōdemne him, that hath not deserued to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousness, and because thou art Lord of all things, it causeth thee to spare all things.

17 Whē men thinke thee not to be of a perfit power, thou declarest thy power, and reproveest the boldenes of the wise.

18 But thou ruling the power, iudgeth with equite, & gouernest vs with great fauour: for thou maist shew thy power when thou wilt.

19 By suche workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man shulde be iust and louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou giuest repentāce to sinners,

20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy children that had deserued death with so great consideration, and requesting [vnto them,] giuing them time and place that they might change from their wickednes,

21 With how great circumspection wilt thou punish thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne and made couenants of good promises?

22 So when thou dost chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when we iudge, we shulde diligently consider thy goodnes, & when we are iudged, we shulde hope for 26 But they that wil not be reformed by those scornful rebukes, shal fele the worthe punishment of God.

* Rom. 1, 19.

3 Though they had suche pleasure in their beautie that they thought them gods, yet shulde they haue knowen, how much more excellent he is that made them: for the first autor of beautie hath created these things.

4 Or if they maruiled at the power and operation of them, yet shulde they haue perceiued thereby, how much he that made these things, is mightier.

5 For by the greatnes of their beautie, and of the creatures, the Creator being compared with them, may be considered.

6 But yet the blame is lesse in these, that seke God and wolde finde him, & yet peraduenture do erre.

* Rom. 1, 21.

7 For *they go about by his workes to seke him, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautiful that are sene.

8 Howbeit they are not to be excused.

9 For if they can knowe so much, that they can discern the worlde, why do they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and among the dead is their hope, that call them gods which are the workes of mens hands, golde, and siluer, and the thing that is inuented by arte, and the similitude of beasts, or anie vaine stone that hath bene made by the hand of antiquitie.

11 *Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tre mete for the worke, and pareth of all the barke thereof cunningly, and by arte maketh a vessel profitable for the vse of life.

Isa. 44, 12.
ierc. 10, 5.

12 And the things that are cut of from his worke, he bestoweth to dresse his meat to fil him self,

13 And that which is left of these things, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a croked piece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently at his leasure, and according as he is expert in cunning, he giueth it a proportion, and facioneth it after the similitude of a man, 14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, and straketh it ouer with red, and painteth it, and couereth euery spotte that is in it.

15 And when he hath made a conuenient tabernacle for it, he setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with yron,

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it fall: for he knoweth that it can not helpe it self, because it is an image, which hath the neede of helpe.

17 Then he prayeth for his goods, and for his mariage, and for children: he is not ashamed to speake vnto it that hath no life.

18 He calleth on him that is weake for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead for life: he requireth him of helpe that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his iourney, him that is not able to go, and for gaine, and worke, and successe of his affaires he requireth furtheraunce of him, that hath no maner of power.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1 The detestation and abomination of images. 8 A curse of them, and of him that maketh them. 14 VVhereof idolatrie proceeded. 23 VVhat euils come of idolatrie.

1 AGaine, another man purposing to saile, and intending to passe thorow the raging waues, calleth vpon a stocke more rotten then the shippe that carieth him.

2 For as for it, couetousnes of money hath founde it out, and the craftesman made it by cunning.

* Or, the shippe

3 But thy prouidence, o father, gouerneth it: * for thou hast made a way, euen in the sea, and a sure path among the waues,

Exod. 14, 11.

4 Declaring thereby, that thou hast power to helpe in all things, yea, though a man went to the sea without meanes.

5 Neuertheles

5 Neuertheles thou woldest not, that the workes of thy wisdom shulde be vaine, and therefore domen commit their liues to a smale piece of wood, and passe over the stormie sea in a shippe, and are saued.

6 *For in the olde time also whē the proude gyants perished, the hope of the worlde went into a shippe, which was gouerned by thine hand, and so left sede of generation vnto the worlde.

7 For blessed is the tre whereby righteoufnes commeth.

8 But that is cursed that is made with hāds, *bothe it, and he that made it: he because he made it, and it being a corruptible thing, because it was called god.

9 *For the vngodlie, and his vngodlines are bothe like hated of God: so truely the worke and he that made it, shalbe punished together.

10 Therefore shal there be a visitation for the idoles of the nations: for of the creatures of God they are become abomination, * and stumbling blockes vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the fete of the vnwife.

11 For the inuenting of the idoles was the beginning of whoredome, and the findig of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, nether shal they continue for euer.

13 The vaine glorie of men broght them into the worlde: therefore shal they come shortly to an end.

14 When a father mourned grieuouly for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, he made an image for him that was once dead, whome now he worshippeth as a god, and ordeined to his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by proces of time this wicked custome preuailed, and was kept as a law, & idoles were worshipped by the commendement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre of that men might not worship them presently, they did conterfait the visage that was farre of, and made a gorgeous image of a King, whome they wolde honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him that was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Againe, the ambition of the craftes mā, thrust forward the ignorant to increase the superstition.

18 For he peradventure willing to please a noble man, labored with all his cūning to make the image of the best facion.

19 And so thorow the beautie of the worke the multitude was allured, and so toke him now for a god, which a litle afore was but honored as a man.

20 And this was the deceiuing of mans life, when mē, being in seruitude, through calamitie and tyrannie ascribed vnto stonnes and stockes the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto anie.

21 Moreouer, this was not ynough for them that they erred in the knowledge of God: but where as thei liued in great warres of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

22 For ether *they slewe their owne children in sacrifice, or vsed secret ceremonies, or raging dissolutenes by strange rites, 23 And so kept nether life nor mariage cleane: but ether one slewe another by treason, or els vexed him by adulterie.

24 So were all mixt together, blood and slaughter, thefte and deceit, corruption, vnfaithfulnes, tumultes, periurie, 25 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulnes, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disordre in mariage, adulterie and vnclēnes.

26 For the worshiping of idoles that ought not to be named, is the beginning & the cause and the end of all euil.

27 For ether they be mad when they be merie, or prophecie lies, or liue vngodlie, or els lightly forswear them selues.

28 For in so muche as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shal they iustly be punished, because they haue an euil opinion of God, addicting them selues vnto idoles, and because they sweare vniustly to deceiue, and despise ho lines.

30 For it is not the power of the by whome they sweare, but the vengeance of the that sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

CHAP. XV.

The voyce of the faithful praising the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

1 BVt thou, o our God, art gracious and true, long suffering, and gouernest all things by mercie.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine: for we know thy power: but we sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to knowe thee is perfite righteoufnes, and to knowe thy power is immortalitye.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine god of the same claye: euen he, which a litle afore was made of earth him self, and within a litle while after goeth thither againe whence he was taken, when he shal make accounte for the lone of his life.

CHAP. XVI.

The puniſhment of idolaters. 20 The benefites done vnto the faithfull.

1 Therefore by ſuche things they are worthely puniſhed and tormented by the multitude of beaſtes.

Chap. 11, 11, nomb. 11, 31.

2 In ſteade of the which puniſhment thou haſt bene fauorable to thy people, & to ſatiſſie their appetite, haſt prepared a meat of a ſtrange taſte, euen quailles.

3 To the intent that they that deſired meat, by the things which were ſhewed and ſet among them, might turne away their neceſſarie deſire, & that thei, which had ſuſficed penurie for a ſpace, ſhulde alſo ſele a newe taſte.

4 For it was requiſite, that they which vſed tyrannie, ſhulde fall into extreme poueritie, and that to theſe onelie it ſhulde be ſhewed, how their enemies were tormented.

5 For when the cruel fierceness of the beaſts came vpon them, and they were hurt with the ſtings of cruel ſerpents,

*Nom. 21, 6. 1. cor. 10, 6.

6 Thy wrath endured not perpetually, but they were troubled for a litle ſeaſon, that they might be reformed, hauing a ſigne of ſaluation, to remember the commandement of thy Law.

+ The ſigne of the braſen ſerpent.

7 For he that turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he ſawe, but by thee, o Sauour of all.

8 So in this thou ſhewedſt our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euil.

9 For the biting of greſhoppers and flies killed them, and there was no remedie founde for their life: for they were worthie to be puniſhed by ſuche.

*Exod. 10, 4. read 9, 7.

10 But the teeth of the venomous dragons colde not ouercome thy children: for thy mercie came to helpe them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because thei ſhulde remember thy wordes, and were ſpedely healed, leſt they ſhulde fall into ſo depe forgetfulnes, that thei colde not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For nether herbe nor plaſter healed the, but thy worde, o Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou haſt the power of life & death, and leadeſt downe vnto the gates of hel, and bringeſt vp againe.

*Deut. 32, 39. 1. ſam. 2, 6. tob. 13, 2.

flaies another: but when the Spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither can he call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 *For the vngodlie that wolde not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were pursued with tempest, that they coulde not auoide, & were consumed with fyre.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fyre might do more then water, which quenched all things: but the worlde is the aduenger of the righteous.

18 For some time was the fyre so tame, that the beasts, which were sent against the vngodlie, burnt not: and that, because they shoulde see and knowe, that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And some time burnt the fyre in the middes of the water about the power of fyre, that it might destroye the generation of the vniust land.

20 *In the stead whereof thou hast fed thine fowne people with Angels fode, and sent them bread readie from heauen without their labour, which had abundance of all pleasures in it, and was mete for all tastes.

21 For thy sustinance declared thy swetnes vnto thy children, which serued to the appetite of him, that toke it, and was mete to that that euery man wolde.

22 Moreouer the *snowe and yee abode the fyre and melted not, that they might knowe, that the fyre burning in the hayle, and sparkeling in the raine, destroyed the frute of the enemies.

23 Againe it forgate his owne strength, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is sierce in punishing the vnrighteous: but it is easie to do good vnto suche as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore was it changed at the same time vnto all facions to serue thy grace, which nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that had nede thereof.

26 That thy children whome thou louest, O Lord, might knowe, *that it is not the increase of frutes that fedeth men, but that it is thy worde, which preserveth them that trust in thee.

27 For that which coulde not be destroyed with the fyre, being onely warmed a litle with the sunne beames, melted.

28 That it might be knowen that we ought to preuente the sunne rising to giue thankes vnto thee, and to salute thee before the daye spring.

29 For the hope of the vnthankful shal melt as the winter yce, and flowe away as vnprofitable waters.

CHAR. XVII.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

1 For thy iudgements are great, and can not be expressed: therefore men do erre, that wil not be reformed.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thine holie people in subiection, they were bounde with the bands of darkenes, and long night; and being shut vp vnder therofe, did lie there to escape the cunct-lasting prouidence.

3 And while they thought to be hid in their darke sinnes, they were scattered abroad in the darke couering of forgetfulness, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the denne that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the soundes that were about them, troubled them, and terrible visions and sorowful sights did appeare.

5 No power of the fyre might giue light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them onely a sudden fyre, verie dreadful: so that being afraied of this vision, at which they coulde not see, they thought the things, which they sawe, to be worse.

7 *And the illusions of the magical artes were brought downe, and it was a moche shameful reproche for y boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to driue away feare and trouble from the sicke persone, were sicke for feare, & worthie to be laughed at.

9 And thogh no feareful thing did feare them, yet were they afraied at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents: so that they dyed for feare, and said they sawe not the ayre, which by no meanes can be auoided.

10 For it is a feareful thing, when malice is condemned by her owne testimonie: & a conscience that is touched, doeth euery forecast cruel things.

11 For feare is nothing els, but a betraying of the succours, which reason offreth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doeth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure the night that was intolerable, and that came out of the dungeon of hell, which is insupportable, slept the same slepe,

That is, the night vision.

14 And sometimes were troubled with most struous visions, and sometime they sow-ned, as though their owne soule shulde betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon them.

15 And thus, whosoeuer fel downe, he was kept and shut in prison, but without chainnes.

16 For whether he was an housband man, or a shepherd, or one that was set to worke alone, if he were taken, he must suffer this necessitie, that he colde not auoide.

17 (For with one chaine of darkenes were they all boude) whether it were an hyssing winde, or a swete song of the birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the ve-hemencie of hastie running water,

18 Or a great noyce of the falling downe of stones, or the running of skipping be-astes, that colde not be fene, or the noyce of cruel beastes that roared, or the sounde that answereth againe in the holow moun-taines: these feareful things made them to fowne.

19 For all the worlde shined with clere light, and no man was hindred in his labour.

20 Onely vpon them there fel an heauie night, an image of that darkenes that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto them selues more gricuous the darkenes.

3 The fyrie pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt, 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull. 16 The Lord smote the Egyptians. 20 The signe of the people in the wilderness.
21 Aaron stode betwene the liuing and the dead with his censure.

1 But thy Saints had a very great light, whose voyce because they heard, & sawe not the figure of them, they thought them blessed, because they also had not suffered the like.

2 And because they did not hurt the, which did hurt them afore, they thanked them, and asked pardon for their enimitie.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fyre to lead them in the vnknowen way, & madest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honorable iourney.

4 But they were worthe to be deprived of the light, & to be kept in darkenes, which had kept thy children shut vp, by whome the vncorrupt light of the Law shulde be giuen to the worlde.

5 Where as they thought to slay the babes of the Saintes, by one childe that was cast out, and preferred to reprove them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children, and destroyed them all together in the mightie water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credit, might be of good chere.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous, but the enemies were destroyed. Exod. 14, 24

8 For as thou hast punished the enemies, so hast thou glorified vs whome thou hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a law of righteousnes by one consent, that the Saints shulde receiue good and euill in like maner, and that the fathers shulde first sing praises.

10 But a disagreeing price was heard of the enemies, and there was a lamentable noi-ce for the children that were bewailed.

11 For the master and the seruant were Exod. 11, 37 punished with like punishment, and the commun people suffered alike with the King.

12 So they altogether had innumerable that dyed with one kinde of death: nether were the liuing sufficient to burye them:
for in the twinkling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 So they that colde beleue nothing, because of the inchantments, confessed this people to be the children of God, in the destruction of the first borne.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and the night was in the middes of her swift course,

15 Thine almightie worde leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of warre in the middes of the land that was destroyed.

16 And brought thine vnfaigned commandement as a sharpe sworde, and stode vp, and filled all things with death, and being come downe to the earth, it reached vnto
the heauens.

17 Then the sight of the feareful dreames vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnes came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then laye there one here, another there halfe dead, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these things afore: so that they were not ignorant, wherefore they perished.

conciliation by the perfume, and let him self against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an end, declaring that he was thy seruant.

22 For he ouercame not the multitude wth bodely power, nor with force of weapōs, but with the worde he subdued him that punished, alledgeing the othes and couenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the middes, and cut of the wrath, & parted it from coming to the liuing.

24 *For in the long garment was all the ornament, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glorie of the fathers graue with thy maiestie in the diademe of his head.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, & was afraied of them: for it was sufficient, that they had tasted the wrath.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioye of the Hebrewes. 11 The meat that was giuen at the desire of the people. 17 All the elements serue to the wil of God.

1 AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the end: for he knewe what shulde come vnto them,

2 That they (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent them out with diligence) wolde repent, and pursue the.

3 For while yet sorow was before them, & they lamented by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnes, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whom they had cast out afore with prayer.

4 For the destinie, whereof they were worthe, brought them to this end, and caused them to forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, whiche remained by torments,

5 Bothe that thy people might trye a marueilous passage, and that these might finde a strange death.

6 For euerie creature in his kinde was fashioned of newe, and serued in their owne offices inioyned them, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tetes, and the drye earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the read Sea there was a way without impedimēt, and the great depe became a grene field,

8 Through the which all the people wēt that were defended with thine hand, seeing thy wonderous marueiles.

9 For they tryed like horses, and leaped like lambes, praising thee, O Lord, which haddest deliuered them.

10 For they were yet mindeful of those things which were done in the land where they dwelt, how the ground brought forth flies in steade of cattel, & how the river scauled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

11 *But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, when they were intised with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 *For the quailles came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishments came vpon the sinners not without signes that were giuen by great thundrings: for they suffered worthely according to their wickednes, because they shewed a cruel hatred towarde strangers.

13 For the one sorte wolde not receiue them when they were present, because they knewe them not: the other sorte brought the strangers into bondage that had done them good.

14 Beside all these things some wolde not suffer, that anie regarde shulde be had of them: for they handeled the strangers dispitefully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great banketting, and admitted them to be partakers of the same lawes, did afflict them with great labours.

16 Therefore they were stricke with blindness, as in olde time certeine were at the dores of the * righteous, so that euerie one being compassed with darkenes, sought the entrance of his dore.

17 Thus the elements agreed among the selues in this change, as when one tune is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and the melodie stil remaineth, whiche may easely be perceined by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the things of the earth were changed into things of the water, & the thing that did swimme, went vpo the ground.

19 The fyre had power in the water contrarie vnto his owne vertue, & the water forgate her owne kinde to quenchie.

20 Againe the flames did not hurt the flesh of the corruptible beasts that walked therein, nether melted they that whiche seemed to be yee, and was of a nature that wolde melt, and yet was an immortal meate.

21 For in all things, O Lord, thou hast magnified and glorified thy people, and hast not dispised to assist them in euerie time and place.

THE VVISDOME OF

Iesus the sonne of Sirach, called Ecclesiasticus.

This argument was founde in a certeine Greke copie.

This Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and he liued in the latter times, after the people had bene led away captyue, and brought home againe, and almoste after all the Prophetes. Now his grandfather, as he him self winneth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdom among the Ebrewes, who did not onely gather the graue sentences of wisemen, that had bene before him, but he him self also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdom. So this first Iesus dyed, and left this which he had gathered, and Sirach afterwards left it to Iesus his sonne, who toke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it VVISDOME, intitling it bothe by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of wisdom to allure the reader to read this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke containeth wise saying, and darke sentences, and similitudes with certeine diuine histories which are notable and ancient, euen of men that were approued of God, and certeine prayers, and songs of the author him self: moreover, what benefites the Lord had bestowed vpon his people, and what plagues he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was no lesse famous in wisdom and doctrine, who was therefore called a man of great knowledge, as he was in dede.

The prologue of the wisdom of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

VHere as many and great things haue bene giuen vs by the Law, and the Prophetes, and by others that haue followed them, (for the which things Israel ought to be commended by the reason of doctrine and wisdom, whereby the readers ought not onely to become learned the selues, but also may be able by the diligent studie thereof to be profitable vnto strangers bothe by speaking and writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen him self to the reading of the Law, and the Prophetes, and other booke of our fathers, and had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, he purposed also to write some thing pertaining to learning and wisdom, to the intent that they which were desirous to learne, and wolde giue them selues to these things, might profite muche more in liuing according to the Law. Wherefore, I exhorte you to receiue it louingly, and to read it with diligence, & to take it in good worthe, though we seme to some in some things not able to attaine to the interpretation of such wordes as are hard to be expressed: for the things that are spoken in Hebrew tongue, haue another force in them selues then when they are translated into another tongue, and not onely these things, but other things also, as the Law it self, and the Prophetes, and other booke haue no small difference when they are spoken in their owne language. Therefore in the eight and thirtieth yere, when I came into Egypt vnder King Euergetes, and continued there, I founde a copie full of great learning, and I thought it necessarie, to bestowe my diligence, and trauaile to interpret this booke. So for a certeine time with great watching and studie I gaue my selfe to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remaine in banishment, and are desirous to learne, might applye them selues vnto good maners, and liue according to the Law.

CHAP. I.

1. VVidome cometh of God. 11 A praise of the feare of God. 19 The meanes to come by wisdom.

I

LL wisdom * cometh of the Lord, [& hath bene euer with him] and is with him for euer.

Who can number the sand of the sea, & the droppes of the raine, and the dayes of the worlde? [who can measure] the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the depth?

3 Who can finde the wisdom [of God which hath bene afore all things?]

4 Wisdom hath bene created before all things, & the vnderstanding of prudence from euerlasting.

5 [The worde of God moste high is the fountaine of wisdom, and the euerlasting commandements are the entrance vnto her]

6 * Vnto whome hath the roote of wisdom bene declared? or who hath knowe her wise counsels?

7 [Vnto whome hath the doctrine of wisdom bene discovered and shewed? and who hath vnderstand the manifolde entrance vnto her?]

8 There is one wise, [euen the moste high Creator of all things, the almightie, the King of power] and verie terrible, which sitteth vpon his throne.

9 He is the Lord that hath created her [thorowe the holy Ghost:] he hath sene her, nombred her, [and measured her.]

10 He hath powred her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift, and giueth her abundantly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is glorie, & gladnes, nes, and reioycing, and a ioyful crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giueth gladnes, and ioye and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shal go wel with him at the last, and he shal finde fauour in the day of his death.

14 [The loue of God is honorable wisdom, and vnto whome it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great workes thereof]

15 *The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and was made with the faithful in the wombe; [she goeth with the chosen women, and is knowen with the righteous and faithful.]

16 The feare of the Lord is an holie knowledge.

17 Holines shal preserue, and iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnes.

18 Who so feareth the Lord, shal prosper, & in the day of his end, he shal be blessed.

19 She hath buyt her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seld.

20 To feare God is the fulnes of wisdom, and filleth men with her frutes.

21 She filleth their whole house with [all] things desirable, & the garners with the things, that she bringeth forth, and both twaine are giftes of God.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdom, & giueth peace and perrite health: he hath sene her and nombred her.

23 [She raineth downe knowledge, & vnderstanding of wisdom, and hath brought vnto honour them that possessed her.]

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wisdom, and her branches are long life.

25 [In the treasures of wisdom is vnderstanding, and holie knowledge, but wisdom is abhorred of sinners.]

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne: and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 [For wicked angre can not be iustified: for his rashnes in his angre shal be his destruction.]

28 A patient man wil suffer for a time, and then shal he haue the rewarde of ioye.

29 He wil hide his wordes for a time, and manie mens lippes shal speake of his wisdom.

30 In the treasures of wisdom are the secrets of knowledge, but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 If thou desire wisdom, kepe the cōmandements, and the Lord shal giue her vnto thee, [and wil fil her treasures.]

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisdom and discipline: he hath pleasure in faith and mekenes.

33 Be not disobedient to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 ¶ Be not an hypocrite that men shulde speake of thee, but take hede what thou speakest.

35 Exalte not thy self, lest thou fall & bring thy soule to dishonour, and so God discouer thy secretes, & cast thee downe in the middes of the cōgregation, because thou woldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is ful of disceite.

¶ CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousness, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are fainte hearted and impatient.

1 MY sonne, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, [stand fast in righteousness and feare, and] prepare thy soule to tentation.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient: [bow downe thine eare, and receiue the wordes of vnderstanding] and shrinke not away, when thou art assailed, [but waite vpon God patiently.]

3 Ioyne thy self vnto him, and departe not away, that thou maist be increased at thy last end.

4 Whatsoeuer cometh vnto thee, receiue it patiently, and be patient in the change of thine affliction.

5 *For as golde [and siluer are] tryed in the fyre, euen so are men acceptable in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleue in God and he wil helpe thee: order thy waye aright, & trust in him: [holde fast his feare, and growe olde therein.]

7 Ye that feare the Lord, waite for his mercie: shrinke not awaye from him, that ye fall not.

8 Ye that feare the Lord, beleue him and your rewarde shal not faile.

9 O ye that feare the Lord, trust in good things, & in the euerlasting ioy & mercie.

10 [Ye that feare the Lord, loue him, and your hearts shal be lightened.]

11 Consider the olde generations [of men & children,] and marke them wel: *was there euer anie confounded, that put his trust in the Lord? or who hath continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did he euer dispise, that called vpon him?

¶ 12 Seeing that mans glorie cometh by his fathers honour, and the reproche of the mother is dishonour to the children.

¶ 13 My sonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

¶ 14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.

¶ 15 For the good intreacie of thy father shal not be forgotten, but it shal be a fortresse for thee against sinnes, and for thy motheres offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shal be founded for thee in righteousness.

¶ 16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembered: thy sinnes also shal melt away as the yce in the faire wether.

¶ 17 He that forsaketh his father shal come to shame, & he that angreth his mother, is cursed of God.

¶ 18 My sonne, performe thy doings with mekenes, so that thou be beloued of them that are approued.

¶ 19 This greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe in all things, & thou shalt finde favour before the Lord.

¶ 20 Many are excellent, and of renoume: but the secrets are reueiled vnto meke.

1 Almes must be done with gentleness. 12 The studie of wisdom and her frute. 20 An exhortation to eschewe euil, and to do good.

- 1 MY sonne, defraude not the poore of his liuing, and make not the nedie eyes to waite long.
- 2 Make not an hungrie soule sorowful, nether vex a man in his necessitie.
- 3 Trouble not the heart that is grieved, & differre not the gift of the nedie.
- 4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble: turne not away thy face from the poore.
- 5 Turne not thine eyes aside [in angre] from the poore, and giue him none occasion to speake euil of thee.
- 6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard of him that made him.
- 7 Be courteous vnto the companie [of poore, and humble thy soule vnto the Elder,] and bowe downe thine head to a man of worship.
- 8 Let it not greue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, [but pay thy dette,] and giue him a friendlie answer.
- 9 ¶ Deliuere him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour, & be not faint hearted when thou iudgest.
- 10 Be as a father vnto the fatherles, and as an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as the sonne of the moste High: and he shal loue thee more then thy mother doeth.
- 11 Wisdom exalteth her children, and receiue them that seke her, [and wil go before them in the way of righteousness.]
- 12 He that loueth her, loueth life, and they that seke life in the morning, shal haue great ioye.

- 13 He that kepeth her, shal inherite glorie: for vnto whome she entreth, him the Lord wil blesse.
- 14 They that honour her, shalbe the seruants of the holie one, and them that loue her, the Lord doeth loue.
- 15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shal iudge the nations, and he that goeth vnto her, shal dwell safely.
- 16 He that is faithful vnto her, shal haue her in possession, and his generation shal possesse her.
- 17 For first she wil walke with him by crooked waies, and bring him vnto feare and drede, and torment him with her discipline, vntil she haue tryed his soule, and haue proued him by her iudgements.
- 18 Then wil she returne the straight way vnto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets, [and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousness.]
- 19 But if he go wrong, she wil forsake him and giue him ouer into the hands of his destruction.
- 20 [¶ My sonne,] * Make much of time, and eschewe the thing that is euil,
- 21 And be not ashamed [to say the trueth] for thy life: for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.
- 22 Accept no persone against thine owne conscience, that thou be not confounded to thine owne decaye, [and forbear not thy neighbour in his faute.]
- 23 And kepe not backe counsell when it may do good, nether hide thy wisdom when it may be famous.
- 24 For by the talke is wisdom knowne, & learning by the wordes of the tongue, [and counsell, wisdom and learning by the talking of the wise, & stedfastnes in the workes of righteousness.]
- 25 In no wise speake against the worde of trueth, but be ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.
- 26 Be not ashamed to confesse thy sinnes, and resist not the course of the riuer.
- 27 Submit not thy self vnto a foolish man, nether accept the persone of the mightie.
- 28 Striue for the trueth vnto death, [and defend iustice for thy life,] and the Lord God shal fight for thee [against thine enemies.]
- 29 Be not hastie in thy tongue, nether slacke and negligent in thy workes.
- 30 Be not as a lion in thine owne house, neither beat thy seruants for thy fantasie, [nor

¶ CHAP. V.

1 In riches may we not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be diſſerred.

1 TRuſt not vnto thy riches, and ſay not, I haue ynough for my life: [for it ſhal not helpe in the time of vengeance and indignation.]

2 Followe not thine owne minde and thy ſtrength to walke in the wayes of thine heart.

3 Nether ſay thou, [How haue I had ſtrength?] or who wil bring me vnder for my workes: for God the aduenger wil reuenge the wrong done by thee.

4 And ſay not, I haue ſinned, and what euil hath come vnto me: for the Almighty is a patient rewarder, but he wil not leaue thee vnpuniſhed.

5 Becauſe thy ſinne is forgiuen, be not with out feare, to heape ſinne vpon ſinne.

6 And ſay not, The mercie of God is great: he wil forgiue my manifold ſinnes: for mercie and wrath come from him, and his indignation cometh downe vpon ſinners.

7 Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord and put not of from day to day: for ſuddenly ſhal the wrath of the Lord breake forth, & in thy ſecuritie thou ſhalt be deſtroyed, and thou ſhalt periſh in time of vengeance.

8 Truſt not in wicked riches: for they ſhal not helpe thee in the day of puniſhment [and vengeance.]

9 Be not caryed about with euerie winde, and go not into euerie way: for ſo doeth the ſinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand faſt in thy ſure vnderſtanding [& in the way and knowledge of the Lord] & haue but one maner of worde, [& followe the worde of peace and righteouſnes.

11 Be humble to heare the worde of God, that thou maiſt vnderſtand it, and make a true anſwere with wiſdome.]

12 Be ſwiſt to heare good things, and let thy life be pure, & giue a patient anſwer.

13 If thou haſt vnderſtanding, anſwer thy neighbour: if not, laye thine hand vpon thy mouth, [leſt thou be trapped in an vndiſcrete worde, and ſo be blamed.]

14 Honour and ſhame is in the talke, & the tongue of a man cauſeth him to fall.

15 Be not counted a talebearer, & lie not in waite with thy tongue: for ſhame [and repentance] followe the thief, and an euil condemnation is ouer him that is double tongued: [but he that is a backebiter, ſhal be hated, enuied and confounded.]

16 Do not raſhly, nether in ſmall things nor in great.

¶ CHAP. VI.

1 It is the propertie of a ſinner to be euil tongued. 6 Of frienſhip. 33 Deſire to be taught.

1 BE not of a friend [thy neighbours] enemy: for ſuche ſhal haue an euil name, ſhame and reproche, and he ſhal be in infamie as the wicked that hath a double tongue.

2 Be not proude in the deuice of thine owne minde, leſt thy ſoule rent thee as a bull,

3 And eat vp thy leaues, and deſtroie thy frute, and ſo thou be leſt as a drye tree [in the wildernes.]

4 For a wicked ſoule deſtroieth him that hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to ſcorne of his enemies, [and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodlie.]

5 A ſwete talke multiplieth the friends, [& paciſieth them that be at variance,] and a ſwete tongue increaſeth muche good talke.

6 Holde frienſhip with manie, neuertheles haue but one counſeler of a thouſand.

7 If thou getteſt a friend, proue him firſt, and be not haſtie to credit him.

8 For ſome man is a friend for his owne occaſion, and wil not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is ſome friend that turneth to inimitie, and taketh parte againſt thee, & in contention he wil declare thy ſhame.

10 Againe ſome friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not.

11 But in thy proſperitie he wil be as thou thy ſelf, and wil uſe libertie ouer thy ſeruants.

12 If thou be brought low, he wil be againſt thee, and wil hide him ſelf from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithful friend is a ſtrong defence, & he that findeth ſuche one, findeth a treaſure.

15 A faithful friend ought not to be changed for any thing, and the weight [of golde & ſiluer] is not to be compared to the goodnes [of his faith.]

16 A faithful friend is the medicine of life [and immortalitie,] and thei that feare the Lord, ſhal finde him.

17 Who ſo feareth the Lord, ſhal direct his frienſhip a right, and as his owne ſelf, ſo ſhal his friend be.

18 ¶ My ſonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp: ſo ſhalt thou finde wiſdome, [which

[which shall indure] til thine olde age.

19 Go to her as one that ploweth, and sow eth, & waite for her good frutes: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke, but thou shalt eat of her frutes right sone.

20 How excedding sharpe is she to the vnlearned: he that is without iudgement, wil not remaine with her.

21 Vnto suche one she is as a fine touche- stone, and he casteth her from him with- out delay.

22 For thei haue the name of wisdom, but there be but fewe that haue the knowled- ge of her.

23 [For with them that knowe her, she abi- deth vnto the appearing of God.]

24 Giue care, my sonne: receiue my doctri- ne, and refuse not my counsel,

25 And put thy fete into her linkes, and thy necke into her chaine.

26 Bowe downe thy shulder vnto her, and beare her, and be not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and kepe her waies with all thy power.

28 Seke after her, and searche her, and she shall be shewed thee: and when thou hast gotten her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, and that shall be turned to thy ioye.

30 Then shall her setters be a strong defen- ce for thee, [and a sure fundatiō,] and her chaines a glorious raiment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, & her bands are the laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of ho- nour, & shalt put her vpon thee, as a crow- ne of ioye.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt, thou shalt be ta- ught, and if thou wilt applie thy minde, thou shalt be wittie.

34 If thou loue to heare, thou shalt receiue [doctrine,] and if thou delite in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

35 Stand with the multitude of the Elders, which are wise, and ioyne with him that is wise.

36 *Desire to heare all godlie talke, and let not the graue sentences of knowledge e- scape thee.

37 And if thou seest a man of vnderstan- ding, get thee sone vnto him, and let thy foote weare the steppes of his dores.

38 Let thy minde be vpon the ordinances of the Lord, and be continually occupi- ed in his commandements: so shall he sta- blish thine heart, and giue thee wisdom at thine owne desire.

CHAP. VII.

2 VVe must forsake euil, and yet not iustifie our selues. 23 The behauiour of the wile towards his wife, his friend, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

1 DO no euil: so shall no harme come vnto thee.

2 Departe from the thing that is wicked, and sinne shall turne away from thee.

3 My sonne, sowe not vpon the sorowes of vnrighteousnes, lest that thou reape them seven folde.

4 Aske not of the Lord preeminence, ne- ther of the King the seate of honour.

5 *Iustifie not thy self before the Lord: [for he knoweth thine heart,] & boast not thy wisdom in the presence of the King.

6 Seke not to be made a iudge, lest thou be not able to take away iniquitie, and lest thou, fearing the persone of the mightie, shuldest commit an offence against thine vprightness.

7 Offend not against the multitude of a ci- tie, and cast not thy self among the peo- ple.

8 *Binde not two sinnes together: for in o- ne sinne shalt thou not be vn timered.

13 Vse not to make anie maner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not manie wordes when thou art among the Elders, nether repeate a thing in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious worke, nether the housbandrie, which the moste High ha- the created.

16 Number not thy self in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that venge- ance wil not slacke.

17 Humble thy minde greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fyre and wor- mes.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for anie good: nor thy true brother for the golde of O- phir.

19 Departe not from a wise and good wo- man, [that is fallen vnto thee for thy por- tion in the feare of the Lord:] for her gra- ce is aboue golde.

1 Of Kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnes are to be abhorred. 28 Labour is praised.

1 A Wise iudge wil instruct his people with discretion: the gouernance of a prudent man is wel ordered.

are his officers, and what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, suche are all they that dwell therein.

the hand of the Lord, [and all iniquitie of the nations is to be abhorred,] and when time is, he wil set vp a profitable ruler ouer it.

9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: [why art thou proude, o earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing, then to loue money:] for suche one wolde euen sel his soule, and for his life euerie one is compelled to pul out his owne bowels.

10 [All tyrannie is of smale indurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, is grie-uous to the physicion.]

11 The physicion curreth of the fore disease, and he that is to day a King, to morow is dead.

12 Why is earth & ashes proude, seing that when a man dyeth, he is the heireship of serpents, beasts and wormes?

13 The beginnig of mans pride, is to fall away from God, & to turne away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the original of sinne, and he that hath it, shal powre out abomination, til at last he be ouerthrowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the persuations [of the wicked] to dishonour, and destroieth the in the end.

15 The Lord hath cast downe the thrones of the [proude] princes, and set vp the meke in their steade.

16 The Lord plucketh vp the rootes of the lie with glorie among them.

17 The Lord ouerthroweth the lands of the heathen, and destroyeth them vnto the foundations of the earth: he causeth them to wither away, and destroyeth the, & maketh their memorial to cease out of the earth.

18 [God destroyeth the memorial of the proude, and leaueth the remembrance of the humble.]

19 Pride was not created in men, nether wrath in the generation of women.

20 There is a fede of man, which is an honorable fede: the honorable fede are they that feare the Lord: there is a fede of man, which is without honour: the fede without honour, are they that transgresse the commandements of the Lord: it is a fede that remaineth which feareth the Lord, & a faire plant, they y louch him: but they are a fede without honour, that dispise the Law, and a deceiueable fede that breake the commandements.

21 He that is the chief among brethren, is honorable: so are they that feare the Lord in his fight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not, but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The feare of the Lord is the glorie as wel of the riche and the noble, as of the poore.

24 It is not mete to dispise the poore man that hath vnderstanding, nether is it conuenient to magnifie the riche that is a wicked man.

25 The great man and the iudge and the man of autoritie, are honorable, yet is there none of them greater, then he that feareth the Lord.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth for the godly, and his good wil giueth prosperitie for euer.

18 ¶ Some man is riche by his care & niggardship, and this is the portion of his wages, 19 In that he saith, * I haue gotten rest, and now wil I eat continually of my goods, yet he cōsidereth not, that the time draweth nere, that he must leaue al these things vnto other men, and dye him self.

20 Stand thou in thy state, and exercise thy self therein, and remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.

21 Marueil not at þe workes of sinners, but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour: for it is an easie thing in the sight of the Lord suddenly to make a poore mā riche.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the wages of the godly, and he maketh his prosperitie sone to flourish.

23 ¶ Say not, What profite and pleasure shal I haue? and what good things shal I haue hereafter?

24 Againe say not, I haue ynough, & possessesse many things, * & what euil can come to me hereafter?

25 In thy good state remember aduersitie, and in aduersitie forget not prosperitie.

26 For it is an easie thing vnto the Lord in the day of death to rewarde a man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans end, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge none blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen by his children.

29 Bring not euerie man into thine house: for the deceitful haue many traines, [and are like stomackes that belche stinkigly.]

30 As a partriche is taken vnder a basker, [& the hinde is taken in the snare,] so is þe heart of the proude man, which like a spie watcheth for thy fall.

31 For he lieth in waite and turneth good vnto euil, and in things worthe praise he wil finde some faute.

32 Of one litle sparke is made a great fyre, [and of one disceitful man is blood increased:] for a sinful man layeth waite for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man: for he imagineth wicked things to bring thee into a perpetual shame.

34 Lodge a stranger, and he wil destroye thee with vnquietnes, and driue thee fro thine owne.

¶ CHAP. XII.

1 Vnto whome we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

1 VVhen thou wilt do good, knowe to whome thou doest it, so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefites.

2 Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde [great] rewarde, though not of him, yet of the moste High.

3 He can not haue good that continueth in euil, and giueth no almes: [for þe moste High hateth the sinners, & hathe mercie vpon them that repent.]

4 Giue vnto suche as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 Do wel vnto him that is lowelie, but giue not to the vngodlie: holde backe thy bread, and giue it not vnto him, lest he ouercome thee thereby: els thou shalt receiue twise as muche euil, for all þe good that thou doest vnto him.

6 For the moste High hateth the wicked, and wil repay vengeance vnto the vngodlie, & kepeth them against the day of horrible vengeance.

7 Giue vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner.

8 A friend can not be knowen in prosperitie, nether can anemie be vnknown in aduersitie.

9 When a man is in wealth, it griueth his enemies, but in heauines & trouble a mā's very friend wil depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemy: for like as an yron rousteth, so doeth his wickednes.

11 And though he make muche crouching and kneeling, yet aduise thy self, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him, as he that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his roust hathe not bene wel wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, lest he destroye thee, and stand in thy place.

13 Nether set him at thy right hand, lest he seke thy rounge, and thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked with my sayings.

14 Binde not two sinnes together: for there shal not one be vnpunished.

15 Who wil haue pitie of the charmer, þe is stinged of the serpent: or of all suche as come nere the beastes: so is it with him that kepeth companie with a wicked mā, and wrappeth him self in his sinnes.

16 For a season wil he bide with thee: but if thou stamble, he taryeth not.

17 * An enemy is swete in his lippes: he can make manie good wordes, and speake manie good things: yea, he can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throwe thee into the pit: and if he may finde opportunitie, he wil not be satisfied with blood.

* Iere. 41, 6.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt finde him there first, and thogh he pretend to helpe thee, yet shall he vndermine thee: he wil shake his head, and clappe his hands, and wil make many wordes, and disguise his countenance.

2 Burthen not thy self about thy power, whilest thou liuest, and companie not with one that is mightier, and richer then thy self: for how agre the kettel and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shalbe broken.

3 The riche dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth with all: but the poore being oppressed must intreat: if the riche haue done wrong, he must yet be intreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shal straight waie be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he wil forsake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, he wil liue with thee: yea, he wil make thee a bare man, & wil not care for it.

6 If he haue nede of thee, he wil defraude thee, and wil laugh at thee, and put thee in hope, and giue thee all good wordes, & say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus wil he shame thee in his meat, vntil he haue supt thee cleane. vpon twise or thrise, and at the last he wil laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when he seeth thee, he wil forsake thee, & shake his head at thee.

8 [Submit thy self vnto God, & waite vpon his hand.]

9 Beware that thou be not disceiued in thine owne conceit & broght downe by thy simplenes: [be not to humble in thy wisdom.]

10 ¶ If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy self: so shal he call thee the more oft.

11 Praise not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out, but go not thou farre of, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy self from his speache, but beleue not his many wordes: for with much communication wil he tempt thee, and laughingly wil he grope thee.

13 He is vnmerciful, & kepeth not promises, he wil not spare to do thee hurt, & to put thee in prison.

14 Beware, and take good hede: for thou walkest in peril of thine ouerthrowing: when thou hearest this, awake in thy slepe.

15 Loue the Lord all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.

16 ¶ Euerie beast loueth his like, and euerie man loueth his neighbour.

17 All flesh wil resort to their like, & euerie man wil kepe companie with suche as he is him self.

19 What felowship hathe the hyena with a dogge? and what peace is betwene the riche and the poore?

20 [As] the wilde asse is the lions praye in the wildernes, so are poore men the meat of the riche.

21 As the proude hate humilitie, so do the riche abhorre the poore.

22 If a riche man fall, his friends set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his friends driue him away.

23 If a riche man offend, he hathe many helpers: he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, and thogh he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the riche man speaketh, euerie man holdeth his tongue: and loke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man speake, they say, What felow is this? and if he do amisse, they wil destroye him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne [in his conscience,] and pouertie is euil in the mouth of the vngodly.

stretche out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

17 *Before man is life and death, [good and euil:] what him liketh, shalbe giuen him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mightie in power, & beholdeth all things [continually.]

19 *And the eyes [of the Lord] are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do vngodlie; nether hath he giuen anie man licence to sinne: [for he desireth not a multitude of infidels, and vnprofitable children.]

CHAP. XVI.

r Of vnhappie, and wicked children: 17 No man can hide him self from God. 24 An exhortation to the receiving of instruction.

Desire not the multitude of vnprofitable children, nether delite in vngodlie children: thogh they be manie, reioyce not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

21 Trust not thou to their life, nether rest vpon their multitude.

2 For one that is iuste, is better then a thousand suche, and better it is to dye without children, then to leaue behinde him vngodlie children.

3 For by one that hath vnderstanding, shal the cite be inhabited: but the stoeke of wicked shal be wasted incontinently.

4 Manie suche things haue I sene with mine eyes, and mine eare hath heard greater things then these.

5 In the congregatio of the vngodlie shal a fyre be kindled, and among vnfaithful people shal the wrath be set on fyre.

6 *He spared not the olde gyants, which were rebellious, trusting to their owne strength,

7 *Neither spared he where as Lot dwelt those whome he abhorred for their pride.

8 He had no pitie vpon the people that were destroyed, & puffed vp in their sinnes.

9 *And so he preferred the six hundred thousand foremen, that were gathered in the hardnes of their heart, in afflicting the and pitying them, in smiting them and healing them, with mercie, and with chastisement.

10 Therefore if there be one stiffe necked among the people, it is marueil if he escape unpunished: for mercie and wrath are with him: he is mightie to forgieue, and to powre out displeasure.

11 *As his mercie is great, so is his punish ment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

12 The vngodly shal not escape with his spoile, and the patience of the godly shal not be decayed.

13 He wil giue place to all good dedes, & euerie one shal finde accordig to his workes, [and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.]

14 The Lord hardened Pharaos, that he shulde not knowe him, and that his workes shulde be known vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

15 His mercie is known to all creatures: he hath separate his light from the darknes with an adamant.

16 Say not thou, I wil hide my self fro the Lord: for who wil thinke vpon me from aboute: I shal not be known in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among suche an infinite number of creatures?

17 Beholde, the heauen, and the *heauen of heauens, which are for God, & depth, and the earth, and all that therein is, shal be moued when he shal visite.

18 All the worlde which is created & made by his wil, the mountaines also, & the foundations of the earth shal shake for feare, when the Lord loketh vpon them.

19 These things doeth no heart vnderstand worthely, [but he vnderstandeth euerie heart.]

20 And who vnderstandeth his wayes: & the storne that no man can see: for the moste parte of his workes are hid.

21 Who can declare the workes of his righteousness: or who can abide them: for his ordinance is farre of, and the trying out of all things faileth.

22 He that is humble of heart, wil consider these things: but an vnwise and erroneous man casteth his minde vpon foolish things.

23 My sonne, hearken vnto me, and learne knowledge, and make my wordes vnto thine heart.

24 I wil declare thee weightie doctrine, & I wil instruct thee exactly in knowledge.

25 The Lord hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and parte of them hath he sundred from the other when he first made them.

26 He hath garnished his workes for euer, and their beginnings so long as they shal indure, they are not hungrie nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

27 None of them hindreth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his his wordes.

29 After this the Lord looked vpon the earth and filled it with his good things.

30 With all maner of liuing beasts hathe he couered the face thereof, and they returne into it againe.

¶ CHAP. XVII.

1 The creation of man, and the goodnes that God hathe done vnto him. 20 Of almes, 26 And repentance.

1 THe *Lord hathe created man of the earth, and turned him vnto it againe.

2 He gaue him the number of dayes and certeine times, and gaue him power of the things, that are vpon earth.

3 He clothed them with strength, as they had nede, and made them according to his image.

4 He made all flesh to feare him, so that he had the dominion ouer the beasts and foules.

5 [He created out of him an helper like vnto him self,] and gaue them discretion, and tongue, and eyes, eares, and an heart to vnderstand, and sixtly he gaue them a spirit, and seuently he gaue them speache to declare his workes.

6 And he filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euil.

7 He set his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble workes,

8 And gaue the occasion to reioyce perpetually in his miracles, that they shulde prudently declare his workes, & that the elect shulde praise his holie Name together.

9 Beside this, he gaue them knowledge, and gaue them the Law of life for an heritage, that they might now knowe that they were mortal.

10 He made an euerlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes sawe the maiestie of his glorie, and their eares heard his glorious voyce.

12 And he said vnto them, Beware of all vnrighteous things. *He gaue euerie man also a comendement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Euerie man from his youth is giuen to euil, and their stonie hearts can not become flesh.

15 He appointed a ruler vpon euerie people, when he deuided the nations of the whole earth.

16 *And he did chuse Israel, as a peculiar people to him self, whome he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him moste louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighteousnes is hid from him, but all their sinnes are before the Lord.

19 And as he is merciful, and knoweth his worke, he doeth not leaue them nor forsake them, but speareth them.

20 *The almes of a man is as a thing sealed vp before him, and he kepeth the good dedes of man as the apple of the eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes and daughters.

21 *At the last shal he arise, and rewarde them, and shal repay their rewarde vpon their heads.

22 *But vnto them that wil repēt, he giueth them grace to returne, and exhorteth suche as faile, with patience, [and sendeth them the portion of the veritie.]

23 *Returne then vnto the Lord, and forsake thy sinnes: make thy prayer before his face and take away the offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the most High: for he wil bring thee from darkenes to wholesome light: forsake thine vnrighteousnes, and hate greatly all abomination.

25 [Knowe the righteousness and iudgements of God. stand in the portion that is set forthe for thee, and in the prayer of the most high God, and go in the partes of the holie worlde with suche as be liuing and confesse God.]

26 *Who can praise the moste High in the hell, as do all they that liue and confesse him?

27 [Abide not thou in the error of the vngodlie, but praise the Lord before death.]

28 Thankesfulnes perisheth from the dead, as thogh he were not: but the liuing, and he that is sounde of heart, praiseth the Lord, [and reioyceth in his mercie.]

29 How great is the louing kindenes of the Lord our God, and his compassion vnto suche as turne vnto him in holines!

30 For all things can not be in men, because the sonne of man is not immortal, [and they take pleasure in the vanitie of wickednes.]

31 What is more cleare then the sunne? yee shal it faile.

32 So flesh and blood that thinketh euil, [shal be reprobued.]

33 He seeth the power of the high heauen, and all men are but earth and ashes.

Ecclesiasticus.

The marvelous workes of God. 6. 7 The miserie & wretchednes of man. 9 Against God ought we not to complaine. 21 The performing of vowes.

• Gen. 1, 1.

HE liveth for ever, * made all things together: † Lord who onely is iust, and there is none other but he, [& he remaineth a victorious King, for ever.]

2 He ordereth the worlde with the power of his hand, and all things obey his wil: for he governeth all things by his power, and deuideth the holie things from the prophane.

3 To whome hathe he giuen power to expresse his workes? who wil seke out the grounde of his noble actes?

4 Who shal declare the power of his greatness? or who wil take vpo him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the wonderous workes of † Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, nether can anie thing be put vnto them, nether may the grounde of them be founde out.

6 But when a man hathe done his best, he must beginne againe, and when he thinketh to come to an end, he must go againe to his labour.

7 ¶ What is man? whereto serueth he? what good or euil can he do?

• Psal. 19, 10.

8 * If the number of a mans daies be an hundred yere, it is muche: and no man hathe certeine knowledge of his death.

9 As droppes of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauel stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand yeres to the dayes euerlasting.

10 Therefore is [God] patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vpon them.

11 He sawe and perceiued that [the arrogancie of their heart, and their ruine was euil: therefore heaped he vp his mercie vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousness.]

12 The mercie that a man hathe, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, and nurtureth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepherd his flocke.

13 He hathe mercie of them that receiue discipline, and that diligently seke after his iudgements.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, reprove not: & whatsoever thou giuest, vse no discomfortable wordes.

15 Shal not the dewe aswage the heat? so is a worde better then a gift.

16 Lo, is not a worde better then a good gift? but a gracious man giueth them both.

17 A foole wil reproche churlishly, and a gift of the enuidous putteth out the eyes.

18 [Get thee righteousness before thou come to iudgement: learne before thou speake, and vse physike or euer thou be sicke.

19 * Examine thy self, before thou be iudged, and in the day of the visiration thou shalt finde mercie.

• 1. Cor. 13, 34.

20 Humble thy self before thou be sicke, and whiles thou maiest yet sinne, shewe thy conuersion.

21 Let nothing let thee to pay thy vowe in time, and differre not vnto death to be reformed: [for the rewarde of God endureth for ever.]

22 Before thou praie, prepare thy self, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

23 Thinke vpon the * wrath, that shal be at the end, and the houre of vengeance, when he shal turne away his face.

• Chap. 7, 18.

24 * When thou hast ynough, remeber the time of hunger, and when thou art riche, thinke vpon pouertie and nede.

• Chap. 11, 17.

25 From the morning vntil the euening the time is changed, and all suche things are sone done before the Lord.

26 A wise man feareth in all things, and in the daies of transgression he kepeth himself from sinne, but the foole doeth not obserue the time.

27 ¶ Euerie wise man knoweth wisdom, and knowledge, and praiseth him that findeth her.

28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in wordes: [they vnderstand the truth and righteousness,] and powre out with modestie graue sentences for mans life.

29 The chiefe autoritie of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortal man hathe but a dead heart.

30 ¶ * Followe not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne appetites.

• Rom. 6, 6. & 13, 14.

31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires, it shal make thine enemies that enuie thee, to laugh thee to scorne.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, and intangle not thy self with suche companie.

33 Become not a begger by making bankets of that that thou hast borrowed, and so leaue nothing in thy purse: els thou shuldest sclanderously lie in waite for thine owne life.

¶ CHAP. XIX.

1 VVine and whoredome bring men to pouertie. 6 In thy wordes vse discretion. 22 The difference of the wisdom of God and man. 27 VVhereby thou maist knowe what is in man.

A Laboring man that is giuen to drunkennes, shal not be riche: and he that that contemneth smale things, shal fall by litle and litle.

2 *Wine and women leade wise men out of the way, [and put men of vnderstanding to reprove.]

3 And he that companieth adulterers, shal become impudent: rottennes and wormes shal haue him to heritage, and he that is to holde, shal be taken away, and be made a publicke example.

4 *He that is hastie to giue credit, is light minded, and he that erreth, sinneth against his owne soule.

5 Who so reioyceth in wickednes, shal be punished: [he that hateth to be reformed, his life shalbe shortened, and he that abhorreth babling of wordes, quencheth wickednes:] but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneeth his owne soule.

6 He that refraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublesome man, and he that hateth babling, shal haue lesse euil.

7 Rehearse not to an other that which is tolde vnto thee: so thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Declare not other mens maners, nether to friend nor foe: and if the sinne appertene not vnto thee, reueile it not.

9 For he wil hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he findeth opportunitie, he wil hate thee.

10 *If thou hast heard a worde [against thy neighbour,] let it dye with thee, & be sure, it wil not burst thee.

11 A foole trauaileth when he hathe heard a thing, as a woman that is about to bring forth a childe.

12 As an arrowe that sticketh in ones thigh, so is a worde in a fooles heart.

13 *Reproue a friend lest he do euil, and if he haue done it, that he do it no more.

14 Reproue a friend that he may kepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy friend his faute: for oft times a sclander is raised, and giue no credence to euerie worde.

16 A man falleth with his tongue, but not with his wil: *and who is he, that hathe not offended in his tongue?

17 Reproue thy neighbour before thou threaten him, & being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the moste High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to be receiued of him, and wisdom obtienneth his lone.

19 The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord is the doctrine of life, & they that obey him, shal receiue the frute of immortallitie.

20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdom, and the performing of the Law is perfite wisdom, & the knowledge of his almightie power.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I wil not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterward he do it, he shal displease him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednes is not wisdom, nether is there prudence where as the counsel of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is voide of wisdom.

23 He that hathe smale vnderstanding, and feareth [God,] is better then one that hathe muche wisdom, and transgresseth the Law of the moste High.

24 There is a certeine subtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that wrasteth the open and manifest Law: yet there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.

25 There is some that being about wicked purposes, do bowe downe the selues, and are sad, whose inward partes burne altogether with deceit: he loketh downe with his face, and faineth him self deafe: yet before thou perceiue, he wil be vpon thee to hurt thee.

26 And though he be so weake that he can do thee no harme, yet when he may finde opportunitie, he wil do euil.

27 A man may be knowne by his loke, and one that hathe vnderstanding, may be perceiued by the marking of his countenance.

28 *A mans garment, and his excessiue laughter, and going, declare what persone he is.

CHAP. XX.

Of correction & repentance. 6 To speake and kepe silence in time. 17 The fall of the wicked. 18 Offlying. 24 The thief & the murderer. 33 Giftes blinde the eyes of the wise.

1 There is some rebuke that is not come: lie: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

2 It is muche better to reprove, then to beare euil wil: and he that acknowledgeth his faute, shalbe preserved from hurt.

3 As when a gelded man thorowe lust wolde defile a maide, so is he that vseth violence in judgement.

4 How good a thing is it, when thou art reproued, to shewe repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilful sinne.

5 Some man kepeth silence, and is founde wise, and some by muche babling becometh hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because hhhh. ij.

* Chap. 37, 6.

he hath not to answer: and some kepeth silence, waiting a convenient time.

7 A wise man will holde his tongue till he see opportunitie: but a trifer & a foole will regarde no time.

8 He that vseth manie wordes, shal be abhorred, and he that taketh autoritie to him self, shal be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things, and (some time) a thing that is founde, bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, and there is some gift, whose rewarde is double.

11 Some man humbleth him self for glories sake, and some by humblenes listeth vp the head.

12 Some man byeth muche for a litle price: for the which he payeth seven times more.

* Chap. 6, 5.

13 A wise man with his wordes maketh him self to be loued, but the mery tales of fooles shal be powred out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole, shal do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for he loketh to receiue manie things for one: he giueth litle & he vpbraiideth muche: he openeth his mouth like a towne crier: to day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe, and suche one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend: I haue no thanke for all my good dedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euil of me.

16 How oft, and of how manie shal he be laughed to scorne: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as thogh he had it not.

17 The fall on a pauement is verie sudden: so shal the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a fooles mouthes: for he speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of povertie, and yet is not grieved when he is alone.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regarde of persones loseth it.

22 Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for naught.

* Chap. 25, 4.

23 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise.

24 A thief is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they bothe shal haue destruction to heritage.

25 The conditions of liers are vn honest, and their shame is euer with them.

26 A wise man shal bring him self to honor with his wordes, and he that hath vnderstanding, shal please great men.

27 He that tilleth his land, shal increase his heape: [he that worketh righteousness, shal be exalted,] and he that pleaseth great men, shal haue pardon of his iniquitie.

Prouer. 12, 11 & 28, 19.

28 Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make the domme, that they cannot reprove fautes.

Exod. 23, 1. deuter. 16, 19.

29 Wisdome that is hid, and treasure that is horded vp, what profite is in them bothe.

30 Better is he that kepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

31 The necessarie patience of him, that followeth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 2 The prayer of the afflicted. 3 To haue to be reformed. 4 The mouth of the wise man. 5 The thought of the foole.

1 MY sonne, hast thou sinned? do so no more, *but pray for the fore sinnes, [that they may be forgiven thee.]

* Chap. 5, 9. psal. 41, 5. luk. 15, 21.

2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest to nere it, it wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lyon, to slaye the soules of men.

3 All iniquitie is as a two edged sworde, the woundes whereof can not be healed.

4 Strife and iniuries waste riches: so the house of the proude shal be desolate.

5 The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently.

* Exod. 3, 9. & 22, 23.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord, conuerteth in heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowen a farre off: but he that is wise perceiueth when he falleth.

8 Who so buyldeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

9 The congregation of the wicked is like to we wrapped together: their end is like a flame of fyre to destroye them.

* Chap. 16, 7.

10 The way of sinners is made plane with stones, but at the end thereof is hel, [darkenes and paines.]

11 He that kepeth the Law of the Lord, trueleth

Or, kepe the vnderstanding therof.

truleth his owne affections thereby: and the increase of wisdom is the end of the feare of God.

12 He that is not wise, wil not suffer him self to be taught: but there is some wit þ increaseth bitternes.

13 The knowledge of the wise shal abound
like water that runneth ouer, & his counsel is like a pure fountaine of life.

Chap. 33, 1.

14 The inner partes of a foole are like a broken vessel: he can kepe no knowledge
whiles he liueth.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth
a wise worde, he wil commend it, and increase it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he wil disallowe it, and cast it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is comelines in the talk of a wise man.

17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shal
ponder his wordes in their heart.

18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wis-dome vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the ynwife is as wordes without order.

19 Doctrine vnto foolles is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles vpon the right hand.

Chap. 19, 27.

20 A foole listeth vpon his voyce with laughter, but a wise man doeth scarce smile secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewel of golde, and like a bracelet vpon his right
arme.

22 A foolish mans fore is sone in his neighbours house: but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.

23 A foole wil peep in at the dore into the house, but he that is well nurtered, wil stand without.

24 Is it the point of a foolish man to hear at the dore: for he that is wise, wil be griued with such dishonour.

25 The tippes of talkers wil be telling such things as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of foolles is in their mouth,
but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the yngodly curseth Satan, he curseth his owne soule.

Chap. 28, 19.

28 A backebiter defileth his owne soule, and is hated wheresoeuer he is: but he
that kepeth his tongue, & is discrete, shal
come to honour.

CHAP. XXII.

Of the Suggard. 1. Not to speake much to a foole
1. A good conscience feareth not.

1 A Slothful man is like a filthie stone, which euerie man mocketh at for
his shame.

2 A slothful man is to be compared to the dongue of oxen, and euerie one that tak-
eth it vp, wil shake it out of his hand.

3 An euil nurtered sonne is the dishonour of the father: & the daughter is least to be esteemed.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her houfband: but she that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauines.

5 She that is bolde, dishonoreth bothe her father and her houfband, [& is not infe-riour to the yngodly,] but they bothe shal dispise her.

6 A tale out of time is as musicke in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons
of correction and doctrine.

7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a potcharde together, and as he that waketh one that slepeth, from a sou-
de slepe.

8 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewith, they shal put away the shame of their parents.

9 But if children be proude, with hautines and foolishnes they defile the nobilitie of their kindred.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is as a man, which speaketh to one, that is a sleepe: when he hathe tolde his tale, he saith, What is the matter?

11 Wepe for the dead, for he hathe lost
the light: so wepe for the foole, for he wateth vnderstanding. make small weping
for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

Chap. 38, 16.

12 Seven dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole and yngodly [shulde endure] al the dayes of their life.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and go not to him that hathe no vnderstanding:
beware of him, lest he turne thee to paine,
and lest thou be defiled when he shal etn him self. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue so-rowe by his foolishnes.

Chap. 13, 17.

14 What is heavier then lead, and what other name shulde a foole haue?

15 Sand and salt, and a lumpe of yron is easier to beare, then an ynwife, [foolish & yngodly man.]

16 As a frame of wood ioyned together

he hath not to answer: and some kepeth silence, waiting a convenient time.

7 A wise man wil holde his tongue till he see opportunitie: but a trifier & a foole wil regarde no time.

8 He that vseth manie wordes, shal be abhorred, and he that taketh autoritie to him self, shal be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things, and [some time] a thing that is founde, bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, and there is some gift, whose reward is double.

11 Some man humbleth him self for glories sake, and some by humblenes listeth vp the head.

12 Some man byeth much for a litle price: for the which he payeth seven times more.

* Chap. 6, 5.

13 A wise man with his wordes maketh him self to be loued, but the mery tales of fooles shal be powried out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole, shal do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for he loketh to receiue manie things for one: he giueth litle & he vpbraideth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne crier: to day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe, and suche one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friends: I haue no thank for all my good dedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euil of me.

16 How oft, and of how manie shal he be laughed to scorne: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hateth: and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pauement is verie sudden: so shal the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a fooles mouth: for he speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of pouertie, and yet is not grieved when he is alone.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regarde of persones loseth it.

22 Some man promiseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for naught.

* Chap. 25, 4.

23 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise.

24 A thief is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they bothe shal haue destruction to heritage.

25 The conditions of liars are vn honest, and their shame is euil with them.

26 A wise man shal bring him self to honor with his wordes, and he that hath vnderstanding, shal please great men.

27 He that tilleth his land, shal increase his heape: [he that worketh righteousness, shal be exalted,] and he that pleaseth great men, shal haue pardon of his iniquitie.

* Prouer. 12, 11 & 28, 19.

28 Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make the domme, that they cannot reprove fautes.

* Exod. 23, 8. deut. 16, 19.

29 Wisdome that is hid, and treasure that is horded vp, what profite is in them both?

30 Better is he that kepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

31 The necessarie patience of him, that followeth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 2 The prayer of the afflicted. 3 To hate to be reproied. 4 The mouthe of the wise man. 5 The thought of the foole.

1 MY sonne, hast thou sinned? do so no more, * but pray for the fore sinnes, [that they may be forgiven thee.]

* Chap. 5, 9. psal. 4, 5. luk. 15, 21.

2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest to nere it, it wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lyon, to slaye the soules of men.

3 All iniquitie is as a two edged sworde, the woundes whereof can not be healed.

4 Strife and iniuries waste riches: so the house of the proude shal be desolate.

5 The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares [of the Lord,] and iustice is done him incontinently.

* Exod. 3, 9. & 22, 23.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord, conuerteth in heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowen a farre off: but he that is wise perceiueth when he falleth.

8 Who so buyldeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

9 The congregation of the wicked is like towne wrapped together: their end is like a flame of fyre to destroye them.

* Chap. 16, 7.

truleth his owne affections thereby: and
the increase of wisdom is the end of the feare of God.

12 He that is not wise, wil not suffer him self to be taught: but there is some wit þ
increaseth bitternes.

13 The knowledge of the wise shal abound
like water that runneth ouer, & his counsel is like a pure fountaine of life.

Chap. 33, 1

14 The inner partes of a foole are like a broken vessel: he can kepe no knowledge
whiles he liueth.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth
a wise worde, he wil commend it, and increase it: but if an ignorant man heare it,
he wil disallowe it, and cast it behinde his
backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is comelines in the talke of a wise man.

17 They inquire at the mouthe of the wise man in the congregation, and they shal
ponder his wordes in their heart.

18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wis-dome vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the ynwise is as wordes without order.

19 Doctrine vnto fooles is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles vpon the right hand.

Chap. 19, 27

20 A foole listeth vph his voyce with laughter, but a wise man doeth scarce smile secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewel of golde, and like a bracelet vpon his right
arme.

22 A foolish mans fote is sone in his neighbours house: but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.

23 A foole wil peep in at the dore into the house, but he that is well nurtered, wil stand without.

24 It is the point of a foolish man to hear ken at the dore: for he that is wise, wil be griued with suche dishonour.

25 The tippes of tilters wil be telling of the things as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of suche as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth,
but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the vngodly curseth Satan, he curseth his owne soule.

Chap. 18, 19

28 A backebiter denieth his owne soule, and is hated wheresoeuer he is: but he
that kepeth his tongue, & is discrete, shal
come to honour.

CHAP. XXII

Of the suggested. 1. Not to speake much to a foole.
2. A good confidence feareth not.

1 A Slothful man is like a filthie stone, which euerie man mocketh at for
his shame.

2 A slothful man is to be compared to the dongue of oxen, and euerie one that tak-
eth it vp, wil shake it out of his hand.

3 An euil nurtered sonne is the dishonour of the father: & the daughter is least to be esteemed.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her
houfband: but she that liueth dishonest-
ly, is her fathers heauines.

5 She that is bolde, dishonoreth bothe her father and her houfband, [& is not infe-riour to the vngodly,] but they bothe shal dispise her.

6 A tale out of time is as musicke in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons
of correction and doctrine.

7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a potcharde together, and as he
that waketh one that slepeth, from a sou-
de slepe.

8 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewith, they shal put away the shame of
their parents.

9 But if children be proude, with hautines
and foolishnes they defile the nobilitie of
their kindred.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is
as a man, which speaketh to one, that is a slepe: when he hathe tolde his tale, he saith, What is the matter?

Chap. 3, 16

11 Wepe for the dead, for he hathe lost
the light: so wepe for the foole, for he wateth vnderstanding. make smile weping
for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worfe then the death.

12 Seuen dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole and vngodly [shulde endure] al the
dayes of their life.

13 Talke not muche with a foole, and go
not to him that hathe no vnderstanding:
beware of him, lest he turne thee to paine,
and lest thou be defiled when he shal
eth him self. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue so-
rowe by his foolishnes.

Chap. 13, 17

14 What is heavier then lead, and what other name shulde a foole haue?

15 Sand and salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an ynwise, [foolish & vngodly man.]

18 As reedes that are set vp on hie, can not abide the winde, so the feareful heart with foolish imagination can indure no feare.

19 He that hurteth the eye bringeth forth the teares, & he that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affliction.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birdes, fraieth them away: and he that vpbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Thogh thou drewest a sworde at thy friend, yet dispaire not: for there may be a returning to fauour.

22 If thou haue opened thy mouth against thy friend, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so that vpbraiding or pride or disclosing of secretes or a traitorous wounde do not let: for by these things euerie friend wil departe.

23 Be faithful vnto thy friend in his povertie, that thou maiest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide steadfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou maiest be heire with him in his heritage: for povertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the riche that is foolish, to be had in admiration.

24 As the vapour and smoke of the chimney goeth before the fyre, so euil wordes, rebukes & threatnings go before bloodshedding.

25 I wil not be ashamed to defend a friend: neither wil I hide my self from him, thogh he shulde do me harme: whose euer heareth it, shal beware of him.

CHAP. XXIII.

A prayer of the author. 13 Of othes, blaspheming, and envile communication. 16 Of three kindes of sinnes. 23 Many sinnes prelude of adulerie. 27 Of the floure of God.

1 O Lord, father and gouernour of all my whole life, leaue me not to their counsel, and let me not fall by them.

2 Who wil correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdom in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignorance, neither let their fautes passe.

3 Lest mine ignorances increafe, and my sinnes abounde to my destruction, and lest I fall before mine aduersarie, and mine enemies reioyce ouer me, whose hope is farre from thy mercie.

4 O Lord, father & God of my life, leaue me not in their imagination, neither giue me a proude looke, but turne away from thy seruants a stouite minde.

5 Take from me vaine hope, and concupiscence, and reteine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.

6 Let not thy griedines of the bellie, nor lust of the flesh holde me, and giue not me thy seruant ouer into an impudent minde.

7 Hear, o ye children, the instruction of a mouth that shal speake truth: who so kepeth it, shal not perishe thorow his lippes, nor be hurte by wicked workes.

8 The sinner shalbe taken by his owne lippes: for the euil speaker and the proude do offende by them.

9 Accustome not thy mouth to swearing: for in it there are many falles: neither take vp for a custome the naming of the Holy one: for thou shalt not be vnpunished for suche things.

10 For as a seruant which is oft punished, can not be without some feare, so he that sweareth and nameth God continually, shal not be fauleles.

11 A man that vseth much swearing, shal be filled with wickednes, and the plague shal neuer go from his house: when he shal offend, his faule shal be vpon him, and if he knowledg not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: and if he sweare in vaine, he shal not be innocent, but his house shal be full of plagues.

12 There is a worde which is clothed with death: God grante that it be not founde in the heritage of Iacob: but they that feare God, eschewe all suche, & are not wrapped in sinne.

13 Ye see not thy mouth to ignorant rashnes: for therein is the occasion of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou art set among great men, lest thou be forgotten in their sight, and so through thy custome become a foole, & with that thou hadest not bene borne, & curse the day of thy natuinitie.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious wordes, wil neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two sortes of men that abound in sinne, and the third bringeth wrath and destruction: a man whose heart is as fyre, that can not be quenched, til it be consumed: an adulterous man, that giueth his body no rest, til he haue kindled a fyre.

17 All bread is sweete to a whore, and danger he wil not leaue, of til he perishe.

4 In the multitude of the choſen ſhal ſhe be commended; and among ſuch as be bleſſed, ſhe ſhal be praiſed, and ſhal ſay.

5 I am come out of the mouth of the moſte High, firſt borne before all creatures.

6 I cauſed the light that faileth not, to riſe in the heauen, and covered the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, & my throne is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I alone haue gone round about the coaſte of heauen and haue walked in the bottome of the depth.

9 I poſſeſſed the waues of the ſea, and all the earth, and all people, and nation, [and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all, bothe high and lowe.]

10 In all theſe things I fought reſt, & a dwelling in ſome inheritance.

11 So the Creator of all things gaue me a commandement, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and ſaid, Let thy dwelling be in Iacob, and take thine inheritance in Iſrael, and roote thy ſelf among my choſen.

15 I am ſet vp on hie like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypreſſe tre vpon the mountaynes of Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a palme tre ¶ about the bankes, and as a roſe plante in Iericho, as a faire olive tre in a pleaſant field, and am exalted as a plane tre by the water.

26 All these things are the booke of life, & the covenant of the moste high God, & the knowledge of the truth, & the Law that Moyses [in the precepts of righteousness] commanded for an heritage vnto the house of Iacob, [& the promises pertaining vnto Israel.]

27 Be not weary to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lord, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him: for the Lord almightie is but one God, & besides him there is none other Saviour.

28 [Out of Dauid his seruant he ordeined to raise vp a moste mightie King that shulde sit in the throne of honour for euer more.]

29 He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Physon, and as Tygris, in the time of the newe frutes.

30 He maketh the vnderstanding to abound like Euphrates, and as Iorden in the time of the harvest.

31 He maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and overfloweth as Geon in the time of the vintage.

35 I said, I wil water my faire garden, and wil water my pleasant ground: and lo, my ditche became a flood, and my flood became a sea.

36 For I make doctrine to shine as light of the morning, and I lighten it for euer.

37 I wil pearce thorow all the lower partes of the earth: I wil loke vpon all suche as be a sleep, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.

38 I wil yet poure out doctrine, as prophetic, and leaue it vnto all ages for euer.

39 Beholde that I haue not labored for my self onely, but for all them that seeke wisdom.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Of the things which please God, and of the things which he hateth: 7 Of the things that be not to be suspected. 14 Of the malice of a woman.

1 There things reioyce me, and by them I am beautified before God & men: the vntie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agre together.

2 ¶ There sortes of men my soule hateth, & I utterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proude: a riche man that is a liar, and an olde adulterer that docteth.

3 ¶ If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?

4 ¶ Oh, how pleasant a thing is it whe graue headed men minister iudgement, & when the elders can giue good counsell.

5 Oh, how comelic a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honour!

6 The crowne of old age is to haue much experience, and the feare of God is their glorie.

7 ¶ There be nine things, which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happie, and the tenth wil I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hathe boye of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 ¶ Welis him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderstanding, and that hathe not fallen with his tongue, and that hathe not serued such as are vnworthie of him.

9 Welis him that findeth prudence, and he that can not speake in the cares of them that wil heare.

10 ¶ Oh, how great is he that findeth wisdom: yet is there none aboue him, that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in clement.

12 [Blessed is the man, vnto whome it is granted to haue the feare of God.] Vnto whome shal he be likened that hathe attained it?

13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, and faith is the beginning to be ioined vnto him.

14 ¶ The greatest heauines is the heauines of the heart, and the greatest malice is the malice of a woman.

15 Giue me any plague, saue onely the plague of the heart, and any malice, saue the malice of a woman.

16 Of any affliction, saue the affliction of them that hate, or any vengeance, saue the vengeance of the enemy.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of an enemy.

18 ¶ I had rather dwell with a lion & a dragon, then to kepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednes of a womā chāgeth her face, and maketh her countenance blacke as a sacke.

21 All wickednes is but litle to the wickednes of a woman: let the portion of the sinner fall vpon her.

22 As the climbing vp of a sandie way is to the fete of the aged, so is a wife ful of wordes to a quiet man.

23 *Stumble not at the beautie of a woman, & desire her not for thy pleasure.

24 If a woman nourish her housband, she is angrie and impudent and ful of reproche.

25 A wicked wife maketh a sorie heart, an heauie countenance, & a wounded minde, weake hands and feble knees, and cā not comfort her housband in heauines.

CHAP. XXVI

1 The praise of a good woman. 2 Of the name of wise things, and of the fourth. 3 Of the ielous and drunken woman. 4 Of two things that cause sorrow, and of the thirde which moueth wrath.

Blessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife; for the number of his yeres shalbe double.

2 An honest woman reioyceth her housband, and she shal fill the yeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, & shalbe giuen for a gift vnto suche as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be riche or poore, he hath a good heart toward the Lord, & they shal at all times haue a cheerful countenance.

5 ¶ There be thre things that mine heart feareth, & my face is afraid of the fourth: treason in a citie, the assemblie of the people, and false accusation: all these are heuier then death.

6 ¶ But the sorrow and grief of the heart is a woman that is ielous ouer another; & she that communeth with all is a scourge of the tongue.

7 An euil wife is as a yoke of oxen that drawe diuerse wayes: he that hath her, is as though he helde a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and suche as cā not be tamed, is a great plague: for she cā not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowne in the pride of her eyes, and eyeliddes.

10 ¶ If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest she abuse her selfe thorow ouer muche libertie.

11 Take hede of her that hath an ynshamefast eye: & maruile not if she trespass against thee.

12 As one that goeth by the way, and is thirstie, so shal she open her mouth, and drinke of euerie next water: by euerie hedge shal she sitte downe, and open her quiver against euerie arrowe.

13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her housband, and fedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman & of a good heart is a gift of the Lord, and there is nothing so muche worth as a woman wel instructed.

15 A shamefast & faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to be compared to her continent minde.

16 As the sunne when it riseth in the high places of the Lord, so is the beautie of a good wife the ornament of her house.

17 As the clere light is vpon the holy candlestick, so is the beautie of the face in a ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are faire fete with a constant minde.

19 Perpetual are the fundations that be laide vpon a strong rocke: so are the commandements of God in the heart of an holy woman.

20 My sonne, kepe the strength of thine age stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.

21 When thou hast gotten a frutefull possession through all the fields, sowe it with thine owne seed, trusting in thy nobilitie.

22 So thy stocke that shal liue after thee, shal growe, trusting in the great liberalitie of their nobilitie.

23 An harlot is compared to a lowe: but the wife that is married, is counted as a towre against death to her housband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a reward to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

28 A lowde crying woman and a babler let her be sought out to driue away the enemies: the minde of euery man that liueth

29 There be two things that grieue mine heart, and the thirde maketh me angrie: a man of warre that suffreth pouertie: and men of vnderstanding that are not set by:
and when one departeth from righteousnes vnto sinne: the Lord appointeth such to the sworde.

1 VVe ought not to desire vengeance, but so forgive the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

1 HE* that seeketh vengeance, shal finde vengeance of the Lord, and he wil surely kepe his sinnes.

2 †Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done to thee, so shal thy sinnes be forgiuen thee also, when thou praieft.

3 Shulde a man beare hatred against man, and* desire forgiuenes. of the Lord?

4 He wil shewe no mercie to a man, which is like him self: and wil he aske forgiuenes of his owne sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, nourishe hatred, [and aske pardone of God,] who wil intreate for his sinnes?

6 Remembre the end, & let enimitie passe: imagine not death and destruction to another through angre, but perseuere in the commandements.

7 Remember the cōmandements: so shalt thou not be rigorous against thy neighbour: [consider diligently] the couenant of the moste High, and forgiue his ignorance.

8 *Beware of strife, & thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer: for an angrie man kindleth strife.

9 And the sinful man disquieteth friends, and bringeth in false accusations among them that be at peace.

10 *As the matter of the fyre is, so it burneth, and mans angre is according to his power: and according to his riches his angre increaseth, and the more vehement the angre is, the more is he inflamed.

11 An hastie brauling kindleth a fyre, and an hastie fighting sheddeth blood. [a tongue that beareth false witnes, bringeth death.]

12 If thou blowe the sparke, it shal burne: if thou spit vpon it, it shalbe quenched, and bothe these come out of the mouth.

13 †*Abhorre the sclāderer and double tongued: for suche haue destroyed many that were at peace.

14 The double tongue hath disquieted manie, and driuen them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: [the strength of the people hath it broght downe, and bene the decaye of mightie nations.]

15 The double tongue hath cast out manie vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto it, shal neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the rodde maketh markes

18 There be manie that haue perished by the edge of the sworde, but not so manie as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Wel is him that is kept from an euil tongue, and cometh not in the angre thereof, which hath not drawen in that yoke, nether hath bene bounde in the bandes thereof.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of yron, and the bands of it are bandes of brasse.

21 The death thereof is an euil death: hell were better then suche one.

22 It shal not haue rule ouer them that feare God, nether shal they be burnt with the flame thereof.

23 Suche as forsake the Lord, shal fall therein: and it shal burne them, and no man shalbe able to quenche it: it shal fall vpon them as a lyon, and deuoure them as a leopard.

24 Hedge thy possession with thornes, and make dores and barres for thy mouth.

25 Binde vp thy siluer and golde, & weigh thy wordes in a balance, and make a dore and a barre, [and a sure bridle] for thy mouth.

26 Beware that thou slide not by it, and so fall before him that lieth in waite, [and thy fall be incurable, euen vnto death.]

9 Some of them hathe he chosen & sanctified, & some of them hathe he put among the daies to number.

10 And all men are of the *grounde, and Adā was created out of the earth: but the Lord hathe deuided them by great knowledge, and made their waies diuers.

11 Some of them hathe he blessed and exalted, and some of them hathe he sanctified and appropriate to him self: but some of them hathe he cursed, and brought them lowe, and put them out of their estate.

12 *As the clay is in the potters hand, to order it at his pleasure, so are men also in the hand of their Creator, so that he may rewarde them as liketh him best.

13 Against euil is good, and against death is life: so is the godly against the sinner, and the vngodly against the faithfull.

14 So in all the workes of the moste High thou maist see, that there are euer two, one against another.

15 ¶ I am awaked vp last of all, as one that gathereth after them in the vintage. In the blessing of the Lord am I increased, and haue filled my wine presse, like a grape gatherer.

16 *Beholde, how I haue not labored onely for my self, but for all them that seke knowledge.

17 Heare me, o ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the congregation.

18 Giue not thy sonne and wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while ¶ liuest, and giue not away thy substance to another, lest it repent thee, and thou intreat for the same againe.

19 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath, giue not thy self ouer to any persone.

20 For better it is that thy children shulde pray vnto thee, then that thou shuldest loke vp to the hands of thy children.

21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thine honour be neuer stained.

22 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.

23 ¶ The fodder, the whippe & the burden belong vnto the asse: and meat, correction and worke vnto thy seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shal seke libertie.

25 The yocke and the whippe bowe downe the hard necke: so tame thine euil seruant with the whippes and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he go not idle: for idlenes bringeth much euil.

27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, put on more heauie fethers.

28 But be not excessiue toward any, and without discretion do nothing.

29 *If thou haue [a faithfull] seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, intreat him as thy brother: for thou hast nede of him, as of thy self. If ¶ intreat him euil, and he runne away, wilt thou seke him?

1 THe hope of a foolish man is vaine & false, ¶ & dreames make fooles to haue wings.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that wil take holde of a shadowe, and followe after the winde.

3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames, as the likenes of a face is before another face.

4 Who can be clenfed by the vnclene? or what trueth can be spoken of a lier?

5 Sothsayings, witchcraft, and dreaming is but vanitie, and a minde that is occupied with fantasies, is as a woman that trauaileth.

6 Where as suche visions come not of the most High to trye thee, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued manye, and they haue failed that put their trust therein.

8 The Law shalbe fulfilled without lies, and wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: [what knowledge hathe he that is not tried?]

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, and he that hathe good experience, can talke of wisdom.

10 He that hathe no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, is ful of craft.

11 When I wandred to and fro, I sawe many things, and mine vnderstanding is greater then I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.

13 ¶ The spirit of those that feare the Lord, shal liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who so ¶ feareth the Lord, feareth no man, nether is afraied: for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whome putteth he his trust: who is his strength?

- 2 And send thy feare among the nations, which seke not after thee, [that they may know that there is no God but thou, and that they may shewe thy wonderous workes.
- 3 Lift vp thine hand vpon the strange nations, that they may fe thy power.
- 4 As thou art sanctified in vs before them, so be thou magnified among them before vs.
- 5 That they may knowe thee, as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.
- 6 Renue the signes, & change the wordes: shewe the glorie of thine hand, and thy right arme, that they may shewe for the thy wonderous actes.
- 7 Raise vp thine indignation, and powre out wrath: take away the aduersarie, and smite the enemye.
- 8 Make the time shorte: remember thine othe, that thy wonderous workes may be praised.
- 9 Let the wrath of the fyre consume them that escape, and let them perish that oppresse the people.
- 10 Smite in sonder the heades of the princes that be our enemies, and say, There is none other but we.
- 11 Gather all the tribes of Iacob together, [that they may knowe that there is none other God but onely thou, and that they may shewe thy wonderous workes, and in herite thou them as from the beginning.

- 15 Giue witnes vnto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise vp the prophecies that haue bene shewed in thy Name.
- 16 Rewarde them that waite for thee, that thy Prophetes may be founde faithful.
- 17 O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruants according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteousnes, that all they which dwell vpon the earth, may knowe that thou art the Lord the eternal God.

- 3 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprong vp to couer the earth with disceite?
- 4 There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.
- 5 There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the bellie sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemye.
- 6 Forget not thy friend in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

a byer for the sale, nor of an enuious mā touching thankfulness, nor of the vnmerciful touching kindnes, nor of an vnholiest man of honestie, nor of the slothfull for anye labour, nor of an hireling for the finishing of a worke, nor of an idle seruant for muche busines: hearken not vnto these many matter of counsel.

21 But be continual with a godly mā whom thou knowest to kepe the commandments of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy minde, and is sorie for thee when thou stumblest.

22 Take counsel of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithful vnto thee, then it.

23 For a mans minde is some time more accustomed to shewe more then seuen watchmē that sit aboue in an high tower.

24 And aboue all this pray to y^e most High, that he wil direct thy waye in trueth.

25 Let reason go before euerie enterprise, and counsel before euerie action.

26 ¶ The changing of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: foure things appeare, good and euil, life and death, but the tongue hath euer more the gouernement ouer them.

27 ¶ Some mā is witty, & hath instructed manie, and yet is vnprofitable vnto him self.

28 Some man wil be wise in wordes, and is hated, yea, he is destitute of all foode, because grace is not giuen him of the Lord: for he is destitute of all wisdom.

29 Another is wise for him self, and the frutes of vnderstanding are faithful in his mouth.

30 A wise man instructeth his people, and the frutes of his wisdom faile not.

31 A wise man shalbe plentifully blessed, and all they that see him, shal thinke him blessed.

32 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes, but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

33 A wise man shal obtaine credit among his people, and his name shalbe perpetual.

34 My sonne, prouert thy soule in thy life, and se what is euil for it, and permit it not to do it.

35 For all things are not profitable for all men, nether hath euerie soule pleasure in euery thing.

36 Be not griedie in all delires, and be not to hastie vpon all meates.

37 For excessse of meates bringeth sicknesses, and glotonie cometh into cholericke diseases.

1 A physicion is commendable. 2 To burye the dead. 3 The wisdom of him that is learned.

1 Honor the physicion with that honor that is due vnto him, because of necessitie: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the moste High cometh healing, and he shal receiue giftes of the King.

3 The knowledge of the physicion listeth vp his head, and in the sight of great men he shalbe in admiration.

4 The Lord hath created medicine of the earth, and he that is wise, wil not abhorre it.

5 Was not the water made swete with wood, that men might know the vertue thereof?

6 So he hath giuen men knowledge, that he might be glorified in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doeth the apothecarie make a confection, and yet he can not finish his owne workes: for of y^e Lord cometh prosperitie and welth ouer all the earth.

9 My sonne, faile not in thy sicknesses, but praye vnto the Lord, & he wil make thee whole.

10 Leane of from sinne, and order thine hands a right, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Offer swete incense, and fine flour for a remembrance: make the offering fat, for thou art not the first giuer.

12 Then giue place to the physicion: for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

13 The houre may come, that their enterprises may haue good successe.

14 For they also shal praye vnto the Lord, that he wolde prosper that, which is giuen for ease, & their physicke for the prolonging of life.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the physicion.

16 My sonne, powre forth the teares ouer the dead, and beginne to mourne, as if thou hadest suffred great harme thy self, & then couer his bodie according to his appointment, and neglect not his burial.

22 Remember his iudgement: thine also shalbe likewise vnto me yea daye, and vnto thee to day.

23 *Seing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comferte thy self againe for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 ¶ The wisdom of a learned man cometh by vsing wel his vacant time: and he that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdom.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the gode, and in driving oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the brede of bullockes?

26 He giueth his minde to make forowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.

27 So is it of euery carpenter, and workemaster that laboreth night and daye: and they that cut, and graue scales, and make fondrie diuersities, and giue them selues to counterfeit imagerie, and watch to performe the worke.

28 The smith in like maner abideth by his anvil, and doeth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fyre drieth his flesh, and he must fight wth the heat of the fornace: the noyce of the hammer is euer in his eares, and his eyes loke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he setteth his minde to make v^p his workes: therefore he watcheth to polistr it perfectly.

29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: he turneth the whele about with his fete: he is careful alwaye at his worke, and maketh his worke by number.

30 He facioneth the claye with his arme, and with his fete he tempereth the hardnes thereof: his heart imagineth how to couer it with lead, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their hands, and euery one bestoweth his wisdom in his worke.

32 Without these can not the cities be maintained, nor inhabited, nor occupied.

33 And yet they are not asked their iudgement in the counsel of the people, nether are they hie in the congregation; neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates, nor vnderstand the order of iustice: they can not declare matters according to the forme of the Law, and they are not mete for hard matters.

34 But they mainteine the state of the worlde, and their desire is concerning their worke and occupation.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of graue sentences, and exerciseth him self in darke parables.

4 He shal serue among great men and appeare before the prince: he shal traueil through strange countries: for he hath tried the good and the euil among men.

5 He wil giue his heart to reuerte early vnto the Lord that made him, and to praye before the moste High, and wil open his mouth in prayer, and praye for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lord wil, he shal be filled with the Spirit of vnderstanding, that he may powre out wise sentences, & giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

Lord in all his workes.

15 Giue honour vnto his Name, & shewe forthe his praise with the songs of your lippes, and with harpes, and ye shal say after this maner, 16 *All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandements are done in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time conuenient they shal all be foght out: at his comendement the water stode as an heape, and at the worde of his mouth the waters gathered them selues.

18 His whole fauour [appeared] by his commandement, and none can diminish that which he wil saue.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euertlasting to euertlasting, and there is nothing wonderful vnto him.

21 A man nede not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their owne vse.

22 His blessing shal renne ouer as the streame, and moisture the earth like a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into saltnes, so shal the heathen fele his wrath.

24 As his waies are plaine and right vnto the iust, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.

25 ¶ For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euil things for the sinners.

26 *The principal things for the whole vse of mans life is water, fyre, and yron, and salt, and meale, wheate, and hony, & milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothing.

27 All these things are for good to the godlie: but to the sinners they are turned vnto euil.

28 There be spretes that are created for vengeance, which in their rigour laye on sure strokes: in the time of destruction they shewe forthe their power, and accomplish the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fyre, and haile, and famine, and death: all these are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde beasts, and the scorpions, and the serpents, and the sworde execute vengeance for the destruction of the wicked.

31 They shal be glad to do his commandements: and when nede is, they shal be ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shal not ouerpasse the commandement.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.

33 *All the workes of the Lord are good, and he giueth euerie one in due season, & when nede is:

34 So that a man nede not to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all worthie praise.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

¶ CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in mans life. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous and prerogative of the feare of God.

1 ¶ Great trauail is created for all men, and an heauie yoke vpon the sonnes of Adam from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, til the day that they retorne to the mother of all things,

2 [Namely] their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they waite for, and the daye of death,

3 From him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, vnto him that is beneth in ¶ earth and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blew silke, and weareth a crowne, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linen.

5 Wrath & enuie, trouble, and vnquietnes, and feare of death, & rigour, and strife, and in the time of rest the slepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest, and afterwarde in sleping he is as in a watchetowre in the daye: he is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that renneth out of a battel.

7 And when all is safe, he awaketh, & marueileth that the feare was nothing.

8 Suche things come vnto all flesh, bothe man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodlie:

9 Moreouer, *death and blood, and strife, and sworde, oppression, famine, destruction and punishment.

10 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the * flood also.

11 *All things that are of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: and they that are of the * waters, shal retorne into the sea.

12 ¶ All bribes and vnrighteousnes shal be put away: but faithfulness shal endure for euer, 13 The substance of the vngodlie shal be dried vp like a riuer, and they shal make a founde like a great thonder in the raine.

but all the transgressours shal come to naught.

15 The children of the vngodly shal not obtaine many branches: for the vncleane rootes are as vpon the high rockes.

16 Their tender stalke by what water soeuer it be or water banke, it shalbe pulled vp before all other herbes.

17 ¶ Friendlines is as a moste plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercie endureth for euer.

18 *To labour and to be content with that a man hathe, is a swete life: but he that findeth a treasure, is aboute them bothe.

19 Children, and the buylding of the citie maketh a perpetual name: but an honest woman is counted aboute them bothe.

20 Wine and musicke reioyce the heart: but the loue of wisdom is aboute them bothe.

21 The pipe and the psalterion make a swete noyce: but a pleasant tongue is aboute them bothe.

22 Thine eye desireth fauor & beautie: but a grene fede time, rather then them bothe.

23 A friend, and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboute them bothe is a wife with her housband.

24 Friends and helpe are good in the time of trouble, but almes shal deliuer more the them bothe.

25 Golde and siluer fasten the fete, but counsel is esteemed aboute them bothe.

26 Riches and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lord is aboute them bothe: there is no want in the feare of the Lord, and it nedeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautiful as it is.

28 ¶ My sonne, lead not a beggers life: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he tormēteth him self after other mens meat: but a wise man & wel nourished, wil beware thereof.

30 Begging is swete in the mouth of the vnshamefast, and in his bellie there burneth a fyre.

¶ CHAP. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the Law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heede to wisdom. 17 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

1 ¶ Of death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hathe prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meat!

2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needful, & vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, and to him that dispaireth, and hathe lost patience!

3 Feare not the iudgement of death: remember the that haue bene before thee, and that come after: this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why woldest thou be against the pleasure of the moste High: whether it be ten or an hundred yeres, there is no defence for life against the graue.

5 ¶ The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that kepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shal perish, and their posteritie shal haue a perpetual shame.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly father, because they are reproched for his sake.

8 Wo be vnto you, o ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the Law of the moste High God: for thogh you increase, yet shal you perish.

9 If ye be borne, ye shalbe borne to cursing: if ye dye, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 All ye is of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: so the vngodly [go] from the curse to destruction.

11 Thogh men mourne for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shalbe put out.

12 Haue regarde to thy name: for that shal continue with thee aboute a thousand treasures of golde.

13 A good life hathe the dayes nombred: but a good name endureth euer.

14 *My children kepe wisdom in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not sene, what profite is in them bothe?

15 A mā that hideth his foolishnes, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my wordes: for it is not good in all things to be ashamed: nether are all things allowed as faithful in all men.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of autoritie:

18 Of sinne before the iudge and ruler of offence before the congregation and peopler of vnrighteousnes before a companion and friend,

19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the trueth of 20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to loke vpon an harlot,

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion or a gift, or be euil minded toward another mans wife,

22 Or to sollicite any mans maide, or to stand by her bed, or to reproche thy friends with wordes, 23 Or to vpbraide when thou giuest any thing, or to reporte a matter that thou hast heard, or to teuile secret wordes.

24 Thus maiest thou wel be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with all men.

¶ CHAP. XLII.

1 The Law of God must be taught. 9 A daughter. 14 A woman. 18 God knoweth all things, yea, euen the secrets of thine heart.

† In what thing we ought not to be ashamed.

1 OF these things be not thou † ashamed, nether haue regarde to offend for any persone,

2 Of the Law of the moste High and his covenant, and of iudgement to iustifie † godly:

3 Of the cause of thy companion, and of strangers, or of distributing the heritage among friends:

4 To be diligent to kepe true balance, and weight, whether thou haue much or litle:

5 To sel merchandise at an indifferent price, and to correct thy children diligently, and to beat an euil seruant to the blood:

6 To set a good locke where an euil wife is, and to locke where many hands are:

7 If thou giue any thing by nomber and weight, to put all in writing, bothe that that is giuen out, and that that is receiued againe:

8 To teache the vnlearned, and the vnwife, and the aged, that contend against † yong: thus shalt thou be wel instructed, and approued of all men liuing.

† Or, is a secret warche to the father.

9 ¶ The daughter † maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnes that he hathe for her, taketh away his slepe in the youth, lest she shulde passe the floure of her age: and when she hath an housband, lest she shulde be hated:

10 In her virginitie, lest she shulde be defiled, or gotten with childe in her fathers house, and, when she is with her housbād, lest she misbehaue her self: and when she is married, lest she continue vnfruitful.

¶ Chap. 16, 10.

11 ¶ If thy daughter be vnshamefast, kepe her straitly, lest she cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorn, and make thee a co-mune talke in the citie, and diffame thee among the people, and bring thee to publicke shame.

12 ¶ Beholde not euerie bodie beautie, & companie not among women.

¶ Chap. 25, 11.

13 For as the moth cometh out of garments: so doeth wickednes of the womā.

¶ Gen. 3, 6.

14 The wickednes of a man is better then the good intreatie of a woman, to wit, of a woman that is in shame, and reproche.

15 ¶ I wil remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue sene: by the worde of the Lord are his workes.

16 The sunne that shineth, loketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glorie of the Lord.

17 Hathe not the Lord appointed that his Saints shulde declare all his wonderous workes, which the almightie Lord hathe stablished to confirme all things by in his maiestie?

18 He seketh out the depth, and the heart, and he knoweth their practises: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he beholdeth the signes of the worlde.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth the paths of things that are secret.

20 ¶ No thought may escape him, nether may any worde be hid from him.

¶ Job 41, 4. Isa. 29, 15.

21 He hath garnished the excellēt workes of his wisdom, and he is from euerlasting to euerlasting, and for euer: vnto him may nothing be added, nether can he be diminished: he hathe no nede of any counseller.

22 Oh, how delectable are all his workes, and to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fyre!

23 They liue all, and endure for euer: and whensoever nede is, they are all obediēt.

24 They are all double, one against another: he hathe made nothing that hathe any faute.

25 The one † commendeth the goodnes of the other, and who can be satisfied with beholding Gods glorie?

† Or, stablisheth.

¶ CHAP. XLIII.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

1 THis high ornament † the cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauē so glorious to beholde,

† The wonderfull workes of God.

2 The sunne also, a marueilous instrument when it appeareth, declareth, at his going out, the worke of the moste High.

3 At noone it burneth the countrey, and who may abide the heat thereof?

4 The sunne burneth the mountaines three times times more then he that kepeth a fornace with continual heat: it casteth out the fyrie vapours, & with the shining beames blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made it, and by his commandement he causeth it to runne hastily.

6 *The moone also hathe he made to appeare according to her season, that it shulde be a declaratiō of the time, and a signe for the worlde.

7 *The feasts are appointed by the moone: the light thereof diminisheth vnto the end.

8 The moneth is called after the name thereof, and groweth wonderously in her changinge.

9 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heauen: the beautie of heauen are the glorious starres, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lord.

10 By the cōmandement of the holy one they continue in their order, and faile not in their wathe.

11 ¶ *Loke vpon the raine bowe, & praise him that made it: verie beautiful is it in the brightnes thereof.

12 *It compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the moste High haue bended it.

13 ¶ Thorowe his cōmandement he maketh the snowe to haste, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his iudgement.

14 Therefore he openeth his treasures, & the cloudes flie forthe as the foules.

15 In his power hathe he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the haile stones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the South winde bloweth according to his wil.

17 The sounde of his thonder beateth the earth: so doeth the storme of the North: the whirlewinde also, as birdes that flie, scattereth the snowe, and the falling downe thereof is as the greshoppers that light downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of whitenes thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.

19 He also powreth out the frost vpo the earth like salt, and when it is frosen, it sticketh on the toppes of pales.

20 Whē the colde North winde bloweth, an yce is frosen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and clotheth the waters as with a brest plate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wilderness, and destroyeth that that is grene, like fyre.

22 The remedie of all these is whē a cloude cometh hastily, and when a dewe cometh vpon the heat, it refresheth it.

23 [By his worde he stilleth the winde:] by his counsel he appeaseth the depe, and planteth ylands therein.

24 They that saile ouer the sea, tell of the perils thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueile thereat.

25 For there be strange, & wōderous workes, diuers maner of beasts, and the creation of whales.

26 Thorowe him are all things directed to a good end, & are stablished by his worde.

27 And when we haue spoken muche, we can not atteine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that he is all.

28 What power haue we to praise him: for he is aboue all his workes.

29 The Lord is terrible, and verie great, & marueilous is his power.

30 Praise the Lord, & magnifie him as muche as ye can, yet doeth he farre excede: exalt him with all your power, and be not wearie, yet can ye not atteine vnto it.

31 *Who hathe sene him, that he might tel vs: and who can magnifie him as he is?

32 For there are hid yet greater things than these be, and we haue sene but a fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lord hathe made all things, and giuen wisdom to suche as feare God.

The praise of certein holie men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob.

1 Et vs now cōmende the famous men, and our fathers, of whome we are begotten.

2 The Lord hathe gotten great glorie by them, and that through his great power from the beginning.

3 Thei haue borne rule in their kingdomes, and were renoumed for their power, and were wise in counsel, and declared prophecies.

4 *They gouerned the people by counsel and by the knowledge of learning mete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences.

5 They inuented the melodie of musicke, and expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were riche and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.

2 He made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.

*Exod. 6, 7, 8, 9.

3 By his wordes he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of Kings; and gaue him commandements for his people, and shewed him his glorie.

*Nomb. 12, 3.

4 *He sanctified him with faithfulness, and mekenes; and chose him out of all men.

*Exod. 13, 7.

*Exod. 4, 14.

6 He exalted † Aaron an holy man like vnto him, eue his * brother of the tribe of Levi.

7 An euerlasting couenant made he with him, and gaue him the priesthode among the people, & made him blessed through his comelie ornamēt, & clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfite ioye vpon him, & girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breches, and a tunicle, and an ephod.

*Exod. 28, 35.

9 He compassed him about with belles of golde, & with many belles round about, * that when he went in, the sound might be heard, and might make a noyce in the Sanctuarie, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people, † Vrim and Thumim.

10 And with an holy garment, with golde also, and blewes silke, and purple, & diuers kindes of workes, and with a brestlappe of iudgement, and with the signes of truth,

11 And with worke of skarlet conningly wrought, and with precious stones grauen like scales, & set in golde by goldsmithes worke for a memorial, with a writing grauen after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 And with a crowne of golde vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holines, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, and pleasant to loke vpon.

13 Before him were there no suche faire ornaments: there might no stranger put the on, but onely his children, & his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed euerie day twise continually.

*Leuit. 6, 14.

15 *Moyses filled his hands, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting couenant, & to his seide, so long as the heauens shulde remaine, that he shulde minister before him, him, and also to execute the office of the priesthode, and blesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lord chose him that he shulde present offrings before him, and a swete sauour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

17 *He gaue him also his commandements and autoritie according to the Lawes appointed, that he shulde teache Iacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his Law.

18 *Strangers stode vp against him, and enuied him in the wilderness, euen the men that toke Dathans and Abirams parte, & the companie of Core in furie and rage.

19 This the Lord sawe, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fyrie flame.

20 *But he made Aaron more honorable, and gaue him an heritage, and parted the first frutes of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed bread in abundance.

21 For the [Priests] did eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gaue vnto him and to his sede.

22 *Els had he none heritage in the land of his people, nether had he any portion among the people: for [the Lord] is the portion of his inheritance.

23 The third in glorie is *Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stode vp with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that he shulde be the chief of the Sanctuarie and of his people, and that he and his posteritie shulde haue the dignitie of the priesthode for euer.

25 And according to the couenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of the kingdome shulde remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron shulde be to the onelie sonne of his sonne, and to his sede. God giue vs wisdom in our heart to iudge his people in righteousness, that the good things that they haue, be not abolished, and that their glorie may endure for their posteritie.

¶ CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Iosue, Caleb, and Samuel.

Iesus † * the sonne of Naue was valiant in the warres, and was the successour of Moyles in prophecies, who according vnto his name, was a great sauour of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.

2 *What glorie gate he, when he lift vp his hand, and drewe out his sworde against the cities?

3 Who was there before him, like to him? for he fought the battels of the Lord.

4 *Stode not the sunne stil by his meanes, and one day was as long as two?

5 He called vnto the moste high Gouernour when the enemies preased vpon him on euerie side, & the mightie Lord heard him with the heile stones, and with mightie power.

6 He rushed in vpon the nations in battel, and in the going downe [of Bethoron] he destroyed the aduersaries, that they might knowe his weapons, and that he fought in the sight of the Lord, for he followed the Almighty.

7 *In the time of Moyles also he did a good worke: he and † Caleb the sonne of Iephunc stode against the enemy, and withheld the people from sinne, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

8 *And of six hundreth thousand people of fote, they two were preserued to bring them into the heritage, euen into the land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 *The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his olde age, so that he went vp into the high places of the land and his sede obtained it for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 Concerning the Iudges, euerie one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, their memorie be blessed.

12 Let *their bones flourish out of their place, & their names by succession remaine to them that are moste famous of their children.

13 ¶ † Samuel the Prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, *ordeined Kings, and anointed the princes ouer his people.

14 By the Lawe of the Lord he iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Iacob.

15 This Prophete was approued for his faithfulness, and he was knowen faithful in his wordes and visions.

The praise of Nathan, Dauid and Salomon.

1 After him rose vp † * Nathan to prophetic in the time of Dauid.

2 For as the fat is taken away from the peace offering, so was † Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 *He plaied with the lions, as with kiddes, and with beares, as with lambes.

4 *Slewe he not a gyante when he was yet but yong, and toke away the rebuke from the people, when he lift vp his hand with the stone in the sling, to beat downe the pride of Goliath.

5 For he called vpon the moste high Lord, which gaue him strength in his right had,
to slay that mightie warriour, and that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 *So the gaue him the praise often thousand and honored him with great praises, and gaue him a crowne of glorie.

7 *For he destroyed the enemies on euerie side, and rooted out the Philistims his ad-uersaries, and brake their horne in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes he praised the Holy one, and the moste High with honorable wordes, and with his whole heart he sung songs, and loued him that made him.

9 *He set singers also before the altar, and according to their tune he made swete songs, that they might praise God daily with their songs.

10 He ordeined to kepe the feast daies comely, and appointed the times perfirely, that they might praise the holy Name of God, and make the Temple to sounde in the morning.

11 *The Lord toke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the covenant of the kingdome, & the throne of glorie in Israel.

12 After him rose vp a wife sonne, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

13 † * Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet roude about, that he might buyld an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuarie for euer.

14 *How wise wast thou in thy youth, and wast filled with vnderstanding, as with a flood!

15 Thy minde couered the whole earth, & hathe filled it with graue and darke sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroad in the yles, & for thy peace thou wast beloued,

17 *The countreis marueiled at thee for thy songs, and proverbes, and similitudes, and interpretations.

18 By the Name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast * gathered golde as tinne, and hast had as mu-che siluer as lead.

19 *Thou didest bowe thy loines to women, and wast ouercome by thy bodie:

20 Thou didest staine thine honour, and hast defiled thy posteritie, and hast broght wrath vpon thy children, and hast felt so-rowe for thy folie.

21 *So the kingdome was deuided, and Ephraim begā to be a rebellious kingdome.

22 *Neuertheles the Lord left not of his mercie, nether was he destroyed for his workes, nether did he abolish the poster-tie of his elect, nor toke away the sede of him that loued him, but he left a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote of him vnto Da-uid.

23 Thus rested Salomon with his fathers,
& of his sede he left behinde him † Roboam, euen † the foolishnes of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, * who turned away the people thorow his counsel, and † Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, * which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of sinne,

24 So that their sinnes were so muche increased, that they were driuen out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickednes, til the vengeance came vpon them.

4 O Elias, how honorable art thou by thy wonderous dedes! who may make his boast to be like thee?

1 THE remembrance of † Iofias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the arte of the apothecarie: it is swete as honie in all mouthes, and as musicke at a banquet of wine.

3 He * directed his heart vnto the Lord, & in the time of the vngodlie he established religion.

¶ CHAP. L.

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord. 27 The autor of this booke.

1 ¶ Simon * the sonne of Onias the hie Priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, and in his dayes established the † Temple,

2 Vnder him was the fundarion of the double height laied, and the hie walles that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his daies the places to receiue water that were decayed, [were restored:] & the brasse was about in measure as the sea.

4 He toke care for his people, that they shulde not fall, & fortified the cite against the siege.

5 How honorable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vail!

6 He was as the morning starre in the middes of a cloude, and as the moone when it is full,

7 And as the sunne shining vpon the Temple of the moste High, and as the raine-bowe that is bright in the faire cloudes,

8 And as the floure of the roses in † spring of the yere, and as lilies by the springs of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tre in the time of somer,

9 As a fyre and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of masse golde, set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as a faire oliue tre that is fruteful, and as a cypresse tre, which groweth vp to the cloudes,

11 When he put on the garment of honor and was clothed with all beautie, he went vp to the holy altar, and made the garment of holines honorable.

12 When he toke the portions out of the Priests hands, he him self stood by the heh of the altar, compassed with his brethren rounde about, as the branches do the cedre tre in Libanus, and thei compassed him as the branches of the palme trees.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might accomplish his ministerie vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the moste High, and almightie, 15 He stretched out his hand to the drinke offering, and powred of the blood of the grape, and he powred at the fote of the altar a perfume of good sauour vnto the moste high King of all.

16 Then shewted the sonnes of Aaron, and blowed with brasen trumpets, and made a great noyce to be heard, for a remembrance before the moste High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, & fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship their Lord God almightie, and moste high.

18 The singers also sang with their voyces, so that the sounde was great, and the melodie swete.

19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord moste high with prayer before him that is merciful, til the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they shulde giue praise with their lippes vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his Name.

21 He began againe to worship, & he might receiue the blessing of the moste High.

22 Now therefore giue praise all ye vnto God, that worketh great thigs euerie where, which hath increased our dayes from the wombe, and delte with vs according to his mercie,

23 That he wolde giue vs ioyfulness of heart, and peace in our dayes in Israel, as in old time:

24 That he wolde confirme his mercie with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

25 ¶ There be two maner of people, that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistims, and the foolish people that dwell in Sicinus.

27 ¶ Iesus the sonne of Sirach, the sonne of Eleazarus, of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, and hath powred out the wisdom of his heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth him self therein: and he that layeth vp these in his heart, shal be wise.

29 For if he do these things, he shalbe strong in all things: for he setteth his steppes in the light of the Lord, which giueth wisdom to the godlie. The Lord be praised for euer more: so be it, so be it.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

1 I Wil confesse thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God, my Saviour: I giue thanks vnto thy Name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, & hast preserved my bodie from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lippes that are occupied with lies: thou hast holpen me against mine aduersaries,

3 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy Names sake, from the roaring of them that were readie to deuoure me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions, which I had,

4 And from the fyre that chocked me round about, and from the middes of the fyre that I burned not,

5 And from the botome of the belie of hel, from an vnclane tongue, from lying wordes, from false accusatio to the King, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue.

6 My soule shal praise the Lord vnto death: for my soule drewe nere vnto death: my life was nere to the hel beneth.

7 They compassed me on euery side, & there was no man to helpe me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lord, and vpon thine actes of olde, how thou deliuerest such as waite for thee, and sauest the out of the hands of the fenemies.

9 Then lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and praied for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he wolde not leaue me in the daye of my trouble, and in the time of the proude without helpe.

11 I wil praise thy Name continually, and wil sing praise with thanksgiving, & my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the euil time: therefore wil I giue thanks and praise thee, & blesse the Name of the Lord.

13 When I was yeryong, or euer I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my praier.

14 I praied for her before the Temple, and sought after her vnto farre countreis, and she was as a grape that waxeth ripe out of the floure.

15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foote walked in the right way, & from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, & receiued her, & gate me muche wisdom:

16 And I profited by her: therefore wil I ascribe the glorie vnto him, that giueth me wisdom.

18 For I am aduised to do thereafter: I wil be ielous of that that is good: so that I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue examined my workes: I lifted vp mine hands on hye, and considered the ignorances thereof.

20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I founde her in purenes: I haue had mine heart ioyned with her from the beginning: therefore shal I not be forsaken.

21 My bowels are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possessio.

22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my rewarde, therewithal wil praise him.

23 Drawe nere vnto me, ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are ye slower, and what say you of these things, seeing your soules are very thirlic?

25 I opened my mouth, and said, Byc her for you without money.

26 Bowe downe your necke vnder fyoke, and your soule shal receiue instruction: she is ready that ye may finde her.

27 Beholde with your eyes, how that I haue had but litle labour, and haue gotten vnto me muche rest.

28 Get learning with a great somme of money: for by her ye shal possesse muche golde.

29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercie of the Lord, & be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Do your dutie betimes, and he wil giue you a rewarde at his time.

BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he red before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, so the intent that they shoulde pray for this.

† Or, Sedecias.

And these are the wordes of the booke, whiche Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, & sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of † Asadias, the sonne of Helcias wrote in at Babylon,

2 In the fift yere, and in the seuenth [day] of the moneth, what time as † Chaldeans toke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fyre.

3 And Baruch did read the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sone of Ioachim King of Iuda might heare, & all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And in the audience of the gouernour, and of the Kings sonnes, & before the Elders, & before the whole people, fro the lowest vnto the hiest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon by the riuer † Sud.

† Or, Sedi.

5 Which when they heard it, they wept, fasted and made prayers before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euerie mans power,

7 And sent into Ierusalem vnto Ioachim the sonne of Helcias the sone of Salom Priest, and vnto the other Priests, and to all the people, which were with him at Ierusalem,

8 When he had receiued the vessels of the Temple of the Lord, that were take away out of the Temple, to bring them againe into the land of Iuda, the tenth day of the moneth † Siban, [to wit,] silver vessels, which Sedecias the sonne of Iosias King of Iuda had made, 9 After that Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon had led away Iechonias from Ierusalem, and his princes, and his nobles, prisoners, and the people, and caryed them to Babylon.

† Or, Siban,

10 And they said, Beholde, we haue set you money, wherewith ye shal bye burnt offrings for sinne, and incense, & prepare a meat offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God,

† Or, manna for minbah whiche was the euenig and morning sacrifice.

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen, 12 And that God wolde giue vs strength & lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the shadowe of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, & vnder the shadowe of Baltasar his sonne, that we may long do the seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God (for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day the furie of the Lord and his wrath is not turned fro vs)

14 And read this booke (which we haue sent to you to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the fast dayes, and at time conuenient.

* Chap. 1, 6

15 Thus shal ye say, To the Lord our God [belongeth] righteousness, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto them of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

16 And to our Kings, and to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophetes, and to our fathers,

17 Because we haue sinned before † Lord our God,

* Dan. 9, 5.

18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the comandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Lord broght our fathers out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, we haue bene disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue bene negligent to heare his voyce.

20 Wherefore these plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moyses his seruant at the time that he broght our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and honie, as [appeareth] this day.

* Dent. 32, 11.

21 Neuertheles, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophetes, whome he sent vnto vs.

22 But euerie one of vs followed the wicked imagination of his owne heart, to serue strange gods, and to do euil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

1 The Iewes confesse that they suffer iustly for their finnes. The true confession of the Christians. 11 The Iewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 31 He promisseth that he wil call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a newe and euertlasting testament.

1 There-

1 Therefore the Lord our God hath performed his worde, which he pronounced against vs, & against our iudges that gouerned Israel, and against our Kings, and against our princes, & against the men of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, suche as neuer came to passe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ierusalem, according to things, that were written in the Lawe of Moyses,

3 That some among vs shuld eat the flesh of his owne forme, & some the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreover, he hath deliuered them to be in subiection to all the kingdomes, that are rounde about vs, to be as a reproche and desolation among all the people rounde about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneth and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voyce.

6 To the Lord our God [appertaineth] righteousnes, but vnto vs & to our fathers open shame, as [appeareth] this day.

7 [For] all these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turne euerie one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

9 So the Lord hath watched over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandments of the Lord that he hath giuen vnto vs.

11 And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, and in his arme, and with signes, and with wonders, & with great power, and hast gotten thy self a Name, as [appeareth] this day, 12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned: we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a fewe left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, & deliuer vs for thine owne sake, and giue vs fauour in the sight of them, which haue led vs away, 15 That all the earth may knowe that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Israel and vpon their posteritie.

16 Therefore loke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: incline thine eare, O Lord, and heare vs.

17 Open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, & whose soules are out of their bodies, giue vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousnes.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the greatnes of sinne, & he that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungrie soule will giue thee praise & righteousnes, O Lord.

19 For we do not require merite in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousnes of our fathers, or of our Kings,

20 But because thou hast set out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruants the Prophetes, saying,

21 Thus saith the Lord, Bowe downe your sholders, and serue the King of Babylon: so shal ye remaine in the land, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if ye wil not heare the voyce of the Lord, to serue the King of Babylon, 23 I wil cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and in Ierusalem, I wil cause to cease the voyce of mirth, & the voyce of ioye, and the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, and the land shal be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we wolde not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophetes: [namely,] that the bones of our Kings, & the bones of our fathers shal be carryed out of their places.

25 And lo, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great miserie with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as [appeareth] this day, for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercie.

28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou didest command him to write thy Law before the children of Israel, saying,

29 If ye wil not obey my voyce, then shal this great swarme and multitude be turned into a fewe among the nations where I wil scatter them.

30 For I knowe that they wil not heare me: for it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shal remember them selues,

32 And they shal heare, and praise me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their harde backs, and from their euil workes: for they shal remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I wil bring them againe into the land, which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and they shal be lords of it: and I wil increase them, and they shal not be diminished.

35 And I wil make an euerlasting conenāt with them, that I wil be their God, & they shal be my people: and I wil no more drive my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

The people continueth in their prayer begon for their deliuerance. 1. He praiseth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. 36 Onely God was the finder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

1 O Lord Almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, cryeth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie: for thou art merciful, and haue pitie vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for euer, and we vterly perish.

4 O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, heare now the praier of the dead Israelites, & of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednes of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power, and thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, & thee, O Lord, wil we praise.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we shulde call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuitie: for we haue considered in our mindes all the wickednes of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to be a reproche, and a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou maiest learne wisdom.

10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen olde in a strange countrey?

11 And art defiled with the dead: and art counted with them, that go downe to the graues?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisdom.

13 [For] if thou hadest walked in the way of God, thou shuldest haue remained safe for euer.

14 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou maist knowe also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes and peace is.

15 Who hath founde out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, & suche as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?

17 They that had their pastime with the foules of the heauen, that hoorded vp siluer, and golde, wherein men trust, & made none end of their gathering?

18 For they that coyned siluer, and were so careful of their worke, and whose inuention had none end, 19 Are come to naught, and gone downe to hell, & other men are come vp in their steades.

20 When they were yong they sawe the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstode not the way of knowledge, 21 Nether perceiued the paths thereof, nether haue their children receiued it: but they were farre of from that way.

22 It hath not bene hard of in the land of Chanaan, nether hath it bene sene in Theman, 23 Nor the Aganines that sought after wisdom vpon the earth, nor the marchants of Nerran, and of Theman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisdom haue knowen the way of wisdom, nether do they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the House of God! and how large is the place of his possession!

25 It is great, and hath none end: it is hie, and vnto measure.

26 There were the gyants, famous fro the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chose, nether gaue he the way of knowledge vnto the 28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their owne foolishnes.

29 Who hath gone vnto heauen, to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea, to finde her, and hath brought her, rather the fine golder.

31 No man knoweth her waies, nether considereth her paths.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath founde her out with his vnderstanding: this same is he which hath prepared the earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beastes.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, & reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cherefulness they shewe light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shal none other be compared vnto him.

36 He hath founde out all way of knowledge, & hath given it vnto Iacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterwarde he was sene vpon earth, & dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

The reward of them that kepe the Law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem & vnder the figure thereof the Church. 23 A consolation and comforting of the same.

1 This is the booke of the comandements of God, and the Law that endureth for euer: all they that kepe it, shal come to life: but suche as forsake it, shal dye.

2 Turne thee, o Iacob, & take holde of it: walke by this brightnes before the light thereof.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, we are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Be of good comfort, o my people, which art the memorial of Israel.

6 Ye are sold to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto your enemies.

7 For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euerslasting God, & ye haue grieved Ierusalem, that nourished you.

9 When she sawe the wrath comming vnto you from God, she said, Harken, ye that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought me into great heauines.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the Euerlasting will bring vpon them.

11 With ioye did I nourish the, but I must leaue them with weping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widowe, and forsaken of many, which for the finnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.

13 They wolde not knowe his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his commandements: nether did they enter into the paths of discipline, through his righteousness.

14 Come, ye that dwell about Sion, & call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which the Euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For he hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent nation, and of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pitie the yong: these haue carryed away your dere beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Go your way, o children, go your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and so long as I liue, I wil call vpon the Euerlasting.

21 Be of good comfort, o children: crye vnto God, and he wil deliuer you from the power, and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the Euerlasting, and ioye is come vpon me from the Holy one, because of the mercie, which shal quickly come vnto you from our euerslasting Sauour.

23 For I sent you away with weping, and mourning: but with ioye and perpetuall gladnes wil God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shal they also see shortly your saluation fro God, which shal come vnto you with great glorie, and brightnes from the Euerlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, & shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough way:

es, and were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Be of good comfort my children, and crye vnto God: for he that led you away, hathe you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your minde to go astray from your God, so endeouore your selues ten times more, to turne againe & to seke him.

29 For he that hathe broght these plagues vpon you, wil bring you euerlasting ioye againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, wil comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, and suche as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyced at thy decay, & was glad of thy fall, so shal she be sorie for her owne desolation.

34 For I wil take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her ioye shalbe turned into mourning.

35 For a fyre shal come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure, & she shalbe inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem loke towarde the East, & beholde the ioye that cometh vnto thee from thy God.

37 Lo, thy sonnes (whome thou hast let go) come gathered together fro the East vnto the West, reioycing in the worde of the Holy one vnto the honour of God.

PVt of thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, and thine affliction, and decke thee with the worship and honour, that cometh vnto thee from God, for euermore.

2 Put on the garmēt of righteousness, that cometh from God, and set a crowne vpon thine head of glorye of the Euerlasting.

3 For God wil declare thy brightnes to euerie countrie vnder the heauen.

4 And God wil name thee by this name for euer, The peace of righteousness, and the glorie of the worship of God.

5 Arise, O Ierusalem, & stand vpon hie, and loke about thee towarde the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the worde of the Holy one, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God wil bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glorie, as childre of kingdom.

7 For God hath determined to bring downe euerie high mountaine, and the long enduring rockes, and to fil the valleyes, to make the grounde plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods and all swete smelling trees shal ouershadowe Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For God shal bring Israel with ioye in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousnes that cometh of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE, that Ieremias sent vnto them, that were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

BEcause of the sinnes, that ye haue committed against God, ye shalbe led away captiues into Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shal remaine there many yeres, and a long season, euen seuen generations, and after that wil I bring you away peaceably from thence.

3 Now shal ye se in Babylon gods of siluer, and of golde, and of wood, borne vpon mens shulders, to cause the people to feare.

4 ^{*}Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like the strangers, nether be ye afraide of them, when ye se the multitude before the and behinde them worshipping them,

5 But saye ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worshippe thee.

6 For mine Angel shalbe with you, & shal care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they them selues are gilted and laied ouer with siluer: yet are they but lyes, and cannot speake.

8 And as they take golde for a maide that loueth to be deckt,

9 So make they crownes for the heads of their gods: some times also the Priests them selues conuey away the golde, and siluer from their gods, and bestowe it vpon them selues.

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of golde, and of wood, with garments like men, ^{*}Isa. 44, 10.

meth,

11 Yet cā they not be preferred from roust and wormes,

12 Though they haue couered them with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

13 One holdeth a scepter, as though he were a certaine iudge of the countrey: yet can he not slaye suche as offend him.

14 Another hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet is he not able to defende him self from battel, nor from theues: so then it is euident, that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worthe when it is broken,

16 Suche are their gods: when they be set vp in their Temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the fete of those that come in:

Or, courtes.

17 And as the gates are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the King: or as one that shulde be led to be put to death: so the Priests kepe their temples with doores, and with lockes, and wth barres, lest their gods shulde be spoyled by robbers.

18 They light vp candels before them: yea, more then for them selues, whereof they can not se one: for they are but as one of the postes of the temple.

19 They confesse, that eue their hearts are gnawen vpon: but when the things, that crepe out of the earth, eat them & their clothes, they fele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke thorow the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swalowes and birdes flie vpon their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, and the cattes also.

22 By this ye may be sure that thei are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde ^{is} about them to make them beautiful, except one wipe of the roust, they cā not shine: nether when they were molten did they fele it.

24 The things wherein is no breath, are bought for a moste high price.

Or, 46, 7.

25 *They are borne vpon mens sholders, because they haue no fete, whereby they declare vnto men, that they be nothing worthe: yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they can not rise vp againe of them selues, nether if one set them vp right, cā they moue of the selues, nether if they be bowed downe, can they make them selues straight: but they set giftes before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priests sell them, and abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstuous women, and they that are in childebed, touche their sacrifices: by these things ye may knowe that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence cometh it then, that thei are called gods? because the womē bring giftes to the gods of siluer, and golde, & wood.

30 And the Priests sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heades & beardes are shauen, and being bare headed,

31 They roare and crye before their gods, as men do at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The Priests also take away of their garments, and clothe their wiues and children.

33 Whether it be euil that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can nether set vp a King nor put him downe.

34 In like maner they cā nether giue riches, nor money: though a man make a vowe vnto them and kepe it not, they wil not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, nether deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe anie man at his nede.

37 They can shewe no mercie to the widowe, nor do good to the fatherles.

38 Their gods of wood, golde and siluer, are as stones, that be hewen out of the mountaine, and they that worship them, shalbe confounded.

39 How shulde a man the thinke or say that they are gods?

40 Moreouer the Chaldeans them selues dishonor them: for when thei se a domme man, that can not speake, thei present him to Bel,

41 And desire that he wolde make him to speake, as though he had anie felig: yet thei that vnderstand these things, can not leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermore the women, girded with coards, sit in the stretes, and burne strawe.

Or, brahne.

43 And if one of them be drawn away, & lie with anie suche as come by, she casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not so worthely reputed, nor her coard broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them, is lies: how may it then be thought or said, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmithes make the, nether be they anie other thing, but euen what the workeman wil make them.

46 Yea, they that make them, are of no long continuance, how shulde then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 Therefore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there cometh anie warre or plague vpon them, the Priests imagine with them selues, where they may hide them selues with them.

49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can nether defend them selues fro warre, nor from plagues?

*Psal. 115, 3.
wisd. 13, 10.

50 For seing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shal knowe hereafter that they are but lies, and it shalbe manifest to all nations and Kings, that they be no gods, but the workes of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them.

51 Whereby it maye be knowen, that they are no gods.

52 They can set vp no King in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, nether preferue from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crowes betwene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fyre vpo the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, & of golde, the Priests wil escape & saue the selues, but thei burne as the balckes therein.

55 Thei can not withstand anie King or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

56 Moreouer these gods of wood, of golde, and of siluer can nether defend them selues from theues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest, take awaye their golde and siluer, and apparel, where with they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get them awaye: yet can they not helpe them selues.

58 Therefore it is better to be a King, & so to shewe his power, or els a profitable vessel in an house, whereby he that oweth it, might haue profite, then suche false gods: or to be a dore in an house, to kepe suche things safe as be therein, then suche false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then suche false gods.

59 For the sunne and the moone, and the starres that shine, whiche they are sent downe for necessarie vles, obey.

60 Likewise also the lightning when it shineth, it is euident: and the winde bloweth in euery countrey.

61 And when God commandeth the cloudes to go about the whole worlde, they do as they are bidden.

62 When the fyre is sent downe from aboue to destroye hilles and woods, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are nowlike any of these things, nether in forme nor power.

63 Wherefore men shalde not thinke, nor say that they be gods, seing they can nether giue sentence in iudgement, nor do men good.

64 For so muche now as ye are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can nether curse, nor blesse Kings:

66 Nether can they shewe signes in the heauen among the heathen, nether shine as the moone.

67 The beastes are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, and do them selues good.

68 So ye may be certified that by no manner of meanes, they are gods: therefore feare them not.

69 For as a skarcrowe in a garden of cucumbers kepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde:

70 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde and siluer are like to a white thorne in an orcharde, that euery birde sitteth vpon, and as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

71 By the purple also and brightnes, which fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they them selues shal be consumed at the last, and they shal be a shame to the countrey.

72 Better therefore is the iuste man, that hathe none idoles: for he shalbe farre fro reprove.

THE

THE SONG OF THE THRE

holy children, which followeth in the third chapter of

Daniel after this place, Thei fell downe bound into the middes of the hote Fyrie Fornace.

CHAP. I.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crueltie of the King.
41 The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the fornace. 51 The three children praise the Lord and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 And thei walked i middles of flame, praising God, and magnified the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stode vp, and prayed on this maner, & opening his mouth in the middes of the fyre, said,

26 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthie to be praised and honored for euer more.

27 For thou art righteous in all the things, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy workes are true, and thy waies are right, & all thy iudgements certeine.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, & vpon Ierusalem, the holie citie of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements: for by right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

29 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue we trespassed,

30 And not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, nether done as thou hadest commanded vs, that we might prosper.

31 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, & in euerie thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement.

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our wicked enemies, & moste hateful traitors, and to an vrighteous King, and the moste wicked in all the worlde.

33 And now we may not open our mouths:
we are become a shame and reprove vnto thy seruants, and to them that worshipped thee.

34 Yet for thy Names sake, we beseeche thee, giue vs not vp for euer, nether breake thy couenant,

35 Nether take away thy mercie from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaaks sake, and for thine holy Israels sake,

36 To whome thou hast spoken and promised, that thou woldest multiplie their sede as the starres of heauen, and as the sand that is vpon the seashore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then a nie nation, and be kept vnder this daye in all the worlde, because of our sinnes:

38 So that now we haue nether prince, nor Prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offring, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first frutes before thee, that we might finde mercie.

39 Neuertheles in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit, let vs be receiued.

40 As in the burnt offring of rams and bullockes, & as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offring be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto the that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we followe thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seke thy face:

42 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnes, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, & giue thy Name the glorie, O Lord,

44 That all they which do thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force & power, and let their strength be broken.

45 That they maye knowe, that thou one-lie art the Lord God, and glorious ouer
the whole worlde.

46 Now the Kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the ouen hote with naphtha, and with pitche, and with towe, and with fagotes,

47 So that the flame went out of the fornace
fortie and nine cubites.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it founde by the fornace.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the fornace with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fyre out of the fornace.

50 And made in the middes of the fornace like a moyste hissing winde, so that the fy-re touched them not at all, nether grieved nor troubled them.

51 Then these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the fornace, saying,

52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praised, and exalted aboue all

53 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine holy glorie, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depths, & sittest vpon the Cherubims, & praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

*Psal. 148.4.

56 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, and praised about all things, & glorified for euer.

57 All ye workes of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

58 O heauens, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

59 O Angels of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

60 All ye waters that be about the heauen, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

61 All ye powers of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

62 O sunne and moone, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

66 O fyre and heat, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

67 O winter and sommer, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

68 O dewes and stormes of snowe, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

69 O frost and colde, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

70 O yce, and snowe, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

71 O nights and dayes, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

72 O light & darkenes blesse ye the Lord:

praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

73 O lightnings and cloudes, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

74 Let the earth blesse the Lord: let it praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

75 O mountaines, and hilles, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

76 All things that growe in the earth, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

77 O fountaines, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

78 O Sea, and flood, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

79 O whales, and all that moue in the waters, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

80 All ye foules of heauen, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

81 All ye beasts and cattel, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

82 O children of men, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

83 Let Israel blesse the Lord, praise him, & exalte him about all things for euer.

84 O Priests of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

85 O seruants of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

86 O spirits and soules of the righteous, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

87 O Saints and humble of heart, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer.

88 O Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalte him about all things for euer: for he hath deliuered vs from the hel, and saved vs from the hand of death, and deliuered vs out of the middes of the fornace, & burning flame: euen out of the middes of the fyre hath he deliuered vs.

89 Confesse vnto the Lord, that he is gracious: for his mercie endureth for euer.

THE HISTORIE OF SUSANNA, which some ioyned to the end of Daniel, and make it the 13 chapter.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They solicite her to wickednes. 21 She cholet rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 24 She is accused. 41 Daffield doth deliuer her. 61 The gouernours are put to death.

HERE dwelt a man in Babylo called Ioachim. And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a verie faire woman, and one that feared God. Her father and her mother also were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moyfes. Now Ioachim was a great riche man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Iewes, because he was more honorable then all others. The same yere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, that the iniquitie came from Babylon, and from the ancient iudges, which seemed to rule the people. These hunted Ioachim's house, & all such as had anything to do in the Law, came [thither] vnto them. Now when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke. And the two Elders sawe her that she went in daily and walked, so that their lust was inflamed towarde her. Therefore they turned away their minde, and cast downe their eyes, that they shulde not see heauen, nor remember iust iudgements. And albeit they were bothe wounded with her loue, yet durst not one shewe another his grief. For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to haue to do with her. Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her. And the one said to the other, Let vs go now home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way, and departed, one from another: yet they returned a gaine, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: the appointed they a time bothe together when they might finde her alone. Now when they had spied out a convenient time, that she went in, as her manner was, with two maides onely, and thought to wash her self in the garden (for it was an hote season) And there was no body there saue the two Elders that had hid them selues, and watched for her. She said to her maides, Bring me oyle and sope, and shut the garden dores, that I may wash me. And they did as she bad them, & shut the garden dores, and went out them selues at a backe dore, to get the thing that she had commanded them: but they sawe not the Elders, because they were hid. Now when the maides were gone for the, the two Elders rose vp & ranne vnto her, saying, Beholde, the garden dores are shut, that no man can see vs, & we burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lye with vs. If thou wilt not, we wil beare witnes against thee, that a yong man was with thee, and therefore thou didst send away thy maides from thee. Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am in trouble on euerie side: for if I do this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I do it not, I can not escape your hands. It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord. With that Susanna cryed with a loud voyce, and the two Elders cryed out against her. Then ranne the one & opened the garden dore. So when the seruats of the house heard the crye in the garden, they rushed in at the backe dore, to see what was done vnto her. But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruats were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer suche a reporte made of Sufanna.

28 On the morowe after, came the people to Ioachim her housband, & the two Elders came also, full of mischieuous imaginatiō against Sufanna, to put her to death.
 29 And said before the people, Sed for Sufanna the daughter of Helcias Ioachims wife. And immediatly they sent.
 30 So she came with her father & mother, her children and all her kinred.
 31 Now Sufanna was verie tender & faire of face.
 32 And these wicked men commanded to vncouer her [face] (for she was couered) & thei might so be faulified with her beautie.
 33 Therefore they that were about her, & all they that knewe her, wept.
 34 Then the two Elders stode vp in the middes of the people, and laied their hāds vpon her head, 35 Which wept and loked vp towarde heauen for her heart trusted in the Lord.
 36 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, she came in with two maidens, whome she sent away from her, and shut the garden dores.
 37 Then a yong man which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.
 38 Then we which stode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednes, ranne vnto them, and we sawe them as they were together,
 39 But we colde not holde him: for he was stronger then we, and opened the dore, & escaped out.
 40 Now when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but she wolde not tel vs: of these things are we witnesses.
 41 Then the assemblie beleued them, as those that were the Elders and iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.
 42 Then Sufanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and said, O euerlasting God, that knowest the secrets, & knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witnes against me, and beholde, I must dye, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.
 44 And the Lord heard her voyce,
 45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, The Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.
 46 Who cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.
 47 Then all the people turned the rowards him, and said, What meane these wordes that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stode in the middes of them, and said, Are ye suche fooles, o Israelites, that without examinatio, or knowledge of the trueth, ye haue condemned a daughter of Israel?
 49 Returne againe to iudgement: for thei haue borne false witnes against her.
 50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders said vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shewe it vs, seeing God hathie given thee the office of an Elder.
 51 Then said Daniel vnto him, Put these two aside, one farre from another, and I wil examine them.
 52 So when they were put a sonder, one fro another, he called one of them & said vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, now thy sinnes which thou hast committed afore time, are come to light.
 53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocēt, and hast let the gilty go free, albeit the Lord saith, *The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. Exod. 23, 7.
 54 Now then, if thou hast sene her, tel me, vnder what tre sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a lentiske tre.
 55 Then said Daniel, Verely thou hast lyed against thine owne head: for lo, the Angel of God hathie received the sentence of God, to cut thee in two. Or, like 56 So puthe him aside, & commanded to bring the other, & said vnto him, O thou scede of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beautie hathie disceiued thee, and lust hathie subuerted thine heart.
 57 Thus haue ye delt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied w you: but the daughter of Iuda wolde not abide your wickednes.
 58 Now therefore tel me vnder what tre didst thou take them cōpanying together? Who answered, Vnder a prime tree. Or, mirtle tree 59 The said Daniel vnto him, Verely thou hast also lyed against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sworde to cut thee in two, and so to destroye you bothe.
 60 With that all the whole assemblie cryed with a loude voyce, and praised God, which saueth the that trust in him.
 61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuict them of false witnes by their owne mouth)
 62 *And according to the Law of Moyses Deut. 19, 19 they delt with them, as they delt wickedly against Prover. 19, 5.

ly against their neighbour, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day. Therefore Helcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Toacim her husband, and all the kindred.

64. Fro that day forth was Daniel had in great reputatiō in the sight of the people.
65. And King Astyages was laied with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his steade.

chapter of Daniel after the Laten.

QW when King A-

Persian receiued his kingdome.

2  And Daniel did ear at the Kings table, &
was honored above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel and there were spent vpon him euerie day, twelue * great measures of fine flour, and fortie sheeps, & six great * potes of wine.

4 And the King worshipped it, and went daily to honour it: but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the King said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel:

Who answered, and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, which hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

Then said the King vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euerie day?

Then Daniel smiled and said, O King, be not deceived: for this is but clay without silver, and brasse without, and did neuer eat any thing.

So the King was wrothe, and called for his Priests, and said vnto them, If ye tell me not who this is that eateth vp these expenses, ye shal dye:

But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth hem, then Daniel shall dye: for he hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the King, Let it be according to thy worde.

(Now the Priests of Bel were three score and ten beside their wives & children:) and the King went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

So Bels Priests said, Beholde, we wil go our, and let thou the meat there, o King, & let the wine be filled: the shut the dore fast, and seale it with thine owne finger.

2 And to morowe when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Belshazze eatē vp all, we wil suffer death, or els Daniel that hathē lyled vpon vs.

3 Now they thought themselves sure enough: for vnder the table they had made a priue entrance, and there went they in euer, and toke away the things.

4. So when they were gone forth, the King set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring aches, and these they throwed morrow out all the temple, in the presence of the King alone: then went they out, and shut the dore, and sealed it with the Kings signet, and for departed.

Now in the night came the Priests, with their wives and children, (as they were wont to do) and did eat & drink on all

In the morning betimes the King arose and Daniel with him.

And the King said, Daniel, are the seals whole? Who answered, Yea, O King, they are whole.

And as sone as he had opened the dore,
The King looked vpon the table, and cryed
With a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel,
And with thee is no disceite.

Then laughed Daniel, and helde the ng that he shulde not go in, & said, Belde now the pauement, and marke wel those footsteppes are these.

And the King said, I se the foote steppes men, women, and children: therefore the King was angrie.

And toke the Priests with their wiues, and children, and they shewed him pridiores, where they came in, and confu-d such things as were vpon the table.

Therefore the King slew them, & dered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

 23 ¶ Moreouer in that same place there was a great dragon; which the Babylonians worshipped.
 24 And the King said vnto Daniel, Sayest thou, that this is of brasce also? lo, he liueth and eateth and drinketh, so that thou cast not say, that he is no liuing God: therefore worshipp him.
 25 Then said Daniel vnto the King, I wil worshippinge the Lord my God, for he is the liuing God.
 26 But giue me leaue, o King, and I wil slay this dragon without sworde or staffe. And the King said, I giue thee leaue.
 27 Then Daniel toke pitche, and fatre, and heere, and did seerh them together, & made lompes thereof: this he put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel said, Beholde, whome ye worshippinge.
 28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderful wroth, & gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a lewe: for he hath destroyed Bel, and hath slain the dragon, and put the Priests to death.
 29 So they came to the King, and said, Deliuers vs Daniel, or els we wil destroy thee and thine house.
 30 Now whe the King sawe, that they pressed fore vpon him, and that necessity constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them.
 31 Who cast him into the lions denne, where he was six daies.
 32 In the denne there were seven lions, & they had giue them euery day two bodies and two shepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

 33 ¶ Now there was in Iewrie a Prophet called Abbacuc; which had made potage, & broken bread into a bowle, and was going into the field for to bring it to the reapers.
 34 But ¶ Angel of the Lord said vnto Abbacuc, Go, carye the meat that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the lions denne.
 35 And Abbacuc said, Lord, I neuer sawe Babylon, nether do I knowe where the denne is.
 36 Then the Angel toke him by the crowne of the head, and bare him by the heere of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.
 37 And Abbacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.
 38 Then said Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon me, and thou neuer failest them that seke thee and loue thee.
 39 So Daniel arose, and did eat, and the Angel of the Lord set Abbacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.
 40 Vpon the seuen day, the King went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel sat in the middes of the lions.
 41 Then cryed the King with a loude voyce, saying, Great art thou, o Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.
 42 And he drew him out of the denne, & cast the that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, & they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

THE

THE FIRST BOKE OF THE Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

1 The death of Alexander the King of Macedonia: 12 Antiochus takeh the kingdome. 13 Many of the children of Israel make couenant with the Gentiles. 21 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his dominion. 30 Antiochus setteth vp idoles.

After that Alexander the Macedonius, the sonne of Philippe, went forth of the land of Chetium, & slewe Darius King of the Persians & Medes, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia.

2 He toke great waies in hand, and wan strong holdes, and slewe the Kings of the earth.

3 So went he thorow to the ends of the worlde, and toke spoiles of many nations, in so muche that the worlde stode in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed vp and was haue.

4 Now when he had gathered a mightie strong host,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.

6 After these things he fel sicke, and knewe that he shulde dye.

7 Then he called for the chief of his seruantes, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them, while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeres when he dyed.

9 And his seruantes reigned euerie one in his rourne.

10 And they all caused the selues to be crowned after his death, and so did their children after them many yeres, and muche wickednes increased in the worlde.

11 For out of these came the wicked robe, Iudeus Antiochus Epiphanes the sonne of King Antiochus, which had bene in no stage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundredth and seven and thirtieth yere of the kingdome of the Grekes.

12 In those daies wer there out of Israel wicked men, which entyced many, saying, Let vs go, and make a couenant with the heathen, that are rounde about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had muche sorowe.

13 So this deuice pleased them wel.

14 And certeine of the people were readie, and went to the King which gaue them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen.

15 Then set thei vp a place of exercise at Ierusalem, according to the facions of the heathen.

16 And made them selues vncircumcised, and forsoke the holy couenant, and ioyned themselves to the heathen, and were folde to do mischief.

17 So when Antiochus kingdome was set in order, he went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a mightie botmanie, with chariots, and elephantes, and with horsemen, and with a great nauie.

19 And moued warre against Ptolomeus King of Egypt: but Ptolomeus was afraid of him, and fled, and manie were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanted many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and toke away the spoiles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundredth and thre yere.

22 And went vp towarde Israel and Ierusalem with a mightie people.

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuary, and toke away the golden altar, and the candlestick for the light, and all the instruments thereof, and the table of the shew bread, and the pouring vessels, and the bowles, and the golden basins, and the vaille, and the crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, & brake all in pieces.

24 He toke also the siluer and golde, & the precious iewels, & he toke the secret treasures that he founde, & when he had take away all, he departed into his owne land.

25 After he had murdered many men, and spoken vnto proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euerie place of Israel.

was couered with confusion.
30 After two yeres the King sent his chief taxe master into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude.
31 Who spake peaceable wordes vnto the in disceite, & they gaue credit vnto him.
32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, and destroied muche people of Israel.
33 And when he had spoiled the citie, he set fyre on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.
34 The women and their children toke they captiue, and led away the cattell.
35 Then fortified they the citie of David with a great & thicke wall, & with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.
36 Moreover they set wicked people there, and vngodlie persones, and fortified them selues therein.
37 And they stored it with weapons and vitailes, and gathered the spoile of Ierusalem, and hid it vp there.
38 Thus became they a fore sparke & were in ambushment for the Sanctuary, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.
39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuary and defiled the Sanctuarie.
40 In so muche that the citizens of Ierusalem had away because of them, and it became an abomination of strangers, being desolate of them whom she had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.
41 Her Sanctuary was left waste as a wil-dernes: her holie daies were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproche, &
her honour brought to naught.
42 As her glorie had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorrow.
43 Also the King wrote vnto all his kingdome, that all the people shulde be as one,
& that euery man shulde leaue his lawes.
44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, & defiling the Sabbath.
46 So the King sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they shulde followe the strange lawes of the countrey.
47 And that they shulde forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the offerings in the Sanctuary.
48 And that they shulde defile the Sabbaths and the feasts.
49 And pollute the Sanctuary and the holy men,

50 And to set vp altars, and groues, and chappels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes, 51 And that they shulde leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their sou-les with vncleannes, and pollute them sel-ues, that they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances, 52 And that whosoever wolde not do according to the commandement of the King, shulde suffer death.
53 In like maner wrote he thorow out all his kingdome, and set ouerscers ouer all the people, that for to compell them to do these things.
54 And he commanded the cities of Iu-da to do sacrifices, cite by cite.
55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, such one that forsake the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.
56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen wherefoeuer they coulde see for succour.
57 The fifteenth day of Casleu, in the hundredth and fife and fortieth yere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they buylded altars thorowout the cities of Iuda on euery side.
58 And before the dores of the houses, and in the stretes they burnt incense.
59 And the booke of the Law, which they founde, they burnt in the fyre, and cutte in pieces.
60 Whosoever had a booke of the Testament founde by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Law, the Kings commandement was, that they shulde put him to death by their authority.
61 And they executed these things euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the ciues.
62 And in the fife and twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.
63 And according to the commandement, they put certeine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised.
64 And they hanged vp the children at their nookes, and they spoiled their houses, and slew the circumcisers of them.
65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in themselues, that they wolde not eat vncleane things.
66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meats: so because they

thei wolde not breake the holic couenat, they were put to death.

67 And this tyrannie was verie fore vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. III.

The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy cite. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Law of God. 31 They are slaine and wil not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commended his sonnes to fight by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

Joseph Antiquities 7.

IN those dayes stode vp Mattathias the Priest, [the sonne] of Ioannes, [the sonne] of Simeon, of the sonnes of Ioarib of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had fise sonnes, Ioanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,

Or, Ananias.

5 Eleazar called Abaron, & Ionatha, whose name was Apphus.

6 Now he sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem:

7 And he said, Wo is me: wherefore was I borne, to se this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy cite, and thus to sit still: it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,

8 And the Sanctuarie [is] in the hands of strangers: her Temple is, as a man that hathe no renoume.

9 Her glorious vessels are caryed away into captiuitie: her infants are slayne in the stretes, and her yong men are fallen by the sworde of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hathe not some possession in her kingdome, or hathe not gotten of her spoyle?

11 All her glorie is taken away of a fre woman, she is become an handmaid.

12 Beholde, our Sanctuarie, & our beautie, and honor is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue anie longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, & his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them and mourned verie fore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the cite of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice,

16 So manie of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together, 17 Then spake the commissioners of the King, and said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chief and an honorable man, & great in this cite, and hast many children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfil the Kings commandement, as al the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and suche as remaine at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour, & thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer and golde, and with manie rewardes.

19 Then Mattathias answered & said with a loude voyce, Though all nations that are vnder the Kings dominion, obey him, and fall away euerie man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements, 20 Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenant of our fathers.

21 God be merciful vnto vs, that we forsake not the Law and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken vnto the Kings wordes to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when he had left of speaking these wordes, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all, to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the Kings commandement.

24 Now when Mattathias sawe it, he was so inflamed with zeale, that his raiues shoke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance [of the Law]: therefore he ran vnto him, and killed him by the altar.

25 And at the same time he slewe the Kings commissioner, that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.

26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, [doing,] as Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.

Nomb. 25, 7.

27 ¶ Then cryed Mattathias with a loude voyce in the cite, [saying,] Whosoever is zealous of the Law, and wil stand by the couenant, let him come forthe after me.

28 So he, and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the cite.

29 Then many that sought after iustice & iudgement,

Or, that lived iustly and vprightly.

30 Went downe into the wildernes to dwell there, bothe they, and their children, and their wiues, and their cattel for the afflictions increased fore vpon them.

31 ¶ Now when it was tolde vnto the Kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the cite of David, that men had broken the Kings commandement, & were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernes,

32 Then many pursued after them and hauing ouertaken them, they camped against them, and set the battel in array against them on the Sabbath day,

I. Maccabees.

- 33 And said vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandement of the King, & ye shal liue.
- 34 But they answered, We wil not go forth, neither wil we do the Kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.
- 35 Then they gaue them the battel.
- 36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, nor stopped the priuie places.
- 37 But said, We wil dye al in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shal testifie for vs, that ye destroye vs wrongfully.
- 38 Thus they gaue them the battel vpon the Sabbath, and slewe bothe me and cattell, their wiues and their children, to the number of a thousand people.
- 39 ¶ When Mattathias & his friends vnderstode this, they mourned for them greatly.
- 40 And laid one to another, If we all do as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our Lawes, then shal they incontinently destroye vs out of the earth.
- 41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Whosoever shal come to make battel with vs vpon the Sabbath daye, we wil fight against him, that we dye not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.
- 42 Then came vnto them the assemblie of the Asideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all suche as were wel minded toward the Law.
- 43 And all thei that were fled for persecution ioyned them selues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.
- 44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, & the wickedly in their angre: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.
- 45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,
- 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they founde within the coastes of Israel.
- 47 And they pursued after the proude men, and this acte prospered in their hands.
- 48 So they recouered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of Kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.
- 49 ¶ Now when the time drewe nere that Mattathias shulde dye, he said vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.
- 50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.
- 51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shal ye receiue great honour and an euerlasting name.
- 52 ¶ Was not Abraham founde faithful in temptation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteoulnesse.
- 53 ¶ Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the commandement, and was made lord of Egypt.
- 54 ¶ Phinees our father, because he was zealous and feruent, obtained the couenant of the euerlasting priesthood.
- 55 ¶ Iesus for fulfilling the worde, was made the gouernour of Israel.
- 56 ¶ Caleb, because he bare witnes before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.
- 57 ¶ Dauid, because of his meete obtained the throne of the kingdome for euermore.
- 58 ¶ Elias, because he was zealous and feruent in the Law, was taken vp euen vnto heauen.
- 59 ¶ Ananias, Azarias and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.
- 60 ¶ Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered fro the mouth of the lions.
- 61 And thus ye may consider thorowlye out all ages, that whosoever put their trust in him, shal not want strength.
- 62 Feare ye not then the wordes of a sinful man: for his glorie is but dongue and wormes.
- 63 To day is he set vp, and to morowe he shal not be founde: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth.
- 64 Wherefore, my sonnes, take good hearts, and shewe your selues men for the Law: for by it shal you obteine glorie.
- 65 And beholde, I knowe of your brother Simon is a man of counsel: giue care vnto him alway: he shal be a father vnto you.
- 66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath bene mightie and strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your captaine, and fight you the battel for the people.
- 67 Thus shal ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Law, and shal aduenge the iniuries of your people.
- 68 Recompense fully the heathen, & giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.
- 69 So he blessed them, and was laied with his fathers.
- 70 And dyed in the hundredth fortie & six yere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

¶ CHAP. III.

1 Judas is made ruler over the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidenc of Judas toward God. 55 Judas determineth to fight against Lysias, whome Antiochus had made capitaine ouer his hoste.

1 THen Judas his sonne, called Macca-beus, rose vp in his place.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that helde with his father, and fought with courage the battel of Israel.

3 So he gave his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a gyant, and armed him self, and set the battel in array, & defended the campe with the sworde.

4 In his actes he was like a lyon, and as a lyons whelp roaring after the pray.

5 For he pursued the wicked, & fought the out, & burnt vp those that vexed his people,

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And he grieved diuers Kings, but Iacob reioyced by his actes, and his memorial is blessed for euer.

8 He went also thorowe the cities of Iuda, & destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renoumed vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were readie to perish.

10 ¶ But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great hoste out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which when Judas perceiued, he went forth to mete him, and smote him, and slew him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

12 So Judas toke their spoiles, and toke also Appollonius sworde, and fought with it all his life long.

13 ¶ Now when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation & Church of the faithful, and went forth to the warre, 14 He said, I wil get me a name, and wil be glorious in the realme: for I wil go fight with Judas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the Kings commandement.

15 So he made him readie to go vp, and there went with him a mightie hoste of the vngodly to helpe him, & to be aduanced of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came nere to the going vp of Bethhoron, Judas went forth to mete him with a smale companie.

17 But when they sawe the armie coming against them, they said to Iudas, How are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, & so strong, seeing we be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?

18 Then said Iudas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut vp in the hands of fewe, & there is no difference before [the God] of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a smale companie.

19 For the victorie of the battel standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength cometh from heauen.

20 They come against vs with a cruel and proude multitude, to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs.

21 But we do fight for our liues, and for our Lawes:

22 And God him self wil destroye them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.

23 And when he had left of speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his hoste destroyed before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going downe of Bethhoron vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistims.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Iudas & his brethren fel vpon the nations rounde about,

26 So that his fame came vnto the Kings: for all the Gentiles colde tell of the warres of Iudas.

27 ¶ But when King Antiochus heard these tidings, he was angrie in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, & gathered al the power of his realme, a verie strong armie, 28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his hoste a yeres wages in hand, commanding the to be readie for a yere for all occasions.

29 Neuertheles, when he sawe that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the countrie were smale, because of the dissentio, and plagues that he brought vpon the land, in taking away the lawes which had bene of olde time,

30 He feared lest he shulde not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and giftes that he had giuen with a liberal hand afore: for in liberalitie he farre passed the other Kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his minde, and thought to go into Persia, for to take tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man and of the Kings blood to ouersie the Kings busines, from the river of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt,

33 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus til he came againe.
34 Moreover, he gaue him halfe of his hoste and elephantes, & gaue him the charge of all things that he wolde hane done, 35 And concerning those which dwelt in Iuda and Ierusalem, that he shulde send an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel & the remnant of Ierusalem, and to put out their memorial from that place,
36 And to set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and parte their land among them.
37 And the King toke the halfe of the hoste that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royal citie, in the yere an hundredth fortie and seuen, and passed the riu-er Euphrates, and went thorow the hie coun-treis,
38 Then Lyfias chose Ptolomeus the sonne of Doriminius, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the Kings friends, 39 And sent with them fortie thousand fote men, & seuen thousand horsemen, to go in to the land of Iuda, & to destroye it, as the King commanded.
40 So they wēt forthe with all their power and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plaine countrey.
41 Now when the marchants of the coun-trei heard the rumour of them, they toke very muche siluer and golde, and seruāts, and came into the campe to bye the children of Israel for sclauens: and the strength of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.
42 ¶ Now when Iudas & his brethren sawe that trouble increased, and that the hoste drewē nere vnto their borders, cōsidering the Kings wordes, whereby he had commanded to destroy the people, and vtterly abolish them,
43 They said one to another, Let vs redres-se the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.
44 Then the congregation were sone readie gathered to fight, and to praye, and to desire mercie and compassion.
45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderness. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fortresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Iacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.
46 So they gathered them selues together, and came to Maspha before Ierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prai-ed afore time in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sacke cloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpo their heads, and rent their clothes, 48 And opened the boke of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the lickenes of their idoles, 49 And broght the Priests garments, and the first frutes, and the tithes, and set there f Nazarites, which accomplished their daies.
50 And they cryed with a loude voyce, towards heauen, saying, What shal we do with these? and whether shal we carye them away?
51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Priests are in heauines, & broght downe.
52 And beholde, the heathen are come against vs to destroye vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.
53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?
54 Then they blewe the trumpets, & cryed with a loude voyce.
55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundredths, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten.
56 And they cōmanded them that buylded houses, or married wiues, or planted vine-yardes, or were fearful, that thei shulde returne euery one to his owne house, according * to the Law.
57 So the hoste remoued, and pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.
58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, and be valiant men, and be readie against the morning to fight with these natiōs, which are gathered together against vs to de-stroye vs and our Sanctuarie.
59 For it is better for vs to dye in battel, then to see the calamities of our people, & of our Sanctuarie.
60 Neuertheles as the wil [of God] is in heauen, so be it.
CHAP. III.
1 Iudas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in waite. 14 He putteth Gorgias and his hoste to flight. 28 Lyfias inuadeth Iuda. 29 But Iudas driueth him out. 43 Iudas purifieth the Temple and dedicateth the altar.
1 Then toke Gorgias fife thousand [fote] men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night.
2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slaye them suddenly: and the men of the fortresse were his guides.
3 Now when Iudas heard it, he remoued,
and

and they that were valiant men to spoile the Kings armie which was at Emmaus.
 4 Whiles yet the armie was disperfed from the campe.
 5 In the meame feafon came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: & when he founde no man there, he foght the in the mountaines: for faid he, They flee from vs.
 6 But affone as it was day, Iudas fhewed him felf in the field with thre thousand mē, which had nether harnes nor swordes to their mindes.
 7 And thei fawe that the armies of the heathen were ftrong and wel armed, and their horfemen about them, and that thefe were experthe men of warre.
 8 Then faid Iudas to the mē that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, nether be afraied of their affair.
 9 Remember, how our fathers were deliuered* in the red Sea, when Pharao purfued them with an armie.
 10 Therefore now let vs crye vnto heauen, and the Lord wil haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, and wil deftroie this hofte before our face this day.
 11 So fhall all the heathen knowe, that there is one, which deliuereth & faueth Ifrael.
 12 Then the ftrangers lift vp their eyes, & fawe them coming againft them, 13 And they went out of their tentes into the battel, and they that were with Iudas, blew the trumpets.
 14 So they ioyned together, and the heathē were difcomfited and fled by the plaine.
 15 But the hinmoſte of the fel by the fworde, and they purfued them vnto Gazerō, and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Iamnia, fo that there were flaine of them about thre thousand men.
 16 So Iudas turned againe with his hofte from purfuing them,
 17 And faid vnto the people, Be not grieuie of the ſpoiles: for there is a battel before vs.
 18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but ſtand ye now faft againſt your enemies, and ouercome the: then may ye fafely take the ſpoiles.
 19 As Iudas was ſpeaking theſe wordes, there appeared one parte which looked from the mountaines.
 20 But when [Gorgias] ſawe that his were fled, and that Iudas ſoldiers burnt the tentes; (for the ſmoke that was ſene, declared what was done)
 21 When they ſawe theſe things, they were fore afraied, and when they ſawe alſo that Iudas and his hofte were in the field readie to ſet them ſelues in array, 22 They fled euerie one into the land of ſtrangers.

 23 So Iudas turned againe to ſpoile the tentes, where he gate muche golde and ſiluer, and precious ſtones, and purple of the ſea, and great riches.
 24 Thus they went home, and ſang psalmes, and praied towarde the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.
 25 And ſo Ifrael had a great victorie in that day.
 26 ¶ Now all the ſtrangers that eſcaped, came, and tolde Lyſias all the things that were done.
 27 Who, when he heard theſe things, was fore afraied, and diſcouraged, becauſe ſuche things came not vpon Ifrael as he wolde, nether ſuche things as the King had commanded him, came to paſſe.
 28 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lyſias threſcore thouſande choſen [ſote] men, and ſiue thouſande horſemen to fight againſt Ieruſalem.
 29 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tentes at Bethſura, where Iudas came againſt them with ten thouſand men.
 30 And when he ſawe that mightie armie, he praied and ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, O Saviour of Ifrael, * which didſt deſtroie the aſſaite of the mightie man by the hand of thy ſeruant Dauid, * and gaueſt the hofte of the ſtrangers into the had of Ionathā, ſonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer.
 31 Shut vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Ifrael, & let them be cōſolided with their power, and with their horſemen.
 32 Make them afraied, and conſume their boldenes and ſtrength, that thei may be aſtoniſhed at their deſtruction.
 33 Caſt them downe by the ſworde of the the loue thee: the ſhall all they that knowe thy Name, praife thee with ſongs.
 34 So they ioyned together, & there were flaine of Lyſias hofte, ſiue thouſand men, and they fel before them.
 35 The Lyſias, ſeing his armie put to flight and the manlines of Iudas ſoldiers, and that they were readie, either to liue or dye valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered ſtrangers, and when he had furniſhed his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come againſt Iudea.
 36 Then ſaid Iudas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are diſcomfited: let vs now go vp to clenſe, and to reſtore the Sanctuary.
 37 So all the hofte gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

 38 Now when they sawe the Sanctuarie layed waste, and the altar defiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the shrubbes growing in the courtes, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe, 39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heads, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cryed towarde heauen.
 41 Then Iudas commanded certein of the men to fight against those which were in the castell, till he had cleansed the Sanctuarie.
 42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as desited in the Law, 43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place.
 44 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offrings, which was polluted.
 45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, lest it shulde be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar.
 46 And laied vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there shulde come a Prophet, to shewe what shulde be done with them.
 47 So they toke whole stones according to the Law, and buylded a new altar according to the former.
 48 And made vp the Sanctuarie, and the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.
 49 They made also new holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candellsticke, and the altar of burnt offrings, and of incense, and the table.
 50 And they burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candellsticke, that they might burne in the Temple.
 51 They set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vailcs, & finished all the workes that they had begon to make.
 52 And vpon the five and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Challeu, in the hundreth and eight and fortieth yere they rose vp betimes in the morning,
 53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offrings, that they had made.
 54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made newe with longs, & harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.

 55 And all the people set vpon their faces, worshipping & praising towarde the heauen him that had giuen the good successe.
 56 So thei kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt offrings with gladnes, & offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praise, 57 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crownes of golde and shields, & dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.
 58 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.
 59 So Iudas & his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the altar shuld be kept in their season from yere to yere, by the space of eight dayes, from the five and twentie day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnes.
 60 And at the same time buylded they vpon mount Sion with hie walles and strong towres rounde about, lest the Gentiles shulde come, and treade it downe, as they had done afore.
 61 Therefore they set a garison there to kepe it, & fortified Beth-sura to kepe it, that the people might haue a defense against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

3 Iudas venquisheth the heathen that go about to destroye Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathan.
 40 He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, because they denyed him passage thorow it.

NOW when the nations roude about heard, that the altar was buylded, & the Sanctuarie reued, as afore, they were fore-griued.
 1 Therefore they thought to destroye the generation of Iacob that was among the, & beganne to slaye and destroye the people.
 2 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, & droue them to straites, and toke their spoiles.
 3 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Beniamin, which had bene a snare and an hinderance vnto the people, when they laye in waite for them in the hie way.
 4 Wherefore he shut them vp in towres, and besieged them, and destroyed them vterly, and burnt their towres with fyre, with all that were in them.
 5 Afterward, went he against the children of Ammon, where he founde a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timo-

- theus their captaine.
- 7 So he had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them.
- 8 And toke Gazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.
- 9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castel of Datheman,
- 10 And sent letters to Iudas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs.
- 11 And they make them readie for to come, and to take the forteresse, whereunto we are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.
- 12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine.
- 13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almoste a thousand men.
- 14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde, there came other messengers fro Galile with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings,
- 15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.
- 16 When Iudas, and the people heard these wordes, a great congregation came together, to consulte what they might do for their brethren, that were in trouble, & whome they besieged.
- 17 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee our men, and go and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan, wil go into the countrey of Galaad,
- 18 ¶ So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to kepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea,
- 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntil we come againe.
- 20 And vnto Simon were giuen thre thousand men to go into Galile, and to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.
- 21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.
- 22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: & there were slaine of the heathen almoste thre thousand men: so he toke their spoiles.
- 23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile and in Arbattis with their wiues, and their children, and all that they had, and broght them into Iudea with great ioye.
- 24 ¶ Iudas Maccabeus also, & his brother Jonathan went ouer Iorden, and trauailed thre dayes iourney in the wildernes,
- 25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & tolde the euerie thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad,
- 26 And how that manie of them were besieged in Bosorra, and Bosor, in Aleimis, ¶ Chasbon, Maged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong, and great) Or, Chasphor.
- 27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these fortes, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.
- 28 So Iudas and his hoste turned in all haste by the way of the wildernes towarde Bosorra, & wanne the citie, and slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and toke all their spoile, and set fyre vpon [the citie.]
- 29 And in the night he remoued from thence, and went towarde the forteresse.
- 30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, and had assailed them.
- 31 When Iudas sawe that the battel was begon, and that the crye of the citie went vnto heauen with trumpets, and a great sounde,
- 32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.
- 33 So he went forthe behinde them with thre companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cryed with prayer.
- 34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knewe, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, & he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day almoste eight thousand men.
- 35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maspha, & laid siege vnto it, and wanne it, and slewe all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fyre vpon it.
- 36 From thence went he and toke Chasbo, Maged, and Bosor, and the other cities in Galaad.
- 37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and he camped before Rammm. ij.

phon beyonde the flood.

- 38 Now Iudas had sent to espie the hoste, & they broght him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is verie great.
- 39 And he hath hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tentes beyonde the flood, and are readie to come and fight against thee. So Iudas wēt to mete them.
- 40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captaynes of his hoste, When Iudas and his hoste come nere the flood, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shal not be able to withstand him: for he wil be to strong for vs.
- 41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyonde the flood, we wil go ouer vnto him, and shal preuaile against him.
- 42 Now whē Iudas came nere to the flood, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, and commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitche a tent, but let euerie man come to the battel.
- 43 So he went first ouer towarde them, and all þe people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, & cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnaim.
- 44 Which citie Iudas wanne, and burnt the temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Iudas.
- 45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered all the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the moste, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a verie great hoste, to come into the land of Iuda.
- 46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and strongly defended: they colde not passe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must go thorowe it.
- 47 But they that were in the citie, shut the selues in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,
- 48 Let vs passe thorowe your land, that we may go into our owne countrey, and none shal hurt you. we wil but onely go thorowe on fote: but they wolde nor open vnto him.
- 49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowe out the hoste, that euerie man shulde assalt it according to his standing.
- 50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assalted the citie all that day, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:

- 51 Who slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed it, and toke the spoile thereof, and went thorowe the citie ouer them that were slaine.
- 52 Then went they ouer Iorden into the great plaine before Bethsan.
- 53 And Iudas gathered together those that were behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorowe, til they were come into the land of Iuda.
- 54 Thus they went vp with ioye and gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offred burnt offrings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safetie.
- 55 ¶ Now whiles Iudas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais,
- 56 Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias, the captaynes, hearing of the valiant actes, and battels which they had achieved, said,
- 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen that are round about vs.
- 58 So they gaue their hoste a commandement and went towarde Iamnia.
- 59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the citie to fight against them.
- 60 And Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight and pursued vnto the borders of Iudea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrowe among the people of Israel.
- 61 Because they were not obedient vnto Iudas, and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant thing.
- 62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.
- 63 But the man Iudas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wheresoeuer their name was heard of.
- 64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.
- 65 Afterwarde went Iudas forthe with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lād toward the South, where he wanne Hebron, and the townes thereof, & he destroyed the castel thereof, & burnt the towres thereof round about.
- 66 Then remoued he to go into the land of the strangers, & went thorow Samaria.
- 67 At the same time were the Priests of the cities slaine in þe battel, which wolde shewe their valiantnes, and went forthe to battel without counsell: and when Iudas came to Azotus

Azotus in the strangers lād, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fyre the images of their gods, and toke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Iuda.

¶ CHAP. VI.

¹ Antiochus, willing to take the title of Elimais, is driven away of the citizens. ⁸ He falleth into sickenes, and dyeth. ¹⁷ His sonne Antiochus is made King. ³⁴ The maner to prouoke elephantes to fight. ⁴³ Eleazarus valiant acte. ⁴⁹ The siege of Sion.

Joseph. Antiqu.
11. cap. 13.

NOW when King Antiochus trauielled thorow the high countreis, he heard that Elimais in the countrey of Persia was a citie greatly renoumed for riches, siluer and golde, ² And that there was in it a verie riche temple, where as were couerings of golde, coate armoures, and harnes, which Alexander King of Macedonia the sonne of Philippe (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

³ Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoile it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter,

⁴ And rose vp against him in battel, and he fled and departed thence with great heauines, and came againe into Babylon.

⁵ Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driuen away,

⁶ And that Lysias, which went for the first with a great power, was driue away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed,

⁸ So when the King had heard these wordes, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, & fel sicke for verie sorowe, because it was not come to passe, as he had thought,

⁹ And there continued he manie dayes: for his grief was euer more & more, so that he sawe he must nedes dye.

¹⁰ Therefore he sent for all his friends, & said vnto them, The slepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for verie care.

¹¹ And I thinke with myself, Into what aduersitie am I come? & into what floods of miserie am I fallen now, where as afore time I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

¹² And now do I remember the euils that

I haue done at Ierusalem: for I toke all the vessels of golde and of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroye the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

¹³ I knowe that these troubles are come vp on me for the same cause, and beholde, I must dye with great sorowe in a strange land.

¹⁴ Then called he for Philippe, one of his friends, whome he made ruler of all his realme,

¹⁶ So King Antiochus dyed there in the hundreth, and fortie and ninth yere.

¹⁹ Therefore Iudas thoght to destroy the and called all the people together to besiege them.

²⁰ So thei came together and besieged the in the hundreth and fiftie yere, and made instruments to shote and other engins of warre.

²¹ But certeine of the that were besieged, gate for the, (vnto whome some vngodlie men of Israel ioyned them selues,)

²² And they went vnto the King, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, & aduenging of our brethre?

²³ We haue bene readie to serue thy father, and to go forward in those things, that he appointed, and to obey his commandements.

²⁴ Therefore they of our nations fel from vs for this cause, and wheresoeter they founde anie of vs, they slewe them, and spoyled our inheritance.

²⁵ And thei haue not onely laied hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

²⁶ And beholde, this day are they besieging the castel at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.

²⁷ And if thou doest not preuent the quickly, they wil do greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

²⁸ When the King heard this, he was verie angrie, and called all his friends, the capitaines of his armie, and his horsemen,

29 And bands that were hired, came vnto him fro the Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea,
 30 So the number of his armie was an hundred thousand fote men, & twentie thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie elephants exercised in battel.
 31 These came through Idumea & drewe nere to Beth-sura; and besieged it a long season, and made engins of warre: but thei came out, and burnt them with fyre, and fought valiantly.
 32 Then departed Iudas from the castle, & remoued the hoste towarde Beth-zacarias ouer against the Kings campe.
 33 So the King arose verie early, & broght the armie and his power towarde the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armies set the selues in array to the battel, and blew the trumpets.
 34 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, thei shewed the blood of grapes and mulberies,
 35 And they set by beastes according to the ranges: so that by euerie elephant there stode a thousand men armed with coates of maile and helmets of brasse vpon their heads, and vnto euerie beast were ordeined fye hundred horsemen of the best,
 36 Which were readie at all times wherefoeuer the beast was: and whetherfoeuer the beast went, they went also, and departed not from him.
 37 And vpon them were strong towres of wood that couered euerie beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments, and vpon euerie one was two and thirtie men, that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.
 38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon bothe the sides in two wings of the hoste to stirre the vp, and to kepe them in the valleis.
 39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lapces of fyre.
 40 Thus part of the Kings armie was spred vpon the hie mountaines, and parte beneath: so they marched forward waresly and in order.
 41 And all they that heard the noyce of their multitude, and the marching of the companie, and the ratteling of the harness, were astonished: for the armie was verie great and mightie.
 42 Then Iudas and his hoste entred into the battel, & thei slewe six hundred men of the Kings armie.
 43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, [the sonne] of Abiron, sawe one of the elephants armed with royal harness, and was more excellent then all the other beastes, he thought that the King shulde be vpon him.

 44 Wherefore he icoparded him self to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetual name, 45 And ranne boldely vnto him through the middes of the hoste, slaying on the right hand, and on the left, so that thei departed away on bothe sides.
 46 So went he to the elephants fete, and gate him vnder him, and slewe him: then fel the elephat downe vpon him, & there he dyed.
 47 But [the other,] seing the power of the King & the fiercenes of his armie, departed from them.
 48 ¶ And the Kings armie went vp to mete them towarde Ierusalem, and the King pitched his tents in Iudea towarde mount Sion.
 49 Moreouer, the King toke truce with the that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no vitailles there, and were shut vp therein, & the land had rested,
 50 The King toke Beth-sura, and set there a garison to kepe it, 51 And besieged the Sanctuarie many dayes, & made instruments to shoote & other engins of warre, and instruments to cast fyre and stones, and pieces to cast dartes and slings.
 52 ¶ They also made engins against their engins, and fought a long season.
 53 But in the garners there were no vitailles: for it was the seuenth yere, and then they that were in Iudea, & were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store,
 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were fewe me left: for the famine came so vpon the, that they were scattered euerie man to his owne place.
 55 ¶ Now when Lysias heard that Philippe (whome Antiochus the King, while he liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be King) was come againe out of Persia, & Media, and the Kings hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of thinges, 56 He and his hostes, and were stirred forward by them in the castel to go and tell the King, and the captaines of the hoste, and to others, saying, We decrease dayly, & our vitailles are but smale: and the place that we laye siege vnto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depend vpon vs.
 58 Now therefore let vs agree with these men men, & take truce with them, and with all their nation,

59 And grāte them to liue after their Law, as they did afore: for they be griued, and do all these things, because we haue broke their Lawes.

60 So the King and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, & they receiued it.

61 When the King & the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpō this out of the fortresse.

62 And the King went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was well defended, he brake his othe that he had made, and commanded to breake downe the wall rounde about.

63 Then departed he in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia where he founde Philippe hauing dominion of the cite: so he fought against him, and toke the cite by force.

CHAP. VII.

Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus and Lyfias. He troubleth the children of Israel thorow the counsel of certaine wicked persones. 37 The prayer of the Priests against Nicanor. 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

Ioseph. Antiqu. 11. cap. 5.

IN the hundreth and one and fiftieth Iyre, departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a fewe men vnto a cite of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his soldiers toke Antiochus and Lyfias, and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, he said, Shewe me not their faces.

4 So thei put the to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him all the wicked & vngodlie men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that wolde haue bene the hie Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the King, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slayne all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore send now some man, whome thou trustest, that he maye go and seall the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the Kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the King chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyonde the flood, and was faithful vnto the King, and sent him,

9 And that wicked Alcimus, whome he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be aduenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.

11 But they beleued not their saying: for thei sawe that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a cōpanie of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reasonable points.

13 And the Asideans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.

† Or, Hasidims.

14 For said they, He that is a Priest of the sede of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he wil not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, & swore vnto them, and said, We wil do you no harme, nether your friends:

16 And they beleued him: but he toke of them thre score men, and slewe them in one day according to the wordes that were written,

17 *Thei haue cast the bodles of thy Sain- res, and their blood rounde about Ierusalem, and there was no man that wolde burye them.

† Psal. 79. 3.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they said, There is nether trueth nor righteousnes in them: for they haue broken the appointment & othe that they made.

19 The Bacchides remoued fro Ierusalem, and pitched his tente at Beth-zecha, where he sent for the and toke manie of the me that had forsaken him, and certeine of the people whome he slewe and cast into the great pit.

† Or, Bethfeth, or, Betheth.

20 Then committed he the countrey vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went vnto the King.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for the priesthode.

22 And all suche as troubled the people resorted vnto him: in somuche, that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did muche hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas sawe all the mischief, that Alcimus and his companie had done among the Israelites more then the heathen, 24 He went for the rounde about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those that were fallen away, so that they came no more abroade in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus sawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knewe that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to the King, and accused them of wicked things.

Joseph. Antiqu.
12. cap. 16.

26 Then the King sent Nicanor one of his chief princes, which hated Israel deadly, and commanded him, that he shulde destroye the people.

27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendlie wordes, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betwene me, and you: I wil come with fewe men, to se how ye do, friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, & they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Neuertheles, it was tolde Iudas, that he came vnto him vnder disceit: therefore he feared him, and wolde not se his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Iudas, beside Carphasalama.

† Or, Captharphala.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste about fife thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forthe of the Sanctuary to salute him peaceably, & to shew him the burnt offering that was offred for the King.

34 But he laughed at them, and moked the and counted them prophane, and spake proudly, 35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste be not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in safetie, I wil burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Priests came in, and stode before the altar in the Temple, weping, and saying,

37 For so muche as thou, [O Lord,] hast chosen this House, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it shulde be an house of prayer and petition for thy people, 38 Be aduenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine by the sworde: remember their blasphemies, & suffre them not to continue.

39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas pitched in Adasa with three thousand me where Iudas prayed, saying,

41 [O Lord,] * because the messengers of King Sennacherib blasphemed thee, thine

Angel went forthe, & slewe an hundreth, foure score, and fife thousand of them.

42 So destroye thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may knowe that he hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuary, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battel, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he him self was first slaine in the battel.

44 Now when his armie sawe that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons and fled.

45 But they pursued after the a dayes iourney from Adasa vnto Gasera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forthe of all the townes of Iudea rounde about, and rushed vpon them, and threwe them from one to another, so that they all fel by the sworde, & there was not one of them lefte.

47 The they toke the spoyles and the pray, and smote of Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, and broght it with them, and hanged them vpon afore Ierusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, & kept that day as a day of great gladnes.

49 And they ordeined, to kepe yercly that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a litle while.

IN the meane ſeaſon when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, and his hoſte had giuen the battel, he ſent Bacchides, and Alcimys againe into Iudea, and his ſchief ſtrength with them.
2 So they wēt forth by the way that is towarde Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Meſaloth which is in Arbelis, and wanne it and ſlewe muche people.
3 And in the firſt moneth of the hundreth fiftie and two yere, they layed their ſiege againſt Ieruſalem.
4 But they raiſed their campe, and came to Berea, with twentie thouſand [ſote] men and two thouſand horſemen.
5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at Eleaſa, and thre thouſand choſen men with him.
6 And when they ſawe, that the multitude of the armie was great they were fore aſtraide, and manie conueied them ſelues out of the hoſte, ſo that there abode no mo of them, but eight hundreth men.
7 When Iudas ſawe that his hoſte failed him, and that he muſt nedes fight, he was fore troubled in minde that he had no time to gather them together, and was diſcouraged.
8 Neuertheles, he ſaid vnto them that remained, Let vs riſe, and go vp againſt our enemies, if peraduenture we may be able to fight with them.
9 But they wolde haue ſtaied him, ſaying, We are not able: but let vs rather ſaue our liues: turne backe now, ſeing our brethren are departed: for ſhal we fight againſt the, that are ſo fewe?
10 Then Iudas ſaid, God forbid, that we ſhulde do this thing, to ſie from them: if our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not ſtaine our honour.
11 Then the hoſte remoued out of the tentes, and ſtoode againſt them, who had deuidded their horſemen into two troupes, and they that threwe with ſlings, and the archers marched in the forewarde, and they that foght in the forewarde, were all valiant men.
12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie drew nere on bothe ſides, & blew the trumpets.
13 They of Iudas ſide blew the trumpets al ſo, & the earth ſhoke at the noyce of the armies, and the battel continued from morning to night.
14 And when Iudas ſawe that Bacchides and the ſtrength of his armie was on the right ſide, he toke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Now when they which were of the left wing, ſawe that the right wing was diſcomfited, they followed Iudas behinde and them that were with him hard at the heles.
17 Then was there a ſore battel: for many were ſlaine of bothe the parties.
18 Iudas alſo him ſelf was killed, and the remnant fled.
19 So Ionathā and Simon toke Iudas their brother, and buryed him in his fathers ſepulchre in the citie of Modin.
20 And all the Iſraelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamēted many daies, ſaying, 21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Iſrael!
22 Concerning the other things of Iudas, bothe the battels and the valiant actes that he did, and of his worthines, they are not written: for they were very many.
23 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coaſtes of Iſrael, & there aroſe all ſuche as gaue them ſelues to iniquitie.
24 In thoſe daies was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer them ſelues with them.
25 And Bacchides did chuſe wicked men, and made them lords in the land.
26 Theſe foght out, and made ſearche for Iudas friends, and broght them vnto Bacchides, which aduēged him ſelf vpon the, and mocked them.
27 And there came ſo great trouble in Iſrael, as was not ſince the time that no Prophet was ſene among them.
28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and ſaid vnto Ionathan, 29 Seing thy brother Iudas is dead, & there is none like him to go forth againſt our enemies, euen againſt Bacchides, and † againſt the of our nation that are enemies vnto vs, 30 Therefore, this day we chuſe thee that thou maiest be our prince and captaine in his place to order our battel.
31 So Ionathan toke the gouernance vpon him at the ſame time, and ruled in ſtead of his brother Iudas.
32 But when Bacchides knewe it, he foght for to ſlay him.
33 Then Ionathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernes of Thecua with all their companie, and pitched their tentes by the watter poole of Alphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstode, he came ouer Iorden with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Now had Jonathan sent his brother [Iohn,] a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they wolde kepe their baggage which was muche.

36 But the children of Ambri came out of Medaba, and toke Iohn, and all that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came worde vnto Jonathan, and to Simon his brother, that the childre of Ambri made a great mariage, & brought the bride from J Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembered Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid them selues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a great noyce, and muche preparation: then the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethre met them with tymbrels, and instruments of musike, and manie weapons.

40 Then Ionathans men that lay in ambusche, rose vp against them, and slewe manie of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that they toke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the mariage was turned to mourning, and the noyce of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had aduenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his copanie, Let vs rise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Beholde, the battel is before vs, and behinde vs, and the water of Iorden on this side and that side, and the marish, and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crye now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battel.

47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and reculed.

48 Then Jonathan, and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmied ouer vnto the other banke: but the other wolde not passe through Iorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, & buylt vp the strong cities in Iuda, as the castel of Iericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Pharaohoni, & Tephro, with high walles, with gates, and with barres.

51 And set garisons in the, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Beth-sura, and Gazara, and the castel, and set a garison in them with prouision of vittails.

53 He toke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put the in the castel at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterwarde in the hundreth, fiftie and thre yere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie shulde be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monumentes of the Prophetes, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindred, & his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palse, & colde no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides sawe, that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, and so the land of Iuda was in rest two yeres.

58 Then all the vngodlie men helde a cōselle, saying, Beholde, Jonathan and his companie dwell at ease, & without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he wil take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose and came with a great hoste, and sent letters priuely to his adherentes, which were in Iudea, to take Jonathan and those that were with him: but they colde not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

61 And ¶ they toke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chief workers of this wickednes, and slewe them.

62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their copanie departed vnto Beth-basin, which is in the wildernes, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent worde to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came he & laid siege to Beth-basin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Jonathan had left his brother Simo in the citie, and went forth into the country, and came with a certeine nomber.

65 And slew Odomeras and his brethren and the children of Phasiron in their tentes: so he began to slaye, and increased in power.

67 Simon also and his companie went out of the cite, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, and vexed him sore, so that his counsell and iorney was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsell to come into the country, and slewe many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne country.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreat of peace with him, and that the prisoners shulde be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an othe, that he wolde neuer do him harme all the daies of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken afore time out of the lād of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne land, nether did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sworde ceased from Israel, and Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodlie men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathan. 11 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 43 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 30 Demetrius is slaine. 31 The friendship of Ptolemy and Alexander.

IN the hundreth and thre score yere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and roke Ptolemais, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius the King heard it, he gathered an exccading great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan, with louing wordes, as though he wolde preferre him.

4 For he said, We wil first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he wil remember all the euil that we haue done against him, & against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and comanded the hostages that were in the castel, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and red the letters in the audience of all the people, & of them that were in the castel.

8 Therefore they were sore afraied, because they heard that the King had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castel, deliuered the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, & began to buyld, and repaire the cite.

11 And he commanded the workemen to buyld the walles, and the mount Sion rounde about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castels which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euerie man left his place, & went into his owne country.

14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certeine which had forsaken the Law and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: and when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had indured, 16 He said, Might we finde suche a man: now therefore we wil make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these wordes, saying,

18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthie to be our friend,

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friend: and (he sent him a purple robe, and a crowne of golde,) that thou maist consider what is for our profite, and kepe friendship towarde vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundreth and thre score yere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathā put on the holie garment, and gathered an hoste, & prepared many weapons:

22 Which when Demetrius heard, he was maruailous sory, and said,

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 Yet wil I write and exhorde them, and promes them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these wordes, wordes, KING DEMETRIUS vnto the nations of the Iewes sendeth greting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant towarde vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine stil, and kepe fidelitie towarde vs, and we wil recompense you for the good things that ye haue done for vs,

28 And wil release you of many charges, & giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all þe Iewes from tributes, & fre you from the customes of salte, and the crowne taxes, & from the third parte of the sede.

30 And from the halfe of the frute of the trees which is mine owne duetie I so release them that from this day forth, none shal take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the thre gouernements which are added thereunto, as of Samaria and of Galile, from this day forth for euermore.

And of the country beynd Iorden, as Iosephus writeth.

31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shalbe holy and fre from the tenthes and tributes.

32 Also I release the power of the castel which is at Ierusalem, and giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may set in it such me, as he shal chuse to kepe it.

33 Moreouer I frely delyuer euery one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, & euery one of them shalbe free from tributes, yea, euen their catel,

34 And all the feastes, and Sabbaths, and newe moones, and the dayes appointed, and the thre dayes before the feast, & the thre dayes after the feast, shalbe dayes of fredome and libertie for all the Iewes in my realme, 35 So that [in them] no mā shal haue power to do any thing, or to vex any of them in any maner of cause.

36 Also thirtie thousand of the Iewes shalbe writen vp in the Kings hoste, and haue their wages payed them as apperteineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: & of them shalbe ordeined certeine to kepe the Kings strong holdes.

37 And some of them shalbe set ouer the Kings moste secret affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shalbe of themselves, and they shal liue after their owne lawes, as the King hathe commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the thre gouernemētts that are added vnto Iudea from the countrie of Samaria, shalbe ioyned vnto Iudea, & they shalbe as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemais and the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ierusalem, for the necessarie expenses of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I wil giue euery yere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the Kings reuenues out of the places appertening vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for the things due, as they did in the former yeres, from hence forth they shal giue it towarde the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the fye thousand sicles of siluer which thei receiued yerely of the accounte appointed for the interteinemēt of the Sanctuarie, these yeres passed, euen these things shalbe released because they apperteine to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, & are indetted to the King for any maner of thing, they shalbe pardoned, & all that they haue in my realme, 44 For the buylding also and the reparing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenses shalbe giuen of the Kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, and fortifying it rounde about that the holdes in Iudea may be buylt vp, shal also the costes be giuen out of the Kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Jonathan & the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credit vnto them, nether receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how fore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederat with him alway.

48 Then gathered King Alexander a great hoste, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two Kings ioyned battell, but Demetrius hoste fled, & Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them.

50 So that fore battell continued til the sunne went downe, & Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolemeus the King of Egypt with these wordes, saying,

- countrie,
- 53 Seing that I haue euen giuen him the battel, and he and his armie is discomfited by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdome,
- 54 Let vs now make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shal I be thy sonne in law, & giue thee rewardes, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.
- 55 The Ptolemeus the King gaue answer, saying, Happie be the day wherein thou art come againe vnto the lande of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdome.
- 56 Now therefore wil I fulfil thy writing: but mete me at Ptolemais that we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in law, according to thy desire.
- 57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundreth thre score and two yere,
- 58 Where King Alexander met him, & he gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glorie, as the maner of Kings is.
- 59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Ionathan, that he shulde come & mete him.
- 60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two Kings, and gaue them great presents of siluer and golde, and to their friends, and founde fauour in their sight.
- 61 And there assembled certeine pestilent felowes of Israel, and wicked men to accuse him: but the King wolde not heare them.
- 62 And the King commanded that they shulde take of the garments of Ionathan, and clothe him in purple: and so they did: and the King appointed him to sit by him,
- 63 And said vnto his princes, Go with him into the middes of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of anie matter, & that no man trouble him for anie maner of cause.
- 64 So when his accusers sawe his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.
- 65 And the King preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.
- 66 Thus Ionathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes.
- 67 ¶ In the hundreth, thre score & fife yere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius from Creta into his fathers land.
- 68 Whereof whē King Alexander heard, he was verie forie, and returned vnto Antiochia.
- 69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius ꝑ gouernour of Coelosyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the hie Priest, saying,
- 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy self against vs? and I am laughed at, & reproched, because of thee: now therefore why doest thou want thy self against vs in the mountaines?
- 71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field & there let vs trye the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.
- 72 Aske and learne who I am, and thou shalt take my parte: and they shal tell thee that your fote is notable to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twise chafed in their owne land.
- 73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and fote men in the plaine, where is nether stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?
- 74 When Ionathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherefore he chose ten thousand men, & went out of Ierusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.
- 75 And he pitched his tents at Ioppe: but they shute him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.
- 76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for verie feare let him in: so Ionathan wanne Ioppe.
- 77 Apollonius hearing of this, toke thre thousand horsemen with a great hoste [of fote] men and went towarde Azotus, as thogh he wolde go forward, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so manie horsemen, and put his trust in them.
- 78 So Ionathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere bande.
- 79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behinde them in ambush.
- 80 And Ionathan knewe that there was an ambushment behinde him, & thogh they had compassed in his hoste, & shot dardes at the people from the morning to the evening,
- 81 Yet the people stode still, as Ionathan had commanded them, til their horses were wearie.
- 82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste, & set them against the bande: but the horses were wearie, and he discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered tered in the field,

83 And they fled to Azotus, & came into the Temple of Dagō their idole, that they might there saue them selues.

84 But Jonathan set fyre vpon Azotus and all the cities rounde about it, & toke their spoiles, and burnt with fyre the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled in to it.

85 Thus were slayne and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remoued the hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his hoste againe to Ierusalem with great spoiles.

88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to do Jonathan more honour.

89 And sent him a colar of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto suche as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron with the borders thereof in possession.

¶ CHAP. XI.

3 The dissension betwene Ptolemeus and Alexander his sonne in law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemeus. 22 Sion is besieged of Jonathan. 24 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 34 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

1 And the King of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and manie ships, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioine it vnto his owne realme.

2 Vpon this he wēt into Syria with friendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to mete him: for King Alexander had commanded them to mete him, because he was his father in law.

3 Now when he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bands and garisons in euerie citie.

4 And when he came nere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagō that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battel: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he shulde passe.

5 And they tolde the King what Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euil wil: but the King helde his peace.

6 And Jonathan met the King with great honour at Ioppe, where they saluted one another, and laye there.

7 So when Jonathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleu-therus, he turned againe to Ierusalem.

8 So King Ptolemeus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 ¶ And sent ambassadours vnto King Demetrius, sayig, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, and I wil giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hathe, & thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slaye me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that shulde desire his realme.

12 And he toke his daughter from him, & gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowen.

13 Then Ptolemeus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, and Ptolemeus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be detēded: so Ptolemeus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders head, & sent it vnto Ptolemeus.

18 But the third day after, King Ptolemeus dyed: and they that were in the holds, were slayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundredth, thre score and seuenth yere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Jonathan them that were in Iudea, to laye siege vnto the castle, which was at Ierusalem, and they made manie instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certeine vngodlic persones (which hated their owne people) vnto King [Demetrius,] & tolde him that Jonathan besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, & wrote vnto Jonathan, that he shulde laye no more siege vnto it, but that he shulde mete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it: he chose also certeine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put him self in danger.

24 And toke with him siluer and golde, & apparel, and diuerse presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the King, and founde fauour in his sight.

25 And thogh certeine vngodlie men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,
 26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And confirmed him in the hie priesthode with all the honorable things, that he had afore, and made him his chief friend.
 28 Jonathan also desired the King, that he wolde make Iudea free with the thre gouernements, and the countrey of Samaria, & [Jonathan] promised him thre hundredth talents.
 29 Whereunto the King consented, and gaue Jonathan writing of the same, containing these wordes, 30 KING DEMETRIVS vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greting.
 31 We send you here a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye shulde see it.
 32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father sendeth greting.
 33 For the faithfulness that our friends the nation of the Iewes kepe vnto vs, and for their good wil towardes vs we are determined to do them good.
 34 Wherefore we assigne to the the coasts of Iudea with the thre gouernements Apherema, and Lydda, & Ramath (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that apperteineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: bothe concerning the paiments which the King toke yere ly aforetime, bothe for the frutes of the earth and for the frutes of the trees.
 35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenths and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salte, and crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from hence forth.
 36 And nothing hereof shal be reuoked fro this time forth and for euer.
 37 Therefore se that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Jonathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.
 38 After this when Demetrius the King sawe that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euerie man to his owne place, except certeine bands of strangers, whome he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Trypho, that had bene of Alēxanders parte afore, which when he sawe that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to † Simalcue the Arabian, that broght vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander,
 40 And lay fore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: he tolde him also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.
 41 Also Jonathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castel at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Ierach.
 42 So Demetrius sent vnto Jonathan, saying, I wil not onely do these things for thee & thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I wil honour thee and thy nation.
 43 Now therefore thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me, for all mine armie is gone from me.
 44 So Jonathan sent him thre thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, & they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was verie glad at their comming.
 45 But they that were of the cite, euen an hundredth, and twentie thousand men gathered them together in the middes of the cite, and wolde haue slaine the King.
 46 But the King fled into the palace, & the citizens kept the stretes of the cite, and beganne to fight.
 47 Then the King called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroad through the cite,
 48 And slewe the same day an hundredth thousand, and set fyre vpon the cite, and toke many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the King.
 49 So when the citizens sawe that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the cite, and that they them selues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the King, saying,
 50 Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the cite.
 51 So they cast away their weapons, & made peace, and the Iewes were greatly honored before the King, and before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.
 52 Then King Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.
 53 Neuertheles he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew him self from Jonathan, nether did he rewarde him according according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him verie sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon, with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, & was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had scattered, and thei foght against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon toke thei beastes, and wan Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chief Priest, and make the ruler ouer the foure gouernements, that thou maist be a friend of the Kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, and to weare purple, & to haue a colar of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also captain fro the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth and passed through the citie beyonde the flood, & all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, & they of the ciue receiued him honorably.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fyre, and spoiled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and toke of the sonnes of the chief men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went through the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius priues were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 He came against them, & left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and foght against it along season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he granted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, and toke the citie, and set a garison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

68 And beholde the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, and had layed ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against them the ambushments rose out of their places and skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Ionathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of Abshalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi & captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, & cast earth vpon his head, and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, & put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now whē his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, & helped him to followe after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers & same day about thre thousand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jonathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 And to the people of Sparta, to renewe their couenant of friendship.
3 Jonathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius.
4 Tryphon taketh Jonathan by disceit.

1 Jonathan now seing that the time was mete for him, chose certaine men, and sent for them vnto Rome, to establish and renewe the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie Priest and the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendship with you, and the bonde of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romaines gaue them fre pases, that men shulde lead them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 ¶ AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the Priests, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from Arius, which then reigned among you, that ye wolde be our brethren, as the copie here vnderwritten specieth.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadour honorably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bonde of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we nede no suche writings for we haue the holy bokes in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuertheles we thought it good to send vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhode and friendship, lest we shuld be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feastes and other daies appointed when we offer sacrifices and prayers, as it is mete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And we reioyce at your prosperous estate

13 And thogh we haue bene enuironed wth great troubles & warres, so that the Kings rounde about vs haue fought against vs,

14 Yet wolde we not be gricuous vnto you, nor to other of our cōfederates & friends in these warres;

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chose Numenius [the sonne] of Antiochus, and Antipater [the sonne] of Iason, and sent them vnto the Romans, for to renew the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to go vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, cōcerning the renewing of our brotherhode.

18 And now ye shal do vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, which Arius the King of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is founde in writing, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so muche as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal do wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written vnto you, that your cattel and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Jonathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue the^m not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tētes, which came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathan commanded his men to watche, and to be in armes ready to fight al the night, and sent watchmen rounde about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was ready with his men to the battel, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fyres in their tentes, and fled away.

29 Neuertheles Jonathan and his companie knewe it not til the morning: for they sawe the fyres burning.

30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them, but he colde not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and sleweth^e, and toke their spoile.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

34 For he heard that they wolde deliuer the holde to them that toke Demetrius parte: wherefore he set a garison there to kepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to buyld vp the strong holdes in Iudea,

36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem hier, and to make a great mount betwixt the castel and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men shulde nether bye, nor sel in it.

37 So they came together to buyld vp the citie: for parte of the wall vpon the broke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Capphenatha.

38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, & made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to be crowned whē he had slaine the King Antiochus.

40 But he was afraied that Jonathan wolde not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he wēt about to take Ionathā, and to kil him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathā forth against him to the battel with fortie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathan came with so great an hoste, he durst not lay hand vpon him,

43 But receiued him honorably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and cōmanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him self,

44 And said vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take suche traual, uail, ſeing there is no warre betwene vs:

45 Therefore ſend them now home againe, and chuſe certeinemen to wait vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I wil giue it thee, with the other ſtrong holdes, and the other garifons, and all the that haue the charge of the comune affaires: ſo wil I returne, & departe: for this is the cauſe of my comming.

46 Jonathan beleued him, & did as he ſaid, and ſent away his hoſte, which went into the land of Iuda.

47 And reteined but thre thousand with him, whereof he ſent two thouſand into Galile, and one thouſand went with him ſelf.

48 Now aſſone as Ionathā entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais ſhut the gates, and toke him, and ſlewe all them with the ſworde, that came in with him.

49 Then ſent Tryphon an hoſte of ſotemen and horſemen into Galile, and into the great plaine, to deſtroie all Ionathā's companie.

50 But when they knewe that Ionathā was taken, and ſlaine, and thoſe that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came forth againſt them readie to the battel.

51 But when thei which followed vpon them, ſawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes all they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Ionathā, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Iſrael made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were rounde about them, ſoght to deſtroie them.

54 For they ſaid, Nowe haue they no captaine, nor anie man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight againſt them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Ionathan was taken, Simon is choſen captaine, 17 Tryphon, taking his children, and money for the redemption of Ionathan, killeth him and his children. 31
Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and poſſeſſeth the realme.
36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaz. 50 He poſſeſſeth the tower of ſion. 53 He maketh his ſonne Iohn captaine.

1 Now when Simō heard that Tryphō gathered a great hoſte to come into the land of Iuda, and to deſtroie it,

2 And ſawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ieruſalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, ſaying, Ye knowe what great things I, & my brethre, and my fathers houſe haue done for the Law, and the Sanctuarie, and the battels, and troubles that we haue ſene.

4 By reaſon whereof all my brethren are ſlaine for Iſraels ſake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbid, that I ſhulde ſpare mine owne life in anie time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I wil aduenge my nation, and the Sanctuarie, and our wines, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to deſtroie vs of very malice.

7 In hearing theſe wordes the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, ſayig, Thou ſhalt be our captaine in ſtead of Iudas and Ionathan thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatſoeuer thou commandeſt vs, we wil do it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, making haſte to finiſh the walles of Ieruſalem, and fortified it rounde about.

11 Then ſent he Ionathan the ſonnie of Ab-ſalomus with a great hoſte vnto Ioppe which droue them out that were therein, and remained there him ſelf.

12 Tryphon alſo remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lād of Iuda, & Ionathā was with him aſprisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tentes at Addidis vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon ſtoode vp in ſtead of his brother Ionathan, & that he wolde fight againſt him, he ſent meſſengers vnto him, ſaying,

15 Where as we haue kept Ionathā thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the Kings account cōcerning the buſines that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore ſend now an hundreth talēts of ſiluer, & his two ſonnes for hoſtages, & when he is letten forth, he wil not turne from vs, and we wil ſend him againe.

17 Neuertheles Simō knewe that he diſſebled in his wordes, yet cōmanded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, leſt he ſhulde be in greater hatred of the people of Iſrael,

18 Who might haue ſaid, Becauſe he ſent him not the money and the children, therefore is Ionathan dead.

19 So he ſent the children and an hundreth talents: but he diſſembled, and wolde not let Ionathan go.

20 ¶ Afterwarde came Tryphon into the land to deſtroie it, & went rounde about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adora: but whereſoeuer thei went, thither went Simon and his hoſte.

21 Now they that were in the caſtel, ſent meſſengers vnto Tryphon, that he ſhulde make haste to come by the wildernes, and to send them vitailles.

22 So Tryphon made readie all his horsemen; but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that he came not, because of the snowe: but he remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came nere to Bascama, he slewe Ionathā, and he was buryed there.

24 So Tryphon returned, & went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Ionathan his brother, & they buryed him in Modin his fathers citie.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, & mourned for him verie long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a buylding high to loke vnto, of hewen stone behinde and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillers vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren,

29 And set great pillers round about them, and set armes vpon the pillers for a perpetual memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be sene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 ¶ Now as Tryphon wēt forthe with the yong King Antiochus, he slewe him traitterously, 32 And reigned in his stead, and crowned him self King of Asia, and broght a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also buylte vp the castels of Iudea, and compassed the about with high towres, & great walles, euen with towres, and gates, and barres, and laid vp vitailles in the strong holdes.

34 Moreover Simon chose certeine men and sent them to King Demetrius, that he wolde discharge the lād: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the King answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIVS the King vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friend of Kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greting.

37 The golden crowne, and precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are readie to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to release you of the things wherein we made you fre.

38 So the things that we haue granted you, shalbe stable: the strong holdes which ye haue buylded, shalbe your owne.

39 Also we forgieue the ouersights, and fautes comitted vnto this day, and the crowne tax that ye ought vs: and where as was anie other tribute in Ierusalem, it shalbe now no tribute.

40 And they that are mete among you to be writen with our men, let them be writē vp, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathē was taken fro Israel in the hundreth & seuētie yere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters, & publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yere of Simon, the high and chief Priest, gouernour, and prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it rounde about, where he set vp an engine of warre, and approached nere the citie, and bet a towre, and toke it.

44 So thei that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie,

45 In so muche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles with their wiues, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, beseeching Simon to grant them peace, saying,

46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.

47 Then Simon pitied them, and wolde fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and clenfed the houses wherein the idoles were, & so entred the- reunto with psalmes and thankesgiuing.

48 So when he had cast all the filthines out, he set suche men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and buylded there a dwelling place for him self.

49 Now, when they in the castel at Ierusalem were kept, that they colde not come forthe nor go into the countrey, nether bye nor sel, they were very hungrie, and manie of them were famished to death,

50 In so muche that they besoght Simon to make peace with them: which he granted them, and put them out from thence, and clenfed the castel from filthines.

51 And vpon the thre and twentie day of the seconde moneth in the hundreth seuētie and one yere, they entred into it with thankesgiuing, & branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with viols, and with psalmes, and songs, because the great enemie of Israel was overcome.

52 And he ordeined that the same day shulde be kept euerie yere with gladnes.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple, that ple that was beside the castel where he dwelt him self with his companie.

54 Simon also seing that Iohn his sonne was now a mā, he made him captaine of all the hostes, & caused him to dwell in Gazaris.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

¹ Demetrius is overcome of Arsaces. ¹¹ Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. ¹⁸ The covenant of friendship with the Romains, and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

IN the hundreth, seuentie and two yere gathered King Demetrius his hoste, & departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces the King of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue.

3 So he went, and ouercame the armie of Demetrius, and toke him, and broght him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land of [Iuda] was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for he fought the welth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.

5 Simon also wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to be an haueu towne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreis.

7 He gathered vp manie of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-sura, and the castel, which he clenfed from filthines, & there was no man that resisted him,

8 So that euerie man tilled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her frutes, & the trees gaue their frute.

9 The Elders sate in the open places, and consulted altogether for the commune welth, and the yong men were honorably clothed and armed.

10 He prouided vitailles for the cities, and all kinde of munition, so that his glorious fame was renoumed vnto the end of the worlde.

11 He made peace thorow out the land, & Israel had perfite mirth and ioye.

12 For euerie mā sate vnder his vine, & the figtrees, & there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in the land to fight against them: for then the Kings were ouercome.

14 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people: he was diligent to se the Law kept, and he toke away the vngodlie, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and en-creased the vessels of the Temple.

16 Whē the Romains heard, and the Spartians had knowledge, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorie.

17 But whē they heard, that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, & how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it,

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasfe, to renewe the friendship, and bonde of loue, which they had made with Iudas & Jonathan his brethren:

19 Which writings were red before the congregation at Ierusalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent,

20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Iewes their brethren send gretting.

21 Whē your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glorie and honour, we were glad of their comming,

22 And haue registred their ambassage in publicke recordes in this maner, Numenius [the sōne] of Antiochus, & Antipator [the sonne] of Iason the Iewes ambassadours came vnto vs, to renewe amitie with vs.

23 And it pleased the people, that the men shulde be honorably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage shulde be registred in the publicke recordes, that it might be for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chief Priest.

24 After this, Simō sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of golde of a thousand pounce weight, to cōfirme the friendship with them,

25 Which when the people vnderstode, thei said, What thanks shal we recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue stablised Israel, and ouercome their enemies, & haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasfe, and set it vpon pillers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight & twentie day of the moneth* Elul in the hundreth, seuentie and two yere, in the thirde yere of Simon the high Priest.

28 Int Saramel in the great cōgregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the Elders of the countrei, we wolde signifie vnto you, that manie battels haue bene foughten in our countrey:

†Or, Ierusalem.

I. Maccabees.

29 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Iareb) and his brethren put them selues in dāger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie and Law might be maintained, & did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high Priest, and is laid with his people.

31 After that wolde their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon resisted them, & fought for his nation, and spent much of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, & Beth-sura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iudea (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garison of the Iewes.

34 And he fortified Ioppe, which lyeth vpon the sea, and Gazara that bordreth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with things necessarie for the reparation thereof.

35 Now when the people sawe the faithfulness of Simon, & to what glorie he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chief Priest, because he had done all these things, & for the vprightnes and fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, and had fought by all meanes to exalte his people.

36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castel, out of the which they went, and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land, and citie, and raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthode for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romans called the Iewes their friends, and confederates, & that they honorably receiued Simons ambassadours,

41 And that the Iewes, & Priests consented, that Simon shulde be their prince, & high Priest perpetually, til God raised vp the true Prophet,

42 And that he shulde be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, & so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, & ouer the fortresses, and that shulde make prouision for the holie things,

43 And that he shulde be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey shulde be made in his name, and that he shulde be clothed in purple, and weare golde,

44 And that it shulde not be lawful for anie of the people or Priests to breake anie of these things, or to withstand his wordes, or to call anie congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a colar of gold:

45 And if anie did contrarie to these thinges or brake anie of them, he shuld be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agre that it shulde be done to Simon according vnto these wordes, 47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the captaine, & the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priests, and to be the chief of all.

48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place,

49 And that a copie of the same shulde be laied vp in the treasure, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

5 Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simon

11 Tryphon is pursued. 15 The Romans write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27

Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

3 For so muche as certeine pestilent men haue vsurped $\frac{1}{2}$ kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to challenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre,

4 That I may go throwe the countrey, & be aduenged of them, which haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted manie cities in the realme.

5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the Kings my my progenitours haue discharged thee, and all the paiments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy countrey,

7 And that Ierusalem, and the Sanctuarie be fre, and that all the weapons, that thou hast prepared, and the forteresses, which thou hast buylded, & kepest in thine hãds, shalbe thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the King, and all that shalbe due vnto the King, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And when we haue obtained our kingdome, we wil giue thee, & thy nation and the Temple great honour, so that your honor shalbe knowne thorowe out the worlde.

Idaph. Antiqu.
11. cap. 11.

10 ¶ In the hũdredth, seuentie & foure yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the King Antiochus pursued him but he fled and came to Dora, which lyeth by the sea side, 12 For he sawe that troubles were towarde him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundreth and twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they pressed the citie by land, & by sea, in so muche that thei suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings and countreis, wherein were contained these wordes, 16 LVCIVS THE Consul of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus sendeth greting.

17 The ambassadours of Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the hie Priest, and from the people of the Iewes to renewe friendship, and the bonde of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weyng a thousand poundes.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the Kings and countreis, that they shulde not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to mainteine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be anie pestifer felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, that he maye punish them according to their owne Law.

22 The same things were writen to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arrathes, and to Arsaces, 23 And to all countreis, as† Samplames, & to them of Sparta, and to Delus, and to Mindus, and to Sicyon, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaselis, and to Cos, and to Siden, and to Cortyna, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.

† Or, Samplara.

24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the hie Priest.

25 ¶ So Antiochus the King cãped against Dora the seconde time, euer readie to take it, and made diuers engins of warre, & kept Tryphon in, that he colde nether go in nor out.

26 The Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him with siluer & golde, and muche furniture.

27 Neuertheles, he wolde not receiue the, but brake all the couenant, which he had made with him afore, and withdrewe him self from him,

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, saying, Ye withholde Ioppe, and Gazara with the castle that is at Ierusalem, the citie of my realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed and done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernement of many places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudea,

31 Or els giue me for them fise hundreth talents of siluer, and for the harme that ye haue done, and for the tributes of the places other fise hundreth talents: if not, we wil come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the Kings friend came to Ierusalem, & when he sawe the honour of Simon, and the cubbert of golde and siluer plate, and so great preparation, he was astonished, and tolde him the Kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, We haue nether taken other mens lãds, nor withholden that which appertineth to others, but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certeine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recovered the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou requirest Ioppe and Gazara, they did great harme to ouerpeo-ple, and through our countrey, yet wil we giue an hundred talents for them, But Antiochus answered him not one worde, 36 But turned againe angrie vnto the King, and tolde him all these wordes, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had scene: and the King was verie angrie.

 37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by shippe vnto Orthosias.
 38 Then the King made Cendebeus capitaine of the sea coast, & gaue him bandes of footemen and horsemen, 39 And commanded him to remoue the hoste towarde Iudea, & to buylde vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, & to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tryphon.
 40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iamnia, and began to vex the people: and to inuade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, & to slay them.
 41 And he buylte vp Cedron, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the King had commanded him.

¶ CHAP. XVI.

^a Cendebeus the capitaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. ¹⁶ Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banquet. ²² Iohn killeth them that ly in waite for his lyfe.

Joseph. Antiqu.
 8.3. cap. 12.

Then came Iohn vp from Gazara, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done.
 2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I, and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day foughte against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and we haue deliuered Israel often times.
 3 But I am now olde, & ye by [Gods] mercie are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore in stead of me, and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.
 4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.
 5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: and beholde, a mightie great hoste came against them bothe of footemen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.
 6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he sawe that the people was afrayed to go ouer the riuer, he went ouer first him self, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 Then he deuided his men, & set the horsemen in the middes of the footemen.
 8 For their enemies horsemen were verie manie: but when they blewe the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoste, whereof manie were slayne, and the remnant gate them to the forteresse.
 9 There was Iudas Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them, til he came to Cedron, which [Cendebeus] had buylt.
 10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fields of Azotus, & those did [Iohn] burne with fyre: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Iuda.
 11 ¶ Now in the field of Iericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made capitaine, and he had abundance of siluer and golde,
 12 (For he had married the daughter of the hie Priest)
 13 Therefore he waxed proude in his minde, and thought to rule the land, & thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.
 14 Now as Simon went about thorowe the cities of the countrey, and studied carefully for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundredth, seuentie and seuen yere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabar.
 15 Then [the sonne] of Abubus receiued them by treason into a litle holde, called Dochus, which he had buylt, where he made them a great banquet, and had hid men there.
 16 So when Simon & his sonnes had made good chere, Ptolemeus stode vp with his men, and toke their weapons, and entred in to Simon in the banquet house, & slewe him with his [two] sonnes, and certeine of his seruants.
 17 Whereby he committed a great vilenie, and recompensed euil for good.
 18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things & sent to the King, that he might send him an hoste to helpe him, & so wolde deliuer him the countrey with the cities.
 19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, and sent letters vnto the capitaines to come to him, and he wolde giue them siluer, and golde and rewardes.
 20 And to Ierusalem he sent others to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.
 21 But one ranne before, and tolde Iohn in Gazara, that his father and his brethren were slaine, and that [Ptolemeus] had set to slay him.
 22 When he heard this, he was for astonished, & laid hands on them that were come to slay him, and slewe them: for he knewe knewe that they went about to kill him.

 23 Concerning other things of Iohn, bothe of his warres, and of his noble actes (wherein he behaued him self manfully) of the buylding of walles which he made, and other of his dedes, 24 Beholde, they are written in the chronicles of his priesthode, from the time, that he was made high Priest after his father.

THE SECONDE BOKE OF the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

 to them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhorte them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fyre that was hid in the pitte. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

THE brethren the Iewes, which be at Ierusalem, & they that are in the countrey of Iudea, vnto brethren the Iewes, & are thorowout Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you and remeber his covenant made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob his faithfull seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart, to worship him, and to do his wil with a whole heart and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Law, and commandements, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we praye here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundredth threescore and nine yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeres, after that Iason, & his companie departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porche, and shed innocent blood. Thē we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offred sacrifices and fine floure, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Now therefore kepe ye the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Chasleu.

10 In the hundredth, fourescore and eight yere, the people that was at Ierusalem, & in Iudea, and the counsel, and Iudas, vnto Aristobulus King Ptolemus master, which is of the stocke of the appointed Priests, & to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greting and helth.

11 In so muche as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thake him highly, as though we had ouercome the King.

12 For he brought them into Persia by heapes, that fought against the holie citie.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, seemed inuincible, yet they were slaine in the temple of Nanea, by the disceit of Naneas Priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he wolde dwell with her, came thither, he, and his friends with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

15 But when the Priests of Nanea had laid it forth, and he was entred with a smale companie within the Temple, they shut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuie dore of the vauite, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine [and his,] and hauing bruised them in pieces, they cut of their heads and threwe them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered vp the wicked.

18 Whereas we are now purposed to kepe the purification of the Temple vpon the fise and twentie day of the moneth Chasleu, we thought it necessarie to certifie you thereof, that ye also might kepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fyre [which was giuen vs] when Neemias offred sacrifice, after that he had buylt the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests, which fought the honor of God, toke the ^{*} fyre of the altar priuely, and hid it in an hollow pit, which was drie in the bottome, & wherein they kept it, so that the place was vnknown vnto euerie man.

20 Now after many yeres when it pleased God that Neemias shulde be sent from the King of Persia, he sent of the posteritie of those Priests, which had hid it, to fetch the fyre, and as they tolde vs, they found no fyre, but thicke water.

II. Maccabees.

21 Then commanded he them to drawe it vp, and to bring it: and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things laid thereupon with watter.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fyre kindled, so that euerie man marueiled.

23 Now the Priests, and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Jonathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this maner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art feareful, and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the onelie and gracious King,

25 Onely liberal, onely iuste and almightie and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, and hast chosen the fathers, and sanctified them,

26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and preserue thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together, that are scattered from vs: deliuer them that serue among the heathen: loke vpon them which are despised, and abhorred, that the heathen may knowe that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride do vs wrong.

*Deut. 30, 50

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holic place, as Moyses hath spoken.

30 And the Priests sang psalmes thereunto

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light, that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was tolde the King of Persia, that in the place where the Priests, which were led away, had hid fyre, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices.

34 The King tryed out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holic.

35 And to them that the King fauoured, he gaue and bestowed manie gifts.

† Or, Nephthi.

36 And Neemias called the same place Ephthar, which is to say, purification: but manie men call it Nephthar.

CHAP. II.

4 How Ieremie hid the tabernacle, the Arke and the altar in the hill. 23 Of the fine booke of Iason contained in one.

It is founde also in the writings of Ieremias the Prophet, that he commanded them, which were caried away, to take fyre, as was declared, and as the Prophet commanded them that were led into captiuitie,

2 *Giuing them a Law that they shulde not forget the commandements of the Lord, & that they shulde not erre in their mindes, when they sawe images of golde and siluer, with their ornaments.

*Baruc. 4.

3 These and suche other things commanded he them, and exhorted the that they shulde not let the Law go out of their hearts

4 It is written also, how the Prophet, by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke, and follow him: and when he came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went vp, *and sawe the heritage of God,

*Deut. 34, 11

5 Ieremias went forthe, and founde an holowe caue, wherein he laid the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the dore.

6 And there came certeine of those that followed him, to marke the place: but they colde not finde it.

7 Which when Ieremias perceiued, he reproued them, saying, As for that place, it shalbe vnknowne, vntil the time that God gather his people together againe, & that mercie be shewed.

8 The shal the Lord shewe the these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shal appeare & the cloude also, as it was shewed vnder Moyses, & as when Salomō desired, that the place might be honorably sanctified.

1. King. 1, 40
2. chro. 6, 11

9 For it is manifest that he, being a wise man, offred the sacrifice of dedication, and consecration of the Temple.

10 *And as when Moyses prayed vnto the Lord, the fyre came downe fro heauē, & consumed the sacrifice: so, when Salomon prayed, *the fyre came downe fro heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

Leuit. 9, 24
& 10, 16

11 And Moyses said, Because the sin offering was not eaten, therefore is it consumed.

2. Chro. 7, 1

12 So Salomon kept those eight dayes.

13 These things also are declared in the writings, and registers of Neemias, and how he made a librarie, and how he gathered the actes of the Kings, & of the Prophets, and the actes of David, and the epistles of the Kings concerning the holic gifts.

14 Euen so Iudas also gathered all things that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.

15 Wherefore if ye haue nede thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Where as we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, and ye shal do wel, if ye kepe the same same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God, which deli-uered all his people, and gave an heritage to them all & the kingdome, & the priesthode, and the Sanctuarie,

18* As he promised in the Law, wil shortly haue mercy vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holie place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Iudas Maccabeus, & his brethren, the purification of the great Te-ple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epi-phanes, and Eupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes, that came from heauen vnto those, which manfully stode for Iewes religiō: (for though they were but fewe, yet they ran through whole coun-treis, and pursued the barbarous armies,

22 And repaired the Temple that was renounced thorow out all the worlde, and deliuered the citie, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was merciful vnto them with all lenitie)

23 We wil assay to abridge in one volume those things, that Iason the Cyrencean hath declared in fīue booke.

24 For considering the wōderful number,
& the difficultie that they haue that wolde be occupied in the rehearsal of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue induored, that they that wolde read, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily kepe them in memorie, & that whosoever read them, might haue profite.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required bo-the sweate, and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, & seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for manie mens sakes are verie wel content to vnder take this great labour.

28 Leaving to the autor the exact diligence of euerie particular, we wil labour to go forwarde according to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as he that wil buylde a new house, must provide for the whole buylding, but he that setteth out a plat, or goeth about to painte it, seeketh but onely what is com-lie for the decking thereof.

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it apper-teth to the first writer of a storie to enter deply into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in euerie parte.

31 But it is permitted to him that wil shorten it, to vse fewe wordes, and to auoyde those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then wil we beginne the storie, adding thus muche to our former wordes that it is but a foolish thing to abonde in wordes before the storie, and to be shorte in the storie.

¶ CHAP. III.

¹ Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. ⁶ Simon vndereth what treasure is in the Temple. ⁷ Heliodorus is sente to take them away.
¹⁶ He is stricken of God and healed at the prayer of Onias.

Vhat time as the holy citie was inhabited with all peace, and when the Lawes were very wel kept, because of the godlines of Onias the hie Priest, and hatred of wickednes,

2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great giftes.

3 In so muche that Seleucus King of Asia, of his owne rents bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning the iniquitie committed in the citie.

5 And whē he colde not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Cœlosyria and Phœnice,

6 And tolde him that the treasure in Ieru-salem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the Kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the King, and had shewed him of the money, as it was tolde him, the King chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus took his journey as though he wolde visite the cities of Cœ-losyria and Phœnice, but in effect to fulfil the Kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Ierusalem, and was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, he declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so in dede.

10 Then the hie Priest tolde him that there were suche things laide vp by the widowes and fatherles.

11 And that a certeine of it belonged vnto man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in all there were but foure hundreth talents of siluer, and two hundreth of golde, 12 And that it were altogether vnpossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holines of the place and Temple, which is honored thorow the whole worlde for holines and integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the Kings cōmandemēt giuē him, said that in alwayes it must be brought into the Kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, and went in to take order for these things: thē there was no smale grief thorowout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fell downe before the altar in the Priests garments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they shulde be safely preserued for suche as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then thei that looked the high Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare & trembling of the bodie, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorowe he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the cōmune prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackcloth vnder their breastes, filled the stretes, and the virgines that were kept in, ranne some to the gates and some to the walles, & others looked out of the windowes.

20 And all helde vp their hands roward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to se the multitude that fell downe of all sortes, and the expectation of the high Priest being in suche anguish.

22 Therefore thei called vpon the almighty Lord that he wolde kepe safe and sure the things, which were layed vp for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheles, the thing which Heliodorus was determined to do, he did he performe.

24 And as he & his souldiers were now the represent by the treasure, he that is the Lord of the spirits, & of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all thei which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barded, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore fete, & it semed that he that sat vpon the horse, had harnes of golde.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellēt in beautie, and comelie in apparel, which stode by him on ether side, and scourged him cōtinually, & gaue him maniefore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fel suddenly vnto the groude, and was couered with great darkenes: but they that were with him, toke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great cōpanie, & manie souldiers vnto the said treasure, was borne out: for he cold not helpe him self with his weapons.

29 So they did knowe the power of God manifestly, but he was dōme by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and helth.

30 And they praised the Lord that had honored his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was ful of feare and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioye and gladnes.

31 Then streight wayes certeine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that he wolde call vpon the moste High to grant him his life, which lay readie to giue vp the goste.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some euil, he offered a sacrifice for the helth of the man.

33 Now when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stode beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life.

34 And seing that thou hast bene scourged fro heauen, declare vnto all mē the mighty power of God: & whē they had spokē these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lord a sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him, which had granted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the King.

36 Then testified he vnto euerie man of the great workes of God that he had sene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus, who were met to beset yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast anye enemie or traitor, send him thither, & thou shalt receiue him wel scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a special power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heaven, hateth his eye on that place, and defendeth it, & he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasure.

¶ CHAP. IIII.

^a Simon reporteth euil of Onias. 7 Iason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King. 17 And was by Menelaus defrauded by like bribing. 34 Onias is slayned traitorously by Andronicus.

THis Simon now, of whome we spake afore, being a bewraier of the money and of his owne natural countrey, reported euil of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euil.

2 Thus was he bolde to call him a traitour that was so beneficial to the citie, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that thorow one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, & that Apollonius as he that was the gouernour of Cœlosyria and Phœnice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 He went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the commune welth bothe priuately and publicly.

6 For he sawe it was not possible except the King toke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon wolde not leaue of his folie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, toke the kingdom, Iason the brother of Onias labored by vnlawful meanes to be hie Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, & promised him thre hundredth and thre score talents of siluer, and of another rente, fourescore talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundredth and fiftie, if he might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they wolde name them of Ierusalem, Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the King had granted, & he had gotten the superioritie he began immediatly to drawe his kinsmen to the customes of the Gentiles.

11 And abolished friendly priuiledges of the Kings, that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friends, and confederates: he put downe their lawes & policies, & broght vp newe statutes, and contrarie to the Lawe,

12 For he presumed to buylde a place of exercise vnder the castel, & broght the chief yong men vnder his subiection, and made them weare hattes,

13 So there began a great desire to follow the maners of the Gentiles, and they toke vp the facions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednes of Iason, nor the hie Priest, but the vngodlie persone,

14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, & regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to be partakers of the wicked expenses at the playe after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glorie of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to be their enemies and punishers, whose custome they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shal declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the games that were vsed euerie fise yere, were plaide at Tyrus, the King being present,

19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to loke vpon the, as though they had bene Antiochians, & broght the hundredth drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caryed them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comelie) but to be bestowed for other expenses.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that broght them, they were giuen to the making of galleis.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemeus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that he was euil affectioned towarde his affaires: he sought his owne assurance, and departed from thence to Ioppe, and so came to Ierusalem, 22 Where he was honorably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, & was broght in with torche light, & with great showtings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Phœnice.

23 Thre yere afterwarde Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certeine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memorial.

24 But he, being commended to the King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthode vnto him self: for he gaue thre hundredth talents of siluer more then Iason.

†Or, commandemene.

25 So he gate the Kings † letters patentes, albeit he had nothing in him self worthie of the hie priesthode, but bare the stomacke of a cruel tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason, which had disceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the King, he toke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castel required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore thei were bothe called before the King.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Tharsians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis:

31 Then came the King in all haste, to appease the busines, leauing Andronicus a man of autoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that he had gotte a couenient time, stole certeine vessels of golde out of the Temple, and gaue certeine of them to Andronicus: & some he solde at Tyrus & in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a surer tie, he reprobued him, & withdrewe him self into a Sāctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, takig Andronicus a parte, prayed him to slay Onias: so when he came to Onias, he couiseled him craftily giuing him his right hand with an othe: (howbeir he suspected him, & perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie:) so he slewe him incontinently without any regarde of righteousnes.

35 For the which cause not onely the Jewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and toke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36 ¶ And whē the King was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Jewes that were in the citie, and certeine of the Grekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with angre, he toke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led through out the citie, and in the same place where he had comitted the wickednes against Onias, he was slaine as a murtherer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 ¶ Now when Lyfimachus had done many wicked dedes in the citie through the counsell of Menelaus, and the brute was spread abroad, & multitude gathered them together against Lyfimachus: for he had caryed out now muche vessel of golde.

40 And when the people arose, & were full of angre, Lyfimachus armed about thre thousand, & begā to vse vnlawful power, a certeine tyrant being their capitaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But whē they vnderstode the purpose of Lyfimachus, some gate stones, some great clubbes, and some cast handfuls of dust, which lay by, vpon Lyfimachus men, and those that inuaded them.

42 Whereby manie of the were wounded, some were slaine, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber him self they killed besides the treasure.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against Menelaus.

44 And whē the King came to Tyrus, thre me sent from the Senat pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus, being now conuined, promised to Ptolemeus [the sonne] of Dorimenes muche money, if he wolde perswade the King.

46 So Ptolemeus went to the King into a counte, where as he was to coule him self, and turned the Kings minde.

47 In so muche that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations (notwithstanding he was the cause of all mischief) and condēned those poore me to death, which if they had tolde their cause, yea, before the Scythiās, thei shulde haue bene heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they sone punished vniustly, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednes, and ministred all things liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couetousnes of the that were in power, Menelaus remained in autoritie, increasing in malice, and declared him self a great traitor to the citizens.

¶ CHAP. V.

3 Of the signes and tokens sene in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednes of Iason. 11 The pursute of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wilderness.

1 A Bout the same time Antiochus vnderooke his seconde voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there sene through out all the citie of Ierusalem, fortie dayes long, horsemen running in the aire, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speare men,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in array, incountering & coursing one against another with shaking of shields and multitude of dartes, and drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour sene, and harnes of all forties.

4 Therefore euerie man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forthe a false rumour, as thogh Antiochus had bene dead, Iaso toke at the least a thousand me, and came suddenly vpon the citie, & they that were vpon the walles, being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castel, but Iason slewe his owne citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue the aduantage against his kinsmen is greatest disaduantage, but thought that he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gat not the superioritie, but at the last receiued shame for the rewarde of his traifon, and went againe like a vagabound into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked couerfation, for he was accused before Areta, the King of the Arabians, and fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euerie man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemy of his countrey and citizens, and was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased manie out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that he was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that had cast manie out vnburyed, was throwen out him self, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: nether was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the King, he thought that Iudea wolde haue fallen from him: wherefore he came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and toke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they shulde kill, and not spare suche as they met, and to slay suche as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yong me, and olde men, and a destruction of men & women & children, and virgines, and infants were murdered:

14 So that within thre dayes were slayne foure score thousand, and fortie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as manie folde as were slayne.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst go into the moste holy Temple of all the worlde, hauing Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne countrey, to be his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands toke the holie vessels, which other Kings had giue for the garnishing, glorie and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So haucie in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not, that God was not a litle wrothe for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which suche contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in manie sinnes, he, as sone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whome Seleucus the King sent to vewe the treasure.

19 But God hathe not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nation sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde shal it be partaker of the benefites of the Lord. and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shal be reconciled, it shal be set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eight hundred talents out of the Temple, he gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men sayle vpon the drye land, and to walke vpon the sea: suche an hie minde had he.

22 But he left deputies to vex the people: at Ierusalem Philippe a Phrygia by birth, in maners more cruel then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with the Menelaus, which was more grieuous to the citizens then the other, and was despiteful against the Iewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruel prince, with an armie of two & twentie thousand, whome he commanded to slaye those that were toward mans age, & to sell the women, and the yonger sorte.

25 So when he came to Ierusalē, he fained peace, & kept him stil vntil the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Iewes keeping the feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slewe all the that were gone forth to the shewe, and running through the citie with his men armed, he murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wildernes, and liued there in the mountaines with his company among the beastes, & dwelling there, and eating grasse, lest they shulde be partakers of the filthines.

¶ CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 23 The grievous paine of Eleazarus.

† Or, Antiochia

1 Not long after this, sent the King an olde man of Athens, for to compel the Iewes, to transgresse the Lawes of the fathers, and not to be gouerned by the Law of God,

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter that kepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked gouernement was fore and grievous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, and gluttonie of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, & had to do with womē within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawful.

5 The altar also was full of suche things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Nether was it lawful to kepe Sabbath, nor to obserue their ancient feastes, nor plainly to confesse him self to be a Iewe.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were grievously cōpelled perforce euerie moneth to banker, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to go in the procession of Bacchus with garlandes of yuie.

8 Moreouer through the counsel of Ptolemeus, there went out a commandemēt vnto the next cities of the heathē against the Iewes, that the lyke custome, & banquetting shulde be kept.

9 And who so wolde not conforme them selues to the maners of the Gentiles, shul-de be put to death: then might a mā haue sene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth, that had circumcised their sonnes, whome when they had led rounde about the citie (the babes hanging at their breastes) they cast them downe headlong ouer the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into denes to kepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discouered vnto Philippe, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honorable day they were afraied to helpe them selues.

12 ¶ Now I beseeche those which reade this boke, that thei be not discouraged for the se calamities, but that thei iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnes not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straight waies to punish them.

14 For the Lord doeth not long waite for vs, as for other nations, whome he punisheth when thei are come to the fulnes of their sinnes.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our sinnes shulde not be heaped vp to the ful, so that afterwarde he shulde punish vs.

16 And therefore he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this be spoken now for a warnig vnto vs: & now wil we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 ¶ Eleazar then one of the principal scribes, an aged man, & of a wel fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swines flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to die gloriously then to liue with hatred, offred him self willingly to the torment, and spit it out.

20 As they ought to go [to death] which suffer punishment for suche things as it is not lawful to taste of, for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banquet, for the olde friendship of the man, toke him aside priuely, and prayed him, that he wolde take suche flesh, as was lawful for him to vse, and as he wolde prepare for him selfe, and dissemble as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the King, euen the flesh of the sacrifice,

22 That in so doing he might be deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, he wolde receiue this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discretely, & as

† Or, eating of the flesh he was sacrificed.

as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeres, and the honour of his gray heeres, whereunto he was come, & his moste honest conuersation from his childehode, but chiefly the holy Law made & giuen by God: therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straight wayes to send him to the graue.

24 For it becometh not our age, [said he,] to dissemble, whereby many yong persones might thinke, that Eleazar being foure score yere olde and ten were now gone to another religion,

25 And so through myne hypocricie (for a litle time of a transitorie life) they might be deceiued by me, and I shulde procure malediction, and reproche to myne olde age.

26 For thogh I were now deliuered from torment of men, yet colde I nore scape the hand of the Almighty, nether aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will now change this life manfully, and wil shewe my selfe such as mine age requireth,

28 And so wil leaue a notable example for such as be yong, to die willingly & courageously for the honorable & holy Lawes. And when he had said these wordes, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed þe loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thoght it had bene a rage.

30 And as he was readie to giue the gost because of the strokes, he sighed and said, The Lord that hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, I am scourged and suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my minde I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, & a memorial of vertue, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seven brethren and of their mother.

1 It came to passe also that seven brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the King, against the Law, to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whippes.

2 But one of them, which spake first, said thus, What sekest thou? and what woldest thou knowe of vs? we are readie to dye, rather then to transgresse the Lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the King angrie, and commanded to heat pannes and cauldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to flay him and to cut of the vtmost partes of his bodie in the sight of his other brethren & his mother.

5 Now when he was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to be broght aliue to the fyre and to frye him in the panne: and while the smoke for a long tyme smoked out of the panne, the [other brethren] with their mother, exhorted one another to die courageously, saying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doeth regarde vs, and indeede taketh pleasure in vs, as Moyses declared in the song wherein he testified openly, saying,

*Deut. 32, 36.

That [God] will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 ¶ So whē the first was dead after this maner, they broght the seconde to make him a mocking stocke: and when they had pulled the skinne with the heere ouer his head, they asked him, if he wolde eat, or he were punished in all the members of the bodie.

8 But he answered in his owne langage, & said, No. Wherefore he was tormented forthewith like the first.

9 And when he was at þe last breth, he said, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the worlde will raise vs vp, which dye for his Lawes, in the resurrection of euertlasting life.

10 ¶ After him was the thirde had in derision, and whē they demanded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hands boldly,

11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Law of God, I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 In so much that the King & they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

14 And when he was now readie to dye, he said thus, It is better that we shoulde chage this which we might hope for of men, & wait for our hope from God, that we may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 ¶ Afterwarde they broght the fift also and tormented him,

16 Who looked vpon the King, & said, Thou halt power among men, and thogh thou be a mortal man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsaken our nation.

17. But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great power, how he wil torment thee & thy sede.

18. After him also they broght the sixt, who being at the point of death, said, Deceiue not thy self foolishly: for we suffer these things, which are worthie to be wored at for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19. But thinke not thou, which vndertakest to fight against God, that thou shalt be vnpunished.

20. But the mother was marueilous about all other, & worthie of honorable memorie: for when she sawe her seue sonnes slaine within the space of one day, she suffred it with a good wil, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21. Yea, she exhorted euerie one of them in her owne langage, and being ful of courage and wisdom, stirred vp her womanlie affections with a malie stomacke, and said vnto them,

22. I can not tel how ye came into my wombe: for I nether gaue you breth nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your bodie,

23. But douteles the Creator of the worlde, which formed the birth of man, & founde out the beginning of all things, wil also of his owne mercie giue you breth and life againe, as ye now regarde not your owne selues, for his Lawes sake.

24. Now Antiochus thinking him self despised, & considering the iniurious wordes, while the yongest was yet aliue, he did exhorte him not onely with wordes, but swore also vnto him by an othe that he wolde make him riche and welliche: if he wolde forsake the Lawes of his fathers, & that he wolde take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

25. But when the yong mā wolde in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that she wolde counsel the yong man to saue his life.

26. And when he had exhorted her with manie wordes, she promised him that she wolde counsel her sonne.

27. So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her owne langage, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke thre yeres, & nourished thee, and toke care for thee vnto this age, and broght thee vp.

28. I beseeche thee, my sonne, loke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankind made likewise.

29. Feare not this hangman, but shewe thy self worthie suche brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30. While she was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man said, Whome wait ye for? I wil not obey the Kings commandment: but I wil obey the commandment of the Lawe, that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31. And thou that imaginest all mischief against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32. For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes.

33. But thogh the liuing Lord be angrie with vs a litle while for our chastening & correction, yet wil he be reconciled with his owne seruants.

34. But thou, o man without religion & most wicked of all men, list not thy self vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vngertene hope, and listest thine hands against the seruants of God.

35. For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of almighty God, which seeth all things.

36. My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are now vnder the diuine covenant of euerlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37. Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my bodie and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he wil be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onelie God.

38. And that in me and my brethren, which of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39. Then the King being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him then the others, and toke it grieuously, that he was mocked.

40. So he also dyed holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41. Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42. Let this now be enough spoken concerning the banquet, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1. Judas gathereth together his hoste. 2. Nicanor is sent against Judas. 3. Judas exhorteth his soldiers to constantie.

stantie. 29 Nicanor is overcome. 27 The Iewes giue thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding parte of the spoile vnto the fatherles and vnto the widdowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

Then Iudas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuely into the townes, & called their kinsfolkes & friends together, & toke vnto the all suche as continued in the Iewes religiō, and assembled six thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that he wolde haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of euerie man, and haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that he wolde haue compassion vpon the citie þat was destroyed, & almost brought to the ground, & that he wolde heare þat voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 And that he wolde remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, & the blasphemies committed against his Name, & that he wolde shewe this hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he colde not be withstand by the heathē: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercie.

6 Therefore he came at vnwares, & burnt vp the townes and cities: yet he toke the moste commodious places, and slewe many of the enemies.

7 But specially he vsed the nightes to make suche assalts, in so muche that the brute of his manlines was spred euerie where.

8 ¶ So when Philippe sawe that this mā increased by litle and litle, and that things prospered with him for the moste parte, he wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Cœlosyria & Phœnice, to helpe him in the Kings busines.

9 Then sent he spedely Nicanor [the sonne] of Patroclus, a special friend of his, & gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousand men, to rote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a captaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the King of two thousand talents; which the Romaines shulde haue, to be taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on the seacoast, prouoking the to bye Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sel fourescore & ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almightie God, that shulde come vpon him.

12 When Iudas then knew of Nicanors coming, he tolde the that were with him, of the coming of the armie.

13 Now were there some of the feareful, which trusted not vnto the righteousness of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besoght the Lord together, to deliuer the from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them, or euer he came nere them.

15 And though he wolde not do it for their sakes, yet for the couenāt made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holie and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about six thousand, exhorting them not to be afraied of their enemies, nether to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vniustly done to the holy place, and the crueltie done to the citie by derision, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldenes: but our confidence is in the almightie God, which at a becke can bothe destroy them that come against vs, and all the worlde.

19 Moreouer he admonished them of the helpe þat [God] shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred and foure score, and siue thousand vnder Sennacherib,

20 And of the battel that they had in Baby lon against the Galatians, how they came in all to þat battel eight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousand slewe an hundred and twentie thousand through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21 Thus whē he had made the bolde with these wordes, and readie to dye for the Lawes and the countrey, he deuided his armie into foure partes,

22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the armie, [to wit,] Simon, and Ioseph and Jonathan, giuing eche one fiftene hundred men.

23 And when Eleazarus had red the holie booke, and giuen them a tokē of the helpe of God, [Iudas] which led the forewarde, ioyned with Nicanor.

24 And because þat Almightye helped the, they slewe aboue nine thousand men, & wounded and maimed the moste parte of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight.

25 And toke the money frō those that came to bye them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they wolde no longer pursue them.

27 So they toke their weapōs, & spoiled the enemies, & kept ꝑ Sabbath giuing thankes and praising the Lord wōderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercie.

*Nomb. 31, 27.
2. sam. 30, 24.

28 And after the Sabbath, *they distributed the spoiles to the sicke, & to the fatherles, & to the widdowes, & deuided the residue among them selues and their children.

29 When this was done, & they all had made a general prayer, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterwarde wth one consent they fel vpō Timotheus & Bacchides, & slewe aboute twētie thousand, & wanne hie & strōghol des, & deuided great spoiles, & gaue an equal portiō vnto ꝑ sicke, & to ꝑ fatherles, & to ꝑ widdowes, & to aged persones also 31 Moreouer they gathered their weapons together, and layed them vp diligently in conuenient places, and broght the remnāt of the spoiles to Ierusalem.

32 They slewe also Philarches a moste wicked persone, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed the Iewes manie wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of victorie in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fyre vpon the holic gates, which was fled into a litle house: so he receiued a rewarde mete for his wickednes.

34 And that moste wicked Nicanor, which had broght a thousand marchants to bye the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lord broght downe of them whome he thoght as nothing, in so muche that he put of his glorious raiment, and fled ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitiue seruant, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romaines, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalē, broght newes, that the Iewes had a defender, and for this cause none colde hurt the Iewes, because they followed the Lawes appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is put to flight. 5 As he persecuteth the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord.

13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dyeth miserably.

1 AT the same time, came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, & went about to robbe the Temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ranne in a rage to defende them selues with their weapons, and put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatana, he vnderstode the things that had come vnto Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4 And then being chafed in his fume, he thoght to impute to the Iewes their faute, which had put him to flight, & therefore commanded his charet man to driue continually, and to dispatche the iourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had said thus in his pryde, I wil make Ierusalem a commune burying place of the Iewes, when I come thether.

5 But the Lord almightie and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for as sone as he had spokē these wordes, a paine of the bowels, that was remediles, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inner partes,

6 And that moste iustely, for he had tormēted other mens bowels with diuerse and strange torments.

7 Howbeit he wolde in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fyre in his rage against the Iewes, and cōmanded to haste the iorney: but it came to passe that he fel downe from the charet that rāne swiftly, so that all the members of his bodie were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus he that a litle afore thoght he might commande the floods of the sea (so proude was he beyonde the condition of man) and weigh the hie mountaines in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and caried in an horselitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God,

9 *So that the wormes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fel off for paine and torment, and all his armie was grieved at his † smel.

*Aa. 13, 11.

10 Thus no man colde beare because of his stinke, him that a litle afore thoght he might reach to the starres of heauen.

11 Then he began to leaue of his great pride, & self wil, when he was plagued, & came to the knowledge of him self by the scourge of God, & by his paine which increased euerie moment.

12 And when he him self might not abide his owne stinke, he said these wordes, It is mete to be subiect vnto God, & that a man which

†Or, rottenne

†Or, God their defender.

which is mortal, shulde not think him self equal vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked persone prayed also vnto the Lord; who wold now haue no mercy on him.

14 And said thus, that he wolde set at libertie þ holie cite vnto the w he made haste to destroy it, & to make it a buryig place.

15 And astouching the Iewes, whome he had iudged not worthie to be buried, but wolde haue cast them out with their children to be deuoured of the foules & wilde beafts, he wolde make them like þ citizens of Athenes.

16 And whereas he had spoyled the holie Temple afore, he wolde garnish it with great giftes, and encrease the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Yea, and that he wolde also become a Iewe him self, and go through al the worlde that was inhabited, & preache the power of God.

18 But for all this his paines wolde not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnder written, cõteining the forme of a supplication.

19 THE KING & prince Antiochus vnto þ Iewes his louing citizens wisheth muche ioye health and prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare wel, & if al things go after your minde, I giue great thanks vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Thogh I ly sicke, yet I am mindful of your honour, and good wil for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned frõ the countrey of Persia, and fel into a fore diseale, I thocht it necessarie to care for the commune safetie of all.

22 Not distrusting mine helth, but haying great hope to escape this sickenes.

23 Therefore considering that when my father led an host against þ high cõtreys he appointed who shulde succede him:

24 That if anie controuersie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that anie tydings were broght that were grieuous, they in the land might knowe to whome the affaires were committed, that they shuld not be troubled.

25 Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours, that are borderers, and neighbours vnto my kingdome, wait for all occasions, and loke but for opportunitie, I haue ordained that my sonne Antiochus shal be King, whome I oft commended & committed to many of you, when I went into the hie prouinces, and haue writteth vnto him as followeth hercafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, & require you, to remeber the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euerie man wil be faithful to me and to my sonne.

27 For I trust that he wil be gentle and louing vnto you according to my minde.

28 ¶ Thus the murtherer and blasphemier suffered most grieuouly, & as he had entreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey among the mountaines.

29 And Philippe that was broght vp with him, caryed away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Judas Maccabeus taketh the cite and the Temple. 10 The actes of Eupator. 16 The Iewes fight against the Idumians. 24 Timotheus innadeth Iudea, with whome Iudas ioyneth battel. 29 Five men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

1 Maccabeus now and his companie, through þ helpe of the Lord, wan the Temple & the cite againe.

2 And destroyed the altars, and chapels that the heathen had buylded in the open places.

3 And clesed the Temple, and made another altar, & burned stones, & toke fire of them, & offred sacrifices, and incense two yeres, and six moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewe bread.

4 When that was done, they fel downe flat vpon the ground, and besoght the Lord, that they might come no more into such troubles: but if thei sinned anie more against him, that he him selfe wold chastise them with mercie, & that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous, & barbarous nations.

5 Now vpon the same day, that the strangers polluted the Temple, on the verie same day it was clesed againe euen the five and twentieth day of þ same moneth which is Challeu.

6 They kept eight dayes with gladnes as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembring, that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaines and denues like beafts.

7 And for the same cause they bare grene bowes, and faire branches and palmes, & sang psalmes vnto him that had giuen the good successe in clesing his place.

8 They ordeined also by a commune statute and decre, that euerie yere those dayes shulde be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.

II. Maccabees.

- 9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes.
- 10 ¶ Now wil we declare the Actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres, that followed:
- 11 For when he had taken the kingdome, he made one Lyfias, which had bene capitaine of the hoste in Phenice, & Coelofyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the realme.
- 12 For Ptolemeus that was called Macron, purposed to do iustice vnto the Iewes for the wrong, that had bene done vnto the, and wet about to behaue him self peaceably with them.
- 13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seing that he was no more in estimation he was discouraged, & poysonned him self, and dyed.
- 14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he interteined strangers, and made warre oft times against the Iewes.
- 15 Moreouer the Idumeans that held the strong holdes, which were mete for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen fro Ierusalem toke in hand to continue warre.
- 16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besoght God that he wolde be their helper, and so they fel vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans,
- 17 And assalted them fore, that thei wanne the places, and slewe al that foght against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slewe no lesse then twentie thousand.
- 18 And because certaine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castels, hauing all maner of things conuenient to susteine the siege,
- 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Ioseph, and Zaccheus also, & those that were with the which were ynowe to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessarie.
- 20 Now thei that were with Simon, being led with couetousnes, were intreated for money, (thorowe certeine of those that were in the castel,) and toke seuentie thousand drachmes, & let some of the escape.
- 21 But whē it was tolde Maccabeus what was done, he called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men, that they had solde their brethren for money, and let their enemies go.
- 22 So he slewe them when they were conuict of traifon, and immediatlie wan the two castels:
- 23 And hauing good successe, as in all the warres that he toke in hand, he slew in the two castels mo then twentie thousand.
- 24 Now Timotheus whome the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sortes, & brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia to winne Iewrie by strength.
- 25 But when he drewe nere, Maccabeus, and they that were w him, turned to pray vnto God, & sprinkled earth vpon their heads, & girded their reines w sackcloth,
- 26 And fel downe at the fote of the altar, and besoght [the Lord] to be merciful to them, and to be anemie to their enemies, and to be an aduersarie to their aduersaries, * as the Law declareth.
- 27 So after the prayer, they toke their weapons, and went on further from the citie, and when they came nere to the enemies, they toke hede to them selues.
- 28 And when the morning appeared, thei both ioyned together: the one parte had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, and the other toke courage as a guide of the warre.
- 29 But when the battel waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fise comely me vpon horses with bridels of golde, and two of them led the Iewes,
- 30 And toke Maccabeus betwixt them, & couered him on euerie side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts, & lightnings against the enemies, so that thei were confounded with blindnes, & beaten downe and ful of trouble.
- 31 There were slaine of [sotemen] twentie thousand and fise hundreth, and six hundred horsemen.
- 32 As for Timotheus him self, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was capitaine.
- 33 But Maccabeus and his companie laid siege against the fortresses with courage for foure daies.
- 34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible wordes.
- 35 Neuertheles vpon the fift day in the morning twentie yong men of Maccabeus copanie, whose hearts were in flamed, because of p blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and w bolde stomackes smote downe those that they met.
- 36 Others also that climed vp vpon the engines of warre against the that were within, set fyre vpon the towres, and burnt those those blasphemers quicke with the fyres that they had made, and others brake vp the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and toke the citie.

37 And hauing founde Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done they praised the Lord with psalmes and thanksgiuing, w^{ch} had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lysias goeth about to overcome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romans to the Iewes.

1 Verie shortly after this, Lysias the Kings stewarde, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, toke sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about foure score thousand, with al the horsemē, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple wolde he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he wolde sell the Priests office euerie yere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great nomber of foremē, and thousands of horsemen, and in his foure score Elephants,

5 He came into Iudea, and drewe nere to Beth-sura, which was a castel of defence, fīue & fourlongs from Ierusalem, and laid fore siege vnto it.

6 But whē Maccabeus and his companie knewe that he besieged the holdes, they, & all the people made prayers with weping and teares before the Lord, that he wolde send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus him self first of all toke weapons, exhorting the other that they wolde iopard their selues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a courageous minde.

8 And as thei were there besides Ierusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, shaking his harnes of golde.

9 Then they praised the merciful God all together, and toke heart, in so much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the moste cruel beasts, and to breake downe walles of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in array, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was merciful vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lions, they slewe eleuen thousand [foremē,] and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Manie of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias him self fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vnderstanding cōsidering what losse he had had, & knowing, that the Hebrewes coulde not be overcome, because the almighty God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised, that he wolde consent to all things which were reasonable, and persuaue the King to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lysias requestes, hauing respect in all things to the commune welth, and whatsoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias conteyning these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greting.

17 Iohn & Abessalom, which were sent fro you, deliuered me the things that you demaunde by writing, and required me to fulfil the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were me te to be reported to the King him self, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends towarde his affaires, hereafter also I wil indeuour my self to do you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commandement to these men, and to those whome I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye wel, the hundredth and eight & fortie yere, the foure and twētieth day of the moneth Dioscorinthus.

22 ¶ Now the Kings letter conteyned these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our wil is, that they which are in our realme, liue quietly, that euerie man may applie his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes wolde not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but wolde kepe their owne maner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that we wolde suffer them to liue after their owne Lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this natio shalbe in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that thei may be governed according to the custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt do wel therefore to sed vnto them, and grant them peace, that whe they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cherefully go about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greting.

28 If ye fare wel, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, and to applie your owne bulines.

30 Wherefore, those that wil departe, we giue them fre libertie, vnto the thirde day of the moneth of Panthicus, 31 That Iewes may vse their owne maner of liuing and Lawes, like as afore, & none of them by any maner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus to comforte you.

33 Fare ye wel: the hondreth and eight & fortie yere, the fiftenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 ¶ The Romans also sent a letter containing these wordes, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and Tirus Manilius embassadours of the Romans, vnto the people of the Iewes send greting.

35 The things that Lyfias the Kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shal repper vnto the King, send hether some wth speede, when ye haue considered the matter diligently, that we may consult thereupon as shalbe best for you: for we must go vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and send some men, that we may knowe your minde.

38 Fare wel: this hundreth and eight and fortie yere, the fiftenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

¶ CHAP. XII.

1 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 2 The wicked dedes of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 3 Judas is aduenged of them. 4 He setteth fyre in the haven of Iamnia. 5 The pursure of the Iewes against Timotheus. 6 Timotheus is taken and let go unhurt. 7 Judas pursueth Gorgias.

¶ Vhen these couenants were made, Lyfias went vnto the King, and the Iewes tilled their grounde.

2 But the gouernours of the places, (as) Timotheus and Apollonius the sonne of Getineus, and Ieronimus, and also Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the gouernour of Cyprus, wolde not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe also did suche a vile act: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to go with their wiues and children into the shippes, which they had prepared as thogh they had oght them none euil wil.

4 And so by the commune aduise of the cite, they obeyed them, & suspected nothing: but when they were gone forth in to the depe, they drowned no lesse then two hundreth of them.

5 Now when Judas knewe of this crueltie shewed against his nation, he commadeth those men that were with him, to make them readie.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fyre in the haven by night, & burnt the ships, and those that fled thence he slewe.

7 And when the cite was shut vp, he departed as thogh he wolde come againe, and roote out all them of the cite of Ioppe.

8 ¶ But when he perceiued that the Iaminites were minded to do in lyke maner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among the,

9 He came vpon the Iaminites by night, & set fyre in the haven with the nanie, so that the light of the fyre was sene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundreth and fortie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about fise thousand men [of fore] and fise hundreth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battel was sharpe, but it prospered with Judas thorowe the helpe of God: the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, be foght Judas to make peace with them, & promised to giue him certeine cartel, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Judas thinking that they shulde in dede be profitable concerning manie things, granted them peace: whercupon they shoke hands, & so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Judas also assailed a cite called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced rounde about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put suche trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of vitalles, that they were the slacker in their doings, reuiling the that were with Judas, and reproching the: yea, they blasphemed blasphemed and spake suche wordes as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers calling vpon the great Prince of this worlde (which without any instruments, or engines of warre, did cast downe the walles of Iericho, in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assalt against the walles,

16 And toke the citie by the wil of God, & made an exceeding great slaughter, in so muche that a lake of two furlongs broad, which laye thereby, seemed to flowe with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seven hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes, that are called Tubieni.

18 But they founde not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garison in a verie strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went forth, and slewe those that Timotheus had left in the forteresse more then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, and ranged his armie by bandes, and went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thousand men of fote, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he sent the women, & children, and the other baggage afore vnto a forteresse called Carnion (for it was hard to besiege, and vneasie to come vnto, because of the straites on all sides.)

22 But when Iudas first bade came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, and a trembling was among them thorow the presence of him that seeth all things, in so muche that they fleing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the pointes of their owne swordes.

23 But Iudas was verie earnest in pursuing, and slewe those wicked men: yea, he slewe thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also him self fell into the hands of Dositheus, & Sosipater, whome he besoght with muche crafte to let him go with his life, because he had manie of the Iewes parents & the brethren of some of them, which if they put him to death, shulde be despised.

25 So when he had assured them with manie wordes, & promised that he wolde restore them without hurt, they let him go for the helth of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus towarde Carnion, and Atargation, and slewe five and twentie thousand persones.

27 And after that he had chased away and slayne them, Iudas removed the hoste towarde Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lysias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles, defending them mightely: there was also great preparation of engines of warre, and dartes.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they won the citie, and slewe five and twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Ierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which dwelt there, testified, that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, & intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendlie still vnto them, and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea.

33 Who came out with thre thousand men of fote and foure hundred horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Iewes were slayne.

35 And Dositheus one of the Baccenors, which was on horsebacke and a mightie man, toke Gorgias, and laied holde on his garment, and drewe him by force, because he wolde haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horsman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote of his shulder, so that Gorgias fled into Marisa.

36 And when they that were with Eserin, had foughten long, and were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that he wolde shewe him self to be their helper, and captaine of the field.

37 And then he began in his owne language, and sung psalmes with a loude voyce, in so muche that straight wayes he made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seventh day came, they clensted themselves (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the daye following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slayne, and to burye them with their kinsmen in their fathers graves, 40 Now vnder the coates of euerie one that was slayne, they founde iewels that had bene consecrate to the idoles of the *Iammites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Law. Then euerie man sawe, that this was the cause wherefore they were slayne.

41 And so euerie man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue them selues to prayer, & besoght him, that they shulde not vterly be destroyed for the faute committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to kepe them selues from sinne, for so muche as they sawe before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slayne.

43 And hauing made a gathering through the companie, sent to Ierusalē about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinneoffring, doing very wel and honestly that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if he had not hoped, that they which were slayne, shulde rise againe, it had bene superfluous, and vaine, to pray for the dead.

45 And therefore he perceiued, that there was great fauour laid vp for those that dyed godly. (It was an holie, and a good thought.) So he made a reconciliation for the dead that they might be deliuered fro sinne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iudea. 4 The death of Menelaus: 10 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 He killeth foureteene thousand men in the tentes of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

I N the hundreth, fortie and nine yere it was tolde Iudas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the stewarde and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing bothe in their armie an hundreth and ten thousand men of fore of the Grecians, and fise thousand horsemen, and two and twentie elephants, and thre hundreth chariots set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned him self with the and with great disceit encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the countrei, but because he thoght to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of Kings moued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the King that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the King commanded to bring him to Bercia to put him vnto death as the maner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fiftie cubites high, ful of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned rounde, and on euerie side it rouled downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of anie other grieuous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man shulde dye suche a death, and it was a moste iuste thing that Menelaus shulde want buryal,

8 For because he had committed manie sinnes by the altar, whose fyre and ashes were holie: he him self also dyed in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the King raged in his minde, and came to shewe him self more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things whē Iudas perceiued, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euer he had holpen them, he wolde now helpe them, when they shulde be put from their Law, from their countrey and from the holie Temple:

11 And that he wolde not suffer the people, which a litle afore began to recouer, to be subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So whē they had done this all together, and besoght the Lord for mercie with weping, and fasting, and falling downe thre daies together, Iudas exhorted them to make them selues readie.

13 And he being aparte with the Elders, toke counsel to go forthe, afore the King broght his hoste into Iudea, & shulde take the citie, & cōmit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the worlde, he exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euē vnto death, for the Lawes, the Temple, the citie, their countrey, and the commune wealth, and camped by Modin.

15 And so giving his souldiers fora watche worde, The victorie of God, he piked out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the Kings campe, and slewe of the hoste fourene thousand men, and the greatest elephant with all that sate vpon him.

16 Thus when they had broght a great feare, and trouble in the campe, & all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

a Fro this verse to the end of this chapter the Greke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, muche lesse certaine doctrine can be gathered thereby: also it is euident that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it differeth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the autor of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmitie, desireth pardon, if he haue not attained to that he shulde. And it seemeth, that this Iason of Cyrene, an, out of whom he toke this abbridgement, is Ioseph Ben Gorion, who hath written in Hebrew five bookes of these matters, and intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, lib. 3. cap. 19. for it is contrarie to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so do ne, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establishe a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs was to proue that women might minister the sacraments, Exod. 4. 24. or the example of Razis that one might kill him self, whom the autor so much commēdeth. I. Macc. 14. 41.

10, gaue the parted,

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 ¶ Now when the King had tasted the manlines of the Iewes, he went about to take the holdes by policie, 19 And marched towarde Beth-sura, w^h was a strôg holde of the Iewes: but he was chased away hurt, and lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, suche things as were necessarie.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secretes to h enemies: therefore he was sought out, and whē they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the King commune with them that were in Beth-sura, & t oke truce with them, departed, and ioyned battel with Iudas, who ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstode, that Philippe (whome he had left to be ouerseer of his busines at Antiochia) did rebell against him, he was astonished, so that he yelded him self to the Iewes, and made them an othe to do all things that were right, and was appeased towarde them, and offred sacrifice and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentlenes to the place,

24 And embraced Maccabeus, and made him capitaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreneans.

25 Neuertheles, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content w^h this agreement: & because they were grieued, thei wolde that he shulde breake the couenants.

26 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgemēt seat, and excused the fact as wel as he colde, & perswaded them, and pacified them, and made them wel affectioned, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings iourney, and his returne.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes. 13 Nicanor maketh a compacte with the Iewes. 19 VVhich he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commandeth Razis to be taken, who slayeth him self.

1 After thre yeres was Iudas enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and nauie by the hauen of Tripolis,

2 When he had wonne the countrey, and slaine Antiochus and his lieutenant Lysias.

3 Now Alcimus, which had bene the high Priest, and wilfully defiled him self in the time that all things were confounded, seing that by no meanes he colde saue him self, nor haue anie more entrance to the holic altar,

4 He came to King Demetrius in the hundredth, fiftie and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, & of the boughes, which were vsed solemnely in the Temple, and that day he helde his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie, & occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what deuises or counsels the Iewes leane vnto.

6 To the which he answered, h Iewes that be called Asideans whose capitaine is Iudas Maccabeus, mainteine warres, and make insurrections, and wil not let the realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the high priesthode) am now come hether,

8 Partely because I was wel affectioned vnto the Kings affaires, and secondly because I sought h profite of mine owne citizē: for all our people, thorowe their rashnes, are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore, o King, seing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the countrey, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanitie, that is readie to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the matter shulde be wel.

11 When he had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing euil wil at Iudas, set Demetrius on fyre.

12 Who immediatly called for Nicanor, the ruler of the elephantes, and made him capitaine ouer Iudea, 13 And sent him forthe, commanding him to slay Iudas, and to scatter the that were with him, & to make Alcimus high Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathen which fled out of Iudea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now whē the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled them selues with earth, & prayed vnto him which had appointed him self a people for euer, and did alwaies defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of the capitaine, they remoued straight wayes from thence, and came to the towne of Dessan, what astonished thorowe the sudden silence of the enemies.

18. Neuertheles Nicanor hearing the malignes of them that were with Iudas, and the bolde stomackes that they had for their country, durst not proue the matter with blood shedding.

† Or, Theodotus.
† Or, Mattathias.
19. Wherefore, he sent Posidonius, † Theodotus, and † Matthias before, to make peace.

20. So when they had taken long aduise ment thereupon, and the captaine shewed in vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and consented to the couenants,

21. And they appointed a day when they shulde particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery man his stoole.

22. Neuertheles Iudas commanded certein men of armes to waite in conuenient places, lest there shulde suddenly arise anie euil thorowe the enemies: and so they communed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23. Nicanor, while he abode at Ierusalem, did none hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

† Or, had Iudas before his eyes.
24. He loued Iudas, and fauoured him in his heart.

25. He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, and they liued together.

26. But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwene them, & vnderstanding the couenantes that were made, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordeined Iudas a traitour, to the realme, to be his successour.

27. Then the King was displeased, and by the reportes of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was verie angrie for the couenants, commanding him that he shulde sed Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28. When these things came to Nicanor, he was astonished and sore grieued, that he shulde breake the things wherein they had agreed, seing that that man had committed no wickednes.

29. But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the King, he sought craftely to accomplish it.

30. Notwithstanding when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, and that he intreated him more rudely then he was wonte, he perceiued that suche rigour came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrewe him self from Nicanor.

31. But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by [Maccabeus] worthie policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offring their vsual sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32. And when they sware that they colde not tell where the man was, whome he sought,

33. He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this manner, If ye wil not deliuer me Iudas as a prisoner, I wil make this Temple of God a plaine field, and wil breake downe the altar, and wil erect a notable Temple vnto Bacchus.

34. After these wordes he departed: then the Priests lift vp their hands toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner,

35. Thou, o Lord of all things, which hast nede of nothing, woldest that the Temple of thine habitation shulde be among vs.

36. Therefore now, o moste holy Lord, kepe this house euer vndefiled, whiche lately was censed, & stoppe all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37. Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of the cite, and a man of verie good reporte, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38. For this man afore times when the Iewes were minded to kepe them selues vndefiled and pure, being accused to be of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to spend his body and life with all constancie for the religion of the Iewes.

39. So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fise hundreth men of warre to take him.

40. For he thought by taking him to do the Iewes muche hurte.

41. But when this companie wolde haue taken his castel, and wolde haue broken the gates by violence, and comanded to bring fyre to burne the gates, so that he was ready to be taken on euerie side, he fel on his sworde,

42. Willing rather to dye manfully, then to giue him self into the hands of wicked men, and to suffer reproche vnworthie for his noble stocke.

43. Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwene the dores, he ran boldly to the wal, and cast him self downe manfully among the multitude.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day. 2 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 3 Maccabeus exhorting vnto the Iewes the vision, incourageth them. 4 The prayer of Maccabeus. 5 Maccabeus commendeth Nicanors head and handes to be cut off, and his tongue to be giuen to the foules. 6 The entor encureth him selfe.

Now when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheles the Iewes that were compelled to go with him, said, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the day, that is appointed by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demanded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And whē they said, There is a liuing Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 Thē he said, And I am mightie vpon earth to commande them for to arme them selues, and to performe the Kings busines. Notwithstanding, he colde not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memoriall of the victorie obtained of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence and a perfite hope that the Lord wolde helpe him.

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the coming of the heathen, but alway to remēber the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust now also, that they shulde haue the victorie by the Almightye.

9 Thus he incouraged them by the Law and Prophetes, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing.

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the discerfulness of the heathē, and how they had broken their othes.

11 Thus he armed euery one of them, not with the assurance of shields and speares, but with wholsome wordes and exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worship to be belueed, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision. He thought that he sawe Onias (which had bene the high Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerēt in behauiour, and of sober consideration, wel spoken, and one that had bene exercised in all pointes of godlines from a child) holding vp his hands towarde heauē, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honorable, and of a wonderful dignitie, and excellencie about him.

14 And Onias spake & said, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth muche for the people, and for the holie citie, (to wit) Ieremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Ieremias helde out his right had, & gaue vnto Iudas a sworde of golde: and as he gaue it, he spake thus, Take this holie sworde a gifte fro God, wherewith thou shalt wounde the aduersaries.

17 And so being comforted by the wordes of Iudas, which were very swete and able to stirre them vp to valiantnes, and to incourage the heartes of the yong men, they determined to pitch no campe, but courageously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to trye the matter hand to hand, because the citie, and the Sactuarie, and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, and children, & brethren and kinsfolkes, they set lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principal feare was for the holie Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the citie, were careful for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whilē they all waited for the tryall of the matter, and the enemies now met with them, and the hoste was set in araye, and the beastes were separated into conuenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings.

21 Maccabeus considering the coming of the multitude, and the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fiercenes of the beastes, helde vp his hands towarde heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, and that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie cometh not by the weapons, but that he giueth the victorie to them that are worthy, as semeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner, O Lord, thou that didst lend thine Angel in the time of Ezeias King of Iuda, who in the hoste of Sennacherib slewe an hundred, fourescore & fife thousand,

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare & dread vnto them, 24 And let them be discomfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an end.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drewe nere with trumpets and shoutings for ioye.

26 But Iudas and his companie praying and calling vpon God, incountered with the enemies,

27 So that with their hands they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slewe no lesse then fife & thirte thousand men: forthorowe the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, & were turning againe with ioye, they vnderstode that Nicanor him self was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and a crye, praising the Almighty in their owne language.

30 Therefore Iudas, which was euer the chief defender of his citizens bothe in bodie and minde, and which bare euer good affection towards them of his nation, commanded to smite of Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called all the of his nation, & set the Priests by the altar, and sent for them of the castel.

32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemour which he had holden vp against the holie Temple of the Almighty with proude braggies.

33 He caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in little pecies, and to be cast vnto the foules, and that the rewardes of his madness shoulde be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So euerie man praised toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he, that hath kept his place vndeified.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the hie castel, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they established all together by a commune decre that they wolde in no case suffer this day without keeping it holie.

37 And that the feast shoulde be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians langage, the day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an end.

39 If I haue done wel, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and bartly, it is that I coude.

40 For as it is hurtful to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delicteth the taste, so the setting out of the matter delicteth the eares of them that read the storie. And here shalbe the end.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST,

according to Matthew.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Historie written by Matthew, Marke, Luke, and Iohn, the Spirit of God so governed their hearts, that although they were foure in number, yet in effect and purpose they so consent, although the whole had bene composed by any one of them, And albeit in stile and manner of writing they be diuers, and sometime one writeth more largely than which the other doth abridge: neuertheless in matter and argument they all tend to one end: which is, to publish to the world the fauour of God towards mankind, through Christ Iesus, whome the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercie and loue. And for this cause they intitle their storie, Gospel, which signifieth good tydings, for as much as God hath performed in dede, that which the Father hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof, and with most affectioned hearts embrace this incomparable treasure freely offered vnto vs: for there is no ioy nor consolation, no peace nor quietnes, no felicitie nor salvation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the very substance of this Gospel, and in whome all the promises are yea and amen. And therefore vnder this word is contained the whole Newe Testament: but commonly we vse this name for the historie, whiche the foure Euangelistes write containing Christs coming in the flesh, his death and resurrection, whiche is the positive summe of our salvation. Matthew, Marke, and Luke are more copious in describing his life and death: but Iohn more laboureth to set forth his doctrine, wherein both Christs office, and also the vertue of his death and resurrection more fully appear: for without this, to knowe that Christ was borne, dead and risen againe, shulde nothing profite vs. The which thing notwithstanding that the three first touch partly, as he also sometime intermedleth the historical narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a more learned interpreter writeth, they describe, as it were, the body, and Iohn setteth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same aply termeth the Gospel writ by Iohn, the key, which openeth the dore to the vnderstanding of the others: for whosoever doth knowe the office, vertue and power of Christ, he shall read that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be the redeemer of the world with most profit. Now as concerning the writers of this historie, it is euident that Matthew was a Publicane or custome gatherer, and was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue bene Petrus discipule, and to haue planted the first Church at Alexandria, where he dyed the eight yere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Phisition of Antiochia and became Pauls discipule and fellowe in all his travels: he liued foure score and foure yeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whome the Lord Iesus, the sonne of Zebedee and brother of Iames, he dyed thre score yeres after Christ, and was buried nere to the Citie of Ephesus.

CHAP. V.

¶ Christ teacheth who are blessed. 13 The salt of the earth and light of the world. 14 Good works.

¶ Christ teacheth who are blessed. 13 The salt of the earth and light of the world. 16 Good workers. 17 Christ came to fulfil the Law. 21 What is meant of their leaſt commandementes; and teachemē ſo, he ſhall be called the leaſt in the kingdome of heauen: but who foeuer ſhall obſerue and teache them the same

but the same shall be called great in the king dom of heauen.

20 For I say vnto you, except your right-eousnes exceede the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heauen.

21 Ye haue heard that it was said vnto them of the olde tyme, Thou shalt not kill, for whosoever killeth, shall be culpable of iudgement.

22 But I say vnto you, whosoever is angry with his brother, is aduulteried, ye, shall be culpable of iudgement. And who so ever saith vnto his brother, Raca, shall be worthe to be punished by the Counsell. And who so ever shall say, Thou fool, shall be worthe to be punished with hel fyre.

23 If then thou bring thy gift to the altar and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

24 Leaueth there thine offering before the altar, and go thy way: first be reconcil-ed to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 Agree with thine aduersarie quickly whiles thou art in the way with him, lest thine aduersarie deliuer thee to the Iudge, & the Iudge deliuer thee to the Ierkeant, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast payed the vtmost farthing.

27 Ye haue heard that it was said to the of olde tyme, Thou shalt not commit adulterie.

28 But I say vnto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adulterie with her already in his heart.

29 Wherefore if thy right eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perishe, than that thy whole bodie shuld be cast into hel.

30 Also if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy mebers perishe, than that thy whole bodie shuld be cast into hel.

31 It hath bene said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him giue her a testimoniall of diuorcement.

32 But I say vnto you, whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) causeth her to commit adulterie: and whosoever shall marie her that is diuorced, committeth adulterie.

33 Againe, ye haue heard that it was said to them of olde tyme, Thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe thy othes to the Lord.

34 But I say vnto you, Swear not at al, neither by heauen, for it is the throne of God.

35 Nor yet by the earth: for it is his fote stool: neither by Ierusalem: for it is the cite of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thyne head, because thou canst not make one heere white or blacke.

37 But let your communication be, Yea yea: Nay, nay. For whatsoever is more than these, commeth of euill.

38 Ye haue heard that it hath bene said
An eye for an eye; and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say vnto you, Resist not euill:
but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turne to hit the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke also.

41 And whosoever will compell thee to go a mile, go with him twaine.

42 Giue to him that asketh, and from him that wolde borowe of thee, turne not away.

43 Ye haue heard that it hath bene said, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say vnto you, Loue your enemies: blesse them that curse you: do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you,

45 That ye may be the children of your Father that is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to arise on the euill, and the good, and sendeth raine on the iuste, & vniuste.

46 For if ye loue them, which loue you, what rewarde shall you haue? Do not the Publicanes euen the same?

47 And if ye be freindly to your brethre onely, what singular thing do ye? do not euen the Publicanes likewise?

48 Ye shall therefore be perfite, as your Father which is in heauen, is perfite.

seeing their¹ faith, said to the sicke of the palse, Sonne, be of good comfort: thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

37 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes said with them selues, This man blasphemeth.

4 But when Iesus sawe their thoghts, he said, Wherefore thinke ye euil things^e in your hearts?

For whether is it easier to say, Thy sin nes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walk?

And that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgive sinnes, (then said he vnto the sick of the pallie,) Arise, take vp thy bed, and go to thine house:

7 And he arose, and departed to his own house.

So when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such authority to men.

And as Iesus passed forth from thence he sawe a man sitting at the receite of custome named Matthew, and said to him, Followe me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meat in his house, beholde, manie Publicanes and sinners, that came thither, sate downe at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw that, they said to his Disciples, Why eateth your Master with Publican^{es} and sinners?

Now when Iesus heard it, he said vnto them, The whole need not a Physician, but they that are sicke.

But go 'ye and learne what this is: "I wil haue mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to cal the righteous, but the sinners to repentance."

¶ Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why doe we and the Pharisees fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

And Iesus said vnto the, Can the children of the marriage chauce moue as long as the bridgrome is with them: But the dayes wil come whē the bridgrome shall be take fro them, & then shall they fast.

6 Moreouer no mā pieceth an' olde garment with a piece off newe clothes: for that that shulde fill it vp, taketh away fro the garment, and the breache is worse: 11

7 Nether do they put newe wine into Holdet vessels: for then the vessels wolde breake, and the wine wolde be spilt, and the vessels shulde perishe: but they put newe wine into newe vessels, and so are bothe preferred.

18 ¶ While he thus spake vnto them, be-holde there came a certeine ruler, & worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased, but come and lay thine hād on her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose, & followed him with his disciples.

20 (And beholde a woman which was diseased with an yssue of blood twelue yeres, came behinde him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she said in her self, If I may touche but his garment onely, I shalbe whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, & seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that houre.

23 Now when Iesus came into the rulers house, and saw the minstrels & the multitude making noyse.

24 He said vnto them, Get you hence: for the maid is not dead, but slepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 And when the multitude were put forth he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose:

26 And this brute went throughout all that land.

27 And as Iesus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying and saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

And when he was come into the house, the blinde came to him; and Iesus said vnto them, ¶ Beleeue ye that I am able to do this? And they said vnto hi, Yea, Lord.

CHAP. X.

Christ sendeth out his Apostles to preach in Judea.
He giveth them charge, teacheth them, and comforteth them against persecutio. The holie Ghost speaketh by his ministers. VVhose we ought to feare, our selues are counted. To confesse Christ.
Not to love our parents more than Christ. To take vp our crosse. To lose or looe the life. To seuer the flesh from the bone.

And he called his twelve disciples vnto him, and gaue them power against vncleane spirits, to cast them out, and to heale euery sicknes, and euery disease.

Now the names of the twelve Apostles are these: The first is Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother: Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, & Iohn his brother:

Philippe and Bartolomew: Thomas & Matthew the Publicane: Iames, the sonne of Alphens, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus;

Simon the Cananite, & Iudas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

These twelve did Iesus send forth, and commaunded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans: enter ye not in.

But go rather to the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdome of heauen is at hand.

Heale the sick: cleanse the lepers: raise vp the dead: cast out the devils. Frely ye haue receiued, frely giue.

Neither possesse ye gold, nor siluer, nor money in your girdels,

Nor a scrip for the iourney, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor a staffe: for the workeman is worthis of his meat.

And into whatsoeuer cite or towne ye shall come, enquire who is worthis in it, and there abide til ye go thence.

And when ye come into an house, salute the house.

And if the house be worthis, let your peace come vpon it: but if it be not wor-this, let your peace returne to you.

14 And whosoever shall not receiue you nor heare your wordes, when ye departe out of that house, or that cite, shake the dust of your feete.

Truly I say vnto you, it shall be easier for them of the land of Sodom & Gomorrah in the day of Iudgement, then for that cite.

Beholde, I send you as sheepe in the middles of wolues: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and innocent as doves.

But beware of men, for they will deli-uer you vp to the Councils, & will scourge you in their synagogues.

And ye shall be brought to the gouer-nours and Kings for my sake, in witnes to them, and to the Gentiles.

But when they deliuer you vp, take not thought how or what ye shall speake for it shall be giuen you in that houre: what ye shall say.

For it is not ye that speake, but the spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

And the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to dye.

And ye shall be hated of all men for my NAMES: but he that endureth to the end he shall be saved.

And when they persecute you in this citie, flee into another: for verily I say vnto you, ye shall not finishe all the cities of Israel, till the Sonne of man be come.

The disciple is not aboue his master, nor the seruant aboue his Lord.

It is yough for the disciple to be as his master is, and the seruant as his Lord.

If they haue called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household.

Feare them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be disclosed, nor hid, that shall not be knowen.

What I tel you in darkenes, that speake ye in light: & what ye heare in the eare, that preach ye on the houses.

And feare ye not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soule:
but rather feare him, which is able to de-stroye bothe soule and bodie in hel.

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and one of them shall not fall on

CHAP. XI.

1 * Christ preacheth. 2 Iohn Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto him. 7 Christs testimonie concerning Iohn. 14 The opinion of the people concerning Christ & Iohn. 20 Christ vpbraideth the vnthankfull cities. 25 The Gospel is revealed to the simple. 28 They that labour, and are laden. 29 Christs yoke.

1 And it came to passe, that when Iesus had made an end of commanding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teache and to preache in their cities.

2 * And when Iohn heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said vnto him,

3 Art thou he that shuldest come, or shal we loke for another?

4 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Go & shewe Iohn, what things ye haue heard and sene.

5 The blinde receiue sight, & the halfe go: the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf heare: the dead are raised vp, and the poore receiue the Gospel.

6 And blessed is he that shal not be offended in me.

7 And as they departed, Iesus began to speake unto the multitude, of Iohn: What were ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what were ye out to see? A man clothed in soft clothing, are in Kings houses.

9 But what went ye out to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

10 For this is he of whom it is writtē, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verely I say vnto you, among the which are begotten of women, arose there not a greater then Iohn Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is the least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater then he.

12 And from the tyme of Iohn Baptist hitherto, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 For all the Prophetes and the Law prophesied vnto Iohn.

14 And if ye wil receiue it, this is * Elias, which was to come.

15 ¶ He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

16 But whereunto shal I liken this generation? It is like vnto litle children which sit in the markets, and cal vnto their fellowes, 17 And say, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced, we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not lamented.

18 For Iohn came nether eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuill.

19 The Sonne of man came eating & drinking, and they say, Beholde, a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend vnto Publicanes & sinners: but wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ Then began he to vpbraide the cities, wherein moste of his great workes were done, because they repented not.

21 Wo be to thee, Chorazin: Wo be to thee, Bethsaida: for if the great workes, which were done in you, had bene done in Tynus and Sidon, they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say to you, It shalbe easier for Tyrys and Sidon at the day of iudgement then for you.

23 And thou, Capernaum, which art lifted vp vnto heaven, shalt be brought downe to hel: for if the great workes, which haue bene done in thee, had bene done among them of Sodom, they had remained to this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shalbe easier for them of the land of Sodom in the day of iudgement, then for thee.

25 * At that time Iesus answered and said, I to be hindered from the Gospel, & a man incontinent.

CHAP. XII.

3 ¶ Christ exaueth his Disciples which plucke the eares of come. 10 He healeth the dried hand. 21 Helpeth the poor that was blinde and domete. 31 Blasphemie.
34 The generation of vipers. 35 Of good wordes.
36 Of idle wordes. 38 He rebuketh the vnfaithful that wolde neuer haue token. 49 And sheweth who is his brother sister and mother.

AT that time Iesus wēt on a Sabbath day through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne and to eat.

2 And when the Phariseſe ſawe it, they ſaid vnto him, Beholde, thy diſciples do that which is not lawful to do vpon the ſabbath.

3 But he said vnto them, *Haue ye notred what Dauid did whē he was an hungred, and they that were with him?

How he entred into the house of God, & ate the shewe bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, nether for them which were with him, but onely for the * Priestes? 201

5 Or haue ye not red in the Law, how that on the Sabbath dayes the Priestes in the Temple ² b brea^ke the Sabbath, and are blamelesse

6 But I say vnto you, that here is one greater then the Temple.

7 Wherefore if ye knewe what this is, I will haue mercy and not sacrifice, ye wolde not haue condemned the innocents.

3 For the Sonne of man is^e Lord, euen of the Sabbath.

9 *And he departed thence, and went into their Synagogue:

And behold, there was a man which had his hand dried vp. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heale vp a Sabbath day: that they might accuse him.

11. And he said vnto them, What man shal there be among you, that shal haue a shepe, and if it fal on a Sabbath day into a pit, wil not he take it and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a shepe: Therefore, it is lawfull to do wel on a Sabbath day.

Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth, & it was made whole as the other.

Then the Pharisees went out, & consulted against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knew it, he departed thence, & great multitudes followed him;
and he healed them all.

16 And charged them, that they shulde not make him knowne,

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

18 Beholde my seruāt whome I haue choteth: I will put my Spirit on him, and he shall shewe iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He ſhal not ſtrive, nor crye, neither ſhal

20 A^t bruised rede shal he not breake, and smoking flaxe shal he not queneche, till he bring forthe iudgement^s vnto victorie.

21 And in his Name shal the Gētiles trust.
22 ¶ Then was brought to him one, possessed with a deuill, bothe blinde & domme, and he healed him, so that he which was blinde and domme, bothe spake and sawe.

23 And all the people were amazed, & said,
Is not this the Sonne of David?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, *This man casteth the devils no otherwise out, but through Beelzebub the prince of devils.

23 But Iesus knewe their thoughts, and said to them, Every kingdome deuided against it self, shalbe brought to naught, and euery cite or house, deuided against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 So if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against him selfe: how shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I through Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdome of God come vnto you.

29- Els how can a man enter into a strong mans house and spoile his goods, except he first binde the strong man, and then spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me, is against me: &
he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

91 * Wherefore I say vnto you, euery sinne but the blasphemie against the holie Ghost shal not be forgiven vnto men.

him: but whosoever shall speake against the holie Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this worlde nor in the worlde to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruite good: or els make the tree euill, & his fruite euill: for the tree is known by the fruite.

34 Of generations of vipers, how can you speake good things, when ye are euill? For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of his hart bringeth forth good things: & an euill man out of an euill treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, that of euery idle worde that men shall speake, they shall giue accounte thereof at the day of iudgement.

37 For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustified, and by thy wordes, thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then answered certaine of the Scribes and of the Pharisees, saying, Master, we wolde see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered and said to them, An euill and adulterous generation seeketh a signe, but no signe shall be giue vnto it, saue the signe of the Prophet Ionas.

40 For as Ionas was thre dayes, and thre nights in the whales bellie: so shall the Sonne of man be thre dayes and thre nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Ninie shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and condemne it: for they repented at the preaching of Ionas: and beholde, a greater then Ionas is here.

42 The Quene of the South shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here.

43 ¶ Now when the vnclene spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout drye places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I wil returne into mine house, fro whence I came: & when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept & garnished.

45 ¶ Then he goeth, & taketh vnto him foue other spirits worse then him self, & they enter in, and dwell there: and the end of that man is worse then the beginning. Euen so shall it be with this wicked generation.

46 ¶ While he yet spake to the multitude, beholde, his mother, & his brethren stode without, desiring to speake with him.

47 Then one said vnto him, Beholde, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But he answered, and said to him that tolde him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, & said, Beholde, my mother and my brethren.

50 For whosoever shall do my Fathers will which is in heauen, the same is my brother and sister and mother.

CHAP. XIII.

3 ¶ The state of the kingdome of God, set forth by the parable of the seds. 34 Of the tares. 35 Of the mustard seed. 36 Of the leauen. 44 Of the treasure hid in the field. 45 Of the Perles. 47 And of the nette. 57 The Prophet is contemned in his owne country.

1 ¶ He same day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, & sate downe: & the whole multitude stode on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, a sower went forth to sowe:

4 And as he sowed, some fel by the wayes side, and the fowles came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fel vpon stonie grounde, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprong vp, because they had no depe of earth.

6 And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting, withred away.

7 And some fel among thornes, & the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

8 Some againe fel in good grounde, and brought forth fruite, one come an hundred fold, some sixtie fold, & another thirtie fold.

9 ¶ He that hath eares to heare, let hi heare.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 And he answered and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to knowe the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 ¶ For whosoever hath to him shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: & hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaias, which prophesie saith, By hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand: & seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 ¶ For this peoples heart is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, lest f That which the Prophet saith, which the secret counsel of God, is here attributed to the hard heartedness of the people: for the one can not be separated from the other.

they shulde se with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and shulde vnderstand with their heartes, and shulde returne, that I might heale them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they se: and your eares, for they heare.

17 For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophetes, and righteous men haue desired to se those things which ye se, & haue not sene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

18 ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoeuer a man heareth the worde of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, the euill one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sowe in his heart: and this is he which hath receiued the fede by the way side.

20 And he that receiued fede in the stonie grounde, is he which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioye receiueith it.

21 Yet hath he no roote in him self, and dureth but a season: for as sone as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that receiueith the fede among thornes, is he that heareth the worde: but the care of this worlde, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the worde, and he is made vnfrutefull.

23 But he that receiueith the fede in the good ground, is he that heareth the worde, & vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite & bringeth forth, some an hūdreth fold, some sixtie folde, and some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, the Kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good fede in his field.

25 But while he slept, there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And whē the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of the householder, and said vnto him, Master, sowedst thou good fede in thy field: from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said to them, The enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheat.

30 Let both growe together vntil the haruest, and in tyme of haruest I wil say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheales to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The Kingdome of heauē is like vnto a graine of mustard fede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which in dede is the least of all feedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tre, so that the birdes of heauē come and buyld in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauē is like vnto leaue, which a woman taketh and hideth in three peckes of meale, till all be leauened.

34 ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not to them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I wil open my mouth in parables, and wil vtter the things which haue bene kept secret fro the fundation of the worlde.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, & went into the house. And his Disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good fede, is the Sonne of man, 38 And the field is the worlde, & the good fede, they are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of the wicked.

39 And the enemy that soweth the, is the deuil, * and the haruest is the end of the worlde, and the reapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fyre, so shall it be in the ende of this worlde.

41 The Sonne of man shal send forth his Angels, and they shal gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and the which do iniquitie.

42 And shal cast the into a forais of fyre. There shalbe wail & gnashing of teeth.

43 The shal the iust me shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ Againe the kingdome of heauē is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which while a man hath founde, he hideth it, & for ioy thereof departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Againe the kingdome of heauē is like to a marchant mā, that seeketh good perles.

52 Then said he vnto them, Therefore euerie scribe which is taught vnto the kingdom of heauen, is like vnto a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both newe and olde.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, he departed thence.

54 ¶ And came into his owne countrey, & taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonished, & said, Whence cometh this wisdom, and great workes vnto this man.

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie, & his brethren Iames and Ioses, and Simon and Iudas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus said to them, A Prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, & in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefs sake.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

¶ Herodes opinion concerning Christ. 10 Iohn is beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 23 He prayeth in the mountaine. 25 He appeareth by night vnto his disciples vpon the sea. 31 And saureth Peter. 33 They confesse him to be the sonne of God. 36 He healeth all that toucheth the hemme of his garment.

1 ¶ At that tyme Herode the Tetrarchie heard of the fame of Iesus,

2 And said vnto his seruants, This is Iohn Baptist. He is risen againe from the dead, & therefore great workes are wrought by him.

3 ¶ For Herode had taken Iohn, and bounde him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn said vnto him, It is not lawful for thee to haue her.

5 And when he wolde haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herodes birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herode.

7 Wherefore he promised with an othe, that he wold giue her whatsoeuer she wolde aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, said, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the King was sorie: neuertheles because of the othe, and them that sate with him at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her.

10 And sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, & giuen to the maide, and she brought it vnto her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and toke vp his bodie, and buried it, and went, and tolde Iesus.

13 ¶ And when Iesus heard it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place aparte. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him a fote out of the cities.

14 And Iesus went forth, and sawe a great multitude, and was moued with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is alreadie past: let the multitude departe, that they may go into the townes, and buy them vitales.

16 But Iesus said to them, They haue no neede to go away: giue ye them to eat.

17 Then said they vnto him, We haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hether to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse: and toke the five loaves and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaves to his disciples, & the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they toke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women & little children.

22 ¶ And straight way Iesus compelled his disciples to enter in a ship, and to go ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And as sone as he had sent the multitude away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and when the euening was come he was there alone.

24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrarie winde.

25 And in the fourth watche of the night Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and cryed out for feare.

27 But straight way Iesus spake vnto them, Blij.

28 Then Peter answered him, & said, Master if it be thou, ^k byd me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And whē Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Iesus.

30 But when he sawe a mightie winde, he was affraid: and as he ^l beganne to sinke, he cryed, saying, Master, saue me.

31 So immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him, ^m O thou of litle faith, wherefore didest thou doute?

32 And as sone as they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came & worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.

34 ¶ And whē they were come ouer, they came into the land of Gennesaret.

35 And when the men of that place knewe him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and broght vnto him all that were sicke,

36 And besoght him, that they might touche the hemme of his ⁿ garmēt onely: and as manie as touched it, were made whole.

¶ CHAP. XV.

3 ¶ Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes, and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandement by their owne traditions. 13 The plant that shalbe rooted out. 18 VVhat things defile a man. 21 He deliuereth the woman of Cananees daughter. 26 The bread of the children. 30 He healeth the sicke. 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, beside women and children.

Then came to Iesus the Scribes & Pharisees, which were of Ierusalem, saying,

2 *Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders: for they ^a washe not their handes when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said vnto the, Why do ye also transgresse the commandemēt of God by your tradition?

4 *For God hath commanded, saying, Honour thy Father and mother: *and he that curseth father or mother, let him dye the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoeuer sal say to father or mother, ^b By the gift that is offred by me, thou maiest haue profite,

6 Thogh he honour not his father, or his mother, shalbe free: thus haue ye made the commandemēt of God of no autoritie by your tradition.

7 O hypocrites, Esaias prophecied well of you, saying,

8 *This people draweth nere vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with the lippes, but their heart is farre of from me.

9 But ^c in vaine they worship me, teaching for doctrines, mens precepts.

10 *Thē he called the multitude vnto him, and said to them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 ¶ Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Perceiuest thou not, that the Pharisees are offended in hearing this saying?

13 But he answered and said, *^d Euerie plāt which mine heauenly Father hath not plantēd, shalbe rooted vp.

14 *Let them alone: thei be the ^e blinde leaders of the blinde: and if the blinde leade the blinde, bothe shall fall into the ditch.

15 ¶ Then answered Peter, & said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoeuer entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which procede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the hart ^f come euil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, scanders.

20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eat with vnwashen hands, defileth not the man.

21 *And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman of Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cryed, saying vnto him, haue mercie on me: ^g O Lord, the sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserably vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered her not a worde. Then came to him his disciples, & besoght him, saying, * Send her away, for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but vnto the ^h lost shepe of the house of Israel.

25 Yet she came and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 And he answered, & said, It is not good to take the Childrens bread, and to cast it to ⁱ whelpes.

27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet in dede the whelpes eat of the crommes, which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy ^j faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 ¶ So Iesus ^k went away from thence, and came nere vnto the sea of Galile, and went vp into a mountaine, & sat downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them, halt, blinde, domme, maymed, and many other, and cast them downe at Iesus fete, and he healed them,
 31 In so much that the multitude wondered, to se the domme speake, the maymed whole, the halt to go, and the blinde to se: and they glorified the God of Israel.
 32 Then Iesus called his disciples vnto hi, and said, I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me alreadie thre dayes, and haue nothing to eat: and I will not let them departe fasting, lest they fainte in the way.
 33 And his disciples said vnto him, Whēce shulde we get so much bread in the wildernes, as shulde suffice so great a multitude!
 34 And Iesus said vnto them, How manie loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fishes.
 35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grounde, 36 And toke the seuen loaves, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake the, and gaue to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
 37 And they did all eat, and were sufficed: and they toke vp of the fragments that remained, seuen baskets full.
 38 And they that had eaten, were foure thousand men, beside women, and litle children.
 39 Then Iesus sent away the multitude, & toke shippe, and came into the partes of Magdala.

¶ The Pharises require a token. 6 Iesus warneth his disciples of the Pharises doctrine. 16 The confession of Peter. 19 The keyes of heauen. 24 The faithful must beare the crosse. 25 To winne or lose the life. 27 Christs coming.

¶ Then came the Pharises and Sadduces, and did tempt him, desiring him to shewe them a signe from heauen.

2 But he answered, and said vnto the, Whē it is euening, ye say, Faire wether: for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning ye say, To day shal be a tempeste: for the skie is red and lowring. O hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the skie, and can ye not discerne the signes of the tymes?

4 ¶ The wicked generation, and adulterous seketh a signe, and there shal no signe be giue it, but the signe of the prophet Ionas: so he left them, and departed.

5 ¶ And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

6 Then Iesus said vnto them, Take hede & beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces.

7 And they thought in them selues, saying, It is because we haue broght no bread.

8 But Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, O ye of litle faith, why thinke you this in your selues, because ye haue broght no bread?

9 Do ye not yet perceiue, nether remember the fise loaves, when there were fise thousand men, & how manie baskets toke ye vp?

10 Nether the seuen loaves whē there were foure thousand men, and how manie baskets toke ye vp?

11 Why perceiue ye not that I said not vnto you concerning bread, that ye shulde beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces?

12 Then vnderstode they that he had not said that they shulde beware of the leauen of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharises, and Sadduces.

13 ¶ Now when Iesus came into the coastes of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whome do men say that I, the Sonne of man am?

14 And they said, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and others Ieremias, or one of the Prophetes.

15 He said vnto them, But whome say ye that I am?

16 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Iesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for flesh and blood hath not reueiled it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vpon this rocke I will buylde my Church: & the gates of hel shal not ouercome it.

19 ¶ And I wil giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoeuer thou shalt binde vpon earth, shal be bound in heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt lose on earth, shal be lost in heauen.

20 Then he charged his disciples, that they shulde tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth Iesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer manie things of the Elders, and of the hie Priests, and Scribes, and be slaine, and rise againe the third day.

22 Then Peter toke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pite thy self: this shal not be vnto thee.

¶ The greatest in the kingdome of heauē. 3 He teacheth his disciples to be humble and harmeles. 6 To auoide occasion of euill. 10 Not to contemne the litle ones. 11 Why Christ came. 15 Of brotherly correction. 17 Of the autoritie of the Church. 19 The commendation of prayer and godly assemblyes. 21 Of brotherly forgiveness.

THe sametyme the disciples came vnto Iesus, saying, *Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?

2 And Iesus called a litle childe vnto him, and set him in the middes of them;

3 And said, Verely I say vnto you, except ye be *conuerted, & become as litle children, ye shal not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble him self as this litle childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

5 *And whosoever shall receiue such a litle childe in my Name, receiue me.

6 *But whosoever shall offend one of these litle ones which beleue in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, & that he were drowned in the depe of the sea.

7 *Wo be vnto the world because of offences: for it must nedes be that offences shall come, but wo be to that man, by whome the offence cometh.

8 *Wherefore, if thine hand or thy fote cause thee to offende, cut them off, & cast thee from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, the hauing two hands or two fete, to be cast into euermolting fyre.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offende, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, the hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fyre.

10 *Se that ye despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their *Angels alwayes beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 For the Sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? *If a man haue an hundred shepe, & one of the be gone astray, doeth he not leaue ninetie & nine, and go into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyceth more of that shepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 So it is not the wil of your father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones shulde perishe.

15 ¶ *Moreouer, if thy brother trespass against thee, go, and tel him his faute betwene thee & him alone: if he heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by the *mouth of two or thre witnesses euery worde may be confirmed.

17 And if he will not vouchsafe to heare thee, tel it vnto the *Church: & if he refuse to heare the Church also, let him be vnto thee as an heathen man, and a Publicane.

18 Verely I say vnto you, *Whatsoeuer ye binde on earth, shalbe bound in heauen: and *whatsoeuer ye lose on earth, shalbe lost in heauen.

19 Againe, verely I say vnto you, that if two of you shal agree in earth vpon any thing, whatsoeuer they shal desire, it shalbe giuen them of my Father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or thre are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the middes of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, & said, Master how oft shal my brother sinne against me, and I shal forgiue him? vnto seuen times?

22 Iesus said vnto him, I say not to thee, vnto seuen tymes, but vnto *seuenie tymes seuen tymes.

23 Therefore is the Kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certeine King, which wolde take a counte of his seruants.

24 And when he had begonne to recken, one was brought vnto hi, which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 And because he had nothing to pay, his master commanded him to be solde, & his wife, and his children, and al that he had, and the dette to be payed.

26 The seruant therefore fel downe, & besought him, saying, Master, appease thine anger towarde me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then that seruants master had compassion, & losed him, & forgave him the dette.

28 But when the seruant was departed, he founde one of his felowes, which ought hi an hundred pence, & he layed hands on him, and toke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 Then his fellow fel downe at his fete, & besought him, saying, Appease thine anger towards me, and I will pay thee al.

30 Yet he wolde not, but went & cast him into prison, til he shulde pay the dette.

31 And when his other felowes sawe what was done, they were very sone, & came & declared vnto their master what was done.

32 Then his master called him, and said to him, O euil seruant, I forgave thee all that dette, because thou prayedst me.

33 Oughtest thou also to haue had pite on thy fellow, euen as I had pite on thee?

34 So his master was wroth, and deliuered him to the iaylers, till he shulde pay al that was due to him.

¶ C H A P. X I X.
¶ Christ sheweth for what cause a woman may be diuor-ced. 1. Continnence is a gift of God. 2. He receiveth little babes. 3. To obtaine lyfe everlasting. 4. That riche men can scarcely be saved. 5. He promyseth them which haue left al to follow him, life everlasting.

¶ And it came to passe, that when Ie-sus had finished those sayings, he departed from Galile, & came into the coasts of Iudea beyonde Iordan.

¶ And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

¶ Then came vnto him the Pharises tēping him, and saying to him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for euerie cause?

¶ And he answered, and said vnto them,
Hane ye not red, that he which made the
at the beginning, made them male and female,

¶ And said, For this cause shal a man leaue father and mother, & cleaue vnto his wife, and they twaine shalbe one flesh.

¶ Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let no man therefore put a sundrie that, which God hath coupled together.

¶ They said to him, Why did then Moyses commande to giue a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away?

¶ He said vnto them, Moyses, because of the hardnes of your heart, suffered you to put away your wiues: but fro the beginning it was not so.

¶ I say therefore vnto you, that whosoever shal put away his wife, except it be for whoredome, and marie an other, com-mitteth adulterie, and whosoever marieth her which is diuorced, doth commit adulterie.

¶ The said his disciples to him, If the matter be so betwene man and wife, in is not good to marie.

¶ But he said vnto them, All men can not receiue this thing, saue they to whome it is giuen.

¶ For there are some of chaste, which were so borne of their mothers bellies, and there be some chaste, which be made chaste by men, & there be some chaste, which haue made them selues chaste for the kingdome of heauen. He that is able to receiue this, let him receiue it.

¶ Then were brought to him little children, that he shulde put his hands on the,
& pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

¶ But Iesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of suche is the kingdome of heauen.

¶ And when he had put his hands on the,
he departed thence.

¶ ¶ And beholde, one came, and said vnto him, Good Master, what good thing shal I do, that I may haue eternal life?

¶ And he said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, kepe the commandements.

¶ He said to him, Which? And Iesus said,
These, Thou shalt not kil: Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not steale:
Thou shalt not beare false witness:

¶ Honour thy father and mother: & thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

¶ The yong mā said vnto him, I haue ser-ued all these things fro my youth: what lacke I yet?

¶ Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt be perfite, go, sel that thou hast, & giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and followe me.

¶ And when the yong mā heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

¶ Then Iesus said vnto his disciples, Verely
I say vnto you, that a riche man shal hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

¶ And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

¶ And whē his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

¶ And Iesus beheld them, and said vnto them, With me this is vnpossible, but with God all things are possible.

¶ ¶ Then answered Peter, & said to him,
Beholde, we haue forsake al, and followed thee: what shal we haue?

¶ And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shal sit in the throne of his Maiestie, ye which haue followed me in the regeneration, shal sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

¶ And whosoever shal forsake houses, or brothren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes, for my Names sake, he shal receiue an hundred fold more, and shal inherite ouerlasting life.

¶ But manie that are first shal be last, and the last shal be first.

FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine householder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And he agreed with the laborers for a penny a day, & sent them into his vineyard,

3. And he went out about the thirde houre, & sawe other standing ydle in the market place.

4 And said vnto them, Goe ye also into my vineyard, & what soeuer is right, I wil giue you: and they went their way.

Againe he went out about the six and ninth houre, and did likewise.

And he went about the eleventh houre and founde other standing y^ele, and said vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

They said vnto him, Because no mā hath hired vs. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyarde, & whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

¶ And when euen was come, the master of the vineyard said vnto his steward, Call the laborers, and giue them their hyre, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

And they which were hired about the eleventh houre, came and receiued euery man a penie.

o Now whe the first came, they supposed that they shoulde receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penie.

And when they had received it, they murmured against the maister of the house.

22 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, & thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue borne the burden, & heat of the day.

3 And he answered one of them, saying,
1 Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penic?

4 Take that which is thine owne, and go thy way : I wil giue vnto this last as much as to thee.

21 And he said vnto her, What wouldest thou? She said to him, Grant that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

22 And Iesus answered and said, Ye knowe not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the* cup that I shal drinke of, & to be baptized with the baptisme that I shal be bapwith the baptisme, & I am baptized with but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, is not mine to giue: but it shalbe gi-uen to them, for whome it is prepared of

CHAP. XXII.

9 The parable of the mariage. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 11 The mariage garment. 17 Of paying of tribute. 35 Of the resurrection. 36 The Scribes question. 44 Christis diuinitie.

1 Then Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The Kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certeine King which married his sonne,

3 And sent forth his seruants, to cal them that were bid to the wedding, but they wolde not come.

4 Againe he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tel them which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen & my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the mariage.

5 But they made light of it, and wet their wayes, one to his ferme, & another about his marchandise.

6 And the remnant toke his seruants, & intreated them sharply, and slewe them.

7 But when the King heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriors, & destroyed those murtherers, and burnt vp their citie.

8 Then said he to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthie.

9 Go ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as manie as ye finde, bid them to the mariage.

10 So those seruants went out into the high wayes, and gathered together al that euer they founde, bothe good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

11 Then the King came in, to se the ghests, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he said vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, & hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speacheles.

13 Then said the King to the seruants, Bind him hand and fote: take him away, and cast him into vtter darkenes: there shalbe weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For manie are called, but fewe chosen.

15 ¶ Then went the Pharises & toke counsel how they might tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, nether carest for any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tel vs therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawful to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceiued their wickednes, & said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought him a penie.

20 And he said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They said vnto him, Cessars. Then said he vnto them, * Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cessars, and giue vnto God, those which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they marueiled, and left him, and went their waye.

23 ¶ The same day the Sadduces came to him (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, * Moses said, If a man dye, hauing no children, let his brother marie his wife, and raise vp sede vnto his brother.

25 Now there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, and deceased: and hauing none yssue, left his wife vnto his brother.

h There were certain flatterers of the court, which euer waited vnto that religion which King Herode had approved: and though they were enemies to the Pharisees yet in this thing they consented, thinking to missegle Christ, and so either to accuse him of treason, or to bring him into the charred of all his people.

27 And last of all the woman dyed also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection, they neither marry wives, nor wives are bestowed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, & the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob: God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And whē the people heard it, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 ¶ But whē the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadduces to silence, they assembled together:

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Law, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the Law?

37 Iesus said to him, Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy mynde.

38 This is the first and the great commandment.

39 And the second is like vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

40 On these two commandments hangeth the whole Law, and the Prophetes.

41 ¶ While the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ, whose Sonne is he? They said vnto him, Dauid.

43 He said vnto them, How then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, til I make thine enemies thy fote stoe?

45 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none coulde answer him a worde, nether durst any from that day forth to aske him any more questions.

¶ Christ condemneth the ambition, contentions, and hypocrisie of the Scribes and Pharisees. 31 Their persecutions against the seruants of God. 37 He prophesieth the destruction of Ierusalem.

¶ Then spake Iesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

Saying, The Scribes and the Pharisees

* sit in Moses seat.

3 All therefore whatsoeuer they byd you obserue, that obserue and do: but after their workes do not: for they say, and do not.

4 * For they binde heauye burdens, and grievous to be borne, and laye them on mens sholders, but they them selues will not moue them with one of their fingers.

5 All their workes they do for to be sene of men: for they make their phylacteries broad, and make long the fringes of their garments,

6 * And loue the chief place at feasts, and to haue the chief seates in the assemblies,

7 And gretings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 * But be not ye called, Rabbi: for one is your doctor, to wit, Christ, and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your Father vpon the earth: for there is but one, your Father which is in heauen.

10 Be not called doctors: for one is your doctor, euen Christ.

11 But he that is greatest among you, let him be your seruant.

12 * For whosoever wil exalt him self, shall be brought low: and whosoever will humble him self, shall be exalted.

13 ¶ Wo therefore be vnto you, Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites, because ye shut vp the kingdome of heauen before men: for ye your selues go not in, nether suffer ye them that wolde enter, to come in.

14 * Wo be vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye deuoure widdows houses, euen vnder a colour of long prayers: wherefore ye shall receiue the greater damnation.

15 Wo be vnto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye compass sea and land to make one of your profession: and when he is made, ye make him two folde more the childe of hel, then you your selues.

16 Wo be vnto you blinde guides, which say, Whosoever sweareth by the Temple, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the golde of the Temple, he offendeth.

17 Ye fooles & blinde, whether is greater, the golde, or the Temple that sanctifieth the golde?

18 And whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that is vpon it, offendeth.

9 But the wise answered, saying, We feare lest there wil not be ynough for vs & you: but go ye rather to them that sel, and bye for your selues.

10 And while they went to bye, the bridegrome came: & they that were readie, wet in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I knowe you not.

13 Watche therefore: for ye know nether the day, nor the houre, whē the Sonne of man wil come.

14 For the kingdome of heauen is as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to euerie man after his owne habilitie, & straight way went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and occupied with them, and gained other five talents.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckened with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued five talents, and brought other five talers, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me five talents: beholde, I haue gained with them other five talents.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is wel done good seruant and faithful, Thou hast bene faithful in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: entre in into thy masters ioy.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came & said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: beholde, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master said vnto him, It is wel done good seruant, and faithful, Thou hast bene faithful in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: entre in into thy masters ioy.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knewe that thou wast an hard ma, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawdest not:

25 I was therefore afraide, and went & hid thy talent in the earth: beholde, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his Master answered, and said vnto him, Thou euil seruant, & slouthful, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, & gather where I strawed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shulde I haue receiued myne owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 For vnto euerie man that hath, it shal be giuen, and he shal haue abundance, and from him that hath not, euē that he hath, shalbe taken away.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruāt into vtter darkenes: there shalbe weping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 And when the Sonne of man cometh in his glorie, & all the holy Angels with hī, the shal he sit vpo the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shalbe gathered all nations, and he shal separate them one from another, as a sheperde separateth the shepe from the goates.

33 And he shall set the shepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

34 Then shal the King say to them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father: inherite ye the kingdome prepared for you fro the foundations of the worlde.

35 For I was an hungred, & ye gaue me meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me:

36 I was naked, and ye clothed me, I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 The shal righteous answer hī, saying, Lord, whē saw we thee an hungred, & fed thee: or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and lodged thee: or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or whē saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shal answer & say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shal he say vnto them on the left hand, Departe from me ye cursed, into euertlasting fyre, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, & ye gaue me no meat: I thirsted, & ye gaue me no drinke:

2 Ye knowe that within two dayes is the Passeeouer, and the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered to be crucified.

3 Then assembled together the chief Prie-stes and the Scribes, and the Elders, of the people into the hall of the high Priest, cal-led Caiaphas,

4 And consulted how they might take Ie-sus by subtiltie, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest we vniuersally be among the people.

6 ¶ And when Iesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, whiche had a boxe of verie costlie ointment, and powred it on his head, as he sate at the ta-ble.

8 And when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, What nedeth this wastage?

9 For this ointment might haue bene solde for muche, and bene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

17 ¶ Now on the first day of the feast of vnleauened bread the disciples came to Ie-sus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the Passeeouer?

18 And he said, Go into the citie to suche a man, and say to him, The master saith, My tyme is at hand: I wil kepe the Passeeouer at thyne house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen the charge, & made ready the Passeeouer.

20 So when the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betraye me.

22 And they were exceeding sorowfull, & bega euerie one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered and said, He that dip-peth his hand with me in the dishe, he shal betraye me.

24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is be-trayed: it had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.

25 The Iudas which betrayed him, answer-ed, and said, Is it I, Master: He said vnto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ And as they did eat, Iesus toke the bread: and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, & gaue it to the disciples, & said, Take, eat: this is my bodie.

27 Also he toke the cup, and when he had giuen thanks, he gaue it them, saying, Drin-ke ye all of it.

28 For this is my blood of the Newe Te-stament, that is shed for manie, for the re-mission of finnes.

29 I say vnto you, that I wil not drinke he-re forth of this fruite of the vine vntil that day, when I shall drinke it newe with you in my Fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out in the mount of oliues.

31 ¶ The said Iesus vnto them, Al ye shal be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, & the shepe of the flocke shal be scattered.

32 But after I am risen againe, I wil go be-fore you into Galile.

33 But Peter answered, and said vnto him, Though that all men shulde be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke cro-we, thou shalt denie me thrise.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I shuld dye with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Like-wise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ Then wet Iesus with them into a pla-ce which is called Gethsemane, and said vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go & pray yonder.

37 And he toke Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedeus, & began to waxe sorowful, and grieuouſly troubled.

38 Then ſaid Ieſus vnto them, My ſoule is verie heauie euen vnto the death: tarie ye here, and watche with me.

39 So he went a litle further, and fel on his face, and prayed, ſaying, O my Father, if it be poſſible, let this cup paſſe from me: neuertheles, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 After he came vnto the Diſciples, and founde thea ſleepe, & ſaid to Peter, What colde ye not watche with me one houre?

41 Watche, & pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the ſpirit in dede is readie, but the fleſhe is weake.

42 Againe he went away the ſecond tyme, & prayed; ſaying, O my Father, if this cup can not paſſe away from me, but that I muſt drinke it, thy will be done.

43 And he came, and founde them a ſleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.

44 So he left them, and went away againe, and prayed the third time, ſaying the ſame wordes.

45 Then came he to his diſciples, and ſaid vnto them, Sleepe henceforth; and take your reſt: beholde, the houre is at hand, & the Sonne of man is giuen into the hands of ſinners.

46 Riſe, let vs go: beholde, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 And while he yet ſpake, lo, Iudas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with ſwordes and ſtaues, from the high Prieſtes and Elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, ſaying, Whomeſoeuer I ſhal kiſſe, that is he, lay holde on him.

49 And forthwith he came to Ieſus, and ſaid, God ſaue thee, Maſter, & kiſſed him.

50 Then Ieſus ſaid vnto him, Friend wherefore art thou come? Then came they, & laid hands on Ieſus, and toke him.

51 And beholde, one of them which were with Ieſus, ſtretched out his hand, & drewe his ſworde, and ſtroke a ſeruant of the high Prieſt, and ſmote of his eare.

52 Then ſaid Ieſus vnto him, Put vp thy ſworde into his place: for all that take the ſworde ſhal periſhe with the ſworde.

53 Ether thinkeſt thou, that I can not now pray to my Father, and he wil giue me more then twelue legions of Angels?

54 How then ſhulde the Scriptures be fulfilled, which ſay, that it muſt be ſo?

55 The ſame houre ſaid Ieſus to the multitude, Ye be come out as it were againſt a thief, with ſwordes and ſtaues, to take me: I ſate daylie teaching in the Temple among you, and ye toke me not.

56 But al this was done, that the Scriptures of the Prophetes might be fulfilled.

Then al the diſciples forſoke him & fled.

57 ¶ And they toke Ieſus, and led him to Caiaphas the hie Prieſt, where the Scribes and the Elders were aſſembled.

58 And Peter followed him a farre of vnto the hie Prieſtes hall, and went in, and ſate with the ſeruants to ſe the end.

59 Now the chief Prieſtes and the Elders, and all the whole council ſoght falſe witness againſt Ieſus, to put him to death.

60 But they founde none, & thogh manie falſe witnesses came, yet founde they none: but at the laſt came two falſe witnesses,

61 And ſaid, This man ſaid, I can deſtroy the Temple of God, and buylde it in three dayes.

62 Then the chief Prieſt aroſe, and ſaid to him, Anſweſt thou nothing? What is that matter that theſe men witness againſt thee?

63 But Ieſus held his peace. Then the chief Prieſt answered, and ſaid to him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tel vs, if thou be the Chriſt the Sonne of God.

64 ¶ Ieſus ſaid to him, Thou haſt ſaid it: neuertheles I ſay vnto you, hereafter ſhal ye ſe the Sonne of man ſitting at the right hand of the power of God, & come in the cloudes of the heauen.

65 Then the hie Prieſt ret his clothes, ſaying, He hath blaſphemed: what haue we any more neede of witnesses? behold, now ye haue heard his blaſphemie.

66 What thinke ye? They answered, and ſaid, He is worthe to dye.

67 ¶ Then ſpat they in his face, & buffeted him: and other ſmote him with their rod des,

68 ſaying, Prophecie to vs, O Chriſt, Who is he that ſmote thee?

69 ¶ Peter ſate without in the hall: and a maide came to him, ſaying, Thou alſo waſt with Ieſus of Galile.

70 But he denied before them all, ſaying, I wot not what thou ſaiſt.

71 And when he wet out into the porche, another maide ſaw him, and ſaid vnto the that were there, This man was alſo with Ieſus of Nazaret.

72 And againe he denied with an othe, ſaying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while, came vnto hi they that ſtoode by, and ſaid vnto Peter, Surely thou art alſo one of them: for euen thy ſpeache bewrayeth thee.

1 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth him ſelf. 24 Christ is pronounced innocent by the Iudge, & yet is condemned, and crucified among thieves. 26 He prayeth vpon the croſſe. 31 The vaille is rent. 32 The dead bodies ariſe. 37 Ioseph buryeth Christ. 64 watchmen kepe the graue.

1 When the morning was come, all the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people toke counſel againſt Ieſus, to put him to death.

2 And led him away bounde, & deliuered him vnto Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then whē Iudas which betrayed him, ſawe that he was condemned, he repented him ſelf, and brought againe the thirte pieces of ſiluer to the chief Priests, and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue ſinned, betraying the innocent blood. But they ſaid, What is that to vs? ſe thou to it.

5 And when he had caſt downe the ſiluer pieces in the Temple, he departed, & wet, and hanged him ſelf.

6 And the chief Priests toke the ſiluer pieces, and ſaid, It is not lawfull for vs to put them into the treaſure, becauſe it is the price of blood.

7 And they toke counſel, and bought with them a potters field, for the buriall of ſtrangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, the field of blood, vntil this day.

9 ¶ (Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoke by Ieremias the Prophet, ſaying, And they toke thirte ſiluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they of the children of Iſrael valued.

10 And they gaue the for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 ¶ And Ieſus ſtoode before the gouernour, and the gouernour asked him, ſaying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Ieſus ſaid vnto him, Thou ſaiſt it.

12 And when he was accuſed of the chief Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 The ſaid Pilate vnto him, Heareſt thou not howe many things they laye againſt thee?

14 But he answered him not to one worde, in ſo muche that the gouernour maruiled greatly.

15 Now at the feaſt, the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a priſoner, whome they wolde.

16 And they had then a notable priſoner, called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate ſaid vnto them, Whether will ye that I let looſe vnto you Barabbas, or Ieſus, which is called Chriſt?

18 ¶ (For he knewe wel, that forenuie they had deliuered him.)

19 Also when he was ſet downe vpon the iudgement ſeat, his wife ſent to him, ſaying, Haue thou nothing to do with that iuſte man: for I haue ſuffered many things this day in a dreame by reaſon of him.)

20 ¶ But the chief Priests & the Elders had perſuaded the people that thei ſhulde aſke Barabbas, and ſhulde deſtroy Ieſus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, & ſaid vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let looſe vnto you? And they ſaid, Barabbas.

22 Pilate ſaid vnto them, What ſhall I do then with Ieſus, whiche is called Chriſt? They al ſaid to him, Let him be crucified.

23 ¶ Then ſaid the gouernour, But what cuill hath he done? Then they cryed the more, ſaying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pilate ſawe that he auailed nothing, but that more tumulte was made, he toke water, & waſhed his hands before the multitude, ſaying, I am innocent of the blood of this iuſt man: loke you to it.

25 ¶ Then answered all the people, and ſaid, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 ¶ Thus let he Barabbas looſe vnto them, and ſcourged Ieſus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ The ſouldiours of the gouernour toke Ieſus into the commune hall, and gathered about him the whole bande.

28 And they ſtripped him, and put vpon him a ſcarlet robe,

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a rede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, ſaying, God ſaue thee King of the Iewes,

30 And ſpined vpon him, and toke a rede, and ſmote him on the head.

31 ¶ Thus when they had mocked him, they toke the robe from him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 ¶ And as they came out, they founde a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his croſſe.

33 ¶ And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to ſay, the place of dead mens ſkullies.)

56 Among whome was Marie Magdalene and Marie the mother of Iames and Ioses, and the mother of Zebedeus sonnes.

57 ¶ And when the euen was come, there came a riche man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also him self bene Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus. Then Pilate commanded the bodie to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph toke the bodie, and wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And put it in his newe tombe, which he had hewen out in a rocke, and rolled a great stone to the dore of the sepulchre, & departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the Preparati6 of the Sabbath, the hie Priestes and Pharises assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Sir, we remeber that that deceiuer said, while he was yet aliue, Within three dayes I will rise.

64 Commaunde therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntil the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shall the last error be worke then the first.

The voice of him that cryeth in the wil-dernes is, Prepare the way of the Lord:
make his paths straight.
Iohn did baptize in the wildernes, and preache the baptisme of amendment of life, for remission of finnes.
And all the country of Iudea, and they of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the river Iordan, co-fessing their finnes.
Now Iohn was clothed with camels heere, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loines: and he did eat locustes and wilde honic.
And preached saying, A stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoes larcher I am not worthe to stoupe downe, and vnloose.
Trueth it is, I haue baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holie Gost.

And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came fro Nazareth a citie of Ga-lile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.
And asone as he was come out of the water, Iohn saue the heauens clouen in twaine, and the holie Gost descending vpon him like a doue.
Then there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whome I am well pleased.
And immediatly the Spirit driueth him into the wildernes.
And he was there in the wildernes for tie dayes, and was tempted of Satan: he was also with the wilde beastes, & the Angels ministered vnto him.
Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preachig the Gospel of the Kingdome of God.
And saying, The time is fulfilled, & the Kingdome of God is at hand: repent and believe the Gospel.
And as he walked by the sea of Ga-lile, he sawe Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a nett into the sea, (for they were fishers.)
The Iesus said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you to be fishers of men.

19 And when he had gone a litle further thence, he sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the shippe, mending their nettes.

20 And anone he called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the ship with his hyred seruants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So they entred into Capernaum, and straight way on the Sabbath day he entred into the Synagogue and taught,

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had autoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 ¶ And there was in their Synagogue a man which had an vncleane spirite, and he cryed, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue we to do with thee, o Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art, euen that holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cryed with a loude voyce, and came out of him,

27 And they were all amased, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what newe doctrine is this? for he commandeth the foule spirits with autoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spred abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

29 ¶ And asone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30 And Simons wifes mother in law laye sicke of a feuer, and anone they tolde him of her.

31 And he came & toke her by the hand, and lift her vp, and the feuer forsoke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euen was come, & the sunne was downe, they broght to him al that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole cite was gathered together at the dore.

34 And he healed manie that were sicke of diuers diseases: and he cast out manie deuils, and suffred not the deuils to say that they knewe him.

35 And in the morning very early, before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, & they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had founde him, they said vnto him, All men seke for thee.

38 Then he said vnto them, Let vs go into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39 And he preached in their Synagogues, throughoutall Galile, & cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneled downe vnto him, and said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassio, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will: be thou cleane.

42 And asone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, & he was made cleane.

43 And after he had giuen him a strict commandemēt, he sent him away forthewith,

44 And said vnto him, Se thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hience, and shewe thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things, which Moses commanded, for a testimonial vnto them.

45 But whē he was departed, he beganne to tell manie things, and to publishe the matter: so that Iesus colde no more openly enter into the cite, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euerie quarter.

2 And anone, many gathered together, in so much that the places about the dore colde not receiue any more: and he preached the worde vnto them.

3 And there came vnto him, that broghe one sicke of the palse, borne of foure mē.

4 And because they colde not come nere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the rofe of the house where he was: & when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed, wherein the sicke of the palse laye.

5 Now when Iesus sawe their faith, he said to the sicke of the palse, Sonne, thy finnes are forgiven thee.

6 And there were certeine of the Scribes, sitting there, & reasoning in their hearts,

17 Now when Ieſus heard it, he ſaid vnto them, The whole haue no nede of the phyſician, but the ſicke. I came not to cal the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

18 And the diſciples of Iohn, & the Pha-riſes did faſt, and came and ſaid vnto him, Why do the diſciples of Iohn and of the Phariſes faſt, and thy diſciples faſt not?

19 And Ieſus ſaid vnto the, Can the chil-the bridegrome is with them? as long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not faſt.

20 But the dayes wil come, whē the brideolde veſſels: for els the newe wine breaketh the veſſels, and the wine runneth out, and the veſſels are loſt: but new wine muſt be put into newe veſſels.

23 ¶ And it came to paſſe as he wēt throug the corne on the Sabbath day, that his diſciples, as they went on their way, began to plucke the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharifees ſaid vnto him, Beholde, why do they on the Sabbath day, that which is not lawfull?

25 And he ſaid to them, Haue ye neuer red

4 And he ſaid to them, Is it lawfull to do a euill, to ſaue the life, or to kil? But they helde their peace.

5 Then he looked rounde about on the an-gerly, mourning alſo for the hardnes of their hearts, and ſaid to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he ſtretched it out:
and his hand was reſtored, as whole as the other.

6 ¶ And the Pharifees departed, & ſtraightwaye gathered a counſell with the Herodians

17 Yet haue they no roote in them selues, and endure but a tyme: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the worde, im-

18 Also they that receiue the fede among the thornes, are suche as heare the worde; 19 But the cares of this worlde, and the disceitfullnes of riches, and the lustes of other things entre in, & choke the worde, and it is vnfutfull.

20 But they that haue receiued fede in good grounde, are they that heare the worde & receiue it, and bring forth frute, one come thirtie, another fixtie, and some an hundredth.

21 ¶ Also he said vnto them, * Is the candle light to be put vnder a bushel, or vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlestick?

22 * For there is nothing hid, that shal not be opened: neither is there a secret, but that it shal come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take hede what ye heare. * With what measure ye mete, it shal be measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shal more be giuen.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shal it be giue, and from him that hath not, shal be taken away, euen that he hath.

26 ¶ Also he said, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man shulde cast fede in the grounde,

27 And shulde slepe, and rise vp night and day, and the fede shulde spring and grow vp, he not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth the frute of her self, first the blade, then the eares, after that, full come in the eares.

29 And as sone as the frute sheweth it selfe, anone he putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 ¶ He said moreover, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shal we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard fede, which when it is sown in the earth, is the least of all feedes that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sown, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of heauē may buylde vnder the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables he preached the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 And without parables spake he nothing vnto them: but he expounded all things to his disciples aparte.

35 ¶ Now the same day when euen was come, he said vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, and toke him as he was in the ship: and there were also with him other shippes.

37 And there arose a great storme of win-de, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the sterne, asleep on a pillowe: & they awoke him, & said to him, Master, carest thou now that we perishe?

39 And he rose vp, and rebuked the winde, & said vnto the sea, Beate, & be still. So the winde ceased, & it was a great calme.

40 Then he said vnto them, Why are ye so feareful? thow is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, & said one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

7 *And he called the twelue, and began to send them two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirits,

8 And commanded them, that they shulde take nothing for their iorney, saue a staffe onely: nether scrip, nether bread, nether money in their girdles,

9 But they shulde be shod with sandals, & that they shulde not put on two coates.

10 And he said vnto them, Wherefoeuer ye shal entre into an house, there abide till ye departe thence.

14 *Then king Herode heard of him (for his name was spred abroad) & said, Iohn Baptist is risen againe fro the dead, & there fore great workes are wrought by him.

15 Other said, It is Elias: and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophetes.

16 *So when Herode heard it, he said, It is Iohn whome I beheaded: he is risen fro the dead.

17 For Herode him self had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, and bounde him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philippes wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn said vnto Herode, *It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarell against him, and wolde haue killed him, but she colde not.

20 For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holie, and reuerenced him, & when he heard him, he did manie things, and heard him gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herode on his birth day made a banquet to his Princes and Captaines, and chief Estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter of the same Herodias came in and danced, and pleased Herode and them that sate at table together, the King said vnto the maide, Ask of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And he sware vnto her, Whatfoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 *So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shal I aske? And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 The she came in straight way with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I wolde that thou shuldest giue me euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was verie sorrye: yet for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at table with him, he wolde not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the haggman, and gaue charge that his head shulde be brought. So he went and beheaded him in the prison.

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, and the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, thei came and toke vp his bodie, and put it in a tombe.

30 *And the Apostles gathered them selues together to Iesus, and tolde him all things, bothe what thei had done, & what they had taught.

31 And he said vnto them, Come ye aparte into the wilderness, and rest a while: for there were many commers and goers, that they had not leasure to eat.

32 *So thei went by ship out of the way into a desert place.

33 But the people sawe the when thei departed, & many knewe him, & ranne a fore thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 *Then Iesus went out, and sawe a great multitude, & had compassion on them, because they were like shepe which had no shepheard: and he began to teache them manie things.

35 *And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them departe, that they may go into the villages and townes about, and bye them bread: for they haue nothing to eat.

37 But he answered and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And they said vnto him, Shal we go and bye two hundred penie worthe of bread, and giue them to eat?

(and they haue done vnto him whatsoe-

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he sawe a great multitude about them, &
the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straight way all the people, when they behelde him, were amazed, and ranne to him, and saluted him.

16 Then he asked the Scribes, What dispute you † among your selues?

17 And one of the companie answered, & said, Master, I haue broght my sonne vnto thee, which hath a domme spirit:

18 And whersoever he taketh him, he teareth him, and he fometh, & gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they shulde cast him out, & they coulde not.

19 Then he answered him, & said, O faith-les generation, howe long now shal I be with you! how long now shal I suffer you!
Bring him vnto me.

20 So they broght him vnto him: & asone as the spirit sawe him, he tare him, and he fel downe on the grounde, wallowing and foming.

21 Then he asked his Father, How long time is it since he hath bene thus? And he said, Of a childe.

22 And oft times he casteth him into the fyre, & into the water, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, helpe vs, & haue compassion vpon vs.

23 And Iesus said vnto him, If thou canst beleue it, all things are possible to him that beleueth.

24 And straight way the Father of the childe crying with teares, said, Lord, I beleue:
helpe my vnbeliefe.

25 When Iesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the vnclane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou domme and deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him and entre no more into him.

26 The spirit cryed, and rent him fore, and came out, and he was as one dead, in so much that many said, He is dead.

27 But Iesus toke his hand and lift him vp,
and he rose.

28 And whē he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why coulde not we cast him out?

29 And he said vnto them, This kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And thei departed thence, and went through Galile, & he wolde not that any shulde haue knowen it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, The Sonne of man shalbe deliue-red into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, but after that he is killed, he shall rise againe the third day.

32 But they vnderstode not that saying,
and were afrayde to aske him.

33 ¶ After he came to Capernaum: & when he was in the house, he asked them, What was it ye disputed among you by the way:

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they reasoned among the selues, who shulde be the chiefest.

35 And he sate downe, & called the twelue and said, to them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And he toke a liide childe, and set him in the middes of them, and toke him in his armes, and said vnto them,

37 Whosoever shal receiue one of suche like children in my Name, receiue me: & whosoever receiue me, receiue me me, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ The Iohn answered him, saying, Master, we sawe one casting out devils by thy Name, which followeth not vs, & we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

39 ¶ But Iesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can do a miracle by my Name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoever is not against vs, is on our parte.

41 ¶ And whosoever shal giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because ye belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, he shal not lose his rewarde.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offende one of these liide ones, that beleue in me, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea.

43 ¶ Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offende, cut it of: it is better for thee to entre into life, maimed, then hauing two han-des, to go into hel, into the fyre that neuer shalbe quenched,

44 ¶ Where their worme dyeth not, & the
fyre neuer goeth out.

45 Lykewise, if thy foote cause thee to offende, cut it of: it is better for thee to go halt into life, then hauing two feete to be cast into hel into the fyre that neuer shalbe quenched,

46 Where their worme dyeth not, and the
fyre neuer goeth out.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to offende, plucke it out: it is better for thee to go into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fyre,

48 Where their worme dyeth not, and the
fyre neuer goeth out.

¶ CHAP. X.

1 Of diuorcement. 17 The riche man questioneth with Christ. 30 Their rewardes that are persecuted. 35 Of the sonnes of Zebedeus. 46 Bartimeus hath his eyes opened.

1 AND^a he arose from thence, and wēt into the coasts of Iudea by the farre side of Iordan, and the people resorted vnto him againe, & as he was wōt, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharisees came, and asked him,
 If it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And he answered, and said vnto them,
 What did^a Moses commande you?

4 And they said, Moses suffred to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the,
 For the hardnes of your heart he wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But at the^a beginning of the creation
 * God made them male and femile.

7 * For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife.

8 And they twaine shalbe one^a fleshe: so that they ar no more twaine, but one fleth.

9 * Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let not man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked hi againe of that matter.

11 And he said vnto the, * Whosoever shall put away his wife and marie another, * cōmitteth adulterie against her.

12 And if a womā put away her housband, and be married to another, she committeth
 adulterie.

13 ¶ Then they brought lide children to him that he shulde touche them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But whē Iesus sawe it, he was displeased, and said to them, Suffre the litle children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shall not receiue the kingdome of God as^a a litle childe, he shal not entre therein.

16 And he toke them vp in his armes, and put his hāds vpon them, & ^a blessed them.

17 ¶ And whē he was gone out on the way there came one^a running, and kneled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shal I do, that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus said to him, Why callest thou me
 Good: there is none^a good but one, euen
 God.

19 Thou knowest the commandementes,
 * Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kil. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare fals witnes. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things I haue obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus beheld him, and loued him, and said vnto him, One thing is lacking
 vnto thee, Go and^a sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come followe me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorowful: for he had great possesiōs.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and said vnto his disciples, How hardely do they that haue riches, entre into the kingdome
 of God!

24 And his disciples were astonied at his wordes. But Iesus answered againe, & said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to entre into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a^a riche man to entre into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were muche more astonied, saying with them selues, Who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, & said, With men it is vnpossible, but not with God: for with God^a all things are possible.

28 ¶ Thē Peter began to say vnto him, Lo we haue forsakē all, & haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsakē house or brethren or sisters, or father or mother, or wife or childre; or lands for my sake and the Gospels;

30 But he shal receiue an hundreth folde now at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with^a persecutions, & in the worlde to come eternall life.

31 * But manie that are^a first shalbe last, and the last, first.

32 ¶ And they were in the way going vp to Ierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, & as they followed,
 they were afraid, & Iesus toke the twelue againe, and began to tel them what things shulde come vnto him,

33 Saying, Beholde we go vp to Ierusalē, and the Sonne of mā shalbe deliuered vnto the high Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shal condemne him to death, & shall deliuer him to the Gentiles,

35 ¶ Then Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we wolde that thou shouldest do for vs that that we desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What wolde ye I shulde do for you?

37 And they said to him, Grante vnto vs, that we may sit one at thy right hande, and the other at thy left hand in thy glorie.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye knowe not what ye aske. Can ye drink of the cup that I shal drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shal be baptized with?

39 And thei said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall drinke in dede of the cup that I shal drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shal be baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand & at my left, is not mine to giue, but it shal be giuen to them, for whome it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdain at Iames and Iohn.

42 But Iesus called them vnto him, & said to them, Ye know that they which desire to beare rule among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and thei that be great among them, exercise autoritie ouer them.

43 But it shal not be so among you: but whosoever wil be great among you, shal be your seruant.

44 And whosoever wil be chiefe of you, shal be the seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ranfome of manie.

46 ¶ Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, & a great multitude, Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blinde man, sat by the wayes side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazaret, he began to crye and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

48 And many rebuked him, because he shulde holde his peace: but he cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49 Then Iesus stode still, and commanded him to be called: & they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he throwe away his cloke, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, that I may see.

52 Then Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath saved thee. And by and by he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

24 He declareth the vertue of faith, and how we shulde pray. 27 The Phariseis question with Christ.

1 And when they came nere to Ierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethania vnto the mount of olives, he sent forth the two of his disciples,

2 And said vnto them, Go your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and as sone as ye shal entre into it, ye shal finde a colte bounde, whereon neuer man sate: lose him and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why do ye this? Say that the Lord hath nede of him, and straight way he wil send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and founde a colte tyed by the dore without, in a place where two wayes met, and thei losed him.

5 Then certeine of them that stode there, said vnto the, What do ye losing the colte?

6 And thei said vnto them, as Iesus had commanded them. So they let them go.

7 ¶ And they brought the colte to Iesus, & cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

8 And manie spred their garments in the way: other cut downe branches of the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And thei that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna: blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the kirgdome that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our father. Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heavens.

11 ¶ So Iesus entred into Ierusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on al things, & now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

12 ¶ And on the morow when they were come out from Bethania, he was hungrie.

13 And seing a figge tre a farr off, that had leaues, he went to se if he might finde anie thing thereon: but when he came vnto it, he founde nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

14 The Iesus answered, and said to it, Neuer man eat frute of thee hereafter while the worlde standeth: & his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ And they came to Ierusalem, and Iesus went into the Temple, & began to cast out them that solde and boght in the Temple, & ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, & the seats of them that solde doves.

 vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a towre in it, and let it out to houl-bandmen, & went into a finge countrey.
 And at a tyme, he sent to the houl-bandmen a seruant, that he might receiue of the houl-bandmen of the frute of the vineyard.
 But they toke him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.
 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.
 And againe he sent another, & him they slewe, and manie other, bearing some, & killing some.
 Yet had he one sonne, his dorebeloned:
 him also he sent the last vnto them, saying,
 They wil reuerence my sonne.
 But the houl-bandmen said among themmarvelled at him.

18 ¶ Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say, There is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying, 19 Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother dye and leaue his wife and leau no childre, that his brother shulde take his wife, and raise vp sēde vnto his bro-

20 There were seuen brethren, and the first

22 So seuen had her, and left no yssue, last

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of the?
for seuen had her to wife.
24 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto them,
Are ye not therefore deceiued, because ye knowe not the Scriptures, nether the po-

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, nether men marry, nor wīues are ma-

28 ¶ Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, & per-

God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with al thy strength, this is the first comandement.
31 And the seconde is like, that is, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self. There is none other commandemēt greater then these.
32 Then the Scribe said vnto him, Wel Master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he,

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, & with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as him self, is more then all burnt offerings and sacrifices.
34 Then, when Iesus saw that he answered discretly, he said vnto him, Thou hast not said from the things of God. And no man after that durst aske him any questiō.
35 ¶ And Iesus answered, & said teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?
36 For Dauid him selfe said by the holyc Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy fote stole.
37 Then Dauid himselfe calleth him, Lord.
by what meane is he sonne of his sonne? and much people heard him gladly.
38 ¶ Monieuer he said vnto them, in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes which loue to goe in long robes, and loue saluati-ons in the markets, 39 And the chief seates in the Synagogues and the first roundes at feastes, 40 Which deuoure widowes houses, tenē vnder a colour of long prayers. These shall receiue the greater damnation.
41 ¶ And as Iesus sat ouer against the trea-surie, he behelde how the people cast money into the treasure, and many richemen cast in much.
42 And there came a certeine poore widowe, and she threw in two mites, whiche make a quadrin.
43 Then he called vnto him his disciples, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath cast more in, then all they whiche haue cast into the treasure.
44 For they all did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her pouertie did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

what shalbe the signe when al these things shalbe fulfilled:

3 And Iesus answered them, and began to say, Take hede lest any ma deceiue you.

6 For many shal come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7 Furthermore when ye shall heare of warres and rumors of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must nedes be: but the end shal not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, & there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters, & there shalbe famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take ye hede to your selues: for they shal deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shalbe beaten, and broght before rulers and kings for my sake for a testimoniall vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 But when they lead you, & deliuer you vp, take ye no thought afore, nother premeditate what ye shal say: but what cometh shall come. This is not to make them negligent, but to assure them that he will assist them and instruct the sufficiency with answers, so that they may hereby shine that their defence standeth not in their own wisdom, or eloquence.

12 Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shal cause them to dye.

13 And ye shalbe hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoever shall endure vnto the end, he shalbe saved.

14 Moreover, when ye shal see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth consider it) then let the that be in Iudea, flee into the mountains.

15 And let him that is upon the house, not come downe into the house, nether entre therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turne backe againe vnto the things which he left behinde him, to take his clothes.

17 Then wo shalbe to them that are with a childe, & to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For there shalbe in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, nether shalbe.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh shulde be saved: but for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 Then if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or, lo, he is there, bekeue it not.

22 For false Christs shall rise, and false Prophets, & shal shewe signes & wonders, to deceiue, if it were possible, the very elect.

23 But take ye hede: beholde, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 Moreover in those dayes, after that tribulation the sunne shal waxe darke, and the moone shal not giue her light.

25 And the stars of heauen shal fall: & the powers which are in heauen shal shake.

26 And then shal they see the Sonne of man coming in the cloudes, with great power and glorie.

27 And he shal then send his Angels, and shal gather together his elect fro the foure windes, and from the vntmost parte of the earth to the vntmost parte of heauen.

28 Now learne a parable of the figge tree. When her bough is yet tender, & it bringeth forth leaues, ye knowe that sommer is nere.

29 So in like maner, when ye see these things come to passe, knowe that the kingdome of God is nere, euen at the doores.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shal not passe till al these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shal passe away, but my wordes shal not passe away.

32 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heauen, nother the Sonne him selfe, saue the Father.

33 Take hede: watch, & pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a strange countrey, & leaueh his house, and giueth autoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commadeth the porter to watch.

35 Watche therefore, (for ye knowe not when the Master of the house wil come, at heuen, or at midnight, or at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning).

36 Lest if he come suddenly, he finde you sleeping.

37 And those things that I say vnto you, I say vnto all men. Watche.

But they said, Not in the feast daye, lest there be any tumult among the people.
And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at table, there came a woman having a boxe of ointment of spikenarde, verie costly, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.
Therefore some disced among them selues, and said, To what end is this waste of ointment?
For it might haue bene sold for more then three hundred pence, & be giue vnto the poore. & they grudged against her.
But Iesus said, Let her alone: why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.
For ye haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye will, ye maye do them good,
but me ye shal not haue alwayes.
She hath done that she colde: she came afore hand to anoint my bodie to the burying.
Verely I say vnto you, wheresoeuer this Gospell shalbe preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shalbe spoken of, in remembrance of her.
Then Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue went away vnto the high Priestes, to betray him vnto them.
And when they heard it, they were glad, & promised that they wolde giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conueniently betray him.
Now the first day of vncleanned bread, when they sacrificed the Passecouer, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou we go and prepare, that thou maist eat the Passecouer?
Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said vnto them, Go ye into the citie, &
there shall a man mete you bearing a pitcher of water: followe him.
And whithersoever he goeth in, saye ye to the good man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Passecouer with my disciples?
And he wil shewe you an vpper chamber, which is large, trimmed and prepared:
there make it readie for vs.
So his disciples went forth, and came to the citie, & founde as he had said vnto them: and made readie the Passecouer.
And at euen he came with the twelue.
And as they sat at table and did eat, Ie-sus said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betray me, which eateth with me.
Then they began to be frowfull, & to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?
And he answered, and said vnto them,

It is one of the twelue that dippeth with me in the platter.
Truely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is betrayed: It had bene good for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.
And as they did eat, Iesus toke the bread, and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to them, and said, Take, eat, this is my bodie.
Also he toke the cup, and when he had giuen thanks, gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.
And he said vnto the, This is my blood of the newe Testament, which is shed for manie.
Verely I say vnto you, I wil drinke no more of the frute of the vine, vntill that day, that I drinke it new in the kigdome of God.
And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out to the mount of oliues.
Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shalbe offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.
But after that I am risen, I will go into Galilee before you.
And Peter said vnto him, Although all men shulde be offended, yet wolde not I.
Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crowe twice, thou shalt denie me thrise.
But he said more earnestly, If I shulde dye with thee, I will not denye thee: likewise also said they all.
After they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples,
Sit ye here till I haue prayed.
And he toke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he began to be afrayed, & in great heauines,
And said vnto them, My soule is verie heauie, euen vnto the death: tary here and watche.
So he went forward a litle, & fel dowe-ne on the grounde, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe fro him.
And he said, Abba, Father, al things ar possible vnto thee: take away this cup fro me: neuertheles not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.
Then he came and founde the sleeping, and said to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? coldest not thou watche one houre?
Watch ye and pray, that ye entre not into tentation: the spirit in dede is readie, but the fleshe is weak.

42 Rise vp: let vs go: lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

43 * And immediatly while he yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, & with him a great multitude with swordes and stauies from the hie Priests, and Scribes and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a toke, saying, Whome soeuer I shal kisse, he it is: take him, & leade him away safely.

45 And as sone as he was come, he went straight way to him, and said, * Master, Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they layed their hands on him, & toke him.

47 And * one of them that stode by, drewe out a sworde, and smote a * seruant of the hie Priest, and cut of his eare.

48 And Iesus answered, and said vnto the, Ye be come out as vnto a thefe with swordes, and with stauies to take me.

49 I was daily with you teaching in the Temple, and ye * toke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures shulde be fulfilled.

50 Then they * al forsoke him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain yong man, clothed in linnen vpon his bare bodie, and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloth, and fled fro them naked.

53 * So theiled Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came all the * hie Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a * farre of, eue into the hall of the hie Priest, and sate with the seruantes, and warmed him selfe at the fyre.

55 And the * hie Priests, and all the Councill sought for wimes against Iesus, to put him to death, but founde none.

56 For many bare false wimes against him, but their wimes agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certeine, & bare false wimes against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, * I wil destroy this Temple made with handes, & within three dayes I wil builde another, made without handes.

59 But their wimes yet agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stode vp amongs them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is the matter that thou beare wimes against thee?

61 But he held his peace and answered nothing. Again the hie Priest asked him, & said vnto him, Art thou Christ the Sonne of the * Blessed?

62 And Iesus said, I am he, * and ye shall see the * Sonne of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the cloudes of heauen.

63 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes and said, What haue we any more nede of witnesses?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthie of death.

65 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to buffet him, and to say vnto him, Prophecie. And the * sergeants smote him with their rodes.

66 * And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maides of the hie Priest, 67 And when she sawe Peter warming him self, she looked on him, and said, Thou wast also with Iesus of Nazaret.

68 But he denied it, saying, I knowe him not, nether wot I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the * porche, and the cocke crewe.

69 * The maide sawe him againe, and began to say to them that stode by, This is one of them.

70 But he denied it againe: and anone after they that stode by said againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galile, and thy speache is like.

71 And he began to curse, & sweare, saying, I knowe not this ma of whome ye speake.

72 * Then the secod time the cocke crewe, and Peter remembered the worde that Iesus had said vnto him, Before the cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie me thrise. And tweying that with him self, he wept.

i The Iewes desired their daye

4 *Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? beholde how many things thei wites against thee.

5 But Iesus answered b no more at all, so that Pilate marueiled.

6 Now at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them, whome soeuer they wold desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bounde with his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cryed a loude, & began to desire that he wolde do as he had c euer done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and said, Will ye that I let lose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knewe that the hie Priestes had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the hie Priestes had moued the people to desire that he wolde rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto the, What will ye then that I do with him, whome ye cal the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cryed againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cryed the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate d willing to content the people, losed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him awaye into the hall, which is the f commune hall, and called together the whole band,

17 And cled him with purple, and platted a crown of thornes, & put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, King of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a freede, and spat vpon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reuerence.

20 And whē thei had mocked him, thei took the purple of him, and put his owne clothes on him, & led him out to crucifie hi.

21 *And they e compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 *And thei brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulls.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrre: but he receiued it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lottes for the, what euerie man shulde haue.

25 And it was e the third houre, when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written above, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with hi two theues, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, *And he was counted among f wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, & saying, *Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, & buydest it in thre dayes, 30 Saue thy self, & come down fro h crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the hie Priestes mocking, said among the selues with the Scribes, He saued other me, him self he can not saue.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel now come downe from the crosse, that we may se, and beleue. h Thei also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 ¶ Now when the sixt houre was come, darkenes arose ouer i all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the k ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voice, saying, *Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani: which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stode by, when thei heard it, said, i Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled a k sponge full of vineger, & put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs se if Elias wil come and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cryed with a lowde voyce, & gaue vp the gost.

38 ¶ And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Now whē the m Centurion, which stode ouer against him, sawe that he thus crying gaue vp the gost, he said, Truly this man was the sonne of God.

40 ¶ There were also women, whiche behelde a farre off, among whome was Marie Magdalene, and Marie (the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses) and Salome, 41 Which also when he was in Galile, followed him and ministred vnto him, & many other women which came vp with him vnto Ierusalem.

42 ¶ *And now whē night was come (because it was the day of the preparation that is before the Sabbath)

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an n honorable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdom of God, came, & went in o boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueiled if he were already dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether he had bene

1 The women come to the graue. 9 Christ being risen againe, appeareth to Magdalene. 14 Alse to the eleven, and reproveth their vnbelief. 16 He comitteth the preaching of the Gospel, and the ministratiō of baptisme vnto them.

- 1 And whē the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, & Marie the mother of Iames, & Salome, bought sweete ointments, that they might come, and embaulme him.
- 2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was yet rising,
- 3 And they said one to another, Who shall roll vs away the stone from the dore of the sepulchre?
- 4 And when they looked, they sawe that the stone was rolled awaye (for it was a very great one.)
- 5 So they went into the sepulchre, & sawe a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were afraied.
- 6 But he said vnto them, Be not afraied: ye seeke Iesus of Nazaret, whiche hath bene crucified: he is risen: he is not here: behold the place, where they put him.
- 7 But go your way, and tel his disciples, & Peter, he wil go before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said vnto you.
- 8 And they went out quickly and fled fro

the sepulchre: for they trembled and were amafed: nether said they any thing to any man: for they were afraied.

- 9 And whē Iesus was risen againe, in the morow (whiche was the first daye of the weeke) he appeared first to Marie Magdalene, out of whome he had cast seuē deuils.
- 10 And she went and tolde them that had bene with him, which mourned and wept.
- 11 And whē they heard he was aliue, and had appeared to her, they beleued it not.
- 12 After that, he appeared vnto two of them in another forme, as they walked & went into the country.
- 13 And they went and tolde it to the remnant, but they beleued them not.
- 14 Finally, he appeared vnto the eleven as they sat together, and reproveth them of their vnbelief and hardnes of heart, because they beleued not them whiche had sene him, being risen vp againe.
- 15 And he said vnto them, Go ye into all the worlde, & preache the Gospel to euerie creature.
- 16 He that shall beleue & be baptized, shall be saued: but he that wil not beleue, shall be damned.
- 17 And these tokens shal followe the that beleue, In my Name they shal cast out deuils, & shal speake with newe tongues,
- 18 And shal take away serpents, & if they shal drinke any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them: they shal lay their hands on the sicke, and they shal recover.
- 19 So after the Lord had spoken vnto the, he was receiued into heauen, & sat at the right hand of God.
- 20 And they went forth & preached euery where. And the Lord wrought with them, and confirmed the worde with signes that followed, Amen.

45 And blessed is she that beleued: for tho-told her from the Lord.

46 Then Marie said, My soule magnifieth
the Lord,

47 And my spirit reioyeth in God my Sa-uiour.

48 For he hath looked on the poore degre of his seruant: for beholde, from hence forth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mightie, hath done forme great things, & holie is his Name.

50 And his mercie is from generation to generation on them that feare him.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arme: he hath scattered the proude in the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put down the mightie fro their 56 And Marie abode with her about three moneths: after she returned to her owne home.

57 Now Elisabeths time was fulfilled, that she shulde be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and cousins heard tellof the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day thei came to circumcise the babe, & called him
Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, & said, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.

61 And thei said vnto her, There is none of thy kindred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he wolde haue him called.

63 So he asked for writing tables, & wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and thei mar-celled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt arownd them, and all these wordes were moised abroad throughout all the hill country of Iudea.

66 And all they that heard them, had them in their hearts, saying, What manner of childe shall this be? & the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 The his father Zacharias was filled with the holie Gost, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because he hath visited & redeemed his people,

69 And hath raised vp vnto vs, in the house of his seruant Dauid,

Prophetes, which were since the world began, saying,

71 That he wolde send vs deliuerance from our enemies, and from the handes of all that hate vs,

72 That he wolde shewe mercie towards our fathers, and remembre his holie couenant,

73 And the othe which he sware to our father Abraham:

74 Which was, that he wolde grant vnto vs that we being deliuered out of the handes of our enemies, shulde serue him without feare

75 All the dayes of our life, in holynes & righteousnes before him.

76 And thou, babe, shalt be called the Pro-phete of the moste High: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his wayes,

77 And to giue knowledge of saluatio vnto his people by the remission of their sinnes,

78 Through the tender mercie of our God, whereby the day spring from an hie hath visited vs,

79 To giue light to them that sit in darkenes, & in the shadowe of death, & to guide our feete into the way of peace.

 7 And she brought forth her first begotten sonne, & wrapped him in swadling clothes, and laid him in a cratche, because there was no rowme for them in the ynn.
 8 And there were in the same countrey shepherds, abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night, because of their flocke.
 9 And lo, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and the glorie of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraide.
 10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Be not afraide: for beholde, I bring you tydings of great ioye, that shalbe to al the people:
 11 That is, that vnto you is borne this day in the citie of ^e Dauid, a Sauour, which is Christ the Lord.
 12 And this shalbe a signe to you, Ye shal finde ^e childe swaddled, & laid in a cratche.
 13 And straight waye there was with the Angel a multitude of heavenly souldiers, praying God, and saying, 14 Glorie beto God in the high heavens, and peace in earth, & towards men good will.
 15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, that the shepherds said one to another, Let vs go then vnto Beth-lehem, & se this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.
 16 So they came with haste, & founde both Marie and Ioseph, and the babe laid in the cratche.
 17 And when they had sene it, they published abroad the thing, which was tolde them of that childe.
 18 And al that heard it, wondred at the things which were tolde them of the shepherds.
 19 But Marie kept al those sayings & pondered them in her heart.
 20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praying God for all that they had heard & sene, as it was spoken vnto them.
 21 And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they shulde circumsise the childe, his name was then called ^e IESVS, which was named of the Angel before he was conceived in the wombe.
 22 And when the dayes of her purification after the Law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Ierusalem, to present him to the Lord.
 23 As it is writen in the Law of the Lord, Every man childe that first openeth the wombe, shalbe called holie to the Lord.
 24 And to give an oblation as it is commaunded in the Law of the Lord, a paire of turtle doves, or two yong pigeons.

 25 And beholde there was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was iuste, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the holy Ghost was vpon him.
 26 And a reuelation was given him of the holy Ghost, that he shulde not se death, before he had sene the Lords Christ.
 27 And he came by the motio of the Spirit into the Temple, & when the parents brought in the childe Iesus, to do for him after the custome of the Law:
 28 Then he toke him in his armes, & praised God, and said, 29 Lord, now lettest thou thy seruant departe in peace, according to thy worde.
 30 For myne eyes haue sene thy saluatio, which thou hast prepared before the face of al people:
 31 A light to be reueiled to the Gentiles, and the glorie of thy people Israel.
 32 And Ioseph and his mother marueiled at those things, which were spoken touching him.
 33 And Simeon blessed them, and said vnto Marie his mother, Beholde, this childe is appointed for the fall & rising againe of many in Israel, & for a signe which shalbe spoken against:
 34 (Yea, & a sword shall pearce through thy soule) that the thoughts of many heartes may be opened.
 35 And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had liued with an husband seuen yeres from her virginite.
 36 And she was widowe about foure score and foure yeres, and went not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers night and day.
 37 She then coming at the same instant vpon them, confessed likewise the Lord, & spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Ierusalem.
 38 And when they had performed all things according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazaret.
 39 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

CHAP. III.

¶ The preaching, baptisme, and prisonment of Iohn. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His age and genealogie.

NOW in the fiftenth yere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pōtius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herode being Tetrarch of Galile, & his brother Philippe Tetrarch of Iurea, & of the countrey of Trachonitis, & Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 (*When Annas and Caiaphas were the high Priests) the worde of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 And he came into all the coastes about Iordan preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Isaias the Prophet, which saith, *The voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make his paths straight.

5 Euerie valley shalbe filled, and euerie mountaine and hill shalbe brought lowe, & crooked things shalbe made straight, & the rough wayes shalbe made smothe.

6 And all fleshe shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then said he to the people that were come guto be baptized of him, *O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore frutes worthie amendment of life, and beginne not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Now also is the axe laid vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euerie tree which bringeth not forth good frute, shalbe hewen downe and cast into the fyre.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shal we do then?

11 And he answered, and said vnto them, *He that hath two coates, let him parte with him that hath none: and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to be baptized, and said vnto him, Master, what shal we do?

13 And he said vnto the, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demāded of him, saying, And what shal we do? And he said vnto them, Do violence to no man, nether accuse anie falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, if he were not the Christ,

16 Iohn answered, and said to them all, *In dede I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, cometh, whose shoes latchet I am not worthie to vnlose: he wil baptize you with the holie Gost, and with fyre.

17 *Whose fanne is in his hand, and he wil make cleane his floore, and wil gather the whear into his garner, but the chaff wil he burne vp with fyre that neuer shalbe quenched.

18 Thus then exhorting with many other things, he preached vnto the people.

19 *But when Herode the Tetrarch was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philipps wife, and for all the evils which Herode had done, 20 He added yet this about al, that he shut vp Iohn in prison.

21 *Now it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, & that Iesus was baptized, & did pray, that the heauen was opened;

22 And the holy Gost came downe in a doolie shape like a doue, vpon him, & there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne: in thee I am wel pleased.

23 ¶ And Iesus himself began to be about thirtie yere of age, being as men supposed the sonne

CHAP. IIIII.

1 Iesus is led into the wilderness to be tempted. 13 He overcometh the deuil. 14 He goeth into Galilee. 16 Preacheth at Nazaret and Capernaum. 22 The Jewes despise him. 38 He cometh into Peters house, and healeth his mother in law. 41 The deuils acknowledge Christ. 43 He preacheth through the cities.

And Iesus full of the holie Ghost returned from Iordan, and was led by the spirit into the wilderness,

And was there fourtie dayes tempted of the deuil, and in those dayes he did eat nothing: but when they were ended, he afterwarde was hungrie.

Then the deuil said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, commande this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Iesus answered him, saying, It is written, * That man shall not live by bread onlie, but by euery worde of God.
5 Then the deuil toke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the worlde, † in the twinkling of an eye.
6 And the deuil said vnto him, All this power wil I giue thee, & the glorie of those kingdomes: for that is deliuered to me: & to whome soeuer I will, I giue it.
7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, they shal be all thine.
8 But Iesus answered him, and said, † Hee from me, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, & him alone thou shalt serue.
9 Then he brought him to Ierusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the sonne of God, cast thy self downe from hence,
10 For it is written, * That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to kepe thee:
11 And with their hands they shal lift thee vp, lest at any tyme thou shuldest dash thy fote against a stone.
12 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, It is said, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
13 And when the deuil had ended all the tentation, he departed from him for a season.
14 ¶ And Iesus returned by the power of the spirit into Galilee: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

were fastened on him.

23 Then he began to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

24 And all heare him with ayes, & wondered at the gracious wordes, which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

25 Then he said vnto them, Ye will surely say vnto me this prouerbe, Physicio, heale thy self: whatdoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, do it here likewise in thine owne countrey.

26 And he said, Verely I say vnto you, No Prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

27 But I tel you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when the heauen was shut thre yeres and six moneths, whē great famine was throughout all the land, 28 But vnto none of them was Elias sent, save into Sarepta, a cite of Sidon, vnto a certeine widowe.

29 Also manie lepers were in Israel, in the time of Eliseus the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naama the Syrian.

30 Then all that were in the Synagogue, whē thei heard it, were filled with wrath, 31 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cite was buylt, to cast him downe headlong.

32 But he passed through the middes of them, and went his way.

33 ¶ And came downe into Capernaum a cite of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

34 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his worde was with autoritie.

35 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an vncleane deuill, which cryed with a loude voyce, 36 Saying, Oh, what haue we to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth: art thou come to destroy vs? I knowe who thou art, euen the holie one of God.

37 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of the, came out of him, and hurt him not.

38 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What thing is this? for with autoritie and power he commandeth the foule spirits, and thei come out.

39 And the fame of him spred abroad throughout all the places of the countrey rounde about.

40 ¶ And he rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, & entred into Simons house.

And Simons wifes mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

41 Thē he stode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her, and immediately she arose, and ministred vnto them.

42 Now whē the sunne was downe, all thei that had sicke folkes of diuers diseases, broght them vnto him, and he layed his hands on euery one of them, & healed the.

43 ¶ And deuils also came out of manie, crying, and saying, Thou art the Christ the Sonne of God: but he rebuked them, & suffred them not to say that they knewe him to be the Christ.

44 And when it was day, he departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that he shulde not departe from the.

45 But he said vnto them, Surely I must also preache the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.

46 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

¶ CHAP. V.

1 Christ preacheth out of the ship. 6 The great draught of fishes. 10 Certaine disciples are called. 12 He healeth the leper. 13 He healeth the man of the palse. 17 He calleth Matthew the customer. 30 Eatech with sinners. 34 And excuseth his, as touching eating.

1 Then it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the worde of God, that he stode by the lake of Genesaret.

2 And sawe two shippes stand by the lake side; but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And he entred into one of the shippes, which was Simons, and required him that he wolde thrust of a lide from the land: & he sat downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ¶ Now whē he had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Lanche out into the depe, & let downe your nettes to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, & said vnto him, Master, we haue trauailed all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheles at thy worde I will let downe the net.

6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their partners, which were in the other ship, that they shulde come and helpe them, who came then, and filled bothe the shippes, that thei did sinke.

8 Now when Simon Peter sawe it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, go from me: for I am a sinful man.

them. Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath dayes?

3 Then Iesus answered them, & said, Have ye not red this, that David did when he him self was an hungred, & they which were with him,

4 How he went into the house of God, & toke and ate the shewe bread, and gave also to them which were with him, which was not lawful to eat, but for the Priestes onely.

5 And he said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that he entred into the Synagogue & taught, and there was a man, whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he wolde heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But he knewe their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand vp in the middes. And he arose, and stode vp.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I wil aske you a questio, Whether is it lawful on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill, to saue life, or to destroy it?

10 And he behelde them al in compasse, & said vnto the man, Stretche forth thyne hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madnes, & communicated one with another, what they might do to Iesus.

12 ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went into a mountaine to pray, & spent the night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called his disciples, & of them he chose twelue, which also he called Apostles.

14 (Simon whome he named also Peter, & Andrewe his brother, James & Iohn, Philippe and Bartemewe, 15 Matthewe, & Thomas, James the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon called zelous, 16 Iudas James brother, and Iudas Iscariot which also was the traitour.)

17 Then he came downe with them, and stode in a plaine place, with the companie of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea, and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And he lifted vp his eyes, vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shalbe satisfied: blessed are ye that wepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of man sake.

23 Reioyce in that day, and be glad: for beholde your reward is great in heauen: for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophetes.

24 But woe be to you that are rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 Woe be to you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall weile and wepe.

26 Woe be to you when all men speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophetes.

27 But I say vnto you which heare, Love your enemies: do wel to them which hate you.

28 Blessie them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: & him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee, and of him that taketh awaye thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 And as ye wolde that men shulde do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanke shal ye haue: for euen the sinners loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye do good for them which do good for you, what thanke shal ye haue: for euen the sinners do the same.

34 And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanke shal ye haue: for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, looking for nothing againe, and your reward shalbe great, and ye shalbe the children of the most High: for he is kind vnto the vnkind, & to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 ¶ Iudge not, & ye shal not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shal not be condemned: forgieue, and ye shalbe forgien.

38 Giue, and it shalbe giuen vnto you: a good measure, pressed downe, shake together, and running ouer shall men giue you.

21 And at that time he cured many of their ſickenes, and plagues, and of euill ſpirites, and vnto many blinde men he gaue ſight.

30 But the Pharifees and the expounders of the Law, deſpised the counſel of God, againſt them ſelues, and were not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord ſaid, Whereunto ſhall I liken the men of this generation? & what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto children ſitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and ſaying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

35 But wiſdome is iuſtified of all her children.

36 And one of the Pharifees deſired him that he wolde eat with him: and he went into the Pharifees houſe, and ſate downe at table.

37 And behold, a woman in the citie, which was a ſinner, when ſhe knewe that Ieſus ſate at table in the Pharifees houſe, ſhe brought a boxe of ointment.

38 And ſhe ſtoode at his ſeete behind him weeping, and began to waſhe his ſeete with teares, and did wipe them with the heeres of her head, & kiſſed his ſeete, and anointed them with the ointment.

43 Simon answered, & ſaid, I ſuppoſe that he, to whome he forgave moſt. And he ſaid vnto him, Thou haſt truly iudged.

44 Then he turned to the woman, & ſaid, vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine houſe, and thou gaeſt me no water to my ſeete: but ſhe hath waſhed my ſeete with teares, and wiped them with the heeres of her head.

45 Thou gaeſt me no kiſſe: but ſhe ſince the tyme I came in, hath not ceaſed to kiſſe my ſeete.

47 Wherefore I ſay vnto thee, many ſinnes are forgiven her: for ſhe loued much. To whome a litle is forgiven, he doeth loue a litle.

48 And he ſaid vnto her, Thy ſinnes are forgiven thee.

3 And Iosann the wife of Chitza Herodes steward, & Sinfana, & manie other which ministered vnto him of their substance.

4 Now when much people was gathered together, and were come to him out of all cities, he spake by a parable.

5 A sower went out to sow his seede, and as he sowed, some fel by the way side, & it was troden vnder foote, and the foules of heauen deuoured it.

6 And some fel on the stones; and when it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moiste.

7 And some fell among thornes; and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fel on good ground, & sprang vp, and bare frute, an hundreth folde. And as he said these things, he cryed, He that hath eares to^c heare, let him heare.

9 Then his disciples asked him, demāding, what parable that was?

10 And he said, Vnto you it is giuen to know the secrets of the kingdome of God, but to other in^d parables, that when^e they se, they shulde not se, and when they heare, they shulde not vnderstand.

11 The parable is this, The seede is the worde of God.

12 And they that are beside the waye, are they that heare: afterwarde commeth the deuill, & taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they shulde beleue, & be saued.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the worde with ioye: but they haue no rootes, which for a while^f beleue, but in the time of tentation go away.

14 And that which fel among thornes, are they which haue heard, and after their departure are choked with cares, & with riches, and voluptuous lining, and bring forth no frute.

15 But that which fel in good ground, are they whiche with an honest & good heart heare the worde, and kepe it, & bring forth frute with patience.

16 ¶ No^g man when he lighteth a candel, couereth it vnder a vessell, neither putteth it vnder the table, but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that entre in, may se the light.

17 For nothing is secret, that shall not be euident: neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come to light.

18 Take hede therefore how ye heare: for whoeuer hath, to him shall be giuen; and whoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken euē that which he hath.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother & his brethren, and soude not come nere to him for the presse.

20 And it was tolde him by certaine which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and wolde se thee.

21 But he answered, & said vnto them, My mother, and my brethren are^h these, which heare the worde of God, and do it.

22 ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs go ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 And as they sailed, he fell aⁱ slepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in icopardie.

24 Then they went to him, & awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perishe. And he arose, and rebuked the winde, & the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calmed.

25 Then he said vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, & wondered among them selues, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the windes and water; & they obey him!

26 ¶ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And as he went out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the citie, which had a deuill long time, & he ware no clothes, nether abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he sawe Iesus, he cryed out, and fel downe before him, & with a loude voyce, said, What haue I to do with thee, Iesus the Sonne of God, the moste high? I beseeche thee^k torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the mā: (for oft times he had caught him: therefore he was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bandes, and was^l caried of the deuill into wildernesses.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besoght him, that he wolde not commande them to go out into the deepe.

32 And there was there by, an herd of many swine, feeding on an hill; and the deuils besoght him, that he wolde suffre them to entre into them. So he suffred them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, & entred into the swine: and the herd was caried with violence from a stepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 Whē the herdmē sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey.

35 Then they came out to se what was done, and came to Iesus, and founde the mā, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the fete of Iesus, clothed, & in his right mynde: and they were afraid.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenes, besoght him, that he wolde departe from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he wēt into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the mā, out of whome the deuils were departed, besoght him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 ° Returne into thine owne house, and shewe what great things God hath done to thee. So he went his waye, & preached throughout al the^r citie, what great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe when Iesus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ And beholde, there came a man named Iairus, & he was the ruler of the^r Synagogue, who fel downe at Iesus fete, and besoght him that he wolde come into his house.

42 For he had but a daughter onely, about twelue yerres of age, & she lay a dying (& as he went, the people thronged him.

43 And a womā hauing an yssue of blood, twelue yerres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physicions, and colde not be healed of any:

44 When she came behinde him, she touched the^r hem of his garment, and immediately her yssue of blood stanchēd.

45 Then Iesus said, Who is it that hath touched me? When euery man denyed, Peter said and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, & tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Iesus said, Some one hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the womā sawe that she was not hid, she came trembling, and fel down before him, and tolde him before al the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy^r faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there came one frō the ruler of the Synagogues house, which said to him, Thy daughter is dead: discafe not the Master.

50 When Iesus heard it, he answered^r him, saying, Feare not: beleue onely, & she shal be made whole.

51 And when he went into the house, he suffred no man to go in with him, saue Peter, and Iames and Iohn, and the father & mother of the maide.

52 And all wept, and sorowed for her: but he said, Wepe not: for she is not^r dead, but slepeth.

53 And they laught him to skorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he^r thrust them all out, and toke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and she rose straight way: and he commanded to giue her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonied: but he commanded them that they shulde tell no man what was done.

1 ¶ Then^r called he the twelue disciples together, and gaue them power and autoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale disca- ses.

2 ¶ And he sent them to preache the king- dome of God, and to cure the sicke.

3 And he said to them, ¶ Take nothing to your iourney, nether^r stauēs, nor scrip, ne- ther bread, nor siluer, nether haue two co- ates.

such things: and he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And when the Apostles returned, they tolde him what great things they had done. * Then he toke them, & went aside into a solitarie place, nere to the citie called Beth-saida.

11 But when the people knewe it, they followed him: and he receiued them, & spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, & healed them that had neede to be healed.

12 * And when the day began to weare away, the twelue came, and said vnto him, Send the people away that they may go into the townes and villages round about, and lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said vnto them, d Giue ye them to eat. And they said, We haue no mo but five loaves & two fishes, except we shulde go and bye meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand me. Then he said to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a companie.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

16 Then he toke the five loaves, and the two fishes, and loked vp to heauē, & blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eat, and were satisfied: & there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meat.

18 ¶ And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him, and he asked the, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and said, Iohn Baptist: and others say, Elias: & some say, that one of the olde Prophetes is risen againe.

20 And he said vnto them, But whome say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said, The Christ of God.

21 And he warned, and commanded the, that they shulde tell that to no man,

22 Saying, * The Sonne of man must suffre many things, and be reprobued of the Elders, & of the hie Priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and the thirde day rise againe.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man wil come after me, let him denye him selfe, and take vp his crosse daylie and followe me.

24 For whosoever wil saue his life, shal lose it: and whosoever shal lose his life for my sake, the same shal saue it.

25 For what auatageth it a man, if he winne the whole worlde, and destroye him selfe, or lose him selfe?

26 * For whosoever shal be ashamed of n, and of my wordes, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shal come in his glorie, and in the glorie of the Father, and of the holy Angels.

27 * And I tell you of a suretie, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, til they haue sene the kingdome of God.

28 * And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that he toke Peter and Iohn and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed the facion of his countenance was changed, & his garment was white and glistered.

30 And beholde, two men talked with him which were Moses and Elias.

31 Which appeared in glorie, and tolde of his departing, which he shulde accomplishe at Ierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heauie with slepe, and when they awooke, they sawe his glorie, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make thre tabernacles, one for thee, & one for Moses, and one for Elias: and wilst not what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloude & ouersadowed them, and they feared when these were entrig into the cloude.

35 * And there came a voice out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voice was past, Iesus was founde alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of those things which they had sene.

37 ¶ And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, muche people met him.

38 * And beholde, a man of the companie cryed out, saying, Master, I beseeche thee, beholde my sonne: for he is al that I haue.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he cryeth, and he teareth him, that he fo meth, and with much paine departeth from him, when he hath bruised him.

40 Now I haue befoght thy disciples to cast him out, but they coulde not.

41 Then Iesus answered and said, m O generation faithles, and croked, how long now shal I be with you, & suffer you! bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles he was yet comming, the deuill rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

tie power of God: and while thei all wondered at all things which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples,

44. ¶ Marke these wordes diligently: for it shal come to passe that the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men.

45. But they vnderstode not that worde: for it was hid from them, so that they colde not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that worde.

46. ¶ Then there arose a disputation among them, which of the shulde be the greatest.

47. When Iesus sawe the thoughts of their hearts, he toke a litle childe, and set him by him,

48. And said vnto them, Whosoever receiue this litle childe in my Name, receiue me: and whosoever shall receiue me, receiue him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, he shalbe great.

49. ¶ And Iohn answered, & said, Master, we sawe one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbade him, because he followeth thee not with vs.

50. Then Iesus said vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

51. ¶ And it came to passe, when the dayes were accomplished that he shulde be receiued vp, he setteled him self fully to go to Ierusalem,

52. And sent messengers before him: and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

53. But they wolde not receiue him, because his behauiour was, as thogh he wolde go to Ierusalem.

54. And whē his disciples Iames and Iohn sawe it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we commande, that fyre come downe from heauē, and consume them, euen as Elias did?

55. But Iesus turned about, & rebuked the, and said, Ye knowe not of what spirit ye are.

56. * For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue the. Then they went to another towne.

57. ¶ And it came to passe that as they went in the way, a certeine man said vnto him, I wil followe thee, Lord, whetherfoeuer thou goest.

58. And Iesus said vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen haue nestes, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to laie his head.

59. But he said vnto another, Followe me. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and burye my father.

60. And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead burye their dead: but go thou & preache the kingdome of God.

61. Then another said, I wil followe thee, Lord: but let me first go bid them fare wel which are at myne house.

62. And Iesus said vnto him, No man that putteth his had to the plough, and loketh backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

17 ¶ And the seuentie turned againe with ioye, saying, Lord, euē the deuils are subdued to vs through thy Name.

18 And he said vnto them, I sawe^m Satan, like lightening, fall downe from heauen.

19 Beholde, I giue vnto you power to treade on serpents, and scorpions, and ouer al the power of the enemy, and nothing shal hurt you.

20 Neuertheles, in this reioyce not, that y^e spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.

21 ¶ That same houre reioyced Iesus[†] in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the^a wise and learned, and hast reueiled them to babes: euen so, Father, because it so pleased thee.

22 Then he turned to his disciples, & said, All things are^o giuen me of my Father: & no man knoweth who the Sonne is, but the Father: nether who the Father is, saue the^a Sonne, and he to whome the Sonne will reueile him.

23 ¶ And he returned to his disciples, and said secretly, * Blessed are the eyes, whiche se that ye se.

24 For I tel you that many Prophetes and Kings haue desired to se those things, whiche ye se, and haue not sene them: and to heare those things, which ye heare, & haue not heard them.

25 ¶ Then beholde, a certeine expounder of the Law stode vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do, to inherite eternall life?

26 And he said vnto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou?

27 And he answered and said, * Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, & with al thy soule, & with all thy strength, & with all thy thoght, * & thy neighbour as thy self.

28 Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt liue.

29 But he willing to[†] iustifie him selfe, said vnto Iesus, Whoⁱ is then my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answered, and said, A certeine man went downe from Ierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theues, and they robbed him of his rayment, and wounded him, & departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And by chāce there came downe a certeine[†] Priest that same way, and when he sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when he was come nere to the place, went and loked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certeine^a Samaritan, as he iourneyed, came nere vnto him, and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him,

34 And wēt to him, & bounde vp his woundes, and powred in oyle and wine, & put him on his owne beast, and broght him to an ynne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morowe when he departed he toke out^z two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I wil recōpense thee.

36 Which now of these thre, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theues?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Go^y and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe as they wēt, that he entred into a certeine towne, and a certein woman named Martha receiued him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Marie, which also sat at Iesus fete, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was combred about muche seruing, and came to him, and said, Master doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? bid her therefore that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, and art^t troubled about manie things.

5 ¶ Moreouer he said vnto them, Whiche of you shall haue a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, & say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaves.

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And he within shoulde answer, and saye, Trouble me not: the dore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I can not rise and giue them to thee.

8 I say vnto you, though he wolde not arise, and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtles, because of his importunitie, he wolde rise, and giue him as many as he needed.

9 And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shalbe giuen you: seke, and ye shal finde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

10 For euerie one that asketh receiveth: & he that sekeeth, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

11 If a sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, wil he giue him a stone: or if he aske a fishe, wil he for a fishe giue him a serpent?

12 Or if he aske an egge, wil he giue him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are euil, can giue good gifts vnto your childre, how much more shal your heauenlie Father giue the holic Gost to them, that desire him?

14 ¶ Then he cast out a deuill which was domme: and whē the deuill was gone out, the domme spake, and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chief of the deuils.

16 And others tempted him, seking of him a signe from heauen.

17 But he knewe their thoghts, and said vnto them, ¶ Euerie kingdome deuided against it self, shalbe desolate, and an house deuided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also be deuided against him self, how shal his kingdome stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

19 If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whome do your children cast the out: Therefore shal they be your iudges.

20 But if I by the finger of God cast out deuils, doubtles the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

21 When a strong man armed, kepeth his palace, the things that he posselleth, are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then he, cometh vpon him, and ouercommeth him, he taketh from him all his armour, wherein he trusted, and deuiceth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 ¶ When the vnclene spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through drye places, seeking rest: and when he findeth none, he saith, I wil returne vnto mine house whēce I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirits worse then him selfe: and they entrein, and dwell there, so the last state of that man is worse then the first.

27 ¶ And it came to passe as he said these things, a certene woman of the companie lifted vp her voyce, & said vnto him, Blessed is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the worde of God, and kepe it.

29 ¶ And whē the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is a wicked generation: they seke a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen them, but the signe of Jonas the Prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a signe to the Ninuites, so shall also the Sonne of man be to this generation.

31 ¶ The Quene of the South shall rise in iudgement, with the men of this generation, and shal condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here.

32 The men of Ninive shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for they repēted at the preaching of Jonas: and beholde, a greater then Jonas is here.

33 ¶ No man lighteth a candel, & putteth it in a priue place, nether vnder a bushel: but on a candlestick, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 ¶ The light of the bodie is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole bodie light: but if thine eye be euill, then thy bodie is darke.

35 Take hede therefore, that light which is in thee, be not darkened.

36 If therefore thy whole body shalbe light, hauing no parte darke, thou shal be light, euē as when a candell doeth light thee with the brightnes.

39 And the Lord said to him, In dede ye Pharisees make cleane the outside of a cup, and of the platter: but the inward part is full of rauching and wickednes.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is with-

41 Therefore, giue almes of those things which are within, and behold, all things shalbe cleane to you.

42 But wo be to you, Pharisees: for ye tithe the mynt and the rewe, and all maner her-bes, and passe ouer iudgement and the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.

43 Wo be to you, Pharisees: for ye loue the uppermost seates in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Wo be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are as graues whiche ap-peare not, and the me that walke ouer the, perceiue not.

45 Then answered one of the expoun-ders of the Law, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

46 And he said, Wo be to you also, ye Interpreters of the Law: for ye lade me with burdes greivous to be borne, and ye your 47 Wo be to you: for ye buyde the sepulchres of the Prophetes, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye beare witness, and allow the dedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye buyde their sepulchres.

49 Therefore said the wisdom of God, I wil send them Prophetes and Apostles, & of them they shal slay and persecute, shedd fro the fundation of the worlde, may 53 And as he said these things vnto them, the Scribes & Pharisees began to vexe him

 ny things;

54 Laying wait for him, & seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, whereby they might accuse him.

 there gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, so that they trode one another: & he began to say vnto his disciples first, Take hede to your selues of the leaueh of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisie.

3. For there is nothing couered, that shall not be reueiled: neither hid, that shall not

4. Wherefore whatsoeuer ye haue spoken in darkenes, it shalbe heard in the light: & that which ye haue spoken in the eare, in that are not able to do any more.

6. But I will forewarne you, whome ye shall 17 Therefore he thought with him self, saying, What shal I do, because I haue no roume where I may lay vp my frutes.

18 And he said, This wil I do, I wil pildow me my barnes, and buyld greater, & therein will I gather all my frutes, & my goods.

19 And I will saye to my soule, Soule, thou hast muche goods layd vp for many yeres: bite at ease, eat, drinke, and take thy pastime.

20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: the whose shal those things be which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to him selfe, and is not riche in God.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat: nether for your bodie, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meat: and the bodie more then the raiment.

24 Consider the rauens: for they nether sowe nor reape: whiche nether haue store house nor barn, & yet God fedeth them:
how much more are ye better then the foules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the lilies how they growe:
they labour not, nether spin they: yet I say vnto you, that Solomon him selfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grasse, which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the ouen, how muche more will he clothe you, O ye of litle faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye shall eat, or what ye shal drinke, nether stand in doubt.

30 For all suche things the people of the worlde seeke for: and your Father knoweth that ye haue nede of these things.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, & all these thinges shalbe ministred
vnto you.

32 Feare not, litle flocke: for it is your Fathers pleasure, to giue you the kingdome.

33 ¶ Sel that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bagges, which waxe not olde, a treasure in heauen that can neuer faile, where no thefe commeth, nether mothe corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 ¶ Let your loines be girded about, and your lights burning,

36 And ye your selues like vnto men that and knocketh, they maye open vnto him

37 Blessed are those seruants, whome the Lord when he cometh shall finde waking:
verely I say vnto you, he will gird him self about, and make them to sit downe at table, and wil come forth, and serue them.

38 And if he come in the second watche, or come in the thirde watche, and shall finde them so, blessed are those seruants.

39 Now vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had knowe at what houre the thefe wolde haue come, he wolde haue watched, and wolde not haue suffered his house to be digged through.

40 Beye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man wil come at an houre when ye thinke not.

41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull steward, and wise, whome the master shal make ruler ouer his housholde, to giue the their portion of meat in season?

43 Blessed is that seruant, whome his Master, when he cometh, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a truth I say vnto you, that he will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My master doeth deferre his comming, and shal beginne to smite the seruants, & maidens, and to eat and drinke, & to be drunken,

46 The master of that seruant wil come in a day, when he thinketh not, & at an houre when he is not ware of, and wil cut him of,
and giue him his portion with the vnbeleuers.

47 ¶ And that seruant that knewe his masters wil, and prepared not him self, nether did according to his wil, shalbe beate with many stripes.

48 But he that knewe it not, & yet did commit thinges worthe of stripes, shalbe beaten with fewe stripes: for vnto whome soeuer muche is giuen, of him shalbe much required, and to whome men much com-

¶ And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was maid straight againe, & glorified God.

¶ And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said vnto the people, There are six daies in which the me ought to worke: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

¶ Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doeth not eiche one of you on the Sabbath day lose his ox or his asse fro the stall, and lead him away to the water?

¶ And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whome Sara had bounde, lo, eightene yeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabbath day?

¶ And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things, that were done by him.

¶ There were certeine me present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifices.

¶ And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

¶ I tel you, nay: but except ye amende your liues, ye shall all likewise perishe.

32 Then said he vnto them, Go ye, and tell that foxe, Beholde, I cast out deuils, and wil heale till to day, and to morowe, and the third day I shalbe perfected.

33 Neuertheles I must walke to daye, and to morowe, and the day following: for it can not be, that a Prophet shulde perishe out of Ierusalem.

34 O Ierusalem, Ierusalem, whiche killest the Prophetes, & stonest them that are sent to thee, how often wolde I haue gathered thy children together, as the henne gathered her broode vnder her wings, and ye wolde not!

35 Beholde, your house is left vnto you desolate: and verely I telyou, ye shall not se me vntill the time come that ye shal say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iesus eateth with the Pharises. 2 He healeth the dropsie vpon the Sabbath. 3 Teacheth to be lowlye and to bid the poore to our table. 4 He telleth of the great supper. 5 He warneth them that will followe him, to laye their accounts before, what it will cost them. 6 The salt of the earth.

And it came to passe that whē he was entred into the house of one of the chief Pharises on the Sabbath day, to eat bread, they watched him.

2 And beholde, there was a certeine mā befoze him, which had the dropsie.

3 Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the ex-poulters of the Law, and Pharises, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. Then he toke him, and healed him, and let him go.

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shal haue an asse, or an oxe falle into a pit, and wil not straiche way pul him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they coulde not answer him againe to those things.

7 ¶ He spake also a parable to the ghefts, when he marked how they chose out the chief rounes, and said vnto them,

8 When thou shalt be bidden of anie man to a wedding, set not thy self downe in the chiefest place, lest a more honorable man then thou be bidden of him,

9 And he that bade bothe him and thee, come, and say to thee, Giue this man rounne, and thou then beginne with shame to take the lowest rounne.

10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit downe in the lowest rounne, that when he that bade thee cometh, he maye saye vnto thee, Friend, sit vp hier: the shal thou haue worship in the presence of them that sit at table with thee.

11 For whosoever exalteth him self, shall be brought lowe, & he that humbleth him self, shalbe exalted.

12 ¶ The said he also to him that had bidden him, When thou makest a dynner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethre, neither thy kinsmen, nor the riche neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, & the blind, 14 And thou shalt be blessed, because they can not recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the iuste.

15 ¶ Now when one of them that sate at table, heard these things, he said vnto him, Blessed is he that eateth bread in the kingdome of God.

16 Then said he to him, A certeine man made a great supper, and bade manie,

17 And sent his seruant at supper tyme to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now readie.

18 But they all with one minde began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a ferme, and I must nedes go out and se it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I haue bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to proue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another said, I haue married a wife, and therefore I can not come.

21 So the seruant returned, & shewed his master these things. The was the good mā of the house angrie, & said to his seruant, Go out quickly into the places & stretes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, & the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commaunded, & yet there is rounne.

23 Then the master said to the seruant, Go out into the hie wayes and hedges, and 27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued him safe & founde.

28 Then he was angrie, and wolde not go in: therefore came his father out and entreated him.

29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo these manie yeres haue I done thee seruice, nether brake I at any tyme thy commandement, & yet thou neuer gauest me a kid that I might make merie with my friendes.

30 But whē this thy sonne was come, whiche hath deuoured thy goods with harlots, thou hast for his sake killed the fatted calfe.

31 And he said vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and al that I haue, is thine. It was mete that we shulde make merie, & be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is founde.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Christ exhorteth his to wisdome and liberalitie by the example of the steward. 13 None can serue two masters. 14 He reprobeth the couetousnes and hypocrisie of the Pharisees. 16 Of the ende and force of the Law. 18 Of the holie state of marriage. 19 Of the riche and Lazarus.

1 And he said also vnto his disciples, There was a certein riche man, whiche had a steward, and he was accused vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and saide vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue an accounts of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within him selfe, What shall I do: for my master will take away from me the stewardship: I can not digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I know what I wil do, that when I am put out of the stewardship they may receiue me into their houses.

5 Then called he euerie one of his masters detters, & said vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

6 And he said, Ane hundreth measures of oyle. And he said to him, Take thy writing and sit downe quicklie, and write fiftie.

7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And he said, An hundreth measures of wheat. Then he said to him, Take thy writing, and write foure score.

8 And the Lord commended the vnjust steward, because he had done wisely. Wherefore the children of this worlde are in their generation wiser then the childre of light.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you friendes with the riches of iniquitie, that when ye shall want, they may receiue you into euerlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithfull in the least, he is also faithfull in muche: and he that is vnjust in the least, is vnjust also in muche.

11 If then ye haue not bene faithful in the wicked riches, who will trust you in true treasures?

12 And if ye haue not bene faithful in another mans goods, who shal giue you that which is yours?

13 No seruant can serue two masters: for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, & despise the other. Ye can not serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharisees also which were couetous, and they mocked him.

15 Then he said vnto them, Ye are they, which iustifie your selues before me: but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 The Law and the Prophetes endured vntil Iohn: and since that tyme the kingdom of God is preached, and euery man preasseth into it.

17 Now it is more easie that heauen and earth shulde passe away, then that one tittle of the Law shulde fall.

18 Whoso euer putteth away his wife, & marieth another, committeth adulterie: & whoso euer marieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adulterie.

19 There was a certein riche mā which was clothed in purple and fine linnen, and fared wel and delicatly euery day.

20 Also there was a certein begger named Lazarus, which was laied at his gate full of sores,

21 And desired to be refreshed with the crommes that fell from the riche mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so that the begger dyed, and was caryed by the Angels into Abrahams bosome. The riche man also dyed, and was buried.

23 And being in hel in torment, he lift vp his eyes, and sawe Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then he cried, and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dippe the typ of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

2 ¶ By the example of the widowe, & the Publicane Christ teacheth how to pray. 15 By the example of children he exhorteth to humilitie. 18 Of the way to be saved, and what things let. 29 The rewarde promised to his.

1 And he spake also a parable vnto the, to this ende, that they ought alwayes to pray, and not to waxe faine.

2 Saying, There was a iudge in a certeine citie, which feared not God, nether reuerenced man.

3 And there was a widow in that citie, which came vnto him, saying, Do me iustice against mine aduersarie.

4 And he wolde not for a tyme: but afterwarde he said with him self, Thogh I feare not God, nor reuerence man,

5 Yet because this widowe troubleth me, I wil do her right, lest at the last she come and make me wearie.

6 And the Lord said, Heare what the vnrighteous iudge saith.

7 Now shall not God aduenge his elect, which crye day and night vnto him, yea, thogh he suffer long for them?

8 I tel you he wil aduenge them quickly: but when the Sonne of man cometh, shall he finde faith on the earth?

9 ¶ He spake also this parable vnto certeine which trusted in them selues that they were iuste and despised other,

10 Two men went vp into the Temple to pray the one a Pharise, and the other a Publican.

11 The Pharise stood & prayed thus with him self, O God, I thank thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, vnjust, adulterers, or euen as this Publican.

12 I fast twice in the weeke: I giue tithes of all that euer I possesse.

13 But the Publican standing a farre off, wolde not lift vp so muche as his eyes to heaue, but smote his brest, saying, O God, be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tel you, this man departed to his house iustified, rather then the other: for every man that exalteth him self, shalbe brought lowe, & he that humbleth him self, shalbe exalted.

15 ¶ They brought vnto him also babes, & he shulde touche them. And when his disciples sawe it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called them vnto him & said, Suffre the babes to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever receiueth not the kingdome of God as a babe, he shal not enter therein.

18 ¶ The a certeine ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what ought I to do, to inherite eternall life?

19 And Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou me? Good: none is good, saue one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commandements, Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not kil: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness: Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, Al these haue I kept fro my youth.

22 Now when Iesus heard that, he said vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing. Selal that euer thou hast, & distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me.

23 But when he heard those things, he was verie heauie: for he was marueilous riche.

24 And when Iesus sawe him sorowfull, he said, With what difficultie shall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

25 Surely it is easier for a camel to go through a nedles eye, then for a riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 Then said they that heard it, And who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.

7 And when all they sawe it, they murmured, saying, that he was gone in to lodge with a sinfull man.

8 And Zachheus stode forth, and said vnto the Lord, Beholde, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by forged cauillation,
I restore him foure foldes.

9 Then Iesus said vnto him, This day is sal-uation come vnto this house: forasmuch as he is also become the sonne of Abraham.

10 ¶ For the Sonne of man is come to seke, & to saue that which was lost.

11 And whiles they heard these things, he continued, and spake a parable, because he was nere to Ierusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdome of God shulde shortly appeare.

12 He said therefore, A certeine noble mā went into a farre countrey, to receiue for him self a kingdome, & so to come againe.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and de-liuered them ten^d pieces of money, & said vnto them, Occupie til I come.

14 Now his citzens hated him, & sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come again, and had receiued his kingdome, that he commanded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might knowe what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased ten pieces.

17 And he said vnto him, Wel good serant, because thou hast bene faithfull in a verie litle thing, take thou autoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased fve pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fve cities.

20 So the other came and said, Lord, be-holde thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a strite man: thou takest vp that thou laidest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sow.

22 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, & euill seruant.

Thou knewest that I am a fraitman, taking vp that I laid not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

23 Wherefore then gapest not thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And he said to them that stode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

26 ¶ For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shalbe giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he haue, shalbe taken from him.

27 Moreouer those mine enemies, which wolde not that I shoulde reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he wēt forth before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 ¶ And it came to passe, when he was come nere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of oliues, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Go ye to the towne which is before you, wherein as sone as ye are come, ye shal finde a colte tied, whereon neuer man sate: lose him, and bring him hither.

31 ¶ And if any man aske you, why ye lose him, thus shal ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath nede of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their waye, and founde it as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were losing the colte, the owners thereof said vnto them, Why lose ye the colte?

34 And they said, The Lord hath nede of him.

35 ¶ So they broght him to Iesus, and thei cast their garments on the colte, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as he went, thei spred their clothes in the way.

37 And whē he was now come nere to the going downe of the mount of oliues, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce & to praise God with a loude voice for all the great workes that thei had sene,

38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the Name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glorie in the hiest places.

39 Then some of the Pharises of the companie said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, and said vnto them, I tel you, that if these should holde their peace, the stonies wolde crye.

41 ¶ And when he was come nere, he behelde the cite, and wept for it,

42 Saying, O if thou haddest euē knowē at leaſt in this thy daye those things, which belonge to thy peace: but now are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shal come vpon thee, that thine enemies shal cast a trefche about thee, and compass thee rounde, and kepe thee in on euerie side, 44 And shal make thee eauē with the ground, and thy children whiche are in thee, & they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 ¶ He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde therein, and them that bought,

46 Saying vnto them, It is written, Myne house is the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a denne of theues.

47 And he taught daylie in the Temple. And the high Priests and the Scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy hi.

48 But thei coulde not find what thei might do to him: for all the people hangēd vpo him when they heard him.

1 And it came to passe that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came vpo him with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what autoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giuen thee this autoritie?

3 And he answered and said vnto them, I also wil aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

4 The baptisme of Iohn was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within them selues, saying, If we shal say from heauen, he will say, Why then beleued ye him not?

6 But if we shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that thei coulde not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus said vnto them, Nether tell I you, by what autoritie I do these things.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, A certeine man planted a vineyarde, and let it forth to hous bandmen: and went into a strange country, for a great season.

they reasoned with them selues, saying,

16. He will come and destroye these houl-shal fall, it wil grinde him to powder.

perceiued that he had spoken this parable against them.

said, Cesars.

25. Then he said vnto them, * Giue then and to God those which are Gods.

26. And they colde not reprove his saying before the people: but they marueiled at his answer, and helde their peace.

27. * Then came to him certeine of the Sad-duces (which denie that there is any resur-

14 Conspiracie against Christ. 7 They eat the Pasche. 15 The institution of the Lords Supper. 16 They strive who shalbe greatest, & he reproveth them. 17 He prayeth vpon the mount. 18 Judas treason. 19 They take him, and bring him to the hie Priests house. 20 Peter denieth him thrise, and yet repenteth. 21 Christ is broght before the council, where he maketh ample confession.

1 Now the feast of vneleuened bread drew nere, which is called the Pasche.

2 And the hie Priests & Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 Then entred Satan into Judas, who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

4 And he wet his way, and comuned with the hie Priests & captaines, how he might betray him to them.

5 So they were glad, and agreed to giue him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 ¶ The came þ day of vneleuened bread, when the Pasche must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Go, and prepare vs the Pasche, that we may eat it.

9 And they said to him, Where wilt thou, that we prepare it?

10 Then he said vnto them, Beholde, when ye be entred into the citie, there shal a man meete you, beeing a pitcher of water: followe him into þ house that he entred in,

11 And say vnto the good mā of the house, The Master saith vnto thee, Where is the lodging, where I shall eat my Pasche with my disciples?

12 Then he shall shewe you a great hie chamber trimmed: there make it readie.

13 So they went and founde as he had said vnto them, & made readie the Pasche.

14 And whē the houre was come, he sat downe, & the twelue Apostles with him.

15 Then he said vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eat this Pasche with you before I suffre.

16 For I say vnto you, Hence forth I will not eat of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

17 And he toke the cup, and gaue thanks, and said, Take this, and deuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I wil not drinke of the frute of the vine, vntill the kingdome of God be come.

19 And he toke bread, and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue to the, saying, This is my bodie, which is giuen for you: do this in the remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after supper he toke the cup, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 Yet beholde, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me at the table.

22 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it is appointed: but woe be to that man, by whome he is betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among the selues which of the it shulde be, that shuld do that.

24 ¶ And there arose also a strife among them, which of the shulde seme to be the greatest.

25 But he said vnto them, The Kings of the Gentils reigne ouer them, and they that beare rule ouer them, are called Gracious lords.

26 But ye shal not be so: but let the greatest among you be as the least: and the chiefest as he that serueth.

27 For who is greater, he that sitteth at table, or he that serueth: Is not he that sitteth at table? And I am among you as he that serueth.

28 And ye are they which haue continued with me in my tentations.

29 Therefore I appoint vnto you a kingdome, as my Father hath appointed to me,

19 ¶ Then this is the recorde of Iohn, whē the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Jerusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed and denyed not, and said plainly, I⁹ am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he said, I am not. Art thou the¹⁰ Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Thē said they vnto him, Who art thou?
that we may giue an answer to them that sent vs: what saist thou of thy self?

23 He said, I¹¹ am the voice of him that cryeth in¹² the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharises.

25 And they asked him, and said vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, nether Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whome ye knowe not:

27 *He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before me, whose shoe latchet
I am not worthie to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 ¶ The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, and saith, Beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the¹³ sinne of the worlde.

30 This is he of whome I said, After me cometh a mā, which is preferred before me:
for he was before me.

31 And I knewe¹⁴ him not: but because he shulde be declared to Israel, therefore am
I come, baptizing with water.

32 So Iohn bare recorde, saying, I saw¹⁵ the Spirit come down from heauen like a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said vnto me, V-baptizeth with the¹⁶ holy Gost.

34 And I sawe and bare recorde that this is the Sonne of God.

35 ¶ The next day Iohn stode againe, and two of his disciples:

36 And he behelde Iesus walking by, and said, Beholde the¹⁷ lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.

38 Then Iesus turned about, and saw them
followe, & said vnto them, What seeke ye?
And they said vnto him, Rabbi (which is dwestest thou?

39 He said vnto them, Come and se. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode

40 Andrew, Simō Peters brother, was one

41 The same found his brother Simō first,
& said vnto him, We haue found the Mes-

¶ CHAP. II.

8 ^a Christ turneth the water into wine. 14 He drineth the byers and sellers out of the Temple. 19 He forewarneth his death and resurrection. 23 He conuerteth many, and distrusteth man.

1 And the third day, was there a marriage in Cana a towne of Galile, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the marriage.

3 Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus said vnto hi, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, what haue I to do with thee? myne houre is not yet come.

5 His mother said vnto the seruants, What soeuer he saith vnto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six waterpottes of stone, after the maner of the^a purifying of the Iewes, containing two or thre^b firkins a peece.

7 And Iesus said vnto them, Fill the waterpottes with water. Then they filled them vp to the brim.

8 Then he said vnto them, Drawe out now & beare vnto the^c gouernour of the feast. So thei bare it.

9 Now whē the gouernour of^d feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for he knew not whēce it was: but the seruants which drew the water, knewe) the gouernour of the feast called the bridgrome,

10 And said vnto him, All men at the beginning set forth the good wine, & when me haue wel drunke, the that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of^e miracles did Iesus in Cana a town of Galile, & shewed forth his glory: & his disciples beleued on him.

12 After that he went downe into Capernaum, he & his mother, & his brethren, & his disciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

13 For the Iewes Passecouer was at hand. Therefore Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

14 And he founde in the Temple those that solde oxen, and shepe, and doweys, & changers of money, sitting there.

15 The he made a scourge of small cordes, & draue them all out of the Temple with the shepe, & oxen, & powred out the changers money, and overthrew the tables,

16 And said vnto them that solde doweys, Take these things hence: make not my Fathers house, an house of marchandise.

17 And his disciples remēbred, that it was written, ^aThe zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, & said vnto him, What^b signe shewest thou vnto vs, that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered and said vnto them, ^cDe stroy this Temple, and in thre dayes I will raise it vp againe.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fortie & six yeares was this temple a buylding, and wilt thou raise it vp in thre dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his^d bodie.

22 As sone therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remēbred that he thus said vnto them: and they beleued the Scripture, & ^e word which Iesus had said.

23 Now whē he was at Ierusalem at^f Passecouer, in the feast, many beleued in his Name, when they sawe his miracles whiche he did.

24 But Iesus^g did not commit himself vnto them, because he knewe them all,

25 And had no nede that any shoulde testifie of man: for he knewe what was in mā.

3 ^a Christ instructeth Nicodemus in the regeneration. 15 Of faith. 16 Of the loue of God towards the worlde. 23 The doctrine & baptisme of Iohn. 28 And the witness that he beareth of Christ.

1 There was now a mā of^b Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of^c Iewes.

2 He came to Iesus by night, and said vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no mā colde do these miracles that thou doest, except god were with him.

3 Iesus answered and said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, he can not^d see the^e kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can he enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of^f water and of the Spirit, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh is flesh: & that that is borne of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marueile not that I said to thee, Ye must be borne againe.

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that we knowe, & testifie that we haue sene: but ye receiue not our witness.

12 If when I tellyou earthly things, ye beleue not, how shulde ye beleue, if I shall tellyou of heauenlie things?

13 For no man ascendeth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp.

15 That whosoever beleueth in him, shuld not perishe, but haue eternal life.

16 For God so loued the worlde, that he hath giuen his onely begotten Sonne, that whosoever beleueth in him, shuld not perishe, but haue everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Sonne into the worlde, that he shoulde condemne the worlde, but that the worlde through him might be saued.

18 He that beleueth in him, shal not be condemned: but he that beleueth not, is condemned already, because he beleueth not in the Name of the onely begotten Sonne of God.

19 And this is the condempnation, that light is come into the worlde, & men loued darknesses rather the light, because their dedes were euil.

20 For euery man that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither cometh to light, lest his dedes shulde be reprobued.

21 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his dedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought: according to God.

22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there taried with them, and baptized.

23 And Iohn also baptized in Enon besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question betwene Iohns disciples & the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, & said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordan, to whome thou barest witness, behold, he baptizeth, & al men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, & said, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giue him fro heauen.

33 He that hath receiued his testimonie, hath sealed that God is true.

34 For he whome God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by measure.

35 The Father loueth the Sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.

36 He that beleueth in the Sonne, hath everlasting life, & he that obeieth not the Sonne, shall not se life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

1 The communication of Christ with the woman of Samaria. 34 His zeale toward his Father and his harvest. 39 The conuersion of the Samaritans. 45 And Galilee. 47 How he healeth the rulers sonne.

4 And he must nedes go through Samaria.

5 Then came he to a citie of Samaria called Sychar, nere vnto the possession that Iacob gaue to his Sonne Ioseph.

6 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus the weaned in the iorney, saie thus on the well, it was about the sixt houre.

7 There came a woma of Samaria to drawe water. Iesus said vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away into a citie, to bye meat.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it, that thou being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes medle not with the Samaritans.

10 Iesus answered & said vnto her, If thou knowest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Giue me drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he wolde haue giuen thee water of life.

11 The woma said vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothing to drawe with, & the well is deepe: fro whence hast thou that water of life?

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall be in him a well of water, springing vp into euerlasting life.

15 The woman said vnto him, Syr giue me of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hether to drawe.

16 Iesus said vnto her, Go, call thine housband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said, I haue no housband. Iesus said to her, Thou hast wel said, I haue no housband:

18 For thou hast had fise housbands, & he whome thou now hast, is not thine housband: that saidest thou truely.

19 The woman said vnto him, Syr, I se that thou art a Prophet:

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye say, that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus said vnto her, Woman beleue me, the houre cometh, when ye shall nether in this mountaine, nor at Ierusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which ye knowe not: we worship that which we knowe: for saluation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: for the Father requireth euen such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit & truth.

25 The woman said vnto him, I know wel that Messias shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus said vnto her, I am he, that speake vnto thee.

27 And vpon that came his disciples, and marueiled that he talked with a woman: yet no man said vnto him, What diddest thou: or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the cite, & said to her friends, 29 Come, see a man which hath tolde me all things that euer I did: is not he the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the cite, & came vnto him.

31 In the meane while, his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said vnto them, I have meat to eat, that ye knowe not of.

33 Then said the disciples betwene themselves, Hath any man brought him meate?

34 Iesus said vnto them, My meate is, that I may do the will of him that sent me, and finishe his worke.

35 Say now ye, There are yet foure moneths & then cometh haruest: Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and loke on the regions: for they are white already vnto haruest.

36 And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, & gathereth frute vnto life eternal, that both he that soweth, & he that reapeth, might reioyce together.

37 For herein is the saying true, that one soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, & ye are entred into their labours.

39 Now manie of the Samaritans of that cite beleued in him, for the saying of the woman which testified, He hath tolde me all things that euer I did.

40 Then when the Samaritans were come vnto him, they besought him, that he wolde tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many more beleued because of his owne worde.

42 And they said vnto the woman, Now we beleue not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is in dede the Christ the Saviour of the worlde.

43 So two dayes after he departed thence, and went into Galile.

44 For Iesus him self had testified that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne country.

45 Then when he was come into Galile, the Galileans receiued him, which had seen all the things that he did at Ierusalem at the feast: for they went also vnto the feast.

46 And Iesus came againe into Cana, a towne of Galile, where he had maid of water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, he went vnto him, & besought him, that he wolde go downe, & heale his sonne: for he was euen readie to dye.

48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will not beleue.

49 The ruler said vnto him, Sir, go downe before my sonne dye.

50 Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liueth: & the man beleued the worde that Iesus had spoken vnto him, & wet his way.

CHAP. V.

8 He healeth the man that was sicke eight and thirtie yeres.
 10 The Iewes accuse him. 19 Christ answereth for him self, and reproveth them. 31 Shewing by the Testimonie of his Father. 33 Of Iohn. 36 Of his workes. 39 And of the Scriptures, who he is.

1 After that, there was a feast of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

2 And there is at Ierusalem by the place of the shepe, a poole called in Ebrewe Bethesda, hauing five porches:

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blinde, halte, & withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diseased eight and thirtie yeres.

6 When Iesus sawe him lie, & knewe that he now long tyme had bene diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is trouble, to put me into the poole: but while I am coming, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise: take vp thy bed and walke.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and toke vp his bed, and walked: & the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Iewes therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carie thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, he said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, & walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, & walke?

13 And he knewe not who it was: for Iesus had conveyed him self away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that Iesus founde him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, & sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kil him: not onely because he had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was his Father, & made him self equal with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, and said vnto the, Verely, verely, I say vnto you, The Sonne can do nothing of him self, saue that he seeth the Father do: for whatsoever things he doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.

20 For the Father loueth the Sonne, & sheweth him al things, whatsoever he him self doeth, and he will shew him greater workes then these, that ye shulde marueile.

21 For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Sonne quickeneth whome he will.

22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed al iudgement vnto the Sonne, 23 Because that all men shulde honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: he that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, he that heareth my worde, & beleueth in him that sent me, hath euermore life, and shal not come into condemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.

25 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, the house shal come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voyce of the Sonne of God: and they that heare it, shal liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in him self, so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in him self,

27 And hath giuen him power also to execute iudgement, in that he is the Sonne of man.

28 Marueile not at this: for the houre shal come, in the which all that are in the graues shal heare his voyce.

29 And they that haue done good, shall come forth, that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life: but they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 I can do nothing of my owne selfe: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iuste, because I see not myne owne will, but the will of the Father, who hath sent me.

Iesus fedeth five thousand men with five loaves & two fishes. 15 He departeth away that they shoulde not make him King. 16 He reproveth the Pharisees & the Scribes. 41 The carnall are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

After these things, Iesus wet his way ouer the sea of Galilee, or of Tiberias.

And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, & there he sat with his disciples.

Now the Passouer, a feast of the Iewes was nere.

Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philippe, Whence shall we bye bread, that these might eat?

6 (And this he said to proue him: for he himself knewe what he wolde do)

7 Philippe answered him, Two hundred peny worthe of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a litle.

8 Then said vnto him one of his disciples, Andrewe, Simon Peters brother,

9 There is a litle boye here, which hath the five barlie loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so manie?

10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Now there was muche grasse in that place) Then the men sat downe in number about five thousand.

11 And Iesus toke the bread, and gaue thanks, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe: & likewise of the fishes, as muche as they wolde.

12 And when they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meat which remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meat of the five barlie loaves, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then the men when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truth the Prophet that shoulde come into the world.

15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they wolde come, and take him to make him a King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 ¶ When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,

17 And entred into a ship, & went ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and now it was darke, & Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had towed about five and thirtie furlongs, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere vnto the ship: so they were afayed.

20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afayed.

21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone, 23 And that there came other shippes fro Tiberias nere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thanks.

24 Now when the people sawe that Iesus was not there, nether his disciples, they also toke shipping, & came to Capernaū, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when thei had founde him on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ye seke me, not because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye are of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Laboure not for the meat which perissheth, but for the meat that endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of mā shal giue vnto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shall we do, that we might worke the workes of God?

29 Iesus answered and said vnto the, This is the work of God, that ye beleue in him, whome he hath sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may se it, and beleue thee? what doest thou worke?

31 Our fathers did eat Māna in the desert as it is written, He gaue them bread from heauen to eat.

32 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the worlde.

34 Then thei said vnto him, Lord, euetmore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto the, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shal not hunger, and he that belueth in me, shal neuer thirst.

36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue sene me, and beleue not.

37 All that the father giueth me, shal come to me: and him that cometh to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to do mine owne wil, but his wil which hath sent me.

39 And this is the fathers wil which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I shulde lose nothing, but shulde raise vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the wil of him that sent me, that euery man which seeth the Sonne, & beleueth in him, shulde haue euerlasting life: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they said, Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we knowe? how the saith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, & said vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, drawe him: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the Prophetes, And they shalbe all taught of God. Euerie man therefore that hath heard, & hath learned of the Father, cometh vnto me, 46 Not that anie man hath sene the Father, saue he which is of God, he hath sene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that beleueth in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness, and are dead,

50 This is the bread, which cometh down from heauen, that he which eateth of it, shulde not dye.

51 I am the liuing bread, which came downe from heauen: if anie man eat of this bread, he shal liue for euer: and the bread that I wil giue, is my flesh, which I wil giue for the life of the worlde.

52 Then the Iewes stroue among them selues, saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to eat?

53 The Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely, I say vnto you, Except ye eat the fleshe of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.

54 Whosoever eateth my flesh, & drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my fleshe is meat in dede, and my blood is drinke in dede.

56 He that eateth my fleshe, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the liuing Father hath sent me, so liue I by the Father, & he that eateth me, euen he shal liue by me.

58 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shal liue for euer.

59 These things spake he in the Synagogue as he taught in Capernaum.

1 After these things, Iesus walked in Galile, and wolde not walke in Iudca: for the Iewes sought to kil him.

2 Now the Iewes ^afeast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore saide vnto him, Departe hence, and go into Iudea, that thy disciples maye see thy workes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing secretly, & he himself seeketh to be famous. If thou doest these things, shewe thy selfe to the worlde.

5 For as yet his brethren beleued not in hi.

6 Then Iesus said vnto the, My tyme is not yet come: but your tyme is alway readie.

7 The worlde can not hate you: but me it hateth, ^bbecause I testify of it, that the workes thereof are euill.

8 Go ye vp vnto this feast. I wil ^cnot go vp yervnto this feast: for my tyme is not yet fulfilled.

9 ¶ These things he said vnto them, & abode still in Galile.

10 But as sone as his brethren were gone vp, then went he vp also vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuely.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some said, He is a good man: other said, Naye: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him, for feare of the ^dIewes.

14 Now when half the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth this man the ^eScriptures, seeing that he neuer learned.

16 Iesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not ^fmine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wil do his wil, he shall knowe of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my self.

18 He ^gthat speaketh of him self, seeketh his owne glorie: but he that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no ^hvnrighteousnes is in him.

22 ^kMoses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the ^lfathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumsise a man.

31 Now many of the people¹ beleued in him, and said, When the Christ cometh, will he do mo miracles then this mā hath done?

32 The Pharises heard that [¶] people murmured these things of him, and the Pharises, and high Priests sent officers to take him.

17 And it is also written in your Law, that the Testimonie of two men is true.

18 I am one that beare witness of my selfe, & the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither knowe me, nor my Father. If ye had knowen me, ye shulde haue knowen my Father also.

20 These wordes spake Iesus in the temple, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laid hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I go my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shal dye in your sinnes. Whether I go, can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, Wil he kil him self, because he saith, Whether I go, can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, I Ye are from beneath: I am from above: ye are of this worlde: I am not of this worlde.

24 I said therefore vnto you, That ye shall dye in your sinnes: for except ye beleue, that I am he, ye shall dye in your sinnes.

25 The said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus said vnto them, I Euen the same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things I haue heard of him, those speake I to the worlde.

27 They vnderstode not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, Whē ye haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye knowe that I am he, and that I do nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, so I speake these things.

29 For he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake these things, many beleued in him.

31 Then said Iesus to the Iewes which beleued in him, If ye continue in my wordes, ye are verely my disciples, 32 And shal know the truth, & the truth shal make you free.

33 They answered him, We be Abrahams seds, and were neuer bounde to any man: why sayst thou then, Ye shalbe made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whoso euer committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruāt abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If the Sōne therefore shal make you free, ye shalbe free in dede.

37 I knowe that ye are Abrahams seds, but ye seeke to kil me, because my worde hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue sene with my Father: and ye do that which ye haue sene with your father.

39 They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto the, If ye were Abrahams children, ye wolde do the workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye go about to kill me, a man that haue tolde you the truth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the workes of your father. Then said they to hi, We are not borne of fornicatiō: we haue one father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus said vnto them, If God were your Father, then wolde ye loue me: for I proceeded forth, & came from God, nether came I of my self, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not vnderstand my talke? Because ye can not heare my worde.

44 Ye are of your father the deuil, and the lustes of your father ye wil do: he hath bene a murderē from the beginning, & abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye beleue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the truth, why do ye not beleue me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say we not wel that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuil?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuil, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praise: but there is one that seeketh it, and iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, if a man kepe my wordes, he shal neuer see death.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parēts, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath he this man sinned, nor his parents, but that I worke of God shulde be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is day: I night cometh when no man can worke.

7 And said vnto him, Go wash in I poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent) He went his way therefore, and washed, & came againe seing.

8 Now the neighbours and they that had sene him before, whē he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: & others said, He is like him: but he him self said, I am he.

10 Therefore they said vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made claye, & anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Go to I poole of Siloam, and wash. So I went & washed and receiued sight.

12 Then they said vnto him, Where is he? He said, I can not tell.

13 ¶ They broght to the Pharises him that was once blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the claye, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharises also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, He laid claye vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do se.

16 Then said some of the Pharises, This mā is not of God, because he kepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, do suche miracles? & there was a dissension among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What saist thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a Prophet.

18 Then Iewes did not beleue him (that he had bene blinde, & receiued his sight) vntil they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked the, saying, Is this your sonne, whome ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now se then?

20 His parents answered them, & said, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we can not tell: he is olde ynough: aske him: he shal answer for him self.

22 These wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for Iewes had ordeined alreadie, that if any mā did confesse that he was the Christ, he shulde be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is olde ynough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bene blinde, and said vnto him, Give glorie vnto God: we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whither he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: one thing I knowe, that I was blinde, & now I se.

26 ¶ They said they to him againe, What did he to thee: how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you alreadie, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore wolde ye heare it againe? I wil ye also be his disciples?

28 Then checked they him, & said, Be his disciple: we be Moses disciples.

29 We knowe that God spake with Moses: but this man we knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, & said vnto them, Doubtes, this is a marueilous thing, that ye knowe not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we knowe that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, & doeth his wil, him heareth he.

32 Since I worlde began was it not heard that any mā opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

16 Then said some of the Pharises, This mā is not of God, because he kepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, do suche miracles? & there was a dissension among them.

19 And they asked the, saying, Is this your sonne, whome ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now se then?

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we can not tell: he is olde ynough: aske him: he shal answer for him self.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whither he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: one thing I knowe, that I was blinde, & now I se.

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you alreadie, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore wolde ye heare it againe? I wil ye also be his disciples?

29 We knowe that God spake with Moses: but this man we knowe not from whence he is.

31 Now we knowe that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, & doeth his wil, him heareth he.

33 If this man were not of God, he colde haue done nothing.

34 They answered, & said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teache vs: so they cast him out.

Or, excommuni-cate him.

35 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: and when he had founde him, he said vnto him, Dost thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, & said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleue in him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Bothe I haue sene him, & he it is that talketh wth thee.

39 And Iesus said, I am come vntoⁿ iudgement into this worlde, that they which se not, might se: & that they which se, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these things, and said vnto him, Are we blinde also?

You shoulde not be so much che in fault.

41 Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye shulde not haue sinne: but now ye say, We se: therefore your sinne remaineth.

CHAP. X.

Christ is the true shepherd, and the dore. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 24 He is asked if he be Christ. 33 His works declare that he is God. 34 The princes called gods.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the dore into the shepefolde, but climeth vp another way, he is a thefe and a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the dore, is the shepherd of the shepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and I shepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne shepe by name, and leadeth them out.

That is, there is mutual agreement & consent of faith betwene the pastour & the shepe.

4 And whē he hathe sent forth his owne shepe, he goeth before them, & the shepe followe him: for they knowe his voyce.

5 And they wil not followe a stranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstode not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the dore of the shepe.

8 All that euer came before me, are theues & robbers: but the shepe did not heare them.

He meaneth
all false prophets, who had not men to Christ, but fro
him.

9 I am the dore: by me if any man enter in, he shal be saued, and shal go in and go out, and finde pasture.

He shal be saued of his life.

10 The thefe cometh not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroye: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

11 I am the good shepherd: I good shepherd giueth his life for his shepe.

12 But an hireling, & he which is not the shepherd, nether the shepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe coming, & he leaueth the shepe, and fleeth: and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the shepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the shepe.

14 I am the good shepherd, and I knowe mine, and am knowne of mine.

15 As the Father knoweth me, so knowe I the Father: And I lay downe my life for my shepe.

16 Other shepe I haue also, which are not of this folde: them also must I bring, and they shal heare my voyce: and there shal be one shepefolde, & one shepherd.

17 Therefore doeth my Father loue me, because I lay downe my life, I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my self: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this commandement haue I receiued of my Father.

19 Then there was a dissension againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hathe a deuil, and is madde: why heare ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the wordes of him that hathe a deuil: can the deuil open the eyes of the blinde?

22 And it was at Ierusalem the feast of the Dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Iesus walked in the Temple, in Solomon's porche.

24 Then came Iewes rounde about him, and said vnto him, How long doest thou make vs doute? If thou be the Christ, tell vs planely.

25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, & ye beleue not: the workes that I do in my Fathers Name, they beare witness of me.

26 But ye beleue not: for ye are not of my shepe, as I said vnto you.

27 My shepe heare my voyce, and I knowe them, and they followe me.

28 And I giue vnto them eternal life, and they shal neuer perishe, nether shal any plucke them out of mine hand.

29 My Father wth gaue them me, is greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 Then the Iewes againe toke vp stones, to stone him.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my Father: for of these workes do ye stone me?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For þ good worke we stone thee not, but for blasphemie, and that thou being a man, makest thy self God.

34 Iesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law, I said, ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, vnto whome þ worde of God was giuen, & the Scripture cannot be broken, 36 Say ye of him, whome the Father hath sanctified, and sent into þ worlde, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Sonne of God?

37 If I do not the workes of my Father, beleeue me not.

38 But if I do, then though ye beleeue not me, yet beleeue the workes; that ye may knowe & beleeue, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their hands, 40 And went againe beyonde Iordan, into the place where Iohn first baptized, & there abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and said, Iohn did no miracle, but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleeued in him there.

CHAP. XI.

Christ calleth Lazarus from death. 47 The hie Priests and Pharisees gather a counsell against him. 48 Caiaphas prophesieth. 54 Christ getteth him out of the way.

1 And a certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, the towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was þ Marie, which anointed the Lord w ointement, and wiped his feete with her heere, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, beholde, he whome þ louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not vnto death, but for the glorie of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Iesus loued Martha, & her sister and Lazarus.

6 And after he had heard þ he was sicke, yet abode he two dayes stil in þ same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iudea againe.

8 The disciples said vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately fought to stone thee, & doest thou go thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? If a man walke in the day, he stumblith not, because he seeth þ light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in þ night, he stumblith, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after he said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus slepeth: but I go to wake him vp.

12 The said his disciples, Lord, if he slepe, he shall be safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of þ natural slepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleue: but let vs go vnto him.

16 Then said Thomas (which is called Didymus) vnto his fellowe disciples, Let vs also go, that we may dye with him.

17 ¶ Then came Iesus, & founde þ he had line in the graue foure dayes already.

18 (Now Bethania was nere vnto Ierusalem, aboute fiftene furlongs of.)

19 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Marie to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Iesus was coming, went to meete him: but Marie sate stil in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

22 But now I know also, that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

24 Martha said vnto him, I knowe that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that belueth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And whosoever liueth, and beleueth in me, shall neuer dye. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She said vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which shulde come into the worlde.

28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into þ towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were w her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to wepe there.

¶ That which walked in his vision, & had the light of God for his guide, needeth no more dayes. The day also, bothe for summer and winter, was with the Iewes diuided into 12 houres.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and sawe him, she fel downe at his fete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her wepe, & the Iewes also wepe which came with her, he groined in the spirit, & was troubled in him self,

34 And said, Where haue ye laid him? They said vnto him, Lord, come, and se.

35 And Iesus^k wept.

36 Then said the Iewes, Beholde, how he loued him.

37 And some of them said, Colde not he, which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also, that this man shulde not haue dyed?

38 Iesus therefore againe groined in him self, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was laid vpon it.

39 Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the syster of him that was dead, said vnto him, Lord, he stincketh already: for he hath bene dead foure daies.

40 Iesus said vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if I diddest beleue, thou shuldest se the^l glorie of God?

41 Then they toke away the stone from I place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by, I said it, that they maye beleue, that thou hast sent me.

43 As he had spoken these things, he cryed w^a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bounde hand & fote with bandes, & his face was bounde with a napkin. Iesus said vnto them, Lose him, and let him go.

45 ¶ Then manie of the Iewes, w^a came to Marie, and had sene the things, which Iesus did, beleued in him.

46 But some of them went their way to I Pharises, and tolde them w^a things Iesus had done.

47 Then gathered the hie Pfiests and the Pharises a council, and said, What shal we do? For this man doeth manie miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men wil beleue in him, and the Romaines wil come and take away bothe our place, and I nation.

49 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was I hie Priest^a that same yere, said vnto the, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

50 Nor yet do you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man dye for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 This spake he not of him self: but being hie Priest that same yere, he^a prophesied that Iesus shulde dye for the nation.

52 And not for the nation onely, but that he shulde gather together in one the children of God, which were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey nere to I wilderness, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples:

55 ¶ And the Iewes Passecouer was at hand, and manie went out of the countrey vnto Ierusalé before the Passecouer, to I purifie them selues.

56 Then soght they for Iesus, and spake among them selues, as they stode in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he cometh not to the feast?

57 Now bothe the hie Priests and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if anie man knewe where he were, he shulde shewe it, that they might take him.

¶ CHAP. XII.

7 Christ excuseth Maries fact. 13 The affection of some towards him, and the rage of others against him and Lazarus. 25 The commoditie of the crosse. 27 His prayer. 28 The answer of the Father. 32 His death, and the frute thereof. 36 He exhorteth to faith. 40 The blindness of some, and the infirmities of others.

1 ¶ Then^a Iesus six dayes before the Passecouer came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, w^a was dead, whome he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, & Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then toke Marie a pound of ointment of spikenarde verie costlie, and anointed Iesus^a fete, & wipte his fete with her heere, & the house was filled with the saour of the ointment.

4 Then said one of his disciples, euen Iudas Iscariot Simons sonne, which shulde betraye him,

5 Why was not this ointment solde for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he said this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thefe, & had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue w^a you, but me ye shal not haue alwaies.

Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whome he had raised from the dead.

10 The hie Priests therefore cōsulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

11 Because that for his sake manie of the Iewes went away, and beleued in Iesus.

12 ¶ On the morowe, a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus shulde come to Ierusalem, 13 Toke branches of palme trees, & went forth to mete him, and cryed, 'Hosanna, Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus founde a yong asse, and sate thereon, as it is written,

15 *Feare not, daughter of Sion: beholde, thy Kīg cometh sitting on an asses coltre.

16 But his disciples vnderstode not these things at the first, but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these things were written of him, and y they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was w him, bare witnes that he called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 And the Pharises said among them selues, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing: Beholde, the tworlde goeth after him.

20 ¶ Now there were certeine Grekes among them that came vp to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philippe, which was of Bethsaida in Galile, and desired him, saying, Syr, we wolde se Iesus.

22 Philippe came and tolde Andrew: and againe Andrew & Philippe tolde Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fall into the ground & dye, it bideth alone: but if it dye, it bringeth forth the muche frute.

25 *He that sloueth his life shal lose it, & he y hateth his life in this worlde, shal kepe it vnto life eternal.

26 *If anie man serue me, let him followe me: for where I am, there shal also my seruāt be: and if anie man serue me, him wil my Father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled: & what shal I say? Father, saue me frō this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue bothe glorified it, and wil glorifie it againe.

29 Then said the people that stode by & heard, that it was a thundre: others said, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered, and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this worlde: now shal the prince of this worlde be cast out.

32 *And I, if I were lift vp from y earth, wil drawe all men vnto me.

33 Now this said he, signifying what death he shulde dye.

34 The people answered him, We haue heard out of the *Law, that the Christ bydeth for euer: and how saist thou, that the Sonne of man must be lift vp: who is that Sonne of man?

35 Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a litle while is the light with you: walke while ye haue light, lest the darkenes come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whether he goeth.

36 While ye haue light, beleue in y light, that ye may be the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, & departed, & hid him self from them.

37 ¶ And though he had done so manie miracles before them, yet beleued they not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaia the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he said, *Lord, who beleued our reporte: and to whome is the arme of the Lord reueiled?

39 Therefore colde thei not beleue, because that Esaia saith againe, 40 *He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they shulde not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand w their heart, and shulde be conuerted, & I shulde heale them.

41 These things said Esaia when he sawe his glorie, and spake of him.

44 And Iesus cryed, and said, He that beleueth in me, beleueth not in me, but in him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

not to iudge the worlde, but to saue the worlde.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiueh not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: * the worde that I haue spoken, it shal iudge him in the last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my self: but the Father, which sent me, he gaue me a commandement what I shulde say, and what I shulde speake.

50 And I knowe that his commandement is life euerlasting: the things therefore that I speake, I speake them so as the Father said vnto me.

¶ CHAP. XIII.

5 Christ washeth the disciples fete, 14 Exhorting them to humilitie & charitie, 21 Telleth them of Iudas the traitour, 34 And commandeth them earnestly to loue one another. 34 He forwarneth of Peters denial.

1 NOW * before the feast of the Paffeouer, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shulde departe out of this worlde vnto the Father, forasmuche as he loued his owne which were in the worlde, vnto the end he ^a loued them.

2 And when ^b supper was done (and that the deuil had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betraye him)

3 Iesus knowing that the Father had giue all things into his hands, & that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garmets, and toke a towel, and girded him self.

5 After that, he poured water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples fete, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simo Peter, who said to him, Lord, dost thou wash my fete?

7 Iesus answered & said vnto him, What I do, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt knowe it hereafter.

8 Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my fete. Iesus answered him, If I ^c wash thee not, thou shalt haue no parte with me.

9 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my fete onely, but also the hands & the head.

10 Iesus said to him, He that is washed, needeth not, saue to ^d wash his fete, but is cleane euerie whit: and ye are ^e cleane, but not all.

11 For he knewe who shulde betraye him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their fete, & had take his garmets, and was set downe againe, he said vnto them, Knowe ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say wel: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your fete, ye also ought to wash ^f one anothers fete.

15 For I haue giuen you an example, that ye shulde do, euē as I haue done to you.

16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, * The seruāt is not greater then his master, nether the ambassadour greater then he that sent him.

17 If ye knowe these things, blessed are ye, if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speake not of you all: I knowe whome I haue chosē: but it is that the Scripture might be fulfilled, * He that eateth bread with me, hath ^g lift up his hele against me.

19 From hence forth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleue that I am ^h he.

20 * Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I send anie, he that receiueh him, receiueh me, and he that receiueh me, receiueh him that sent me.

21 When Iesus had said these things, he was ⁱ troubled in the Spirit, & ^j testified, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betraye me.

22 * Then the disciples looked one on another, douting of whome he spake.

23 Now there was one of his disciples, which leaned on Iesus ^k bosome, whome Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened therefore Simo Peter, that he shulde aske who it was of whome he spake.

25 He the, as he leaned on Iesus brest, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, He it is, to whome I shal giue a soppe, when I haue dipte it: and he wet a soppe, and gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

27 And after the soppe, ^l Satan entred into him. The said Iesus vnto him, That thou dost, do quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew, for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had said vnto him, Bie those things that we haue neede of against the feast: or that he shulde giue some thing to the poore.

30 As soon then as he had receiued the soppe, he went immediatly out, and it was night.

31 ¶ When he was gone out, Iesus said, * Now is the Sōne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

35 By this shal all mē know that ye are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 Simō Peter said vnto hī, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt followe me afterwarde.

37 Peter said vnto him, Lord, why can I not followe thee now? *I wil lay downe my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered hī, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I say vnto thee, The cocke shal not crowe, til thou haue denyed me thrise.

a He armeth his disciples with consolation against trouble. 1 He ascendeth into heauen to prepare vs a place. 6 The way, the truth and the life. 10 The Father and Christ one. 13 How we shulde pray. 23 The promises vnto them that kepe his worde.

1 And he said to his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleue in God, beleue also in me.

2 In my Fathers house are many dwelling places: if it were not so, I wolde haue tolde you: I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And thogh I go to prepare a place for you, I wil come againe, and receiue you vnto my self, that where I am, there may ye be also.

4 And whither I go, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.

5 Thomas said vnto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest: how can we the knowe the way?

6 Iesus said vnto him, I am the Way, and the Truth, & the Life. No man cometh vnto the Father, but by me.

7 If ye had knowne me, ye shulde haue knownen my Father also: and from hence forth ye know him, and haue sene him.

8 Philippe said vnto him, Lord, shewe vs thy Father, and it sufficeth vs.

9 Iesus said vnto him, I haue bene so long time with you, and hast thou not knownen me, Philippe? he that hath sene me, hath sene my Father: how then saist thou, Shewe vs thy Father?

10 Beleuest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my self: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the workes.

11 Beleue me, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: at the least, beleue me for the very workes sake.

12 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth in me, the workes that I do, he shal do also, & greater then these shal he do: for I go vnto my Father.

13 *And whatsoever ye aske in my Name, that wil I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If ye shal aske any thing in my Name, I wil do it.

15 If ye loue me, kepe my commandements.

16 And I wil pray the Father, and he shal giue you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for euer, 17 Euen the Spirit of truth, whome the worlde can not receiue, because it seeth him not, nether knoweth hi: but ye knowe him: for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.

18 I wil not leaue you comfortles: but I wil come to you.

19 Yet a litle while, and the worlde shal se me no more, but ye shal se me: because I liue, ye shal liue also.

20 At that day shal ye knowe that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hathe my commandements, and kepeth them, is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, shalbe loued of my Father: and I wil loue him, and wil shewe mine owne self to him.

22 Iudas said vnto him (not Iscariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy self vnto vs, & not vnto the worlde?

23 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, If any man loue me: he wil kepe my worde, and my Father wil loue him, and we wil come vnto him, and wil dwell with him.

24 He that loueth me not, kepeth not my wordes, and the worde which ye heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

26 But the comforter, which is the holie Ghost, whome the Father wil send in my Name, he shal teache you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I haue tolde you.

27 Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the worlde giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

28 Ye haue heard how I said vnto you, I go away, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye wolde verely reioyce, because I said, I go vnto the Father, for my Father is greater then I.

CHAP. XV.

The swete consolation, and mutual loue betweene Christ and his membres vnder the parable of the vine. 18 Of their commune afflictions and persecutions. 26 The office of the holie Gost and the Apostles.

1 I Am the true vine, and my Father is an housband man.

2 *Euerie branche that beareth not frute in me, he taketh away: & euerie one that beareth frute, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth the more frute.

3 *Now are ye cleane through the worde, which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Abide in me, and I in you: as the branche can not beare frute of it self, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine: ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, & I in him, the same bringeth forth the muche frute: for without me can ye do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branche, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fyre, and they burne.

7 If ye abide in me, and my wordes abide in you, aske what ye wil, & it shalbe done to you.

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare muche frute, and be made my disciples.

9 As the Father hathe loued me, so haue I loued you: continue in my loue.

10 If ye shal kepe my commandments, ye shal abide in my loue, & I haue kept the Fathers commandements, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioye might remaine in you, and that your ioye might be full.

12 *This is my commandement, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.

13 *Greater loue the this hathe no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoeuer I commande you.

15 Henceforth call I you not seruants: for the seruant knoweth not what his master doeth: but I haue called you friends: for all things that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made knowen to you.

16 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that ye go and bring forth the frute, and that your frute remaine, that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of the Father in my Name, he may giue it you.

17 These things commande I you, that ye loue one another.

18 If the worlde hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, the worlde wolde loue his owne: but because ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chose you out of the worlde, therefore the worlde hateth you.

20 Remember the worde that I said vnto you, *The seruant is not greater then his master. *If they haue persecuted me, they wil persecute you also: if they haue kept my worde, they wil also kepe yours.

21 But all these things wil they do vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come & spoken vnto the, they shulde not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloke for their sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done workes among them, which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they bothe sene, & haue hated bothe me, and my Father.

25 But it is that the worde might be fulfilled, that is written in their Law, *They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter shal come, who me I wil send vnto you from the Father, euē the Spirit of trueth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shal testifie of me.

27 And ye shal witness also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

1 These things haue I said vnto you, that ye shulde not be offended.

2 They shal excommunicate you: yea, the time shal come, that whosoever killeth you, wil thinke that he doeth God seruice.

3 And these things wil they do vnto you, because they haue not knowen the Father, nor me.

me, and none of you asketh me, *Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue said these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorowe.

7 Yet I tel you the trueth, It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, Comforter wil not come vnto you: but if I departe, I wil send him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he wil reprove the worlde of sinne, and of righteousness, and of iudgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleue not in me:

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye shal se me no more:

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this worlde is iudged.

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye can not beare them now.

13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the Spirit of truth, he wil lead you into all trueth: for he shal not speake of him self, but whatsoever he shal heare, shal he speake, and he wil shewe you the things to come.

14 He shal glorifie me, for he shal receiue of mine, and shal shewe it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shal take of mine, and shewe it vnto you.

16 A litle while, and ye shal not se me: and againe a litle while, & ye shal se me: for I go to my Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among them selves, What is this that he saith vnto vs, A litle while, and ye shal not se me: & againe, a litle while, and ye shal se me, and, For I go to my Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A litle while? we knowe not what he saith.

19 Now Iesus knewe they wolde aske him, and said vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues of that I said, A litle while, and ye shal not se me: and againe, a litle while, and ye shal se me?

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shal wepe and lament, & the worlde shal reioyce: & ye shal sorowe, but your sorowe shal be turned to ioye.

21 A woman when she trauaileth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soon as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more anguish, for ioye that a man is borne into the worlde.

22 And ye now therefore are in sorowe: but I wil se you againe, and your hearts shal reioyce, and your ioye shal no man take from you.

23 And in that day shal ye aske me nothing.

*Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoever ye shal aske the Father in my Name, he wil giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shal receiue, that your ioye may be full.

25 These things haue I spokē vnto you in parables: but the time wil come, when I shal no more speake to you in parables: but I shal shewe you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day shal ye aske in my Name, & I say not vnto you, that I wil pray vnto the Father for you.

27 For the Father him self loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleued that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, & came into the worlde: againe I leaue the worlde, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples said vnto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now knowe we that thou knowest all things, and nedeft not that any man shulde aske thee. By this we beleue, that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Do you beleue now?

32 Beholde, the houre cometh, & is already come, that ye shal be scattered euerie man into his owne, and shal leaue me alone: but I am not alone: for the Father is with me.

33 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace: in this worlde ye shal haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue overcome the worlde.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The prayer of Christ vnto his Father, bothe for him self and his Apostles, and also for all such as receiue the trueth.

1 These things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heaven, & said, Father, the houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee.

2 As thou hast giuen him a power ouer all flesh, that he shulde giue eternal life to all them that thou hast giuen him.

3 And this is life eternal, that they knowe thee to be the only verie God, & whome thou hast sent Iesus Christ.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to do.

5 And now glorifie me, thou Father, with thine owne self, with the glorie which I had with thee before the worlde was.

the ^{Scripture} might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, & these thigs speake I in ^{the} worlde, that they might haue my ioye fulfilled in them selues.

14 I haue giuen them thy worde, and the worlde hath hated the, because they are not of ^{the} worlde, as I am not of ^{the} worlde.

15 I pray not that thou shuldest take them out of the worlde, but that thou kepe them from euil.

16 They are not of the worlde, as I am not of the worlde.

17 ^I Sanctifie them with thy truth: thy worde is truth.

18 As thou diddest send me into the worl-de, so haue I sent them into the worlde.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my self, that they also may be sanctified through the truth.

20 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shal beleue in me, through their worde,

21 That they all may be one, as thou, o Father, art in me, and I in thee: euen ^{they} they may be also one in vs, that the ^{world} worlde may beleue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glorie that thou gauest me, I haue giuen them, that they may be one,
as we are one,

23 I in them, & thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, & that ^{the} worlde may know, that thou hast sent me, & hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

24 Father, I wil that they which thou hast giuen me, be ^{with} with me euen where I am, that they may beholde my glorie, which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the worlde.

25 O righteous Father, the worlde also ha-the not knowen thee, but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen, that ^I I sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy Name, and wil declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in ^{the} them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Christ is betrayed. 6 The wordes of his mouth smite the officers to the grounde. 18 Peter smiteth of Malchus eare.
23 Iesus is brought before Annas and Caiaphas, 25 Where Peter denieth him. 36 He telleth Pilate what his kingdome is.

1 WHen Iesus had spoken these things, he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred, and his disciples.

2 And Iudas which betrayed him, knewe also the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Iudas then after he had receiued a ^{bande} bande of men and officers, of ^{the} high Priests, & of the Pharises, came thither with lan-ternes and torches, and weapons.

4 Then Iesus knowing all things ^{that} shulde come vnto him, went forth and said vnto them, Whome seke ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth.
Iesus said vnto them, I am he. Now Iudas also which betrayed him, stode wth them.

6 Affone then as he had said vnto them, I am he, they went backwards, and fel to
the grounde.

7 The he asked them againe, Whome seke ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am he: therefore if ye seke me, let these go their way.

9 This was that the worde might be fulfilled which he spake, ^{Of} Of them which gauest me, haue I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sworde, drew it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut of his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: shal I not drinke of the cup w^{ch} my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the bande and the captaine, & ^{the} the officers of the Iewes toke Iesus, and bounde him.

13 And led him away to ^{Annas} Annas first, (for he was Father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high Priest ^{that} that same yere)

14 And Caiaphas was he, that gaue counsel to the Iewes, that it was expedient one man shulde dye for the people.

15 Now Simon Peter followed Iesus, & another disciple, and ^{the} the disciple was knowne of the high Priest: therefore he went went in with Iesus into the hall of the high Priest.

16 But Peter stode at the dore without. Then went out the other disciple which was known vnto the high Priest, & spake to her that kept the dore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maide that kept the dore, vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He said, I am not.

18 And the seruants & officers stode there, which had made a fyre of coles: for it was colde, & they warmed them selues. And Peter also stode among them, and warmed him self.

19 ¶ The high Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde: I euer taught in the Synagogue & in the Temple, whither I Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me of them which heard me what I said vnto them: beholde, they knowe what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stode by, smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euil spoken, beare witnes of the euil: but if I haue wel spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 ¶ Now Annas had sent him bounde vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

25 And Simon Peter stode and warmed him self, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? He denied it, & said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the high Priest, his cousin whose care Peter smote of, said, Did not I se thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediately the cocke crewe.

28 ¶ Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas into a commune hall. Now it was morning & they them selues went not into a commune hall, lest they shulde be defiled, but that they might eat the Pasche.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euil doer, we wolde nothaue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, & iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not lawful for vs to put anie man to death.

32 It was that the worde of Iesus might be fulfilled w he spake, signifying what death he shulde dye.

33 ¶ So Pilate entred into a commune hall againe, and called Iesus, & said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Saist thou that of thy self, or did other tel thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the high Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. What hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this worlde: if my kingdome were of this worlde, my seruants wolde surely fight, that I shulde not be deliuered to Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hère.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou saist I am a King: for this cause am I borne, & for this cause came I into the worlde, that I shulde beare witnes vnto the trueth: heere one that is of the trueth, heareth my voyce.

38 Pilate said vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had said that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, & said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 ¶ But you haue a custome, that I shuld deliuer you one lose at the Pasche: will ye then that I lose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

40 ¶ Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murtherer.

CHAP. XIX.

¶ When Pilate coulde not asswage the rage of the Iewes against Christ, he deliuereth him vp with his superscription to be hangd betwixt two thieves. ¶ They cast lotes for his garments. ¶ He commendeth his mother vnto Iohn. ¶ Callest for drinke. ¶ Dyeth, and his side is perced, & taken downe from the crosse. ¶ He is buried.

1 ¶ Then Pilate toke Iesus & scourged him.

2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment.

3 And said, Hail, King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their roddes.

4 Then Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know, that I finde no faute in him at all.

5 ¶ Then came Iesus forth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 ¶ Then when the high Priests and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him and crucifie him: for I finde no faute in him.

7 ¶ The Iewes answered him, We haue a Law, and by our Law he ought to dye, but

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that worde, he was the more afraide,
9 And went againe into the commune hall and said vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answer.
10 The said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?
11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were gi-uen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.
12 From thence forth Pilate sought to lose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cæsars friend:
for whosoever maketh him self a King,
speaketh against Cæsar.
13 ¶ When Pilate heard that worde, he brought Iesus forth, and sate downe in iudgement seat in a place called the Pauement, and in Hebrew, Gabbatha.
14 And it was the Preparation of the Passeouer, and about the sixth houre: and he said vnto the Iewes, Beholde your King.
15 But they cryed, Away with him, away with him: crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The high Priests answered, We haue no King but Cæsar.
16 Then deliuered he him vnto them, to be crucified. And they toke Iesus, & led him away.
17 And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens Skulles, which is called in Ebrew, Golgotha.
18 Where they crucified him, & two other with him, on either side one, & Iesus in middles.
19 ¶ And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, & it was written, IESVS OF NAZARET THE KING OF THE IEWES.
20 This title then red manie of the Iewes:
for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nere to the cite: and it was written in Hebrew, Greke and Latin.
21 Then said the high Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that he said, I am King of the Iewes.
22 ¶ Pilate answered, What I haue writtē,
I haue writtē.
23 ¶ Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, toke his garments & made foure partes, to euery souldier a parte, & his coat: and the coat was without sea-me, woven from the top throughout.
24 Therefore they said one to another, Let vs not deuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shalbe. This was the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They departed my garments among them, & on my coat did cast lottes. So the souldiers did these things in dede.

25 ¶ Then stode by the crosse of Iesus his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie the wife of Cleopas, and Marie Magdalene.
26 And when Iesus sawe his mother, & the disciple standing by, whome he loued, he said vnto his mother, woman, beholde thy sone.
27 Then said he to the disciple, Beholde thy mother: and from that houre, the disciple toke her home vnto him.
28 ¶ After, when Iesus knewe all things were performed, the Scripture might be fulfilled, he said, I thirst.
29 And there was set a vessel full of vinegre: & they filled a sponge with vinegre, and put it about an hyssope stalke, and put it to his mouth.
30 Now when Iesus had receiued of the vi-negre, he said, It is finished: and bowed his head, and gaue vp the gost.
31 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies shulde not re-maine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day:
for the Sabbath was an high day) besought Pilate that their legges might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.
32 Then came the souldiers and brake the legges of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.
33 But when they came to Iesus, and sawe that he was dead already, they brake not his legges.
34 But one of the souldiers with a speare perced his side, & forthewith came thereout blood and water.
35 And he that sawe it, bare recorde, & his recorde is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might beleue it.
36 For these things were done, the Scripture shulde be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shalbe broken.
37 And againe another Scripture saith,
They shal se him whome they haue thrust through.
38 ¶ And after these things, Ioseph of Arimathea (who was a discipule of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that he might take downe the bodie of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence.
He came then and toke Iesus bodie.
39 And there came also Nicodemus (who first came to Iesus by night) & brought of myrrhe & aloes mingled together about an hundred pounce.
40 ¶ Then toke they the bodie of Iesus, and

CHAP. XX.

1 Marie Magdalene cometh to the sepulchre. 3 So do Peter and Iohn. 12 The two Angels appeare. 17 Christ appeareth to Marie Magdalene. 19 And to all his disciples. 27 The incredulitie and confession of Thomas.

NOW the first day of the weke came Marie Magdalene, early whē it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and sawe the stone taken away from the tombe.

2 Then she ranne, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whome Iesus loued; and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, &
we knowe not where they haue laide him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ranne bothe together, but the other disciple did out runne Peter, & came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stouped downe, and saue the linnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saue the linnen clothes lye,

7 And the kercheise that was vpō his head, not lying w the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it self.

8 Then went in also the other disciple, w came first to the sepulchre, and he saue it, and beleued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture,
That he must rise againe from the dead.

10 And the disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

11 But Marie stode without at the sepulchre weping: & as she wept, she bowed her self into the sepulchre.

12 And sawe two Angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, & the other at the fete, where the bodie of Iesus had laine.

13 And they said vnto her, Woman, why wepest thou? She said vnto them, Thei haue taken away my Lord, and I knowe not where they haue laide him.

14 When she had thus said, she turned her self backe, and sawe Iesus standing, & knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Womā, why wepest thou? whome sekest thou? She supposing that he had bene the gardener, said vnto him, Syr, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laide him, and I will take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her self, and said vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touche me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father, but go to my brethren, & say vnto them, I ascend vnto my Father, and to your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene came and tolde the disciples that she had sene the Lord, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ The same daye then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus, and stode in the middes, and said to them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. The were the disciples glad whē thei had sene the Lord.

21 Then said Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent me, so send I you.

22 And whē he had said that, he breathed on them, and said vnto them, Receiue the holy Gost.

23 Whosoeruers finnies ye remit, they are remitted vnto them: and whosoeruers sin-nes ye reteinē, they are reteined.

24 But Thomas one of the twelue, called Didymus, was not w the whē Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue sene the Lorde: but he said vnto them, Except I se in his hands the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, and put mine hand into his side, I wil not beleue it.

26 And eight dayes after againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them.
Then came Iesus, when the doores were shut, & stode in the middes, and said, Peace be vnto you.

27 After, said he to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and se myne handes, and put forbe thine hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithles, but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered, and said vnto him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

29 Iesus said vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast sene me, thou beleuest: blessed are they that haue not sene, & haue beleued.

30 And manie other signes also did Ie-sus in the presence of his disciples, whiche are not written in this boke.

31 But these things are written, that ye might beleue, that Iesus is the Christ the Sōne of God, & that in beleuing ye might haue life through his Name.

And after these things, Iesus shewed him-

1 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, & Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, & two other of his disciples.

2 Simon Peter said vnto the, I go a fishing.
They said vnto him, We also will go with thee. They went their way and entred into a ship straight way, and that night caught they nothing.

3 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the disciples knewe not that it was Iesus.

4 Iesus then said vnto them, † Sirs, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No.

5 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shal finde.
So they cast out, and they were not able at al to drawe it, for the multitude of fishes.

6 Therefore said the disciple whome Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his coat to him (for he was naked) and cast him self into the sea.

7 But † other disciples came by shippe (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundreth cubites) and they drew the net with fishes.

8 As sone then as they were come to land, they sawe hotte coles, and fishe laid thereon, and bread.

9 Iesus said vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

10 Simon Peter stepped forth and drewe the net to land, full of great fishes, an hundred, fiftie and thre: and albeit there were so manie, yet was not the net broken.

11 Iesus said vnto them, Come, and dyne.
And none of the disciples durst aske him,
Who art thou, seeing they knewe that he was the Lord.

12 Iesus then came and toke bread, & gaue them, and fish likewise.

13 This is now the thirde tyme that Iesus shewed him self to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

14 And after that he had shewed himselfe vnto his disciples, he went into Galilee, as he had said vnto him.

15 And when he was met with them, he said vnto them, I haue sent you to preach in all the world, and behold, I am with you, and will be with you, vnto the ende of the world.

16 And he said vnto them, Peace be vnto you, as my Father hath said.

17 And he said vnto them, I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the ende.

18 So when they had dyied, Iesus said to Simon Peter, Simon sonne of Iona, louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee.

19 He said vnto him, Feede my lambes.

20 He said to him againe the second tyme,
Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me?
He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my shepe.

21 He said vnto him the third tyme, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third tyme, Louest thou me? and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest al things: † I knowe that I loue thee. Iesus said vnto him, Feede my shepe.

22 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When † thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy self, and walkedst whither thou woldedst: but when † thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch forth thine handes, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whether thou woldest not.

23 And this spake he, signifying by what death he shulde glorifie God. And when he had said this, he said to him, Follow me.

24 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whome Iesus loued, following, who had also leane on his brest at supper, and had said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

25 When Peter therefore sawe him, he said to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man do?

26 Iesus said vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee? followe † me.

27 Then went this worde abroad among † brethren, that this disciple shulde not dye.
Yet Iesus said not to him, He shall not dye:
but if I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

28 This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, & we knowe that his testimonie is true.

29 * Now there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they shulde be written euery one, I suppose † I wolde colde not containe the bookes that shulde be written.

30 Amen.

31 And when Iesus had said these things, he breathed his last, and said vnto the disciples, Peace be vnto you, as my Father hath said.

32 And he said vnto them, I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the ende.

33 And he said vnto them, I haue sent you to preach in all the world, and behold, I am with you, and will be with you, vnto the ende of the world.

34 And he said vnto them, Peace be vnto you, as my Father hath said.

THE ACTES OF THE

holie Apostles written by Luke the Euangeliste.

THE ARGUMENT.

Christ, after his ascension, performed his promises to his Apostles, and sent them the holie Ghost, declaring thereby, that he was not onely inuident of his Church, but woulde be the head and maintainer thereof for euer. VVherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding γ Satan & γ world resisted neuer so much against this noble worke, yet by a fewe simple men of no reputation, replenished all the world with the sounde of his Gospel. And here in the beginning of the Church, and in the increase thereof, we may plainly perceiue the practise and malice, which Satan continually vseth to suppress and ouerthrowe the Gospel: he miseth conspiracies, tumults, commotions, persecutions, slanders and all kinde of cruelties. Again we shal here beholde the prouidence of God, who ouerthroweth his enemies enterprises; deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth, and encourageth his people valiantly & constantly to followe their Captaine Christ, leauing as it were by this historie a perpetuall memoire to the Church, that the crosse is so ioyned with the Gospel, that they are fellowes inseparable, and that the ende of one affliction, is but the beginning of another. Yet neuertheless God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings and tentations of his, to a good yssue, giuing them, as it were, in sorowe, ioye; in bandes, freedom; in prison, deliuerance; in trouble, quietnes; in death, life. Finally, this booke containeth manie excellent sermons of the Apostles and Disciples, as touching the death, resurrection and ascension of Christ. The meritis of God. Of the grace, and remission of sinne through IESVS CHRIST. Of the blessed immortallitie. An exhortation to the Ministers of Christs flocks. Of repentance, and feare of God, with other principall points of our Faith: so that this onlie historie in a manner may be sufficient to instruct a man in all true doctrine and religion.

CHAP. I.

The wordes of Christ and his Angels to the Apostles. His ascension. 14 VVherein γ Apostles are occupied till the holie Ghost be sent. 26 And of the electio of Matthias.

HAVE made γ former treatise, δ Theophilus, of all that Iesus bega to do, & teach, Vntill γ day, that he was take vp, after that he through the holie Ghost, had giuen γ commandements vnto the γ Apostles, whome he had chosen.

To whome also he presented him self aliue after that he had suffred, by manie infallible tokens, being sene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, & speaking of those things w γ apperteine to the γ kingdome of God.

And whē he had gathered the together, he commanded them, that they shulde not departe from Ierusalem, but to wait for the promes of the Father, which [said he] ye haue heard of me.

For Iohn in dede baptized with water, but ye shal be baptized with the γ holy Ghost within these fewe dayes.

Whē they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this tyme restore γ kingdome to Israel?

And he said vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the γ times, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power,

But ye shal receiue power of γ holy Ghost, when he shall come on you: and ye shal be witnesses vnto me bothe in Ierusalem, and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, & vnto the γ vttermost parte of the earth.

And when he had spoken these things, while they behelde, he was taken vp: for a cloude toke him vp out of their sight.

And when he had spoken these things, while they behelde, he was taken vp: for a cloude toke him vp out of their sight.

Hereby they might learne that γ Messias was not onely be γ Iewes, but also for the Gentiles, Luke 24. 44. I VVhereby they knowe whether he went.

And while thei looked stedfastly towarde heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stode by them in white apparel,

Which also said, Ye men of Galile, why stand ye γ gasing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shal so come, as ye haue sene him go into heauen.

Then returned they vnto Ierusalem from the mount that is called [the mount] of olives, which is nere to Ierusalem, containing a Sabbath [dayes] iourney.

And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode bothe Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philippe, and Thomas, Bartlemew, and Matthew, Iames [sonne] of Alphaeus, and Simon zelotes, and Iudas Iames [brother].

These all continued with one γ accorde in γ prayer and supplication w γ the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and w γ his brethren.

And in those dayes Peter stode vp in the middes of the disciples & said (now the number of γ names that were in one place, were about an hundreth and twentie)

Ye men [and] brethren, this γ Scripture must needs haue bene fulfilled, w γ the γ holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, w γ was γ guide to the γ toke Iesus.

For he was nombred with vs, and had obtained γ felowship in this ministration.

He therefore hath purchased a field with the γ rewarde of iniquitie: and whē he had throwen down him self head lōg, he brast a sondre in the middes, and all his bowels gushed out.

And it is knowen vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, in so muche, that that feld is called in their owne langage, Aceldama, that is, The field of blood.

1 The Apoſtles hauing receiued the holy Ghoſt, make their hearers aſtoniſhed. 14 VWhen Peter had ſtopped the mouthes of the ſcookers he ſheweth by the viſible graces of the holy Spirit that Chriſt is come. 41 He baptizeth a great number that were conuerſed. 43 The godly exer-ciſe, charitie, and diuers vertues of the faithfull.

1 AND when the day of Pentecoſte was come, they were all with one accorde in one place.

2 And ſuddenly there came a ſounde from heauē, as of a ruſhing & mightie winde, and it filled all the houſe where they ſate.

3 And there appeared vnto the clouen tōngues, like fyre, & it ſate vpon eche of the.

4 And they were all filled with the holye Ghoſt, and began to ſpeake with other tōngues, as the Spirit gaue them vterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jeruſalem Ie-wes, men that feared God, of euerie natio vnder heauen.

6 Now when this was noiſed, the multitude came together, and were aſtonied, becauſe that euerie man heard them ſpeake his owne language.

7 And they wondred al, and marueiled, ſaying among them ſelues, Beholde, are not theſe which ſpeake, of Galilee?

8 How then heare we euery man our owne language, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and dea, and of Cappadocia, of Pontus, & Aſia.

10 And of Phrygia, and Paphlagonia, of Egypt, and of the parties of Lybia, which is beſide Cyrene, and ſtrangers of Rome, and Ie-wes, and proſelytes,

11 Grekes, & Arabians: we heard them ſpea-ke in our owne tongues the wonderfull workes of God.

12 They were al then aſamed, and douted, ſaying one to another, What may this be?

13 And others mocked, and ſaid, They are full of newe wine.

14 ¶ But Peter ſtanding with the Eleuen, lift vp his voyce, and ſaid vnto them, Ye men of Iudea, [and] ye all that inhabit Jeruſalem, be this knowne vnto you, & hearken vnto my wordes.

15 For theſe are not drunken, as ye ſuppoſe, ſince it is but the thirde houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was ſpoken by the Prophet Ioel,

17 And it ſhalbe in laſt dayes, ſaith God,
I wil powre out of my Spirit vpon al fleſh, and your ſonnes, and your daughters ſhall prophecie, and your yong men ſhall ſee vi-ſions, and your olde men ſhall dreame drea-

18 And on my ſeruants, & on myne hande-theſe dayes, and they ſhal prophecie.

19 And I will ſhewe wonders in heauen aboue, & tokens in the earth beneth, blood,

20 ¶ The ſunne ſhalbe turned into darknes, and the moone into blood, before that

21 And it ſhalbe, that whoſoeuer ſhall call

22 Ye men of Iſrael, heare theſe wordes, Ieſus of Nazaret, a man approued of God among you with great workes, and wondres and ſignes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your ſelues alſo

29 Men [83] brethren, I may boldly speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, * that he is bothe dead & buryed, and his sepulchre remaineth with vs vnto this day.

30 Therefore, seing he was a * Prophet, and knewe that God had * sworne with an othe to him, * of the frute of his loines he wolde raise vp Christ concerning * flesh to set him vpon his throne, 31 He knowing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that * his * soule shulde not be left in * graue, nether his flesh shulde * lie corruption.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Since then that he by the * right hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath * receiued of his Father the * promes of the holy Gost, he hath shed forth this whiche ye now se and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but he saith, * The Lord said to my Lord, * Sit at my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thine enemies thy fote stole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, * God hath * made him bothe Lord and Christ, this Iesus, [I say] whome ye haue crucified.

37 Now when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and said vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men [83] brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Peter said vnto them, Amend your liues, and be baptized euerie one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ for the remission of sinnes: & ye shall receiue the * gift of the holic Gost.

39 For the promes * is made vnto you, and to your children, and to al that are a farre of, [euen] as many as * Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other wordes he * besought, & exhorted them, saying, Save your selues from this frowarde generation.

41 The they that gladly receiued his wordes, were baptized: & the same day, there were added [to the Church] about thre thousand * houles.

42 And they continued in the Apostles doctrine, & * fellowship, & * breaking of bread, and prayers.

43 And feare came vpon euerie soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that belueed, were in one place, & had all things * commune.

45 And thei folde their possessions & * goods and parted them to all men, as euerie one had neede.

46 And they continued daylie with one accord in the Temple, * & * breaking bread [at home], did eat their meat together with gladnes and singlenes of heart, 47 Praising God, and had fauour with all the people: and the Lorde added to the Church * from day to day, suche as shulde be saved.

CHAP. III.

* The lame is restored to his feet. * Peter preacheth Christ vnto the people.

1 Now Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple, at the * ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man which was a creple fro his mothers wombe, was caried, whome they laid daylie at the gate of the Temple called Beautiful, to aske * almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seing Peter & Iohn, that they wolde entre into the Temple, desired to receiue an almes.

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with Iohn, said, Loke on vs.

5 And he gaue hede vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer and golde haue I none, but suche as I * haue, that giue I thee: In the * Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret rise vp and walke.

7 And he toke him by the right hand, and lift [him] vp, and immediatly his fete & ancle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaped vp, stode, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saue him walke, and praising God,

10 And they knew him, that it was he which sat for * almes at the Beautiful gate of the Temple, and they were amased, and sore astonied at that which was come vnto him.

11 And as * creple which was healed, heble Peter and Iohn, all the people ran amased vnto them in the porche which is called Solomons.

12 So when Peter sawe it, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why maruaile ye at this? or why loke ye so stedfastly on vs, as though by our owne * power or godlynes we had made this man go?

13 The GOD of Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, the * GOD of our fathers, hath glorified his Sonne Iesus, whome ye betrayed, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be deliuered.

14 * But ye denyed the holy one & the lust, and desired a * murderer to be gloriou.

CHAP. IIII.
Peter and Iohn deliuered out of prison, preache the Gospel boldly. 10 They obesse plainly the Name of Christ.
11 They are commanded to preache no more in that Name. 12 They praye for the good successe of the Gospell.
13 The miracle, vntic and charite of the Church.

And as thei spake vnto the people, the Priests and Captaine of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them, Taking it grieuouly that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus [Name] the resurrection from the dead.
And they laid hands on them, & put them in holde, vntill the next day: for it was now even tide.
Howbeit, many of them which heard the worde, beleued, and the nombre of the men was aboute foure thousand.

And it came to passe on the morrowe, for their rulers, and Elders, and Scribes were gathered together at Ierusalem.
6 And Annas the chief Priest, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as manie as were of the kinred of the hie Priestes.
7 And when they had set the before them, they asked, By what power, or in what Name haue ye done this?
8 Then Peter full of the holie Gost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,
9 Forasmuch as we this day are examined of the good dede [done] to the impotent man, [to wit], by what meanes he is made whole, 10 Be it knowne vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret, whome ye haue crucified, whome God raised againe from the dead, [euen] by him doeth this man stande here before you, whole.
11 This is the stone cast aside of yous buylders, w is become the head of the corner.
12 Nether is there saluatiō in any other: for among men there is giue none other name vnder heauen, whereby we must be saued.
13 Now when thei sawe the boldnes of Peter and Iohn, & vnderstode that they were vnlearned men and without knowelodge, they marueiled, and knewe them, that they had bene with Iesus.
14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing w them, they had nothing to say against it.
15 Then they commanded them to go aside out of the Council, and conferred among them selues,
16 Saying, What shall we do to these men?
for surely a manifest signe is done by them,
[and it is] openly knowne to al them dwelling in Ierusalem: and we can not denye it.
17 But that it be noised no farther among the people, let vs threatē and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.
18 So they called them, and commanded them, that in no wise they shulde speake or teache in the Name of Iesus.
19 But Peter and Iohn answered vnto them, and said, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather the God, iudge ye.
20 For we can not but speake the things w we haue seene and heard.
21 So they threatened them, and let them go, and founde nothing how to punish the, because of the people: for al men praised God for that which was done.
22 For the man was aboute foure yere olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

me to their felowes, & shewed al that þ his Priestes and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard it, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and said, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen and the earthe, the sea, and all thingis that are in them.

25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast said, *Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine thingis?

26 The Kings of the earth assembled, & the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For douteles, against thine holie Sonne Iesus, whome thou haddest anointed, both Herode and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel gathered them selues together, 28 To do whatsoeuer thine hand, and thy counsel had determined before to be done.

29 And now, O Lord, beholde their threatenings, & grante vnto thy seruants with all boldenes to speake thy worde, 30 So that thou stretche forth thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holy Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Gost: and they spake the worde of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleued, were of one heart, and of one soule: nether any of them said, that any thing of that which he possessed, was his owne, but they had all thingis commune.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grate was vpon them all.

34 Nether was there any among them, that lacked: for as many as were possessors of landes or houses, sold them, and brought þ price of the thingis that were sold,

35 And laid it downe at the Apostles fete, & it was distributed vnto euery man, according as he had neede.

36 Also Ioses which was called of the Apostles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation the sonne of consolation) being a Leuire, [and] of the countrey of Cyprus, 37 Where as he had land, sold it, & brought the money, and laid it downe at the Apostles fete.

CHAP. V.

¶ The hypocrite of Ananias and Sapphira is punished. 1. A miracle done by the Apostles. 2. They are taken, but the Angel of God bringeth the one out of prison. 3. Their bold confession before the Councill. 4. The counsell of Gamaliel. 5. The Apostles are beat, and reioyce in tribulation.

¶ But a certeine man named Ananias, & Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept away [parte] of þ price, his wife also being of counsell, & brought a certeine parte, and laid it downe at the Apostles fete.

3 Then said Peter, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart, that thou shouldest lie vnto the holy Gost, and kepe away [parte] of the price of the possession?

4 Whiles it remained, appertained it not vnto thee: and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? how is it þ thou hast conceiued this thing in thine heart: thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Now when Ananias heard these wordes, he fel downe, and gaue vp the gost. Then great feare came on al them that heard these thingis.

6 And yong men rose vp, and toke him vp, and caryed [him] out, and buried [him].

7 And it came to passe about the space of thre houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tel me, solde ye the land for so muche? And she said, Yea, for so muche.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beholde, the fete of them which haue buried thyne hous band, [are] at þ dore, and shall carye thee out.

10 Then she fell downe straight way at his fete, and yelded vp the gost: and the yong men came in, & founde her dead, & caryed her out, and buried her by her hous band.

11 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these thingis.

12 Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes and wonders shewed among þ people (and they were all with one accorde in Solomons porche.

13 And of the other durst no mā ioyne himself to them: neuertheles the people magnified them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities rounde about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with cleane spits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ The chief Priest rose vp, and al they that were with him (which was the secte of the Sadduces) & were full of indignation, them in the commune prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Go your way, and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning & taught. And the chief Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Council together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, and founde them not in the prison, they returned and tolde it.

23 Saying, Certainly we founde the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without, before the dores: but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the [chiefe] Priest, and the capitaine of the Temple, and the hie Priests heard these things, thei doubted of them, whereunto this wolde growe.

25 Then came one & shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teache the people.

26 Then went the capitaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for thei feared the people, lest they shulde haue bene stoned).

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Council, and the chief Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not we straitly commande you, that ye shuld not teache in this Name, and beholde, ye haue filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and ye wolde bring this mas blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and said, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 The God of our Fathers hath raised vp Iesus, whome ye slewe, & hanged on a tre.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Sauour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses concerning these things: we say, yea, and the holy Ghost, whome God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in the Council a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space.

35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel take heed to your selues, what ye intend to do touching these men.

36 For before these tymes, rose vp Theudas boasting him self, to whome resorted a number of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they al which obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose vp Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of the tribute, and drewe away much people after him: he also perished, & al that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought.

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot destroye it, lest ye be founde euil fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commanded that they shulde not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them go.

41 So they departed from the Council, reioycing, that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And daylie in the Temple, & from house to house they ceased not to teache & preach Iesus Christ.

CHAP. VI.

Seven Deacons are ordained in the Church. The graces and miracles of Stephen, whome they accused falsely.

1 And in those dayes, as the number of the disciples grewe, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians, towardes the Hebrewes, because their widdowes were neglected in the daylie ministring.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and said, It is not mete that we shulde leaue the worde of God to serue the tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, loke ye out among you seven men of honest reporte, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisdom, which we may appoint to this busines.

4 And we wil giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministracion of the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full offaith, and of the holy Ghost, and Philippe, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolaus, proselyte of Antiochia.

6 Which they set before the Apostles: and they prayed, and laid their hands on them.

7 And the worde of God increased, and the number of the disciples was multiplied in Ierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the faith.

8 Then stood there up in the Church a certain man named Stephen, full of grace and power, which did great miracles and signes among the people.

This Stephen was about thirte years before him, whome Iosephus mencioneth lib. 2. Now

¶ Now Steuen full of faith and power, did great wonders & miracles among the people.

¶ Then there arose certaine of the Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of the Cilicia, & of Asia, & disputed wth Steuen.

¶ But they were not able to resist the wisdom, & the Spirit by the which he spake.

¶ Then they suborned men w^{ch} said, We haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and God.

¶ Thus they moued the people & the Elders, & the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Council.

¶ And set forth false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, & the Law.

¶ For we haue heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazaret shal destroy this place, & shal chage the ordinances, w^{ch} Moses gaue vs.

¶ And as al that sate in the Council, looked stedfastly on him, they sawe his face as it had bene the face of an Angel.

CHAP. VII.

¶ Steuen maketh answer by the Scriptures to his accusers.

¶ He rebuketh the hardnecked Iewes. 57 And is stoned to death. 58 Saul kepeth the tennementous clothes.

¶ Then said the chief Priest, Are these things so?

¶ And he said, Ye men, brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of our glorie appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran.

¶ And said vnto him, Come out of thy country, and from thy kinned, and come into the land, which I shall shewe thee.

¶ Then came he out of the land of Chaldeans, & dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, [God] brought him from thence into this land, wherin ye now dwell.

¶ And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no, not the breadth of a fote: yet he promised that he wolde giue it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no childe.

¶ But God spake thus, that his seed shulde be a sojourner in a strange land, and they shulde kepe it in boundage, and entreate it euill foure hundred yeres.

¶ But the nation to whome they shalbe in bondage, wil I iudge, saith God: and after that, they shal come forth and serue me in this place.

¶ He gaue him also the couenant of Circumcision: and so [Abraham] begate Isaac, and circumcised him the eight daye: and Isaac [begate] Jacob, and Jacob the twelue Patriarkes.

¶ And the Patriarkes moued with enuie solde Ioseph into Egypt: but God was wth him.

¶ And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and gaue him fauour and wisdom in sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and [ouer] his whole house.

¶ Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: that our fathers founde no sustenance.

¶ But when Jacob heard that there was come in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

¶ And at the second time, Ioseph was knowen of his brethren, & Iosephs kinred was made knowen vnto Pharaoh.

¶ Then sent Ioseph, and caused his father to be brought, and all his kinned, euen three score and fiftene soules.

¶ So Jacob went downe into Egypt, and he dyed, and our fathers,

¶ And were remoued into Sychem, and were put in the sepulchre, that Abraham had bought for money, of the sonnes of Emor, [sonne] of Sychem.

¶ But when the time of the promes drewe nere, which God had sworne to Abraham, the people grewe & multiplied in Egypt.

¶ Till another King arose, which knewe not Ioseph.

¶ The same dealt subtilly with our kinned, and euill intreated our fathers, & made the to cast out their yong children, that they shulde not remaine aliue.

¶ The same tyme was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished vpon his fathers house thre moneths.

¶ And when he was cast out, Pharaohs daughter toke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

¶ And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mightie in wordes and in dedes.

¶ Now when he was full fortie yere olde, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.

¶ And when he sawe one [of them] suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

¶ For he supposed his brethren wolde haue vnderstand, that God by his hande shulde giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstode it not.

¶ And the next day, he shewed him selfe vnto them as they strove, and wolde haue set the at one againe, saying, Syrs, ye are brethren: why do ye wrong one to another?

¶ But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

¶ Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

36 He broght them out, doing wonders, & miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wilderness fourtie yerres.

37 This is that Moses, which said vnto the children of Israel, A Prophet shal Lord your God raise vp vnto you, [eu]en of your brethren, like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 This is he that was in the Congregation, in the wilderness with the Angel, w spake to him in mount Sina, & w our fathers, who receiued the liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

CHAP. IX.

1. The conuersion of Saul. 2. His vocation to the Apostleship. 3. His scale to execute the same. 4. How he escaped the Iewes confabacies. 5. His access to the Apostles. 6. The profession of the Church. 7. Peter healeth Aeneas. 8. Raising Tabitha. 9. He conuerteth many to Christ. 10. And lodgeth in a tanners house.

And Saul yet breatching out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie Priest, And desired of him letters to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if he founde any that were of that way (ether men or women) he might bring them bounde vnto Ierusalem.

Now as he journeyed, it came to passe & as he was come nere to Damascus, suddenly there shined rounde about him a light from heaven.

And he fel to & earth, and heard a voyce, saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whome thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

He then bothe trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou that I do? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise and go into the cite, & it shalbe tolde thee what I shal do.

The me also which journeyed with him, stood amazed, hearing his voyce, but seeing no man.

And Saul arose from the ground, & opened his eyes, but saw no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him in to Damascus,

Where he was three dayes without sight, and nether ate nor dranke.

And there was a certeine discipule at Damascus named Ananias, & to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Beholde, I am here, Lord.

Then the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the strete which is called Straight, & seke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for beholde, he prayeth.

(And he sawe in a vision a man named Ananias coming in to him, and putting his hands on him, he might receiue his sight.)

Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy sainctes at Ierusalem.

Moreover here he hath autoritie of the hie Priests, to binde all & call on thy Name.

Then the Lord said vnto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

For I wil shewe him, how many things he must suffere for my Names sake.

Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (Iesus) that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest, that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

And immediately there fel from his eyes as it had bene scales, & suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized.

And receiued meat, & was strengthened. So was Saul certeine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

And straight way he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

So that all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he, that destroyed the which called on this Name in Ierusalem, & came hither for that intent, he shulde bring them bounde vnto the hie Priests?

But Saul encreased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming, that this was the Christ.

And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes toke counsell together, to kill him.

But their laying await was knowen of Saul: now they watched the gates daye and night, that they might kill him.

Then the disciples toke him by night, & put him through the wall, & let him downe in a basket.

And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, he assaide to ioyne him self with the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and beleued not that he was a discipule.

But Barnabas toke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had sene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, & how he had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

And he was conuersant with them at Ierusalem.

And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed w the Grecians: but they wet about to slay him.

But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

Then had the Churches rest through all Iudea

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saintes which dwelt at Lydda:

33 And there he founde a certeine man named Aeneas, who had kept his bed eight yeres, and was sicke of the palfie.

34 The said Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise & make vp thy bed. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, sawe him, and turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certeine woman a disciplex named Tabitha (by interpretation is called Dorcas) she was full of good workes & almes which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke and dyed: & when they had washed her, they laid her in an vpper chamber,

38 Now forasmuche as Lydda was nere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that he wolde not delaye to come vnto them.

39 Then Peter arose & came with them: and when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber, where all the widowes stode by him weping, and shewing the coates and garments, which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forthe, and knelled downe, and praid, and turned him to the bodie, and said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she sawe Peter, sate vp.

41 Then he gaue her the hand & lifte her vp, and called the saintes & widdowes, and restored her alieue.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and manie beleued in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe that he taryed manie dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

1 Cornelius admonished by the Angel. 7 He sendeth to Ioppa. 11 The vision that Peter sawe. 17 How he was sent to Cornelius. 19 The Gentiles also receiue the Spirit, and are baptized.

1 Furthermore there was a certeine man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a captain of the bande called the Italian (bande,) A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his household, which gaue muche almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

2 He sawe in a vision evidently (about the ninte houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

3 But when he looked on him, he was afraid, & said, What is it, Lord? And he said vnto him, Thy prayers & thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

4 Now therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

5 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shal tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

6 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his seruants, and a souldier feared God, one of them that waited on him,

7 And tolde them all things, & sent them to Ioppa.

8 On the morowe as they went on their iorney, and drew nere vnto the cite, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixt houre.

9 Then waxed he an hungred, and wolde haue eaten: but while they made some thing readie, he fel into a trance.

10 And he sawe heauen opened, and a certeine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great shete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

11 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, & wilde beastes, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

12 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eat.

13 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vnclane.

14 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the seconde time, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

15 This was so done thrise: and the vessel was drawn vp againe into heauen.

16 ¶ Now while Peter doubted in him self what this vision which he had sene, meant, beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons house, and stode at the gate.

17 And called, & asked, whether Simon, who was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

18 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said vnto him, Beholde, thre men seeke thee.

19 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, & go with them, and doute nothing: for I haue sent them.

20 ¶ Then Peter went downe to the men who were sent vnto him from Cornelius, & said, Beholde, I am he whome ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

21 And they said, Cornelius the centaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good reporte among the nation of 23 Then called he the in, & lodged the, and the next day, Peter went forth with them, and certeine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 And the day after, thei entred into Cesarea. Now Cornelius waited for them, & had called together his kinsmen, and special friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fel downe at his fete and worshipped him.

26 But Peter toke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my self am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & founde manie were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye knowe that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Iewe, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I shulde not call anie man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying naye, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me.

30 Then Cornelius said, Foure dayes ago, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I praid in mine house, and beholde, a man stode before me in bright clothing.

31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (he is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the sea side) who when he cometh, shal speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast wel done to come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened [his] mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no acceptor of persones.

35 But in euery nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnes, is accepted with him.

36 Ye knowe the wordes which God hath sent to his childre of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all.

37 [Euen] the wordes which came through all Iudaea beginning in Galile, after the baptism which Iohn preached,

38 [To wit,] how God anointed Iesus of Nazaret with the holie Gost, and with power: who went about doing good, & healing all that were oppressed of the deuil: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Iewes, & in Ierusalem: whome they slewe, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, to vs which did eat and drinke with him, after he arose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preache vnto all people, & to testifie, that it is he that is ordeined of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him also giue all the Prophetes witness, that through his Name all that beleue in him, shal receiue remission of sinnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holie Gost fel on all them which heard the worde.

45 So they of the circumcision which beleued, were astonied, as manie as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holie Gost.

46 For they heard them speake w'tongues, & magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can anie man forbid water, that these shulde not be baptized, which haue receiued the holie Gost, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certeine dayes.

CHAP. XI.

1 NOW the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudaea, heard, that the Gentiles had also receiued the worde of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Ierusalem, they of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded [the thing] in order to them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I saue [this] vision. A certeine vessel comming downe as [it had bene] a great sheet, let downe from heauen by foure corners, & it came to me.

8 And I said, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at anie time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done thre times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediatly there were thre men already come vnto y^e house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit said vnto me, that I shulde go with them, without douting: moreouer these six brethren came with me, & we entred into the mans house:

13 And he shewed vs, how he had sene an Angel in his house, which stode and said to him, Send men to Ioppa, & call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

14 He shal speake wordes vnto thee, whereby bothe thou and all thine house shal be saued.

15 And as I began to speake, y^e holie Gost fel on them, *euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembred the worde of the Lord, how he said, *Iohn baptized with water, but ye shalbe *baptized with the holie Gost.

17 For as muche then as God gaue them a like gift, as [he did] vnto vs, when we beleued in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I colde let God *?

18 When they heard these things, ^d they helde their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to y^e Gentiles granted *repentance vnto life.

19 And they which were *scattered abroade because of y^e affliction y^e arose about Steuen, walked throughout til they came vnto Phenice, and Cyprus, & Antiochia, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, w^h when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto y^e Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the ^s hand of the Lord was wth the, so that a great number beleued & turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of those things came vnto the eares of the Church, w^h was in Ierusalem, & they sent forthe Barnabas that he shulde go vnto ^a Antiochia.

23 Who when he was come, & had sene y^e grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they wolde cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and ful of the holie Gost, and faith, and muche people ioyned them selues vnto the Lord.

25 ¶ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seke Saul:

26 And whē he had founde hī, he broght hī vnto Antiochia. And it came to passe that a whole yere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught muche people, in so muche, that the disciples were first called *Christians in Antiochia.

27 In those dayes also came Prophetes frō Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stode vp one of the named Agabus, and signified by the ^k Spirit, that there shulde be great famine throughout all the worlde, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euerie man according to his habilitie, ⁱ purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders, by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to ^d four quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forthe to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of y^e Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode wolde haue broght him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betwene two souldiers, bounde wth two chaines, and the keepers before the dore kept the prison.

7 *And beholde, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and he smote Peter on the side, & raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fel of from [his] hands.

& knewe not ^f it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had sene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the seconde watche, they came vnto the yrongate, that leadeth vnto the citie, & opened to them by it owne accorde, and they went out, and passed through one strete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to him self, he said, Now I know for a trueth, that the Lord hathe sent his Angel, and hathe deliuered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the ^f waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered [the thing] he came to the house of Marie, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where manie were gathered together & prayed.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphos, they founde a certeine forcerer, a false prophet, being a Iewe, named Bariesus,

7 Which was with ^d Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. He called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the worde of God.

8 But Elymas, the forcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstode them, & sought to turne away the Deputie from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also [is called] Paul) being ful of the holie Gost, set his eyes on him, was done, beleued, and was astonied at þe doctrine of the Lord.

23 Now when Paul and they that were with him were departed by ship from Paphus, they came to Perga [a cite] of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

24 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia [a cite] of Pisdia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sate downe.

25 And after the lecture of the Law & Prophetes, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any worde of exhortation for the people, say on.

26 Then Paul stood vp & beckened with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

27 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of Egypt, & with an high arme brought them out thereof.

28 And about the tyme of fortie yeres, suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

29 And he destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, & deuided their land to them by lot.

30 Then afterwarde he gaue vnto them Iudges about foure hundred and fiftie yeres, vnto tyme of Samuel þe Prophet.

31 So after that they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, [by the space] of fortie yeres.

32 And after he had taken him away, he raised vp Dauid to be their King, of whome he witnessed, saying, I haue founde Dauid [þe sonne] of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which wil do all things that I wil.

33 Of this mans seede hath God according to [his] promes raised vp to Israel, þe Saviour Iesus:

34 When Iohn had first preached before his coming the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

35 And when Iohn had fulfilled [his] course, he said, Whome ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but beholde, there cometh one after me, whose shoe of his I fetter I am not worthy to lofe.

36 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the worde of this saluation sent.

37 For the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and their rulers, because they knewe him not, nor yet the wordes of the Prophetes, which are read ouer the Sabbath daye, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

38 And though they founde no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

39 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they toke him downe from the tre, and put him in a sepulchre.

40 But God raised him vp from the dead.

41 And he was sene manie dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Ierusalem, which are his witness vnto the people.

42 And we declare vnto you, touching the promes made vnto the fathers, 43 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the seconde Psalme, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begore thee.

44 Now as concerning that he raised him vp from the dead, no more to returne to the graue, he hath said thus, I wil giue you the holie things of Dauid, which are faithful.

45 Wherefore he saith also in another place, Thou wilt not suffer thine Holie one to se corruption.

46 Howbeit, Dauid after he had serued his time by counsel of God, he slept, & was laid with his fathers, & sawe corruption.

47 But he whome God raised vp, sawe no corruption.

48 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, men [and] brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of sinnes.

49 And from all things, from wye colde not be iustified by the Law of Moyses, by him euerie one that beleueth, is iustified.

50 Beware therefore, lest that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophetes.

51 Beholde, ye despisers, & wonder, and vanish away: for I worke a worke in your daies, a worke which ye shal not beleue, if a man wolde declare it you.

52 ¶ And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles be- sought that they wolde preache these wordes to them the next Sabbath [day].

53 Now when the Congregation was dissolved, manie of the Iewes, and profelytes that feared God, followed Paul & Barnabas, which spake to them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

54 And the next Sabbath [day] came almost the whole cite together, to heare þe worde of God.

55 But when the Iewes sawe the people, they were full of enuie, & spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrariyng them, and railing on them.

56 Then Paul and Barnabas spake bolde- ly.

¶ In so muche that all the people were moued at doctrine. So bothe Paul and Barnabas remained at Lystra.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, [saying.] * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be the saluation vnto the end of the worlde.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lord: & as manie as were ordeined vnto eternal life, beleued.

49 Thus the worde of the Lord was published throughout the whole country.

50 But ¶ Iewes stirred [certeine] deuoute and honorable women, & the chief men of the cite, & raised persecution against Paul & Barnabas, & expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they * shooke of the dust of their feet against them, and came vnto Iconium.

CHAP. XIII.

¶ God giueth successe to his worde. 6 Paul and Barnabas preache at Iconium & are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they wolde do sacrifice to Barnabas & Paul, which refuse it, and exhort the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul is stoned. 23 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience. 25 Appoint ministers. 26 And passing through manie places, make reports of their diligence at Antiochia.

¶ And it came to passe in Iconium, ¶ they went bothe together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, & so spake, that a great multitude bothe of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleued.

2 But the vnbeleuing Iewes stirred vp, & corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 So therefore they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto ¶ worde of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But a people of the cite were diuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made bothe of the Gentiles, & of the Iewes w their rulers, to do them violence, & to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, & vnto the region rounde about.

7 And there were preaching the Gospell.

8 ¶ Now there late a certein man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, which was a creple from his mothers wombe, who had neuer walked.

9 He heard Paul speake: who beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to 11 Then when the people sawe what Paul had done, thei lift vp their voyces, saying in the speache of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenes of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter, and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then Iupiters priest, which was before their cite, brought bulles with garlandes vnto the gates, & wolde haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, thei rent their clothes, & ran in among the people, crying,

15 And saying, O men, why do ye these things? We are euen men, subiect to the like passions that ye be, & preache vnto you, that ye shulde turne from these vaine [idoles] vnto the liuing God, which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are.

18 And speaking these things, scarce refrained they the people, that they had not sacrificed vnto them.

19 Then there came certeine Iewes from Antiochia & Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, ¶ stoned Paul, and drewe him out of the cite, supposing he had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood rounde about him, he arose vp, and came into the cite, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported wel.

3 Therefore Paul wolde that he shulde go forth with him, & toke and^a circumcised him, because of the Iewes, which were in those quarters: for they knew all, that his father was a Grecian.

4 And as they went through[†] cities, they deliuered them[†] decrees to kepe, ordeined of the Apostles & Elders, which we-

24 Who hauing receiued ſuche commandement, caſt them into the tinner priſon, & made their fete faſt in the ſtockes.

25 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, [&] ſang a pſalme vnto God: and the priſoners heard them.

26 And ſuddely there was great earthquake, ſo that the fundation of þ^e priſon was ſhaken: and by and by all the dores opened, and euerie mans bandes were loſed.

27 Then the keper of the priſon waked out of his ſlepe, and when he ſawe the priſon dores open, he drewe out his ſworde & wolde haue killed him ſelf, ſuppoſing the priſoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cryed w^a a loude voyce, ſaying, Do thy ſelf no harme: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, & leaped in and came trembling, and fel downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and ſaid, Syrs, what muſt I do to be ſaued?

31 And they ſaid, Beleue in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, & thou ſhalt be ſaued, and thine houſholde.

32 And they preached vnto him þ^e worde of þ^e Lord, & to all that were in his houſe.

33 Afterwarde he toke them the ſame houre of the night, & waſhed [their] þ^e ſtripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him, ſtraight way.

34 And when he had brought them into his houſe, he ſet meat before them, and reioyced that he with all his houſholde beleued in God.

35 And when it was day, þ^e gouernours ſent the ſergeants, ſaying, Let thoſe men go.

36 Then the keper of the priſon tolde theſe wordes vnto Paul, ſaying, The gouernours haue ſent to loſe you: now therefore get you hence, and go in peace.

37 Then ſaid Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, which are Romaines, they haue caſt vs into priſon, & now wolde they put vs out priuely: nay verely: but let them come & bring vs out.

38 And þ^e ſergeants tolde theſe wordes vn to the gouernours, who ſeared wh^e they heard that they were Romaines.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and deſired them to departe out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the priſon, and entred into the [houſe of] Lydia: & when they had ſene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul cometh to Theſſalonica, 4 Where ſome receiue him, and others perſecute him. 11 To ſearche the Scriptures. 17 He diſputeth at Athenes, and the frute of his doctrine.

1 NOW as they paſſed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Theſſalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and thre Sabbath [dayes] diſputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 Opening, and alledging that Chriſt muſt haue ſuffred, and riſen againe from the dead: & this is Ieſus Chriſt, whome, [ſaid he] I preache to you.

4 And ſome of them beleued, & ioyned in companie with Paul and Silas: alſo of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, & of the chief women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleued not, moued with ennie, toke vnto them certeine vagabondes [&] wicked felowes, & wh^e they had aſſembled the multitude, they made a tumulte in þ^e citie, & made aſſault againſt þ^e houſe of Iason, & ſought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they founde them not, they drewe Iason & certeine brethren vnto the heades of the citie, crying, Theſe are they wh^e haue ſubuerſed the ſtate of the worlde, and here they are,

7 Whome Iason hath receiued, and theſe all do againſt the decrees of Ceſar, ſaying that there is another King, one Ieſus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the citie, when they heard theſe things.

9 Notwithſtanding when they had receiued þ^e ſufficient aſſurance of Iason and of the other, they let them go.

10 And þ^e brethren immediatly ſent away Paul & Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 Theſe were alſo^b more noble men then they which were at Theſſalonica, which receiued the worde with all redines, and ſearched the Scriptures daily, wheth^e thoſe things were ſo.

14 But by and by the brethren sent away
Paul to go as [it were] to the sea: but Silas

15 And they that did conduct Paul, broght him vnto Athenes: And when they had 16 ¶ Now while Paul waited for them at Athenes, his spirit was stirred in him, whehe sawe the citie^d subiect to idolatric.

17 Therefore he disputed in the Synago-

18 Then certeine philosophers of y^e Epihim, and some said, What wil this babler

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay [hands] on thee to hurt thee: for I haue muche people in this cite.

11 So he continued there a yere & six moneths, & taught the worde of God among them.

12 ¶ Now when Gallio was deputed of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to Iudgement fear, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euil dede, O ye Iewes, I wolde according to reason mainteine you.

15 But if it be a question of wordes, & names, and of your Law, loke ye to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge of those things.

16 And he draue them from Iudgement fear.

17 Then toke all the Grecians Sosthenes the chief ruler of the Synagogue, and bet him before the iudgement fear: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he toke leaue of brethren, and sailed into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 Then he came to Ephesus, & left them there: but he entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes.

20 Who desired him to tary a longer time with them: but he wolde not consent,

21 But bade them fare wel, saying, I must needs kepe this feast that commeth, in Ierusalem: but I wil returne againe vnto you, if God wil. So he sailed from Ephesus.

22 ¶ And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: & when he had saluted the Church, he wet down vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when he had taried [there] a while, he departed, & went through country of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, & mighty in Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, & he spake feruently in the Spirit, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, & knewe but Iohns baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue: Whome when Aquila & Priscilla had heard, they toke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was minded to go into Achaia, brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receaue him: and after he was come thither, he holpe them muche which had beleued through grace.

28 For mightely he confuted publickly Iewes wth great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

1 And it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed through the vpper coastes, came to Ephesus, and founde certene disciples.

2 And said vnto them, Haue ye receiued the holie Ghost sence ye beleued? And they said vnto him, We haue not so muche as heard whether there be an holie Ghost.

3 And he said vnto them, Vnto what were ye then baptized? And they said, Vnto Iohns baptisme.

4 Then said Paul, Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shulde beleue in him, which shulde come after him, I is, in Christ Iesus:

5 But they who heard it, were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 And Paul laid his hands vpon them, and the holie Ghost came on them, & they spake the tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 Moreover he went into the Synagogue, & spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing & exhorting to things apperteyne to the kingdome of God.

9 But when certene were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euil of the way of God before the multitude, he departed from them, & separated the disciples, & disputed daily in the schole of one Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the worde of the Lord Iesus, bothe Iewes and Grecians.

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber, wheret they were gathered together.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certeine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a depe slepe: and as Paul was long preaching, he ouercome with slepe, fel downe fro the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and laid him self vpon him, & embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 So when [Paul] was come vp againe, & had broken bread, and eat, he communed a long while til the dawning of the day, [&] so he departed.

12 And they broght the boie aliue, & they were not a litle comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went forth to ship, & sailed vnto [the] cite of Assos, that we might receiue Paul there: for so had he appointed, and wolde him self go afoote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next daye we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogylium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he wolde not spend the tyme in Asia: for he hasted to be, if he colde possible, at Ierusalem, at the day of Pentecoste.

17 ¶ Wherefore from Myletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the church.

18 Who when they were come to him, he said vnto them, Ye knowe from the first daye that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all modestie, & with manie teares, and tentations, whiche came vnto me by the layings awaite of the Iewes,

20 And how I kepe backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, & taught you openly, and throughout euerie house:

21 Witnessing bothe to the Iewes, & to the Grecians the repentance towarde God, & faith towarde our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now beholde, I go bounde in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and knowe not what things shal come vnto me there,

23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euerie cite, saying, that bandes and afflictions abide me.

24 But I passe not at all, nether is my lyfe deare vnto my self, so that I may fulfill my course with ioye, and the ministracion w^{ch} I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now beholde, I knowe that hence forth ye all, through whome I haue gone preaching the kingdom of God, shal see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to recorde this day, I am pure fro the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take hede therefore vnto your selues, & to all the flocke, wherof the holy Ghost hath made you Ouerseers, to feede the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shal grievous wolues entre in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreouer of your owne selues shal men arise, speaking peruerse things, to drawe disciples after them.

31 Therefore watche and remember, that by [the] space of thre yeres I ceased not to warne euerie one, bothe night and day wth teares.

32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to buyld further, & to giue you an inheritance among all them whiche are sanctified.

33 I haue coueted no mans siluer, nor golde, nor apparel.

34 Yea, ye knowe that these hands haue ministered vnto my necessities, and to the that were with me.

The commune prayers of the faithfull. 8. Philipe foure daughters prophesies. 13. Pauls constancie to beare the crosse, as Agabus and others forespake; although he was otherwise counseled by the brethren. 18. The great danger that he was in, and how he escaped.

1 ANd as we launched forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And we founde a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboarde, & set forth.

3 And when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, & sailed toward Syria, and arriued at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taryed there seuen dayes. And they tolde Paul through the Spirit, that he shulde not go vp to Ierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all accompanied vs with [their] wiues and children, euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we toke ship, and thei returned home.

7 And when we had ended the course from Tyrus, we arriued at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, & abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul & they that were with him, departed, & came vnto Cesarea:
and we entred into the house of Philippe
the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen [Deacons] and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgines, w did prophesie.

10 And as we taryed there manie dayes, there came a certeine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he toke
Pauls girdle, and bounde his owne handes & fete, and said, Thus saith the holy Gost, So shal the Iewes at Ierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shal deli-uer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we had heard these things, both we & other of the same place besoght him that he wolde not go vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye weping and breaking mine heart? For I am readie not to be bounde onely, but also to dye at Ierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he wolde not be perswaded, we ceased, sayig, The wil of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trusted vp our fardels, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There went with vs also [certeine] of the disciples of Cesarea, and broght with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, w whome we shulde lodge.

17 And when we were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when he had embraced them, he tolde by ordre al things, & God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministracion.

20 So when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, how manie thousand Iewes there are w beleue, & they are al zealous of the Law.

21 Now they are informed of thee, & thou teachest al the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and saist, that they ought not to circumsise their children, nether to liue [after] thes customes.

22 What is the [to be done?] the multitude must nedes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we saye to thee.
We haue foure men, which haue made a vowe,

24 Them take, & purifie thy self with them, and contribute with them, that they maye haue their heades: & all shall knowe, that those things, whereof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but thou thy self also walkest & kepest the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleue, we haue written and determined, that they obserue no suche thing, but that they kepe them selues from things offred to idoles, and from blood, and from that is strangled, and from fornicacion.

26 Then Paul toke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering shulde be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almoſte ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (wh they sawe him in the Temple) moued all people, and laid hands on him, a By the reuelation of Gods Spirit.

b The holie Spirit reuelled vnto them the persecucion that Paul shuld haue made againt him, & the same Spirit, also strengthened Paul to susteine them.

28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euerie where against the people, & the Law, & this place: moreouer he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 For thei had sene before Trophymus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whome thei supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 The all the citie was moued, & the people ran together: and they toke Paul, & drewe him out of the Temple, and forthwith the dores were shut.

31 But as they were about to kil him, tydings came vnto the chief Captaine of the bande, that all Ierusalem was on an uproare.

32 Who immediatly toke souldiers & Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they sawe the chief Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief Captaine came nere and toke him, and commanded him to be bounde with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when he colde not knowe certainly for the tumulte, he commanded him to be led into the castle.

35 And when he came vnto the grieces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul shulde haue bene led into the castle, he said vnto the chief Captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greke?

38 Art not thou the Egyptian, who before these dayes raised a sedition, & led out into the wildernes foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 Then Paul said, Doubtes I am a man & am a Iewe, and citizen of Tarsus, a famous citie in Cilicia, & I beseeche thee, suffre me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stode on the grieces, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

3 I am verely a man, (I am) a Iewe, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this citie at the fete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner of the Law of the Fathers, and was zealous towards God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison bothe men and women:

5 As also the chief Priest doeth beare me witness, and all the state of the Elders: of whome also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring the which were there, bounde vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 And so it was, as I iourneid and was come nere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light rounde about me.

7 So I fel vnto the earth, and heard a voyce saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whome thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer they that were with me, sawe in dede a light, and were afraide: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I said, What shal I do, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shalbe tolde thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 So when I colde not see for the glorie of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias a godly man, as pertaining to the Law, hauing good reporte of all the Iewes which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto me, and stode, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shuldest knowe his wil, and shuldest see that Iust one, and shuldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness vnto all men of the things which thou hast sene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tariest thou? Arise, and be baptized, & walsh away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance, 18 And saw him saying vnto me, Make haste, & get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for thou wilt not receiue thy witness concerning me.

21 Then he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ And they heard vnto this worde, [but] then they lift vp their voyces, & said, Away with suche a felowe from the earth: for it is not mete that he shulde liue.

23 And as they cryed, and cast of their clothes, and threwe dust into the aire,

24 The chief Captaine commanded him to be led into the Castle, & bade he shulde be scourged, and examined, that he might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bounde him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stode by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romaine, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chief captaine, saying, Take hede what thou doest: for this man is a Romaine.

27 Then the chief captaine came, and said to him, Tell me, art thou a Romaine? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chief captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this burgesship. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straight way they departed from him, which shulde haue examined him: & the chief captaine also was afraid, after he knewe that he was a Romaine, and that he had bounde him.

30 On the next day, because he wolde haue knowne the certeinie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he losed him from [his] bondes, and commaded the hie Priests and all their Council to come [together]: & he broght Paul, & set him before them.

The answer of Paul being smite, and the overthrowe of his enemies. 1 The Lord encourageth him. 23 And because the Iewes layed waite for him, he is sent to Cesarea.

¶ And Paul behelde earnestly the Council, and said, Men [87] brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vntil this day.

2 Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded them that stode by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul to him, God wil smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou sinest to iudge me according to the Law, and commandest thou me to be smitten contrary to the Law.

4 And they that stode by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I knewe not, brethren, he was his Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speake euill off ruler of thy people

6 But when Paul perceiued that one parte were of the Sadduces, and the other of Pharises, he cryed in the Council, Men [87] brethren, I am a Pharise, & sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And whē he had said this, there was a dissension betwene the Pharises and the Sadduces, so that the multitude was deuided.

8 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, nether Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 Then there was a great crye: and the Scribes of the Pharises parte rose vp, and stroue, saying, We finde none euill in this mā: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great dissension, the chief captaine, fearing lest Paul shulde haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castell.

11 ¶ Now the night following the Lord stode by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnes also at Rome.

12 And whē the day was come, certeing of the Iewes made an assemblie, and bounde them selues with an othe, saying, that they wolde nether eat nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chief Priests and Elders, and said, We haue bounde our selues with a solemne othe, that we wil eat nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the Council signifye to the chief captaine, that he bring him forth vnto you to morrow: as though ye wolde knowe some thing more perfectly of him, and we or euer he come nere, will be readye to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying a waite, he went, and entred into the castle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Bring this yong mā vnto the chief captaine: for he hath a certein thing to shewe him.

18 So he toke him, and broght him to the chief Captaine, and said, Paul the pharisee called me vnto him, & prayd me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chief Captaine toke him by the hand, and went aparte with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shewe me?

¶ Paul doeth not curse the hie Priest, but denounceth sharply the punishment of God which shulde light vpon him, who vnder pretence of maintenance of Lawe doeth manfully.

¶ He made this answer as it were in mockerie, because he wolde shew that he was worthy of the hie Priest.

¶ The worde signifyeth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth or wisheth him self to do, or to be giuen to the devil, except he bring his purpose to passe.

¶ This denoteth that God hath so many means to deliuer his children out of danger as there are ciuities in the world, so that the aduersaries can not conspire craftely against them, but he hath infinite means to deliuer their wicked persecutors.

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, & thou woldest bring for the Paul to morow into the Council, as thogh thei wolde inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of the, more then fourtie men, which haue bounde them selues wth an othe, that they wil nether eat nor drinke till they haue killed him: and now are they readie, and wait for thy promes.

22 The chief captaine then let the yong mā departe, and charged him to speake it to no man, that he had shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certeine Centurions, saying, Make readie two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night.

24 And let them make readie an horse that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the Gouvernour.

25 And he wrote an epistle in this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias vnto the moste noble Gouvernour Felix sendeth greting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and shulde haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, perceiuing that he was a Romaine.

28 And when I wolde haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Council.

29 [There] I perceiued that he was accused of questiōs of their Law, but had no crime worthie of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laid waite for the man, I sent [him] straight way to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things they had against him. Fare wel.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, toke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsemen to go with him, & returned vnto the castel.

33 Now when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the epistle to the Gouvernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouvernour had red it, he asked of what prouince he was: and when he vnderstode that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, & commanded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIII.

30 Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 35 Felix propeth him, thinking to haue a bribe. 18 And after leaueh him in prison.

Now after fīue dayes, Ananias the high Priest came downe with the Elders, and [with] Tertullus a certeine orator, which appeared before the Gouvernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called for the, Tertullus began to accuse [him] saying, Seing that we haue obtained great quietnes through thee, & that many worthie things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, moste noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, thou woldest heare vs of thy courtie a fewe wordes.

5 Certeinly we haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of sedition, among al the Iewes throughout the worlde, and a chief mainteiner of the secte of the Nazarenes.

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore we toke him, and wolde haue iudged him according to our Law:

7 But the chief captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence toke him out of our hands,

8 Comāding his accusers to come to thee: of whome thou maist (if thou wilt inquire) know al these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouvernour had beckened vnto him that he shulde speake, answered, I do the more gladly answer for myself, forasmuch as I knowe that thou hast bene of many yeres a iudge vnto this nation,

11 Seing that thou maist knowe, that there are but twelue dayes since I came vp to worship in Ierusalem.

12 And they nether founde me in the Temple disputing with any man, nether making uproare among the people, nether in the Synagogues, nor in the citie.

13 Nether can they proue the things, whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way (which they call heresie) so worship I the God of my fathers, beleuing al things which are written in the law and the Prophetes,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they them selues loke for also, shalbe bothe of iust and vniust.

16 And herein I endeouour myself to haue alway a cleare conscience towarde God, & towarde men.

17 Now after many yeres, I came & brought almes to my nation and offerings.

18 At what tyme, certeine Iewes of Asia founde me purified in the Temple, 19 Nether with multitude, nor with tumult.

22 Except [it be] for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, * Of the resurrection of dead am I accused of you this day.

23 Now when Felix heard these things, he differred them, and said, When I shal more perfectly knowe the things which cocerne this way, by the coming of Lysias chief Captaine, I will decise your matter.

24 Then he commanded a Centurion to kepe Paul, and that he shulde haue ease, & that he shulde forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certeine dayes, came Felix with his wife Drusilla, & was a Jewesse, [and] he called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Christ.

26 And as he disputed of righteousness, and temperance, and of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, & answered, Go thy way for this tyme, and when I haue conuenient tyme, I will call for thee.

27 He hoped also that money shulde haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might lose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener and communed with him.

28 When two yeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix rouse: and [Felix] willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bounde.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 2 He answereth for him self. 3 And appealeth vnto the Emperour. 4 His matter is rehearsed before Agrippa. 5 And he is brought forth.

1 When Festus was then come into the prouince, after thre dayes he wēt vp from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then the high Priest and the chief of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: & they beloght him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he wolde send for him to Ierusalem: and they laid wait to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul shulde be kept at Cesarea, and that he him self wolde shortly departe [thither].

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednes in the man, let the accuse him.

6 Now when he had taried among them no more then ten dayes, he went downe to Cesarea, and the next day sate in the iudge ment seat, & commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Iewes which were come fro Ierusalem, stode about him and laid manie and grievous complaints against Paul, which they colde not proue,

8 Forasmuche as he answered, that he had nether offended any thing against the Law of the Iewes, nether against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

9 Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go vp to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou verily wel knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthie of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things, whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then when Festus had spokē with the Council, he answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar: vnto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certeine dayes, King Agrippa, and Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus proposed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certeine man left in prison by Felix:

15 Of whome when I came to Ierusalem, the high Priests and Elders of the Iewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whome I answered that it is not the maner of the Romaines for fauour to deliuer any man to the death, before that he, who is accused, haue the accusers before him, & haue place to defend him self, concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when thei were come hither, without delay the day following I sate on the iudgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whome when the accusers stode vp, they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certeine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whome Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of question, I asked him, whether he wolde go to Ierusalem, & there be iudged of these things.

21 But because he appealed to be referred to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to 22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I wolde also heare the man my selfe. To morowe, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the Commune hall with the chief captaines and chief men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, ye see this man, about whome all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon me, bothe at Ierusalem, and here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I founde nothing worthie of death, for he hath committed: neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whome I haue no certeine thing to write vnto my Lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, King Agrippa, for after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, & not to shewe the causes which are layed against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The innocencie of Paul is approved by rehearsing his conversation. 25 His modest answer against the iniurio of Festus.

1 THEN Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth his hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my self happy, King Agrippa, because I shal answer this day before thee of all the thinges whereof I am accused of the Iewes.

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, & questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore, I beseeche thee, to heare me patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childehode & what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, knowe all the Iewes,

5 Which knewe me heretofore (if they wolde testifie) that after the moste strait sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.

6 And now I stand, and am accused for the hope of the promes made of God vnto our fathers,

7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instady seruing [God] day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why shulde it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God shulde raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my self, that I ought to do many contrarie thinges against the Name of Iesus of Nazaret.

10 Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Sainctes I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued autoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue [my] sentence.

11 And I punished them throughout all the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, & being more mad against them, I persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which tyme, euen as I went to Damascus with autoritie, & commission from the high Priests, 13 At midday, O King, I sawe in the way a light from heauen, pasing the brightnes of the sunne, shine rounde about me, & them which went with me.

14 So when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whome thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy fete: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witness, bothe of the thinges which thou hast sene, and of the thinges in the which I wil appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, & fro the Gentiles, vnto whome now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darkenes to light, and fro the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiveness of sinnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenlie vision, 20 But shewed first vnto the of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, & throughout all the coastes of Iudaea, and [then] to the Gentiles, that they shulde repent, and turne to God, and do workes worthie amendement of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kil me.

22 Neuertheles, I obtained help of God, & continue vnto this day, witnessing bothe to smal & to great, saying none other thinges, then those which the Prophetes & Moses did say shulde come,

23 [To wit,] that Christ shulde suffer, & that he shulde be the first that shulde rise from the dead, and shulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for him self, Festus said with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy self: muche learning doeth make thee mad.

29 Then Paul said, I wolde to God that not onely thou, but also al that heare me to day were bothe almost and altogether suche as I am, except these bondes.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, & they that sate with them.

a Pauls dangerous viage and his companie towards Rome.
44 How, and wherethey arrive.

1 NOW when it was concluded, that we shulde saile into Italie, they deliuered bothe Paul, & certeine other prisoners vnto a Centurion, named Iulius, of the bande of Augustus.

2 And we entred into a ship of Adramyttiū purposing to saile by the coasts of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

3 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: & Iulius courteously entreated Paul, & gaue him libertie to go vnto his friēdes, that thei might refresh him.

4 And from thence we launched, and sailed harde by Cyprus, because y windes were contrarie.

5 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, & Pamphylia, and came to Myra, [a citie] in Lycia.

6 And there the Centurion founde a ship of Alexandria, sailing into Italie, and put vs therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowlie manye dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sailed harde by Candie, nere to Salomone,

8 And with muche a do sailed beyonde it, and came into a certeine place called the Faire hauens, nere vnto the which was the citie Laſea.

9 So when muche tyme was spent, and sailing was now icoperdous, because also the Fast was now passed, Paul exhorted [thē],

10 And said vnto them, Syrs, I fe that this viage wil be with hurt and muche damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 Neuertheles y Centuriō beleued rather the gouernour & the master of the ship, the those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen was not comodiousto winter in, many toke counsell to departe thēce, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, [there] to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lieth towarde y Southwest and by West, and Northwest & by West.

13 And whē the southern winde blewe softly, they supposing to obtaine their purpose, loosed nerer, and sailed by Candie.

14 But anone after, there arose by it a stormie winde called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, & coulde not resist the winde, we let her go, and were caryed away.

16 And we ran vnder a litle Ile named Clauda, and had muche a do to get the boat.

17 Which they toke vp, and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the ship, fearing lest they shulde haue fallen into Syrtes, and they let downe the vessel, and so were caryed.

18 The next day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the ship.

19 And the third day we cast out with our owne handes the takling of the ship.

20 And when nether sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no smal tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we shulde be saued, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinēce, Paul stode forth in the middes of them, and said, Syrs, ye shulde haue hearkened to me, and not haue loosed from Candie: so shulde ye haue gained this hurt and losse.

22 But now I exhorte you to be of good courage: for there shalbe no losse of any mans life among you, saue of y ship onely.

23 For there stode by me this night the Angel of God, whose I am, & whome I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must be brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath giuen vnto y thee all that saile with thee.

25 Wherefore, Sirs, be of good courage: for I beleue God, that it shalbe so as it hath bene told me.

26 Howbeit we must be cast into a certeine land.

27 And when the fourteenth night was come, as we were caryed to and fro in the Adriaticall sea about midnight, the shipmen

29 Then fearing lest they shulde haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

30 Now as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, & had let downe the boate into the sea vnder a colour as thogh they wolde haue cast ankers out of the foreship, 31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and fouldiers, Except these abide in the ship, yecan not be safe.

32 Then the fouldiers cut of the ropes of f boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when it began to be day, Paul exhorted them all to take meat, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taryed, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhorte you to take meat: for this is for your sauegarde: for there shal not an heere fall fro f head of anie of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gaue thanks to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good courage, and they also took meat.

37 Now we were in the ship in all two hundred, thre score and sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not f country, but they spyed a certeine creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed [the ship] vnto the sea, and losed the rudder bondes, and hoyfed vp f maine saile to the winde, and drewe to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place, where two seas met, they thrust in the ship: and the fore parte sticke fast, and colde not be moued, but the hinder parte was broken with the violence of the waues.

42 Then the fouldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swome out, shulde flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, staied them from [this] counsel, and commanded that they f colde swimme, shulde cast them selues first into the sea, & go out to land:

me on certeine [pieces] of the ship: and so it came to passe, f they came al safe to land.

2 And the Barbarians shewed vs no litle kindnesses: for they kindled a fyre, and receiued vs euerie one, because of f present showre, and because of the colde.

3 And when Paul had gathered a number of stickes, and laid them on the f fyre, there came a viper out of the heat, & leapt on his hand.

4 Now when the Barbarians sawe the wor-me hang on his hand, they said among the selues, This man surely is a b murthrer, whome, thogh he hath escaped the sea, yet Vengeance hath not suffered to liue.

5 But he shoke of the wor-me into the fyre, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when he shulde haue swolne, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and sawe no inconuenience come to him, they chaged their mindes, and said, That he was a d God.

7 In the same quarters, the chief man of the yle (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs thre dayes courteously.

8 And so it was that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, & of a bloodie fluxe: to whome Paul entred in, & whē he prayed he laid [his] hands on him, and healed him.

THE EPISTLE OF

the Apostle Paul to the Romans.

THE ARGUMENT.

TH E great mercie of God is declared towards man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousness is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption colde not fulfil the Law, yea, committed molte abominably both against the Law of God and nature, the infinite bountie of God, minded of his promise made to his seruant Abraham, the father of all beleuers, ordeined that mans saluation shulde onely stand in the perfect obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles shulde be saued by faith in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iuste onely through faith, & yea afterwards received circumcision, as a seal or badge of the same righteousness by faith. And to the intent, that none shulde thinke that the covenant which God made to him, and his posteritie, was not performed, either because the Iewes received not Christ (which was the blessed seed) or els beleued not that he was the true redemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notably preferre the Iewes, the examples of Ismael and Esau declare, that all are not Abrahams posteritie, which some of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the verie strangers and Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promise. The cause whereof is the onelie will of God: forasmuch as of his free mercie he electeth some to be saued, & of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Iewes shulde not be to muche beaten downe, nor the Gentiles to muche puffed vp, the example of Elias propheth, that God hathe yet his elect euen of the natural posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to mans eye: and for that preferment that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberal mercie of God, which he at length wil stretch towards the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them bothe. This grounde worke of faith and doctrine layed, instructions of Christian maners followe: teaching euery man to walke in roundenes of conscience in his vocation, with all patience and humblenes, reuerencing, and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting of the olde man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weake, and louing one another according to Christs example. Finally S: Paul after his commendations to the brethren, exhorteth them to vniue, and to flee false preachers and flatterers, and so concludeth with a prayer.

By whome we haue receiued^f grace and Apostleship (that obedience might be giue vnto the faith) in his Name among all the Gentiles.

6 Among whome ye be also theſe called of Ieſus Chriſt:

7 To all [you] that be at Rome beloued of God, called [to be] saints: *h Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lord Iesus Christ.

First I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you all, because your faith is published throughout the whole worlde.

For God is my witnes (whome I serue in my^k spirit in the^l Gospel of his Sonne) that without ceasing I make mention of you ro Alwayes in my prayers, beseeching, that by some meanes one tyme or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by þ wil of God to come vnto you.

11 *For I long to se you, & I might bestowe among you some spirituall gift, to strengthen
you,

12 That is, that I might be comforted together with you, through [our] mutuall faith, bothe yours and mine.

13 Now my brethre, I wolde that ye shulde not beignorant; how that I haue often tymes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene^m let hitherto) that I might haue some ⁿ frute also among you, as [I haue] among other Gentiles.

14 I am detter bothe to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, bothe to the wisemen and vnto the vniwife.

Therefore, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you also that are at Rome.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God vnto saluation to every one that beleueth, to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

17 For by it the righteousness of God is reueiled, from faith to faith: as it is written,
*The iuste shal liue by faith.

8 For the wrath of God is reueiled fro hea-workers, and only is apprehended by faith, which daily increaseth. Which God approueth. Habak. 2. 4. gal. 3. 12. He denieth the law of nature corrupt into engodlines, & engodlines containeth the false worshipping of Gods: wright of one towards man. 1. 2. In that they neither worship God, nor man, nor Ious one another.

19 Forasmuch as that, which may be knowe of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternal power and Godhead, are sene by the creation of the worlde, being considered in [his] workes, to the intēt that they shalbe without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but became vaine in their imaginatiōs, and their foolish heart was full of darkenes.

22 When they professed them selues to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glorie of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gaue them vp to their hearts lustes, vnto vncleannes, to defile their owne bodies betwene them selues:

25 Which turned the truth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for ever, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the natural vse into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the mē left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthines, and receiued in them selues such recompense of their errour, as was merited.

28 For as they regarded not to knowe God, [euen so] God deliuered them vp vnto a reprobate minde, to do those things which are not conuenient,

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnes, fornication, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuie, of murder, of debate, of disceite, taking all things in the euill parte, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrog, proude, boasters, inuenters of euil things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, covenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, merciles.

31 Which mē, though they knewe the Law of God, how that they which commit such things are worthy of death, [yet] not onlie do the same, but also fauour them that do the same.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement. And comforteth the faithful. 1. To hear doctrine, all vaine profession of ignorance, holynes, and of alliance with God, the proude all men to be sinners. 2. The Gentiles by their consciences. 3. The lawes by the Law written.

1 Therefore thou art inexcusable, o man, who soeuer thou art that iudgeth: for in that that thou iudget another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that iudget, doest the same things.

2 But we knowe that the iudgement of God is according to truth, against the which commit such things,

3 And thinkest thou this, o thou man, that iudget them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifullnes, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifullnes of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou after thine hardnes and heart can not repent, heapest vnto thy self wrath against the day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God.

6 Who wil rewarde euery man according to his workes:

7 [That is,] to them which by continuance in wel doing seke glorie, and honour, and immortallitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the truth, and obey vnrighteousnes, [shalbe] indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation and anguish [shalbe] vpon the soule of euery man that doeth euil: of the Iewe first, and [also] of the Grecian.

10 But to euery man that doeth good, [shalbe] glorie, and honour, & peace, to the Iewe first, and [also] to the Grecian.

11 For there is no respect of persons w God.

12 For as manie as haue sinned without the Law, shall perishe also without the Law: and as manie as haue sinned in the Law, shalbe iudged by the Law.

13 (For the hearers of the Law [are] not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Law, do by nature the things [contained] in the Law, they hauing not the Law, are a Law vnto them selues,

15 Which shewe the effect of the Law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witnes, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing.)

16 At the day when God shal iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

instructed by the Law:

19 And persuadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenes,

20 An instructor of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the Law.

21 Thou therefore, w^{ch} teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou p^{re}achest, A man shulde not steale; doest thou steale?

22 Thou that saist, A man shulde not commit adulterie; doest thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacrifice?

23 Thou that gloriest in the Law, through breaking the Law dishonorest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, * as it is written.

25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Law: but if thou be a transgressor of the Law, thy^m circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the vncircumcisiō kepe the ordinances of the Law, shal not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it kepe the Law) iudge thee, which by the^a letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the Law?

28 For he is not a Iewe, which is one outwarde: nether is that circumcision, which is outwarde in the fleshe:

29 But he is a Iewe which is one within, & the^a circumcision [is] of the heart, in the^o spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Having granted some prerogative to the Iewes, because of Gods fre and stable promises, 10 He proueth by the Scriptures, bothe Iewes and Gentiles to be sinners, 21. 24 And to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by works, 31 And so the Law to be established.

WHat is then the preferment of the Iewe? or what is the profite of circumcision?

2 Muche euerie maner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what, though some did not beleue? shall their vnbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be^a true, & euerie man a liar, as it is written, * That thou mightest be^a iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, when thou art iudged.

5 Now if^a our vnrighteousnes commend the righteousness of God, what shal we say? Is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speak^a as a man)

6 God forbid: els how shal God iudge the worlde?

7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as we are blamed, and as some affirme that we say) why do we not euill, that good may come [thereof]? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already proued, that all, bothe Iewes and Gentiles are^a vnder sinne.

10 As it is writte, * There is none righteous, no not one.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 * Their throte is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceite: * poyson of aspes [is] vnder their lippes.

14 * Whose mouth is ful of cursing and bitternes.

15 * Their fete are swift to sheade blood.

16 Destruction and calamitie [are] in their wayes,

17 And the^a way of peace they haue not knowne.

18 * The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 * Now we knowe that whatsoeuer the^a Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Law, that euerie mouth may be stopped, and al the worlde be culpable before God.

20 Therefore by the workes of the^a Law shal no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Law [commeth] p^{re}knowledge of sinne.

21 But now is p^{re}righteousnes of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witness of the Law and of the Prophetes, 22 [To wit], the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleue.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, & are^a deprived of the glorie of God,

24 And are iustified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

25 Whome God hath set forth [to be] a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his^a righteousness, by the forgiveness of p^{re}sinnes that are passed through the patience of God,

26 To shewe at this tyme his righteousness, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.

* Chap. 2, 17.

i The worde is giueth them y^e are left behinde in y^e race & are not able to runne to the marke, that is, to euerslasting life, which here is called y^e glorie of God.
k Or fidelitie. In performing his promises.

1 The Law of faith is the Gospel & offeth saluation w^{ch} condition (if y^e beleue) w^{ch} condition also Christ freely giueth to vs. So the condition of y^e Law is (if thou doest all these things) the which onlie Christ hath fulfilled for vs. m Meaning y^e they are all fulfilled by one meane, and if they will haue any difference, it only standeth in words: for in effect there is none. n The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Law: for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Law: so y^e the Law which coulde not bring vs to saluation, by reason of our owne corruption, is now made effectual to vs by Christ Iesus.

27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Law? of workes? Nay, but by the Law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified, by faith w^{thout} y^e workes of the Law.

29 [God] is he y^e God of the Iewes onely, & not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God who shal iustifie circumcision of faith, & vncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we, the make the Law of none effect through faith? God forbid: yea we establish the Law.

17 He declareth that iustification is a free gift euen by the Iewes, of whome the Iewes moste boasted as of Abraham and of Dauid. 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith.

CHAP. III.

17 He declareth that iustification is a free gift euen by the Iewes, of whome the Iewes moste boasted as of Abraham and of Dauid. 15 And also by the office of the Law and faith.

VHat shal we say then, that Abraham our father hath founde concerning the flesh?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath whereto reioyce, but not wth God.

3 For what faith the Scripture? Abraham beleued God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

4 Now to him y^e worketh, y^e wages is not counted by fauour, but by dette.

5 But to him that worketh not, but beleueth in him that iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Euen as Dauid declareth the blessednes of the man, vnto whome God imputeth righteousness without workes, [saying.]

7 Blessed [are] they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed [is] the man, to whome the Lord imputeth not sinne.

9 [Came] this blessednes then vpon y^e circumcision [onely] or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then imputed? when he was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not whē he was circumcised, but whē he was vncircumcised.

11 After he receiued the signe of circumcision, [as] the seale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when he was vncircumcised, that he shulde be the father of al them that beleue, not being circumcised, y^e righteousness might be imputed to them also,

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them onely, which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steps of the faith of our father Abraham, [w^{ch} he had] when he was vncircumcised.

13 For the promes that he shulde be y^e heire of the worlde, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his sede, through y^e Law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the Law, [be] y^e heires, faith is made voyde, & the promes is made of none effect.

15 For the Law causeth wrath: for where no Law is, there [is] no transgression.

16 Therefore [it is] by faith, that [it might come] by grace, and the promes might be sure to all the sede, not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 [As it is written,] I haue made thee a father of many nations [euen] before God, whome he beleued, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as thogh they were.

18 Which [Abraham] about hope, beleued vnder hope, that he shulde be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken [to him,] So shal thy sede be.

19 And he not weake in the faith, considered not his owne bodie, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yere olde, nether the deadnes of Saras wombe.

20 Nether did he doute of the promes of God through vnbellefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue glorie to God, 21 Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to do it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed to him for righteousness,

24 But also for vs, to whome it shalbe imputed [for righteousness], w^{ch} beleue in him y^e raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead.

25 Who was deliuered [to death] for our sinnes, & is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

3 He declareth the fruit of faith, & And by comparison seeth forth the loue of God and obedience of Christ, which is the fundation and ground of the same.

Then being iustified by faith, we haue peace toward God through our lord Iesus Christ.

2 By whome also we haue access through faith vnto this grace, wherein we stand, & reioyce vnder the hope of y^e glorie of God.

3 Nether [do we so] onely, but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, and experience hope,

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our heartes by y^e holy Ghost, w^{ch} is giuen vnto vs.

y For it hath ever good effect.

z He meaneth that loue which with God loveth vs.

6 For Christ, whē we were yet of no strength at [his] tyme, dyed for the * vngodly.

7 Doubteles one will scarce dye for a righteous man: but yet for a good man it may be that one dare dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seing y while we were yet sinners, Christ dyed for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saued from wrathe through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were recōciled to God by y death of his Sonne, muche more being recōciled, we shall be saued by his life.

11 And not onelie so, but we also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whome we haue now receiued y atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entered into the worlde, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer all men: forasmuche as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the tyme of the Law was sinne in the worlde, but sinne is not imputed, while there is no Law.

14 But death reigned from Adam to Moses euen ouer them also that sinned not after the like maner of the transgression of Adam, which was y figure of k him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is y offence: for if through the offence of one, many be dead, much more the grace of God, & the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Nether is the gift so, as [that y entered in] by one that sinned: for the faute [came] of one [offence] vnto condemnation: but the gift [is] of many offences to iustification.

17 For if by y offence of one, death reigned through one, much more shal they y receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, reigne in life through one [that is] Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then as by the offence of one [the faute came] on al men to condēnation, so by the iustifying of one y benefite abounded toward al mē to y iustification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shal many also be made righteous.

20 Moreouer the Law entred thereupon that the offence shulde y abunde: neuertheless where sinne abounded, [there] grace abounded muche more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousness vnto eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man shulde glorie in the flesh, but rather seke to subdue it to the Spirit, y He sheweth by the vertue & end of Baptisme, y That regeneration is ioyned with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, y Setting before mens eyes the rewarde of sinne and righteousness.

1 WHat shal we say the? Shal we continue still in sinne, y grace may abunde? God forbid.

2 How shal we, that are dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

3 Knowe ye not, that all we which haue bene baptizd into y Iesus Christ, haue bene baptizd into his death?

4 *We are buried then with him by baptism into his death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glorie of the Father, so we also shulde y walke in newnes of life.

5 *For if we be y grafted with him to the similitude of his death, euen so shal we be to the similitude of his resurrection,

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, y the bodie of sinne might be destroyed, that hence forth we shulde not serue sinne.

7 For he that is dead, is y freed from sinne.

8 Wherefore, if we be dead with Christ, we beleue that we shal liue also with him.

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from y dead, dyeth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that he dyed, he dyed once to sinne: but in that he liueth, he liueth to God.

11 Likewise thinke ye also, that ye are y dead to sinne, but are aliue to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortal bodie, that ye shulde obey it in the lustes thereof.

13 Nether giue ye your membres [as y weapons] of vnrighteousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and [giue] your membres [as] weapons of righteousness vnto God.

14 For sinne shal not haue dominion ouer you: for ye are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace.

15 What then shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 *Knowe ye not, that to whome soeuer ye giue your selues as seruantes to obey, his seruants ye are to whome ye obey, whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousness?

17 The mindes first ministrereth such motions, whereby mē is y brought forth the lustes, by them the bodie is prouoked, and the lustes y begeth the sinne, which is the death of the soule. vnto righteousness?

17 But God [he] thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but ye haue obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, whereunto ye were deliuered.

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousness.

19 I speake after the maner of man, because of the infirmite of your flesh: for as ye haue given your members seruants to vnclenes and to iniquitie, to [commit] iniquitie, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteousness in holynes.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were freed from righteousness.

21 What frute had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things [is] death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, & made seruants vnto God, ye haue your frute in holynes, and the end, everlasting life.

23 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gifte of God [is] eternall life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

1. 7. 13. Thats of the Law. 6. 24. And how Christ hath deliuered vs from it. 16 The infirmite of the faithfull.

23 The dangerous fight betwene the flesh and the Spirit.

K Nowe ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the Law) that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth.

2 *For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the Law to the man, while he liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the Law of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, she take another man, she shalbe called an adulteresse: but if the man be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she take another man.

4 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to Law by the bodie of Christ, that ye shulde be vnto another, (euen) vnto him that is raised vp fro the dead, that we shulde bring forth the frute vnto God.

5 For when we were in the fleshe, the motions of sinnes which were by the Law, had force in our members, to bring forth frute vnto death.

6 But now we are deliuered from the Law, being dead vnto it, wherein we were holden, that we shulde serue in newnes of Spirit, and not in the oldenes of the letter.

7 What shal we say then? [Is] the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knewe not sinne, but by the Law: for I had not known lust, except the Law had said, * Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne toke an occasion by the commandement, and wrought in me all maner of concupiscence: for without the Law sinne [is] dead.

9 For I once was alie, without the Law: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued.

10 But I dyed: and the same comandemēt which was [ordained] vnto life, was founde [to be] vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne toke occasion by the comandement, and diseined me, & thereby slew [me].

12 Wherefore the Law [is] holie, and the comandemēt [is] holie, and iust, & good.

13 Was that the which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, & it might appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that sinne might be out of measure full by the comandement.

14 For we knowe that the Law [is] spiritual, but I am carnal, solde vnder sinne.

15 For Ialow not that which I do: for what I wolde, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I do then & which I wolde not, I consent to the Law, that [it is] good.

17 Now then, it is no more I, that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to wil is present with me: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For I do not the good thing, which I wolde, but the euill, which I wolde not, that do I.

20 Now if I do that I wolde not, it is no more I that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Lawe, that when I wolde do good, euil is present with me.

22 For I delite in the Law of God, concerning the inner man:

23 But I see another Law in my members, rebelling against the Law of my minde, and leading me captiue vnto the Law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shal deliuer me from the bodie of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I my self in my minde serue & Law of God, but in my fleshe the Law of sinne.

NOW then there is no^a condemnation to the that are in Christ Iesus, which walke not^b after the fleshe, but after the Spirit.

2 For the^a Law of the Spirit of life [which is] in^d Christ Iesus, hath freed me from the Law of sinne and of death,

3 For (that that was impossible to the Law, in as much as it was^f weak, because of the fleshe) God sending his owne Sonne, in the^e similitude of sinful fleshe, and^f for sinne, condemned sinne in the fleshe,

4 That the^e righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the fleshe, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the fleshe, fauour the things of the fleshe: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the fleshe [is] death: but^f wisdom of^f Spirit is life & peace,

7 Because the wisdom of the fleshe [is] inimic against God: for it is not subject to^f Law of God, neither in dede can be.

8 So then they that are in the fleshe, can not please God.

9 Now ye are not in the fleshe, but in the Spirit, because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the^f bodie is dead, because of sinne: but the^f Spirit [is] life for righteousness sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwel in you, he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortall bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are debtors not to the fleshe, to live after the fleshe:

13 For if ye live after the fleshe, ye shall dye: but if ye mortifie the dedes of the bodie by the Spirit, ye shal liue,

14 For as manie as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receaued the Spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receiued the Spirit of^e adoption, whereby we crye^e Abba, Father.

16 The same Spirit beareth witness with our Spirit, that we are the children of God.

17 If we be children, we are also^e heires, each the heires of God, & heires annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him.

18 For I count that the afflictions of this present tyme [are] not worthe of the glory, which shal be shewed vnto vs.

19 For the fervent desire of the creature willed when the sonnes of God shal be reueiled.

IAHO

20 Because the^e creature is subiect to^e vanitie, not of it owne wil, but by reason of him which hath subdued it vnder hope,

21 Because the creature also shal be deliuered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we knowe that enerie creature groweth with vs also, and travaileth in paine together vnto this present.

23 And not onelie the creature, but we also which haue the^e first frutes of the Spirit, euen we do sigh in our selves, waiting for the adoption, [euen] the^e redemption of our bodie.

24 For we are saued by hope: but hope that is fenec, is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if we hope for that we se not, we do with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we knowe not what to pray as we ought: but the Spirit it self maketh request for vs, with sighs which can not be expressed.

27 But he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for he^e maketh request for the Sanctes, according to [the wil of] God.

28 Also we knowe that all things worke together for the best vnto the that loue God, euen to the that are called of [this] purpose.

29 For those which he^e knewe before, he also predestinate to be maid like to the image of his Sonne, that he might be the first borne among manie brethren.

30 Moreover whome he predestinate, them also he called, and whome he called; them also he iustified, and whome he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shal we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, how shal he not with him giue vs all things also?

33 Who shal lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that^e iustificeth, 34 Who shal condemne? It is Christ which is dead, yea or rather, which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35 Who shal separate vs from the loue of Christ: shal tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednes, or perill, or sword?

36 As it is written, For thy sake are we killed all day long: we are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.

37 Neuertheles, in all these things we are more then conquerors through him that loued vs.

N.Iij.

18 For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor anie other creature shall be able to separate vs from the loue of God which is in Christ Iesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

Having testified his great loue towards his nation, and signifies thereof, 11 He entreateth of the election and reprobation. 14 Of the vocation of the Gentiles, 30 And reprobation of the Iewes.

1 I Say the truth in Christ, I lye not, my conscience bearing me witness in the holie Ghost,

2 That I have great heavines and continual sorowe in myne heart.

3 For I wolde with my self to be separate from Christ for my brethren that are my kinsmen according to the fleshe,

4 Which are the Israelites, to whome [per- taineth] the adoption, and the glorie, and the ^c Couenantes, and the giuing of the Law, and ^f seruice [of God], & ^f promises.

5 Of whome [are] the fathers, & of whome concerning the flesh, Christ [came], who is God ouer all blessed for euer, Amen.

6 Notwithstanding it can not be that the worde of God shulde take none effect: for all they are not Israel, which are of Israel:

7 Neither are they all children, because they are the scede of Abraham: but, In Isaac shall thy scede be called:

8 That is, they which are the children of the flesh, are not the children of God: but the ^c childre of the promes are counted for the scede.

9 For this is a worde of promes. In this same tyme will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

10 Neither he Ionelie felt this, but also Re-becca when she had conceived by one, [con- ceived] by our father Isaac.

11 For yet the children were borne, & whe they had neither done good, nor euil (that ^f purpose of God might remaine according to election not by workes, but by him that calleth).

12 It was said vnto her, The elder shall serue the yonger.

13 As it is written, I haue loued Iacob, & haue hated Esau.

14 What shal we say then? Is there vnrighteousnes with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, I will haue mercie on him, to whome I will shewe mercie: and will haue compassion on him, on whome I will haue compassion.

So then it is not in him that will, nor in him that runneth, but in God that sheweth mercie.

17 For the ^c Scripture saith vnto Pharo, For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, & that my Name might be declared through out all the earth.

18 Therefore he hath mercie on whome he will, and whome he will, he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why doeth he yet complaine: for who hath resisted his will?

20 But, o man, who art thou which ^f pleadest against God: shall the ^c thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter power of the claie to make of the same lompe one vessel to ^f honour, and another vnto dishonour?

22 What if God wolde, to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knownen, suffer with long patience the vessels of wrath, prepared to destruction?

23 And that he might declare the riches of his glorie vpon the vessels of mercie, which he hath prepared vnto glorie?

24 Euen vs, whome he hath called, not of Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles, 25 As he saith also in Osee, I will call them My people, which were not my people: & her, Beloued, which was not beloued.

26 And it shalbe in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people, there they shalbe called, The children of the liuing God.

27 Also Esaias cryeth concerning Israel, Thogh the number of the children of Israel were as the sand of the sea, (yet) shall [but] a remnant be saved.

28 For he wil make his account, & gather in vnto a short summe with righteousness: for the Lord will make a short count in the earth.

29 And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a scede, we had bene made as Sodom, and had bene like to Gomorrah.

30 What shal we say then? That the Gen- tiles which followed not righteousness, haue attained vnto righteousness, ^c and the right- eousnes which is of faith.

31 But Israel which followed the Law, of righteousness, could not attaine vnto ^c Law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith: but as it were, by works of ^c Law: for they haue stumbled at ^c stumbling stone.

33 As it is written, Beholde, I lay in Ston- a stumbling stone, and a rock to make me fall: and euerie one that belongeth in him, shal not be ashamed.

CHAP. X.

After that he had declared his zeale towards them, he sheweth the cause of the same of the Jewes. 4 The end of the Lawe. 5 The difference betwene the justice of the Lawe, and of faith. 17 VVhereof faith cometh, and to whom it belongeth. 19 The refection of the Jewes, and calling of the Gentiles.

Brethren, mine hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

For I beare them recome, that they haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

For they, being ignorant of the righteousness of God, & going about to stablish their owne righteousness, haue not submitted them selues to the righteousness of God.

For Christ [is] the end of the Law for righteousness vnto euery one that beleueth.

For Moses [thus] describeth the righteousness which is of the Lawe, That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.

But the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh on thus wise: Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascende into heauen? (which is to bring Christ from above)

Or, Who shall descende into the deepe? (which is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

But what saith it? The worde is nere thee, [scilicet] in thy mouth, & in thine heart. This is the worde of faith which we preache.

For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleue in thine heart, that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

For with the heart man beleueth vnto righteousness, and with the mouth man confesseth to saluation.

For the Scripture saith, Whosoever be leueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

For there is no difference betwene the Jewe & the Grecian: for he is Lord ouer all, is riche vnto all, that call on him.

For whosoever shall call vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saved.

But how shall they call on him, in whom they haue not beleued, and how shall they beleue in him, of whom they haue not heard, and how shall they heare without a preacher?

And how shall they preache, except they be sent, as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things.

But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, Lord, who hath beleued our reports?

Therefore shall many hearing and hearing, shall not see, nor shall they hear, nor shall they vnderstand, neither shall they be converted.

For the scripture saith, Their heart is waxed thicke, and their eares are filled, and their eyes are closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and be converted.

No doute their sounde went out through all earth, & their wordes into the ends of the world.

But I demaunde, Did not Israel knowe God? First Moyses saith, I wil prouoke you to enuie by a nation, which is not my nation, & by a foolish nation, I wil anger you.

And Esaias is bolde, and saith, I was founde of them that sought me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

And vnto Israel he saith, All the day long haue I stretched forth mine hand vnto a disobedient, and gainesaying people.

CHAP. XI.

God hath his Church although it be not seene to mans eye. The grace shewed to the church. The iudgements of God vnto the reprobate. God hath blinded the Jewes for a time, and reuelled him self to the Gentiles. VVhose he willeth to humble them selues. The gifts of God without repentance. The depth of Gods iudgements.

I demaunde then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid: for I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

God hath not cast away his people which he knewe before: Knowe ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how he maketh request vnto God against Israel, saying,

Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, & digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seke my life.

But what saith the answer of God to him? I haue reserved vnto my self, seuen thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.

Euen so then at this present time is there a remnant through the election of grace.

And if [it be] of grace, it is no more of workes: or els were grace no more grace: but if it be of workes, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.

What then? Israel hath not obtained what he sought: but the election hath obtained it, and the rest haue bene hardened.

According as it is written, God hath giuen them the spirit of slumber: eyes that they shulde not see, & eares that they shulde not heare vnto this day.

And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, & a net, & a stumbling block, euen for a recompense vnto them.

Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not, & bowe downe their backe alwayes.

I demaunde then, Haue they stumbled, that they shulde fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation cometh vnto the Gentiles, to provoke them to follow them.

Wherefore if the fall of them be the riches of the world, & the diminishing of 2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: & they that resist, shall receiue to the selues a iudgement.

 3 For princes are not to be feared [for] good workes, but [for] euil. Wilt thou then be without feare of power: do wel: so shalt thou haue praise of the same.
 4 For he is a minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou do euil, feare: for he beareth not the sworde for nought: for he is the minister of God to take vengeance on him that doeth euil.
 5 Wherefore ye must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for conscience sake.
 6 For, for this cause ye paye also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying them selues for the same thing.
 7 *Giue to all men therefore their due: tribute, to whome [ye owe] tribute: custome, to whome custome: feare, to whome feare: honour, to whome ye owe honour.
 8 Owe nothing to any man, but to loue one another: for he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the Law.
 9 For this, *Thou shalt not commit adulte-rie, Thou shalt not kil, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnes, Thou shalt not couet: and if there be any other commandement, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, [even] in this, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

 3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath receiued him.
 4 *Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant: he standeth or falleth to his owne master: yea, he shalbe established: for God is able to make him stande.
 5 This man esteemeth one day aboute another day, & another man counteth euery day a like: let euery man be fully perswaded in his minde.
 6 He that obserueth the day, obserueth it to the Lord: and he that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for he giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, & giueth God thanks.
 7 For none of vs liueth to him self, nether doeth any dye to him self.
 8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether we dye, we dye vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or dye, we are the Lords.
 9 For Christ therefore dyed & rose againe, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

11 For it is written, *I liue, faith the Lord, and euerie knee shal bowe to me, and al tongues shal confesse vnto God.

12 So then euerie one of vs shal giue accoures of him self to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another anie more: but vse your iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall; or a stonbling blocke before [his] brother.

14 I knowe and am perswaded through y^e Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vnclane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vnclane, to him [it is] vnclane.

15 But if thy brother be grieved for the meat, now walkest thou not charitably: *de stroy not him with thy meat, for whome Christ dyed.

17 For the^e kingdome of God is not meat nor drinke, but righteousnes, and peace, & ioye in the holie Gost.

18 For whosoever^e in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is aproued of men.

19 Let vs then followe those things whiche concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meats sake: *all things in dede are pure: but [it is] euil for y^e man which eateth with offence.

21 [It is] good nether to eat flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, whereby thy brother stonbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

22 Hast thou^e faith? haue it with thy selfe before God: blessed is he that condemneth not him self in that thing w^he aloweth.

23 For he that douteth, is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: & whateuer is not of faith, is sinne:

5 Now the God of patience and consolation giue you that ye be^e like minded one towards another, accordig to Christ Iesus,

6 That ye with one minde, [and] with one mouth may praise God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to y^e glorie of God.

8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a^e minister of the circumcision, for the truth of God, to confirme the promises [made] vnto the fathers.

15 Neuertheles brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen me of God,

16 That I shulde be the minister of Iesus Christ towards the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable being sanctified by the holy Gost.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I dare not^e speake of anie thing; w^h Christ hath not wrought by me, to make y^e Gentiles obedient in worde and dede.

19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and rounde about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abunde the Gospel of Christ.

20 Yea so I enforced my self to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I shulde haue buylt on another mans foundation.

THE

OF PAUL TO THE CO-

RINTHIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that S. Paul had preached at Corinthus a yere and a halfe, he was compelled by the wickednes of the Iewes to faile into Syria. In whose absence, false Apostles entred into the Church, who being posseed vp with vaine glorie, & affectat eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospel. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang vp in the Church, that from opinions in policies and ceremonies they fel to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doute the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefest points of Christian religio. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians hearts and eares with gentle salutations: but soon after he reprimandeth their contentions and debates, their arrogancie and pride, and exhorteth them to con corde and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spirituall vertue, and heauenlie wisdom of the Gospel, which can not be perswaded by worldly wit and eloquent reasons, but is reuelled by Gods Spirit, and so sealed in mens hearts. Therefore this salutation may not be attribuite to the ministers, but onlie to God, whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein S. Paul behaued him self skillfully, buylding according to the fundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the end proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent hede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which doubted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgement, albeir he had declared by manifest signes that he neuer sought his owne glorie, neither yet how he might liue, but onlie the glorie of Christ: which thing at his coming he wolde declare more amply, to the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought the selues onlie, and therefore suffered more horrible vices vnreproued and unpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before insidels, fornication, and such like, to the great slander of the Gospel. This done he answereth to certaine pointes of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, dutie of marriage, and discord and dissension among the married, of virginite and second marriage. And because some thought it nothing to be present at idole seruice, seeing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose faith by that dissembling was hindered, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then he wolde do, he wolde neuer vie that libertie which God had giuen him. But forasmuche as pride, & self wil was the cause of those great euils, he admonisheth this by example of the Iewes not to glorie in these outward gifts, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning vnto all men to followe Christ vnphighly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behaviour of men and women in the assemblies: of the Lords Supper, the abuse of the spirituall gifts, which God hath giuen to mainteine loue and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel serueth to no vie. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to perseuere in the loue of Christ and wel doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

He praiseth the great graces of God shewed towards this, 10. Exhorting them to con corde & humilitie. 19 He bea teth downe all pride, and wisdom which is not grounded on God, 26 Shewing whome God hath chosen to con founde the wisdom of the worlde.

PAUL called (to be) an Apostle of Iesus Christ through the wil of God, & [our] brother Softenes, Vnto the Church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that are *sanctified in Christ Iesus, *Sain tes, by calling, *with all that call on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euerie place, bothe their [Lord] and ours: 3 Grace [be] with you, and peace fro God our Father, and [from] the Lorde Iesus Christ, 4 I shalke my God alwayes on your behalfe for the grace of God, which is giuen you in Iesus Christ,

5 *That in all things ye are made riche in him, in all kinde of speache, & in all know ledge:

6 As the testimonie of Iesus Christ hath bene confirmed in you.

7 So that ye are not destitute of any gift: *wayting for the appearing of our Lord Iesus Christ.

8 Who shal also cofirme you vnto the end, that ye may be blamelesse in the daye of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 *God is faithful, by whome ye are called vnto fellowship of his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseeche you, brethren, by the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, *that ye al speake one thing, and that there be no dissensions among you: but be ye knit together in one minde, and in one iudgement.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them that are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that euerie one of you saith, I am Pauls, and I am *Apollus, and I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13 And yet the zealous of Gods glorie and sought the Church, *Act. 18.24.

h Dissension in wordes, which is the mother of all heresies.

VVhich was the cause of the schismes of the Church.

13 Is Christ deuiled? was Paul crucified for you? ether were ye baptized into the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God; that I baptized none of you, but Crispus, and Gaius, 15 Left any shulde say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the householde of Stephanas: furthermore knowe I not, whether I baptized anye other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preache the Gospel, not in wisdom of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shulde be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs, we are saued, it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, I wil destroye the wisdom of the wise, and will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this worlde? hathe not God made the wisdom of this worlde foolishnes?

21 For seing the worlde by wisdom knew not God in the wisdom of God, it pleased God by thee foolishnes of preaching to saue them that beleue.

22 Seing also that the Iewes require a signe, and the Grecians seke after wisdom.

23 But we preache Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, & vnto the Grecians, foolishnes:

24 But vnto them which are called, bothe of the Iewes and Grecians [we preache] Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 For the foolishnes of God is wiser then men, and the weakenes of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you se your calling, how that not manie wise men after the flesh, not manie mightie, not manie noble are called.

27 But God hathe chosen foolish things of the worlde to confounde the wise, and God hathe chosen the weak things of the worlde, to confounde the mightie things.

28 And vile things of the worlde & things which are despised, hathe God chosen, & things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 That no flesh shulde reioyce in his presence.

30 But ye are of him in Christ Iesus, who of God is made vnto vs wisdom and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption, 31 That, according as it is written, He reioyceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

He putteth for example his manner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel. VVhich Gospel was contemptible & hid to the carnall, so And againe honorable and manifest to the spiritual.

And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellencie of wordes, or of wisdom, shewing vnto you the testimonie of God.

For I esteemed not to knowe anye thing among you, saue Iesus Christ and him crucified.

And I was among you in weakenes & in feare, & in muche trembling.

Nether [stode] my wordes, & my preaching in the cutting speache of mans wisdom, but in plaine euidence of the Spirit and of power.

That your faith shulde not be in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

And we speake wisdom among them that are perfit: not the wisdom of this worlde, nether of the princes of this worlde, which come to nought.

But we speake the wisdom of God in a mysterie, [euen] the hid wisdom, which God had determined before the worlde, vnto our glorie.

Which none of the princes of this worlde hathe knowen: for had they knowen it, they wolde not haue crucified the Lord of glorie.

But as it is written, The things which eye hathe not sene, nether eare hathe heard, nether came into mans heart, [are], which God hathe prepared for them, loue him.

But God hathe reueiled [them] vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the spirit of man, which is in him: euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Now we haue receiued not the Spirit of the worlde, but the Spirit which is of God, we might knowe the things that are giuen to vs of God.

Which things also we speake, not in wordes which mans wisdom teacheth, but which the holie Ghost teacheth, comparing spiritual things with spiritual things.

But the natural man perceineth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishnes vnto him, nether can he know [them], because they are spiritual, which vnderstandeth and iudgeth. VVhich we are not moued with the Spirit, which teacheth things wherewith the worlde is deluded, and which we vnderstand by nature. All the benefites of God in Iesu Christ are spiritual, so our kinde of teaching must be spiritual, that the wordes may agre with the matier. VVhose knowledge is not dealed by Gods Spirit.

ly discerned.

15 But he that is ^{spiritual}, discerneth all things: yet he himself is ^{not} judged of no man.

16 ^{For} who hath known the minde of the Lord, that he might instruct him? But we haue the minde of Christ.

CHAP. III.

Paul rebuketh the sects and sctours thereof. 7 No man ought to attribute his salvation to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beware erroneous doctrines. 11 Christ is the fundation of his Church. 16 The dignitie and office both of the minister and also of all the faithful.

And I wolde not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spiritual men, but as vnto carnal, ^{yeue} as vnto babes in Christ.

1 I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meat: for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

2 For ye are yet carnal: for where as there is among you enuying, & strife, and diuisions, are ye not carnal, and walke as me?

3 For when one saith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnal?

4 Who is Paul then? and who is Apollos, but the ministers by whome ye beleued, and as the Lord gaue to euerie man?

5 I haue planted, Apollos watered, but God gaue the encrease.

6 So then, neither is he that planteth, anie thing, neither he that watereth, but God that giueth the encrease.

7 And he that planteth, & he that watereth, are ^{one}, & euerie man shal receiue his wages, according to his labour.

8 For we together are Gods laborers: ye are Gods housbandrie, [and] Gods buylding.

9 According to the grace of God giuen to me, as a skilful master buylder, I haue laid the fundation, and another buyldeth thereon: but let euerie man take hede how he buyldeth vpon it.

10 For other fundation can no man lay, then that which is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

11 And if anie man buylde on this fundation, golde, siluer, precious stones, tymbre, haye, for stubble, 12 Euerie mans worke shal be made manifest: for the daye shal declare it, because it shal be reueiled by the fyre: & the fyre shal trye euerie mans worke of what sorte it is.

13 If anie mans worke, that he hath buylt vpon, abide, he shal receiue wages.

14 If anie mans worke burne, he shal lose it, but he shal be safe himselfe, neuertheless yet as it were by the fyre.

15 Knowe ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?

16 If anie man destroy the Temple of God, him shal God destroy: for the Temple of God is holie, which ye are.

17 Let no man deceiue him selfe. If anie man among you seme to be wise in this worlde, let him be a foole, that he may be wise.

18 For wisdom of this worlde is foolishnes with God: for it is written, He catcheth the wise in their owne craftines.

19 And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.

20 Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.

21 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the worlde, or life, or death: whether they be things present, or things to come, ^{yeue} all are yours.

22 And ye Christs, and Christ Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, being they did not acknowledge him such one. 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement. 7 Beating downe their glorie which hindered them to praise that, which they dispraised in him. 10 He sheweth what he requirith on their parte, & what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

Let a man so thinke of vs, as of the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, & euerie man be founde faithful.

3 As touching me, I passe verie little to be iudged of you, or of mans iudgement: no, I iudge not mine owne selfe.

4 For I knowe nothing by my self, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntil the Lord come, who wil lighten things that are hid in darkenes, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shal euerie man haue praise of God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne selfe and Apollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne by vs, that no man presume aboute that which is written, that one shal not agaynst another for anie mans cause.

7 For who separateth thee? & what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou haddest not receiued it?

8 Now ye are full: now ye are made riche: ye reigne as Kings without vs, and wolde to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

9 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the laste Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a galling stocke vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men.

to men.

10 We [are] ^h fooles for Christs sake, & ye [are] wise in Christ: [we are] weake, and ye strong: ye [are] honorable, and we [are] despised.

11 Vnto this houre we bothe hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, & haue no certeine dwelling place,

12 *And labour, working with our owne hands: we are reuiled, and [yet] we blesse: we are persecuted, [and] suffer it.

13 *We are euil spoken of, and we pray: we are made as the filthe of the worlde, the offkowering of all things, vnto this time.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonish you.

15 For thogh ye haue ten thousand instructours in Christ, yet haue ye not manie fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, & faithful in the Lord, w^h shal put you in remembrance of my wayes in Christ as I teache euerie where in euerie Church.

18 Some are puffed vp as thogh I wolde not come to you.

19 But I wil come to you shortly, * if the Lord wil, and wil knowe, not the speache of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the ^k kingdome of God [is not] in worde, but in ⁱ power.

21 What wil ye? shal I come vnto you w^h a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenes?

CHAP. V.

1 He reproveth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 VVilling them to excommunicate him, 7 To embrace puritie, 9 And flee wickednes.

1 ^I T is heard certainly, ⁱ there is, fornication among you, & suche fornication as is not once named among ^a Gentils, * that one shulde haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp & haue not rather sorowed, that he which hath done this dede, might be put from among you.

3 * For I vcrely as absent in bodie, but present in spirit, haue determined already as thogh I were present, that he that hath done this thing,

4 When ye are gathered together, and my spirit ^d in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that suche one, [I say], by ⁱ power of our Lord Iesus Christ,

5 * Be deliuered vnto ^s Satan, for the * destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saued in ⁱ day of the Lord Iesus.

6 Your reioycing is not ^s good: * know ye not that a litle leauen, leaueneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore ⁱ olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lump, ^h as ye are vnleavened: for Christ our Pasche is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs kepe the feast, not with olde leauen, nether in the leauen of maliciousnes & wickednes: but with the vnleavened bread of sinceritie and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an epistle, * that ye shulde not companie together w^h fornicators,

10 And ⁱ not all together with the fornicators of this worlde, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or w^h idolaters: for then ye muste go out of the worlde.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, ⁱ ye companie not together: if anie ⁱ is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or ^h an idolater, or a railer, or a drunckard, or an extortioner, w^h suche one eat not.

sent at idole service, & yet professe the Gospel. I Vnto w^h fastical discipline doeth not stretch. m VVhich are subiect to the discipline of the Church.

CHAP. VI.

1 He rebuketh them for going to law together before the Heathen: 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproveth the abusing of Christian libertie, 15 And sheweth that we ought to serue God purely bothe in bodie, & in soule.

1 ^D Are anie of you, having busines agaⁱnst another, be iudged vnder ⁱ the ^a vniust, and not vnder the Saintes?

2 * Do ye not knowe, that the Saintes shal iudge the worlde? If the worlde then shal be iudged by you, are ye vnworthie to iudge the smallest matters?

* CHAP. VII.

1 The Apostle answereth to certaine questions, which f Corinthians desired to knowe. 2 As of single life, 3 Of the specie of marriage, 11 Of discordes & dissension in marriage, 13 Of marriage betwene the faithful & vnfaithful.

18 Of vncircumcising the circumcised. 21 Of seruitude.
25 Of virginite, 39 And seconde marriage.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote vnto me, It [were] * good for a man not to touche a woman.

Neuertheles, to auoide fornication, let euerie man haue his wife, and let euerie woman haue her owne housband,

* Let the housband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife to the housband.

The wife hath not f power of her owne bodie, but f housband: and likewise also the housband hathe not the power of his owne bodie, but the wife.

5 Defraude not one another, except [it be] with consent for a time, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer, & agai-ne come together that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 But I speake this by permission, * not by commandement.

7 For I wolde that all men were euen as I my self [am:]: but euerie man hathe his proper gift of God, one after this maner, and another after that.

8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmarried, and vnto the widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I [do.]

9 But if they can not abstaine, let the marie: for it is better to marie the^e burne.

10 And vnto the married I comande, not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife * departe from her housband.

11 But and if she^f departe, let her remaine vnmarried, or be recociled vnto her housband, and let not the housband put^g away [his] wife.

12 But to the remnant I speake, [and] not the Lord, If anie brother haue a wife, f beleueth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hathe an housband that beleueth not, if he be content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

14 For the vnbeleuing housbad isⁱ sanctified by the wife, & the vnbeleuing wife is sanctified by f housband, els were your childre vncleane: but now are the^k holie.

15 But if the vnbeleuing departe, let him departe: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in^l such things: but God hathe called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, o wife, whether thou shalt saue thine housband? Or what knowest thou, o man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife.

17 But as God hathe distribute to euerie man, as f Lord hathe^m called euerie one, so let him walke: and so ordeine I, in all Churches.

18 Is anie man called being circumcised:
let him not * gather [his] vncircumcision:
is anie called vncircumcised: let him not be circumcised.

19 * Circumcision is nothing, & vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the comandements of God.

cation wherein he was called.

11. Art thou called [being] a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou maist be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in ¹ Lord [being] a seruant, is ² Lords freman: likewise also he ³ is called [being] free, is Christs seruant.

23 *Ye are bought with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euerie man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning ¹ virgines, I haue no ² commandement of the Lord: but I giue mine aduise, as one that hathe obtained mercie of the Lord to be ³ faithful.

26 I suppose then ¹ this to be good for the present ² necessitie: [I meane] that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wife? seke not to be losed: art thou losed from a wife? seke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: & if a virgine marie, she sinneth not: neuertheles, suche shal haue ¹ trouble in the flesh: but I ² spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because ¹ time is short, there after that bothe they which haue wiues, be as thogh they had none:

30 And they that ¹ wepe, as thogh they wept not: & they that ² reioyce, as thogh they reioyced not: & they ³ be, as thogh they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this worlde, as thogh they vsed it not: for the ¹ facion of this worlde goeth away.

32 And I wolde haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of ¹ Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But he that is married, careth for the things of the ¹ worlde, how he may please [his] wife ².

34 There is difference also betwene a virgine & a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord; that she may be ¹ holie, bothe in bodie and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, how she may please her housband.

35 And this I speake for your owne commoditie, not to ¹ tangle you in a snare, but that [ye followe] that, which is honest, & that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if anie man thincke that it is yncon-lie for his virgine, if she passe the flowre of her Iage, & ¹ nede so require, let him do what he wil, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheles he ¹ that standeth firme in his heart, that he hathe no nede, but hath ² power ouer his owne wil, & hathe so decreed in his heart that he wil kepe his virgine, he doeth wel.

38 So then he that giueth her to mariage, doeth wel, but he that giueth her not to mariage, doeth ¹ better.

39 The wife is bounde by the ¹ law, as long as her housband ² liueth: but if her housband be dead, she is at libertie to mary w^home she wil, onely in the Lord.

40 But she is more blessed, if she so abide, in my iudgement: ¹ and I thinke that I haue also the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices. ⁹ And sheweth how me ¹ ought to behaue them towards suche as be weake.

1 ANd as touching things sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that we all haue ¹ knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue edifieth.

2 Now, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to knowe.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is ¹ knowne of him.

4 Concerning therefore meat sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that an idole [is] ¹ no thing in the worlde, & that there is none other God but one.

5 For thogh there be that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there be manie gods, and many ¹ lords)

6 Yet vnto vs there [is] but one God, [is] the Father, of whome are all things, & we in him: & ¹ one Lord Iesus Christ, by whome [are] all things, and we by him.

7 But euerie man hathe not knowledge: for some hauing ¹ conscience of the idole, vntil this houre, ear as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meat maketh not vs acceptable to God: for nether if we eat, haue we ¹ more: nether if we eat not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take hede lest by any meanes, this ¹ power of yours be an occasion of falling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man se thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shal not the conscience of him w^h is weake, be ¹ boldened to eat those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

11 And through thy knowledge shal the ¹ weake brother perish, for whom Christ dyed.

12 Now when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wounde their weake consciences, O.ij.

h Meaning, that is fully persuaded that he hathe no nede.

i For ¹ fathers wil dependeth on his children in this point: in so muche as he is bounde to haue respect to their infirmities, nether can he iustly require of them singleness, if they haue not that gift of God so to liue.

k And more commodious for his children in preferring them from cares.

5 But with many of the God was not pleased: for they were * ouerthrowen in the wildernes.

6 Now these are ensamples to vs, to the intent that we shulde not lust after euil things * as they also lusted.

7 Nether be ye idolaters as [were] some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to * eat and drinke, and rose vp to playe.

8 Nether let vs committ fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fel in one * daye thre & twentie thousand.

9 Nether let vs tempt * Christ, as some of them also tempted [him], & were * destroyed of serpents.

10 Nether murmure ye, as some of them
* also murmured, and were destroyed of the * destroyer.

11 Now all these things came vnto them for ensamples, and were written to admonish vs, vpon whome the * ends of the worlde are come.

12 Wherefore, let him * thinketh he stan-deth, take hede lest he fall.

13 There hath no tentatio taken you, but suche as apperteineth to man: and God is faithful, which wil not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you be able, but * wil euen giue the issue with the tentation, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my beloued, flee from idola-tricie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cuppe of blessing which we * blesse, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the communion of the bodie of Christ?

17 For we that are many, are * one bread & one bodie, because we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Israel [which is] after * flesh:
are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

20 [Nay,] But that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not vnto God: and I wolde not that ye shulde haue * fellowshipe with the de-uils.

21 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cup of the deuils: Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table and of the table of deuils.

22 Do we prouoke the Lord to anger? are we stronger then he?

23 * All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are 24 Let no man seeke his owne, but euerie man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoeuer is solde in the * shambles,

27 If anie of them which beleue not, call you [to a feast], & if ye wil go, whatsoeuer is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eat it not, because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth [is] the Lords, & all that therein is)

29 And * conscience I say, not thine, but of that other: for why shulde my * libertie be condēd of another mans conscience?

30 For * if I through [Gods] benefite be partaker, why am I euil spoken of, for * wherefore I giue thanks?

31 * Whether therefore ye eat or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the glorie of God.

32 Giue none offence, nether to * Iewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God.

33 Euen as I please * all men * in all things, of God : but the woman is the * glorie of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but of woman of the man,

9 * For the man was not created for the womans sake : but the woman for the mans sake,

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue power on her head, because of the Angels.

11 Neuertheles, nether is the man without the woman, nether the woman without the man in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman : but all things are of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, is it comelie that a woman praye vnto God vncouered :

14 Doeth not nature it self teache you, if a man haue long heere, it is a shame vnto him :

15 But if a woman haue long heere, it is a praise vnto her : for her heere is giue her for a couering.

16 But if any man luste to be contentious, we haue no suche custome, nether the Churches of God.

17 ¶ Now in this that I declare, I praise [you] not, that ye come together, not with profit, but with hurt.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there are disfensions among you : and I beleue it to be true in some parte.

19 For there must be heresies euen among you, that they which are approued among you, might be knowne.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, [this] is not to eat the Lords Supper.

21 For euerie man when they shulde eat, taketh his owne supper afore, and one is hungrie, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eat & to drinke in? dispise ye the Church of God, & shame them? haue not? what shal I say to you?
shal I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, [to wit,] That the Lord Iesus in the night that he was betrayed, toke bread :

24 * And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my bodie, which is broken for you, this do ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the same maner also he toke the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the Newe testament in my blood: this do as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye shal eat this bread, & drinke this cup, ye shewe the Lords death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoever shal eat this bread, and drinke the cup of the Lord vnworthely, shalbe guiltie of the bodie & blood of the Lord.

28 * Let a man therefore examine him self, and so let him eat of this bread, & drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthely, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, [because] he discerneth not the Lords bodie.

30 For this cause many [are] weake, & sicke among you, and many slepe.

31 For if we wolde iudge our selues, we shulde not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lord, because we shulde not be condemned with the worlde.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tary one for another.

34 And if any man be hungrie, let him eat at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things wil
I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

The diuersitie of the gifts of the holie Ghost ought to be used to the edifying of Christs Church. 13 As the members of mans bodie serue to the use one of another.

1 Now concerning spiritual [giftes], brethren, I wolde not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye knowe that ye were Gentiles, & were caryed away vnto the domine idoles, as ye were led.

3 Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Iesus execrable: also no man can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the ho-lie Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of giftes, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is gi-uen to euery man, to profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the worde of wisdom: and to another the worde of knowledge, by the same Spirit :

9 And to another [is giuen] faith, by the same Spirit : and to another the giftes of healing, by the same Spirit :

10 And to another operations of great workes: & to another, prophetic: and to another, the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues, & to another, the interpreting of tongues. ¶ All these workes shall be done by the Spirit, and by the word, according to the measure of the gift which is giuen vnto you, that ye may knowe the mind of the Lord, and that ye may be able to shew forth the obedience of the Lord, in the manner ther the interpretation of tongues.

11 *And all these things worketh euen the self same Spirit, distributing to euery man severally as he wil.

12 For as ¹ bodie is one, and hath many membres, and all the membres of the bodie, ² is one, though they be many, [yet] are [but] one bodie: euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized in to ¹ one bodie, whether [we be] Iewes or Grecians, whether [we be] bonde, or free, and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the bodie also is not one member, but many.

15 If the fore wolde say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the bodie, is it therefore not of the bodie?

16 And if the eare wolde say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the bodie, is it the refore not of the bodie?

17 If the whole bodie [were] an eye, where [were] the hearing? If the whole [were] hearing, where [were] the smelling?

18 But now hath God disposed the membres euery one of them in the bodie at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were all one member, where [were] the bodie.

20 But now [are] there manie membres, yet but ¹ one bodie.

21 And the eye can not say vnto the had, I haue no nede of thee: nor the head againe to the fete, I haue no nede of you.

22 Yea, muche rather those membres of ¹ bodie, which seme to be ² more feble, are necessarie.

23 And vpon those [membres] of the bodie, which we thinke moste vn honest, put we more ³ honestie on: and our vncomelie [partes] haue more comelines on.

24 For our comelie [partes] nede it not: but God hath tempered the bodie together, and hath giuen the more honour to that [parte] which lacked,

25 Lest there shulde be anie diuision in the bodie: but that the membres shulde haue the same care one for another.

26 Therefore if one member suffer, all suffer with it: if one member be had in honour, all the membres reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the bodie of Christ, & membres ¹ for [your] parte.

28 *And God hath ordeined some in the Church: [as] first, Apostles, secondly Prophetes, thirdly teachers, then them that do miracles: after that, the giftes of healing, ⁴ helpers, ⁵ gouernours, diuersitie of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? are all prophetes: are all teachers?

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the giftes of healing? do all speake with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But ¹ desire you the best gifts, and I will yet shewe you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is ¹ fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office and praise thereof.

1 ¹ Though I speake with the tongues of men and ² Angels, & haue not loue, I am [as] sounding brasse, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I had the [gift] of prophecie, and knewe all secretes & all knowledge, yea, if I had ³ all faith, so that I colde remoue ⁴ mountaines, and had not loue, I were nothing.

3 And though I fede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my bodie, that it be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Loue suffreth long: it is bountiful: loue enuieth not: loue doeth not boast it self: it is not puffed vp:

5 It disdaineth not: it seeketh not her owne things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euil:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 It suffreth all things: it beleueth ¹ all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth ² all things.

8 Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophecies be abolished, or the tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away.

9 For ³ we knowe ⁴ in parte, & wet prophecie in parte.

10 But when that which is perfite, is come, then that which is in parte, shal be abolished.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For now we see through a glasse darkly: but then [shal we see] face to face. Now I knowe in parte: but then shal I knowe euen as I am ¹ known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, & loue, [euen] these three: but the ² chiefest of these [is] loue.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, & other spiritual gifts. 2 But chiefly prophecies. 3 He commandeth women to kepe silence in the Church. 4 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Church.

1 ¹ Followe after loue, and couet spiritual [gifts], and rather that ye maye ² prophecie.

Or, do you also desire the best gifts.

a If the Angels had tongues, &c. I had the vse thereof, and did not bestowe them to profite my neighbour, as were nothing but vaine babbling.

b Faith is here taken for the gift of doing miracles, & the wicked may haue, as Mat. 7, 22, & also for that faith (called historical) & be- leueth the mightie power of Christ, but can not apprehend Gods mercie through him & this deuils haue, I am, 2, 19: & therefore is separate from charitie, but the faith & iustifieth in effect can not, as 1. Iohn 2, 9.

c Not that it suffreth it self to be abused, but iudgeth others by all loue and humanitie.

d VVhich may be without offence of Gods worde.

e Knowledge it self shal be perfited in the worlde to come, & not abolished: but the manner of knowing & teaching shal cease, when we shal be before Gods presence, where we shal neither nede scholes nor teachers.

f That is, perfectly.

g The mysteries of God.

h Because it serueth both here & in the li- fe to come: but faith and hope apperteyne onely to this li- fe.

i That is, to ex- ponde the words of God to the edification of the Church.

Rom. 12, 3. Gal. 4, 8.

That we might be one with Christ, and the whole Church one Church: of the which coniunction Baptisme, & Lords Supper are effectual means: for by these we are ingreft into one Spirit, and by the Lords Supper we are incorporat into Christs bodie to be gouerned by the same Spirit.

And therefore is manifeste the necessitie of the profite to be com- mune and seru- to the edifica- tion of the Church.

VVhose vse is to be seruilla.

VVe are more comelie to conser- uen.

Euery one has office for the preseruati- on of the bodie.

n Or, flute than kes by singing.
o One onely made the praier, and the rest of the people followed in heart his wordes. & when he had praied, they all said, Amen, signifying that they beleued assuredly that God wolde graunt their requests.

3 For he that speaketh [a strange] tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man^b heareth [him:] howbeit in^c the spirit he speaketh secret things.

4 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.

5 He that speaketh [strange] language, edifieth^d him self: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

6 I wolde that ye all spake [strange] languages, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is he that prophecieth, then he that speaketh [diuers] tongues, except he expounde it, that the Church may receiue edification.

7 And now, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking [diuers] tongues, what shal I profite you, except I speake to you ether by^e reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecyng, or by doctrine?

8 Moreouer things without life which giue a sounde, whether [it be] a pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the sounds, how shal it be known what is piped or harped?

9 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sounde, who shal prepare him self to battel?

10 So likewise you, by the tongue, except ye vtter wordes that haue signification, how shal it be vnderstand what is spoken? for ye shal speake in the^f ayre.

11 There are so manie kindes of voyces, (as it cometh to passe) in the world, & none of them^g is domme.

12 Except I knowe then the power of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh, a barbarian, and he that speaketh, shalbe a barbarian vnto me.

13 Euen so, for asmuche as ye couet spiritual [gifts,] seke that ye maye excel vnto the edifying of the Church.

14 Wherefore, let him^h that speaketh a [strange] tongue, praye, that he may interpret.

15 For if I pray [in] a [strange] tongue, my spiritⁱ praiech: but mine vnderstanding is without^k frute.

16 What is it then? I wil praye with the spirit, but I wil pray with the vnderstanding also: I wil^l sing with the spirit, but I wil sing with the vnderstanding also.

17 Els, when thou blest with the spirit, how shal he that occupieth the roume of the vnlearned, say^m Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seing he knoweth not what thou saist?

18 For thou verely giuest thanks wel, but the other is not edified.

19 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speakeⁿ five wordes with mine vnderstanding that I might also instruct others, then ten thousand wordes in a [strange] tongue.

20 Brethren, be not^o children in vnderstanding, but as concerning malicioufnes be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

21 In the Law it is written, ^pBy men of other tongues, & by other languages wil I speake vnto this people: yet so shal they not heare me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore [strange] tongues are for a^q signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but prophecyng, [serueth] not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore, when^r the whole Church is come together in one, & all speake [strange] tongues, there come in they^s that are vnlearned, or they^t that beleue not, wil they not say, that ye are out of your wittes?

24 But if all prophetic, and there come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of^u all men, and is iudged of all.

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, & so he wil fall downe on his face and worship God, and say plainly that God is in you in dede.

26 What is to be [done] then, brethren: when ye come together, [according as] receiue one of you hath a psalme, [or] hath^v doctrine, [or] hath a tongue, [or] hath the reuelation, [or] hath the interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If anie man speake a [strange] tongue [let it be] by two, or at the^w most, by thre, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him kepe silence in the Church, [which] speaketh languages, & let him speake to him self, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two, or thre, & let the other iudge.

30 And if anie thing be reueiled to another^x that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophetic one by one, & all may learne, & all may haue comfort.

32 And the^y spirits of the Prophets are^z subiect to the Prophetes.

33 For God is not^{aa} the author of confusion, but of peace, as [we see] in all^{ab} Churches of the Saintes.

34 Let your women kepe^{ac} silence in the Lord, as the Church kepe^{ad} silence in the Lord, which she herselfe subiect to himselfe, by the word of his mouth.

35 Iohn commandeth to trye the spirit whether they be of God.
36 1. Timot. 2. 11. x Because this disordre was in the Church, that women vsurped that which was pecullare to men, the Apostle here sheweth what is mete to be done, and what is not: and albeit he mentioned this abuse here, yet he referred it to this place to be reprovved, because these be brought in for another purpose.

35 But some man wil say, How are y dead forthe?

36 O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye.

37 And y which thou sowest, thou sowest not y bodie that shal be, but bare corne,

38 But God giueth it a bodie at his pleasure, euen to euerie sede his owne bodie.

39 All flesh [is] not the same flesh, but the re is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There [are] also heauenlic bodies, and earthlic bodies: but the glorie of the hea-uenlic [is] one, & [the glorie] of the earthlic [is] another.

41 There is another glorie of the sunne, and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of the starres: for one starre differeth from [another] starre in glorie.

42 So also [is] the resurrection of the dead.
[The bodie] is sown in corruption, [and] is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, [and] is raised in glorie: it is sown in weakenes, [and] is raised in power.

44 It is sown a natural bodie, [&] is raised a spiritual bodie: there is a natural bodie, [&] there is a spiritual bodie.

45 As it is also written, The first man * Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam [was made] a quickening Spirit.

46 Howbeit that [was] not first [made] w is spiritual: but that [which is] natural, & afterwarde that [which is] spiritual.

47 The first man [is] of the earth, earthlie: y seconde man [is] the Lord * from heauen.

48 As [is] the earthlie, suche [are] they that are earthlie: & as [is] the heauenlic, suche [are] they also that are heauenlic,

49 And as we haue borne the image of y earthlie, so shal we beare the image of the heauenlic.

50 This say I, brethren, y flesh & blood ca not inherit the kingdome of God, nether doeth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shew you a secret thing, We shal not all slepe, but we shal all be changed,

52 In a momēt, in the twinkling of an eye at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shal blowe, and the dead shal be raised vp in corruptible, and we shal be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incor-ruption: & this mortal [must] put on immortalie.

54 So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, & this mortal hath put on immortalie, then shal be brought to passe the saying that is written, * Death is swa-lowed vp into victorie.

55 * O death, where [is] thy sting! o graue,
where [is] thy victorie!

56 The sting of death [is] sinne: and the strength of sinne [is] the Law.

57 * But thanks [be] vnto God w hath giuen vs victorie through our Lord Iesus Christ.

58 Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, abundant alwayes in the worke of the Lord, for asmuche as ye knowe, that your labour is not in vaine in the Lord.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CO- RINTHIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS nothing can be written, ether so perfectly, or with so great affection and zeale, which is not vnprofitable to many, and refuted by some: so the first epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the puritie & perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue towards them farre passing all naturall affections: & did not onely not profite all, but hardened the heartes of many to remaine in their stubbernes, and contemne the Apostles autoritie. By reason whereof S. Paul, being let with iuste occasions to come vnto them, wrote this epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplishe the works which he had begonne among them. First therefore he wisheth them wel in the Lord, declaring that albeit certayne wicked persones abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his autoritie, yet they were necessarie schoolings, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And where as they blame his long absence, it came of no inconstancie, but to beare with their inhabilitie and imperfection, lest contrarie to his fatherly affection, he shulde haue bene compelled to vse rigour and seueritie. And as touching his sharpe writing in the former epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident, bothe in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seeing he doeth repen: and also in that he was vnquiet in his minde, til he was certified by Titus of their estate. But forasmuch as the false apostles went about to vndermine his autoritie, he confuteth their arrogant bragges, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which se not the brightness of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorowe which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy and compassion towards our brethren: also wisdom to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the truth, sought onely to fill their bellies, where as he contrariwise sought them, and not their goods, as those ambitious persones slandered him: wherefore at his comming he menaceth suche as rebell against his autoritie, that he will declare by liuely example, f^a he is the faithful ambassadour of IESVS CHRIST.

CHAP. I.

4 He declareth the great profite that cometh to the faithful by their afflictions. 15, 17 And because they shulde not impute to lightnes, that he differed his comming contrary to his promes, he proueth his constancie, both by the synecrisis of his preaching, and also by the immurable treuth of the Gospel. 21 which treuth is grounded on Christ, & sealed in our hearts by the holy Gost.

PAUL an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST by the will of God, and [our] brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus with all the Saintes, which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, & [from] the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 ¶ Blessed [be] God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, & the God of all comforte,

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comforte the which are in any affliction by the comforte wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abunde in vs, so our consolation abundeth through Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, [it is] for your consolation and saluation, which is wrought in the induring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, [it is] for your consolation & saluation.

which I suffer for Christ or the Christ suffereth in me, Rom. 7, 5 & 8, 3. col. 1, 14. d. Forseeing his indure so much they had occasion to be comforted in the Gospel. As God onely worketh all things in vs: so doeth he alise our saluation by his free mercy: & by such means as he hath left in this life for vs to be exercised in.

7 And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we knowe that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so [shal] ye be also of the consolation.

8 For, brethren, we wolde not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we all together doubted, euen of life.

9 Yea, we received the sentence of death in our selues, because we shulde not trust in our selues, but in God, who raiseth the dead.

10 Who deliuered vs fro so great a death, and doeth deliuer [vs]: in whome we trust, that yet hereafter he will deliuer [vs].

11 So that ye labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift [bestowed] vpon vs for manie, thanks may be giuen by many persones for vs.

12 For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie & godly purenes, [&] not in fleshlie wisdom, but by the grace of God we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and moste of all to you wardes.

13 For we write none other things vnto you, the that ye read, or els that ye acknowledge, & I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto Christ.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioycing, euen as ye are ours, in the day of our Lord Iesus.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to come vnto you, that ye might haue had a double grace,

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth towarde Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnes: or minde I those things which I minde, according to the fleshe, that with me shulde be, Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

18 Yea, God is faithful, that our worde towarde you was not Yea, and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, [that is] by me, and Siluanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was Yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him [are] Yea, and [are] in him Amen, vnto the glorie of God through vs.

21 And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Now I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we haue dominion ouer your faith, but we are helpers of your ioye: for by faith ye stande.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towardes them, 7 Requiring likewise that they wolde be fauorable to the incestuous adulterer, seeing he did repent. He also reioyeth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine. 17. Confuting thereby such quakers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his persone, fought nothing, but the overthrowe of his doctrine.

But I determined thus in my self, that I wolde not come againe to you in heauines.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he that shulde make me glad, but the same which is made sorie by me?

3 And I wrote this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I shulde take heauines of them, of whome I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioye is the [ioye] of you all.

4 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye shulde be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 And if any hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly [lest] I shulde more charge [him] you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrariwise ye ought rather to forgiue [him], and comforte [him], lest the same shulde be swallowed vp with ouer muche heauines.

8 Wherefore, I praye you, that you wolde confirme your loue towardes him.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might knowe the profe of you, whether ye wolde be obedient in all things.

10 To whome ye forgiue any thing, [forgiue] also: for verely if I forgane any thing, to whome I forgane it, for your sakes [forgane I it] in the sight of Christ, 11 Lest Satan shulde circumuent vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas [to preache] Christs Gospel, & a dore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I founde not Titus my brother, but toke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks [be] vnto God which alwayes maketh vs to triumphe in Christ, & maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete fauour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in the which perish.

16 To the one [we are] the fauour of death, vnto death, and to the other the fauour of life, vnto life, and who is sufficient for geth death to them which onely consider Christs death as a common death, & be thereat offended, or els thinke it folie: and bringeth againe life to them in his death beholds their life. ¶ CHAP. III.

1 He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the braggies of the false apostles. 7 He maketh comparison betwixt the Lawe and the Gospel.

1 DO we beginne to praise our selues againe? or nede we as some other, epistles of commendation vnto you, or letters of commendation from our hearts?

2 Ye are our epistle, written in our heartes, which is vnderstand and red of all men.

3 In that ye are manifest, to be the epistle of Christ, ministered by vs, and written, not with ynce, but with the Spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshe tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue we through Christ to God.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke anie thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie is of God.

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the New Testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

7 If then the ministrations of death, written with letters & ingrauen in stones, was glorious so that the children of Israel coulde not beholde the face of Moses for the glorie of his countenance (which glorie is done away).

8 How shal not the ministration of the Spirit be more glorious?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation [was] glorious, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceede in glorie.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glorie.

11 For if that which shulde be abolished, [was] glorious, much more that which remaineth, be glorious.

12 Seing then that we haue such trust, we vse great boldnes of speache.

13 And we are not as Moses, which put a vaile vpon his face, that the children of Israel shoulde not looke vnto the ende of that which shoulde be abolished.

14 Therefore their mindes are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vnto this day in the reading of Olde testament, which vaile in Christ is put away.

15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is red, the vaile is layed ouer their heartes.

16 Neuertheles when their heart shalbe turned to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.

17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, & where the Spirit of the Lord [is] there [is] libertie.

18 But we all beholde as in a mirrour the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

¶ CHAP. IIII.

1 He declareth his diligence, and roundenes in his office. 8 And that which his enemies toke for his disadvantage, to win the croffe and afflictions which he endured, he turned it to his great advantage. 11 17 Shewing what profit cometh thereby.

1 Therefore, seing that we haue this ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, we fainte not.

2 But haue cast from vs the clokes of shame, and walke not in craftines, nether handle we the word of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth we approue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

4 In whome the God of this worlde hath blinded the mindes, [that is] of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, shoulde not shine vnto them.

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God that commanded the light to shine out of darkenes, [is he] which hath shined in our heartes, to giue the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God and not of vs.

8 We are afflicted on euery side, yet are we not in distresse: in pouertie, but not in want: come of pouertie.

9 [We are] persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

10 Euery where we beare about in our bodies the dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

11 For we which line are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortalitie.

12 So then death worketh in vs, and life in you.

13 And because we haue the same Spirit of faith, according as it is written, I beleue, they are made conquerours. 14 By our death you haue life: so afflictions conserue you. 1 The same faith by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost. Phil. 1:27.

6. Therefore we are alway bold, thogh we knowe that whiles we are at home in the bodie, we are absent from the Lord.

7. (For we walke by faith, and not by sight)

8. Neuertheles we are bolde, & loue rather to remoue out of the bodie, and to dwell with the Lord.

9. Wherefore also we couer, & bothe dwell-ling at home, and remouing from home, we may be acceptable to him.

10. For we must all appere before the iud-gement seat of Christ, that every man may receiue the things which are [done] in his bodie, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill.

11. Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men, & we are made manifest vnto God, and I trust also that we are made manifest in your consciences.

12. For we praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, that ye may haue [to answer] against the, which reioyce in the face, and not in the heart.

13. For whether we be out of our wit, [we are it] to God: or whether we be in our right minde, [we are it] vnto you.

14. For the loue of Christ constraineth vs:
because we thus iudge, that if one be dead for all, then were all dead:

15. And he dyed for al, that thei which liue, shulde not henceforth liue vnto them sel-ues, but vnto him which dyed for them, & rose againe.

16. Wherefore, henceforth we knowe we no man after the flesh, yea thogh we had knowen Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth we knowe we [him] no more.

17. Therefore if any man [be] in Christ, [let him be] a newe creature. * Olde things are passed away: beholde, al things are become newe.

18. And all things [are] of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto him self by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

19. For God was in Christ, and reconciled the worlde to him self, not imputing their singes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the worde of reconciliation.

20. Now then are we ambassadours for Christ, as thogh God did beseeche [you] through vs, we praye you in Christs stede, that ye be reconciled to God:

21. For he hath made him [to be] sinne for vs, which knew no sinne, that we shulde be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to Christian life. 1. And to beare him the afflictions of this world. 10. Also to kepe them sel-um from all pollution of idolatrie bothe in bodie & soule, and to haue none sequentes with idolaters.

1. So we therefore as workers together believe, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

2. For he saith, I haue heard thee in a syme accepted, and in the day of saluation haue
I spoken, & do beholde now we accepted time, beholde now the day of saluation.

3. We giue no cause of offence in any thing, that [our] ministerie shalbe not be reprehended.

by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindness, by the holie Golt, by loue vnfained,

7 By the worde of trueth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteounes on right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by cuil report & good reporte, as deceiuers, & [yet] true:

9 As vnknownen, and [yet] knowen: as dying, and beholde, we liue: as chastened, & [yet] not killed:

10 As sorowing, & [yet] alway reioycing: as poore, and [yet] make many riche: as hauing nothing, and [yet] possessing all things.

11 O Corinthians, our mouth is open vnto you: our heart is made large.

12 Ye are not kept strait in vs, but ye are kept strait in your owne bowelles.

13 Now for the same recompense, I speake as to [my] children, Be you also enlarged.

14 Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for what fellowship hath righteounes with vnrighteounes: and what communion hath light with darkenes?

15 And what concorde hath Christ wth Belial: or what parte hath the beleuer with the infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idoles: for ye are the Temple of the liuing God: as God hath said, I will dwell among them, and walke there: and I will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

17 Wherefore come out from among the, and separate your selues, saith the Lord: & touche none vnclane thing, and I will receiue you.

18 And I will be a Father vnto you, and ye shalbe my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord almightie.

CHAP. VII.

1 He exhorteth them by the promises of God to kepe them selues pure. 3, 7 Assuring them of his loue, 8, 13 And doeth not excuse his faultie towards them, but reioyceth thereat, considering what profit came thereby. 10 Of two sortes of sorowe.

1 Seeing then we haue these promises, dearly beloved, let vs cleanse our selues fro al filthines of the flesh and spirit, & growe vp vnto ful holines in the feare of God.

2 Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man: we haue consumed no man: we haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to [your] condemnatio: for I haue said before, that ye are in our hearts, to dye and liue together.

4 I vse great boldenes of speache towarde you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled wth comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in al our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side, fightings without, and troubles within.

6 But God, that comforteth the abiect, comforted vs at the comming of Titus:

7 And not by his comming onelie, but also by the consolation wherewith he was comforted of you, when he tolde vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to me warde, so that I reioyced muche more.

8 For thogh I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, thogh I did repent: for I perceiue that the same epistle made you sorie, thogh [it were] but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that ye sorowed to repentance: for ye sorowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorowe causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldlie sorowe causeth death.

11 For beholde, this thing that ye haue bene godlie sorie, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, [what] indignation: yea, [what] feare: yea, [how] great desire: yea, [what] zeale: yea, [what] punishment: in al things ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, thogh I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrong, nether for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care towarde you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted, because ye were comforted: but rather we reioyced muche more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spokē vnto you al things in trueth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his inwarde affection is more abundant towarde you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, [and] how with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce [therefore] that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians. 9 And Christ he exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore. Saintes commending their good beginning. 23 After he commendeth Titus and his fellows vnto them.

1 VVe do you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed of God appeared in two things: first, that the Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to helpe others: and next that being in great poverty, were yette liberal towards others.

e He had neither rest in bodie, nor spirit: & it seemeth he alludeth to that which is writen Deut. 32, 23. for the croffe to mans eye is comyn both to godly and to wicked, althogh to contrarie ends. f This ioye ouercame all my sorowes.

* 1. Pet. 2, 19.

g whose heart Gods Spirit doth touche, he is sorie for his finnes committed against so merciful a Father: & these are the frutes of his repentance, as witness Dauid and Peters teares: others which are sorie for their finnes onely for feare of punishment and Gods vengeance fall into desperation, as Cain, Saul, Achitophel & Iudas. h In asking God forgiveness.

i For in iudging and chastising your selues, you prouided Gods anger.

k The Greke words signifyeth his bowels, whereby is mee most great loue and tender affections.

vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great tryall of affliction their ioye abunded, and their moſte extreme pouer^b abunded vnto their riche liberalitie.

3 For to [their] power (I beare recorde) yea, & beyonde their power, they were willing,

4 And prayed vs with great inſtance that we wolde receiue the grace and felowſhip of the miniſtring whiche is towarde the Saintes.

5 And [this they did,] not as we looked for: but gaue their owne ſelues, firſt to ^h Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

6 That we ſhulde exhort^e Titus, that as he had begonne, ſo he wolde alſo accompliſh the ſame grace among you alſo.

7 Therefore, as ye abunde in euerie thing, in faith and worde, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towardes vs, [euē ſo ſe] that ye abunde in this grace alſo.

8 This ſay I not by commandement, but becauſe of the diligence of others: therefore proue I the naturalnes of your loue.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, that he being riche, for your ſakes became poore, that ye through his pouer^e might be made riche.

10 And I ſhew [my] minde herein: for this is expedient for you, w^h haue begonne not to do onely, but alſo to ^d will, a yere ago.

11 Now therefore perſorme to do it alſo, that as [there was] a readines to will, euen ſo ye may perſorme it of ^h which ye haue.

12 For if there be firſt a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, & not according to that he hath not.

13 Nether [is it] that other men ſhulde be caſed and you grieved.

14 But vpon like conditiō, at this tyme your abundance [ſupplieth] their lacke, that alſo their abundāce may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is writtē, ^a He that [gathered] much, had nothing ouer, and he that [gathered] little, had not the leſſe.

16 And thankes be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the ſame care for you.

17 Becauſe he accepted the exhortation, yea, he was ſo carefull that of his owne accorde he went vnto you.

18 And we haue ſent alſo with him the brother, whoſe praiſe is ^h in ^h Goeſpel throughout al the Churches,

19 (And not ſo onely, but is alſo choſen of the churches to be a felowe in our iourney concerning this grace ^h is miniſtered by vs vnto the glorie of the ſame Lord, and [de-claratiō] of your prompt minde)

20 Auojdng this, that no man ſhulde blame vs in this abundance that is miniſtered by vs,

21 ^a Prouiding for honeſt things, not onlie before the Lord, but alſo before men.

22 And we haue ſent with the our brother whome we haue oft tymes proued to be diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I [haue] in you.

23 Whether [any do enquire] of Titus, [he is] my felowe and helper to you warde: or of our brethren, they are meſſengers of the Churches, [and] the ^k glorie of Chriſt.

24 Wherefore ſhewe towarde them, & before the Churches the profe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cauſe of Titus and his companions comming to the. 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cherefully, 7 Shewing what frute wil come thereof.

1 ^FOr as touching the miniſtring to the Saintes, it is ſuperfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I know your readines of minde, where of I boalt my ſelf of you vnto them of Macedonia, [and ſay] that Achaia was prepared a yere ago, and your zeale hath prouoked manie.

3 Now haue I ſent the brethren, leſt our reioycing ouer you ſhulde be in vaine in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue ſaid) be readie:

4 Leſt if they of Macedonia come with me, & finde you vnprepared, we (I nede not to ſay, you) ſhulde be aſhamed in this my conſtant boaltng.

5 Wherefore, I thought it neceſſarie to exhort^e the brethren to come before vnto you and to finiſhe your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might be readie, [and come] as of beneuolence, and not as of ſparing.

6 This yet [remēber] that he which ſoweth ſparingly, ſhal reape alſo ſparingly, and he ^h ſoweth liberally, ſhal reape alſo liberally.

7 As euerie man wiſheth in his heart, [ſo let him giue,] nor ^a grudgingly, or of neceſſitie: ^a for God loueth a cherefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make all grace to abound^e towardes you, that ye alwayes haue ^a all ſufficiencie in all things, may abound^e in euerie ^b good worke,

9 ^a As it is writtē, ^a He hath ſparſed abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

10 Alſo he that findeth ſeede to the ſower, wil miniſter likewiſe bread for foode, and multiplie your ſede, and increaſe the frutes of your beneuolence,

11 That on all partes ye may be made riche vnto all liberalitie, which cauſeth through vs thankſgiuing vnto God.

12 For the miniſtration of this ſeruiſe not onelic

14 And by^d their prayer for you, † desiring after you greatly, for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thanks therefore [be] vnto God for his vnspeakeable gift.

¶ CHAP. X.

¶ He toucheth the false Apostles and defendeth his autoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 13 And how he useth it.

1 Now I Paul myself beseeche you by the mekenes, & gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you, [am]^a a base, but am bolde toward you being absent:

2 And [this] I require you, that I nede not to be bolde when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bolde against some, w^c esteeme vs as though we walked^b according to the flesh.

3 Neuertheles though we walke in the flesh, yet we do not warre after the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warrefare are not carnal, but mightie through God, to cast downe holdes)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, & euerie high thing^c is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie euerie thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing readie the vengeance against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Loke ye on things after the appearance: If anie man trust in him self that he is Christs, let him consider this againe of him self, that as he [is] Christs, euen so [are we] Christs.

8 For though I shulde boast somewhat more of our autoritie, which the Lord hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I shulde haue no shame.

9 [This I say] † I may not seme as [it were] to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, † saith he, are fore & strōg but his bodelie presence is weake, and his speache is of no value.

11 Let suche one thinke this, that suche as we are in worde by letters when we are absent, suche [will we be] also in dede, whē we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selfs to them, which praise them selues: but they vnderstand not that they^a measure them selues w^c them selues, and compare them selues with them selues.

13 But we will not reioyce of things, which are not within [our] measure,^a but according to the^c measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not our selues beyonde [our] measure, as though we had not attained vnto you: for euē to you also haue we come [in preaching] the Gospel of Christ,

15 Not boasting of things which are without [our] measure: [that is], of other mens labours: and we hope, when your faith shal increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preache the Gospel in those [regions] which [are] beyonde you: not to reioyce in^e another mans line, [that is] in the things that are prepared already.

17 *But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in^f the Lord.

18 For he^g praiseth him self, is not allowed, but he whome the Lord praiseth.

¶ CHAP. XI.

1 He declareth his affection towardes them, 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same. 13 The fetches of^h false Apostles. 16 The peruerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22 And his owne praises.

1 VV Olde to God, ye colde suffer a litle my^a foolishnes, & in dede^b ye suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with godly ielousie: for^c I haue prepared you for one housband, to present you [as] a pure virgine to Christ:

3 But I feare lest as the^d serpēt beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes shulde be corrupte from the simplicitie that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh, preacheth another^e Iesus thē him whome we haue preached: or if ye receiue another^f spirit then that w^c ye haue receiued: ether another Gospel, then that ye haue receiued, ye might well haue suffred [him].

5 Verely I^g suppose that I was not inferior to the verie chief Apostles.

6 And though [I be]^h rude in speaking, yet [I am] not [so] in knowledge, but among you we haue bene made manifest to the vtmost in all things.

7 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my self, that ye might be exalted, & because I preached to you the Gospel of God frely?

8 Iⁱ robbed other Churches and toke wages [of them] to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, & had nede, I was^j not slothfull to the hinderance his hands for his liuing, but in his extreme pouertie preached, burdening any man, or els waxing slothfull to do his duetie to euertie man.

* Ephes. 4, 8.

^c That is, the gifts and vocatio, which God had giuen him to winne others by.

^a He calleth^h praising of him self doctage toⁱ which thing the arrogancie of^j false apostles called hi, who sought nothing els but to ouerthrow^k church by diminishing the autoritie of his ministerie.

^b To speake in myne owne commendation.

^c The minister marieth Christ

^e Gen. 3, 4.

^f That is, more perfite doctrine concerning christ Iesus.

^g More excellent gifts of^h Spirit by other mens preaching.

^h They did not preache Christ more purely thā I did: for in this behalfe I was nothing inferior toⁱ chiefest Apostles.

ⁱ That is, vnto worldly eloquence.

^j Other churches relieved me.

^k He did not onelie labour w^c diligēty, without to euertie man.

^d Besides that by their liberallie God shall be praised, they also shalbe commended to God by their prayers whome they haue holpē, yea, & almen shal reuerence them, as being endued with an excellēt gift of God. Or, greatly affectioned towarde you.

^e These wordes his backbiters vsed, thinking thereby to diminish his autoritie, as verse 10.

^f As though we boasted of our selues by a carnall affection.

^g Meaning, a certeine man among them, w^c thus spake of Paul.

^h He that measureth any thing, must haue some line or measure to meure by: & not to measure a thing by himself: so these boasters must measure them selues by their worthie affect: and if they will compare with others, let them shewe what countreis, what times, & people they haue wōne to the Lord: for who will praise that souldier, which onelie at the table can finely talke ofⁱ warres, & whē he cometh to^j brunt, is neither valiant nor expert.

13 For what is it, wherein ye were inferiours vnto other Churches, except that I haue not bene slothful to your hinderance: forgiue me this wrong.

14 Beholde the thirde tyme I am readie to come vnto you, and yet wil I not be slothful to your hinderance: for I seke not yours, but you: for the children ought not to laye vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will moste gladly bestowe, & will be bestowed for your soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am loued.

21 [I feare] lest whē I come againe, my God shall abase me among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vncleannes, and fornication, and waronnes, which they haue committed.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Seing that ye seke experience of Christ, & speaketh in me, which towarde you is not weake, but is mightie in you.

4 For though he was crucified concerning [his] infirmities, yet liueth he through the power of God. And we no dout are weake in him: but we shall liue with him, through the power of God towarde you.

5 Proue your selues whether ye are in the faith: examine your selues: knowe ye not your owne selues, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray vnto God & ye do none euill, not that we shulde seme approued, but that ye shulde do that which is honest: though we be as reprobates.

8 For we can not [do] any thing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and that ye are strong: this also we wishe for [euen] your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these things being absent, lest whē I am present, I shulde vse sharpnes, according to the power whiche the Lord hath giuen me, to edification, & not to destruction.

THE

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAUL TO THE GALATIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Galatians after they had bene instructed by S. Paul in the truth of the Gospel, gave place to false Apostles, who entering in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Law must be necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the granting thereof is the overthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospell is obscured: the conscience burdened: the testaments confounded: mans grace established. And because the false teachers did pretend, as though they had bene sent of the chief Apostles, and that Paul had no autoritie, but spake of him self, he proueth both: that he is an Apostle ordained by God, & also, that he is not inferior to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he proceedeth to his purpose, prouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their tyme had their vse and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the truth & the end thereof is come: wherefore men ought now to embrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, & not to haue their consciences shamed in the gennes of mans traditions: finally, he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth, and what exercises apperteyne thereunto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffered them selues to be seduced by the false apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the Law were necessarie to saluation, & And detesteth them that preache anie other wize then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his owne conuersion, magnifieth his office and Apostleship, and declareth him self to be equal with the chief Apostles.

I A V L * an Apostle (not* of men, nether by mā, but by Iesus Christ, and God the Father w^h hath raised him from the dead) And all the breth^re whiche are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace [be] with you and peace from God the Father, & [from] our Lord Iesus Christ, 4 Which gaue him self for our finnes, that he might deliuer vs* from this* present euill worlde according to the will of God euen our Father, 5 To whome [be] glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I marueile that ye are so sone remoued away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the^d grace of Christ, 7 Which is not another [Gospel], I saue that there be some which trouble you, and intend to* peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But thogh that we, or an Angel from heauen preache vnto you otherwise, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be^t accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preache vnto you otherwise, then that ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For now preache I mans [doctrine], or Gods? or go I about to please men? for if I shulde yet please men, I were not the seru^{ant} of Christ.

11 *Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospell which was preached of me, was not after^b man.

12 For nether receiued I it of man, nether was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, how that I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it;

14 And profited in the Iewish religion aboue many of my companiōs of myne owne nation, and was much more zelous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called [me] by his grace)

16 To reuile his Sonne in me, that I shulde preache him* among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with^a flesh and blood:

17 Nether came I againe to Ierusalem to the which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 The after thre yer^s I came againe to Ierusalem to visite Peter, and abode with him fiftene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles sawe I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, behold, I write before God that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia: for I was vnknown by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But thei had heard onely [some say,] He which persecuted vs in tyme past, now preacheth^a faith, which before he destroyed. 23 And they glorified God for me.

1. For what is more contrary to our free iustification by faith, then the iustification by Law, or our workes?

1. Therefore to lose these eyes to gether, it is to lose light & darkness, death & life, & death & life.

1. If it were possible, that an Angel shulde so do whereby Paul declareth & certifieth of his preaching.

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleship to be of God. 3 He sheweth why Titus was not circumcised. 6 And that he is nothing inferior to other Apostles. 11 Yea, and that he hath reproveth Peter the Apostle of the Jewes. 16 After he cometh to the principall point, which is to prove that iustification onely cometh of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the workes of the Law.

Then fourtene yerres after, I went vp againe to Ierusalem with Barnabas, and toke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and communicated with them of the Gospel which I preache among the Gentiles, but particularly with them that were the chiefe, lest by any meanes I shulde runne, or had runne in vaine.

3 But nether yet Titus which was with me, though he were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised.

4 For all the false brethren that crept in: who came in priuily to spie out our libertie, & we haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome we gaue not place by subiection for an houre, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 And of them which seemed to be great, [I was not taught] (whar they were in tyme passed, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no mans persone) neuertheles, they that are the chief, did communicate nothing with me.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospel ouer the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as [the Gospel] ouer the Circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie by Peter in the Apostleship ouer the Circumcision, was also mightie by me towarde the Gentiles)

9 And when Iames, and Cephas, and Iohn knewe of the grace that was giuen vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they gaue to me and to Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we shulde preache vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the Circumcision,

10 [Warning] onely that we shulde remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to do.

11 And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstode him to his face: for he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, he ate with the Gentiles: but whe thei were come, he withdrewe and separated him selfe, fearing them which were of the Circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him, in somuche that Barnabas was broght into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I sawe, that they went northe right way to the truth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Iewe, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why constrainest thou the Gentiles to do like the Iewes?

15 We [which are] Iewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the workes of the Law, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: euen we, (I say,) haue beleued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Law, because that by the workes of Law no fleshe shalbe iustified.

17 If then while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are founde sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I buyld againe the things that I haue destroyed, I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Law am dead to the Law, [and] that I might liue vnto God, I am crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue yet, not I now, but Christ liueth in me: & in that that I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I do not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousness [be] by the Law, then Christ dyed without a cause.

CHAP. III.

He rebuketh them sharply. 2 And proueth by diuers reasons that iustification is by faith. 6 As appeareth by the example of Abraham. 10. 19. 24. And by the office, and the end, both of the Law, 11. 25. And of faith.

Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you that ye shulde not obey the truth, to whome Iesus Christ before was described in your sight, [and] among you crucified?

2 This onely wolde I learne of you, Receiued ye the Spirit by the workes of Law, or by the hearing of faith [preached:]

3 Are ye so foolish, that after ye haue begonne in the Spirit, ye wolde now be made perfit by the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine? if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore that ministrereth to you Spirit, & worketh miracles among you, doeth he it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith [preached:]

6 [Yea rather] as Abraham beleued God, & it was imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they which are offaith, the same are the children of Abraham.

c That is, the doctrine of satisfaction through faith in Iesus Christ, as chap. 1. 11.

d The false Apostles taught that Christ profited nothing except thei were circumcised, and that the Law was the perfect end, & Christ doctrine onely the rudiments.

6. roman. 4. 3.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing ¹ God wolde iustifie the Gentils through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, [saying] ² In thee shall all the Gentils be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the ³ workes of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, ⁴ Cursed is euerie man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Law, to do them.

11 And that no mā is iustified by the Lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: ⁵ for the iust shall liue by faith:

12 And the Law is not of faith: but ⁶ the man ⁷ shall do those things, shall liue in the.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Law, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, ⁸ Cursed is euerie one that hangeth on tre)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that we might receiue the ⁹ promes of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, ¹⁰ I speake as men do, ¹¹ Though it be but a mans couenant when it is confirmed, [yet] no man doeth abrogate it, or ¹² addeth any thing thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his sede were the promes made. He saith not, And to the sedes, as [speaking] of many: but, And to thy sede, as of one, which ¹³ is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Law which was foure hundredth and thirtie yerres after, can not disanull the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, that it shulde make the promes of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance [be] of the Law, [it is] no more by the promes: but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promes.

19 Wherefore the [serueth] the Law? It was added because of the ¹⁴ transgressiōs, till the sede came, vnto the which the promes was made: and it was ordeined by ¹⁵ Angels in ¹⁶ hand of a Mediatour.

20 Now a Mediatour is not [a Mediatour] of ¹⁷ one: but God is ¹⁸ one.

21 [Is] the Law then against the promes of God? God forbid: for if there had bene a Law giuen ¹⁹ w^{ch} colde haue giuen life, surely righteousness shuld haue bene by the Law.

22 But the Scripture hathe ²⁰ concluded ²¹ all vnder sinne, that the promes by the faith of Iesus Christ shulde be giue to the ²² beleue.

23 But before ²³ faith came, we were kept vnder the Law, & shut vp vnto the faith, which shulde afterwarde be reueiled.

24 Wherefore the ²⁴ Law was our scholemaster [to bring vs] to Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder ²⁵ a scholemaster.

26 For ye are all the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Iesus.

27 ²⁶ For as many as are baptised into Christ, haue put on Christ.

28 There is nether Iewe nor Grecian: there is nether bonde nor fre: there is nether male nor female: for ye are all ²⁷ one in Christ Iesus.

29 And if [ye be] Christs, then are ye Abrahams sede, and heires by promes.

CHAP. III.

¹ He sheweth wherfore the ceremonies were ordeined. ² VVhich being shadowes must end when Christ is commeth. ³ He moueth them by certeine exhortations. ⁴ And confirmeth his argument with a strong example or allegorie.

¹ Then I say, that the ¹ heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of all,

² But is vnder ² tutors and gouernours, vntill the tyme appointed of the father.

³ Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the ³ rudiments of the worlde.

⁴ But when the fulnes of tyme was come, God sent forth his Sonne made of a woman, [and] made ⁴ vnder the Law,

⁵ That he might redeme them which were vnder the Law, that we ⁵ might receiue the adoption of the sonnes.

⁶ And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the ⁶ Spirit of his Sonne into your heartes, which cryeth, ⁶ Abba, Father.

⁷ Wherefore, thou art no more ⁷ a seruant but a sonne: now if [thou be] a sonne, [thou art] also the heire of God through Christ.

⁸ But euen then, when ye ⁸ knewe not God, ye did seruiue vnto them, which by ⁸ nature are not gods.

CHAP. V.

^a He laboureth to drawe them away from Circumcision, ¹⁷ And sheweth them the battell betwixt the spirit & the flesh, and the frutes of them bothe.

¹ Stand fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

² Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be^a circumcised, Christ shal profite you nothing.

³ For I testifie againe to euerie man, which is circumcised, that he is bounde to kepe the whole Law.

⁴ Ye are^a abolished from Christ: whosoever are iustified by the Law, ye are fallen from grace.

⁵ For we through the Spirit^b waite for the hope of righteousness through faith.

⁶ For in Iesus Christ nether Circumcision auaieth any thing, nether vncircumcisiō, but faith which worketh by loue.

⁷ Ye did runne wel: who did let you, that ye did not obeie the^c trueth?

⁸ [It is] not^d perſuasion of him that^d calleth you.

⁹ A litle^e leauen doeth leauen the^e whole lombe.

¹⁰ I haue trust in you through the Lord, that ye wil be none otherwise^f minded: but he that troubleth you, shal beare^g [his] condemnation, whosoever he be.

¹¹ And brethren, if I yet preache circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the^h slander of the crosse abolished.

¹² Wolde to God they were euen cut of, which do disquiet you.

¹³ For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie: onely vie notⁱ [your] libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

¹⁴ For^j all the Law is fulfilled in one worde, which is this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

¹⁵ If ye byte & deuoure one another, take hede lest ye be consumed one of another.

¹⁶ Then I say, * walke in the^k Spirit, and ye shal not fulfil the lustes of the flesh.

¹⁷ For the^l flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrarie one to the other, so that ye can not do^m the same things that ye wolde.

¹⁸ And if ye be led by theⁿ Spirit, ye are not vnder the Law.

¹⁹ Moreover the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are adulterie, fornication, vncleannes, wantonnes,

²⁰ Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions,

Q. i.

¹³ And ye knowe, how through^o infirmitie of the flesh I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first.

¹⁴ And the tryal of me which was in my flesh, ye despised not, nether abhorred: but ye receiued me as an^p Angel of God, [yea,] as Christ Iesus.

¹⁵ What was then your felicitie? for I beare you recorde, that if it had bene possible, ye wolde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

¹⁶ Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the trueth?

¹⁷ They are ielous ouer you^q amisse: yea, they wolde exclude^r you, that ye shulde altogether loue them.

¹⁸ But it is a good thing to loue earnestly alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you,

¹⁹ My litle children, of whome I trauaile in birth againe, vntil Christ be^s formed in you.

²⁰ And I wolde I were with you now, ^t I might change my voyce: for I am in doute of you.

²¹ Tell me, ye that wil be vnder the Law, do ye not heare the Law?

²² For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, * one by a seruant, & * one by a fre woman.

²³ But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the flesh: & he which was of the fre woman, [was borne] by promes.

²⁵ (For Agar [or] Sina is a mountaine in Arabia, & it answereth to Ierusalem w^x now is) and she is in bondage with her children.

²⁶ But Ierusalem, which is^y above, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

²⁷ For it is written, * Reioyce thou^z barre that bearest no children: breake forthe, & crye, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many mo children, then she w^{aa} hath an housband.

²⁸ * Therefore, brethren, we are after^{ab} manner of Isaac, children of the promes.

²⁹ But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him^{ac} [was borne] after the spirit, euen so [it is] now.

³⁰ But what faith the Scripture? * Put out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruant shal not be heire with the sonne of the fre woman.

³¹ Then brethren, we are not children of the seruant, but of the^{ad} fre woman.

25 If we liue in the Spirit, let vs alſo walke in the Spirit.

CHAP. VI.

1 He exhorteth them to vs gentlenes towards the weak, 2 And to ſhewe their brotherlie loue and modeſtie : 6 Alſo to provide for their miniſter, 9 To perfeure, 14 To reioyce in the croſſe of Chriſt, 15 To newnes of life, 16 And laſt of all wiſeth to them with the reſt of the faithfull all proſperitie.

Brethren, if a man be fallen by occaſion into any faule, ye which are ſpiritual, reſtore ſuche one with the ſpirit of mekenes, conſidering thy ſelf, leſt thou alſo be temptred.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and ſo fulfil the Law of Chriſt.

3 For if anie man ſeme to him ſelf, that he is ſome what, when he is nothing, he deceiueth him ſelf in his imagination.

4 But let euerie man proue his owne worke, and then ſhal he haue reioycing in him ſelf onely and not in another.

5 For euerie man ſhal beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the worde, make him that hath taught him, partaker of all [his] goods.

7 Be not deceiued : God is not mocked : for whatſoeuer a man ſoweth, that ſhal he alſo reape.

8 For he that ſoweth to his fleſh, ſhal of the fleſh reape corruption : but he that ſoweth to the ſpirit, ſhal of the ſpirit reape life euerlaſting.

9 Let vs not therefore be wearie of wel- doing : for in due ſeaſon we ſhal reape, if we faint not.

10 While we haue therefore time, let vs do good vnto all men, but ſpecially vnto the, which are of the houſholde of faith.

11 ¶ Ye ſee how large a lettre I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as deſire to make a faire ſhewe in fleſh, they conſtraine you to be circumciſed, onely becauſe they wolde not ſuffer perfecutiō for the croſſe of Chriſt.

13 For they them ſelues which are circumciſed, kepe not the Law, but deſire to haue you circumciſed, that they might reioyce in your fleſh.

14 But God forbid that I ſhoulde reioyce, but in the croſſe of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, whereby the worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

15 For in Chriſt Ieſus nether circumciſion auaieth anie thing, nor vncircumciſion, but a new creature.

16 And as manie as walke according to this rule, peace ſhal be vpon them, and mercie, and vpon the Iſrael of God.

17 From hence forth let no man put me to buſineſſe : for I beare in my bodie the marks of the Lord Ieſus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt [be] with your ſpirit, Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE EPHESIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

Writte Paul was priſoner in Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians falſe teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which he had taught them, by reaſon whereof he wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And firſt, after his ſalutation, he aſſureth them of ſalutation, becauſe they were thereunto predeſtinate by the fre election of God, before they were borne, and ſcaled vp to this eternal liſe by the holie Goſt, giuen vnto them by the Goſpel, the knowledge of the which myſterie he prayeth God to confirme towards them. And to the intent they ſhoulde not glorie in them ſelues, he ſheweth them their extreme miſerie, wherein they were plunged before they knewe Chriſt, as people without God, Gentiles to whom the promiſes were not made, and yet by the fre mercie of God in Chriſt Ieſus, they were ſaued, and he appointed to be their Apoſtle, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he deſireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perfect vnderſtanding of his Sonne, and exhorteth them likewiſe to be mindeſul of ſo great benefites, nether to be moued with the falſe apoſtles, which ſeke to ouerthrowe their faith, and trade vnder ſore the Goſpel, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternal counſel of God : who by this meanes preferreth onely his Church. Therefore the Apoſtle commendeth his miniſterie, for in ſuche as God thereby reigneth among men, and cauſeth it to bring forth moſte plentiful frutes, as innocencie, holennes, with all ſuche offices appertaining to godli- nes. Laſt of all he declareth not onely in general what ought to be the liſe of the Chriſtians, but alſo ſheweth particularly what things concerne euery mans vocation.

e For ſhame not to provide for their corporall neceſſities, ſeefe our ſoules w the heauenly deities.

1. Cor. 9. 7. f. He promiſeth the miniſters ſhall be now- riſhed : for if men onely provide for worlde- lie things with- out reſpect of the liſe euerlaſting, then they procure to them ſelues death, & mocke God, who haſte gi- uen them his mi- niſters to teach them heauenly things.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation, ⁴ He sheweth that the chief cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. ¹⁶ He declareth his good wil towards them, giuing thanks and praying God for their faith. ²¹ The marcellie of Christ.

RAVL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God to [†] Saintes, which are at Ephesus, and to [†] faithful in Christ Iesus:

² Grace [be] w you, and peace from God our Father, & [fro] the Lord Iesus Christ.

³ *Blessed [be] God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which hath blessed vs with all *spiritual blessing in heauenlie [†] things in Christ:

⁴ *As he hath ^b chosen vs in him, before [†] fundation of the worlde, [†] we *shulde be ^h holic, & without blame before hi in loue:

⁵ Who hath predestinate vs, to be ^d adopted through Iesus Christ vnto him self, according to the good pleasure of his wil,

⁶ To the ^e praise of the glorie of his grace, wherewith he hath made vs accepted in [his] beloued,

⁷ By whome we haue redemptio through his blood, [euen] the forgiuenes of sinnes, according to his riche grace:

⁸ Whereby he hath bene abundant toward vs in all wisdom & vnderstanding,

⁹ And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his wil according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed ^f in him,

¹⁰ That in the dispensation of the fulnes of the times he might gather together in one ^g all things, bothe which are in heauē and which are in earth, [euen] in Christ:

¹¹ In whome also we are chosen, when we were predestinate according to the purpose of him, which worketh all things after the counsel of his owne wil,

¹² That ^h we, which first trusted in Christ, shulde be vnto the praise of his glorie:

¹³ In whome also ye [haue trusted] after [†] ye heard the worde of trueth, [euen] the Gospel of your saluation, wherein also after that ye beleued, ye were sealed with the holic Spirit of promes, ¹⁴ Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vntil the redēption of the possession purchased vnto the praise of his glorie.

¹⁵ Therefore also after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, & loue toward all the Saintes,

¹⁶ I cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

¹⁷ That [†] God of our Lord Iesus Christ the Father of glorie, might giue vnto you the Spirit of wisdom, and reuelation through the knowledge of [†] him,

¹⁸ That the eyes of your vnderstanding may be lightened, [†] ye may knowe what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of his glorious inheritance [is] in the Saintes,

¹⁹ And what is [†] exceeding greatnes of his power toward vs, which beleue, * according to [†] working of his mightie power,

²⁰ Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and [†] set him at his right hand in the heauenlie [places],

²¹ Farre aboue all principallitie, & power, & might, & domination, & euerie Name, that is named, not in this worlde onely, but also in that that is to come,

²² * And hath made all things subiect vnder his fete, & hath appointed him ouer all things [to be] the head to the Church,

²³ Which is his bodie, [euen] the ^m fulnes of him that filleth all in all things.

CHAP. II.

[†] To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onely cause of saluation. ¹¹ He sheweth them what maner of people they were before their conuersion. ¹⁸ And what they are now in Christ.

¹ ANd [†] you [hath he quickened] [†]

² Wherein, in time past ye walked according to the course of this worlde, [&] after the [†] prince that ruleth in the aire, [euen] the spirit, that now worketh in the children of disobedience,

³ Among whome we also had our conuersion in time past, in [†] lustes of our flesh, in fulfilling the wil of the flesh, & of the minde, and were ^b by nature the children of wrath, as wel as others.

⁴ But God [†] is riche in mercie through his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

⁵ Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs [†] together [†] in Christ, [by whose] grace ye are saued,

⁶ And hath ^d raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenlie [places] in Christ Iesus,

⁷ That he might shew in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnes toward vs in Christ Iesus,

⁸ For by grace are ye saued through faith, and that not of your selues: it [is] the gifte of God, 11 According to the eternal purpose, w he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord.

12 By whome we haue boldnes & entrance with confidence, by faith in him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glorie.

14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,

15 (Of whome is named the whole s familie in h heauen and in earth)

16 That he might grante you according to the riches of his glorie, t ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your i hearts by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May be able to comprehend with all Saintes, what is the k breadth, and length, and deapth, and height:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, w passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all l fulnes of God,

f The Church being gathered of so many kindes of people, is an example, or a glasse for the Angels to behold the wisdom of God in, who hath turned their particular discorde into an vniuersal concord, & of the Synagogue of bondage hath made the Church of freedom.

d Although the Gentiles had reuelations certaine, yet it was not in coparison of that abundance which was shewed when t Gentiles were called: neither yet was the time, nor the manner knowne.

uen as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.

5 [There is] one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,

6 *One God & Father of all, which is aboue all, and through all, & in you all.

7 *But vnto euerie one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, *When he ascended vp on hie, he led captiuitie captiue, and gaue giftes vnto men.

9 (Now, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the lowest partes of the earth?

10 He that descended, is euen the same y ascended, farre aboue all heauens, that he might fill all things)

11 *He therefore gaue some [to be] Apostles, and some Prophetes, & some Euangelistes, & some Pastours, and Teachers,

12 For the gathering together of Saints, for the worke of the ministerie [and] for the edification of the bodie of Christ,

13 Til we all mete together (in vnitie of faith & knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a perfite man, [&] vnto the measure of the age of the fulnes of Christ,

14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering & caryed about with euerie winde of doctrine, by the deceit of me, and with craftines, whereby they laye in waite to deceiue.

15 But let vs followe the truth in loue, & in all things growe vp into him, which is the head, [that is] Christ,

16 By whome all the bodie being coupled and knit together by euerie ioynt, for the furniture [thereof] (according to the effectual power, [which is] in the measure of euerie parte) receiueith increase of the bodie, vnto the edifying of it self in loue.

17 This I say therefore and testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walke not as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their minde,

18 Hauing their cogitation darkened, and being strangers from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardenes of their heart:

19 Which being past feling, haue giuen them selues vnto wantonnes, to worke all vncleannes, [euen] with griedines.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If so be ye haue heard him, and haue bene taught by him, as the truth is in Iesus,

22 [That is,] *that ye cast of, concerning the conuersion in time past, the olde man, which is corrupt through the deceivable lustes,

23 And be renewed in the spirit of your minde,

24 *And put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness, and true holines.

25 *Wherefore cast of lying, & speake euerie matreuth vnto his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 *Be angry, but sinne not: let not the sunne go downe vpon your wrath, 27 *Nether giue place to the deuil.

28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour and worke with his hands the thing which is good, y he may haue to giue vnto him that needeth.

29 *Let no corrupt communication proceede out of your mouths: but that which is good, to the vse of edifying, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

30 And *griue not the holie Spirit of God, by whome ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and angre, and wrath, crying, and euil speaking be put away from you, with all malicioufnes.

32 *Be ye courteous one to another, & tender hearted, forgiving one another, euen as God for Christs sake forgaued you.

CHAP. V.

1 BE ye therefore followers of God, as be children.

12 For it is shame euē to speake of ¶ things, which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things when they are reprovmaketh all things manifest.

14 Wherefore he saith, ^h Awake thou that Christ shall giue the light.

15 Take hede therefore that ye walke cir-

17 * Wherefore, be ye not vnwise, but vn-derstand what the wil of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunke with wine, wherein is excess: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in psalms, and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts,

20 Giuing thākes alwaie for all things vnto God euē, the Father, in the Name of our Lords Iesus Christ,

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the ^m feare of God.

22 ¶ * Wiues, submit your selues vnto your housebands, as vnto the Lord.

23 * For the houseband is the wiues head,
euē as Christ is the head of the Church,
& the same is the sauour of his ⁿ bodie.

24 Therefore as the Church is in subiec-tion to Christ, euē so let the wiues be to their housebands in euerie thing.

25 ¶ * Housebands, loue your wiues, euē as Christ loued the Church, & gaue himself for it,

26 That he might sanctifie it, & cleanse it by the ° washing of water through ¶ worde,

27 That he might make it vnto him self a glorious Church, not hauing ¶ spot or wrinkle, or anie such thing: but that it shulde be holie and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: he ¶ loueth his wife, loueth him self.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth & cherisheth it, euē as the Lord [doeth] the Church.

30 For we are members of his bodie, & of his flesh, and of his bones,

his flesh, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shall a man leaue father & mother, & shall cleaue to his wife, and they twaine shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great secret, but I speake concerning Christ, & concerning the Church.

33 Therefore euerie one of you, [do ye so:] let euerie one loue his wife, euē as him self, & [let] the wife [be] that she feare her houseband.

with feare and trembling in singleness of your hearts, as vnto Christ.

6 Not with seruice to the eye, as men pleasers, but as the seruants of Christ, doing the wil of God from the heart,

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

THE ARGVMENT.

PAVL being warned by the holie Ghost to go to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a cite of the same coun-trei: but because his charge was to preache the Gospel vniuersally to all the Gentiles, he trauielled from place to place till at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, whereof the Philippians, being aduertised, sent their minister Epaphro-ditus with relief vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein he com-mendeth them that they stode manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good will towards them, and exhorteth them ^t his imprisonment make them not to shrink: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed & not diminished: especially he desirerh them to flee ambition, and to embrace modestie, promising to send Timotheus vnto them, who shulde instruct them in matters more amply: yea, and that he him self wolde also come vnto them, adding likewise the cause of their ministers so long abode. And because there were to greater enemies to the crosse then the false apostles, he confuteth their false doctrine, by prouing onely Christ to be the end of all true religion, with whome we haue all thing, and without whome we haue nothing: so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this followe certeine admonitions both particular & general, w^t testification of his affection towards them, and thankful accepting of their beneuolence.

28 And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition, & to you of saluation, and that of God.

29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, that not onely ye shulde beleue in him, but also suffer for his sake,

30 Having the same fight, which ye sawe in me, and now heare [to be] in me.

3 That nothing be done through contention of vaine glorie, but that in meeknes of minde, euerie man esteeme other better then him self.

4 Loke not euerie man on his owne things, but euerie man also on the things of other men.

5 Let the same minde be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,

6 Who being in forme of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 * But he made him self of no reputation, and toke on him the forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, & was founde in shape as a man.

continue in the Lord, ye beloved.

2 I pray Euodias, & beseeche Syntyche, that they be of one accorde in the Lord.

3 Yea, and I beseeche thee, faithful yokefellowe, helpe those [women,] w^h laboured with me in ^{the} Gospel, with Clemente also, and with other my fellowe labourers, whose names [are] in the *a boke of life.

4 Reioyce in the Lord alway, againe I say, reioyce.

5 Let your patient minde be knowne vnto all men. The Lord [is] b at hand.

6 *Be nothing careful, but in all things let your requestes be shewed vnto God in prayer and supplication with giuing of thanks.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shal c preferue your hearts and mindes in Christ Iesus.

8 Furthermore, brethre, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things [are] honest, whatsoeuer things [are] iust, whatsoeuer things [are] pure, whatsoeuer things [are] perteine to loue, whatsoeuer things [are] of good reporte, if there [be] anie vertue, or if there [be] anie praise, thinke on these things,

9 Which ye haue bothe learned and receiued, and heard, and sene in me: those things do, and the God of peace shalbe with you.

10 Now I reioyce also in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are d reuined againe to care for me, wherein notwithstanding ye were careful, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of e want: for I haue learned in whatsoeuer state I am, therewith to be content.

12 And I can be abased, and I can abunde: euerie where in all things I am instructed bothe to be ful, and to be hongerie, & to abunde, and to haue want.

13 I am able to [do] all things through the helpe off Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding ye haue wel done, f ye did communicate to mine affliction:

15 And ye Philippians knowe also that in the s beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me concerning the h matter of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.

16 For euen [when I was] in Thessalonica, ye sent once, & afterwarde againe for my necessitie, 17 Not that I desire a gift: but I desire the frute which may further your reckening.

18 Now I haue receiued all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled, after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus that which [came] from you, an odour that smelleth swete, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasant to God.

19 And my God shal fulfil all your necessities through his riches with glorie in Iesus Christ.

20 Vnto God euen our Father [be] praise for euermore, Amen.

21 Salute all the Saintes in Christ Iesus. The brethren, which are w me, grete you.

22 All the Saintes salute you, and mozte of all they which are of i Cefars householde.

23 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ [be] with you all, Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE COLOSSIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Epistle S. Paul putteth difference betwene the liuelie, effectual and true Christ, and the fained, counterfeit and imagined Christ, whome the false apostles taught. And first, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them increase of faith, to esteeme the excellencie of Gods benefite towards them, teaching them also that saluation, and whatsoeuer good thing can be desired, standeth onely in Christ, whome onely we embrace by the Gospel. But forasmuche as the false brethren wolde haue mixed the Law with the Gospel, he toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to staye onely on Christ, without whome all things are but mere vanitie. And as for circumcision, abstinence from meates, external holines, yeshipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, he vtterly condemneth, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that now the exercises of the Christians stande in mortification of the flesh, newnes of life, with other like offices appertaining bothe generally, and particularly to all the faithful.

CHAP. I.

He giueth thanks vnto God for their faith, 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 Praieth for the increase of their faith. 13 He sheweth vnto the true Christ, and discouereth the counterfeit Christ of the false apostles. 25 He approueth his authoritie & charge, 28 And of his faithful executing of the same.

RAVL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God, & Timotheus [our] brother, To them, w̄ are at Colosse, Saintes & faithful brethren in Christ: Grace [be] with you, & peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lord Iesus Christ.

We giue thanks to God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, alwayes praying for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith ^b in Christ Iesus, & of your loue toward all Saītes, 5 For the hopes sake, which is layd vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the worde of truth, [which is] ^f Gospel.

6 Which is come vnto you, euē as [it is] vnto all the worlde, & is fruteful, as [it is] also among you, from the day that ye heard and truly knewe the grace of God,

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our deare felowe seruant, w̄ is for you a faithful minister of Christ:

8 Who hathe also declared vnto vs your loue, [which ye haue] ^c by the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the daye we heard [of it,] cease not to pray for you, & to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of ^d his wil, in all wisdome, & spiritual vnderstanding,

10 *That ye might walke worthie of the Lord, and please [him] in all things, being ^e fruteful in all good workes, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

11 Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, & long suffering with ioyfulness,

12 Giuing thanks vnto the Father, which hathe made vs mete to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saintes in light:

13 Who hathe deliuered vs from ^f power of darkenes, and hathe translated vs into the kingdome ^g of his deare Sonne.

14 In whome we haue redemption through his blood, [that is,] ^h forgiveness of offences,

15 Who is the ⁱ image of the inuisible God, the ^j first borne of euerie creature.

16 *For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and inuisible: whether [they be] Thronets, or Dominions, or Principalities, or powers, all things were created by him and for him.

17 And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the bodie of the Church: he is the beginning, ^k [&] the first borne of the dead, that in all things he might haue the preeminence.

19 *For it pleased [the Father,] that in him shulde all ^l fulnes dwell,

20 And by him to reconcile ^m all things vnto him self, and to set at peace through the blood of his crosse bothe ⁿ things in earth, and the things in heauen.

21 And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because [your] mindes [were set] in euil workes, hathe he now also reconciled,

22 In the bodie of his flesh through death, to make you ^o holie, and vnblameable, & without faute in his sight,

23 *If ye continue, grounded & stablished in the faith, and be not moued away from the hope of the Gospel, whereof ye haue heard, and which hathe bene preached to euerie creature which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am a minister.

24 Now reioyce I in my sufferings for ^p you, and fulfil ^q the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, w̄ is the Church.

25 Whereof I am a minister, according to the dispensation of God, w̄ is giuen me vnto youwarde, to fulfil the ^r worde of God,

26 [*Which is] the mysterie hid since the worlde began, & from [all] ages, but now is made manifest to his ^s Saintes,

27 To whome God wolde make known what is the riches of this glorious mysterie among the Gentiles, [which riches] is Christ in you, ^t the hope of glorie,

28 Whome we preache, admonishing euerie man, and teaching euerie man in all wisdome, that we may present euerie mā perfect in Christ Iesus:

29 Whereunto I also labour and strue, according to his working which worketh in me mightely.

4 And this I say, lest any mā shulde beguile you with enticing wordes.

5 *For thogh I be absent in the ^b flesh, yet am I with you in the ^c spirit reioicing, & beholding your ordre, and your stedfast faith in Christ.

6 As ye haue therefore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord, [so] walke in him,

7 Roted and buylt in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue * bene taught, abiding therein with thanks giuing.

8 Beware lest there be anie man that spoile you through ^d philosophic, and vaine deceit, through the traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the worlde, and not after Christ.

9 *For in him dwelleth all the fulnes of [†] Godhead [†] bodely.

10 And ye are compleate in him, which is the head of all Principalitie and power :

11 In whome also ye are circumcised with ^{*}circumcision made without hāds, by putting of [†] sinful bodie of the flesh, through the circumcision ^f of Christ,

12 In that ye are * buried wth him through baptism, in whome ye are also raised vp together through * the faith ^g of the operation of God which raised him from the dead.

13 *And ye which were dead in sinnes, & in the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together wth him, forgiuing [†] you all [your] trespasses.

14 And putting out the * [†] hand writting of ordinances that was against vs, wth was contrarie to vs, he euen toke it out of the way, & fastened it vpon the crosse,

15 And hath ⁱ spoiled the Principalities and Powers, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the same [crosse.]

16 Let no man therefore condemne you in meat & drinke, or in respect of an * holie day, or of the new moone, or of the Sabbath [dayes,]

17 Which are [but] a shaddowe of things to come: but the bodie is in Christ.

18 *Let no man [†] at his pleasure beare rule ouer you by humblenes of minde, & worshipping of Angels, aduancing himself in those things which he neuer sawe, rashly puffed vp with his fleshly minde,

19 And holdeth not the head, whereof all the bodie furnished and knit together by iointes and bandes, encrease with the increasings of God.

20 Wherefore if ye [be] dead with Christ from the ordinances of the worlde, why, as thogh ye liued in [†] worlde, are ye burdened with traditions?

21 [As,] Touche not, Taste not, Handle not.

22 Which all ^m perish with the vsing, [and are] after the commandements & doctrines of men.

23 Which things haue in dead a shewe of wisdom, in ⁿ voluntarie religion & humblenes of minde, and in not sparing [†] bodie: ⁿether haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the ^o flesh.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth where we shuld seke Christ. 5 He exhorteth to mortification. 10 To put of the olde man and to put on Christ. 13 To the which he addeth exhortations, bothe general and particular to charitie & humilitie.

1 If ye then be * risen with Christ, seke those things which are aboue, where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.

2 Set your affections on things which are aboue, [and] not on things, which ^b are on the earth.

3 For ye are * dead, & your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 When Christ which is our life, shal appeare, then shal ye also appeare with him in glorie.

5 * ^d Mortifie therefore your members wth are on the earth, fornicatio, vncleanes, the inordinate affection, euil concupiscence, & couetousnes which is idolatrie.

6 For the which things takes the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience,

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESS- SALONIANS.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had bene wel instructed in the faith, persecution, which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospel, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet S. Paul (as moste careful for them) sent Timothy to strengthen them, who some after admonishing him of their estate, gaue occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer whatsoever God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospel, exhorting them to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheat, so there were among them wicked men, whiche by mouing vaine and curious questions to ouerthrowe their faith, taught falsely, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead: whereof he briefly instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seke curiously to knowe the tymes, willing them rather to watche lest the sudden coming of Christ come vpon them at vnwares: and so after certeine exhortations, &c his commendations to the brethren, he endeth.

CHAP. I.

3 He thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfast in faith and good workes, 6 And receiue the Gospel with such earnestnes, 7 That they are an example to all others.

PAUL and Siluanus, and Timothy, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, [which is] in * God the Father, and in † Lord Iesus Christ: Grace [be] with you, and peace from God our Father, and [from] the Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * We giue God thanks alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers 3 Without ceasing, remembring your be-fectual faith, and * diligent loue, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christ in the sight of God euen our Father,

4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that ye are elect of God. 5 For our Gospel was not vnto you in worde onely, but also in power, and in the holie Gost, & in muche assurance, as ye knowe after what maner we were among you for your sakes.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, and receiued the worde in muche affliction, with * ioy of the holie Gost, 7 So that ye were as † ensamples to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely, but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in al quarters, that we neded not to speake any thing.

9 For they them selues shewe of you what maner of entring in we had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from idoles, to serue the † liuing and true God, 10 And to loke for his Sonne from heauen, whome he raised from the dead, [euen] Iesus which deliuereth vs from the h wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they shulde not faint vnder the crosse, 2 He commendeth his diligence in preaching, 3 And theirs in obeying. 4 He excuseth his absence, that he coulde not come and open his heart to them.

For ye your selues knowe, brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in * vaine,

2 But euen after that we had suffred before, and were shamefully entreated at * Philippi (as ye knowe) we were bolde b in our God, to speake vnto you † Gospel of God with muche struiuing.

3 For our exhortatiō was not by deceit, nor by vnclennes, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel shulde be committed [vnto vs,] so we speake, not as they that * please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 Neither yet did we euer vse flattering wordes, as ye knowe, nor colored couetousnes, God is recorder.

6 Nether sought we praise of men, nether of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue bene † chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ: but we were gentle among you, eue as a † nource cherisheth her children:

8 Thus being affectioned toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our owne soules, because ye were deo vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, * our labour and travail: for we laboured day and night, because we wolde not be chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

h which he shal execute vpon wicked.

c VVhich declareth a naughty conscience.

† Or, in auaritie.

d He humbled him self to supporte al things without al respect of lucre: euen as the tender mother w nourceth her children, and thinketh no office to vile for her childrens sake.

b VVhich declareth it self by most liuely frutes.

c whereby you declared your selues moste ready and painefull to helpe the poore.

d The effectual preaching of the Gospel is an euident toke of our election.

e To beleue, &c to be fully persuaded to haue the gifts of the holie Gost, and joyfully to suffer for Christs sake, are moste certeine signes of our election. † Or, patrons.

f To wit, al the faithful.

g For idoles are dead things, &c onely fained fantasies.

10 Ye [are] witnesses, & God [also] how holily and iustly, and vnblameably we behaued our selues among^a you that beleue.

11 As ye knowe how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euerie one of you (as a father his children)

12 That ye^a wolde walke worthie of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome & glorie.

13 For this cause also thanke we God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the worde of the preaching of God, ye receiued it not as the worde of men, but as it is in dede the worde of God, which also worketh in you that beleue.

14 For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in Christ Iesus, because ye haue also suffred the same things of your owne country men, euen as they [haue] of the Iewes,

15 Who bothe killed the Lord Iesus and their owne Prophetes, and haue persecuted vs, and God they please not, and are contraries to all men,

16 And forbid vs to preache vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to^b fulfill their sinnes alwaies: for the wrath [of God] is^c come on them, to the vtmoste.

17 Forasmuche brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning fight, but not in the heart, we^a enforced the more to se your face with great desire.

18 Therefore we wolde haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twise) but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope or ioye, or crowne of reioicing? are^a not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his comming?

20 Yes, ye are our glorie and ioye.

CHAP. III.

2 He sheweth how greatly he was affectioned towards the bothe in that he sent Timotheus to them, 10 And also prayed for them.

Wherefore since we colde no longer forbear, we thought it good to remaine at Athenes^a alone,

2 * And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our labour fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,

3 That no man shulde be moued with these afflictions: for ye your selues knowe, that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verely, when we were with you, we tolde you before that we shulde suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and ye knowe it.

5 Euen for this cause, when^b I colde no longer forbear, I sent [him]^c I might knowe of your faith, lest the^c tempter had tempted you in any sorte, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

6 But now lately when Timotheus came fro^a you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to se vs as we also [do] you,

7 Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessitie through your faith.

8 For now are we^d aliue, if ye^e stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thakes can we recompense to God againe for you for all the ioye wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God,

10 Night & day^a praying exceedingly that we might se your face, & might^b accomplishe that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God him self, euen our Father, and our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our iorney vnto you,

12 And the Lord increase you, & make you abunde in loue one towards another, and towards all me, eu^c as we [do] toward you:

13 * To make your heartes stable and vnblameable in holynes before God euen our Father, at the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ with al his Saints.

CHAP. III.

1 He exhorteth them to holynes, 6 Innocencie, 9 Loue, 11 Labour, 13 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the end of the resurrection.

And furthermore we beseeche you, brethren, and exhorre you in the Lorde Iesus, that^a ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke, and to please God.

2 For ye knowe what^b commādements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

3 * For this is the wil of God [euen] your sanctification, [&] that ye shulde abstaine fro^c fornication,

4 That euerie one of you shulde know, how to possesse his^d vessel in holines & honour,

5 [And] not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God:

6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord [is] a venger of all suche things, as we also haue tolde you before time, and testified.

7 * For God hathe not called vs vnto vncleannes, but vnto holines.

8 He therfore that despiseth^e [these things], despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen^a you his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherlie loue, ye nede not that I write vnto you: * for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verely ye do vnto all the brethren, which are throughout al Macedonia: but we beseeche you, brethren, that

14 For if we beleue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which slepe in Iesus, wil God bring with him.

15 For this say we vnto you by the wordes of the Lord, that we which liue, and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not preuent them which slepe.

16 For the Lord him self shall descend from heaue with a showte, & with the voyce of the Archangel & with the trūper of God: and the dead in Christ shal rise first.

17 Then shal we which liue and remaine, be caught vp with them also in the cloudes, to mete the Lord in the ayre: & so shall we euer be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore comforte your selues one another with these wordes.

CHAP. V.

1 He enformeth them of the daye of iudgement and coming of the Lord, 6 Exhorting them to watche, 12 And to regard such as preache Gods worde among them.

1 But of the times & seasons, brethren, ye haue no nede that I write vnto you.

2 For ye your selues knowe perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall come, euen as a thefe in the night.

3 For when they shal say, Peace, and safetie, then shal come vpon them sudden destruction, as the trauail vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkenes, that that daye shulde come on you, as it were a thefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night nether of darkenes.

6 Therefore let vs not slepe as do other, but let vs wathe and be sober.

7 For they that slepe, slepe in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, putting on the brest plate of faith & loue, & of the hope of saluation for an helmet.

9 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtene saluation by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ,

10 Which dyed for vs, that whether we wake or slepe we shulde liue together w^h him.

11 Wherefore exhorte one another, & edifie one another, euen as ye do.

12 Now we beseeche you brethren, that ye knowe them, which labour among you, & are ouer you in the Lord, & admonish you,

13 That ye haue them in singular loue for their workes sake. Be at peace among your selues.

14 We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are vniuersal: comforte the feble minded: beare with the weake: be patient toward all men.

15 Se that none recompense euill for euill vnto any man: but euer followe that which is good, bothe toward your selues, and toward all men.

16 Reioyce euermore.

17 Pray continually.

18 In all things giue thanks: for this is the wil of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

19 Quenche not the Spirit.

20 Despise not prophesying.

21 Trye all things, & kepe that w^h is good.

22 Absteyne from all appearance of euill.

23 Now the verie God of peace sanctifie you throughout: & I pray God that your whole spirit and soule and bodie may be kept blameles vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

24 Faithful is he which calleth you, which wil also do it.

25 Brethren, pray for vs.

26 Grete al the brethren with an holic kisse.

27 I charge you in the Lord, that this epistle be red vnto all the brethren the Saintes.

28 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you, Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THES-

SALONIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

Lest the Thesalonians shoulde thinke that Paul neglected them, because he went to other places, rather then came to the, he writeth vnto them, and exhorteth them to patience and other frutes of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the coming of Christ was at hand, forasmuch as before that day there shoulde be a falling away from true religion, euen by a great parte of the worlde, and that Antichrist shoulde reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending him selfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he willet them to correcte such sharply, as lawfully of other mens labours, whome if they do not obey his admonitions, he commandeth to excommunicate.

CHAP. I.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue & patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 And sheweth what frute shal come thereof.

PAUL and Siluanus, & Timotheus vnto the Church of the Thesalonians, [which is] in God our Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ:

Grace [be] w you, and peace from God our Father, and [fro] the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 *We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is mete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euerie one of you towarde another abundeth,

4 So that we our selues reioice of you in the Churches of God, because of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffre,

5 * [Which is] a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthie of the kingdome of God, for the which ye also suffre.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you,

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, * when the Lord Iesus shall shewe him selfe from heauen with his mightie Angels,

8 In flaming fyre, rendring vengeance vnto them, that do not knowe God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ,

9 Which shalbe punished with euerlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, & from the glorie of his power,

10 When he shal come to be glorified in his Saintes, and to be made manueilous in all them that beleue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleued) in that day.

11 Wherefore, we also praye alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthie of [this] calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of [his] goodnes, & the worke of faith with power, 12 That the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shal not come, till the departing from the faith come first, 9 And the kingdome of Antichrist. 15 And therefore he exhorteth them not to be deceiued, but to stand steadfast in the things that he hath taught them.

Now we beseeche you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

2 That ye be not suddenly moued from [your] minde, nor troubled, nether by spirit, nor by worde, nor by letter, as [it were] from vs, as thogh the daye of Christ were at hand.

3 * Let no man deceiue you by any meanes: for [that day shal not come,] except there come a departing first, and that that man of sinne be disclosed, [euen] the sonne of perdition,

4 Which is an aduersarie, and exalteth him selfe against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing him selfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these things:

6 And now ye knowe what I withholdeth, that he might be reueiled in histyme.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doeth alreadye worke: onely he which now withholdeth, as he destroyeth others, so shal he be destroyed him selfe. f Remember the false apostles had perswaded after a sorte the Thesalonians that the daye of the Lord was nere, and so the redemption of the Church, Paul teacheth them to loke for this horrible disipation before, and therefore rather to prepare the selues to patience, then to rest and quietnes: for as yet there was a let, that the Gospel shoulde be preached throughout al, Mat. 24. 14. g To wit, priuily and is therefore called a mysterie because it is secret. h VVhich shal stay for a time.

16 And so wisheth them al wealth.
1 Furthermore, brethren, * pray for vs, that the worde of the Lord may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as [it is] with you,

2 And that we may be deliuered from vn-reasonable and euill men: for al men haue not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithfull, which shall stablish you, and kepe you from euil.

4 And we are perswaded of you through y

Lord, that ye both do, & wil do the things which we commande you.

5 And the Lord guide your heartes to the loue of God, and the wearing of Christ.

6 We commande you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye with-drawe your selues from euerie brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction which he receiued of vs.

7 For ye your selues knowe *how ye ought to followe vs: *for we behaued not our selues inordinately among you.

8 Neither toke we bread of anye man for nocht, but we wrought with labour and trade night and day, because we wolde not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not but that we had autoritie, * but that we might make our selues an ensample vnto you to followe vs.

10 For euen when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were anie, which wolde not worke, that he shulde not eat.

11 For we heard that there are some whiche walke among you inordinately, and worke not at all, but are busie bodies.

12 Therefore them that are such, we commande & exhorte by our Lord Iesus Christ, that they worke with quietnes and eat their owne bread.

13 *And ye, brethren, be not wearie in wel doing.

14 If any man obey not our sayings, note him by a lettre, *and haue no companie w him, that he may be ashamed.

15 Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lord [be] with you all.

THE FIRST EPISTLE

OF PAUL TO TIMO-

THE V.S.

For if any can not rule his owne house, he cannot rule the Church of God. For if any can not rule his owne house, he cannot rule the Church of God.

In writing this Epistle Paul feared not onely to haue respect to teache Timothy, but chiefly to keepe others in awe, who had rebelled against his authority. And therefore he doth argue his authority against those ambitious questioners, which were presumes to dispute with the Law, and to dispute with the Law, and to dispute with the Law. And as for himself, he so commendeth his vworthinges, that he sheweth to what end he hath the grace of God hath bestowed him, and therefore he willett puer to be made for a degree and forme of man, because that God by offering his Gospel and Christ his Sonnes them al, is indifferet to euery sorte of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witnesseth. And forasmuch as God hath left the mystery of the Sonnes of God manifested in flesh is committed to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church at all times shal susteine, but specially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion men shal teach things contrarie to the worde of God. This done he teacheth what widdowes shulde be receiued or refused to minister to, & what Elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him nether to be hasty in admitting, nor in judging able: also what is the due tie of seruants, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of conuenticul, of idle men, and of such things as charge him to be a false doctrine.

CHAP. I.

He exhorteth Timothy to walke vpon his office, namely to teache that nothing be taught but Gods worde, &c. Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, shal leade to a life of holines, and admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Saviour, and of our Lord IESVS CHRIST our hope.

Vnto Timothy his natural sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, and peace fro God our Father, & from Christ Iesus our Lord.
As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, [to do,] that thou maiest commande some, that they teache none other doctrine, Nether that they giue hede to fables & genealogies, [which are] endles, which brede questions rather then godly edifying, which is by faith.
For the end of the commandement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfaimed.
From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling.
They wolde be doctours of the Law, and yet vnderstand not what they speake, nether whereof they affirme.
And we knowe, that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully, Knowing this, that the Law is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawles and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to the vnholie, & to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manlayers, to whoremongers, to buggers, to meeleaders, to liars, to the perjured, and if there be any other thing, that is contrarie to wholesome doctrine, [Which is] according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me,

Therefore I thank him, which hath made me fre, [that is] Christ Iesus our Lord: for he counted me, faithfull, and put me in his seruice,
When before I was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and an oppressor: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeliefe.
But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.
This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthie to be receiued, that Christ Iesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whome I am chief.
Notwithstanding for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Iesus Christ shulde first shewe on me all long suffering, vnto the ensample of them, which shal in time to come beleue in him vnto eternall life.
Now vnto the King euerlasting, immortal, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour & glorie for euer, and euer, Amen.
This commandement cometh I vnto thee, sonne Timothy, according to the prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shuldest fight a good fight,
Having faith and a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.
Of whome is Hymeneus, and Alexander,

The great myſterie.

indeed:
4 But if any widowe haue children or ne phewes, let ^b them learne first to shewe god lines towarde their owne house, and to re compense their kinned: for that is an honest thing and acceptable before God.
5 And she that is a widowe ^c in dede & left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day, 6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is ^d dead,
while she liueth.
7 These things therefore commande, that they may be blameles.
8 If there be any that provideth not for his owne, and namely for them of his hous holde, he denieth the faith, and is worse then an infidel.
9 Let not a widowe be taken into the num ber vnder threcore yere olde: ^e hath bene

13 And likewise also being ydle they learne busibodies, speaking things which are not comelie.

14 I wil therefore that the yonger women marie and beare children, and gouerne the

1 Let as many seruants as are vnder the yoke, counte their masters worthie of al honour, that the Name of God, and [his] doctrine be not euill spoken of.

2 And they which haue beleuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do seruice, because they are faithful, and beloved, and partakers of the benefite. These things charge & exhort.

3 If any man teache otherwise, and consenteth not to the wholesome wordes of our Lord Iesus Christ, & to the doctrine, which is according to godlines,

4 He is puffed vp, and knoweth nothing, but doteth about questions and strife of wordes, whereof cometh enuie, strife, railings, euill surmisings,

5 Vaine disputations of men of corrupt mindes, and destitute of the trueth, which thinke that gaine is godlines: from suche separate thy self.

6 But godlines is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.

7 For we brought nothing into the worlde, [and] it is certaine, that we can carie nothing out.

8 Therefore when we haue fode & raiment, let vs therewith be content.

9 For they that will be rich, fall into tenta-

tion and snares, and into many foolish and noysome lustes, which drowne men in perdition and destruction.

10 For the desire of money is the roote of al euil, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and perced them selues through with many sorowes.

11 But thou, o man of God, flee these things, and followe after righteousness, godlines, faith, loue, patience, [and] mekenes:

12 Fight the good fight of faith: laye holde of eternall life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good professiō before many witnesses.

THE

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMO- THEVS

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Apostle being now ready to confinde that doctrine with his blood, which he had professed, and taught, encourageth Timotheus (and in him all the faithfull) in the faith of the Gospel, and in the constant and sincere confession of the same: willing him not to shrink for feare of afflictions, but patiently to attende the yssue, as do husband men, which at length receiue the frutes of their labours, and to cast of al feare and care, as souldiers do, which seke onely to please their capteine: shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospel, which he preached, commanding him to preache y same to others, diligently taking hede of contentions, curious disputations, and vaine questions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether edifie: considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subuerred the true doctrine of the resurrection were so horrible. And yet to the intent that no man shulde be offended at their fall, being men of autoritie and in estimation, he sheweth that all that professe Christ, are not his, and that the Church is subiect to this calamitie that the euill must dwell among the good til Gods triall come: yet he referueth them whome he hath elected, euen to the end. And that Timotheus shulde not be discouraged by the wicked, he declareth what abominable men, and dangerous times shal follow, willing him to arme him self with the hope of the good yssue that God will giue vnto his, and to exercise him self diligently in the Scriptures, bothe against the aduerfaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, desiring him to come to him for certaine necessarie affaires, and so with his and others salutations endeth.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnes and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine, that he had taught him, 12 VVherof his bondes and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

I AVL an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, by the will of God, according to the promes of life, which is in Christ Iesus,

P 2 To Timotheus [my] beloued sonne: Grace, mercie, [and] peace from God the Father, and [from] Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 I thanke God, whome I serue from [mine] elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Desiring to se thee mindeful of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioye:

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfaigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that [it dwelleth] in thee also.

6 Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance that thou stirre vp the giste of God which is in thee, by the putting on of mine handes.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the Spirit of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde minde.

8 Be not therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lord, nether of me his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saued vs, and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our workes but according to his owne purpose & grace which was giuen to vs through Christ Ie-

sus before the world was,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Sauour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel.

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles, 12 For the whiche cause I also suffre these things, but I am not ashamed: for I knowe whome I haue beleued, and I am perswaded that he is able to kepe that whiche I haue committed to him against that day.

13 Kepe the true paterne of the wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That worthie thing, which was committed to thee, kepe through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me: of whiche sorte are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out verie diligently, and founde [me.]

18 The Lord grant vnto him, that he maye finde mercie with the Lord at that day. and in how manie things he hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest verie well.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manlie, & to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 Shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19 And the marke thereof.

THE EPISTLE OF

PAYE TO TITVS.

THE ARGVMENT.

When Titus was left in Crete to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begonne, Satan stirred vnto him which went about not onely to overthrow the gouernement of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition wolde haue thrust in their owne names: others, vnder pretext of Moses Law brought in many things. Against the same sort of men Paul amonish Titus: first teaching him what manner of ministers he ought to chuse, chusing that they be men of sounde doctrine to the intent they might rebite the subtillties, and amongst other things he teacheth the Titus which put a certaine holines in mans life, such outward ceremonies, teaching them what are the true duties of a Christian life, & what things appertaine to euery mans vocation. Against the which if any man rebelle or disobey, he will shew him to be a voyde.

CHAP. III.

1 Of obedience to such as be in authority. 2 He warneth Titus to beware of foolish & vnprofitable questions. 3 Concluding with certaine priuate matters. 4 And salutations.

Put them in remembrance that they be subiect to the Principallities and Powers, [&] that they be obedient, [&] readie to euerie good worke.

2 That they speake euil of no man, that they be no fighters, (but) softe, shewing all mekenes vnto all men.

3 For we our selues also were in times past vnwise, disobedient, deceiued, seruing the lustes & diuers pleasures, liuing in maliciousnes and enmie hateful, [&] hating one another.

4 But when the bountifullnes and loue of God our Sauour towards man appeared,

5 Not by the workes of righteousness, which we had done, but according to his mercie he saued vs, by the washing of the new birth, and the renewing of the holie Ghost,

6 Which he shed on vs abundantly, through Iesus Christ our Sauour,

7 That we, being iustified by his grace, shulde be made heires according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This [is] a true saying, and these things I will thou shouldest affirme, that they which haue beleued in God, might be careful to shewe for the good workes. These things are good and profitable vnto men.

9 But stay foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and brawlings: both the Law: for they are vnprofitable and vaine.

10 Reiect him that is an heretike, after once or twice admonition.

11 Knowing that he that is such, is peruerter, & sinneth being damned of his owne self.

12 When I shal send Artemas vnto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas, the expounder of the Law, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that they lacke nothing.

14 And let ours also learne to shewe for the good workes for necessarie uses that they be not vnfruitful.

15 All that are with me, salute thee. Grete them that loue vs in the faith. Grace be with you all, Amen.

To Titus, elect the first bishoppe of the Church of the Cretians, written from Nicopolis in Macedonia.

THE EPISTLE OF

PAVL TO PHILEMON.

THE ARGVMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witness, and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the basenes of his matter, he speaketh as it were vnto heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whome Paul hauing wonne to Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardone, with moste waightie arguments prouing the dutie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

9 He reioyceth to heare of the faith and loue of Philemon, 10 Whome he desireth to forgive his seruant Onesimus, and louingly to receiue him againe.

PAVL a prisoner of Iesus Christ, and our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our dere friend, & fellow helper.

2 And to our dere sister Apphia, and to Archippus our felowe souldier, & to the Church that is in thine house.

3 Grace [be] with you, & peace from God our father, & [from] Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I giue thanks to my God, making mention alwaies of thee in my prayers,

5 (When I heare of thy loue and faith, w thou hast towards the Lord Iesus, and towards all Saintes)

6 That the felowship of thy faith may be made fruteful, and that whatsoeuer good thing is in you through Christ Iesus, may be knowne.

7 For we haue great ioye and consolation in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saintes hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I be verie bolde in Christ to commande thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee, though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, and euen now a prisoner for Iesus Christ, 10 I beseeche thee for my sonne Onesimus.

THE EPISTLE TO

THE HEBREWES.

THE ARGVMENT.

Forasmuche as diuers, bothe of the Greke writers and Latines witnesse, that the writer of this Epistle for iuste cause wolde not haue his name knowen, it were curiositie of our parte to labour muche therein. For seeing the Spirit of God is the author thereof, it diminisheth nothing the authoritie, although we knowe not with what penne he wrote it. VWhether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chief purpose is to persuaide vnto the Hebrewes (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, & vnder them all the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redeemer, but also that at his comming all ceremonies must haue an end: forasmuche as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the propheties, and therefore not onely Moses was inferior to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord; but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, and is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through him self: for he is that eternal Priest, whereof all the Leuitical Priests were but shadowes, and therefore at his comming they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proueth from the seuenth chap. verse 11. vnto the 12. chap. verse 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom all the Prophetes in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12. chapter, verse 18. to the twentie and siue verse of the same chapter: yea, and is the King to whom all things are subiect, as appeareth from that verse 25. to the beginning of the last chapter. VWherefore according to the examples of the olde fathers we must constantly beleue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wildome, and governed by his power, we may steadfastly and courageously perseuere euen to the end in hope of that ioye that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises, that we may bothe be thankfull to God, and duefull to our neighbour.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 About the Angels, 7 And of their office.

In sondrie times & in diuers maners God spake in olde time to our fathers by the Prophetes:

In these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne, whome he hath made heire of all things, by whome also he made the worldes,

Who being the brightnes of his glorie,

& the ingraued forme of his persone, & bearing vp all things by his mightie worde, hath by him self purged our sinnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the maiestie in the highest places,

And is made so muche more excellent then the Angels, in as muche as he hath obtained a more excellent name then they.

For vnto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee: & againe, I wil be his Father, and he shal be my Sonne.

And againe when he bringeth in [his] first begotten Sonne into the world, he saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And

a God, who is ever constant, and merciful to his Church, declared his will in time past, not all at once, or at one time, but from time to time, and in sondrie places: but now last of all he hath fully declared all truth to vs by his Sonne.
b So that now we may not create any new traditions after him. c He exhorteth here of Christ, both as touching his persone, which is verie God, and verie man, by whome all things are made, and also as touching his office, whereby he is King, Prophet and Priest. * Vnde. 7. 16. col. 1. 4.

d The liuelli image and patterne, so that he that seeth him, seeth the Father. Iohn 14. 9. For els the person of the Father is not sene, but prehended by faith.
e So that our sinnes can be purged by no other means. f Muche more then then all other things created.
* Psal. 2. 7. chap. 5. 9. ad. 13. 13.
g Because he was at the appointed dede to the world.
* 1. Sam. 7. 14. 3. chro. 23. 13.
* Psal. 97. 4.

7 And of the Angels he saith, * He maketh the Spirits his messengers, & his ministers a flamme of fyre.

8 But vnto the Sonne he saith, * O God, thy throne [is] for euer & euer; the scepter of thy kingdome [is] a scepter of righteousness.

9 Thou hast loued righteousness and hated iniquitie. Wherefore God, [euē] thy God, hath anointed thee with oyle of gladnes about thy fellows.

10 And, * Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shal perish, but thou doest remaine: and they all shal waxe olde as doeth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeres shal not faile.

13 Vnto which also of the Angels said he at anie time, * Sit at my right hand, til I make thine enemies thy fote stole.

14 Are they not all ministring spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Law which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to be offended at the infirmities and lowe degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessarie for our sakes he shulde take suche an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

Wherefore we ought diligently to giue hede to the things w we haue heard, lest at anie time we shulde let the slippe.

2 For if the worde spoken by Angels was stedfaste, and euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iuste recompense of rewarde,

3 How shal we escape, if we neglect so great saluation, which at the first began to be preached by the Lord, and [afterwarde] was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard him,

4 * God bearing witness thereto, bothe w signes and wōders, and with diuers miracles, and giftes of the holie Gost, according to his owne wil:

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the worlde to come, whereof we speake.

6 But * one in a certeine place witnessed, saying, * What is man, that thou shouldest be mindeful of him! for y sonne of man that thou woldest consider him!

7 Thou madest him a litle inferior to the Angels: thou crownedst him with glorie and honour, and hast set him above the worlde to come, where they shal enioye with him the prince all these things w now they haue onely but in parte. 8 In making him followe heire with Christ.

the workes of thine hands.

8 * Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his fete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that shulde not be subiect vnto him. * But we yet se not all things subdued vnto him.

9 But we se Iesus * crowned with glorie & honour, which was made a litle inferior to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whome [are] all things, & by whome [are] all things, seeing that he broght manie children vnto glorie, that he shulde consecrate the Prince of their saluation through afflictions.

11 For he that sanctifieth, & they which are sanctified, are all of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren.

12 Saying, * I wil declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Church wil I sing praises to thee.

13 And againe, * I wil put my trust in him. And againe, * Beholde, here am I, & the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuche then as the children were partakers of fleshe & bloode, he also himself likewise toke parte with them, that he might destroye * through death, him that had the power of death, that is the deuill. 15 And that he might deliuer all them, w for feare of death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For he in no sorte toke the Angels, but he toke the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be merciful, and a faithful high Priest in things concerning God, that he might make reconciliation for the sinnes of the people.

18 For in y he suffred, and was tempted, he is able to sucker them that are tempted.

of all ministers. * Hose. 13, 14. 1. cor. 15, 55. 1 And God the nature of Angels, but of man. 1 Not onely as touching qualities, onely in respect. 2 Forasmuche as he is exercised in our miseries, we may be assured, that at all times in our tentations he wil sucker vs.

CHAP. III.

1 He requireth them to be obedient vnto y worde of Christ, 3 VWho is more worthy then Moses. 12 The punishment of such as wil harden their hearts, and not believe that they might haue eternal rest.

Therefore, holie brethren, partakers of the heauenlie vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithful to him that hath appointed him enen as * Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthy of more glorie then Moses, inasmuche as he

h To them, who object that they se not these things accomplished in man, the Apostle answereth that they are fulfilled in Christ our captaine who leadeth him to the same glorie with him.

i To man, as he is of Christ. k By the virtue which most manifestly appeareth in the Church.

l Iesus Christ by humbling himself & taking vpon him the forme of a seruant, which was out flesh, & mortalitie, giueth vs assurance of our saluation.

m Therefore we by afflictions are made like to the Sonne of God.

n The head & the members are of one nature: so Christ who sanctifieth vs, and we that are sanctified, are all one by the vnion of our flesh.

* Psal. 22, 25. o This proneth Christ's humanity.

p Meaning, that Christ touching his humanity put his trust in God.

q If I speak this of him self, & his disciples, but properly it is applied to Christ the head.

that sinned, ^p whose ^q carkeises fell in the

bath or rest of the Christians. ³ Punishment of vnbele-uers. ⁴ The nature of the worde of God.

Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time
by forsaking the promes of entring

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached as also vnto them: but ^a worde that they heard, profited not, because it was not ^b mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we haue beleued, do enter into shed from the fundacion of the worlde.

4 For he spake in a certeine place of the rest the seuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shal en-

6 Seing therefore it remaineth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whome it was first preached, entred not therein

7 Againe he appointed ^h in Dauid a cer-saying, as it is said, ⁱ This day if ye heare

8 For ^j if Iesus had giuen them rest, then wolde he not after this day haue spoken of another.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, ^k ha-the also ceased from his owne workes, as

1 Therefore, leauing the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let vs be led forward vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptisnes, & laying on of hands, & of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternal iudgement.

3 And this wil we do if God permit.

4 *For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenlie gift, and were made partakers of the holie Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the powers of the worlde to come,

6 If they fall away, shulde be renewed againe by repentance: seing they crucifie againe to them selues the Sonne of God & make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that cometh ofte vpon it, and bringeth forth the herbes mete for them by whome it is dressed, receiueith blessing of God.

8 But which beareth thornes & briars, [is] reprobued, & is nere vnto cursing, whose end [is] to be burned.

9 But beloued, we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, & suche as accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God [is] not vnrighteous, he shulde forget your worke, & labour of loue, which ye shewed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministred vnto the Saintes, and [yet] minister.

11 And we desire that euerie one of you shewe the same diligence, to the fulfil assurance of hope vnto the end,

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of them, which through faith and patience, inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promes to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by, he sweare by him self,

14 Saying, *Surely I wil abundantly bless thee, and multiplie the maruiculously.

15 And so after that he had taried patiently, he enioyed the promes.

16 For men verely sweare by him that is greater [than] them selues, and an othe for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.

17 So God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promes the stabilitie of his counsel, bound him self by an othe.

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God shulde lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to holde fast the hope that is set before vs,

19 Which we haue, as an ancre of the soule, bothe sure and stedfast, & it entrencheth into that which is within the vaile,

20 Whether the forerunner is for vs etred in, [even] Iesus that is made an hie Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

It is Gods singular gift to increase in knowledge, & to go forward in the vnderstanding of Gods worde. Mat. 13. 49. 2. pet. 3. 18. chap. 10. 26.

They which are apostates, & sinne against the holie Ghost, hate Christ, crucifie & mocke him, but to their owne destruction, & therefore fall into desperation, and can not repent.

Vvhereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life euilasting. As the holie fathers, Prophets & martyrs, that were before vs.

Leui in Abrahams loines. To the Ebrewes. Christs eternal Priesthode.

CHAP. VII.

He compareth ¹ Priesthode of Christ vnto Melchi-sedec.
 11 Also Christs Priesthode with the Leuites.

FOr this Melchi-sedec ¹ [was] King of Salem, the Priest of ¹ most hie God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

2 To whome also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things: who first is by interpretatiō King of righteousness: after ¹ ¹ [he is] also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

3 Without ¹ father, without mother, without kindred, & hath the nether beginning of [his] dayes, nether end of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

4 Now consider how great this man [was,] vnto whome euen the ¹ Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoiles.

5 For verely they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthode, haue ¹ ¹ cōmandement to take, according to ¹ Law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they ¹ came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kindred is not counted among them, ¹ receiued tithes of Abrahā, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men that dye, receiue tithes: but there he [receiue] them, of whome it is witnessed, that he ¹ liueth.

9 And to say as the thing is, Leui also ¹ receiue tithes, payed tithes in Abrahā.

10 For he was yet in ¹ loines of his father [Abraham,] whē Melchi-sedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection hath bene by ¹ Priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Law was established to the people) what neded it furthermore, that another Priest shulde rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, & not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the Priesthode be changed, then of necessitie must there be a change of the ¹ Law.

13 For he of whome these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.

14 For it is euident, that our Lord sprang out of Iuda; concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthode.

15 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp another Priest,

16 Which is not made [Priest] after ¹ Law of the carnal cōmandement, but after the power of the endles life.

17 For he testifieth [thus,] ¹ * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

18 For the cōmandement that went afore, is disanulled, because of the weakenes thereof, and vnprofitablenes.

19 For the Law made nothing perfite, but ¹ ¹ bringing in of a better hope [made perfite,] whereby we drawe nere vnto God.

20 And forasmuche as it is not without an othe (for these are made Priests without an othe:

21 But this, he [is made] with an othe by him ¹ said vnto hi, * The Lord hath sworn, & wil not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec)

22 By so muche is Iesus made a suretie of a better ¹ Testament.

23 And among them many were made Priests, because they were not sufficed to endure, by the reason of death.

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an ¹ euerlasting Priesthode.

25 Wherefore, he is able also ¹ perfite to saue them that come vnto God by him, seing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For suche an hie Priest it became vs to haue, [w¹is] holie, harmeles, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:

27 Which neded not daily, as those hie Priests, to offer vp sacrifice, ¹ first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he ¹ once, when he offered vp him self.

28 For the Law maketh men hie Priests, w¹ haue infirmities: but the worde of the othe that was ¹ since the Law, [maketh] ¹ Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

CHAP. VIII.

6 He proueth the abolishing aſwel of the Leuitical Priesthode, as of the olde Cōuenant by the spiritual & euerlasting Priesthode of Christ, 8 And by the new Cōuenant.

NOW of the things which we haue spoken, [this is] the summe, that we haue suche an hie Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the maiestie in heauens,

2 And [is] a minister of the ¹ Sanctuarie, & of the true ¹ Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not ¹ man.

3 For ¹ euerie hie Priest is ordained to offer bothe giftes and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man shulde haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on ¹ earth, seing there are Priests that according to the Law offer giftes, k Therefore all others are blasphemous, that either make the selues his successeors, or pretend any other sacrifice.

l The fruit of his Priesthode is to saue & satisfie fully, not by supplying that ¹ wanteth, but by taking away the Law which is vnperfite by reason of our infirmities.

¹ Leu. 16. 3. m. And can not without blasphemie be said to be offered againe, or els, by any creature: for none coulde offer him, but him self.

a So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kindred, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the worlde to be a figure of Christs our euerlasting Priest, & shortly taken out of the world againe: so Christ as touching his humanity had no father, & concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

with water and purple wolle and hyssope, and sprinkled bothe the boke, and all the people, 20 * Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreouer, he sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, & all the ministering vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, & without the shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessarie, that the similitudes of heauenlie things shulde be purified wth such things: but the heauenlie things them selues [are purified] with better sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holie places that are made with hands, which are similitudes of the true [Sanctuarie:] but [is entred] into verie heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs,

25 Not that he shulde offer him selfe often, as the hie Priest entred into the Holie place euerie yere with other blood, 26 (For then muste he haue often suffred since the fundation of the worlde) but now in the end of the worlde hathe he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shal once dye, and after that [commeth] the iudgement, 28 So Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of many, and vnto them that loke for him, shal he appeare the seconde time without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

The olde lawe had no power to cleanse away sinne. 10 But Christ did it with offering of his bodie once for all. 11 An exhortation to receiue the goodnes of God thankfully wth patience and stedfast faith.

For the Lawe hauing the shadowe of good things to come, and not the very timage of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yere by yere continually, sanctifie the commers thereunto.

For wolde they not then haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that offerers once purged, shulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

But in those sacrifices, there [is] a remembrance againe of sinnes euerie yere.

For it is impossible that the blood of bulles & goates shulde take away sinnes.

Wherefore when he commeth into the worlde, he saith, Sacrifice & offering thou woldest not: but a bodie hast thou ordeined me.

In burnt offerings, & sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I said, Lo, I come (In the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I shulde do thy wil, O God.

8 Aboue, when he said, Sacrifice & offering, and burnt offerings, & sinne offerings thou woldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure [therein] (which are offered by the Law)

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy wil, O God. He taketh away the first, & he may establish the seconde.

10 By which wil we are sanctified, [even] by the offering of the bodie of Iesus Christ once [made.]

11 And euerie Priest appereth daily ministering, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take awaye sinnes.

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sinnes, sitteth for euer at the right hand of God, 13 And from hence forth tarieth, til his enemies be made his fote stole.

14 For with one offering hathe he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 For the holie Ghost also beareth vs recorde: for after that he had said before,

16 * This [is] the Testament that I wil make vnto them after those daies, saith the Lord, I wil put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I wil write them:

17 And their sinnes and iniquities wil I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these things [is,] there [is] no more offering for sinne.

19 Seing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we may be bolde to enter into the Holie place,

20 By the new and liuing way, which he hathe prepared for vs, through the vaile, that is, his flesh:

21 [And seing we haue] an hie Priest, [who is] ouer the house of God,

22 Let vs drawe nere with a true heart in assurance of faith, sprinkled in our hearts from an euil conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

23 Let vs kepe the profession of our hope without waivering (for he is) faithful that promised)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes,

25 Not forsaking the felowship that we haue among our selues, as the manner of some [is:] but let vs exhort one another, & that so muche the more, because ye see that the day draweth nere.

CHAP. XL

¶ What faith is, & a commendation of the same. ¶ Vnto what faith we can not please God: 106 The firste of the fathers in old tyme.

Now faith is the gronde of things, which are hoped for, and the euidence of things which are not sene.

For by it [our] elders went wel reported of.

*Through faith we vnderstand that the worlde was ordeined by the worde of God, so that the things which we see, are not made of things, which did appeare

4 By faith Abel *offred vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, by the which he obtayned witnes, that he was righteous. God testifying of his gifts: by the which [faith] also be being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith was *Enoch taken away, that he shulde not se death: neither was he founde: for God had taken him away: for before he was taken away, he was reported of, that he had pleased God.

6 But without faith it is vnpossible to please [him]: for he that cometh to God, must beleue that [God] is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seke him.

7 By faith *Nor being warned of God of the things which were as yet not sene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the sauing of his household, through the which [Arke] he condemned the worlde, and was made heire of the righteousnes, which is by faith.

8 By faith *Abraham, when he was called, obeyed [God], to go out into a place, wher he shulde afterwarde receiue for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he abode in the land of promises, as in a strange country, as one that dwelleth in tentes with Isaac and Iacob heires with him of the same promises.

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a foundation, whose buylde & maker is God.

11 Through faith *Sara also receiued strength to conceiue seld, and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithful which had promised.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, eue of one which was dead, [to manie] as the starrs of the heaue in multitude, & as the sand of the seashore which is innumerable.

13 All these dyed in faith, and receiued not the promises, but sawe them a farre off, and beleneed them, & receiued them thankfully, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrimes on the earth.

14 For they that say suche things, declare plainly that they seke a country.

15 And if they had bene mindful of that [country], from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned.

16 But now they desire a better, that is, an heauenlie: wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God: for he hathe prepared for them a citie.

17 By faith *Abraham offred vp Isaac, wher he was tryed, and he that had receiued the promises, offred his onely begotten sonne.

34 Quenched the violence of fyre, escaped the edge of the sword, of weak were made strong, waxed valiant in battell, turned to flight the armies of γ aliance.
35 The women receiued their dead rais-sed to life: other also were racked, and wolde not be deliuered, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others haue bene tryed by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreouer by bondes and prisonment.
37 They were stoned, they were hewen a sunder, they were tempted, they were slayne with the sword, they wandered vp & downe in shepes skinnes, and in goates kinnes, being destitute, afflicted, γ tormented.
38 Whome the worlde was not worthie of: they wandred in wildernesses & mountaynes, & denyes, & caues of the earth.
39 And these all through faith obtined good reporte, & receiued not γ promes, 40 God prouiding a better thing for vs, that they without vs shulde not be made perfit.

2 Wherefore, let vs also, seing that we are compassed with so great a cloude of witnesses, cast away euerie thing that γ presseth downe, and the sinne that γ hangeth so fast on: let vs runne wth patience the race that is set before vs.
3 Looking vnto Iesus the autor and finisher of our faith, who for the ioye that was set before him, endured the crosse, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.
4 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, lest ye shulde be wearied & fainte in your mindes.
5 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, struggling against sinne.
6 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children.
7 My sonne, despiſe not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.
8 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth, and he scourgeth euerie sonne that he receiueth.
9 If ye endure chastening, God offreth himself vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whome the father chasteneth not?
10 If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not γ sonnes.
11 Moreover we haue had the fathers of our γ bodies which corrected vs, and we gave them no reverence: shulde we not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of spirits, that we might liue?

Thei had not such: there is light of Christ as we: for they looked for that which we haue: therefore it were shame for us, if at least we haue not as great confidence as they.

27 And this [worde,] Yet once more, signifieth the remouing of those things, which are shaken, as of things which are made [with hands,] that the things which are not shaken, may remaine.

28 Wherefore seing we receiue a kingdome, which can not be shaken, let vs haue grace, whereby we may forserue God, & we may please him with reuerence and feare.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

THE ARGUMENT.

IAMES the Apostle and sonne of Alphaeus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were converted to Christ, but dispersed throughout diuers countreis, and therefore he exhorteth them to patience and prayer, to embrace the true words of God, and not to be partial, neither to boast of an ydle faith, but to declare a true faith by liuely frutes, to auoide ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble and loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to vnder their fautes when they haue offended, to praye one for another, and to bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP. I.

1 He exhorted to reioyce in trouble, 6 To be seruant in prayer with stedfast belief, 17 To looke for al good things from above, 21 To forsake al vice, and thankfully to receive the words of God, 22 Not only hearing it, & speaking of it, but to do thereafter in dede, 27 What true religion is.

IAMES a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelve Tribes, which are scattered abroad, salutation.

My brethren, counte it exceeding ioye, when ye fall into diuers tentations, Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth patience.
And let patience haue [her] perseute worke, that ye may be perseute and endur, lacking nothing.

5 If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God which giueth to al me liberally, & reprocheth no man, & it shal be giue him.
6 But let him aske in faith, and wauer not: for he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tossed of the winde, and caryed away.
7 Nether let that man thinke that he shal receive any thing of the Lord.
8 A wauering minded man [is] vnstable in all his wayes.
9 Let the brother of lowe degree reioyce in that he is exalted:
10 Again he that is riche, in that he is made lowe: for as the flower of the grasse, shal he vanish away.
11 For as when the sunne riseth with heat, then the grasse withereth, and his flower falleth my faith by my workes.

 19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God: thou dost saye: the devils also beleeue, & tremble.
 20 But wilt thou vnderstand, & thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes, is dead?
 21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the Altar?
 22 Seest thou how the faith wrought with his workes? and through the workes was faith made perfecte.
 23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, * Abraham beleued God; and it was imputed vnto him for righteousness: & he was called the friend of God.
 24 Yese then how that of workes a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.
 25 Likewise also was not * Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent them out another way?
 26 For as the bodie without the spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth all ambitio to seke honour aboute our brethren. 2 He describeth the proprietie of the tongue, 3 & 4 And what difference there is betwixt the wisdom of God, and the wisdom of the worlde.

MY brethren, be not manie masters, knowing that we shall receiue the greater condemnation.
 2 For in manie things we finne all. If any man sinne not in worde, he is a perfecte man, and able to bridle all the bodie.
 3 Beholde we put bits into the horses mouthes that they shulde obey vs, and we turne about all their bodie.
 4 Beholde also the shippes, whiche though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a verie small rudder, whether soeuer the gouerner listeth.
 5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great things: beholde, how great a thing a litle fyre kindleth.
 6 And the tongue is fyre, & yet a worlde of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole bodie, and setteth on fyre the course of nature, & it is set on fyre of hel.
 7 For the whole nature of beastes, and of birdes, and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed and hath bene tamed of nature of man.
 8 But the tongue can no man tame. [It is] an vntrulie euill, full of deadlie poyson.
 9 Therewith blesse we God euen the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

 10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.
 11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one place swete water, and bitter?
 12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, bring forth oliues, or a vine, figges? so can no fountaine make bothe salte water and swete.
 13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe by good conuersation his workes in mekenes of wisdom.
 14 But if ye haue bitter enuying and strife in your hartes, reioyce not, neither be liers against the truth.
 15 This wisdom descendeth not fro aboue, but is earthly, sensuall, and diuclish.
 16 For where enuying and strife [is], there [is] sedition, and all maner of euill workes.
 17 But the wisdom that [is] from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good frutes, without iudging, and without hypocricie.
 18 And the frute of righteousness is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. III.

1 Having shewed the cause of al wrong, and wickednes, & also of all graces & goodnes, 4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 And submit them selues to him, 11 Not speaking euill of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depend on Gods prouidence.

From whence [are] warres and contentions among you? are they not hence, [euen] of your lustes, that fight in your members?
 2 Ye luste, and haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obtaine: ye fight and warre, and get nothing, because ye aske not.
 3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske a misse, that ye might consume it on your lustes.
 4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, knowe ye not that the amitie of the worlde is the inimicie of God? Whosoeuer therefore wilbe a friend of the worlde, maketh himself the enemye of God.
 5 Do ye thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuie?
 6 But [the Scripture] offereth more grace, [&] therefore saith, * God resisteth the proude, and giueth grace to the humble.
 7 * Submit your selues to God: resist the deuill, and he will flee from you.
 8 Drawe nere to God, and he will drawe nere to you. Cleave your hands, ye sinners, & purge your hartes, ye wauering minded.

GENERAL OF

PETER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Herewith the faithful to deny themselves, and to contemne the world, they being delivered from all carnall affections and impediments, they may more speedie attaine to the heauenlie kingdome of Christ, wherunto we are called by the grace of God reueiled to vs in his Sonne, and haue already receiued it by faith, possessed it by hope, & are therein confirmed by holynes of life. And to the intent this faith shulde not faile, seeing Christ contemned and reiected almost of the whole worlde, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures which testify that he shulde be the stonning stone to the reprobate and the sure foundation of saluation to the faithful: therefore he exhorteth them courageously to go forward, considering what they were, and to what dignitie God hath called them. After, he treateth particular points, teaching subiects how to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, and how married folkes ought to behaue themselves. And because it is appointed for all that are godlie, to suffer persecutions, he sheweth them what good yf they their afflictions shal haue, and contrarie wyl what punishment God reuereth for the wicked. Last of all he teacheth how the ministers ought to behaue themselves, forbidding them to vsurpe autoritie ouer the Church: also that yong men ought to be modest, and apt to learn, and to each with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

2 He sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God we are elect and regenerate to a liuelie hope. 7 And how faith must be tried. 10 That the saluation in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophesied of olde. 13 He exhorteth them to a godlie conuersation, forasmuch as they are now borne a new by the worde of God.

PETER an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to the strangers that dwell here and there throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,

2 Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father unto sanctification of the spirit, through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed be the God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercie hath begotten vs againe vnto a liuelie hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortall and vndefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in the heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God through faith vnto saluation, which is prepared to be shewed in the last times.

6 Wherein ye reioyce, though now for a season (if neede require) ye are in heauines, through manifold tentations,

7 That the trial of your faith, being muche more precious then golde that perisheth, (though it be tryed with fyre) might be founde vnto (your) praise, and honour and glorie at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whome ye haue not sene, and yet loue him, in whome now, though ye se him not, yet do you beleue, and reioyce with ioye vnspcakable and glorious,

9 Receiuing the end of your faith, [euen] the saluation of your soules.

10 Of the which saluation the Prophetes haue inquired and searched, which prophesied of the grace that shulde come vnto you,

11 Searching when or what tyme the Spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, shulde declare the sufferings [that] shulde come vnto Christ, & the glorie that shulde followe.

12 Vnto whome it was reueiled, that not vnto them selves, but vnto vs they shulde minister the things which are now shewed vnto you by them which haue preached vnto you the Gospel by the holie Ghost sent downe from heauen, the which things the Angels desire to beholde.

13 Wherefore, giue vp the loynes of your minde be sober, and wait perfectly on the graces that are brought vnto you, by the reuelation of Iesus Christ, as obedient children, not fashioning yourselves vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

14 But as he which hath called you, is holie, so be ye holie in all manner of conuersation, 15 Because it is written, *Be ye holie, for I am holie.

16 And if ye call him Father, which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

17 Knowing that ye were not redeemed with corruptible

24 For al flesh [is] as grasse, and all the glorie of man [is] as the flower of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the flower falleth away.

25 But the worde of the Lord endureth for euer: and this is the worde whiche is preached among you.

¶ CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth them to lay aside all vice, 4 Shewing that Christ is the fundacion whereupon they buylde, 9 The excellent estate of the Christians, 11 He prayeth them to absteyne fro fleshelie lustes, 13 To obey the rulers, 18 How seruants shulde behaue them selues towards their masters, 20 He exhorteth to suffer after the example of Christ.

1 Wherefore, *laying aside all maliciounes, and all guile and dissimulation, and enuie, and all euill speaking,

2 As newe borne babes desire the sincere milke of the worde, that ye may growe thereby,

3 If so be that ye haue tasted how bountifull the Lord [is].

4 To whome ye come as vnto a liuing stone disallowed of men, but chosen of God, [and] precious,

5 And ye as liuelie stones, be made a spiritual house, and holie *Priesthode to offer vp spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contayned in the Scripture, Beholde, I put in Sion a chief corner stone, elect and precious: and he that beleueth therein, shal not be ashamed.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleue, it is precious: but vnto them which be disobedient, the stone which the buylders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a stone to stumple at, and a rocke of offence, euen [to them] which stumple at the worde being disobedient, vnto the thing they were euen ordeined,

9. But ye are a chosen generation, a royall *Priesthode, an holie nation, a peculiar people, that ye shulde shewe forth the vertues of him that hath called you out of darkenes into his marueilous light,

10 *Which in tyme past were not a people, yet [are] now the people of God: which in tyme past were not vnder mercie, but now haue obtained mercie.

11 Derely beloved, I beseeche you, as strangers and pilgrims, *absteyne from fleshelie lustes, which fight against the soule,

12 *And haue your conuersation honest among the Gentiles, that they which speake euill of you as of euil doers, may by [your] *good workes which they shall see, glorifie God in the day of the visitation.

13 *Submit your selues vnto all maner ordinance of man for the Lords sake, whether it be vnto the King, as vnto the superior, 14 Or vnto gouernours, as vnto them that are sent of him, for the punishment of euill doers, & for the praise of them that do wel.

15 For so is the wil of God, that by wel doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men, 16 As fre, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of maliciounes, but as the seruants of God.

17 Honour all men: *loue brotherlie fellow ship: feare God: honour the King.

18 *Seruants, be subiect to your masters w al feare, not onelie to the good and courteous, but also to the frowarde.

19 *For this is thankeworthie, if a man for conscience towards God endure grief suffering wrongfully.

20 For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your fautes, ye take it patiently: but and if when ye do wel, ye suffer wrong, & take it patiently, this is acceptable to God.

21 For herunto ye are called for Christ also suffered for vs, leauing vs an ensample that ye shulde followe his steppes.

Likewise *let the wiues be subiect to their housbands that euen they which obey not the worde, may without ^{the} worde be wonne by the conuersation of ^{the} wiues;

2 While they beholde your pure conuersation, which is with feare.

3 *Whose apparelling let it not be outwarde, [as] with broyded heere, and golde put about, or in putting on of apparel.

4 But let the hid man of the heart be vncorrupt, with a meke and quiet spirit, which is before God a thing much set by.

5 For euen after this maner in tyme past did the holic women, which trusted in God, tier them selues, and were subiect to their housbands.

6 As Sarra obeyed Abraham, and *called him† Syr: whose daughters ye are, whiles ye do wel, not being * afraid of anie terror.

7 *Likewise ye housbands, dwel with them as men of ^b knowledge, ^c giuing honour vn to the wom^e, as vn to the weaker vessel, euē as they which are ^d heires together of the grace of life, that your ^e prayers be not interrupted.

8 Finally, be ye all of one minde: one suffre with another: loue as brethren: [be] pitiful: [be] courteous,

9 *Not rendring euil for euil, nether rebuke for rebuke: but contrarie wise blesse, knowing that ye are thereunto called, ^{that} ye shulde be ^f heires of blessing.

10 *For if anie man long after life, and to se good daies, let him refraine his tongue fro euil, and his lippes ^{that} they speake not guile.

11 *Let him elchewe euil and do good: let him seke peace, and follow after it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord [are] ouer the righteous, and his cares [are] open vn to their prayers: and the face of the Lord [is] vpon them that do euil.

13 And who is it that wil harme you, if ye followe that which is good?

14 *Notwithstanding blessed [are ye,] if ye suffer for righteoufnes sake. Yea ^b feare not their feare, nether be troubled.

15 *But ^f sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts: & be readie alwayes to giue an answer to euerie mā that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you,

16 [And that] with mekenes and reuerēce, hauing a good conscience, that when they speake euil of you as of euil doers, thei may be ashamed; which blame your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For [it is] better (if the wil of God be so) ^{that} ye suffer for wel doing, the for euil doing.

18 *For Christ also hath once suffred for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, that he might bring vs to God, & was pur to death concerning ^{the} flesh, but was quickened in ^{the} ^h spirit.

19 By the which ^{that} he also went, & preached vn to the spirits that were in prison.

20 Which were in tyme passed disobedient, whē once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of * Noe, while the arke was preparing, wherein few, that is, eight ^{that} soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure that now sa ueth vs, [euen] Baptisme [agreeth] (not the putting away of the filth of the fleshe, but in ^{that} a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ,

22 Which is * at the right hād of God, gone into heauen, to whome the Angels and Powers, and might are subiect.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth men to cease from sinne, 2 To spende no more time in vice, 7 To be sober and apt to praye, 8 To loue eche other, 12 To be patient in trouble, 15 To beware that no man suffer as an euil doer, 16 But as a Christian man, and so not to be ashamed.

Forasmuche then as Christ hath suffred for vs in the flesh, arme your selues likewise with the same ^a minde, [which is] that he which hath suffred in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne,

2 That he hence forwarde shulde liue (as muche time as remaineth in the ^h flesh) not after ^{the} lustes of mē, but after ^{the} wil of God.

3 *For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the tyme past of the life, after the lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnes, lustes, drō kennes, in glottonie, drinkings and in abominable idolatries.

4 Wherein it semeth to them strāge that ye runne not with them vn to the same excessse of yote: [therefore] speake they euill of [you]

5 Which shal giue accountes to him, that is readie to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vn to this purpose was ^{the} Gospel preached also vn to the ^h dead, that they might be condemned, according to men, in the fleshe, but might liue, according to God, in the spirit.

7 Now the end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watching in prayer.

8 But aboute al things haue feruent loue among you: * for loue ^c couereth the multitude of sinnes.

CHAP. V.

The duetie of Pastours is to fede the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shal haue if they be diligent. 5 He exhorteth yong perones to submit them selues to the elders, 8 To be sober, and to watche that they may resist the enemy.

The elders which are amog you, I beseeche, which am also an elder, and a witnes of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glorie that shalbe reueiled,

2 Fede the flocke of God, which I dependeth vpon you, caring for it, not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthy lucre, but of a readie minde:

3 Not as thogh ye were lords ouer Gods heritage, but that ye may be ensamples to the flocke.

4 And when the chief shepherde shal appeare, ye shal receiue an incorruptible crowne of glorie.

5 Likewise ye yonger, submit your selues vnto the elders, and submit your selues euery man one to another: decke your selues inwardely in lowlines of minde: for God resisteth the proude and giueth grace to the humble.

6 Humble your selues therefore vnder the mightichad of God, that he may exalt you in due tyme.

7 Cast al your care on him for he careth for you.

8 Be sober and watch: for your aduersarie the deuill as a roaring lyon walketh about, seeking whome he may deuoure:

THE

THE SECOND EPISTLE

GENERAL OF PETER

He effect of this Epistle here is to exhort them which haue once professed the true faith of Christ, to stande to the same, and to the last breath: also that God by his effectual grace towards men, moueth them to holines of life, in punishing the wicked, and rewarding the good: and in the godly life, by godly life he being now almost at death's dore, exhorteth them to approve their vocation, not setting their affections on worldlie things, as he had oft written vnto them, but lifting their eyes towards heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witnes, chiefly in that he had oft written vnto them, that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to be the Son of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they shoulde promise to them selves quietnes by professing the Gospel, he warneth them, both of troubles which they shoulde susteine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers and contempters of religion, whole maners and trade he busily stirreth forward, as a rebell, to discomfite the faithfull, not only to be shamed by the Christ, but also to beholde presently the day of his coming, and to preserve them selves vnspotted against the same.

to make your calling & election sure: for if ye do these things ye shall neuer fall.

11 For by this means an entering shall be ministered vnto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdome of our Lord and Saviour Iesus Christ.

12 Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you alwaies in remembrance of these things, though that ye haue knowledge, and be stablished in the present trueth.

13 For I thinke it mete as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance:

14 Seeing I knowe that the time is at hande that I must laye downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 I will endeavour therefore alwaies, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 For we followed not feneuieable fables when we opened vnto you the power, and coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

17 For he receiued of God the Father honour and glorie, when there came suche a voyce to him from the excellent glorie, thus is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am wel pleased.

18 And this voyce we heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the holie mounte.

19 We haue also a moste sure worde of the Prophetes, to the which ye do wel that ye take hede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, vntil the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hearts.

20 So that ye first knaue this, that no prophetic in the Scripture is of any priuate motion.

21 For the Prophecie came not in olde time by the wil of man: but holie men of God spake as they were moued by the holie Ghost.

Forasmuche as the power of God hath given them all things pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of the world, and to make their calling sure with good workes, and frutes of faith. 14. He maketh mention of his owne death, 17. Declaring the Lord Iesus to be the true Son of God, as he him self had said vpon his mounte.

Imon Peter a seruant and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to you which haue obtained like precious faith with vs by the righteousness of our God and Saviour Iesus Christ:

Grace and peace be multiplied to you, by the knowledge of God and of Iesus our Lord,

According as his godlie power hath egiuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto life and godlines, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glorie & vertue.

Whereby moste great and precious promises are giuen vnto vs, that by them ye shoulde be partakers of the godlie nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the worlde through lust.

Therefore giue euen all diligence therein to: ioyne moreouer vertue w your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:

And with knowledge, temperance: and w temperance, patience: and with patience, godlines:

And with godlines, brotherlie kindenes: and with brotherlie kindenes, loue.

For if these things be among you, and a bundle, they will make you that ye nether shall be idle, nor vnfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.

For he that hath not these things, is blinde and can not se farre of, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde finnes.

Wherefore, brethre, giue rather diligence

CHAP. II.

¶ He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

1 BVt there were false prophetes also among the people, euen as there shalbe false teachers among you: whiche priuely shal bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord, that hath bought them, & bring vpon them selues swift damnation.

2 And manie shal followe their† damnable wayes, by whome the way of trueth shalbe euill spoken of,

3 And through couetousnes shall they with fained wordes make* marchandise of you, whose iudgement long agoe is not farre of, and their damnation slepeth not.

4 For if God spared not the* Angels, that had sinned, but cast them downe into hell and deliuered them into chaines of darke-nes, to be kept vnto damnation:

5 Nether hath spared the olde worlde, but saued* Noe the eight[persone] a preacher of righteousness, & brought in the flood vpo the worlde of the vngodlie,

6 And* turned the cities of Sodome & Gomorre into the ashes, condemned them & ouerthrewe them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after shulde liue vngodlie:

7 *And deliuered iuste Loth vexed with the vnclenlie conuersation of the wicked, 8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawful dedes)

9 The Lord knoweth to deliuer the godlie out of tentation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement to be punished: 10 And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of vnclennes, & despise the gouernement, [which are] presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceite, and feare not to speake euill of them that are in dignitie.

11 Where as the Angels which are greater bothe in power and might,* giue not railing iudgement against them before the Lord.

12 But these as* brute beasts, led with sensualitie and made to be taken, & destroyed, speake euill of those things w they knowe not, and shal perish through their owne corruption.

13 And shal receiue the wages of vnrighteousnes, as they which counte it pleasure to liue deliciouly for a season. Spottes [they are] and blottes, deliting them selues in their deceiuings, in feasting with you, iudgement, so they fall into the snares of Satan to their destruction. d For in your holie feasts they sit as members of y Church, where in dede they be but spotted, and so deceiue you, said Iude 17.

14 Having eyes ful of adulterie, and that can not cease to sinne, beguiling vnstable soules: they haue heartes exercised with couetousnes, cursed children,

15 Which forsaking the right waye, haue gone astraye, following the way of* Balam [the sonne] of Bosor, which loued the wages of vnrighteousnes.

16 But he was rebuked for his iniquitie: [for] the domme asse speaking with mans voyce, forbade the foolishnes of the Prophet.

17 *These are welles without water, [and] *cloudes caryed about with a tempest, to whome the blacke darkenes is reserued for euer.

18 For in speaking swelling wordes of vanitie, they beguile with wantonnes through the lustes of the flesh them that were cleane escaped from them which are wrapped in error,

19 Promising vnto them libertie, and are them selues the* seruants of corruption: for of whome soeuer a man is overcome, euen vnto the same is he in bondage.

20 *For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthines of the worlde, through the knowledge of the Lord, & of the Sauour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them, not to haue knowen the way of righteousness, the after they haue knowen it, to turne fro the holie commandement giuen vnto them.

22 But it is come vnto them, according to the true prouerbe, *The dogge is returned to his owne vomit: and, The sowe that was washed, to the wallowing in the myer.

CHAP. III.

¶ He sheweth the impietie of them which mocke at Gods promises. 7 After what force the ends of the worlde shalbe. 8 That they prepare them selues thereunto. 16 VVho they are which abuse the writings of S. Paul, and the rest of the Scriptures. 18 Concluding with eternall thanks to Christ Iesus.

that was of the water and by the water, by the worde of God.

Wherefore the worlde that the was, perished, ouerflowed with the water.

But the heavens & earth, which are now, are kept by the same worde in store, and reserved vnto fyre against the day of iudgement, and of the destruction of vngodlie men.

Derely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeres, & a thousand yere, as one day.

The Lord is not slacke concerning his promes (as some men count slackenes) but is patient towarde vs, and wolde haue no man to perish, but wolde al men to come to repentance.

But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which the heavens shal passe away with a noyce, and the elements shal melt with heate, and the earth w the workes, that are therein, shalbe burnt vp.

Scing therefore that al these things must be dissolued, what maner persones ought ye to be in holie conuersation and godlines,

Loking for, and hasting vnto the com-ming of the day of God, by the which the heavens being on fyre, shalbe dissolued, & the elements shal melt with heat.

But we loke for new heavens, & a newe earth, according to his promes, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Wherefore, beloued, seing that ye loke for such things, be diligent that ye may be founde of him in peace, without spotte & blameles.

And suppose that the long suffring of our Lord is saluation, euen as our beloued brother Paul, according to the wisdom giuen vnto him wrote to you,

As one that in all [his] Epistles speaketh of these things: among the whiche some things are hard to be vnderstand, whiche they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they [do] also other Scriptures vnto their owne destruction.

Ye therefore beloued, seing ye knowe these things before, beware, lest ye be also plucked away with the error of y wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnes.

But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Sauour Iesus Christ: to him [be] glorie bothe now & for euer more. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF IOHN.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that S. Iohn had sufficiently declared, how that our whole saluation doeth consist only in Christ, lest that any man shoulde thereby take a boldenes to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleue in Christ, onles he doeth endeavour him selfe to kepe his commandments, which thing being done, he exhorteth them to beware of false prophetes, whome he calleth Antichrists, and to crye the spirits. Lafe of all he doeth earnestly exhorte them vnto brotherlie loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

Iohn 8. 12.
The frutes of our faith must declare whether we be in God or no. For God being y true puritie and light wil not haue fellowship with them w lie in sinne & darkenes
In an euil conscience, & wout y feare of God.

CHAP. I.

True witness of the euertlasting worde of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

That which was from the beginning, which we haue heard, w we haue sene w our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, and our hands haue handled of the Worde of life,

(For the life appeared, and we haue sene it, and beare witness, and shew vnto you the eternal life, which was with the Father, & appeared vnto vs)

That, [I say] which we haue sene & heard, declare we vnto you, that ye may also haue fellowship with vs, and that our felloweship also may be with the Father and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

And these things write we vnto you, that your ioye may be full.

This then is the message whiche we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkenes.

If we say y we haue fellowship with him, & walke in darkenes, we lye, & do not truly.

But if we walke in the light as he is in the light, we haue fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from al sinne.

If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and truth is not in vs.

If we acknowledge our sinnes, he is faithful and iust, to forgie vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnes.

That is, Christ God eternal.
That is, Christ being man.

which giueth life and had it from the Father.
The effect of the Gospel is y al being toynd together in Christ, shoulde haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowe-

10. If we say we haue not finned, we make him a lier, and his word is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1. Christ is our Aduocate. 10. Of true loue, & how it is tried. 11. To beware of Antichrist.

1. MY babes, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: & if any man sinne, we haue an Aduocat with the Father, Iesus Christ, the Iust.

2. And he is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for [the sinnes] of the whole worlde.

3. And hereby we are sure that we knowe him, if we kepe his commandments.

4. He that saith, I knowe him, and kepeth not his commandments, is a lier, and the trueth is not in him.

5. But he that kepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfite in dede: hereby we knowe that we are in him.

6. He that saith he remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as he hath walked.

7. Brethren, I write no newe commandement vnto you: but an olde commandement, which ye haue had from the beginning: the olde commandement is this worde, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8. Againe, a newe commandement I write vnto you, that which is true in him, & also in you: for the darkenes is past, and the true light now shineth.

9. He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenes vntil this time.

10. He that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euil in him.

11. But he that hateth his brother, is in darkenes, & walketh in darkenes, & knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkenes hath blinded his eyes.

12. Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13. I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you, yong men, because ye haue overcome the wicked.

14. I write vnto you, babes, because ye haue knowen the Father. I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, yong men, because ye are strong, & the worde of God abideth in you, & ye haue overcome the wicked.

15. Loue not the worlde, neither things that are in the worlde. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16. For all that is in the worlde, (as luste of the flesh, the luste of the eyes, & the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the worlde.

17. And the worlde passeth away, and the luste thereof: but he that fulfilleth the wil of God abideth euer.

18. Babes, it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shal come, eue now are there many Antichrists: whereby we knowe that it is the last time.

19. They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they wolde haue continued with vs. But [this] commeth to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

20. But ye haue an ointement from him, & is holie, & ye haue knowen all things.

21. I haue not written vnto you, because ye knowe not the trueth: but because ye knowe it, and that no lie is of the trueth.

22. Who is a lier, but he that denyeth that Iesus is Christ: the same is Antichrist that denyeth the Father and the Sonne.

23. Whosoever denyeth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father.

24. Let therefore abide in you that same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shal remaine in you, ye also shal continewe in the Sonne, & in the Father.

25. And this is the promes that he hath promised vs, euen eternal life.

26. These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27. But the anointing which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye neede not that any man teache you: but as the same Anointing teacheth you of all things, & it is true, & is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shal abide in him.

28. And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shal appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29. If ye knowe that he is righteous, know ye he which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

1. The singular loue of God towards vs. 2. And how we ought to loue one another.

1. BEholde, what loue the Father hath shewed on vs, that we shoulde be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

2. Dearly beloved, now are we the sonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we shal be: & we knowe that when he shal appeare, we shal be like him: for

3 And euerie man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him self, euen as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sinne, transgresseth also the Law: for sinne is transgression of the Law.

5 And ye knowe that he appeared, that he might take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not sene him, neither hath knowen him.

7 Litle children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousnes, is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuil: for the deuil sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that he might lase the workes of the deuil.

9 Whosoever is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remaineth in him, neither can he sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuil: whosoever doeth not righteousnes, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the message, that ye heard from the beginning, that we shulde loue one another, 12 Not as Cain which was of the wicked, and slewe his brother: & wherefore slewe he him: because his owne workes were euil, and his brothers good.

13 Marueile not, my brethren, though the worlde hate you.

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murtherer: and ye knowe that no manslayer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that he laid downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 And whosoever hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue neede, & shutteth vp his compassion from him, how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 My litle children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue only, but in dede and in truth.

19 For thereby we knowe that we are of truth, & shal before hi assure our hearts.

20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldenes toward God.

22 And whatsoever we aske, we receiue of him, because we kepe his commandments, and do those things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 This is then his commandment, That we beleue in the Name of his Sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as he gaue commandment.

24 For he that kepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him: & hereby we knowe that he abyedeth in vs, [eue] by the Spirit which he hath giuen vs.

CHAP. III.

1 Difference of spirits. 2 How the Spirit of God may be known from the spirit of errour. 7 Of the loue of God and of our neighbours.

1 Dearly beloued, belue not euerie spirit, but trye the spirits whether they are of God: for many false Prophetes are gone out into the worlde.

2 Hereby shal ye knowe the Spirit of God, Euerie spirit that confesseth that Iesus

3 And euerie spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the [spirit] of Antichrist, of whome ye haue heard, how that he shulde come, & now already he is in the worlde.

4 Litle children, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

6 We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the Spirit of truth, and the spirit of errour.

7 Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue cometh of God, & euerie one that loueth, is borne of God, & knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

9 In this appeared the loue of God toward vs, because God sent his onely begotten Sonne into the worlde, that we might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be a reconciliation for our sinnes.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

12 No man hath sene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfite in vs.

13 Hereby knowe we, that we dwell in him, and he in vs, because he hath giuen vs

19 We loue him, because he loued vs first.

20 Ifanie man say, I loue God, and hate his brother, he is a lyer: for, how can he that loueth not his brother whome he hath sene, loue God whome he hath not sene?

21 And this commandement haue we of him, that he which loueth God, shulde loue his brother also.

CHAP. V.

1. 10. 13 Of the frutes of faith. 14. 20 The office, autoritie, & diuinitie of Christ. 21 Against images.

WHosoeuer beleueth that Iesus is the Christ, is^a borne of God, & euerie one^b loueth him, which begate, loueth him also w^c is begotten of him.

2 In this we knowe that we loue the children of God, when we loue^d God, & kepe his commandements.

3 For this is the loue of God, that we kepe his commandements: & his^e commandements are not^f grievous.

4 For all^g is borne of God, ouercometh the worlde: & this is the victorie that ouercometh the worlde, euen our faith.

5 Who is it that ouercometh the worlde, but he which beleueth that Iesus is the Sonne of God?

6 This is that Iesus Christ that came by d^h water & blood, not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is theⁱ spirit, y^j beareth witnes: for the Spirit is^k trueth.

7 For there are thre, which beare recorde in heauen, the Father, the Worde, & the holie Gost: and these thre are one.

8 And there are thre, which beare recorde in the earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these thre agre in one.

9 If we receiue the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, that he hath sent his Sonne.

10 He that beleueth in the^l Sonne of God, hath the witness^m in him self: he that beleueth not God, hath made him a lyer, because he beleued not the recorde, that God witnesseth of his Sonne.

11 And this is the recorde that God hath giuen vnto vs eternal life, and this life is in his Sonne.

12 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: & he that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.

13 These things haue I written vnto you that beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God, that ye may knowe that ye haue eternal life, and that ye may beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God.

14 And this is the assurance that we haue in him, that if we aske any thing according to his wil, he heareth vs.

15 And if we knowe that he heareth vs, whatsoeuer we aske, we know that we haue the petitions that we haue desired of him.

16 If any man se his brother sinne a sinne, that is not vnto death, let him askeⁿ God, and he shal giue him life. To them I say^o that sinne not^p vnto death. There is a sinne^q vnto death: I say not that thou shuldest praye for it.

17 All vnrighteousnes is sinne, but there is a sinne not vnto death.

18 We knowe that whosoeuer is borne of God, sinne^rth not^s, but he that is begotten of God, kepeth him self, and the wicked^t toucheth him not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, & the whole worlde^u lyeth in wickednes.

20 But we knowe that the Sonne of God is^v come, and hath giuen vs a minde to knowe him, which is true: and we are in him that is true, that is, in his Sonne Iesus Christ: this same is verie^w God, and eternal life.

THE SECONDE

EPISTLE OF IOHN.

He writeth vnto a certaine ladie, & Reioyng y her children
11 Walke in the truth, y And exhorteth them vnto loue, 12 Y Vnto them to beware of such deceiters as denie y Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, y Praieth them to continue in the doctrine of Christ, y And to haue nothing to do with them that bring not the same doctrine of Christ Iesus our Saviour.

I He Elder to the I elect Ladie, and her children, who-me I loue in the truth, &
net I onely, but also all that haue knowne the truth.

2 For the truths sake, which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer :

3 Grace be with you, mercie & peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of the Father, with truth and loue.

4 I reioyced greatly, that I founde of thy children walking in truth, as we haue receiued a commandement of the father.

5 And now beseeche I thee, Ladie, (nor as writing a new commandement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that we loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we shulde walke after his I commandements. This commandement is, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye shulde walke in it.

7 For manie deceiuers are entred into the worlde, which confesse not Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiter and an Antichrist.

8 Take to your selues, that we lose not y things, which we haue done, but that we may receiue a full rewarde.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that continueth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Sonne.

10 If there come anie vnto you, and bring not this doctrine, receiue him not to house, nether bid him, God speede.

11 For he that biddeth him, God speede, is partaker of his euil dedes. Although I had manie things to write vnto you, yet I wol-de not [write] with paper & ynce: but I trust to come vnto you, & speake mouth to mouth, that our ioye may be full.

12 The sonnes of thine I elect sister grete thee, Amen.

THE THIRD EPI

STLE OF IOHN.

He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the truth, & Exhorteth the to be loving vnto the poore Christians in their persecution, y Sheweth the vnkinde dealing of Diotre-phes, y And the good reporte of Demetrius.

I He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, who-me I loue in y truth.

Beloued, I wish chiefly that thou pro-speredst and farest
wel, as thy soule pro-spereth.

2 For I reioyced greatly when the brethre came, and testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the truth.

3 I haue no greater ioye then this, [that is,] to heare that my sonnes walke in ve-ritic.

4 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoe-uer thou doest to the brethren, & to strāgers,

5 Which bare witnes of thy loue before the Churches. Whome if thou bringest of their iourney as it becometh according to God, thou shalt do wel,

7 Because that for his Names sake thei wet forthe, and toke nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotre-phes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I wil declare his dedes which he doeth, prating against vs with malicious wordes, and not therewith content, nether he him self recei-ueth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that wolde, and thrusteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued, folowe not that which is euil, but that which is good: he y doeth wel, is of God: but he that doeth euil, hath not fene God.

THE GENERAL

EPISTLE OF IUDE.

THE ARGUMENT.

Saint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take hede of deceivers which go about to drawe awaye the hearts of the simple people from the truth of God, & willet them to haue no societie with such, whome he setteth forthe in their liuelie colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them; finally he comforteth the faithful and exhorret them to perseuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

IVDE a seruant of Iesus Christ, & brother of Iames, to them which are called & sanctified * of God the Father, and b reserued to Iesus Christ, Mercie vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the commune saluation, it was nedeful for me to write vnto you to exhorte you, that ye shulde earnestly contende for [the maintenance] of the faith, which was a once giuen vnto the Saintes.

For there are certeine men crept in w were before of olde * ordeined to this cōdemnation: vngodlie men [they are] w turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and denye God the onelie Lord, & our Lord Iesus Christ.

I wil therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuche as ye once knewe this, how that the Lord, after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, * destroyed them afterwarde which beleued not.

The * Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenes vnto the iudgement of the great daye.

As * Sodom and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, which in like maner as they did, committed, and followed strage flesh, are set forthe for an ensample, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fyre.

Likewise notwithstanding these dreamers also defile the flesh, and despise gouernement, and speake euil of them * are in auctoritie.

Yet * Michael the Archangel, when he stroue against the deuill, and disputed about the bodie of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but saith, ¹The Lord rebuke thee.

But these speake euil of those things which they knowe not: and whatsoever things thei knowe naturally, as beastes, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt them selues.

Wo [be] vnto them: for they haue followed the way * of Cain, & are cast away by the deceite * of Balaams wages, and perish in the * gaine saying * of Core.

These are spotted * in your feasts of charitie when they feast with you, without all feare, feeding them selues: cloudes [they are] without water, caryed about of windes, corrupt trees, & without frute, twise dead, [and] plucked vp by the rootes.

[They are] the raging wauies of the sea, foming out their owne shame: [they are] wandring starres, to whome is reserued the blackenes of darkenes for euer.

And Enoch also the seuenth from Adam, prophesied of such, saying, * ¹Beholde, the Lord cometh with thousands of his Saintes,

To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all the vngodlie among them of all their wicked dedes, which they haue vngodly committed, & of all their cruel speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes: * whose mouths speake proude things, hauing mens persones in admiration, because of a vantage.

But, ye beloued, remember the wordes so many are left as are able to instruct vs in the faith of Iesus Christ, to Iohn 20, 31.

THE REVELATION

OF IOHN THE DIVINE.

THE ARGUMENT.

IT is manifest, that the holie Ghost wolde as it were gather into this moste excellent booke a summe of those prophetes which were written before, but shulde be fulfilled after the coming of Christ, adding also suche things as shulde be expendent, alvise to forewarne vs of the dangers to come, as to admonish vs to beware some, and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore is liuely set forth the Diuinitie of Christ, and the testimonies of our redemption: what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the ministers, and what things he reproyeth: the prouidence of God for his elect, and on the glorie and consolation in the day of vengeance: how that the hypocrites which sting like scorpions the members of Christ shal be destroyed, but the Lambe Christ shal defende them which beare witnes to the truth, who in despite of the beast & Satan wil reigne ouer all. The liuelie description of Antichrist is set forth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limited, and albeit that he is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no farther then to the hurt of their bodies: and at length he shal be destroyed by the wrath of God: when as the elect shal giue praise to God for the victorie nevertheless for a season God wil permit this Antichrist, and strompet vnder colour of faire speache and pleasant doctrine to deceiue the worlde: wherefore he aduerseth the godlie (which are but a small portion) to auoide this hatfull flatteries, and braggies, whose ruine without mercie they shal feele, and with the heauynlie companies sing continual praise: for the Lambe is married: the worde of God hath gotten the victorie: Satan that a long time was vntied, is now cast w his ministers into the pit of fyre to be tormented for euer: where as contrariwise the faithful (which are the holie Citie of Ierusalem, & wife of the Lambe) shal enioye perpetual glorie. Read diligently: iudge soberly: and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

CHAP. III.

The vision of the maiestic of God. 2 He seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it. 8. And 14 seates about it with 24. elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praising God day and night.

After this I looked, & beholde, a^r dore was open in heaven, and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I wil shewe thee things & muste be done hereafter.

And immediatly I was [transified] in the spirit, & beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and one sat vpon the throne.

And ^b he that fate, was to loke vpon, like vnto a iasper stone, and a sardine, & there [was] a raine bowe rounde about the thro ne in sight like to an emeraude.

4 And rounde about þe throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, & had on their heads crownes of golde.

And out of the throne^d proceeded^e lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces, & there were seuen lampes of fyre, burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God;

6 And before the throne there [was] a^a sea of glasse like vnto crystal: and in the mid-des of the throne, & rounde about þ^b throne [were] foure^b beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast [was] like a lion, & the seconde beast like a calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourthe beast [was] like a flying eagle.

8 And the foure beasts had eche one of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within, & they ceased not day nor night, saying, * Holie, holie, holie Lord God, almightie, Which was, and Which is, and Which is to come.

And when those beasts gaue glorie, and honour, and thanks to him that fate on the throne, which liueth for euer and e-uer.

to The foure and twentie elders fell down before him that sate on the throne, & worshipped him, that liueth for euer more,^k & cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art* worthie, O Lord, to receiue glorie and honour, & power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy willes sake they are, and haue bene created.

a The opening of the scale is the declaration of Gods will, & the executing of his iudgements.

b Signifying that there was manifold things to come.

c The white horse signifieth innocencie, victorie, & felicitie which shalde come by the preaching of the Gospel.

5 And one of the elders said vnto me, Wepe not: beholde, the ^alion which is of the tribe of Iuda, the rote of Dauid, hath obtained to open the Boke, & to lofe the seven seales thereof.

6 Then I behelde, and lo, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beasts, & in ^f middes of the elders, stode a Lambe as though he had bene killed, & had ^d seven hornes, & seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God, sent into all the worlde.

7 And he came, and toke the Boke out of the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the Boke, ^f foure beasts and the foure and twentie elders fell downe before ^f Lambe, having euerie one harpes and golden viales full of odours, which are the ^g prayers of the Saintes.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthie to take the Boke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast ^h redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euerie kinred, and tongue, & people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our God ^k kings and Priests, and we shal ⁱ reigne on the earth.

11 Then I behelde, & I heard the voyce of manie Angels rounde about the throne and [about] the beasts and the elders, and there [were] ^k thousand thousands,

12 Saying with a loude voyce, worthie is the ^k lambe that was killed to receiue power and riches, & wisdom, and strength, and honor, and glorie, and praise.

13 And al ^f creatures which are in heauē, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, & in the sea, & all that are in them, heard I, saying, Praise and honor, and glorie, and power be vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, & vnto the Lambe for euer more.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen: and the foure and twentie Elders fel downe, and worshipped him that liueth for euer more.

CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe scales, and manie things follow the opening thereof, so that this containeth a general prophetic to the end of the worlde.

A Frer, I behelde when ^f Lambe had opened one ^k of the scales, & I heard one of the foure beasts say, as [it were] the ^b noyce of thunder, Come and se.

Therefore I beheld, and lo, there [was] a white horse, and he that ^d sat on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto

3 And when he had opened the seconde scale, I heard the second beast say, Come and se.

4 And there went out another horse that was ^k red, & power was geuin to him that ^f sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they shulde kil one another, and there was geuin vnto him a great sworde.

5 And when he had opened the third scale, I heard the third beast say, Come and se. Then I behelde & lo a blake horse, and he that sat on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of ^f foure beasts say, A ^k measure of wheat for a penie, and thre measures of barlie for a penie, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth scale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and se.

8 And I looked, & behelde, a ^k pale horse, & his name that sat on him was Death, and ^h Hel followed after him, and power was giuen vnto them ouer the fourth parte of the earth, to kil with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the ^k fift scale, I sawe vnder the altar ^m the soules of them that were killed for the worde of God, & for ^f testimonie which they maintained.

10 And they cryed with a lowde voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holie and true! doest thou iudge & auenge our blood on them that dwel on the earth?

11 And long white robes were giuen vnto euerie one, & it was said vnto them, ^f they shulde rest for a litle season vntil their felowe seruants, and their brethren that shulde be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixt scale, and lo, there was a great ^k earthquake, and the ^o sunne was as blacke as ^p sacke cloth of heere, and the ^q moone was like blood.

13 And the ^k starnes of heauen fel vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her grene figges, when it is shaken of a mightie winde.

9 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheades out of all nations and people, 15 Which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them; leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 And God shal wipe awaye all teares from their eyes.

1 And after that, I sawe foure Angels stand on foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth,
the windes shulde not blowe on the earth,
nether on the sea, nether on anie tre.

2 And I sawe another Angel come vp fro
the East, which had the seale of the liuing God, and he cryed with a loude voyce to the foure Angels to whome power was giuen to hurt the earth, and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt ye not the earth, nether the sea, nether the trees, til we haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheades.

4 And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundred and foure and fortie thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser, were sealed twelue

9 After these things I behelde, & lo, a great multitude, which no man coulde number, of all nations & kinreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, & before the Lambe, clothed with long white robes, and palmes in their hands.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation cometh of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, & of the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stode rounde about the throne, and about the Elders, & the foure beastes, & they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshiped God,

12 Saying, Amen. Praise and glorie, & wil-dome, & thanks, and honour, & power, and might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arrayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou know-est. And he said to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, & haue made their long robes white in the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day & night in his Temple, and he that sitteth on their throne, wil dwell among them.

16 They shal hunger no more, nether thirst anie more, nether shal the sunne light on them, nether anie heat.

17 For the Lambe, which is in the mid-des of the throne, shal gouerne them; and shal lead them vnto the liuelie fountai-

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with the sunne, & the moone [was] vnder her fete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres.

And she was with childe and cryed trauiailing in birth, and was pained readie to be deliuered.

And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for beholde, a great red dragon hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades:

And his taile drue the third parte of the starres of heauen, and cast the to the earth. And the dragon stode before the woman, which was readie to be deliuered, to deuoure her childe when she had brought it forth.

So she brought forth a mā childe, which shulde rule all nations with a rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God and to this throne.

And the woman fled into a wilderness where she hath a place prepared of God, where they shulde fede her there a thousand, two hundred and thre score dayes.

And there was a battel in heauen. Michael & his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his Angels.

But they preuailed not, nether was their place founde anie more in heauen.

And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuill and Satan, was cast out, & deceiueth all the worlde: [and] cast into the earth, and his Angels were cast out with him.

Then I heard a loud voyce, saying, Now is saluation in heauen, and strength & the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

But they overcame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the worde of their testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

Therefore reioyce, ye heauens, & ye dwell in the. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath the great wrath knowing that he hath but a short time.

And when the dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the womā which had brought forth the man [childe]

But to the woman were giuen two winges of a great eagle, that she might flie into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

And the serpent cast out of his mouth water like flood, to quench the fire which the Lord had kindled against the Church. And he persecuted the woman which was clothed with the sunne, & the moon, & the twelve starres.

14 And the first of the seven Angels came out of the Temple, saying, ^a Blessing be the name of the Lord, who made the heaven and earth.

15 These are they which are not defiled with women: for they are virgines: these follow the Lambe: whether soeuer he go, these are bought from men, being the firstfruits vnto God, and to the Lambe. And in their mouths was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

16 Then I sawe another Angel flee in the middes of Heauen, hauing an euermlasting Gospel, to preache vnto them, that dwell on the earth, and to euery nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people.

17 Saying with a loude voyce, ¹ Feare God, & giue glorie to him: for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worship him that made ² heauen and earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

18 And there followed another Angel, saying, ³ It is fallen, it is fallen, ⁴ Babylon the great citie: for shee made al nations to drinke of the wine of the ⁵ wrath of her fornication.

19 And the thirde Angel followed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue this marke in his forehead, or on his hand, 20 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God yea, of ⁶ pure wine, which is powred into the cuppe of his wrath, and he shall be tormented in fyre and brimstone before the holie Angels, and before the Lambe.

21 And the smoke of their torment shall ascende euermore: and they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worshippinge the beast and his image, and whosoever receiueth ⁷ print of his name.

22 Here is the patience of ⁸ Saintes: here are they that keepe the commandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

23 Then I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Write, ⁹ Blessed [are] the dead, which hereafter dye in the Lord. Euen so saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labours, and their workes followe them.

24 And I looked, & beholde, a white cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the Sonne of man, hauing on his head a golde crowne, & in his hand a sharpe sickle.

25 And he said, I will reape: for the time is come, that hee shall reape. And hee reaped with a sickle. And another Angel came out of the Temple, saying, ¹⁰ Thrust in thy sickle, and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the haruest of the earth is ripe.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loude voyce to him that sat on the cloude, ¹¹ Thrust in thy sickle, and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the haruest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloude, ¹² thrust in his sickle on the earth, & the earth was reaped.

17 Then another Angel came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the ¹³ altar, whiche had power ouer fyre, and cryed with a lowde crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, and said, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vines of the vineyarde of the earth, & cast them into the great wine presse of ¹⁴ the wrath of God.

20 And the ¹⁵ wine presse was troden without the citie, & blood came out of the wine presse, vnto the ¹⁶ horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

¹ Seven Angels haue the seuen last plagues. ² The song of them that overcome the beast. ³ The seuen vials full of Gods wrath.

1 And I sawe another ¹ signe in heauen great & marueilous, ² seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were ³ a glassie sea, mingled with fyre, and them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sung the song of Moses the ⁴ seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great & marueilous [are] thy workes, Lord God almightie: iuste and true [are] thy ⁵ wayes, King of Saintes.

4 ⁶ Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name! for thou onelie [art] holie, and all nations shall come & worshippinge before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that, I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the temple which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and ⁷ bright linnen, and hauing their ⁸ breastes girded with golden girdles.

And one of the four beasts gaue vnto the seven Angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euer more.

And the Temple was full of the smoke of the Glorie of God and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple: till the seven plagues of the seven Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

The Angels powred their vials full of wrath, & what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watche.

And I herd a great voyce out of the Temple saying to the seven Angels, Go your waye and powre out the [seven] vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

And the first went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth: and there fel a noysome and a grievous sore vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshiped his image.

And the seconde Angel powred out his vial vpon the sea, & it became as the blood of a dead man, and euerie liuing thing dyed in the sea.

And the third Angel powred out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became blood.

And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lord, thou art iust, Which art, and Which wast, and Holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

For they shed the blood of the Saintes, & Prophets: and herefore hast thou giuen the blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the Sanctuary say, Even so, Lord God almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

And the fourth Angel powred out his vial on the sunn, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with heat of fyre.

And men boyld in great heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glorie.

And the fifth Angel powred out his vial vpon the throne of the beast, and his kingdom waxed dark, and they gnawe their tongues for ore.

And blasphemed the God of heaven for their paine and by their sores, and repented not of their workes.

And the sixth Angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuier Euphrates, & the water thereof dried up, that the waye of the king of the East might be prepared.

And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false Prophet.

For they are the spirits of deuils, working miracles, to go vnto the Kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God almighty.

(*Beholde, I come as a thefe. Blessed is he that watcheth & kepeth his garments, lest he walke naked, and men se his shames)

And they gathered them together into a place called in Hebrew Anna-gedon.

And the seventh Angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a loude voyce out of the Temple of heaven from the throne, saying, It is done.

And there were voyces, and thundring, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mightie an earthquake.

And the great citie was diuided into thre partes, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenes of his wrath.

And euerie yle fled away, & the mountaines were not founde.

And there fel a great haile, like talents, out of heaven vpon the men, and men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

The description of the great whore. 1 Her sinnes & punishment. 14 The vision of the Lambe.

Then there came one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying vnto me, Come: I wil shewe thee the damnation of the great whore that sitteth vpon many waters.

With whome haue committed fornication the Kings of the earth, and the inhabitants of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

So he caried me away into the wilderness in the Spirit, and I saw a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, which had seven heads.

And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls.

And in her right hand she held a golden cup, full of the wrath of God, and she said, Drink thou of this, thou whore.

And she said, I will sing the song of the Mynners, and I will sing the song of the Mynners.

15 The marchants of theſe things which were waxed riche, ſhall ſtand a farte of from her for feare of her torment, weping and wailing.

16 And ſaying, Alas, alas, the great chie, that was clothed in fine linnen and purple, and uen your iudgement on her.

21 The mightie Angel toke vp a ſtone like a great millſtone, & caſt it into the ſea, ſaying, With ſuch violence ſhall the great cite Babylon be caſt, and ſhall be founde no more.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and muſicians, and of pipers, & trumpeters ſhall be heard no more in thee, & no craftes mā, of whatſoeuer craft he be ſhall be founde any more in thee: and the ſounde of a millſtone ſhall be heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle ſhall ſhine no more in thee: and the voyce of the bridegrome & of the bride ſhall be heard no more in thee: for thy machats were the great men of the earth: and with thine inchan-tements were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the Prophetes, & of the ſaintes, and of all that were ſlaine vpon the earth.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heane, saying, Beholde, the Tabernacle of God [is] with men, and he wil dwel with them: and they shalbe his people, and God him self shalbe their God with them.

4 * And God shal wipe away al teares from their eyes: & there shalbe no more death, nether sorowe, nether crying, nether shall there be anie more paine: for first things are passed.

5 And he that sate vpon the throne, said, Beholde, I make all things new: & he said vnto me, Write: for these wordes are faithfull and true.

6 And he said vnto me, * It is done, I am a and a, the beginning and the end. I will giue to him that is a thirst, of the well of the water of life frely.

7 He that ouercometh, shal inherite al things, & I wil be his God, & he shalbe my sonne.

8 But the fearful and vnbeleuing, and the abominable, & murderers, & whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall haue their parte in the lake, w burneth with fyre and brimstone, which is the seconde death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seue Angels, which had the seuen vials ful of seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come: I will shewe thee the bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And he caryed me away in the spirit to a great and an hie mountaine, & he shewed me the great cite, holie Ierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glorie of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a Iasper stone cleare as cristall,

12 And had a great wall and hie, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Isriell.

13 On the East partes [there were] the gates, [and] on the Northside thre gates, on the Southside thre gates, [and] on the Westside thre gates.

14 And the wall of the cite had twelue fundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a goldē rede to measure the cite with all, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the cite lay foure square, and the length is a large, is the bredth out, and he measured the cite with the rede, twelue thousand along: and the length, and bredth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundredthortie & foure cubites, by measure of man, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall was Iasper: and the citie was pure golde, as cleare glasse.

19 And the fundations of the wall of the citie were garnished w all manner of precious stones: the first foundation [was] Iasper: the second of Saphire: the third of Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emme: the fifth of a Sardonyx: the sixth of a Chrysolite: the seventh of a Chrysolite: the eighth of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaze: the tenth of a Chrysoprasus: the eleventh of a Iacynth: the twelfth of an Amethyst.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate [is] of one pearle, and the strete of the cite [is] pure golde, as shining glasse.

22 And I sawe no Temple therein: for the Lord God almightie and the Lamb are the Temple of it.

23 * And the cite hath no neede of the sunne, nether of the moone to shine in it: for the glorie of God did light it: & the Lamb is the light of it.

24 * And the people which are shued, shall walke in the light of it, and the Kings of the earth shall bring their glorie, and shalbe vnto it.

25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And the glorie, and honour of the Gentiles shalbe brought vnto it.

27 And there shal entre into it none vncleane thing, nether whatsoeuer woeketh abomination or lies: but they which are written in the Lambes Booke of life.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The fountain of light of the cite of God. 3 The Lord God almightie warning of things to come. 4 The Lord God almightie be worshipped. 5 To the world which they shall be added, not diminished therefrom.

1 And he shewed me a pure water of life, cleare as cristall, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 In the middes of the strete of it, and of either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bare twelue manner of frutes, & gave frute euery moneth: and the leaues of the tree [serued] to heale the nations with.

3 And there shalbe no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shalbe in it, and his seruants shal serue him.

4 And they shal see his face, and his name shalbe in their foreheades.

5 * And there shalbe no night there, and they neede no candle, nether light of the sunne: for the Lord God giveth the light, and they shal reigne for euermore.

6 And he said vnto me, These wordes are faithful.

1. This is the river of life. 2. The fountain of light of the cite of God. 3. The Lord God almightie warning of things to come. 4. The Lord God almightie be worshipped. 5. To the world which they shall be added, not diminished therefrom.

pre names which are chiefly founde in the old testament, wherein the first number signifith the Chapter, the seconde the Verse.

WHereas the blindness of time, and the blindness of the carnall eye haue bene such that all things aboue haue bene abused and corrupted: so that the very right names of diuinitie of the holie men named in Scriptures haue bene forgotten, and now these things vnto vs, and the names of infants that shoulde euen haue bene the godlie aduancements in them, are made to be mercurials and markes of the children of God, rescued into his brotherhood, haue bene hereby also changed, and in many signes and badges of idollarie and heathenish impietie. We haue now therefore this table of the names that be moost vnto the olde Testament with their interpretation, as the same impoerteth, partly to call back children now named after such as they had knowen the true names of the godlie fathers, and what they signifie: that thus in all their doings had eyes set before their eyes, and that they be bounde by their names to sette God fast that is their father, and haue occasion to praise him for his workes wrought in them, and in their fathers: but chiefly to reduce the names to their integritie, whereby at the places of the Scriptures and secret mysteries of the holie Ghost, hal bene be understood. Vnto haue medled rarely with the Greke names, because their interpretation is very strange, and manie of the same corrupted from their originall, as we may see in these Hebrew names set in the margin of this table, which haue bene corrupted by Christians. Now for the other Hebrew names that are not here interpreted, let not the different reader be careful, for as he standeth in places moost conuentionall among the annotations: at least to make, as we may thus to make further additions, and vnderstanding of the Scriptures.
